The duties of the rulers are highlighted :

पुरोळाशं च नो घसों जोषयासे गिरश्च नः । वधूयुरिव योषणाम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king) ! accept good articles, rotis. ghee etc. and invite us to dine with you. Derive enjoymenti from our praises and presents, like a lover from his beloved wife.

PURPORT :—The king and the people should regard all property belonging to them as joint and common wealth. As a man desirous of getting a wife is joyous after getting her, in the same manner, a king should always feel delighted by getting ideal subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरोडलाशम्) पुरस्ताद्दातुं योग्यम् = That which is offered beforehand. Here it mostly means cake and butter etc. (जुषस्व) सेवस्व । = Accept lovingly and make us to do so. (योषणाम्) स्वस्त्रियम् = One's wife.

The same subject of duties of the rulers is stated :

पुरोळाशं सनश्रुत प्रातःसावे जुंषस्व नः । इन्द्र क्रतुर्हि ते बृहन् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (endowed with the wealth of wisdom) ! who have received education from discreet persons, and your intellect and deeds, they are indeed great. Therefore, accecpt as a mark of respect our well cooked food consisting of roti and ghee offered in the morning.

PURPORT :—Men should show respect and kindness to the people, according to their ability and character.

NOTES :—(सनश्रुत) सत्याऽसत्यविवेकिनां सकाशाच्छ्रुतं येन यद्वा सत्यासत्य-विभाजकं वचनं श्रुतं येन तत्सम्बुद्धौ ।He who has heard or received education from the persons who have power to distinguish between truth and untruth. (इन्द्र) विद्यैश्वर्ययुक्तः ।Endowed with the wealth of wisdom.

The duties of rulers are elaborated :

माध्यंन्दिनस्य सवनस्य धानाः पुरोळाशमिन्द्र कृष्वेह चारुम् ।
प्र यत्स्तोता जरिता तूर्ण्यर्थो वृषायमाण उप गीर्भिरीट्टे ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king)! partake of the barley, and the delicious rotis and ghee during the midday session of the Yajnas. You should honour that admirer and attendant of yours who are active and increase their strength, praise you with sweet noble words and thus turn to be prosperous because of their labour.

PURPORT :—Those servants of the State who work hard to develop it by all legitimate means, like the priests of the Yajnas, should be honoured by the king.

NOTES : (तूर्ण्यर्थः) तूर्णिः सद्योऽर्थो यस्य सः=Active and prompt. (ईट्टे) ऐश्वर्यवान् भवेत् ।=May prosper.

The duty of a teacher is stated

तृतीये धानाः सवने पुरुष्टुत पुरोळाशमाहुतं मामहस्व नः ।
ऋभुमन्तं वाजवन्तं त्वा कवे प्रयस्वन्त उप शिक्षेम धीतिभिः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O wise men! praised by many, let us be industrious, and teach you in the evening session of the Yajna in a practical manner with our fingers. You are useful, like the barley roties etc, and have many wisemen associated with you and possess various kinds of food materials. You should duly respect us like your teachers.

PURPORT :—As the learned priests teach the meaning and significance of the various acts of the Yajna, in the same manner, it is the duty of the teachers to teach in various science and arts the practical manner, so that the pupils may visualise and grasp them thoroughly.

NOTES & REMARKS (मामहस्व) भृशं सत्कुरु=Revere, respect (ऋभुमन्तम्) प्रशस्ता ऋभवो मेधाविनो विद्यन्ते यस्य तम्। ऋभुरिति मेधाविनाम (N.G. 3,15)। =He with whom many very wisemen are associated with (वाजवन्तम्) वाजाः शुष्कान्नविशेषा विद्यन्ते यस्य तम्। वाज इत्यन्ननाम (N.G. 2,7)= He who possesses various kinds of food materials.

The duties of a teacher are elaborated :

पूषण्वते ते चकृमा करम्भं हरिवते हर्यश्वाय धानाः ।
अपूपमद्धि सगणो मरुद्भिः सोमं पिब वृत्रहा शूर विद्वान् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O destroyer of enemies ! the wealthy learned men have many nourishing substances, and are lord of the many horses. They possess speedy steads in the form of electricity etc. the parched or cooked foodgrains and curds and fried barley. Eat them in the company of your army personnel and good men and drink Soma juice of various herbs and plabts. Let us also do the same to you.

PURPORT :—Those who are blessed with knowledge and humility should honour a worthy king by offering gifts and edibles (to eat and drink). They should also be always honoured by the king.

NOTES & REMARKS : (हरिवते) प्रशस्ताश्वः दियुक्ताय। (हरयः) हरणशीलाः अश्वाः।=Lord of many horses, speedy horses or electricity. The duties of kings and army are told ;

इन्द्रापर्वता बृहता रथेन वामीरिष आ वहतं सुवीराः ।
वीतं हव्यान्यध्वरेषु देवा वर्धेथां गीर्भिरिळया मदन्ता ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O President of the State and Commander-in-chief of the Army ! you are like the lightning and cloud travelling in a spacious car, leading delightful life with articles of food and good progeny. Put acceptable good oblations in the Yajna (non-violent and inviolable sacrifices). Being bestowers of divine happiness, desiring the welfare of all with the speech illuminating the teachings of all shastras, (religious texts), you ever grow harmoniously.

PURPORT :— Officers of the State and army ! as the clouds protect all rivers, tanks, ponds and herbs, in the same manner, the commanders and officers of the army should satisfy all members of the army and public with sufficient quantity of all necessary articles, and the warriors of the army should destroy all their enemies. Thus, all persons experienced in the science of war and administration get their desires fullfiled.

NOTES & REMARKS : (इन्द्रापर्वता) विद्युन्मेघाविव राज्यसेनाधीशौ। स्तनयित्नुरेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6, 3, 9) । स्तनयद्वा इन्द्रस्यरूपम् (Aitariya nyak a 1, 2) पर्वत इति मेघनाम (N.G. 1, 10)=The President or the State and Commander-in chief of the army comparable to lightening and cloud. ((इलया) सर्वशास्त्रप्रकाशिकया वाचा। इलेति वाङ्नाम (N.G. 3,5) =With the speech illuminating the teachings of all Shastras. The duties of a king are stated :

पितुर्न पुत्रः सिचमा रभे त इन्द्र स्वादिष्ठया गिरा शचीवः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O opulent Indra (king) ! enjoy happiness by drinking copiously effused Soma (juice of invigorating herbs) by making proper use of wealth. As a son clings to the garment of a father, likewise, O powerful king ! lord of noble subjects ! I lay hold of the skirts of your robe with the sweetest speech. Please be united with us and do not abandon us.

PURPORT :—O king ! as a son serves his father, same way serve the old enlightened men. Never go astray from Dharma (righteousness). Enjoy happiness afler making others happy.

NOTES & REMARKS : (कम्) सुखम् । कम् इति सुखनाम (N.G. 3,6) Happines. (यक्षि) सङ्गच्छस्व । United. (शचीवः) प्रशस्ताः शचीः प्रज्ञा विद्यन्ते यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ ।=One who has good subjects. Though in most of the present editions the text appears to be शचीति प्रज्ञानाम NKT. 3,9, but Rishi Dayananda has given he meaning of प्रजा. It requires further research regarding the matter. Commentetor.

The duties of thc people are told :

शंसावाध्वर्यो प्रति मे गृणीहीन्द्राय वाहः कृणवाव जुष्टम् ।
एदं बर्हिर्यजमानस्य सीदाथा च भूदुक्थमिन्द्राय शस्तम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :— O non-violent person ! let us two offer praise and you concur with me. Sit on the admirable, praiseworthy good seat of Indra (king) arranged by the Yajamana (the performer of the Yajna) and unify all. Provide seats to others on their proper to places and praise the good articles that have been collected for the use of a wealthy king and accomplish all sorts of good acts. You also praise alongwith me, O Yajamana !

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all officers of the State and the people to do only good deeds which lead towards prosperity and bring good reputation by obeying the commands of the noble king.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अध्वर्यो) अहिंसक ।=Non-violent. (बर्हिः) उत्तमं स्थानम् । बर्हिरिति पदनाम (N.G-5,2) Good place, or seat. (यजमानस्य) सङ्गन्तुः ।=Of the unifier of all and performer of the yajna.

The duties on learned persons are told :

जायेदस्तं मघवन्त्सेदु योनिस्तदित्त्वा युक्ता हरयो वहन्तु ।
यदा कदा च सुनवाम सोममग्निष्ट्वा दूतो धन्वात्यच्छ ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O prosperous king ! your wife is your real home. She is the base of the birth of your progeny. Let good horses, yoked in your chariot take both of you to distant places to drink Soma. Whenever we extract Soma, let it reach you; you give crushing defeat to your enemies and shine like the lighting.

PURPORT :—As two well-trained horses yoked in comfortable chariot carry their master to distant places, same way the loving and worthy husband and wife can well accomplish the duties of household life.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अस्तम्) गृहम् । अस्तम् इति गृहनाम (N.G. 3,4) =Dwelling place, home. (योनिः) सन्तानानिमित्ता । योनिः is from यु-मिश्रणामिश्रणयोः । अत्रमिश्रणार्थः । The cause of birth of the children The cause of union of the couple and progeny. (धन्वाति) प्राप्नुयात् । (धन्वाति) धन्वातिर्गतिकर्मा—गतेस्त्रिष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । (NG 2, 14)=May obtain.

The duties of learned persons are state :

परा याहि मघवन्ना च याहीन्द्र भ्रातरुभयत्रा ते अर्थम् ।
यत्रा रथस्य बृहतो निधानं विमोचनं वाजिनो रासभस्य ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O wealthy Indra (king) ! you are of mild and fierce temper. In case you may require to go to distant place brother ! come from there. There is a purpose for you, both in going and coming. Where there is the place for yoking your horses in the charming speedy chariot, or electricity etc, and when there is the place of loosening of the reins for holding, let us know your purpose and co-operate with you, PURPORT :—Men should go to distant places for the accomplishment of their works. But they should not always be on the move. They should come back home, should meet their kith and kin and then again go to distant lands for the acquirement of wealth and return.

NOTES : (रासभस्य) विद्युदादिसम्बन्धिन इव ।=Regarding electricity etc. (इन्द्र) मृदूग्रस्वभाव ।=Man of mild and fierce temperament as the case may be.

The duties of the rulers are told :

अपाः सोममस्तमिन्द्र प्र याहि कल्याणीर्जाया सुरणं गृहे ते ।
यत्रा रथस्य बृहतो निधानं विमोचनं वाजिनो दक्षिणावत् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (prosperous King) ! dwell in an abode where there is place for parking of big, aircraft and other vehicles and for using and disconnecting fire (electricity). I like the sacrificial offerings and homes with your auspicious or blissfull wife. Alongwith your wife, go to distant places in such confortable vehicles and come back home. (Drink Soma invigorating and disease—destroying juice) and then go to the battle-field.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the king and other administrators to manufacture aircraft and other good vehicles, to use suitable machines equipped with fire (electricity) etc, to disconnect them when the work is done and go to distant lands with their wives. If the wives also are warrior and brave, they should take them along for achieving victory in the battle.

The duties of rulers are elaborated :

इमे भोजा आङ्गिरसो विरूपा दिवस्पुत्रासो असुरस्य वीराः ।
विश्वामित्राय ददतो मघानि सहस्रसावे प्र तिरन्त आयुः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should protect those brave persons who are mighty like the Prānas (Vital airs), multiformed, sons of the enlightened persons, and are valiant fighters with the enemies. They throw missiles in the battle, give wealth in charity to those who have regard for all their friends and thus lengthening the span of their lives.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always achieve victory by raising an army consisting of brave and mighty persons because they are well- versed in the art of warfare.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अंङ्गिरस:) प्राणा इव बलिष्ठा: । प्राणो वा आंगिरा. (Stph 6, 1, 2, 28)= Mighty like the Prānas (Vital airs)-(विश्वामित्राय) विश्वं सर्वं जगन्मित्रं यस्य तस्मै ।=For him who regards the whole world as friend. (भोजा:) भोक्तार: प्रजापालका: Protectors of the people. भोजा: is from भुज—पालनाभ्यवहारयो: । Here the meaning of protection has been taken. । (सहस्रसावे) सहस्रस्यासङ्ख्यस्य धनस्य साव: प्रसवो यस्मिन् संग्रामे ।=In the battle in which much wealth is gained by defeating the enemy. Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others have taken Bhoja, Angirah and Vishvāmitra as Proper Nouns and interpreted them as the names of some particular individuals. In fact, these are derivative words denoting some attributes and should be taken in general terms and as attributes or Common Noun.

Now duties of the enlightened persons are told :

रूपंरूपं मघवा बोभवीति मायाः कृण्वानस्तन्वं१ परि स्वाम् ।
त्रिर्यद्दिवः परि मुहूर्तमागात्स्वैर्मन्त्रैरनृतुपा ऋतावा ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—That man should be appointed as teacher and preacher who is a truthful person, possing much wealth comes: his in physical fitness in order to attend and address the three sessions of the Yajnas,—like the sun brings light and time-and spreads his noble thoughts, though he may not be the protector of the seasons. He illuminates all forms, creating various kinds of knowledge. (The protector and mover of the seasons is God Himself, and none else).

PURPORT :—Those persons should be appointed for the spread of righteousness and administration, who know the nature of all things from God to the earth, who are able to give that knowledge to others quickly, and who are illuminators of good education, civil-sation and humility

NOTES :—(मायाः) प्रज्ञाः । मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)=Intellects. (ऋतावा) सत्यवान् । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10)=Full of truthfuly and honesty Prof. Wilson translated the word मायाः' "practising delusions with respect to his own peculiar person" and Griffith translated it magic changes in his body". But the meaning given in Nighantu is मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (3, 9). The word माया means good intellect or understanding and not the delusion.

The same subject of duties of the enlightened is continued :

वि॒श्वामि॑त्रो॒ यदव॑हत्सु॒दास॒मप्रि॑यायत कुशि॒केभि॒रिन्द्रः॑ ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should revere the great sage, who is born among the enlightened persons and is prompted by them to do noble deeds. That sage knows the meaning of the Vedic mantras, visualizes, the real nature of men, is friend of all, and provides great prosperity. He upholds the State with the help of those experienced persons who know how to accomplish great tasks. He bears great splendour and beauty and loves a good and liberal donor. He upholds the State, like the sun upholds the earth, rivers and oceans.

PURPORT :—The men should know that the sun is greater and bigger than all the stars and upholds and illuminates all. Likewise most, reliable knowers of the Vedas, who guide humanity are absolutely truthful.

NOTES & REMARKS : (सुदासम्) शोभनदानम् सु+दास्--दाने (भ्वा०)= Good donor. (कुशिकेभिः) कार्यसिद्धान्तविद्भिः । कुशिकः—क्रोशतेः शब्दकर्मणः कंशतेर्वा स्यात् प्रकाशयतिकर्मणः साधु विक्रोशयिता अर्थानाम् इति वा (NRT 2, 25) = By the persons who know the fundamental principles of all works and the means to accomplish them.

The duties of the enlightened persons are elaborated :

हं॒सा इ॑व कृणुथ॒ श्लोक॒मद्रि॑भि॒र्मद॑न्तो गी॒र्भिर॑ध्व॒रे सु॒ते सचा॑ ।
दे॒वेभि॑र्विप्रा ऋषयो नृचक्षसो॒ वि पि॑बध्वं कुशिकाः सो॒म्यं मधु॑ ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you draw the essence of the fundamental principles of all sciences. you seers by nature examine many knowers of the meaning of all mantras, geniuses, rejoicing in the non-violent Yajnas (in the form of the study and teaching the enlightened men). You utter noble and sweet words like the swans. You behave truthfully and drink the sweet juice and enjoy prosperity.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of great scholars to urge all learned persons to inculcate self-control, righteousness, good conduct and civilised behaviour, so that there may be born among them absolutely truthful and most reliable persons. They would bring about the welfare of the world.

NOTES :—(कुशिकाः) विद्यासिद्धान्तनिष्कर्षकाः=Drawers of the essence of the funaamental principles of all sciences, (सोम्यम्) सोम ऐश्वर्ये साधु=Good in the cause of prorperity.

The duties of enlightened are highlighted :

उप प्रेत कुशिकाश्चेतयध्वमश्वं राये प्र मुञ्चता सुदासः ।
राजा वृत्रं जङ्घनत्प्रागपागुदगथा यजाते वर आ पृथिव्याः ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O good preachers of truth ! in fact, liberal king destroys clouds like enemies, maintains others a; happiness from all directions—the east, west, north and south. Having conquered his enemies, he performs Yajna (non-violent sacrifice) at some good place on earth, sacrifices your comforts in order to make him attain prosperity, and trains your people with the use of electricity like horse for the speedy locomation and advancement.

PURPORT :—O learned men ! it is your duty to give honour and sufficient wealth to those brave warriors who destroy enemies, so that you may achieve victory on all fronts.

NOTES : (कुशिकाः) ये कुंकन्त्युपदिशन्ति ते कुशाः प्रशस्ताः । कुशा विद्यन्ते येषु ते कुशिकाः =Those who have among them good preachers of truth. (अश्वम्) तुरङ्गमिवाऽऽशुगामिनीं विद्युतम्=Electricity which is like a speedy horse. (वृत्रम्) मेघमिव शत्रुम् ।=An enemy who is like a cloud, coverer of happiness.

The theme of enlightened persons duties further moves :

य इमे रोदसी उभे अहमिन्द्रमतुष्टवम् ।
विश्वामित्रस्य रक्षति ब्रह्मेदं भारतं जनम् ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION : O men ! you should also worship that one Indra (ruler of the world), who protects both the heaven and the earth, all universe or wealth, a great scholar. I and all men glorify him.

PURPORT :O men ! is you should always glorify, pray to and have communion with that one God who creates this whole world and protects it.

NOTES & REMARS :—(ब्रह्म) धनं ब्रह्माण्डं वा । ब्रह्मेति धननाम (NG 2,10) =Wealth or world. (भारतम्) भारत्या वाचोऽयं वेत्ता धर्त्ता वा तम् । भारतीति वाङ्नाम=To that great scholar who is the knower or (NG 1, 11) upholder of the speech.

The duties of a king and his relation and his subjects are told :

विश्वामित्रा अरासत ब्रह्मेन्द्राय वज्रिणे । करदिन्नः सुराधसः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O friends of all ! you should give wealth (in the form of the taxes etc.) to that Indra (king) who makes us all endowed with good wealth, and who knows Dhanurveda or the science of archery (.weaponry)

PURPORT :—The people should give wealth (in the form of taxes etc.) only to that king who makes them happy by all means at his disposal.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अरासत) रासन्ताम् । रासति दानकर्मा (NG 3, 20) =Give. away (सुराधसः) उत्तमधनयुक्तान् ।=Endowed with good wealth.

The duties of the enlightened persons are told :

किं ते कृण्वन्ति कीकटेषु गावो नाशिरं दुह्रे न तपन्ति घर्मम् ।
आ नो भर प्रमगन्दस्य वेदो नैचाशाखं मघवन्रन्धया नः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! you possess admirable wealth, what do the cattle do among the atheists because they have no faith in the Vedic teachings and rites or in place inhabited by them. They yield no milk to mix with the Soma, and do not perform the Yajna with the ghee of the cows. Therefore, bring them to us, so that we may use them for hospitality (giving the milk mixed with Soma) to teachers and preachers. Give us wealth taken away from the wicked persons for the use of those who hailing from a good family come to us. Remove far away from us a man who uses his power for doing mean or inglorious acts or keep him under us.

PURPORT :—As the cows do not grow among the wicked atheists, in the same manner, Dharma and other virtues do not grow among the persons lacking faith. Among the enlightened persons atheists can never have the upper hand. Therefore, good scholars should blot out atheism.

NOTES :—(कीकटेषु) अनार्य्यदेशनिवासिषु म्लेच्छेषु ।=Among the atheists living in places inhabit ed by such people. (प्रमगन्दस्य) यः कुलीनो मां गच्छति स तस्य ।=Of a person who comes to us or takes shelter under us. (नैचाशाखम्) नीचा शाखा शक्तिर्यस्मिस्तम्=A person who uses his power for doing mean acts. (रन्धय) निवारय=Remove.

The duties of enlightened persons are narrated :

ससर्परीरमतिं बाधमाना बृहन्मिमाय जमदग्निदत्ता ।
आ सूर्यस्य दुहिता ततान श्रवो देवेष्वमृतमजुर्यम् ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION:—O men ! use always that noble speech given by the thoughtfuls (enlightening ideas after seeing with the eyes). It is full of knowledge and illuminates a splendid great form like the USHA (Dawn), daughter of the Sun, dispels all darkness and extends undecaying and harmless nectar, like the fame among the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—If men receive wisdom and good education, sitting at the feet of the absolutely truthful reliable and enlightened persons, observing Brahamcharya (continence) Dharma (righteousness) and industriousness, there is no such happiness which they can not attain.

NOTES & REMARKS: —(अमतिम्) रूपम् । अमतिरिति रूपनाम (NG 3,7) =Form. (जमदग्निदत्ता) -चक्षुषा प्रत्यक्षेण दत्ता । चक्षुर्वै जमदग्निऋर्षिः। यदेनेन जगत् पश्यति अथो मनुते तस्माच्चक्षुर्जमदग्निऋर्षिः (Stph Brahman 8.1.1.3) (अजुर्य्यम्) हानिरहितम् ।= Harmless

The duties of enlightened are further stressed :

ससर्परीभरत्तूयमेभ्योऽधि श्रवः पाञ्चजन्यासु कृष्टिषु ।
सा पक्ष्या३ नव्यमायुर्दधाना यां मे पलस्तिजमदग्नयो ददुः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the noble speech that has been given to me by the mature and experienced knowers of the science of energy, is good on all accounts. It gives new life to all human and other beings having five Prănas, bestows happiness me May those old and experienced persons soon endow with good food and fame to these seekers after truth.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should always cultivate that noble speech which accomplishes all acts and leads to prosperity. It is a part of life and shines with truth and other virtures, giving new knowledge and life.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ससर्परीः) सुखस्य प्रापिका ।=Bestowing happiness. (तूयम्) शीघ्रम् । तूयम् इति क्षिप्रनाम (NG 2, 15)=Soon, quickly. (श्रवः) अन्नम् । श्रवा इति मनुष्य नाम (NG 2 ,7)=Food. (कृष्टिषु) मनुष्यादिप्रजासु । कृष्टय इति मनुष्य नाम (NG 2, 3)=Possessing five Prănas (vital airs). (पांचजन्यासु) [illegible] =Among the human (and other) beings. (प्रजास्तिजमदग्नय:) प्रजामिता विदिता अग्रय: पलस्तयो वयोज्ञानवृद्धाश्च जमदग्नयो यैस्ते =Old and experienced knowers of the science of fire.

The enlightened persons' set tasks are stated :

स्थिरौ गावौ भवतां वीलुरक्षो मेषा वि वर्हि मा युगं वि शारि ।
इन्द्रः पातल्ये ददतां शरीतोररिष्टनेमे अभि नः सचस्व ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION : —O leader of non-violent and inviolable good actions ! being endowed with wealth and the power of destroying the wicked, give helping hand to him, who is faltering down. Strong be the pair of oxen, and be firm the axles. Let not the pole slip nor the yoke be broken. May no slaughterer slay the oxen and the cows. May not the year or any part of it be wasted uselessly. Preserve the yoke pins from decay. Car with undamaged fellies be ready for us.

PURPORT :—Men should never kill benevolent animals like the cows and the oxen. They should also never waste their time. They should always have loving relations with good men.

NOTES :—(ईषा) हिंसक:=A violent person, a slaughterer, butcher. (पातल्ये) पतनशीले ।=Falling. (शरीतो:) शरीतु दुष्टस्वभावं हिंसितु शक्नोति ।=Able to destroy the wicked. (अरिष्टनेमे) योऽरिष्टान्यहिंसितानि कर्माणि नयति तत्सम्बुद्धौ =He who is leader of the non-violent or inviolable good actions.

It is not strange on the part of Shri Sayanacharya to have translated गावो here as गच्छत: इति गावो अश्वौ means=Horses (2). Prof. Wilson followep it as "may the horses be steady". But Griffith has rightly translated it as "Strong be the pair of Oxen." Rishi Dayananda also did the same.

The tasks set before the enlightened persons are stated :

बलं धेहि तनूषु नो बलमिन्द्रानलुत्सु नः ।
बलं तोकाय तनयाय जीवसे त्वं हि बलदा असि ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (Acharya, giver of the great wealth of health and wisdom)! give strength to our bodies;; give strength to the bulls who carry our vehicles; give strength to our infants and grown up sons, so that they may live long. Indeed, you are the giver of strength.

PURPORT :—O Acharya (Preceptor) as you are endowed with physical and spiritual power, enable us also to have full power of the body and soul.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनलुत्सु) गवादिषु ।=In the bulls. (तोकाय) ह्रस्वाय बालकाय । तोकम् इत्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2) For an infant. (तनयाय) प्राप्तकौमारयौवनाऽवस्थाय । तनय इत्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2)=For grown up son.

The duties of enlightened persons are told :

अभि व्ययस्व खदिरस्य सारमोजो धेहि स्पन्दने शिंशपायाम् ।
अक्ष वीळो वीळित वीळयस्व मा यामादस्मादव जीहिपो नः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned Acharya (Preceptor) ! firmly establish in us the vigour of the Khadir (a tree named Khair in India and produces catechu). Give solidity to us like the chariot made from the Shinshapa (a kind of tree). O strong and noble person of admirable temper ! praised by all, prompt us to do noble deeds. Do not allow us to waste our time.

PURPORT :—O preceptor ! establish in us firm strength. Urge upon us to do noble deeds and do not forsake us.

NOTES :—(वीळो) बलवन् प्रशंसितस्वभाव । वीलु इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =Strong and man of admired temper. (वीळित) बहुभिः प्रशंसित= Admired by many. (वीळयस्व) प्रेरयस्व=Prompt, urge. (अक्ष) व्याप्तविद्य । अक्षा इति पदनाम। षद गतौ। (NG 5, 3)=गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्तिग्रहणं कृतं भाष्यकृता, तेन प्राप्तविद्येति व्याख्यानम्। Well-versed in many sciences highly learned.

The duties of the officers of the State are told :

अयमस्मान्वनस्पतिर्मा च हा मा च रीरिषत् ।
स्वस्त्या गृहेभ्य आवसा आ विमोचनात् ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O king, as the protector of the forest does not leave us, or as the sun does not harm us, in the same manner you should also not desert us. May we travel back home with prosperity till the goal is reached, and thereafter the horses be unharnessed.

PURPORT :—As the food and other things are protectors of all, in the same manner, the officers of the State should be protectors or guardians of all. They should never give up justice, having given up injustice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रीरिषत्) हिंस्यात्। रिष-हिंसायाम् (दिवा०)=May perish. (वनस्पतिः) वनस्य पालकः। वनमिति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5)=The protector of the forest. 2=The protector of rays-sun.

The duties of State officials are stated :

इन्द्रोतिभिर्बहुलाभिर्नो अद्य याच्छ्रेष्ठाभिर्मघवञ्छूर जिन्व ।
यो नो द्वेष्ट्यधरः सस्पदीष्ट यमु द्विष्मस्तमु प्राणो जहातु ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (Posvsessor of abundant wealth) ! may the vile wretch who hates us fall before us. May the breath of life depart from him whom we (all good men) hate on account of his malevolence. Protect us this day against our foes, with many and excellent defences. O brave and Opulous King !

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the enlightened person, to hate only a man of wicked nature and to honour a righteous person. The king and other officers of the State should adopt all means which protect good people and remove the wicked.

NOTES :—(याच्छ्रेष्टाभिः) शत्रुबधकर्मण्युत्तमाभिः = Efficient destroying the enemies. (अधरः) नीचः = Mean. (पदीष्ट) प्राप्नुयात् = Obtain.

The duties of the rulers are told :

परशुं चिद्वि तपति शिम्बलं चिद्वि वृश्चति ।
उखा चिदिन्द्र येषन्ती प्रयस्ता फेनमस्यति ॥२२॥

22. TRANSLATION :— O Indra ! you possess abundant wealth and your army tortures the enemies like a blacksmith heats his axe. It cuts into pieces the foes easily like the Simal flower, The heavily heated cauldron leaks and boils over foam, so may mine enemy perish.

PURPORT :— Those kings who protect and safe-guard their brave army, achieve victory and shine in the world.

NOTES : (शिम्बलम्) शल्मलीपुष्पम् पत्रं वा । Simal flower or leaf. (वृश्चति) छिनत्ति । ओव्रश्चू-छेदने (तुदा०) = Cuts down. (उखा) पाकस्थाली । परमं वा एतत् पात्रं यत् उखा (Maitrāyanisamhita 3,1,8) = Cauldron. (येषन्ती) स्रवन्ती । = Leaking.

The duties of the rulers are dealt :

न सायकस्य चिकिते जनासो लोधं नयन्ति पशु मन्यमानाः ।
नावाजिनं वाजिना हासयन्ति न गर्दभं पुरो अश्वान्नयन्ति ॥२३॥

23. TRANSLATION :— O king ! your men who while fighting do not mind the trouble caused by arrows and arms, and drive away a greedy enemy deeming him like an animal. They do not fight in the battle while riding on the horse back with those who have no horses, and do not lead an ass (inferior horse) in preference to a good horse. Such people should be supplied with good arrows and other weaponry arms.

PURPORT :— Those are to be considered as the best in the army of a king, who know well the science of warfare and who knowe how to preseve and firmly keep and urge to fight various parts of th army.

NOTES & REMARKS : (लोधम्) लोब्धारम् । अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेन भस्य घः । = Greedy enemy. (अवाजिनम्) अविद्यमाना वाजिनो यत्र सङ्ग्रामे तम् । = In the battle with those who have no horses.

Editor's Note—In accordance with the established norms of warfare, as indicated in the Mahabharat also a horse-rider would never fight a soldier not riding on the horse. It is like this in Mahabharata — रथी च रथिना योध्यो गजेन गजधूर्गतः । अश्वेनाश्वी, पदातिश्च पादातेनैव भारत ।

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : Here Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffiith and others have meant that Vishvāmitra while perfoming austerities was captivated by the men employed by Vasishtha and taken away like an animal. Vishvămitra ridicules the rivalry of Vasishtha with himself in this mantra. In fact, it is an absurd interpretation, as it brings the Vedas and the Vedic sage, both, like Vishvāmitra and Vasishtha into contempt. Dayananda Sarasvati has interpreted it straightforward by overlooking the absurd myths connected with it. He has taken the words वाजिना-अवाजिनम् in their simple and direct sense.

The theme of duties of rulers is highlighted :

इम इन्द्र भरतस्य पुत्रा अपपित्वं चिकितुर्न प्रपित्वम् ।
हिन्वन्त्यश्वमरणं न नित्यं ज्यावाजं परि णयन्त्याजौ ॥२४॥

24. TRANSLATION :— O Indra (tool of great prosperity)! these attendants of mine who are like the trained sons of the learned commander and are upholder of your army know the ups and downs of the life. When they are in the battle-field, when they are hear the sound of a bow string of the foe, they urge their steads to proceed in that direction. You should protect and safeguard them like yourselves.

PURPORT :— The kings and officers who know the nature and cause of advancement and deterioration, who feed (nourish) the officers of the army and their attendants, who are well-versed in the art of fighting and are faithful as their own children, they always prosper. How can they be defeated in the battle-field ?

NOTES : (भरतस्य) सेनाया धर्त्तू रक्षकस्य । = Of the commander of the army who is its protector and upholder. (हिन्वन्ति) वर्धयन्ति ।= Increase, multiply. (आजौ) सङ्ग्रामे । = In the battle.

Sūktam—54

Rishi of the Sūktam-Prajāpati or Vāchya. Devatā-Vishve Devatāh. Chhanda—Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara Panchama and Dhaivata.

The duties of the kings are told :

इमं महे विदथ्याय शूषं शश्वत्कृत्व ईड्याय प्र जभ्रुः ।
शृणोतु नो दम्येभिरनीकैः शृणोत्वग्निर्दिव्यैरजस्रः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you have many good workers under you. Listen to us who prove our strength and the vigour to be demonstrated on the occassion of the admirable battle. The members of your army should be paid liberally and they combat well. Please listen to us with your divine actions. You are always highly learned and shining like the fire, and are engaged in doing good deeds.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the kings to honour constantly those, who possess good knowledge regarding the scientific warfare and great strength. They should improve their work, so that being delighted, they may crown the king with success.

NOTES & REMARKS ; (शूषम्) बलम् ।=Power, Energy. (विदथ्याय) विदथेषु सङ्ग्रामेषु भवाय । निघण्टौ शूषम् इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) ।=For the strength belonging to the battle. (अजस्रः) निरन्तरः ।=Constant. (अनीकैः) सैन्यैः । सेनाया वै सेनानीनीकम् (Stph 5,3,1,1)=With armies. (दम्येभिः) दातुं योग्यैः=Worth giving.

The duties of the kings are elaborated :

मर्हि मुहे दिवे अर्चा पृथिव्यै कामो म इच्छश्चरति प्रजानन् ।
ययोर्ह स्तोमे विदथेषु देवाः सपुर्यवो मादयन्ते सचायोः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—Honour the person who knows the art of warfare and conquers his enemies, desires kingdom and travels here and there for the acquirement of great light and the kingdom of earth. Such a person tries to fulfil (lit. adorn) my desires and achieves victory. The enlightened men serving the noble cause get great delight on the nice accomplishments of knowledge and king—dom adopting moral values. You should gladden them all.

PURPORT :—The king and his ministers should make happy those persons, who desire to spread knowledge and progress of the State. They are long lived and experts in the science of warfare, adorn the king and ministers with prosperity and victory.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पृथिव्यै) भूमिराज्यप्राप्तये ।=The obtaining kingdom of the earth. (सपर्यवः) सेवकाः । आयव इति मनुष्यनाम । (NG 2,3) =Attendants. (आयोः) जीवस्य । आयुः इति अन्न नाम (N. G. 2, 7) अत्र अन्नवतः प्राणिनो ग्रहणम्=Of the soul.

The same subject of duties of the kings is dealt :

युवोर्ऋतं रोदसी सत्यमस्तु मुहे षु णः सुवितायु प्र भूतम् ।
इदं दिवे नमो अग्ने पृथिव्यै सपुर्यामि प्रयसा यामि रत्नम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining like the fire, may the true relation of both the Master and his servants be ever inviolable.

You are united with them like the earth and the heaven. May it cause great prosperity and the abundant achievement of gold, jewels etc. As I serve for the good of the mother earth and heaven and achieve victory with great industriousness, so you should also emulate.

PURPORT :—As the sun and the earth cause the movement of the whole world and make it full of prosperity and food, so the king and his cabinet, should do noble deeds labouriously and acquire abundant wealth.

NOTES : (सुखिताय) ऐश्वर्याय । = For prosperity. (प्रयसा) प्रयत्नेन = With industriousness.

The subject of duties of the administrators is emphasized :

उतो हि वां पूर्व्या आविविद्र ऋतावरी रोदसी सत्यवाचः ।
नरश्चिद्वां समिथे शूरसातौ ववन्दिरे पृथिवि वेविदानाः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION : — O queen ! you are like the earth (have forgiveness) honour those truthful and learned persons who bow before you and your husband and gladden you both in the battle-field. The brave leaders, experts in ancient sciences, show their valour, and attain your victory like the dawn touching the earth and heawen.

PURPORT :— Those persons are worthy of ruling over their subjects, who are truthful in thought, words and deeds and are self controlled. Only those ladies are capable queens who are noble like their husbands.

NOTES & REMARKS : (आविविद्रे) समन्ताल्लभन्ते । = Attain from all sides. (ऋतावरी) सत्यप्रापिकोषा = Dawn which leads to truth (through meditation etc.) (समिथे) । सङ्ग्रामे । समिथे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2.17) = In the battle field. (पृथिवि) भूमिवत्क्षमाशीले । = Of forgiving nature like the earth. (वेविदानाः) भृशं प्रतिजानन्तः । = Knowing much, highly learned.

The duties and attributes of a learned person are told :

को अद्धा वेद क इह प्र वोचद्देवाँ अच्छा पथ्या३ का समेति ।
ददृश्र एषामवमा सदांसि परेषु या गुह्येषु व्रतेषु ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :— O men ! tell me who knows truly the nature of God and Dharma ? Who is in a position to tell learned persons about it thoroughly ? Which is the path that leads to the divine virtues ? The answers are—it is only those who see the gross substences in the world having their root in the subtle causes and avowedly seek knowledge and truthfulness. The others which are to be always protected, are those know these things and factors well.

PURPORT :— There are few people in this world who know God, who act according to His commandments and preachs truth. There are few learned persons who know all the gross and subtle objects and their causes.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अद्धा) साक्षात् । अद्धा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3,10) एतत् खलु वैवतस्य रूपं यत्सत्यम् (Stph. 12,8,2,4)) = Truly, Directly. (सदांसि) वस्तूनि ।= Things, objects. (व्रतेषु) सत्यभाषणादिनियमेषु ।= In the laws or vows of knowledge, truth and others.

The attributes of God are told :

कविर्नृचक्षा अभि षीमचष्ट ऋतस्य योना विघृते मदन्ती ।
नाना चक्राते सदनं यथा वेः समानेन क्रतुना संविदाने ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :— O men and women ! you should all worship or have communion with that One God, who is Omniscient, beholder of all men and illuminator of the heaven and earth. In fact, these are produced from the true etermal cause-Matter, and gives joy by producing various objects like the diversified nest (shelter) of a birth. They are like two women who have taken similar pledges or suitable actions.

PURPORT :— O men ! that One Omniscient and All-beholder God should be worshipped by all who have made many luminous and other worlds.

NOTES : (अचष्ट) प्रकाशितवान् ।= Has illuminated. (विद्युते) विशेषेण प्रकाशिते ।= Illumined particularly. (संविदाने) कृतप्रतिज्ञ इव ।= Who have made pledges. (वेः) पक्षिण := Of the bird.

The attributes of God are further stated :

समान्या वियुते दूरेअन्ते ध्रुवे पदे तस्थतुर्जागरूके ।
उत स्वसारा युवती भवन्ती आदु ब्रुवाते मिथुनानि नाम ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! know the real nature of the earth and heaven which are like two vigilant young sisters, similar in some respects but united and disjoined, near and far, stable and firmly established. They are addressed therefore by twin appellatives as Dyăvă-Prithvi. Know the real nature of these earth and heaven and attain prosperity utilising them properly.

PURPORT :—As loving sisters speak sweet and desirable words and are always united, so are the various planets in this universe. Some of them far, some are near, some luminous and some without light. This phinomenon what you should know.

NOTES :—(वियुते) मिश्रितास्मिश्रिते=United and disjointed. (दूरेअन्ते) विप्रकृष्टे समीप च=Far and near. (पदे) प्रापणीय=To be attained.

The attributes of God are elaborated :

विश्वेदेते जनिमा सं विविक्तो महो देवान्बिभ्रती न व्यथेते ।
एजद्ध्रुवं पत्यते विश्वमेकं चरत्पतत्रि विषुणं वि जातम् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! upholding the great divine objects these two-earth and heaven-keep separate all things that are born. They do not go away from their circumference. The moving but firm firmament acts like the lord of the earth (so to speak). All moving and stationary beings rest upon one base, whether they are animals, birds or creatures of various kinds. All this you must know well.

PURPORT :—O men ! all these things and creatures which are born dwell, die and perish in the firmament, which is the substratum of the earth, sun and other substances. This truth be known to you.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(व्यथेते) स्वस्वपरिधेरितस्ततो न चलतः। व्यथ-भयचलनयोः अत्र चलनार्थग्रहणम्=Do not deviate from their circumference. Move or go away. (विषुणम्) विष्वग्गच्छति=Going on all sides. (देवान्) दिव्यान् पदार्थान्=Divine objects.

The attributes of God are told :

सना पुराणमध्येम्यारान्महः पितुर्जनितुर्जामि तन्नः ।
देवासो यत्र पनितार एवैरुरौ पथि व्युते तस्थुरन्तः ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know the great and famous path in which are established the devout enlightened persons of good dealings because of the virtues, leading to God, Let this world created by its Adorable Father and Sustainer (God, the Supreme Being) should also be known from far and near. I always keep uppermost in my mind that God is Eternal and Ever new (un-changing). You should also be within Him i. e. should realise His presence within yourselves.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should adore and have communion with that God in which the world dwells. The enlightened persons tread upon the path directed by Him (through the Vedas). He is the creator and sustainer of the world, the greatest and External. If one knows, him, He appears to Him quite near, if one does not know Him, He appears to be far off.

NOTES :—(सना)=सनातनम् । Eternal (अधि एमि) सर्वतः स्मरामि=Remember from all sides and at all times. (पनितारः) व्यवहर्त्तारिः स्तावकाः=Devotees of good dealings. (च्युते) विगतावर्णे प्रसिद्धे=Famous. (जामि) जातम् ।=Born.

The attributes of God are started :

इमं स्तोमं रोदसी प्र ब्रवीम्यृदूदराः शृणवन्नग्निजिह्वाः ।
मित्रः सम्राजो वरुणो युवान आदित्यासः कवयः पप्रथानाः ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—I am a friend of all and trying to be exalted by nature. Preach about this most Praiseworthy God who like the heaven and earth is to be known by various sciences, Illuminator and Upholder of all. May those who have truth within themselves, whose tongue is luminous like the fire, preaching their divine virtues, youthful (energetic), endowed with full knowledge like the sun and are far-sighted. Such sages and renowned persons listen to it.

PURPORT :– As a sovereign illuminates (administers) all justice by His Command, in the same manner, absolutely truthful relaible and enlightened person propogate knowledge about God and His commands through teaching and preaching. Those who become knowers of all sciences, by observing Brahmcharya upto the age of forty eight years (called do Aditya category), can talk about Him (God) can hear, take right decisions, practise Yoga and have direct perception about Him.

NOTES :—(स्तोमम्) प्रशंसनीयम्=Praiseworthy. (ऋदूदराः) ऋत् सत्यमुदरे येषान्ते ।=Those who have truth within themselves (lit. have truth within their bellies). (पप्रथानाः) प्रख्याताः ।=Famous renowned. (रोदसी) द्यावापृथिव्याविव सकलविद्यावेद्यं प्रकाशक सर्वस्य धर्त्तारम्=God who is to be known by all sciences, Illuminator and Upholder of all.

The attributes of a highly learned person are told :

हिरंण्यपाणिः सविता सुंजिह्वस्त्रिरा दिवो विदथे पत्यमानः ।
देवेषु च सवितः श्लोकमश्रेरादस्मभ्यमा सुव सर्वतातिम् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O great scholar ! you give the great wealth of wisdom, are honey—tongued, acting like a master of knowledge of energy, earth and other objects, and like the resplendent sun (lit. the sun who has splendour like the hand). Give us good speech and grant all our noble desires. Give us knowledge thrice a day.

PURPORT :—As the sun is the Lord of all planets under its circle, in the same manner, a highly learned person should be the leader of all.

NOTES & REMARKS : (हिरण्यपाणि:) पाणिरिव हिरण्यं तेजो यस्य सः। तेजो वै हिरण्यम् (तैत्तिरीये) स० 5, 1, 105 तैत्तिरीय सं० 1, 11, 8. काण्व स० 11, 4, 8)=The resplendent sun who has splendour like his hands. (दिव:) विद्युतादे:=Of electricity and other objects. (विदथे) विज्ञाने । विद् ज्ञाने (प्रदा०)=In the knowledge.

The lesson should be repeated thrice in order to ingrain it in the mind or thrice a day, morning afternoon and night.

The duties of the disciples are told :

सुकृत्सुंपाणिः स्ववाँ ऋतावा देवस्त्वष्टावसे तानि नो धात् ।
पूषण्वन्त ऋभवो मादयध्वमूर्ध्वग्रावाणो अध्वरमंतष्ट ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O wiseman ! you have many supporters make us joyful as a man who does good deeds, is dextrious-handed, has many good kith and kin, and is manifester or propogator of truth and illuminator of knowledge. You are a highly learned person, and therefore uphold for us all those things which are necessary for our preservation and protection. Undertake for our protection those dealings which nourish us like the clouds.

PURPORT :—As righteous and highly learned persons bestow happiness upon all, so it is the duty of all to make the enlightened men joyful.

NOTES & REMARKS : (ऊर्ध्वग्रावाण:) मेघा:। ग्रावा इति मेघनाम (N.G. 1,10)=Clouds. (अध्वरम्) पालकव्यवहारम्। ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा तत्प्रतिषेध: (NKT 1,7) अहिंसक: पालको व्यवहार:। A nourishing non-violent dealing. (त्वष्टा) प्रकाशक:। त्वष्टा तूर्णम् अश्नुते इति नैरुक्ता:। त्विषेर्वा स्याद् दीप्तिकर्मण: (NKT 8,2,14,) अत्र दीप्त्यर्थग्रहणं कृतं भाष्यकारेण ।= Illuminator.

The duties of disciples are highlighted :

विद्युद्रथा मरुत ऋष्टिमन्तो दिवो मर्या ऋतजाता अयासः ।
सरस्वती शृणवन्यज्ञियासो धाता रयिं सहवीरं तुरासः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—May a learned lady listen to the weatlh accompained by good issues. They possess it like the brave men who have energy-driven cars, have various kinds of military movements and are renowned for their truthfulness, are highly learned, performers of the Yajnas and are good and prompt artists.

PURPORT :—Like men the women also should study and possess good wealth. Both should give up laziness and accomplish technological or industrial schemes.

NOTES : (विद्युद्रथा:) विद्युद्युक्ता रथा यानानि येषान्ते। Possessing cars in which electricity is used. (ऋष्टिमन्त:) बह्वय: ऋष्टयो गतयो विद्यन्ते येषान्ते =Who have various kinds of movements. (अयास:) प्राप्तविद्या: ।= He who have acquired much knowledge, highly learned. (यज्ञियास:) शिल्पव्यवहारकर्त्तार: ।= Good artists.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The use of the word विद्युद्रथा adjective for मरुत: (brave warriors) clearly refers to the vehicles driven by energy. Prof. Wilson assuming the Maruts are storm gods, translated it as the Maruts whose car are the lightning. Griffith's translation as "Borne on their flashing car", is a bit better. ऋष्टिमन्त: is from ऋषी-गतौ (तुदा०). So Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati has interpreted it here as बह्व्यय: ऋष्टय:—गतयो विद्यन्ते येषां ते। Because ऋष्टि also means spear and other arms, Prof. Wilson and Griffith have translated ऋष्टिमन्त: as "armed with spears" (Wilson) or "The spear-armed Maruts (Griffith). Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati has given that meaning in his commentary on Rig. 1.88.1. He writes on ऋष्टिमद्भि: कलाभ्रामणार्थं यष्टि शस्त्रास्त्रादियुक्तै: ।=Possessed of various kinds of arms and missiles. It however, means that Maruts are brave warriors ready to lay down their lives for defending their country and not storm gods as erroneously supposed by Prof. Maxmuller, Wilson, Griffith and other Western scholars.

In praise of the speakers of truth :

विष्णुं स्तोमासः पुरुदस्ममर्का भगस्येव कारिणो यामनि ग्मन् ।
उरुक्रमः ककुहो यस्य पूर्वीर्न मर्धन्ति युवतयो जनित्रीः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O Industrious learned person ! your devotees are adorable; they do good desireable deeds for prosperity, take shelter in Omnipresent God who removes all miseries and tread upon the path of righteousness. And as young women and grand old mothers do not trangress the Commandments of that all-pervading Supreme Being, so you should also do.

PURPORT :—Those who are devotees of God, dwelling obeying always in the commandments of the Supreme Being and possess real wealth of peace, self-control, endurance and knowledge etc, they attain great virtues like non-violence and truth and pass off misery, and enjoy great delight.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पुरुदस्मम्) पुरूणि बहूनि दुःखानि दस्मान्युपक्षीणानि यस्मात्तम् । पुरु इति बहुनाम । (N.G. 3,1) दसु-उपक्षये (दिवा०)=By whose communion all miseries are evaporated : (ककुहः) महान्तः । ककुह इति महन्नाम । (N.G. 3, 3)=Big or great. (मर्धिता) हिंसन्ति ।=Violate.

The duties of kings are told :

इन्द्रो॒ विश्वै॑र्वी॒र्यैः॒३॒ पत्य॑मान उ॒भे आ प॑प्रौ॒ रोद॑सी महि॒त्वा ।
पु॒र॒न्द॒रो वृ॑त्र॒हा धृ॒ष्णुषे॑णः स॒ङ्गृभ्या॑ न॒ आ भ॑रा॒ भूरि॑ प॒श्वः ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you possess abundant wealth, are like the sun that is the destroyer of the clouds, or destroyer of the cities of the enemies, and are full of all energies. The leader of a conquering strong army, has transformed it into the kingdom of justice on the earth, after having upheld us and the animals. Support us well.

PURPORT :—As the sun and the earth uphold, sustain and increase the strength of all, in the same manner, it is the duty of the king and other chiefs to cultivate all noble virtues in order to make the subjects advanced, to strengthen the army, and destroy the foes, and thus to make the people grow in every way.

NOTES & REMARKS : (रोदसी) न्याय भूमिराज्ये ।=The kingdom of justice and earth. (वृत्रहा) मेघहन्ता सूर्येव ।=Like the sun who destroys the clouds. (धृष्णुसेनः) धृष्णुः प्रगल्भा दृढा सेना यस्य सः ।=He whose army is very strong.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened persons are stated :

नास॑त्या मे पि॒तरा॑ ब॒न्धुपृच्छा॑ सजा॒त्य॑म॒श्विनो॒श्चारु॒ नाम॑ ।
यु॒वं हि स्थो र॑यि॒दौ नो॑ र॒यी॒णां दा॒त्रं र॑क्षेथे॒ अक॑वै॒रद॑ब्धा ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O the President of the Council of Ministers and the Chief Commander of the army ! you are absolutely truthful. You give wealth, and protect me. You look to the care and welfare of your kith and kin, irresistible by your irresproach-able noble actions, and safeguard our donations. Like the sun and the moon, your name is beautiful. Like parents, you protect the honour and fame of that beautiful name which are of the similar nature and function.

PURPORT :— Those enlightened persons who protect all like the parents, who give knowledge and wealth to all, and who being of righteous conduct protect their kith and kin and others, become worthy of veneration by all.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अश्विनाः) सूर्य्याचन्द्रमसोरिव ।=Like the sun and the moon. (अकवैः) अकुत्सितैः कर्मभिः ।= By irresproachable or un-blameable noble action. तत्कावश्विनौ । द्यावापृथिव्यावित्येके । अहोरात्रा वित्येके, सूर्याचन्द्रमसावित्येके (NKT 12,1,1) अत्र सूर्याचन्द्रमसौ इति पक्षमादाय व्याख्यातं भाष्यकृता ।= Ashvinau (अश्विनौ) is the common name for the President of the Coucil of Minister and the Chief Commander of the Army.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened are elaborated :

महत्तद्वः कवयश्चारु नाम यद्ध देवा भवथ विश्व इन्द्रे ।
सख ऋभुभिः पुरुहूत प्रियेभिरिमां धियं सातये तक्षता नः ॥१७॥

*17. TRANSLATION :—*O sages and highly learned persons ! great is your beautiful name Ribhus, indicative of that you are all enlightened men. Along with beloved wisemen, who are dear to you like your own souls in the work of God (Divine work), protect this our intellect in order to rightly distinguish between the truth and untruth. O great king ! invoked by many, you are the friend of those wiseman, and attain wisdom.

PURPORT :—The names of those persons only become renowned who having friendship with all, whether intelligentsia or common men, give wisdom or noble advice to all, so that they may have the power of discrimination between the Dharma (righteousness) and Adharma (unrighteousness).

NOTES : (ऋतुभि :) मेधाविभिः सह । ऋतवो वै देवाः (Stph 7,2,4,26) ऋतवो वै विश्वे देवाः (Stph 7,1,1,43) ऋतवः पितरः (Kaushitaki Bra. 5,7, Stph 2,4,2,24 and Gopatha 1.24,11,6,15)=With wisemen or geniuses. (सातये) सत्याऽसत्ययोर्विवेकाय ।=For distinguishing between the truth and falsehood. (तक्षत) रक्षत । अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः ।=Protect.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : Quoted on the authorities above the word ऋतवः is used here not seasons but for enlightened wisemen. The Devatā or subject of the mantra is ऋभवः acccording to Nighantu ऋभुरिति मेधाविनाम (N.G. 3, 15) । In the Nirukta 11.2.16, Yaskacharya has given the derivation of ऋभवः as ऋभवः-उरु भान्तीति वा ऋतेन भान्तीति वा । ऋतेन भवन्तीरिति वा (NRT 11, 2, 16) i. e. Wisemen are called Ribhus (ऋभवः), because they shine well, they shine with truth or have their existence on account of truth, Veda and Yajna, as the word ऋतम् is used for all these three. How great and beautiful in indeed this name ऋभवः Ribhus.

The duties of the kings are told :

अर्यमा णो अदितिर्यज्ञियासोऽदब्धानि वरुणस्य व्रतानि ।
युयोत नो अनपत्यानि गन्तोः प्रजावान्नः पशुमाँ अस्तु गातुः ॥१८॥

18\. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! like a mother and a judge, you perform Yajnas, enable us to observe the vows of noble men, without any impediment. Keep off us the path which deprives us of having good progeny. May the land we dwell upon, have plenty of progeny and cattle.

PURPORT :—O enlightened persons ! like mothers and dispensers of justice, keep us away from all unjust conduct, enable us to perform truthful and righteous acts and make the land for us full of good progeny and infinite wealth.

(NOTES : (यज्ञियासः) अहिंसायज्ञस्यानुष्ठातारः = Performers of non-violent sacrifice. (अदब्धानि) अहिंसितानि = Inviolable. अदितिः अदीना देवमातेति (NKT 4,4 23) अदितिर्द्यौरदितिरन्तरिक्षमदितिर्माता स पिता स पुत्रः (ऋ० । 89, 10) इति प्रामाण्याददितेर्मातित्यर्थः स्पष्टः । (गातुः) भूमिः । गातुरिति पृथिवी नाम (NG 1, 1) = Land, earth. (अदितिः) माता = Mother.

The duties of the enlightened persons are highlighted :

देवानां दूतः पुरुध प्रसूतोऽनागान्नो वोचतु सर्वताता ।
शृणोतु नः पृथिवी द्यौरुतापः सूर्यो नक्षत्रैरुर्वन्तरिक्षम् ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O upholder or sustainer of many ! you are the messenger of the enlightened persons and tell the story of truth and untruth with the consequences and morals. Give instructions to us who are sinless, about the science of the earth and other objects. Along with constellations which are imperishable in their causal form, let us attain forgiveness like the earth, vidya (knowledge) shining like the electricity, freedom from restlessness like the firmament, the light of knowledge like the sun and peace like water. Listen to our words of prayer.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the preachers appointed by the authorities of the Dharma Sabha to make all persons righteous by preaching what is truth and untruth. They should solve their problems after hearing them properly. Let them take forgiveness and other virtues from the earth and prompt others to do likewise, destroying all sort of hypocricy, leading men to Dharma (righteousness) and thus make all happy.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पृथिवी) भूमिरिव क्षमा = Forgiveness like the earth. (द्यौः) विद्युदिव विद्या = Knowledege which is like electricity. (आपः) जलानीव शान्तिः = Waters like the peace. (सूर्य्यः) सवितेव विद्याप्रकाशः = The light of knowledge.

The attributes of the enlighened persons are stated :

शृण्वन्तु नो वृषणः पर्वतासो ध्रुवक्षेमास इळया मदन्तः ।
आदित्यैर्नो अदितिः शृणोतु यच्छन्तु नो मरुतः शर्म भद्रम् ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! please hear us who are blessed with admirable speech. You shower happiness and your protection is assured and you are benevolent like the clouds and firm like the mountains. Gladly give us loftiness. May the mother alongwith the enlightened persons, illuminators of knowledge like the sun, hear us. Let all good and brave men bestow auspicious felicity upon us.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all men to receive good education, first of all the attainments, them achieving wisdom, then to have association with the wise and observance of noble conduct, Listen to the speech based on the scriptures. By doing all this, they could accomplish the welfare of all.

NOTES & REMARKS : (इलया) प्रशंसितया वाचा । इलेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=With admirable speech. (आदित्यैः) पूर्णविद्वैस्सह । एते खलु वा आदित्या यद् ब्राह्मणा (Taittiriya 1, 1, 9, 8)=With enlightened persons, illuminators of the knowledge like the sun.

The virtues of enlightened are explained :

सदा सुगः पितुमाँ अस्तु पन्था मध्वा देवा ओषधीः सं पिपृक्त ।
भगो मे अग्ने सख्ये न मृध्या उद्रायो अश्यां सदनं पुरुक्षोः ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! may our path be easy for going and abounding in good food. Make proper use of the sweet and invigorating herbs and plants like the Soma. O leader! do not suffer under my friendship. Let my wealth be yours. Let it be gladly shared by you. May I occupy a dwelling, abounding with riches and ample food.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of good physicians to make all men healthy by preventing from their diseases with the help of good medicines. The kings should cultivate friendship with all and should build roads which are smooth, clean and straight, so that the people may travel upon them and earn wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पितुमान्) बहूनि पितवोऽन्नादीनि विद्यन्ते यस्मिन् ।

पितुरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) ।=Which has various kinds of food stuff. (पुरुक्षोः) वद्वन्नादियुक्तस्य । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG. 3,1) क्षु इति अन्नाम (NG. 2,7) । =Of a person having ample food.

The subject of qualities of the learned men further moves on :

स्वदस्व हव्या समिषो दिदीह्यस्मद्र्य१क्सं मिमीहि श्रवांसि ।
विश्वाँ अग्ने पृत्सु ताञ्जेषि शत्रूनहा विश्वा सुमना दीदिही नः ॥२२॥

22. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! purifying like the fire, giving knowledge to us, taste those edibles and food that we offer to you alongwith our praises. Illuminate various sciences, estimate the output of the viands and listen to good words attered by us. As you overcome all enemies in the battle, being ever cheerful and favourably inclined towards us, shine well and enlighten us.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the kings and officers of the State, to urge people to give up all intoxicants and food injurious to physical and mental health. They should multiply to extend scientific and other knowledge, hear what others say, make the army strong, conquer enemies and be above pleasure and grief (to have equilibrium of mind under all circumstances). They should protect and preserve their subjects well and should enjoy bliss by giving up all attachment to passions.

NOTES & REMARKS : (इष :) विज्ञानानि ।=Sciences, scientific and other knowledge. (दिदीहि) प्रकाशय । दीदयति ज्वलतिकर्मा (NG 1, 16) =Illuminate, enlighten. (पृत्सु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । पृत्सु इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) =In the battles. (श्रवांसि) अन्नानि श्रवणानि वा । श्रव इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Food or heating of the scriptures etc.

Rishi-Prajāpati—Vishvāmitra or Vachya. Devatā-Ushā, Agni, Ahoratrou. Rodasee, Twastā, Indra etc. Chhanda—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara—Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of Ushā (dawn) are stated :

उषसः पूर्वा अध यद्व्यूषुर्महद्वि जज्ञे अक्षरं पदे गोः ।
व्रता देवानामुप नु प्रभूषन्महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—When the preceding dawns appear, the great imperishable Mahattatva (the great principle) is manifested on the face of the earth. You should know that One God is adoring the vows and laws of the enlightened truthful persons, and is the life of the earth and all other elements.

PURPORT :—The electric wave is present in the dawn and the men take it at that time. You should adore that One God, 'Supreme, who has no second and pervades the matter and all other objects and He upholds them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवानाम्) । विदुषाम् । विद्वांसो हि देवा: । (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) सत्यमया वै देवा: एतरेय ब्रा 1, 6 कौषीतकी 2, 8, अष्टो वसव: एकादश रुद्रा: द्वादश आदित्या : प्रजापतिश्च वषटकारश्च । एतावन्तो ब्रा० वै देवा: (ऐत० 2,18,37, 3 जैमिनीय 2, 201,) अष्टो वसव:—कतवे वसव इति । अग्निश्च पृथिवी च वायुश्चान्तरिक्षं चादित्याश्च द्यौश्च चन्द्रमाश्च नक्षत्राणि वै ते वसव: । एतेहीदं सर्वं वासयन्ते ते यदिदं सर्वं वासयन्ते तस्माद् वसव इति । (Stph. 11, 6, 3, 6 जैमिनीय० 2, 77) प्राणो वा असु: । । (Stph. 6,6,2, 6) स एषोऽसु: स एष प्राण: । (ऐतरेयारण्यके 2,1,8) । 2 पृथिव्यादीनाम्=Of the and other objects (असुरत्वम्) यत्असुषु प्राणेषु रमते तत्=That which is present in the Prānas or vital energy.

The theme of Agni is told :

मो षू णो अत्र जुहुरन्त देवा मा पूर्वे अग्ने पितरः पदज्ञाः ।
पुराण्योः सद्मनोः केतुरन्तर्महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O Agni (learned leader)! there is One God pervading the eternal energy and ethers in which all beings abide and are present in earth and other objects and also in souls. That God is One and One alone without a second, dwelling within the Prānas. The old and experienced progenitors (ancestors) know that Who is to be attained and Who is Omniscient. May not learned persons Indra ! in any way in the task of attaining that Supreme Being. You should also try to know Him, so that none may harm you.

PURPORT :—Those are truly enlightened persons to be revered like parents, who know well the One God, pervading the matter and other things and having known Him, instruct others about Him.

NOTES : (अत्र) अस्मिन् ब्रह्मणि विज्ञानव्यवहारे वा ।=In this God or in the dealing of knowledge. (जुहुरन्त) प्रसह्न्ताम्=Harm. (पुराण्योः) सनातनयोर्विद्युदाकाशरूपयोः प्रकृत्योः ।=Eternal Electricity and Sky-the forms of matter. (पदज्ञाः) ये पदं प्राप्तव्यं जानन्ति ते ।=They who know what is to be attained.

The attributes of Agni are mentioned :

वि मे पुरुत्रा पतयन्ति कामाः शम्यच्छा दीद्ये पूर्व्याणि ।
समिद्धे अग्नावृतमिद्वदेम महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—Variously do my manifold desires try to over power me. May I seek light well (inspirations) from the deeds performed by the ancient people. As the hymns are racited at the kindling, let us always speak the Great Truth. God is the life and support of all divine things. Let all people also speak the truth and know that one-ever true God, who is un-parallelled.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all men to give up all laziness, to perform good deeds of the ancient absolutely truthful and reliable persons, and to realise His presence within and outside of that One (God). Supreme spirit He is the Illuminator of all luminaries and enlightened persons and in their dwellings. They should have internally direct perception of Him through Yoga, as they visualize very far with the help of the Lighthouse. Then they should preach about Him to others.

NOTES : (शमि) कर्माणि । शमीति कर्मनाम । (NKT 2, 1)=Actions. (दीदे) प्रकाशयेयम् । दीदयतीति ज्वलतिकर्मा । (NG 1, 16)=Let me illuminate. (असुरत्वम्) प्राणाधारम् ।=Origins of life, life and support of all.

More light about Agni (learned person) is thrown :

समानो राजा विभृतः पुरुत्रा शये शयासु प्रयुतो वनानु ।
अन्या वत्सं भरति क्षेति माता महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—The universal sovereign (Sun) is resplendent but present (lit. sleeping) with its rays among all things, including the electricity and other objects jointed and then separated. And it makes use of the rays. The matter (PRAKRITI) consisting of the blend of three Gunas (attributes) upholds the Mahattatva (Great Principle) which is like its Child. It gives habitation to all. You must acquire the knowledge of that One God who removes the miseries of all learned persons and also uses light of all luminaries and enlightened persons. You must know Him well.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should adore that One God alone, Who is the illuminator of all luminaries like the Sun, Who creates all through the Matter and Who protects them like a mother and Who is the object of adoration by all enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS : (वना) किरणान् । वनम् इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) =Rays. (वत्सम्) महत्तत्त्वादिकम् ।=The Great Principle like a child of the Mother. (अन्या) भिन्ना त्रिगुणात्मिका प्रकृतिः=The Primordial Matter which is separate or distinct from God being eternal. (असुरत्वम्) अस्यति प्रक्षिपति दूरीकरोति सर्वाणि दुःखानि तस्य भावम्=Remover of all miseries.

The attributes of Agni are elaborated :

आक्षित्पूर्वास्वपरा अनूरुत्सद्यो जातासु तरुणीष्वन्तः ।
अन्तर्वतीः सुवते अप्रवीता महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should worship only that One God, who surpasses all by His might, including the sun and other divine objects, pervading all at the place of truth. Some of them are born just now, some born earlier and grown young now. They dwell everywhere, exist in all beings, born or yet unborn. They do not prevade with limited means and space. It is by His command, that all the beings enjoy happiness.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should always adore that One Supreme Being, Who pervades all subjects, is the upholder of all and is dwelling in spirit.

NOTES : (आक्षित्) यः समन्तात् क्षियति सर्वत्र वसति ।=He who pervades all (lit. dwells in all). (अप्रवीताः) अव्याप्ता परिच्छिन्नाः=Limited.

The subject of Agni further proceeds :

शयुः परस्तादध नु द्विमाताबन्धनश्चरति वत्स एकः ।
मित्रस्य ता वरुणस्य व्रतानि महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the Agni (sun) has two mothers (origins) in the form of air and either (Akăsha). It exists in distant and moves like a Child without any limitation. It follows the great might of the divine powers. These all are the great deeds, like truth etc, of God, Who is the friend of all and directs the world in the best way. This fact all of you should keep in mind.

PURPORT :—O men ! what ever objects are in the world, like the sun and other luminaries and whatever is the manifold creation, it does not perish altogether before dissolution. All these are the great acts of God—the Supreme Being.

NOTES : (द्विमाता) द्वे वाय्वाकाशौ मातरौ यस्याऽग्नेः सः=Sun which has two mothers in the form of air (Văyu) and sky (Akăsha). (व्रतानि) सत्यभाषणादीनि कर्माणि । व्रतमिति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1)=Truth and other acts. The first two lines may also mean that God is present every where. He is beyond the preception of the senses, mind and speech. He is the knower of the souls and matter and the creator of the heaven and earth. He is free from all limitations.

The subject of Agni is further described :

द्विमाता होता विदथेषु सम्राळन्वग्रं चरति क्षेति बुध्नः ।
प्र रण्यानि रण्यवाचो भरन्ते महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥ ७ ॥

7. *TRANSLATION :—*O men ! you should adore that One God, Who made the sun with its two mothers in the form of the air and ether. God is the giver of light and is like a sovereign of the earth and other things, be known or moving in the firmament (Antariksha). He creates charming worlds for inhabiting and which sweet—tongued men glorify, as the Great One Power con-trolling the Universe.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should adore that One God, Who creates upholds and illuminates the sun and other objects of the world and supports it. It is He, who dwells everywhere and makes all others dwell in Him (being their main support). He is adored by enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS : (विदथेषु) विज्ञातव्येषु पृथिव्यादिषु । विदथेषु form विद-ज्ञाने ज्ञातव्येषु = In the earth and other things to be known by all. (बुध्न:) बुध्नमन्तरिक्षं निवासस्थानं विद्यते यस्य स: । अत्रार्षादित्वादच् । बुध्नमन्तरिक्षं बद्धा अस्मिन् घृता आप इति वा (NKT. 10, 4, 44) तत्रापि निवासो यत्र रम्यो रमणीयो इति । (NKT. 6, 6, 33) = He who dwells in (pervades) the firmament, being Ominpresent. (रणयानि) रमणीयानि लोकजातानि = Charming worlds.

The duties and attributes of Agni are mentioned :

शूर॑स्येव यु॒ध्यतो॑ अन्त॒मस्य॑ प्रती॒चीनं॑ ददृशे॒ विश्व॑मा॒यत् ।
अ॒न्तर्म॒तिश्च॑रति नि॒ष्षिधं॒ गोर्म॒हद्दे॒वाना॑मसु॒र॒त्वमेक॑म् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a coward stands inferior as to a brave person destroying his enemies, so the immense and vast world, is insignificiant in comparison to that Great life of all divine objects and enlightened persons. A wise man always takes shelter under (lit. move in) One great teacher (through the Vedas).

PURPORT :—O men ! as a coward looks humiliated and insignificiant before a brave warrior, in the same manner, in comparison with Omnipotent and Infinite, God, this sun and other objects of the world are insignificant. You should believe in that One Adorable God Who reveals the four Vedas which is the storehouse and fountainhead of all knowledge.

NOTES :—(मति:) मेधावी । मतय इति मेधाविनाम । (NG 3, 15) (निष्षिधम्) यन्नितरां सेधति शास्ति तत् । = God who instructs all (through the Vedic Revealation).

नि वे॑वेति पलि॒तो दू॒त आ॑स्व॒न्तर्म॒हाँश्च॑रति रोच॒नेन॑ ।
वपूं॑षि॒ बिभ्र॑द॒भि नो॒ वि च॑ष्टे म॒हद्दे॒वाना॑मसु॒र॒त्वमेक॑म् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you must also adore that One God, Who is the overthrows our all deficiencies, Who abides in all subjects, and is like an old communicator of His resplendence. He is present every where, upholds and maintains varied articles of bearing forms. He instructs us learned men particularly. He is the Adorable and Supreme Being to us. It behoves all to worship HIM in their hearts.

PURPORT :—O men ! God communicates with the Yogis the knowledge of objects beyond the sight; like an old messenger who conveys the news of a distant place. Like an Indwelling Universal Spirit, He illuminates all souls by His Refulgence and delivers the fruits of the actions done by them, knowing them fully by His Omniscience. Being present our souls, He warns us to abstain from becoming unjust and urges to the right things. He is our most Adorable Supreme Being. You should also know this.

NOTES & REMARKS : (वपूंषि) रूपाणि । विपुरिति रूपनाम (3, 7)= Forms. (चष्टे) विशेषेणोपदिशति=Teaches particularly. (असुरत्वम्) दोषाणां प्रक्षेप्तृत्वम् ।=Over thrower of all defects or deficiencies.

The nature and duties of Agni are underlined :

विष्णुर्गोपाः परमं पाति पाथः प्रिया धामान्यमृता दधानः ।
अग्निष्टा विश्वा भुवनानि वेद महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that One God without a second, Who is the Omnipresent Vishnu (Supreme Being) like the purifying fire or energy is the Protector of all. It is He Who protects and preserves all, upholdings the foodgrains and desirable places on the earth as well as, the Eternal matter and souls. He knows thoroughly all worlds. He is the One great Lord of all putting all beings on the earth and in other planets.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should adore only that One God, Who is the Creator, Upholder, Sustainer and Dissolver of this creation.

It is He, Who creates various substances for the welfare of all souls.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पाथः) पृथिव्याद्यन्नम् । (पाथः) अन्नमपि पाथ उच्यते पानादिव (NKT 6,2, 6,)=Foodgrains on earth etc. (अमृता) नाशरहितानि प्रकृत्यादीनि=Imperishable matter and souls. (धामानि) जन्मस्थाननामानि धामानि त्रयाणि भवन्ति स्थानानि नामानि जन्मानीति (NKT. 9. 3, 28)=Births, places, and names.

The attributes of day and night (Ahoratrau) are stated :

नाना चक्राते यम्या३ वपूंषि तयोरन्यद्रोचते कृष्णमन्यत् ।
श्यावी च यदरुषी च स्वसारौ महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—God directs the whole universe. The twin pair (day and night) under His command adopt various forms; one of them shines brightly the other is black. The Dawn and Night are twin sisters, one is bright and the other (night) is black. You should know the Supreme Being, Who is the Great Lord and Director of the Universe.

PURPORT :—If God does not establish proper and coordinated order regarding the rotation of the earth around the sun, Who else can bring day and night into existence? You must always meditate that God in your hearts, Who has made day for work and night for sleep.

NOTES : (यम्या) या सर्वान् प्राणिनो निद्रया नियच्छति सा रात्रिः । यम्येति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7)=The night. (श्यावी) अन्धकाररूपा—Dark.

पद्या वस्ते पुरुरूपा वपूंष्यूर्ध्वा तंस्थौ त्र्यविं रेरिहाणा ।
ऋतस्य सद्म वि चरामि विद्वान्महद्देवानांमसुरत्वमेकंम् ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I (a learned person) move in or know that One Great God Who is the abode of Truth of enlightened men and all divine objects, and is the life-giver. Under His rule, the night (which is a part of 24 hours' time) covers all. The other exalted one (dawn or day) stands assuming many forms, protecting the effects, causes and souls and licking various forms. You must know all these stages.

PURPORT :—The day displays many forms, and the night covers all. They are produced by the Enternal Cause (God and Mother-Prakriti). You should know God, Who is the creator of all and their Lord. While knowing Him, enjoy happiness everywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS : (वस्ते) आच्छादयति ।=Covers. (त्र्यविम्) कार्य-कारणजीवाख्यानि त्रीणि वस्तूनि यो रक्षति तम् =Him Who protects the three–the effects, causes and souls. (सद्म) गृहम् । सद्म इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4); =Above. (रेरिहाणा) भृशं लिहन्ती =Licking again and again.

The subject of Dyunishou (sky and night) is dealt :

पदे इव निहिते दस्मे अन्तस्तयोंरन्यद् गुह्यमाविरन्यत् ।
सध्रीचीना पथ्या३ सा विषूंची महद्देवानांमसुरत्वमेकंम् ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—Like the two legs, the perishable day and night are controlled by that One Great-God-Who is the Life and Lord of all visible articles lying in between heaven and earth, One of them (night) is hidden, while another (day) is manifested; the path of both is common and that is universal. You should know all this well.

PURPORT :—As men walk on two legs, so are the day and night. The night is not so agreeable and pleasant to the people as the day (when they can work more freely) is. In the same manner, any other thing worshipped except God Who is the In-dwelling spirit, can not be bestower of peace and bliss.

NOTES : (दस्मे) उपक्षयिष्णो=Perishable. (सध्रीचीना) सहाञ्चन्ती=Going together. (विषूचि) वा विषून् व्याप्तानञ्चति सा=Going with pervaded articles.

स हि क्षपावान्त्स भगः स राजा महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—When the mighty and resplendent sun makes sound, he in the nights and dawns, puts his semen (of Lustre) in another—the moon. He is thus giver of prosperity (by engaging people in business or industrial wark etc. during the day time) and the moon shines is the master of the night. All this is ordained by the One Great God Who has directed the whole world and gives light and life.

PURPORT :—O men ! the resplendent sun at the end of the night or at commencement of the day awakens all beings, causes them to make sound, and urges them to work to create prosperity; and at night, puts his rays in the moon and illuminates it. It has been made by God. This secret you must know.

NOTES & REMARKS : (क्षपावान्) क्षपा रात्रिः सम्बन्धिनी यस्य स चन्द्रः । क्षपा इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7)=The moon which is the master of the night. (रोरवीति) भृशं शब्दयति ।=Causes sound.

The attributes of God are told :

वीरस्य नु स्वश्व्यं जनासः प्र नु वोचाम विदुरस्य देवाः ।
षोळहा युक्ताः पञ्चपञ्चा वहन्ति महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O learned men ! we proclaim words to a hero who gives lessons in the training of horses. We also instruct the enlightened Yogis, who know the glory of that One Great God-the giver of light and life to them. Five senses of perception along with the mind and five Prănas (vital airs) when well-checked lead towards the Supreme Being. We tell about to all that Almighty.

PURPORT :—We tell all that the five Prānas (when well—checked through the practice of Prānāyāma etc.) are the methods for the attainment of God Whom the Yogis know through the Samādhi (super consciousness). It is in communion with Him that makes men heroes.

NOTES : (जनास :) विद्यासु प्रादुर्भूता := Learned men. (षोढा) षट् प्रकारा : (इन्द्रियाणि) = Five senses of perception and mind.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : Five senses of perception are ears, eyes, skin, tongue, and nose. Five main Prānas are Prānas, Apāna, Vyăna, Udăna, Samăna.

The subject of Atmă (soul) is dealt :

देवस्त्वष्टा सविता विश्वरूपः पुपोष प्रजाः पुरुधा जजान ।
इमा च विश्वा भुवनान्यस्य महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—:—O men ! the Resplendent God Who is the Illuminator of all, nourishes all the subjects like the sun, Who illumines all forms and creates all worlds in various channels. That One Great God is the life-giver and Lord of the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—As the sun sustains the whole worlds, in the same manner, God creates the solar and other worlds and protects them. This is the most wonderful creation of God.

NOTES & REMARKS : (त्वष्टा) प्रकाशकः । त्वष्टा त्विषेर्वा स्याद् दीप्तिकर्मणः (NKT 8, 1, 14) = Illuminator. (विश्वरूपः) विश्वानि रूपाणि यस्मात्सः । = From whom all forms are made.

शृण्वे वीरो विन्दमानो वसूनि महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O men ! God impels both vast and great heaven and earth, which are united with army-like creatures. They are both filled by various substances made by Him. Seeking that One Great God, Who is the life-giver of the world and wealth (of all kinds-spiritual and material), I being brave constantly hear about the glory of that Supreme Being. You should also listen to it and achieve all riches.

PURPORT :—No one can get all wealth (including spiritual in the form of devotion, peace and wisdom) without obeying to the Commandments of God; and none can get His knowledge without listening attentively to the discourses made by absolutely truthful and enlightened persons. Therefore, all should obey to the Commands of God and thus should be blessed with prosperity.

NOTES :—(ऐरत्) प्रेरयति ।=Impels, directs. (चम्वा) सेनयेव ।=With an army. (न्यृष्टे) निश्चितं स्वरूपं प्राप्ते ।=Assuring difinite form.

The subject of Agni is further underlined :

इमां च नः पृथिवीं विश्वधाया उप क्षेति हितमित्रो न राजा ।
पुरःसदः शर्मसदो न वीरा महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O men ! He alone is to be adored by all persons, Who abides in this earth and firmament like a king, Who has benevolent friends and Who shines with knowledge and humility. He Who attains victory like the brave persons, confront an army or Who sit at home. He is One Great God, Who overthrowes the foes of glorious kings.

PURPORT :—That Great God alone is adorable for us Who awards victory to His devotees, like the One, Who is well versed in the science of archery (weaponry. Ed.)

NOTES & REMARKS :(राजा) विद्याविनयाभ्यां प्रकाशमानः ।=Shining with knowledge and humility. (शर्मसद :) ये शर्मणि गृहे सीदन्ति ते । शर्मेति गृहनाम । (NG. 3, 4) शर्मेति सुखनाम (N.G. 3.6) =Dwelling happily at home.

The theme of Agni is further elaborated :

निष्षिध्वरीस्त ओषधीरुतापो रयिं त इन्द्र पृथिवी बिभर्ति ।
सखायस्ते वामभाजः स्याम महद्देवानामसुरत्वमेकम् ॥२२॥

22. TRANSLATION :—O God ! in Your creation, the earth grows herbs and plants like Soma which are beneficent to all. Waters created by you, bring strength and health to our bodies. May we, your friends, share these blessings, being always engaged in and doing admirable and noble deeds. We bear in mind the great might of the One Supreme Being, Who is the Illuminator of the sun and other shining objects.

PURPORT :—O God ! may we always be devoted to You and have communion with You Who have created in this world, various kinds of herbs, plants, water and other things for our happiness. May we never worship anyone else, except You.

NOTES & REMARKS : (निष्षिध्वरी :)—नितरां मङ्गलकारिणी := Auspicious, beneficient. (वामभाजः) प्रशस्तकर्मसेविनश्श्रेष्ठभोगा वा । (वामभाज :) वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG. 3, 8) (रयिम्) वीर्यं वै रयिः (Stph. 133, 4, 2, 13) पुष्टं वै रयिः (Stph. 2, 3, 4, 13).=Who perform admirable or noble deeds or having good enjoyments.

Sūktam 56

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vishvămitra, PrajaPati or Vachyă. Devată—Vishvedevăh. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds.

The attributes of God are told :

न ता मिनन्ति मायिनो न धीरा व्रता देवानां प्रथमा ध्रुवाणि ।
ज रोदसी अद्रुहा वेद्याभिर्न पर्वता निनमे तस्थिवांसः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men! the inviolable and primitive noble acts that have been taught by God for the benefit of the reliable enlightened persons, can not be violated by the deceitful wicked persons, nor by good men of meditative nature. They can not be transgressed in the heaven and earth, nor by teachers and preachers, free from malice. They can not be violated by the subjects whether living on the hills or low regions. You should also know them well and act in accordance with them.

PURPORT :—No one has the power of transgressing the laws enacted by God. All should have communion with that God, Who is the treasure of mercy and Whose acts are like immeasurable ocean and givers of abiding peace.

NOTES : (मिनन्ति) हिंसन्ति ।=Violate or transgress. (अद्रुहा) द्रोहरहितावध्यापकोपदेशकौ = Teachers and preachers, who are free from malice. (निनमे) नमनीये स्थाने ।=In a low region.

The merits of God are stated :

षड्भाराँ एको अचरन्बिभर्त्यृतं वर्षिष्ठमुप गाव आगुः ।
तिस्रो महीरुपरास्तस्थुरत्या गुहा द्वे निहिते दर्श्येका ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should always meditate upon that One God, Who has established two stages in this world—

cause and effect. The effects or the gross substances are visible, but not the subtle causes. The clouds are in the sky and subtle causes are in the MAHATTATVA or cosmic intelligence. The clouds cover the rays of the sun on the earth, which is of three kinds-gross, subtle and middle. The sky and other elements are dependant upon that One God, Who does not move Himself, but upholds five elements and Mahat Tatva (Great Principle) and also the Highest Truth.

PURPORT :—O men ! you must have faith in that One God as Adorable, Who creates the earth and other worlds, upholds and sustains them and keeps them in proper order.

NOTES & REMARKS : (षट्भारान्) पंचतत्त्वानि महत्तत्त्वं च=Five elements and Mahat Tatva (Great Principle). (उपरा:) मेघा: । उपर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)=Clouds. (अत्या:) अतन्ति सर्वत्र व्याप्नुवन्ति त आकाशादय: ।=The sky (ether) and other elements. (गुहा) गुहायां महत्तत्वाख्यायां समष्टिबुद्धौ । In the cave named Mahat Tatva or cosmic intelligenee. (द्वे) कार्य्यकारणे (ऋतम्) सत्यं कारणम् । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10)=The effect and cause.

The same subject of merits of God is continued:

त्रिपाजस्यो वृषभो विश्वरूप उत त्र्युधा पुरुध प्रजावान् ।
त्र्यनीकः पत्यते माहिनावान्त्स रेतोधा वृषभः शश्वतीनाम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. *TRANSLATION :—*O learned person ! you uphold many virtues; you should know that God, Who gives the power to body, to soul and relatives. You shower happiness. The causal form, subtle and gross substances are like your uddars, who create all forms and pervade them like energy, and is the Lord of all subjects. He is the Doer of all good deeds like a king who has three-fold army more than his foes and is the sovereign of all. He is Almighty and like the sun puts His energy in the eternal matter and souls, who are His subjects.

PURPORT :—All should always meditate on that One God in their hearts, Who pervades all like energy, is Illuminator and upholder of all. He is the Dispenser of justice to the eternal souls and is endowed with infinite Glory. All should be afraid of Him and should give up all sins, and observe the rules of Dharma (righteousness) with love.

NOTES & REMARKS : (त्रिपाजस्य:) त्रिषु शरीरात्मसम्बन्धिबलेषु साधु: । पाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=Giver of the power of body, soul and one's Kith and Kin. (त्र्युधा) त्रीणि कारणानि सूक्ष्मस्थूलान्यूधांसि यस्मिन् स:=He Who has the casual form, subtle and gross substances as His udders. (त्र्यनीक:) त्रीणि-त्रिगुणान्यनीकानि सैन्यानि यस्य -स: । अनीकं सैन्यम् । सेनाया वै सैनानीरनीकम् । (Stph 5, 3. 1, 1) अत्र सेनापत्यर्थे तत्प्रयोग: =Whose armies are three fold than the armies of his foes.

In another mantra is also said इदं विष्णुर्विचक्रमे त्रेधा निदधे पदम् and the reference given to above tallies with it. (Editor.)

The attributes of God are underlined :

अभीकं आसां पद्वीरबोध्यादित्यानांमह्वे चारु नाम ।
आपश्चिदस्मा अरमन्त देवीः पृथग्व्रजन्तीः परि षीमवृञ्जन् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—I call upon God, sitting near Him in spirit. He is desirous of our welfare and knows well about these subjects—about the sun and other luminaries and Whose principal name (OM) is charming. By moving in Him, the shining Prānas enjoy bliss exclusively and give up (or rise up above) all evil tendencies. You sohuld also invoke Him.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should not worship any other except One God, Who desires the welfare of all and in Whom all souls and worlds enjoy separate identity take good but give up bad things. He is the upholder of all.

NOTES : (अभीके) कमितरि = Desirer of the welfare of all.

God created this universe for the inhabitation of all :

त्री षधस्था सिन्धवस्त्रिः कवीनामुत त्रिमाता विदथेषु सम्राट् ।
ऋतावरीर्योषणास्तिस्रो अप्यास्त्रिरा दिवो विदथे पत्यमानाः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! God is the Sovereign of these worlds (planets). He has made these three worlds (lying at lower, higher and middle levels), has made these rivers and is the maker of birth, place and names of the enlightened persons. He in all dealings, is known like a sovereign shining well on account of His wonderful creation. Like the truthful chaste women (who gives birth to good progeny), and acts according to the wishes of her husbands), He makes creation in the firmament of three kinds-gross, subtle and causal. He creates three luminaries in the form of fire, lightning and the sun. He does all this in three forms of absolute existence, absolute consiousness and absolute Bliss.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should constanly worship that God, Who has made the earth, water and firmament for the life of the living beings and inanimate objects. Serve Him as a chaste wife serves her husband.

NOTES & REMARKS : (सधस्था) सहस्थानानि । = Worlds (planets) । (त्रिमाता) त्रयाणां जन्मस्थाननाम्नां माता जनकः । जननी = Generator of the birth, place and names. (तिस्रः) स्थूलसूक्ष्मकारणाख्याः । = Gross, subtle and causal. (अप्याः) अप्स्वन्तरिक्षे भवाः । आप इत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) = Existing in the firmament.

The subject of world through the prayer to God is dealt :

त्रिरा दिवः सवितर्वार्याणि दिवेदिव आ सुव त्रिर्नो अह्नः ।
त्रिधातु राय आ सुवा वसूनि भग त्रातर्धिषणे सातये धाः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O God ! Giver of wealth ! you bestow upon us desirable and choicest blessings thrice a day (morning, noon and night). O most adorable God, thrice a day grant us your riches. O protector ! uphold the heaven and the earth and grant us wealth consisting of three metals i.e. gold, silver and iron (steel) for distribution among the deserving and needy persons.

PURPORT :—O Lord of the world ! kindly enable us to acquire wealth every day by righteous means and with labour. Protect us constantly and prompt us to distribute our wealth for making others happy.

NOTES : (दिव:) कमनीयाः । =Desirable. (सवितः) हे ऐश्वर्यप्रद =O Giver of wealth. (त्रिधातु) त्रीणि सुवर्णरजतायसादयो धातवो येषु तानि । =Wealth consisting of three principal metals i.e Gold, Silver and Iron. (धिषणे) द्यावापृथिव्यौ =Heaven and earth. (सातये) संविभागाय= For distribution.

The duties of the learned kings are told :

त्रिरा दिवः संविता सोषवीति राजाना मित्रावरुणा सुपाणी ।
आपश्चिदस्य रोदसी चिदुर्वी रत्नं भिक्षन्त सवितुः सवायं ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! God the Impeller and Indwelling Spirit urges only those who shine with knowledge and humility, who are friendly like Prāna and Udāna (vital breaths) and Who are well-handed with the light of knowledge. It is from this Lord of the world, that the waters, the vast heaven and earth and the Prànas receive and men solicit charming wealth for giving prosperity to all beings.

PURPORT :—The meritorious kings bearing the divine actions deal lovingly with the people. They acquire infinite wealth and vast and good State.

NOTES & REMARKS : (मित्रावरुणा) प्राणोदानवत्सर्वेषां सुहृदौ । प्राणोदानौ वा मित्रावरुणौ (Stph 1, 8, 3, 12, 3, 6, 1, 16)=Friends of all like Prāna.

and Udana. (सवाय) ऐश्वर्यांय । (सवाय) षु प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (स्वा०) । अत्र ऐश्वर्यार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=For prosperity.

The qualities of a good king are underlined :

त्रिरुत्तमा दूणशा रोचनानि त्रयो राजन्त्यसुरस्य वीराः ।
ऋतावान इषिरा दूळभासस्त्रिरा दिवो विदथे सन्तु देवाः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—Those devotees of God are full of splendour like the three good lights i.e. fire, lightning and sun. They approach the eradicators of defects and evils, who are brave and learned, practise truth, quick moving of surpassing radiance, and are free from violence and inviolable. They desire the welfare of all, and shine threefold in the dealings of knowledge.

PURPORT :—Those who adore God as dearer than their Prānas (lives), commanding like a king, leader like a judge, radiant like the sun and are illuminator of all, shine in this world like the sun after attainment of good and vast State. They cannot be easily defeated by their enemies because they are truthful in their conduct and desirous of the welfare of others.

NOTES & REMARKS : (असुरस्य) दुष्टान् दोषान्प्रक्षेप्तुः= Of the thrower or remover of the evil. (त्रयः) विद्युत्प्रसिद्ध सूर्य्याः ।= Three lights, fire, lightning and sun. (दूडभासः) दुर्गंतो दभो हिंसा येभ्यस्ते । दम्नोति-वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19)=Free from violence.

Sūktam—57

Rishi of the Sūkta Vishvāmitra. Devatā-Vishvedevāh. Chhanda-Trishtup of two kinds. Svara-Dhaivata.

The nature of the speech is told :

प्र मे विविक्वाँ अविदन्मनीषां धेनुं चरन्तीं प्रयुतामगोपाम् ।
सद्यश्चिद्या दुदुहे भूरि धासेरिन्द्रस्तदग्निः पनितारो अस्याः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—It is only a dispassionate and discriminator who can attain a noble speech which like a milch cow grazing alone without a cowherd and which can reach (manifest) intellect instinct. This speech can give abundant knowledge to a person who is upholder of noble virtues and to whom this (knowledge) is like the mental food. The persons who are purifiers like the fire, and who are glorious like energy are the admirers and users of this noble speech. They should instruct others and all should attain it.

PURPORT :—Those men are worthy of much reverence who use a noble speech, and are desirous of acquiring knowledge from upright conduct, and acting truthfully and righteously fulfil the noble desires of all.

NOTES & REMARKS : (प्रयुताम्) असंख्यबोधाम् । In प्रयुताम the verb is प्र+यु-मिश्रणामिश्रण यो (अदा०)=Giver of infinite or abundant knowledge. (धासेः) प्राणधारकस्यान्नस्य । धासिरित्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) धासि is from verb डु-धाञ् धारणपोषणयोः (जुहो०), meaning material and mental as well as spiritual food=Of the food that upholds all. Here it is taken in the sense of knowledge which is mental food. (पनितारः) स्तोतारो व्यवहर्त्तारो वा ।=Admirers of users.

About the intellect is told :

इन्द्रः सु पूषा वृषणा सुहस्ता दिवो न प्रीताः शशयं दुदुह्रे ।
विश्वे यदस्यां रणयन्त देवाः प्र वोऽत्र वसवः सुम्नमश्याम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O desirous of acquiring knowledge! all learned persons take delight in this noble speech endowed with intellect like the cloud. They fight against all evils, and enjoy happiness like the rays (light) of the sun. Those who have good (artistic) hands, uphold all like the nourishing Prăna (vital energy) and energy and are mighty. Milk this noble speech which is like a cow, and become full of happiness. As I get delight by association with you, so you should also attempt to do.

PURPORT :—The persons desirous to get physical and spiritual strength, are delighted in the use of the speech endowed with the knowledge of the Shastras and of God. They instruct others regarding the science and technology of the energy and other sciences, are victorious, enjoy themselves as well as make others full of perfect Bliss. They become world teachers and worthy of reverence.

NOTES & REMARKS : (शशयम्) खशयं मेघम् । अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेन खस्य शः ।=Nourishing Prăna. (पूषा) पोषकः प्राणः। अयं वै पूषा यो यं (वातः) पवते एष हीदं सर्वं पुष्यति (Stph 14, 2, 1, 9)=Light and charming rays of the sun.

The duties of householders are told :

या जामयो वृष्ण इच्छन्ति शक्तिं नमस्यन्तीर्जानते गर्भमस्मिन् ।
अच्छा पुत्रं धेनवो वावशाना महश्चरन्ति बिभ्रतं वपूंषि ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The female young Brahmacharinis (of the age of about 24 years) who honour their virile husbands (of the age of about 40 years) desire after marriage that they should utilise their energy through proper channel. They therefore know how to procreate noble progeny. They love their husbands and being endowed with and sweet speech and being like milch cows, they get healthy children having beautiful and admirable bodies through their co-habitation.

PURPORT :—Those girls only enjoy happiness who choose beautiful and loving husbands possessing double their own knowledge and strength after having fully examined them. In the same manner, men should also marry loving girls. It is such husbands and wives who know how to keep and preserve their strength for procreation. They get infinite Bliss and victory having given birth to ideal children hand having brought up them well with the best Sanskaras (impressions-ideas and actions).

NOTES & REMARKS : (जामयः) प्राप्तचतुर्विंशतिवर्षा युवतयः । जामिः - अन्येऽस्यां जनयन्ति जाम् अपत्यं जमतेर्वा स्याद् गतिकर्मणः इति (NKT 3, 1, 7)= Female Brahmacharinis of 24 years. (वृष्णे) वीर्यसेचनसमर्थाय प्राप्त चत्वारिंशद्वर्षाय ब्रह्मचारिणे=For a virile Brahmachari who has attained the age of 40 years. (वावशानाः) पतीन् कामयमानाः । = Seeking for or loving their husbands.

Though no particular age is mentioned in the mantra, Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati has taken into consideration the middle age for a Brahmachari and Brahmacharini mentioned in the Chhandogya Upanishad and other old texts regarding the Rudra Brahmacharya which is 36 to 48 and 25 respectively and has explained it accordingly. Trans.

The duties of husbands—wives pairs are told :

अच्छा विवक्मि रोदसी सुमेके ग्राव्णो युजानो अध्वरे मनीषा ।
इमा उ ते मनवे भूरिवारा ऊर्ध्वा भवन्ति दर्शता यजत्राः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons, ! in this non-violent (pleasant) behaviour of cohabitation, you become happy like the clouds. Thus you unite those who are endowed with intellect, seek happiness of various kinds, of exalted visual and adorable nature, You give proper guidance to those husbands and wives who are like the sun and the earth and who unite well with love for giving birth to a thoughtful progeny.

PURPORT :—Those husbands and wives who are united like the sun and the earth are very fortunate. Those men and women who marry of their own accord, having well examined each other, they would be real partners, beget good children like the clouds and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अध्वरे) संगतत्वे व्यवहारे। अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा तत्प्रतिषेधः (NRT 1, 7)=In the non-violent (pleas-) behaviour of uniting (co-habitation). (सुमेके) सुष्ठ्वेकीभूते। United well with love. (रोदसी) द्यावापृथिव्याविव। रोदसीति द्यावापृथिवीनाम (NG 3, 30,)=Who are like the sun and the earth.

The duties of married couple are elaborated :

या ते जिह्वा मधुमती सुमेधा अग्ने देवेषूच्यत उरूची।
तयेह विश्वाँ अवसे यजत्राना सादय पायया चा मधूनि ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned husband or wife! using always sweet and truthful speech, which enables persons to acquire the knowledge of various sciences and wisdom, beget in this married home life, all joined with adorable children and make them drink sweet juices (Soma) for the preservation of their health.

PURPORT :—Those husbands and wives enjoy in their married home life the happiness of salvation, who enter into wedlock with love, full understanding, wisdom and good speech. They beget good children, bring them up well, make them highly educated, allow them to have marriage by their choice (Svayambar) and enable them to dwell at home quite happily.

NOTES : (जिह्वा) वाणी। जिह्वेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Tongue, Speech. (उरूची) या उर्वी बह्वीविद्या अंचति प्राप्नोति सा=Which attains the knowledge of various sciences. (यजत्रान्) संगतान् पूज्यान् तनयान् =United and adorable children.

The duties of married couple are defined :

या ते अग्ने पर्वतस्येव धारासश्चन्ती पीपयद्देव चित्रा।
तामस्मभ्यं प्रमतिं जातवेदो वसो रास्व सुमतिं विश्वजन्याम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O leading man or woman endowed with divine virtues ! give us that wonderful speech which is like the rain-shower from the cloud because it is free from evil ideas and satisfies toall. It is equally good intellect, beneficent to all mankind. O Omni-present and Omniscient God ! you are everywhere. We desire to lead ideal hosnatlfe like an intelligent noble wife or husbands endowed with noble intellect and wisdom who can beget noble progeny. Grant us all that.

PURPORT :—Men and women should receive good education and wisdom by the observance of Brahmacharya, should procure suitable and loving match in youth after proper examination and should live happily during their married life.

NOTES & REMARKS : (पर्वतस्येव) मेघस्येव । पर्वत इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =Of the cloud. (धारा) प्रवाहवद् वाणी । धारेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)= Fluent speech. Sūktam—58

Rishi of the Sūktam Vishvāmitra. Devatā Ashvianau. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The duties of artists and technicians are told :

धेनुः प्रत्नस्य काम्यं दुहानान्तः पुत्रश्चरति दक्षिणायाः ।
आ द्योतनिं वहति शुभ्रयामोषसः स्तोमो अश्विनावजीगः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATIONS :—O men ! you are like the son of that noble speech (in the form of knowledge). Like the cow, it manifests the desirable knowledge of the ancient Revelation (Veda) and makes all days (life) pure and spotless by giving wisdom, and moves among men. That son enables to attain wisdom full of light, when absolutely truthful and trustworthy teachers and preachers manifest light in the morning. You should also know the real nature of that speech which makes teachers and preachers admirable.

PURPORT :—As the sun generates the Ushas (dawn), in the same manner, the knowledge, how the truth illuminates soul and eradicates untruth by fulfilling noble desires, it dawns on persons. The man who obtains the sweet speech which is full of knowledge and Dharma (righteousness) acquires the knowledge of the eternal God also.

NOTES & REMARKS : (दक्षिणायाः) ज्ञानप्रापिपकायाः=Of the conveyour of knowledge. (द्योतनिम्) प्रकाशरूपां विद्याम् । द्योतनिम् is from द्युत-दीप्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=Knowledge which is like light. (अश्विनौ) आप्तौ-वध्यापकोपदेशकौ अश्विनौ हि (वै) देवानामध्वर्यू (मैत्रायणीसंहिता) 4, 5, 4 तैत्तिरी-यारण्यके 5, 2, 5) अश्विनावध्वर्यू (काठक 9, 8, ऐतरेय 1, 18) गोपथ 2, 2, 2; Stph 1, 1.2, 17) अध्वर्युः अध्वरं युनक्ति, अध्वरस्य नेता, अध्वरं कामयते इति वा NKT 1, 3, 8)=Absolutely truthful and reliable teachers and preachers.

The duties of the artists about the places above and below are told :

सुयुग्वंहन्ति प्रति वामृतेनोर्ध्वा भंवन्ति पितरेव मेधाः ।
जरेथामस्मद्वि पणेर्मनीषां युवोरवश्चकृमा यातमर्वाक् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O Ashvinau (teachers and preachers) ! enable us to attain that noble intellect, by dint of which the doers of good deeds lead with truth towards you. You should also praise those intellects which are like parents teachers. Come to us with practical wisdom of dealings. We long for your protection below.

PURPORT :—As the rays of the air lead towards the sun etc. so the intelligent women also lead to happiness, like good intellectuals themselves. The men should deal towards those enlightened persons like children and behave like fathers (elders) to all men (younger). They should thus acquire the practical knowledge of proper dealings and should act in accordance with it.

NOTES & REMARKS : (सुयुक्) ये सुष्ठु युंजन्ति ते = Doers of good deeds (पणे:) व्यवहारस्य। पण व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा०) आ) = Of dealing. (जरेथाम्) स्तुवातम्)। जरते अर्चतिकर्मा (NG 3, 14) जरिता इति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) = Praise

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : Here Rishi Dayananda has taken the word मित्र both for an enlightened person who looks upon with friendly eyes. According to the injunctions of the Vedas. Mighty God is friend of all and Protector from sin and death. Sayanacharya has rather narrowed down the word by inter- preting it as यज्ञेन istead of कर्मणा as has been done by Rishi Dayananda. Venkat Madhava has interpreted it as सत्यादिना व्रतेन. युक्तः The Shatpatha Brahman (12, 8, 2, 4,) endorses it. एतत् खलु वं व्रतस्य रूपं यत् सत्यम् (Stph 12. 8, 2, 4)

Rishi Dayananda has interpreted प्रयस्वान् as प्रयत्नवान् deriving it from यसु-प्रयत्ने (दिवा.)

The attributes of friendship with truthful person are told :

अनमीवास इळया मदन्तो मितज्ञवो वरिमन्ना पृथिव्याः ।
आदित्यस्य व्रतमुपक्षियन्तो वयं मित्रस्य सुमतौ स्याम ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION:—O men ! we may be under the Command of God (Who is friend of all), and under the instructions of an absolutely truthful enlightened person, being free from all physical and mental disorders, because of the observance of Brahmacharya or continence). It made us glad with refined and well balanced speech and kingdom on earth, roaming free over the wide expanse of the earth, pursuing the laws of the earth and the sun in the form of forgiveness and the light of justice. So you should also be.

PURPORT:—Those persons only become beloved of God and the enlightened men, who keep true friendship with them, wear forgiveness, knowledge, justice, light and other virtues, and always tread upon the path of righteousness.

NOTES : (अनमीवास:) शरीरात्मरोगरहिता: = Free from all physical and spiritual diseases. (इलया) सुशिक्षितया वाचा पृथिवीराज्येन वा । इलेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) इलेति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, I) इलेति अन्न नाम (NG 2, 7)= With refined or well-trained speech or kingdom. (मितज्ञव:) मितानी जानूनि येषान्ते = With balanced knees or humble. (वरिमन्) बहुशीलसत्ययुक्तम् = Endowed with good character and truth. (मित्रस्य) सर्वस्य सुहृद: ईश्वरस्याऽप्तस्य वा ।= Of God who is the friend of all or an absolutely truthful enlightened man. (सुमतौ उत्तमाज्ञायां प्रज्ञायां वा = Under the command or instruction.

The same subject of friendship with God and truthful persons is continued :

तस्य वयं सुमतौ यज्ञियस्यापि भद्रे सौमनसे स्याम ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—This Mitra (God/absolutely truthful enlightened person, who is friendly to all or a king who regards his subjects as friends, is adorable and is to be served, because he (each one of them) awards happiness. That king is to be honoured in whose State people are happy, and who is endowed with great wisdom. May we live in the Command of God and under the instruction or good advice of a noble and just king, who is therefore to be revered. May we enjoy always in the Grace of the Holy God and rest in the propicious loving kindness of the noble King.

PURPORT:—As God and the righteous absolutely truthful enlightened persons are adorable, likewise the kings who are protectors of their kingdom with justice and humility also deserve honour. As good men always remain firm in the action ordained by God and done by the enlightened persons, in the same manner, we should also emulate.

NOTES: (सुक्षत्र:) सुष्ठु सुखि क्षत्रं राष्टं, यस्य सः। क्षत्रं हि राष्ट्रम् Aitareya Brahman 7, 22;. जैमिनीयोप० 1, 88. [वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)= He the people of whose State are happy. (वेधा:) मेधावी=Very wise. genius.

Good and the choicest things should be offered to good friends:

महाँ आदित्यो नमसोपसद्यो यातयज्जनो गृणते सुशेवः ।
तस्मा एतत्पन्यतमाय जुष्टमग्नौ मित्राय हविरा जुहोत ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION:—O men ! approach a great person with reverence who is illuminator of good virtues, like the sun. He urges upon men to do good deeds. He is admired by all, as he gives good happiness. Offer to such a great man, good food, as oblation are offered to the fire, is praiseworthy, because he is like the Prāna (vital energy).

PURPORT:—The truthful enlightened persons are adorable because they are illuminators of knowledge and Dharma (righteousness like the sun and who animate all to have good virtues and actions. As the priests please the world by putting qualitative oblations in the fire, in the same manner, such great men establish knowledge and righteousness among the virtuous students, and gladden all human and other beings.

NOTES & REMARKS : (आदित्यः) सूर्य्यइव शुभगुणप्रकाशकः। =Illuminator of good virtues. (मित्राय) प्राणवद् वर्त्तमानाय। प्राणो मित्रम्। (Jaiminiyopanishad Brahman 3, 1, 3, 6) =For a person who is like Prāna (vital life energy). (हविः) होतव्यमत्तव्यम्। हवि :— हु दानादनयो : आदाने च (जुहो.) अत्रादानार्थः। =Oblation and food.

Here the third meaning of the verb हु eating has been taken in the case of a noble person and first in the case of fire.

The attributes of a king friendly to his subjects are told :

मित्रस्यं चर्षणीधृतोऽवो देवस्यं सानसि। द्युम्नं चित्रश्रवस्तमम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION:—O men ! that learned king alone can protect his subjects who upholds his people, and whose protection s is time proven,established since long and whose wealth and knowledge have brought him good reputation.

PURPORT :—Those (rulers) who protect all subjects having acquired the eternal wealth of knowledge, enjoy happiness in this world and beyond.

NOTES & REMARKS : (चर्षणीधृतः) मनुष्याणां धर्तुः। चर्षणय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =Of the uphoder of men. (सानसि) पुरातनम्। (सानसि) पुणाक्षि सानसि क्रतुम् इति पुणाक्षि सनातन क्रतुम् इत्येतत् (Stph 7, 3, 1, 32) =Ancient. Time proven. (द्युम्नम्) यशः कर धनं विज्ञानं वा। (द्युम्नम्) द्युम्नम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) द्युम्न द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नं वेति (NKT 5, 1,5) द्युम्नम् इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) =Wealth or knowledge which causes good reputation.

It is thus clear that according to the Shatpath Brahman सानसि means सनातन eternal or ancient as explained by Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati PURPORT :—O king ! keep always company of the righteous and wisemen, never of the fools and never waste a single movement. As absolutely truthful learned persons deal with all impartially and justly, so you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS : (स्वसराणि) दिनानि । स्वसराणि इत्यहर्नाम (NG 1, 9) =Days. (शच्या) प्रज्ञया वाण्या वा । शचीति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) शचीति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) =With good intellect or speech. It is wrong on the part of Shri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others take Ribhu, Vaja and Shachi as personal names of certain persons, forgetting the basic rules of the Vedic etymology Nighhantu (नामान्याख्यातजानि) meaning thereby that all the Nouns are derivative, and against the meanings of these words. Sayanacharya has given the alternative meaning of शच्या. as कर्मणा वा on the basis of Nighantu above quoted Prof. Wilson has added in his notes that Shachi may mean कर्मन् act, rite. Griffith having translated शच्या as exult with Shachi says in foot-note that Shachi might be personified the consort of Indra.

The duties of the ministers and the people are told :

इन्द्रं ऋभुभिर्वाजिभिर्वाजयन्निह स्तोमं जरितुरुपं याहि यज्ञियंम् ।
शतं केतेभिरिषिरेभिरायवे सहस्रणीथो अध्वरस्य होमंनि ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you give abundant wealth. Earn the praise sung by your admirer learned persons, bestowing happiness to all along with wisemen, because they have ideal speech. Being approached by thousands of righteous persons because of your desirable intellectual powers, perform the acts that lead to running good administration and dealing full of justice and for the welfare of men.

NOTES & REMARKS : (मायवे) मनुष्याय ।=For a man. (वाजयन्) प्रापयन् ।=Leading to (happiness etc.) (अध्वरस्य) न्याय्य व्यवहारस्य (अध्वरस्य) अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा तत्प्रतिषेधः (NKT 1, 7) हिंसा-रहितस्य न्यायसंगतव्यवहारस्य ।=Of just dealings. (होमनि) आदातव्ये व्यवहारे ।=In the acceptable good dealings.

Sūktam—61

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vishvāmitra. Devatā-Ushā. Chhanda. Trishtup of various types. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The duties of women are told :

उषो वाजेन वाजिनि प्रचेताः स्तोमं जुषस्व गृणतो मघोनि ।
पुराणी देवि युवतिः पुरंधिरनु व्रतं चरसि विश्ववारे ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned opulent lady ! you are acceptable to all because of your knowledge and intelligence. You reveal true nature of all objects, are like the Dawn (USHA), and respond to my praise with love. I am your admirer owing to your noble virtues. O desirable young lady ! you are the possessor of many good virtues and are ever young. Because you perform good deads, you have endeared me.

PURPORT :—O women ! the dawns awaken all beings and urge them to do their works. Likewise, you should deal agreeably with your husbands being chaste, and thus be worthy of admiration.

NOTES & REMARKS : (देवि)कमनीये ।=Desirable, loveable. (पुरन्धिः) या बहून्शुभगुणान्धरति । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1)=She who possesses many noble virtues.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : It may also mean पुरुधीः बहुधीः very intelligent as explained by Yaskacharya in Nirukta. The epithets like प्रचेताः and वाजिनी have been used for उषा, which can not be ever used for inanimate dawn, as done by some Western translators erroneously. In fact, it is a highly learned and intelligent young lady shining like the dawn.

The attributes of women are elaborated :

उषो देव्यमर्त्या वि भाहि चन्द्ररथा सूनृता ईरयन्ती ।
आ त्वा वहन्तु सुयमासो अश्वा हिरण्यवर्णां पृथुपाजसो ये ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION : O Dawn-like divine lady ! you are- immortal (thereby meaning the soul), your utter truth and sweet words calling upon the others to emulate. Her chariot is charming like the moon, shine well on account of the noble virtues. May your trained vigorous and sturdy horses carry you, who are full of splendour like the rays which carry the golden Dawn.

PURPORT :—As the resplendent and charming Dawn awakens all, same way, the good wives make their husbands of good character and temperament with their knowledge and humility.

NOTES & REMARKS: (हिरण्यवर्णाम्) तेजोमयीम् । तेजो वै हिरण्यम् तैत्तिरीय 1, 8, 9, 1)=Full of splendour or resplendent. (पृथुपाजस :) बहुबला : । पाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=Vigorous of sturdy.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :— The expression (सूनृता ईरयन्ती) uttering true and sweet words is applicable to a learned and virtuous lady. Here Griffith and Wilson have missed the real meaning.

The same subject of virtues of women is dealt :

उषः प्रतीची भुवनानि विश्वोर्ध्वा तिष्ठस्यमृतस्य केतुः ।
समानमर्थं चरणीयमाना चक्रमिव नव्यस्या ववृत्स्व ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O lady ! be like the Ushas (Dawn) which spreads all over the regions, abiding on high, illuminator of the immortal sap, revolving like a wheel and approaching every object turning ever new.

PURPORT :—O good ladies ! as the dawns illuminate all planets, so illuminate peoples' good dealings.

NOTES :—(अमृतस्य) अमृतात्मकस्य रसस्य=Of the immortal sap of all herbs and other objects. (केतुः) प्रज्ञापिका । =Illuminator. (अर्णम्) वस्तु । =Object.

More about the women is stated :

अव स्यूमेव चिन्वती मघोन्युषा याति स्वसरस्य पत्नी ।
स्व१र्जनन्ती सुभगा सुदंसा आन्ताद्दिवः पप्रथ आ पृथिव्याः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O ladies ! you should be like the opulent Ushas (Dawn). She is like the bride of the day, throwing off darkness like a women throwing the garment, giving birth to the sun or happiness. It diffuses her own lustre auspicious, and promotes sacred acts like the Yajnas and is spread to the ends of the heaven and of the earth.

PURPORT :—O ladies ! as the Ushas (dawn) is like the wife of the day, so you should follow your husbands like shadows and ever deal with them agreeably and pleasantly. As the light is born with the association at the earth, so children are born by the union of husbands and wives.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वसरस्य) दिनस्य । स्वसराणीति अहर्नाम (NG 1, 9) = Of the day. (स्व :) सूर्यं सुखं वा । =The sun or happiness.

The subject of women is further highlighted:

अच्छा वो देवीमुषसं विभातीं प्र वो भरध्वं नमसा सुवृक्तिम् ।
ऊर्ध्वं मधुधा दिवि पाजो अश्रेत्प्र रोचना रुरुचे रण्वसंदृक् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—Offer due praise to the divine (radiant) Ushas, shining upon you. It is the repository of sweetness, manifests her brightness aloft in the sky, is radiant and lovely, and brightens the regions. Make proper use of electricity at the time of the dawn and on other occasions. Ushas enables us to see the charming objects.

PURPORT :—As the persons who get up early in the morning before the advent of the dawn, get good health and strength, in the same manner, a man attains the physical and spiritual power and health by marrying lovely and chaste wife. Because of it, the love may ever increase on account of likeness and suitability.

NOTES :—(सुवृक्तिम्) सुष्ठु वर्त्तमानाम् । नम इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20)=Existing well. (रणवसंदृक्) या रण्वान् रमणीयान्पदार्थान् सन्दर्शयति सा । =She who enables to see charming objects. (नमसा) वज्रेण विद्युता सह । =With the proper use of electricity.

The benefits of the dawn are told :

ऋतावरी दिवो अर्कैरबोध्या रेवती रोदसी चित्रमस्थात् ।
आयतीमग्न उषसं विभातीं वाममेषि द्रविणं भिक्षमाणः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the Ushās (Dawn) possesses truth and wealth of wisdom born from light and illumined by the rays of the sun. She is the cause of the admirable wealth (of wisdom and material), and has taken a marvellous position in earth and heaven. Having availed that charming and marvellous time of the Dawn, pray to God for His communion in a trance and obstain wonderful wealth of all kinds.

PURPORT :—The persons who get up early in the morning (in the last fourth lag of the night-at about 4 A.M.) glorify, pray to and have communion with God and seek for the attainment of noble virtues and true wealth. They attain all this by toiling hard and conciously.

NOTES :—(वामम्) प्रशस्तम् । = Admirable, noble. (दिवः) प्रकाशात् । =From light. (अर्कैः) सूर्यैः । =With the rays of the sun.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Uṣhas has been called ऋतावरी and रेवती meaning the possessor of truth and wealth of wisdom etc. At the Dawn, the Yogis meditate Great God and get the knowledge of perfect, truth and attain true wisdom.

The attributes of the learned artists are told :

ऋतस्यं बुध्न उषसांमिषण्यन्वृषां मही रोदंसी आ विवेश ।
मही मित्रस्यं वरुंणस्य माया चन्द्रेवं भानुं वि दंधे पुरुत्रा ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :— O men ! the Agni (energy/electricity) is the cause of rain, pervades the great heaven and earth, and is desirous of (so to speak) the Dawns in the firmament. The great and respectable intellect (wisdom) of the learned and friendly persons and of the noblest acquire the knowledge of the Sun which glitters various forms like the gold. The Ushas (Dawn) diffuses her lustre in different directions.

PURPORT :—As the noble speech and intellect of the enlightened persons give wealth and happiness to all and permeates various sciences, in the same manner, energy/electricity pervades all objects and when thoroughly researched, it leads to prosperity.

NOTES :— (बुध्ने) अन्तरिक्षे । बुध्नम् अन्तरिक्षं भवति । यतोऽस्मिन् आपो बद्धा धृता वा (NKT 10, 4, 46) =In the middle region, or firmament. (मही) महती पूज्या । =Great, worthy of respect. (चन्द्रेव) सुवर्णमिव । चन्द्रमिति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2)=Like Gold.

The attributes of friendly teachers and preachers are told :

इमा उं वां भृमयो मन्यमाना युवावते न तुज्या अभूवन् ।
क्व१ त्यदिन्द्रावरुणा यशो वां येन स्मा सिनं भरथः सखिभ्यः ॥ १ ॥

I. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! may your mass preaching and teaching persons' teams receive due recognition from all and not abjure your protectors and supporters. The teachers and preachers are like energy and air, because of their good reputation, they sustain their friends with ample and good food stocks.

PURPORT :—Those teachers and preachers who are benevolent to others like air and energy; are illustrious and they have pleasing conduct. Such men should lovingly give food and others things. All should keep friendship with them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भृमयः) भ्रमणानि । =Wanderings. (तुज्याः) हिसंनीया : =Harmful. (इन्द्रावरुणा) विद्युद्वायू इव वर्त्तमानौ । = Teachers and preachers who are benevolent like energy and air. Proper arrangements should be made during the tours of teachers and preachers so that owing to over crowding etc. or other causes, none may be harmed or injured.

The attributes of ideal teachers and preachers are continued :

अयमु वां पुरुतमो रयीयञ्छश्वत्तममवसे जोहवीति ।
सजोषाविन्द्रावरुणा मरुद्भिर्दिवा पृथिव्या शृणुतं हवं मे ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are like benevolent electricity and water, and this virtuous king invites you reverantly for his protection with a desire to have abundant wealth of all kinds. As electricity with the association of the winds, sun and earth gives happiness to all, so loving and serving one another you listen to my invocation.

PURPORT :—As a king, teachers, and preachers give instructions to all regarding protection, advancement and education, likewise, all men should deserve praise and attain prosperity on earth by industriousness towards one another.

NOTES & REMARKS : (इन्द्रावरुणा) विद्युज्जले इव वर्त्तमानौ अध्यापकोपदेशकौ ।=Teachers and preachers who are benevolent like electricity and water. (मरुद्भिः) वायुभिरिव श्रोतृभिः ।=With listeners who are like winds.

The duties of a teacher are told :

4. TRANSLATION :—O the best among the enlightened persons ! O protector of the noble Vedic speech ! please accept with love the food and other gifts that we offer you respectfully. O ruler ! give charming wealth of various kinds to him who imparts good knowledge.

PURPORT :—O teacher ! be engaged in acquiring more and more knowledge for your benefit. O king ! give good wealth to a teacher who imparts knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (विश्वदेव्य) विश्वेषु देवेषु साधो । विद्वांसो हि देवा : (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) = The best among the enlightened persons. (हव्यानि) दातुमर्हाणि । = Food and other worthwhile articles.

The duties of a friend are told :

शुचिमर्कैर्बृहस्पतिमध्वरेषु नमस्यत । अनाम्योज आ चके ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :— O lovers of wisdom in all inviolable actions of the acquisition of knowledge ! adore or make obeisance to the thoughtful and pure scholars, because they are the protectors of the noble speech and knowledge. You should also emulate me in order to achieve unmatchable strength.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कैः) सत्कर्त्तव्यैर्मन्त्रैर्विचारैः । =With respectable thoughts. (अनामि) न नम्यतेतत् । =Un-surpassable lit. that which cannot be bent down. (आचके) कामये । =Desire. (अध्वरेषु) अहिंसनीयेषु विद्याप्राप्ति कर्मसु । =In all inviolable actions with regards to the acquisition of knowledge.

The duties of friends are verified :

वृषभं चर्षणीनां विश्वरूपमदाभ्यम् । बृहस्पतिं वरेण्यम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! make obeisance to that Brihaspati (King or Protector of all the great vows), who showers happiness on the learned men, gives practical shape to all good schemes, and is inviolable, respectable and the best. You also desire to get strength from him, following into his foot-steps.

PURPORT :—As the subjects become prosperous by respecting their rulers, in the same way the rulers also attain good reputation in return by honouring their subjects,

NOTES :— (बृहस्पतिम्) बृहतां पालकं राजानम् । = King who is the protector of all big vows. (विश्वरूपम्) विश्वानि कर्माणि वस्तूनि वा रूपयन्तम् । =Giving good form to all noble actions or objects. (अदाभ्यम्) अहिंसनीयं सत्कर्त्तव्यम् । =Inviolable and respectable.

The duties of a learned person are stated :

इयं ते पूषन्नाघृणे सुष्टुतिर्देव नव्यसी । अस्माभिस्तुभ्यं शस्यते ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—We offer you, O illustrious divine nourisher (highly learned) king ! this most recent true eulogy which you richly and rightly deserve.

PURPORT :—All men should be glad to hear the praise of those people, who attain good reputation by the observance and performance of good righteous deeds.

NOTES :—(आघृणे) समन्तात् प्रकाशितः । =Shining from all sides, illustrious.

The benefits of study are highlighted :

तां जुषस्व गिरं मम वाजयन्तीमवा धियम्। वधूयुरिव योषणाम् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned person or king endowed with divine virtues ! please listen to my speech. It contains truth and the knowledge of the Shastras and tells the distinction between truth and untruth. It protects good intellect as a loving husband attentively listens to what his wife says, and protects her by all proper means.

PURPORT :—As loving husbands invariably protect and serve their beloved wives, in the same manner, men should protect their good intellect constantly having acquired the knowledge of the Shāstras.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजयन्तीम्) सत्याऽसत्यं विज्ञापयन्तीम् =Telling the distinction between the truth and falsehood. (योषणाम्) स्वपत्नीम् । योषा वै पत्नी (Stph 1, 3, 1, 18) योषैव योषणा । = One's own wife.

The subject touching God is mentioned :

यो विश्वाभि विपश्यति भुवना सं च पश्यति। स नः पूषाविता भुवत् ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may that nourishing God, Who looks upon all the universe and Who thoroughly comprehends them, be our protector. So that we may ever grow.

PURPORT :—We should always desire that God, Who is the ordainer of all, snperviser and giver of all fruits of all actions and dispenser of justice. Let Him be our protector and leader.

The same subject of God is dealt :

तत्स॑वि॒तुर्वरे॑ण्यं॒ भर्गो॑ दे॒वस्य॑ धीमहि । धियो॒ यो नः॑ प्रचो॒दया॑त् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! we meditate upon and try to imbibe in us, that most desirable light of God which eradicates sins and Who is the Creator and Lord of the world. He is resplendent and illuminator of all and Omnipresent and indwelling spirit, so that He may inspire and purify our intellects to perform always good deeds.

PURPORT :—Those men who always glorify, pray to and have communion with God, Who is the onlooker of all our thoughts and actions, Who is like our father, just, kind, pure, eternal and the beholders of our souls. He is the Ocean of Mercy, the greatest Guru (educator), and leads men to the attainment of Dharma (righteousness), wealth, fulfilment of noble desires and emancipation. Restraining the men from all evil conduct, and urging them to perform all good deeds, He makes them pure and industrious.

NOTES :—(सवितु :) सकलजगदुत्पादकस्य समग्रैश्वर्ययुक्तस्येश्वरस्य । =Of God, who is the Creator and Lord of the world. (भर्गः) भृजन्ति पापानि दुःखमूलानि येन तत् । =That which burns the root of all sins. (देवस्य) सकलैश्वर्यप्रदातु : प्रकाशमानस्य सर्वप्रकाशकस्य सर्वत्रव्याप्तस्याश्न्तर्यमिण: ।=Of God Who is the giver of all wealth, resplendent, illuminator of all and all pervading, indwelling spirit.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The prayer is clearly addressed to God as सविता देव Creator of the world and not to the sun, as interpreted by some Western scholars. Griffith's own translation is correct to the point if by Savita is taken God and not the Sun.

More is stated about God :

दे॒वस्य॑ सवि॒तुर्व॒यं वा॑ज॒यन्तः॒ पुरं॑ध्या । भग॑स्य रा॒तिमी॑महे ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! we solicit the gift of the most desirable and Indwelling Spirit (God), Who is the giver of prosperity. We instruct about Him to others with pure intellect, which in return, gives the knowledge of various subjects. So you should also emulate.

PURPORT :—If men pray to God for the purification of their souls by increasing their intellectual power and by performing righteous deeds firmly, obeying to His Commands, then God makes them pure and blessed with good character without delay.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरन्ध्या) यया प्रज्ञया बहून् बोधान् दधाति तथा । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG, 3, 1) =With intellect which imparts the knowledge of various subjects. (वाजयन्तः) विज्ञापयन्तः=Teaching, instructing. (ईमहे) याचामहे । ईमहे यांच्या कर्मा (NG, 3, 19)=Solicit, beg for.

17. TRANSLATION :—O men of pure actions ! you are admired because of phenomenal growth of foodgrains and other things. O teachers and preachers ! as you shine like the Prāṇa and Udāna (two vital breaths) with your great strength and with long lasting activities performed with great labour. Therefore, you always deserve great respect and gratitude from all.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should serve and honour those pure and glorious persons, who shine in the world with their wonderful good activities and thus creating exceeding strength, wealth and foodgrains etc.

NOTES & REMARKS : (नमोवृधा) नमसोऽन्नादेर्वर्धकौ । नम इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)=Who make phenomenal growth of foodgrains and other things because of their good instructions. (दक्षस्य) बलस्य । दक्ष इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=Of strength.

The duties of peoples educators are highlighted :

गृणाना जमदग्निना योनावृतस्य सीदतम् । पातं सोममृतावृधा ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O disseminators of truth ! O admirers of noble virtues, teachers and preachers ! you are dear to us like Prāna and Udāna, and abide always in truthful knowledge and conduct with the help of perception and other means, and thus protect great wealth of all kinds.

PURPORT :—Those persons only are capable to be teachers and preachers who visualize all coming events ahead, from earth to God, with perception and other means. Indeed, such person's love that expansion of true knowledge and conduct and follow the path of Dharma (righteousness). They indeed, deserve all honour.

NOTES & REMARKS : (गृणाना) स्तुवन्तो ।=Admiring. (जमदग्निना) =चक्षुषा प्रत्यक्षेण । चक्षुर्वै जमदग्निऋषिः यदेनेन जगत् पश्यति ।=With perception achieved through the eyes and other means.

1. TRANSLATION :—O leading learned person ! enlightened men with righteous indignation ever approach you, who are treasure-house of noble virtues, give divine qualities and are worthy of approach. They urge you and me with good knowledge to do good deeds. O men ! worship God, Who is immortal among mortals Who is self-resplendent and illuminator from all sides. Energise men with wisdom and with the light of knowledge from all sides. Make all men highly learned and wise with your good intellect and good actions.

PURPORT :—If teacher and kings admonish their pupils and their ministers and subjects on their lapse, they become civilised and righteous learned persons. Only those persons enjoy abiding happiness and are worthy of adoration, who worship self resplendent and esmmortal God, and Who make all men wise and highly learned.

NOTES : (अरविम्) प्रापणीयम् = Worthy of approach. (आदेवम्) समन्ताद् विद्याप्रकाशयुक्तम् = Endowed with the light of knowledge from all sides.

The proper use of speech is referred as ideal :

स भ्रातरं वरुणमग्न आ ववृत्स्व देवाँ अच्छा सुमती यज्ञवनसं ज्येष्ठं यज्ञवनसम्।
ऋतावानमादित्यं चर्षणीधृतं राजानं चर्षणीधृतम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! other should deal harmoniously with a noble man because he is like a brother, best intellectual and experienced teacher. He performs the Yajna in the form of the spread of knowledge to a king. Such a king divides properly the administration work, upholds people and sustained by learned men ,is brilliant like the sun. Promoters of truth and distinguishers between the truth and falsehood, they are the teachers, preachers and righteous enlightened persons. You should follow into the foot-steps of these noble men and should not go against their instructions.

PURPORT :—O teacher or king ! you should equip good Vedic scholars or ministers of religion with good intellect and truthful conduct and encourage them to do likewise. You should illuminate the light of knowledge and justice like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (यज्ञवनसम्) यज्ञस्य विद्याव्यवहारस्य विभाजकम्। = Divider of the spread of knowledge in the form of Yajna. (यज्ञवनसम्) राज्यव्यवहारस्य विभक्तारम्। Divider and planner of the administration work. (1) (चर्षणीधृतम्) मनुष्याणां धर्त्तारंवद्वद्भिर्धृतं वा। (2) (चर्षणीधृतम्) सत्यासत्ये विवेचकानां धर्त्तारम्। चर्षणय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG. 2, 3) चर्षणिरिति पदनाम (NG. 4, 2) = Upholder of men in general or those who distinguish between truth and falsehood or sustained by the learned persons.

The utility and merits of nice speech are emphasized :

सखे सखायमभ्या ववृत्स्वाशुं न चक्रं रथ्येव रंह्यास्मभ्यं दस्म रंह्या ।
अग्ने मृळीकं वरुणे सचा विदो मरुत्सु विश्वभानुषु ।
तोकाय तुजे शुशुचान शं कृध्यस्मभ्यं दस्म शं कृधि ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O friend ! bring to us your friend, who like a pair of strong horses carries the swift chariot on the road to its goal, O destroyer of all miseries ! take us to all those good places accessible to the vehicles. O learned leader ! shining like the fire, attain happiness in league with a noble and truthful person. O purifier ! grant happiness to our sons and grandsos who are desirous to acquire knowledge and strength and illuminate all like the sun in the world, O destroyer of ignorance ! grant happiness to ourselves.

PURPORT :— O men ! you should be friendly to all like a pair of the horses to the chariot, and prompt all your friends to do noble deeds. Lead us smoothly towards the righteous dealings like a good path. We must always honour those good noble and virtuous persons like the sun, because they generate happiness by illuminating the souls of all.

NOTES :— (दस्म) दुःखोपनाशक । =Destroyer of miseries. (2) (दस्म) अविद्यानाशक । =Destroyer of ignorance. (सचा) सत्यसंयोगेन । =With the combination of truth or true association. (तुजे) विद्याबलमिच्छुकाय । =For the offspring desire to acquiring the strength of knowledge.

Benefits of good speech are enumerated :

त्वं नो अग्ने वरुणस्य विद्वान्देवस्य हेळोऽव यासिसीष्ठाः ।
यजिष्ठो वह्नितमः शोशुचानो विश्वा द्वेषांसि प्र मुमुग्ध्यस्मत् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned man ! shining like the fire, you are enlightened, therefore do not insult a noble illuminator of knowledge. May you shine most on account of you rnoble virtues; liberate us from all animosities, because you are the best performer of the Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) and the best conveyor of happiness.

PURPORT :—They are truly learned, who do not insult a noble enlightened person. They are the good teachers and preachers who purfiy us by removimg all our evils. They should always be honoured by us.

NOTES :— (देवस्य) विद्याप्रकाशकस्य । = Of the illuminator of knowledge. (हेड) हेड अनादृता: भवन्ति यस्मिन् सः । हेडः is from हेड-अनादरे (भ्वा०) = An insulting behaviour. (वह्नितमः) अतिशयेन वोढा । = The best conveyor of happinees.

Remove thou far from us all those who hate us, thus translated griffith. But here Prof. Wilson's translation of the last stanza of this mantra as "Liberate us from all animosities" is more faithful.

The attributes of the ideal speech highlighted :

स त्वं नो॑ अग्नेऽव॒मो भ॑वो॒ती नेदि॑ष्ठो अ॒स्या उ॒षसो॒ व्यु॑ष्टौ ।
अव॑ यक्ष्व नो॒ वरु॑णं॒ ररा॑णो वी॒हि मृ॑ळी॒कं सु॒हवो॑ न एधि ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! purifying us like the fire, be our presever and close to us, with your protective cover at the rise of dawn. Create unity among us through good teachers or preachers. You auspicious come to us and bring happiness.

PURPORT :—That teacher or king is the ideal, who like the dawn takes us forward by imparting good education and who assists us to do noble deeds, keeping aloof from all evils.

NOTES : (अवमः) रक्षकः । = Preserver or protector. (वरुणम्) श्रेष्ठम्-अध्यापकमुपदेशकं वा । = The best teacher or preacher. (रराणः) ददन् । = gisriny (वीहि) व्याप्नुहि । = Cover.

More said about the noble speech :

अस्य श्रेष्ठा सुभगस्य संदृग्देवस्य चित्रतमा मर्त्येषु ।
शुचि घृतं न तप्तमघ्न्यायाः स्पार्हा देवस्य मंहनेव धेनोः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the good acts of this king who is protector of all and who is blessed with admirable wealth of all kinds and divine nature are most excellent and most wonderful. These are like the ghee (heated pure clarified butter of the inviolable cow) or the utterances in a noble speech. They are the most venerable, and perform the divine and desirable acts. Keep a watch on them and thus make the State powerful.

PURPORT :—Those kings whose actions are crystal pure like the ghee, whose sweet utterances resemble with those of the well-trained and cultured persons, and whose merits, actions and nature are like those of God, thw attain wonderful kingdom and good reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवस्य मंहन) महान्ति पूजनीयानीव । =Like the most venerable acts of God. (देवस्य) परमात्मनः (धेनोः) । वाच्या गोर्वा धेनुरिति वाङ्नाम (NG. 1, 11) अघ्न्या इति गोनाम (NG. 1, 11)=Of the speech or of the cow.

The Agni is compared with the attributes of a learned person :

त्रिरस्य ता परमा सन्ति सत्या स्पार्हा देवस्य जनिमान्यग्नेः ।
अनन्ते अन्तः परिवीत आगाच्छुचिः शुक्रो अर्यो रोरुचानः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! only a man full of divine qualities rules over all, whose births (manifestations) are truthful desirable and exalted like those of electricity etc. One Who is bright, pure, radiant, master of all, blessed entirely with ideal virtues, actions and temperament, dwelling in the Infinite God, (meditating upon) by performing prayers thrice in the morning, evening and night. He runs the kingdom efficiently.

PURPORT :—Only that man is born in a noble family when his actions are good. As Agni (in the form of lightning) is in the infinite firmament, so he who always meditates conciously upon the Infinite God, becomes full of knowledge and pure. He is able to perform all good and admirable deeds.

NOTES :—(परिवीतः) परितः सर्वतो व्याप्तशुभगुणकर्मस्वभावः। = Endowed on all sides with good virtues, actions and temperament. (अनन्ते) परमात्मन्याकाशे वा। सत्यं ज्ञानमनन्तं ब्रह्म यो वेद निहितं गुहायां परमे व्योमन् (तैत्तिरीयोपनिषदि) =In Infinite God or the sky.

The desirability of ideal speech is stressed :

स दूतो विश्वेद॒भि व॑ष्टि॒ सद्मा॒ होता॒ हिर॑ण्यरथो॒ रंसु॑जिह्वः।
रो॒हिद॑श्वो वपु॒ष्यो॑ वि॒भा॒वा स॒दा॑ र॒ण्वः पि॑तु॒मती॑व सं॒सत् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—The king's dealings should be like the splendid sun, his speech charming, and on occasions red in the form of fire, electricity etc. (speedy horses). He should be beautiful, prosperous, and endowed with attractive form and nature, giver of happiness. He should be keen to go to all good places for mass, contact and is irksome to the wicked persons, and always should advance or make like a council of the great rulers. You plan out progress with much admir- able wealth and food etc.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile. As the ambassadors always desire and promote the welfare of their rulers, so the kings and members of the assemblies or councils should be meritorious, and devoted to their people.

NOTES & REMARKS : (दूतः) यो दुनोति दुष्टान्परितापयति सः। =Messenger or ambassador who is irksome to the wicked, as he does not allow their evil designs to fruitify. (हिरण्यरथः) तेजोमयरमणीयस्वरूपःसूर्य्य इव रथो व्यवहारो यस्य सः। तेजो वै हिरण्यम् (तैत्ति. 1, 8, 9, 1) रथो रंहते— [illegible] (NKT 9, 2, 11) =He whose dealing is like the splendid sun. (पितुमतीव) प्रशंसित बह्वन्नाद्यश्वर्य्ययुक्त व । पितुरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।= Endowed with much admirable wealth and food etc.

The attributes of learned are highlighted :

स चेतयन्मनुषो यज्ञबन्धुः प्र तं मह्या रशनया नयन्ति ।
स क्षेत्यस्य दुर्यासु साधन्देवो मर्तस्य सधनित्वमाप ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :— The king is like a brother to the just dealings, and he gives good advice and instructions to his ministers and people. The members of the Council lead him forward with right policies, like a horse taking forward broad and big views. He sits in the courts or offices of the State accomplishing well the administrative work. He being the giver of happiness, enjoys the prosperous State along with his people.

PURPORT :—As the most reliable teachers and preachers lead the students towards the right path through the good education, in the same manner, they should guide the king to discharge his duties well by giving him sincere advice regarding the politics and administration. Such a king along with his Council of Ministers and people discharges his duties lovingly, being free from all vices, and lives happily having attained a prosperous State.

NOTES : (यज्ञबन्धुः) यज्ञस्य न्याय्यव्यवहारस्य भ्रातेव वर्त्तमान: । = Being like a brother to the right dealings. (क्षेति) निवसति । = Dwells, lives. (सधनित्वम्) धनेना भावेन सह वर्त्तमानं राज्यम् । = Prosperous State.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : The Vedic term Yajna is very comprehensive as stated earlier. It includes all right dealings in the State. Therefore, we come across passages in Brahamanas like. श्री वै राष्ट्रमश्वमेध: (Stph, 13, 2, 9, 2. Taitriya 3, 9, 7, 1) = Here a nation is called Yajna. (दुर्यासु) गृहेषु । अत्र न्यायगृहेषु । दुर्या इति गृहनाम (NG. 3, 4) ।

The attributes of learned persons are stated :

स तू नो अग्निर्नयतु प्रजानन्नच्छा रत्नं देवभक्तं यदस्य ।
धिया यद्विश्वे अमृता अकृण्वन्द्यौष्पिता जनिता सत्यमुक्षन् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION : O king ! the Resplendent God, Who is the Creator and Father of the world, knowing all with His Infinite Wisdom, leads us towards the attainment of all charming wealth, enjoyed by the enlightened persons. So you should also do. You should always dwell in (meditate upon) that God in Whom all immortal and imperishable souls dwell and attain emancipation by following the path of truth. You should also observe truthfulness and attain final emancipation by administering the State on right lines.

PURPORT :— O king and other people ! you should also act like God, Who is the Creator and Preserver of the world, makes and awards various articles for the welfare of all souls, without seeking any obligation. You should try to imbibe as far as possible the noble merits, actions and nature of God, preserve your State well and finally attain emancipation.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अग्नि :) स्वप्रकाश : परमात्मेव राजा । ब्रह्मा अग्नि : । (Stph. 1, 3, 3, 19) ब्रह्म वा अग्निः । =(Kaushitaki Brahmana 9/1, 5/12, 8 Taittariya 3, 9, 16, 3) = A king who should be like self-effulgent God. (अमृताः) जन्ममृत्युरहिता जीवाः । =Immortal souls.

The epithets प्रजानन् used for Agni has been translated by Prof. Wilson as wise, while Griffith as "He (Agni) knows the way. It makes clear that Agni is not meant in material form for fire, but a conscious being (Primarily God).

The attributes of God are taught by the term Agni :

स जायत प्रथमः पस्त्यासु महो बुध्ने रजसो अस्य योनौ ।
अपादशीर्षा गुहमानो अन्तायोयुवानो वृषभस्य नीळे ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the Great sun is manifest in the vast firmament and the sky, God is manifest by His Power in all planets creating and sustaining them by His Omnipotence. Being Omnipresent. He is without head, feet and other organs, is diffused in all beings and things. He even integrates and disintegrates all, pervading the sun and other illuminaries.

PURPORT :—O men ! the matter is the material cause of this Universe in accordance with the order of Mahattatva (Great principle) etc., while God is the efficient cause in whom all dwell. The matter and God are united with bodies and leave them at the proper time as ordained by God. You should enjoy happiness by meditating upon God within your own hearts.

NOTES :—(बुध्ने) अन्तरिक्षे । बुध्नम् अन्तरिक्षं, बद्धा अस्मिन् धृता आप : इति (NKT. 10, 4, 44) । =In the firmament. (वृषभस्य) वर्षकस्य सूर्य्यस्य । Of the sun that is the cause of the rain. (आयोयुवान :) समन्ताद्भृशं मिश्रयिता विभाजको वा । =Integrator or disintegrator.

The attributes of God are preached :

प्र शर्धं आर्त प्रथमं विपन्याँ ऋतस्य योना वृषभस्य नीळे ।
स्पार्हो युवा वपुष्यो विभावा सप्त प्रियासोऽजनयन्त वृष्णे ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! seven desirable and dear things namely-five Prānas, mind and intellect which have been created by God for the assistance and benefit of the soul that showers happiness. Living close to fire, born out of the material cause of the Universe i.e. matter, you should likewise acquire supreme strength with admirable dealing, because you are young, beautiful (handsome) and endowed with the light of various sciences.

PURPORT:—O men ! five Prānas and inner senses like mind and intellect are dear to all, because they accomplish many works. So you should work hard to know the cause and effect, know God, and increase your physical and spiritual power in the first lag of your human life (Brahmacharya), and thereby generate happiness.

NOTES :—(शर्ध :) बलम् । शर्ध : इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =Strength. (प्रास्तं) प्राप्नुयाः । =Acquire. (वृष्णे) वर्षकाय जीवाय । =For the soul showering joy and happiness. (विपन्या) विपने विविधव्यवहारे साध्व्या ।= With admirable dealing.

The attributes of God are stated :

अस्माकमत्र पितरो मनुष्या अभि प्र सेदुरृतमाशुषाणाः ।
अश्मव्रजाः सुदुघा वव्रे अन्तरुदुस्रा आजन्नुषसो हुवानाः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that person becomes very fortunate who chooses our fathers as our thoughtful guardians, attains truth extensively from all sides and who goes in their aircrafts towards the clouds in the firmament. In fact, they fulfill all our born noble desires like the rays entering the dawns.

PURPORT :—O men ! that man becomes very fortunate who honours the elderly people, because they are your guardians, observe Brahamcharya (purity and self—control), impart the knowledge of truth, when invited, like the sun rays cause rains.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आशुषाणा :) समन्तात् प्राप्नुवन्तो ब्रह्मचर्येण शुष्कशरीरा वा ।—Attaining truth or possessing firm and solid bodies by the observance of Brahmacharya. (उस्राः) किरणा : । उस्रा इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5)=Rays of the sun.

The greatness of God is mentioned :

ते मर्मृजत ददृवांसो अद्रिं तदेषामन्ये अभितो वि वोचन् ।
पश्वयन्त्रासो अभि कारमर्चन्विदन्त ज्योतिश्चकृपन्त धीभिः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O men ! our thoughtful and protecting fore-fathers are to be respected and honoured by all, who like the sun rays purify us like the clouds. They are absolutely pure, some of them impart knoweledge to all through their sermons. Some becoming well versed in machinary utilise their knowledge for technological and industrial advancement. They attain light because of their wisdom or good actions. They are kind to all.

PURPORT ;—O men ! those learned persons should be honoured by all because they are well—versed in the Vedas, Vedāngas branches of the Vedas like Ayurveda (Medical sciences), Dhanurveda (Archery) Gandharva Veda (Science of Music) and Arthaveda (Science of arts and crafts) and Upāngas like the Darshana Shastras (philosophical systems) and technology. Kindly impart good education to all and make them highly learned.

NOTES:— (मर्मृजत) शुद्धा भूत्वा शोधयन्ति ।= Purify others after absolutely purifying themselves. (पश्वयन्त्रास:) पश्वानि दृष्टानि यन्त्राणि यैस्ते ।= Those who have seen various machines i.e. good and expert machanics. (कारम्) शिल्पकृत्यम् ।= Technical or industrial work.

The attributes of God are further highlighted :

ते गव्यता मनसा दृध्रमुब्धं गा येमानं परि षन्तमद्रिम् ।
दृळ्हं नरो वचसा दैव्येन व्रजं गोमन्तमुशिजो वि वव्रुः ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—The men with pure mind and good speech and benevolent like the cows, willingly choose a person who is like the sun that extends and unites the rays and is under the Command of God, Who controls the universe and augments. Such men get all their noble desires fulflled. They get them fulfilled like the cloud moved by the sun rays.

PURPORT :—The sun—rays raise up and cause the clouds to rain. In the same manner, the enlightened persons generate positive knowledge by constant and deep thoughts.

NOTES :—(दृध्रम्) वर्धकम् । =Augmenter. (उशिज:) कामयमाना: ।= Willing, desiring.

More about God is described :

ते मन्वत प्रथमं नाम धेनोस्त्रिः सप्त मातुः परमाणि विन्दन् ।
तज्जानतीरभ्यनूषत व्रा आविर्भुवदरुणीर्यशसा गोः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—The learned men who comprehend the exalted seven forms (principal metres) of this mother-like Vedic speech, reflect three times its famous name. One who is manifest with glory (on account of his deep learning and reflection) knows the real nature of the refined speech. Those who are thus glorious and illustrious, admire highly educated ladies who are full of splendour.

PURPORT :—As a good milch cow fulfils the desire of drinking of it's milk, so a speech endowed with knowledge and good education satisfies the enlightened persons. Those who observe the rules of righteousness, become renowned and illustrious.

NOTES :—(धेनो :) वाण्या : । धेनुरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Of the speech. (व्रा :) या: व्रियन्ते ताः । व्राः इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2)=Ladies chosen as brides. पद-गतौ प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय प्राप्यन्ते अनुकूल गुणकर्म स्वभावादिभि-रिति व्राः । व्राःविदुष्यः । त्रिः सप्त-प्रमुख छन्दांसि गायत्र्युनुष्टुब् बृहती पङ्क्ति त्रिष्टुब्जगती नमासि । =Thrice in the form of hearing, reflecting and meditating.

The significance of the preservation of spiritual power is told :

नेशत्तमो दुधितं रोचत द्यौरुद्देव्या उषसो भानुरर्त ।
आ सूर्यो बृहतस्तिष्ठदज्राँ ऋजु मर्तेषु वृजिना च पश्यन् ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O learned man ! as the resplendent sun destroys the scattered thick darkness of the dawn, gives divine happiness, glows with its radiance standing in the sky, in the same manner, you should look upon all the vast substances, which are creation of God and set in the world. With this, endeavour to establish strength and uprightness among men.

PURPORT :— As the sun generates light by destroying darkness of the night, in the same manner, teachers and preachers should procure the vast knowledge of the world and generate the physical and spiritual power through uprightness.

NOTES : – (अज्मान्) जगति प्रक्षिप्तान् पदार्थान्। = The substances scattered in the world. (वृजिना) बलानि। =Powers. (दुधितम्) पूर्णम्। = Full.

The attributes of the proper use of speech are mentioned :

आदित्यश्वा बुंबुधाना व्यंख्यन्नादित्वं धारयन्त द्युभंक्तम् ।
विश्वे विश्वांसु दुर्यांसु देवा मित्रं धिये वंरुणा सत्यमंस्तु ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O Varuna (fastener or punisher of the wicked! O Mitra (friend) ! all the highly learned persons dwelling in their homes, uphold the wealth got from the proper use of electricity and other elements, and teach lessons about them to others. Likewise, you should also do, so that this knowledge may be true at all times for the benefit of the intellect and good actions.

PURPORT :— The persons who observe Brahamcharya, impart knowledge, good education, truth and righteous conduct and instruct others about hem. They enhance their intellectual power and being renowoned stay at their homes happily.

NOTES : (दुर्यासु) गृहेषु। =In their abodes. (द्युभक्तम्) विद्युदादिभिस्सेवितम्। =Got from the proper use of electricity etc. (वरुण) दुष्टांना बन्धक। वरुणस्य बन्धकत्वं ब्राह्मणवचनेषु स्पष्टम्। अनृते खलु वै क्रियमाणे वरुणो गृह्णाति (Taittariya 1, 7, 2, 6) वरुणो वा एतं गृह्णाति यः पाप्मना गृहीतो भवति (Stph. 12, 7, 2, 17) = Fastener of the wicked.

The attributes of electricity are told :

अच्छा वोचेय शुशुचानमग्निं होतारं विश्वभरसं यजिष्ठम् ।
शुच्यूधो अतृणन्न गवामन्धो न पूतं परिषिक्तमंशोः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :— O men ! let me tell you well about the attributes of the Agni (in the form of electricity) which is giver of joy. It is the supporter of the universe in various forms, unifier, radiant and pure. It does not destroy the sun rays or the dawn and preserves well when applied properly like good food.

PURPORT :— Men should know that electricity when properly and methodically applied preserves and when misused it destroys. It does not destroy the rays of the sun. Being preserver of energy like good food, it quickens the speed.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अंशोः) प्राप्तस्य सूर्यस्य । अंशुः शमष्टमात्रो भवति । अननाय शं भवतीति वा (NKT. 2, 2, 5) अंशुरंशः । शंभ वति । अशूङ् व्याप्तौ (स्वा०) अथवा अननाय जीवनाय शं भवति । =Of the sun. (अन्धः) अन्नम् । अन्धः इत्यन्न नाम (NG 2, 7) । =Food. (अतृणन्) हिनस्ति । =Kills.

The duties of men are told compairng the sun :

विश्वेषामदितिर्यज्ञियानां विश्वेषामतिथिर्मानुषाणाम् ।
अग्निर्देवानामव आवृणानः सुमृळीको भवतु जातवेदाः ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION : O learned person ! you should give good happiness to all like the purified vast firmament to the performers of Yajnas. Like a venerable guest to all men, like Agni (fire electricity and sun) to all enlightened persons, you accept and desire their protection and know the nature of all objects.

PURPORT :— O men ! you should give happiness to all like the firmament purified by the fragrant smoke (of Yajnas), or highly learned and reliable preacher and the sun.

NOTES : (अदितिः) अखण्डितमन्तरिक्षम् । अदितिर्द्यौरदितिरन्तरिक्षम् (Rige. 1, 8 9, 10) । = Vast firmament. (सुमृडीकः) सुष्ठुसुखकारकः । Giver of good happiness.

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Agni. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various types. Svara—Panchama and Dhaivata.

The duties of absolutely truthful enlightened persons are stated :

यो मर्त्येष्वमृतं ऋतावा देवो देवेष्वरतिर्निधायि ।
होता यजिष्ठो मह्ना शुचध्यै हव्यैरग्निर्मनुष ईरयध्यै ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! God is Immortal among the mortals, is embodiment of Truth endowed with Divine virtues, actions and nature and the most desirable among the divine persons and articles. He is the Omnipresent, Giver of true happiness, Adorable with devotion on account of His Greatness, has been set in heart for its purification and true elevation, like the fire is placed at the altar to be kindled with oblations for various purposes.

PURPORT :—O men ! God Who is never born or dead or decayed is endowed with divine nature and is absolutely pure. He should be worshipped through noble thinking and purity.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (अरति :) सर्वत्र प्राप्त : ।=Omnipresent. (होता) दाता । ब्रह्माग्नि : (Stph 1, 3, 3, 19) ।=Giver of happiness and bliss etc. ब्रह्म वा अग्नि : (कौषीतकी ब्रा० 9, 1, 5, 12, 8) इत्यादि प्रामाण्याद् अग्नि पदेनाद् ब्रह्मणो ग्रहणम् । अग्नि : कस्मादग्रणीर्भवति (NKT. 7, 4, 15)=God the Supreme Leader.

The epithets used for Agni like अमृत : ऋतावा, देवेषु देव : यजिष्ठः clearly substantiate Rishi Dayananda's interpretation of Agni as God here.

The duties of ideal persons are highlighted.

इह त्वं सूनो सहसो नो अद्य जातो जाताँ उभयाँ अन्तरग्ने ।
दूत ईयसे युयुजान ऋष्व ऋजुमुष्कान्वृषणः शुक्रांश्च ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O our highly learned son! you are purifier like the fire, symbolic of strength, manifestation of knowledge, and dealing sternly with the gangs of thiefs. You purify the scholars, approach both teachers and students like a messenger and give punishment to the wickeds. Therefore, you give happiness and do good to all.

PURPORT :—As the Agni preserves all, as well as destroys, Them too; in the same manner, a learned son preserves peace and an ignorant or stupid son destroys it. Therefore, you should gratify yourselves by making your children exalted and admirable through the observance of longer span of Brahamcharya.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋष्व) प्राप्तविज्ञान । ऋष्व इति महन्नाम् (NG 3, 3)=He who has acquired much knowledge, a great scholar. (ऋजुमुष्कान्) ये ऋजुना मुष्णन्ति तान् । = Thieves who steal easily.

The duties of the subjects or of general people are told :

अत्यां वृधस्नू रोहिता घृतस्नू ऋतस्यं मन्ये मनसा जविष्ठा ।
अन्तरीयसे अरुषा युंजानो युष्मांश्च देवान्विश आ च मर्तान ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned person! you harness in the vehicle horses like the air and fire. In fact, they in irrigation grow output of water, which possess the properties of the fire (hydro-electric). It sheds water and is swifter than the mind, and of ruddy hue. Let you go with the help of such vehicles and transports to the enlightened persons and common men—all classes of people.

PURPORT :—If men drive machines in which air and fire have been properly applied, then the properties of water and steam in the form of speed and striking move their vehicles of different kinds like the wind.

NOTES & REMARKS : (ऋतस्य) जलस्य । ऋतमित्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Of the water. (घृतम्) उदकम् । घृतम् इत्युदकनाम । (NG 1, 12) ।= Water.

The duties of the people are underlined :

अर्यमणं वरुणं मित्रमेषामिन्द्राविष्णू मरुतो अश्विनोत ।
स्वश्वो अग्ने सुरथः सुराधा एदु वह सुहविषे जनाय ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you possess good steeds, an excellent car and abundant good wealth. Bring all this to the man who has good stock for putting oblations in the fire (or by giving energy to needy), is dispenser of justice and a virtuous friend. And the men who know well the properties and analysis of electricity and SŪTRĀTMĀ (subtle form of air), sun, moon and the winds, they gladden all.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! you should know well the properties of the Agni (fire, energy etc.) water and other elements, apply them for the accomplishment of various purposes and after having thorough and sure knowledge through experiments, impart lessons about them to others. Thus all are endowed with wealth, food grains and happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अश्विना) सूर्य्यचिन्द्रमसौ । यत् कावश्विनौ सूर्यचिन्द्रमसा वित्येके (NKT. 12, 1, 1,) ।= The sun and the moon. (अर्यमणम्) न्यायाधीशम् । = Dispenser of justice, magistrate or judge. (इन्द्रा-विष्णु) विद्युत्सूत्रात्मानौ । = Electricity and Sūtrātmā. (मरुतः) वायून् । मरुतः इति पदनाम (NG. 5, 5,) । = Winds.

The duties of a ruler are told :

गोमाँ अग्नेऽविमाँ अश्वी यज्ञो नृवत्सखा सदमिदप्रमृष्यः।

15. TRANSLATION :—As seven kinds of rays usher out of the dawn, in the same manner, let us be born out of the womb of the mother Vidya (thereby meaning full wisdom) illustrious and wise. That kingdom is divided in seven categories of the King, President, Ministers, Men of the army, Commander-in-chief of the army, the subjects (civilians or people) and spies. Let us always approach wise leaders. Being the sons of light (enlightened) and dear to all like the Prānas (vital breaths), let us cut into pieces the enemies like the clouds, and may we be admired everywhere being pure with knowledge and humilty and purifying the rich among the subjects.

PURPORT :— Those kings who maintain and honour wise minister become illustrious like the sun. It is their duty to protect the industrious and punish the wicked, so that all may become men and women of pure character and conduct.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मातुः) मातृवद्वर्तमानाया विद्यायाः । = Of the knowledge or wisdom which is like a mother. (सप्त) राजप्रधानामात्यसेनाध्यक्षप्रजाचाराः । = King, President, Ministers, of army men Commander-in-chief of the army, people and spies. (अङ्गिरस) प्राणा इव । = Like the Prānas. 18. TRANSLATION :—O splendid king ! you proclaim the birth near (live close to) the enlightened persons and ordinary men.

There may be armies under the commander who possesses good stock of foodgrains. The wise perform many pervasive acts like a king for the multiplication of the clouds (i.e. irrigational facilities) and the beasts (by rearing and improving the stock of animals) that help in the comforts (by providing comforts of the life).

PURPORT:—A simile used in the mantra. The birth of a king among men is the result of great mertorious acts. If there is no king, none can remain healthy. On the clouds depend the life and growth of all, so on the king depends the life and growth of the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षुमति) बहु क्षवन्नं विद्यते यस्मिंस्तस्मिन् क्षु इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)। =Under a Commander who has a good stock of foodgrains. (उर्वशी:) बहुव्यापिका: । उर्वशीति पदनाम (NG. 4, 2)। = Many pervasive acts (of electricity etc.). (उपरस्य) मेघस्य । = Of the cloud.

The duties of a king are elaborated:

अकर्म ते स्वपसो अभूम ऋतमवस्रन्नुषसो विभातीः ।
अनूनमग्निं पुरुधा सुश्चन्द्रं देवस्य मर्मृजतश्चारु चक्षुः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as the brilliant dawns beautify all and then people kindle fire, give (perform the Yajnas) an much wealth including gold in the dakshina (present) and donations, let us be doers of noble deeds under your command. You desire our welfare and purify all the beings, like our charming eye or guide. Let us do all this observing the vow of truth and be your true friends.

PURPORT:—O king ! the dawn born from the sun makes all beautiful; in the same ma..., born out of the observance of Brahmacharya and after becoming highly learned persons, we act in pursuance of your command. So you should also accomplish our welfare incessantly. Let us prompt all to do righteous deeds haring been united and removing all injustice.

NOTES & REMARKS: (स्वपसः) सुष्ठ्वपो धर्म्यं कर्म कुर्वाणः। अप इति कर्मनाम (NG. 2, 1)। =Doers of good righteous deeds. (सुश्चन्द्रम्) शोभनं चन्द्रं हिरण्यं यस्मात्तम्। चन्द्रम् इति हिरण्यनाम (NG. 1, 2)। =Which leads to much gold (and other kinds of wealth).

The duties of the ruled and rulers are mentioned :

त्वं चिन्न शम्या अग्ने अस्या ऋतस्य बोध्यृतचित्स्वाधीः ।
कदा त उक्था सधमाद्यानि कदा भवन्ति सख्या गृहे ते ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are purifier like the fire. My curiousity is to know when will you recognise the truthful and total acceptor of truth ? When will there be the proper words gladdening all and other acts of friendship at your home ?

PURPORT :—O king ! when your dealing with your pepole will be full of true justice, it is only then that there will be concord among the people under your discipline or commands.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शम्यै) कर्मणे । शमीति कर्मनाम (NG 2,1) =For the act. (स्वाधीः) यः सुष्ठु समन्तादिव्यायति ।=Thinking well of the total welfare of the people.

The epithets used for the Agni like ऋतचित् and स्वाधिः according to Prof. Wilson, are cognizant of truth 'and' the author of good works, and per Griffith "The knower of the Law." It substantiates Dayananda's interpretation of Agni here as a conscious and wise leader like a king, and the not material fire.

The duties of a preacher are told-:

कथा ह तद्वरुणाय त्वमग्ने कथा दिवे गर्हसे कन्न आगः ।
कथा मित्राय मीळहुषे पृथिव्यै ब्रवः कदर्यम्णे कद्भगाय ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! like the purifying fire, you recognise the worth of a noble person ā person shining with the light of knowledge and character. You condemn and censure the) and fault committed by us. We have confidence that you do not condemn a friend who is augmenter of happiness, or censure a woman who is of forbearing nature like the earth. You always speak with the dispenser of justice regarding the acquisition of wealth or prosperity

PURPORT :—O learned person ! If someone condemns a noble or highly learned persons, then only he should be censured by you. A proper chart of time table should be chalked out for all administrative work. The king should work at the appointed time. He should be plainly told in case he betrays a friend. By so doing, both the king and the people can have continuous progress.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (मीह्लुषे) सुखवर्धकाय । = For a person who augments happiness. (पृथिव्यो) पृथिवीवद्वर्त्तमानायै स्त्रियै । = For a woman who is of forgiving nature like the earth. पृथिव्यग्ने : पत्नी (Gopatha उ० 2, 9)
In the Vedic mantras like स्योना पृथिवि नो भवानृक्षरा सुनिवेशनी यच्छा न: शर्म सप्रथा : (यजु 36, 13) the simile of the earth with wife is here quite clear.

10. TRANSLATION :—O king! you are mighty and virtuous because of truthful dealings, industriousness, shining like the electricity, upholder of desirable life and wealth and showerer of happiness. Like the firmament and the night, discharging their duties demand you to fill yourself with (integrate) God with vital energy, and do not swerve from the path of your duty.

PURPORT :—As electricity shines in the form of the sun (solar energy) in half part of the globe, and it is included in the other part at night, in the same manner, you should be regular and punctual in sleeping and getting up. It increases your vitality, capacity of labour, and attain the age of a hundred years and thus gladden all.

NOTES :—(अक्तः) शुभगुणैर्युक्तः ।= Virtuous. (पयसा) राज्या । पय इति । रात्रि

नाम (NG 1, 7) । = With night. (ऊधः) रात्रिरिव । ऊध इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) =Like the night.

The duties of the rulers and other Kshatriyas (warriors) are taught :

ऋतेनाद्रिं व्यसन्भिदन्तः समङ्गिरसो नवन्त गोभिः ।
शुनं नरः परि षदन्नुषासमाविः स्वरभवज्जाते अग्नौ ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O leading and learned person ! the rays like the winds with their sound, dissipate and throw away the cloud full of water and pervade the morning time. With the fire kindled in the morning, the sun is also manifest, so you should admire true happiness and try to manifest it.

PURPORT :—As the lightnings with winds dissolve the cloud and by disintegrating it make it rain down on the earth, gladden all, and manifest the sun by striking, so the brave Kshatriyas (warriors) like the kings and others, should destroy the wicked, illuminate justice, manifest knowledge with deep wisdom, shining like the sun and attain un-paralleled happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(अङ्गिरसः) वायवः । प्राणो वा अंगिराः (Stph 6, 1,2,28 II,6,5,2,3,4) प्राणादिरूपा वायवश्च गृहीताः-स्वरित्यसौ-द्युलोकः (Stph 8,7,4, 5)=Winds. (स्वः) सूर्यः । असौ (द्यु) लोकः स्वः (ऐत 6,7) द्युलोकनेता सूर्यः ।= The sun. (अद्रिम्) मेघम् । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) इति तद्ग्रहणम् । =The cloud.

The result of good or bad association is told:

ऋतेन देवीरमृता अमृक्ता अर्णोभिरापो मधुमद्भिरग्ने ।
वाजी न सर्गेषु प्रस्तुभानः प्र सदमित्स्रवितवे दधन्युः ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the water mixed with various articles is full of sweetness and other attributes. There ar immortal Prāṇas not yet purified, but they are imperishable in their subtle causal form and they uphold the substances. In the same manner, you being the possessor of abundant foodgrains and other products be a good upholder of all.

PURPORT:—As pure waters are source of happiness and vice-versa, in the same manner, association of good qualities causes bliss and that of the ignoble causes misery. A philanthropist person kindly feeds hungry and other needy suffering persons. Likewise good men protect all.

NOTES REMARKS : (अर्णोभिः) जलैः। अर्णं इत्युदक नाम (NG 1, 12)= With waters. (आपः) प्राणाः। आपो वै प्राणाः (Stph. 3, 8, 2, 4) प्राणो ह्यापः (Jaiminiyo 3,10,9)=Prānas or vital energies. (प्रस्तुभानः) प्रकर्षेण धरन्। =Uphold-ing well.

The true wisdom is defined and elaborated:

मा कस्यं यक्षं सदमिद्धुरो गा मा वेशस्यं प्रमिनतो मापेः ।
मा भ्रातुरग्ने अनृजोर्ऋणं वेर्मा सख्युर्दक्षं रिपोर्भुजेम ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O man shining like the fire ! do not go near the possessions of a crooked and violent person. He goes here and there for doing some nasty job. Do not touch such a thing belonging to a crooked kith and kin, even a crooked brother, however, good and charming it may look. Do not work under the pressure of a crooked friend and be never indebted to a crooked enemy, so that we may enjoy happiness.

PURPORT:—Those persons are really wise, who do not take away others' possessions, do not dress like a wicked, do not have the association of the violent wicked persons; do not misspend the honestly earned wealth; do not associate themselves with wicked relatives; do not trust these enemies and thus enjoy bliss.

NOTES: (दुरः) कुटिलस्य । = Of the crooked. (प्रमिनतः) प्रकर्षेण हिंसतः = Of very violent person. (सदम्) वस्तु । = Article, thing.

The subject of defence of a State is told:

रक्षा णो अग्ने तव रक्षणेभी रारक्षाणः सुमख प्रीणानः ।
प्रति ष्फुर वि रुज वीड्वंहो जहि रक्षो महि चिद्वावृधानम् ॥ १४ ॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you carry on the just dealings and protect us. Make us more and more industrious, be pleased and pleasing to us, and also enlighten us. Slay the enemy by your strength. Root out the sin and destory the demons or wickeds (Rakshasas) even though they may be very powerful, so that by your protection, we may enjoy happiness.

PURPORT :—Those kings only become illustrious who destory the wicked, increase the nobility and protect the State like fathers or guardians or guards of the people.

NOTES & REMARKS : (सुमख) सुष्ठुन्यायव्यवहारपालक । मख इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3, 17) यज्ञो वै मखः (Tandya 7,5,6) (Stph 6, 1.2, 1) मख इत्येतद् यज्ञनामधेयं छिद्रप्रतिषेधसामर्थ्यात् छिद्रं खमित्युक्तं तस्य मेति प्रतिषेधः । मा यज्ञं छिद्रं करिष्यतीति (Gopath उ. 2, 5) । यज्ञो वै श्रेष्ठतमं कर्म (Stph 1, 7, 1, 5) यज्ञो वै सुम्नम् (Stph 7, 2, 2, 4, 11, 7, 3, 1, 14) सुम्नमिति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) तस्मादन्यायादिदोषरहित सुखप्रद् न्यायव्यवहारो मखो यज्ञो वा ॥ One who conducts good and just dealings. (प्रीणानः) प्रसन्नः, प्रसादयन् । = Pleased and pleasing.

The importance of defence is stressed:

एभिर्भव सुमना अग्ने अर्कैरिमान्त्स्पृश मन्मभिः शूर वाजान् ।
उत ब्रह्माण्यङ्गिरो जुषस्व सं ते शस्तिर्देववाता जरेत ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRANSLATION:—O learned king ! you are like our life and are brave. Be of balanced mind and always cheerful along with the venerable and wise scholars, who are righteous and saviours from sin. Accept the noble merits, actions and temperament and enjoy great wealth, so that your praise made by the enlightened persons may be more effective.

PURPORT :—O king ! always have the association of the truthful highly learned persons and be worthy of admiration by preserving the State with justice according to their instructions.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अर्कैः) सत्कर्त्तव्यैः । अर्कः-मर्चनीयैः । अर्च पूजायाम् कृदाधारार्चिकलिभ्यः कः अर्को देवो भवति यदेन मर्चन्ति (NKT 5, 14) (उणा 3, 40) इति कप्रत्ययः । =Venerable, honourable. (वाजान्) प्राप्तव्याञ्छुभगुण-कर्मस्वभावान् ।=Noble merits, actions and temperament that should be attained. (ब्रह्माणि) महान्ति धनानि । = Great wealth of various kinds. (अङ्गिरः) प्राण इव वर्तमानः = Dear like life.

The duties of the subjects (people) are stated:

एता विश्वा विदुषे तुभ्यं वेधो नीथान्यग्ने निण्या वचांसि ।
निवचना कवये काव्यान्यशंसिषं मतिभिर्विप्र उक्थैः ॥ १६ ॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O very wise king ! you are endowed with wisdom. Whatever positive and assured words ! are used by seers, I utter in your praise. May these reach you, o learned sage ! I utter them along with other admirable wise men.

PURPORT :—The true praise is made only by the righteous and learned persons. It is the duty of the teachers and preachers to make their pupils and audience always truthful and learned.

NOTES & REMARKS: (वेधः) मेधाविन । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3,15) = Genius, very wise. (निण्या) निर्णीतानि। निण्यम् इति निर्णीतान्तर्हितनाम (NG 3,25) अथ निर्णीतार्थग्रहणाम् । = Definite, sure, certain. (मतिभिः) विद्वद्भिस्सह । मतय इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) = With wise men.

Like Rishi Dayananda, Prof. Wilson's translation of वेधसे as wise and कवि as sage used as epithets for अग्नये, clearly indicates that Agni stands here for a conscious wise leader like a king, and and not fire.

Sūktam—4

Rishi of the Sūktam—Vāmadeva Devatā—Agni. Chhanda-Pankti, Brihaspati and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama, Dhaivata and Madhyama.

The duties of an army Commander-in-chief are stated :

कृणुष्व पाजः प्रसितिं न पृथ्वीं याहि राजेवामवाँ इभेन ।
तृष्वीमनु प्रसितिं द्रूणानोऽस्तासि विध्य रक्षसस्तपिष्ठैः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O Commander-in-Chief of an army! like a mighty king proceed on an elephant, like a solid piece of land. Be powerful, so that you may shake off the peoples' sufferings and the thirst (desires) by helping them actively. Casting away their misery, pierce the wicked with your fierce weapons.

PURPORT :—O officers of the State! you should increase your strength like the earth, be dispensers of justice like a king and track down the wicked robbers and thieves like a wolf chases a thirsty deer and kills it.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रसितिम्) प्रबद्धाम् ।=Bondage. (द्रूणानः) शीघ्रकारी ।=Prompt, active. (अस्ता) प्रक्षेप्ता । (पाजः) बलम् । पाजः इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Thrower

The normal duties of the government officers are told :

तव भ्रमास आशुया पतन्त्यनु स्पृश धृषता शोशुचानः ।
तपूंष्यग्ने जुह्वा पतङ्गानसंदितो वि सृज विष्वगुल्काः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king! your wanderings are swift and undertake them with vigilant army, being your self pure. Like with the ladle the flames of the fire are touched, use (harness), your horses, which are like the sparks of the fire. Being inviolable, scatter electric arms over the foes from all sides.

PURPORT :—The officers of the State who are full of zest, zeal and prompt, should preserve their energy, and make use of electric and other powerful weapons over their enemies and achieve victory.

NOTES :—(घृषता) प्रगल्भेन सैन्येन ।=With the clever army. (पतङ्गान्) अग्निकणा इव वर्त्तमानानश्वान् ।=The horses which are like the sparks of the fire. (उल्का:) विद्युतः ।=Electric sparks.

The duties of the rulers are elaborated :

प्रति स्पशो वि सृंज तूर्णितमो भवा पायुर्विशो अस्या अदब्धः ।
यो नो दूरे अघशंसो यो अन्त्यग्ने माकिष्टे व्यथिरा दंधर्षीत् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TARNSLATION :—O learned king ! you promptly appoint spies and be the non-violent protector of your people against those who incite the adjacent and destant sinners. Let no malevolent foe prevail against us.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always accept good virtues, preserve your subjects well and slay the wickeds, robbers, thieves and other sinners, so that all may enjoy peace and happiness.

The duties of State officials are highlighted :

उदंग्ने तिष्ठ प्रत्या तंनुष्व न्य१मित्राँ ओषतात्तिग्महेते ।
यो नो अरांतिं समिधान चक्रे नीचा तं धंक्ष्यतसं न शुष्कंम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! shining like the fire, rise up. Expand your power everywhere and burn the wicked foes. O king ! growing strong from all sides (including the armed strength), you annihilate (as the last step) or put them behind the bars, which is like a dry well for the ones, who act like our fierce enemy, and try to humiliate us in every way. You deserve to be a king.

PURPORT:—It is the dnty of the State people to give up all indolence, to be industrious in every way and to annihilate (as the last resort) or imprison their enemies. They should be equally humiliated. Those who do so, a king should serve them, as it is they, who show the path.

NOTES :—(तिग्महेते) तिग्मा तीव्रा हेतिर्वृद्धिर्यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ ।=Whose growth on all sides is sharp. (अतसम्) कूपम् ।=Well. (ओषतात्) दह ।=Burn.

The duties of government servants are emphasized :

ऊर्ध्वो भंव प्रति विध्याध्यस्मदाविष्कृणुष्व दैव्यान्यग्ने ।
अवं स्थिरा तंनुहि यातुजूनां जामिमजांमिं प्र मृंणीहि शत्रूंन् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! full of splendour like the fire, you excel or surpass us, and chastise those who overpower us. Inspire or appreciate the services rendered by the enlightened firm people, civil or army, Extend the legitimate privileges and debar the undue favours. Destroy your enemies.

PURPORT:—Those only can remain firm in administrative works who are promote the exalted, grieve when they see men in ignoble position, are happy when they see men having legitimate enjoyments and are grief stricken at the sight of distressed.

NOTES : (यातुजूनाम्) प्राप्तवेगानाम् ।=Full of speed, active. (जामिम्) भोगम् ।=Employment.

More vividly the duties of state officials are said :]

स तें जानाति सुमतिं यविष्ठ य ईवंते ब्रह्मणे गातुमैरंत् ।
विश्वांन्यस्मै सुदिनानि रायो द्युम्नान्यर्यो वि दुरों अभि द्यौत् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O most youthful or energetic king! the master of his senses utters good words to you, and so he is well-versed in all sciences and knows the Vedas and Him.

All the time, such a person bestows happiness. He opens the doors of the treasurers of all kinds of wealth and reputation and he shines alround.

PURPORT :—O king! you should regard them as your friends who tender you noble advice or give good instructions to you. They are endowed with auspicious virtues, illustrious, loving, brave and knowers of politics.

NOTES :—(ईवते) विद्याव्याप्ताय ।=Pervading in the knowledge or well-versed in various sciences. (ब्रह्मणे) वेदविदे । वेदो ब्रह्म ।=Jaiminiya upani. 4, 25, 3)=For the knower of the Vedas. (द्युम्नानि) यशांसि । द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नंवा (NKT 5, 1, 5)=Good reputation.

The same subject of functions and duties are dealt :

सेदंग्ने अस्तु सुभगः सुदानुर्यस्त्वा नित्येन हविषा य उक्थैः ।
पिप्रींषति स्व आयुषि दुरोणे विश्वेदंस्मै सुदिना सासदिष्टिः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king! may the member of your council or assembly be who is endowed with good wealth and is a liberal donor. May all the days in his arduous life bring prosperity. May the performing of this Yajna (non-violent sacrifice) productive and fruitful for the one who with imperishable oblation of good articles and love and with noble words of praise-tries to please you at home and elsewhere.

PURPORT : O king ! may those persons become the heads of the various departments of your government, who desire to bring about the progress of the State with imperishable love, justice and humility and who establishing good relations between the rulers and the people, lead to peace and prosperity.

NOTES :—(उक्थै:) प्रशंसनै:। वच-परिभाषणे (अदा०) इति धातो; ।=With words of true praise. (इष्टि:) यजनक्रिया ।=Performance of the Yajna.

The duties of the rulers are elaborated :

अर्चामि ते सुमतिं घोष्यर्वाक्सं ते वावाता जरतामियं गीः ।
स्वश्वास्त्वा सुरथा मर्जयेमास्मे क्षत्राणि धारयेरनु द्यून् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! I honour the wise member of your council. Let your balanced speech and the civils generate knowledge and praise him well. May we do noble deeds with good horses and good cars. We uphold your wealth of various kinds every day, likewise you should also uphold our remunerative wealth received from the State.

PURPORT :—In a discussion, when a king seeks opinion from the members of his council about any appoinment for a particular post, they should give their opinion in favour of righteous and capable person. The king should also appoint capable men for all types of administrative works so that his image may ever grow.

NOTES :—(वावाता) दोषहन्त्री विद्याजनयित्री ।=Destroyer of evils, and generator of knowledge. (क्षत्राणि) राज्योद्भवानि धनानि। क्षत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10)=The wealth received from the work in the State.

The rulers' duties are highlighted :

इह त्वा भूर्या चरेदुप त्मन्दोषावस्तर्दीदिवांसमनु द्यून् ।
क्रीळन्तस्त्वा सुमनसः सपेमाभि द्युम्ना तस्थिवांसो जनानाम् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION:—O king ! you should always attend good deeds. May we day a d night praise you, because you shine among men on account of your noble virtues and illuminating others. In fact, they are endowed with reputation and wealth, and are firm in the discharge of our duties. They hold exercises in the handling of weapons for (for the training of Dhanurveda-the Military Sciences) the battle, and are noble-minded and happy. Undoubtedly, your misdeeds and bad conduct may strongly condemn you.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you are engaged in doing good deeds, giving up all vices, we will be constantly faithful to you, but we shall desert you if you resort to injustice.

NOTES :—(द्युम्ना) यशसा धनेन वा । द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 1, 7,) ।= With good reputation or wealth. (सपेम) आक्रुश्याम, निन्द्येम ।= Strongly condemn.

The rulers duties further explained :

यस्त्वा स्वश्वः सुहिरण्यो अग्न उपयाति वसुमता रथेन ।
तस्य त्राता भवसि तस्य सखा यस्त आतिथ्यमानुषग्जुजोषत् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION:—O King ! shining like the fire, you are the protector of the one, who possessed of good horses (transport system) and sound economic power approaches you with a presents-charming chariot laden with riches lovingly and who lovingly accepts your hospitality and honours. You become his friend.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should be only friendly to and protector of those persons who are benefactors of yourself and of your State.

The importance of education of the boys and girls is imphasized :

महो रुंजामि बन्धुता वचोभिस्तन्मा पितुर्गोतमादन्वियाय ।
त्वं नो अस्य वचसश्चिकिद्धि होतर्यविष्ठ सुक्रतो दमूनाः ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O king ! having received education from my very highly learned father, I eradicate all evils and enemies. Thus with those great words of wisdom, I establish brotherhood with all, so let that come to you. O most youthful (energetic) liberal donor ! your noble deeds are a man of self-control. You enlighten us with the great words of wisdom received from the enlightened and wisemen.

PURPORT:—O boys and girls ! we become full of bliss having good education from our mothers, fathers and preceptors, so you also should be.

NOTES—(गोतमात्) अतिशयेन गौः सकलविद्यास्तोता तस्मात् । गौरिति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16)=A very highly learned person who admires all sciences being well versed in them. (चिकिद्धि) ज्ञापय । =Enlighten.

TRANSLATOR S NOTES :—Shri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others have taken Gotama as the name of particular sage. Rishi Dayananda on the authority of the Nighantu (3.16;) interprets it a very highly learned person, a great scholar and a great devotee. The epithets used further in the mantra for Agni by Prof. Wilson with translation as "Possessed" of excellent wisdom "सुक्रता and as exceedinly wise" by Griffith clearly justifies the very meaning that the word stands here not for fire but for an wiseman, who is also qualified as दमूना i.e. man of self-control.

The subject of defence of people is told :

अस्वप्नजस्तरणयः सुशेवा अतन्द्रासोऽवृका अश्रमिष्ठाः ।
ते पायवः सध्र्यञ्चो निषद्याग्ने तव नः पान्त्वमूर ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION—O wise king ! may the officers of your

State and servants not feel unduly fatigued, if they are ever vigilant, not slack in the discharge of their duties, energetic, bestowers of great happiness, unslothful and free from dishonesty. They should be benignand, co-operating with one another, having their due positions, and thus protect us.

PURPORT:—The subjects should always assert to the king, to appoint righteous, ever alert, industrious and mighty persons for the protection of the people.

NOTES : (तरणाय:) तरुणावस्थां प्राप्ताः। = Youthful. (अवृकाः) अस्तेनाः। वृक इति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24) = Non thieves, honest.

ररक्ष तान्त्सुकृतो विश्ववेदा दिप्सन्त इद्रिपवो नाह देभुः॥ १३॥

13. TRANSLATIONS:—O king! the purifiers like the fire, know all the subjects. They protect the benevolent persons who lovingly preserve us from all troubles. They also protect a blind man from all calamities, so that hypocritic enemies may not be able to harm us in any way.

PURPORT :—O king! your attendants should be only honest and truthful person who know each other and treat your articles (state property) as their own and protect others like their own lives, and their own kith and kin. Thus that strength of the adversaries may be destroyed soon.

NOTES : (मामतेयम्) मम भावो ममता तस्या इदम्। = Love. (दिप्सन्तः) दम्भमिच्छन्तः। = Hypocrities.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES:—Sri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others have interpreted मामतेयम् as a Proper Noun of a blind sage named Deerghatamă, the son of Mamata, which is mere a fiction. In fact, the word मामेतयम् means love, as the word दीर्घतमा or anything of that kind has not even been mentioned in the mantra.

The subject of rulers' duties are further stated:

त्वयां वयं संधन्य१ स्त्वोतास्त्वं प्रार्णित्यश्याम वाजांन् ।
उभा शंसां सूदय सत्यतातेऽनुष्ठुया कृणुह्यह्याण ॥ १४ ॥

14 TRANSLATION:—O king! you observe and augment truthful conduct, are free from ill reputation of being negligent or shirker. Be agreeable to us and make us admirable far and near, remove all our mistakes and evils, so that under your guidance and with your co-operation, may we blessed and enjoy wealth, knowledge and other desirable objects.

PURPORT:—A king should have filial love towards the staff of the State and they should have friendship with him. They should rightly admire one another, should remove all mistakes and evils lay and propogate true policy, give up all such ignoble acts as cause shame and thus enjoy vast and government.

NOTES : (अहृयाणा) लज्जारहित । = Free from shame while doing good deed. (अनुष्ठुया) आनुकूल्येन । = Agreeably. (वाजान्) विज्ञानधनादिपदार्थान् । वाज इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 8) = Knowledge, wealth and other good things.

More about the duties of the rulers is stated:

अया ते अग्ने समिधा विधेम प्रति स्तोमं शस्यमानं गृभाय ।
दहाशसों रक्षसः पाह्य१ स्मान्द्रुहो निदो मित्रमहो अवद्यात् ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you purify like fire, accept the praise with love that we offer you. Your brilliant good policy make you admirable everywhere. Remove (destroy) the wicked persons of diabolocial nature who do not admire good persons and virtues. Keep us away from all malice, evil conduct. Reproach and protect us and all those who honour great and good friends.

PURPORT:—If the king and his ministers rule over the State with the greatest measure of mutual accord and with humility, they remain aloof from animosity, calumny and unrighteous conduct.

Observing righteousness and good manners, they spread good reputation in all directions.

NOTES: (समिधा) सम्यक् प्रदीप्तया। नीत्या सह। = With brilliant or splendid good policy. (अवद्यात्) अधर्माचरणात्। = From unrighteous or evil conduct.

Sūktam 5

Rishi of the Sŭktam—Vămadeva. Devatā—Vaishvănara. Chhanda—Trishtup and Pankti of various types. Svara—Dhaivata and Panchama.

The duties and attributes of a king are compared with Agni:

वैश्वानराय मीळ्हुषे सजोषाः कथा दाशेमाग्नये बृहद्भाः ।
अनूनेन बृहता वक्षथेनोप स्तभायदुपमिन्न रोधः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining like the fire how can we give happiness to you who are bright with great lustre, shower benefits, leader of all persons and upholder of the State like a dam. With anger and wrath (at injustice) and the one who duly measures, let all of us try to confer happiness on your loving behaviour and the spirit of service.

PURPORT:—The rulers over a State being like the sun are illuminators of good virtues, restrain the wicked like a water dam. They regard the happiness and misery as well gain and loss of others as their own, and so can administer the State properly with justice and laws the land.

NOTES : (वक्षथेन) रोषेण। = With wrath or righteous indignation. (सजोषाः) समानप्रीतिसेवनाः। अत्र वचनव्यत्ययेनैकवचनम् = Full of equal love and the spirit of service.

The duties and attributes of a ruler are mentioned:

मा निन्दत य इमां मह्यं रातिं देवो ददौ मर्त्याय स्वधावान् ।
पाकाय गृत्सो अमृतो विचेता वैश्वानरो नृतमो यह्वो अग्निः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION:—O men ! do not reproach a divine king who is a great genius, immortal (by the nature of the soul), endowed with much knowledge and has the power of giving instructions. Shining among men, because of his virtues and the best among them, he is great like the sun. Having large stocks of abundant foodgrains and other kinds of prosperity, he gives me all this gift in various ways. He gives it to me a mortal human being of mature dealing.

PURPORT:—O people ! never reproach a king who is endowed with the attributes of the fire (purity, splendour etc), is giver of happiness to all and full of notable virtues. Do not also praise a wicked person.

NOTES:—(यह्वः) महान् । यह्वः इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) =Great. (स्वधावान्) वहुन्नाद्यैश्वर्य्ययुक्तः । स्वधा इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)=Full of abundant foodgrains and other kinds of wealth. (गृत्सः) यो गृणाति स मेधावी । गृत्स इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)=Genius who glorifies God and admires the virtues of others.

What should a wiseman do is stated : ?

साम द्विबर्हा महि तिग्मभृष्टिः सहस्ररेता वृषभस्तुविष्मान् ।
पदं न गोरपगूळ्हं विविद्वानग्निर्मह्यं प्रेदु वोचन्मनीषाम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—He alone is to be respected by us who is advanced in the knowledge and humility, mature in thoughts, endowed with vitality, mighty like a bull and full of splendour like the fire. Very highly learned, he teaches me in trailing the conclusive to act as a seeker for the truth (wisdom) and confident of successof action.

PURPORT :—He is the best scholar who leads men to the light f knowleage. As by trailing after the foot-mark of a cow, a man locates his cow, likewise the knowledge of the physical sciences should be acquired.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(द्विबर्हा:) द्वाभ्यां विद्याविनयाभ्यां वृद्धः=Advanced in true knowledge and humility, both. (तुविष्मान्) बहुबलः। तुवीति बहुनाम (NG 3,1) शुष्ममिति बलनाम (NG 2,9)=Very powerful, mighty. (तिग्मभृष्टिः) तिग्मा तीव्रा भृष्टिः परिपाको यस्य सः।=Whose maturity of understanding is sharp.

The duties of a ruler to bring happiness to all are specified :

प्र ताँ अग्निर्बभसत्तिग्मजंम्भस्तपिष्ठेन शोचिषा यः सुराधाः।
प्र ये मिनन्ति वरुणस्य धाम प्रिया मित्रस्य चेततो ध्रुवाणि ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—He alone gives happiness to all who is full of splendour like the sharpened teeth of the flames of the fire and is endowed with good economic potential-with his extreme splendour, he takes to task those who trangress the desirable and firm commandents of a noble person, who is friendly to all and enlightens them.

PURPORT :—That man becomes admirable who slays the selfish persons destroying the happiness of others.

NOTES ;—(बभसत्) दीप्येद् भर्त्सेत्।=Takes to task or condemn. (शोचिषा) तेजसा।=With splendour.

The subject of punishment in the area of administration is dealt :

अभ्रातरो न योषणो व्यन्तः पतिरिपो न जनयो दुरेवाः।
पापासः सन्तो अनृता असत्या इदं पदमजनता गभीरम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—Those persons should ever be punished, who speak untruth, whose conduct is full of falsehood, and who are obsessed with vice. The wicked women who have no brother, they create great nuisance in the family of their husbands.

PURPORT :—O men incharge of law ! keep away and punish the women who are hostile to their husbands and behave like the enemies. Punish also those fiercely wicked persons who always trouble and harm others.

NOTES :—(पतिरिपः) पत्युर्भूमीः । रिप इति पृथ्वीनाम (NG 1, 1)=The land or home of the husbands. (दुरेवाः) दुर्व्यसनाः ।=Given to vices. (योषणाः) भार्याः ।=Wives.

The duties of a teacher are told :

इदं मे अग्ने कियते पावकामिनते गुरुं भारं न मन्म ।
बृहद्दधाथ धृषता गंभीरं यह्वं पृष्ठं प्रयसा सप्तधातु ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O teacher ! you purify like the fire. Kindly impart that to me who possesses little power and is nonviolent. The knowledge which develops my powers and is weighty (significant) is existent in you. Give me also that great wealth along with a clever cheerful and loving associate, who may be serene in case of any consultation, and is wealthy of gold, silver and other metals numbering seven.

PURPORT :—Those students who know little but beg for knowledge and seek for the means of acquiring wealth from the wise and enlightened persons, become highly learned.

NOTES :—(अमिनते) अहिंसकाय ।=Non-violent. (प्रयसा) प्रीतेन ।=Loving and cheerful.

An important element in the marriage is taught :

तमिन्न्वे३व समना समानमभि क्रत्वा पुनती धीतिरश्याः ।
ससस्य चर्मन्नधि चारु पृश्नेरग्रे रुप आरुपितं जबारु ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O virgin girl ! purifying with your intellect and upholding noble virtues, you should develop identical nature on getting a suitable husband. He should act like the sun or moon, planets etc. established in the firmament by God and get from him virtuous offspring along with the household duties with love.

PURPORT :—If a Brahamchārini virgin marriage a man identical in nature, and a Brahamchari marries a girl of conforming nature, they shine like the sun, moon and planets established by God in the firmament.

NOTES & REMARKS : (धीतिः) शुभगुणधारिका ।=Upholder of noble virtues. (पृश्नेः) अन्तरिक्षस्य । पृश्निरिति साधारणनाम (NG 1,4) अत्र द्युलोकांतरिक्ष-साधारणमित्यर्थः । पृश्निरादित्यो भवति । प्राश्नुते एनं वा इति नैरुक्ताः संपृष्टो रसान् । संस्पृष्टा मासं ज्योतिषां संस्पृष्टो मासेति वा अथ द्यौः संस्पृष्टा ज्योतिभिः पुण्य-वृद्धिम् । =Of the firmament, (रूपः) आरोपणकर्त्तुः ।=Of the husband who puts the seed.

About the questioner is told :

प्रवाच्यं वचसः किं मे अस्य गुहा हितमुप निणिग्वदन्ति ।
यदुस्रियाणामप वारिव व्रन्पाति प्रियं रूपो अग्रं पदं वेः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—What is it that is hidden in my words (speech) and intellect ? That is particularly to be told because it is purifier of all. Who tells us about this reality ? Who protects their knowledge of the Supreme Being which is like the water quenches the thirst of the cows, and like the high place of a bird hidden in the sky that covers all the desirable place of the earth ?

PURPORT :—O learned men ! who is the conscious. Being residing in our intellect about whom we should particularly instruct and is purifier that protects us like the water. It protects the way, water protects the quadruepads and is so dear. Teach us about that Supreme Being, Who is hidden like a bird in the sky ?

NOTES :—(निणिक्) नितरां शुन्धति ।=Purifies. (रूपः) पृथिव्याः । रूप इति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1)=Of the earth. (उस्रियाणाम्) गवाम् । उस्रिया इति गोनाम (NG 2, 11)=Of the cows.

Something about the solver of the problem is told :

इदमु त्यन्महि महागनीकं यदुस्रिया सचेत पूर्व्यं गौः ।
ऋतस्य पदे अधि दीद्यानं गुहा रघुष्यद्रघुयाद्विवेद ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O seekers after truth ! know that your soul is powerful like the great army of the heroes. It shines in the attainable State of God, who is absolutely True. It shines in the cave of the intellect. It moves fast and only a sharp intellect can know its nature. You should know that it (soul) is the giver of happiness to us, like a cow is conferer of happiness upon her calf.

PURPORT :—O hearers ! you should know the real nature of your soul. It is the prompter of the intellect, sometimes moves fast and sometimes slow, and shines wi:hin God that is absolutely. True, very powerful like an army or giver of happiness like a fast-going active cow to her calf.

NOTES : (अनीकम्) सैन्यमिव ।=Army. (रघुष्यत्) सद्योगन्त्री ।=Fast going (cow). (उस्रिया) क्षीरादिप्रदा । Cow, the giver of milk etc.

The same subject of an inquisitor (desirous of knowledge) is told:

अध द्युतानः पित्रोः सचासामनुत गुह्यं चारु पृश्नेः ।
मातुष्पदे परमे अन्ति षद्गोर्वृष्णः शोचिषः प्रयतस्य जिह्वा ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O seekers of truth ! you should know that soul is that which shines by the teaching of the parents through a truthful speech. It is in the exalted position of God, who is like mother to all. He (God) is like the speech of a scholar showing happiness, is self-industrious and splendid and charming like the sun in the sky though hidden within.

PURPORT:—As there is the sun shining in the middle of the heaven and the earth, as the speech of a highly learned person illuminates knowledge and as the firmament is not far off from anyone, in the same manner, soul and God are near each other (God being Omni-present).

NOTES & REMARKS: (प्रश्नेः) अन्तरिक्षस्य मध्ये । पृश्निरिति साधारणनाम (NG 1, 4) = Of the firmament. (सचा) सत्येन । सचा इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) अत्र सत्यज्ञानप्रापकार्थं ग्रहणम् । = Truthful.

More about the inquisitor (desirious of knowledge):

ऋतं वोचे नमसा पृच्छ्यमानस्तवाशसा जातवेदो यदीदम् ।
त्वमस्य क्षयसि यद्ध विश्वं दिवि यदु द्रविणं यत्पृथिव्याम् ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :— O Omniscient God ! while cross—questioning with respect and in proper manner, I declare to the people the truth, that You are the Lord of all this wealth (power) etc., that is, in the resplendent sun, on the earth, in the air and other elements. You are Omnipresent and pervading all.

PURPORT :—O men ! I tell everyday about that God, Who is all-pervading and in which all dwell. He is absolutely true. You must always adore Him or have communion with Him.

NOTES: (जातवेद:) जातप्रज्ञान । = God the Omniscient Lord or a learned person. (क्षयसि) निवससि । = Dwell. (दिवि) प्रकाशमाने परमात्मने सूर्य्ये वा । In the resplendent sun or in God. (आशसा) समन्तात् प्रशंसितेन । = Proper manner admired on all sides. (द्रविणम्) धनम् । = Wealth, strength.

About a questioner or a seeker after truth is told:

किं नो अस्य द्रविणं कद्ध रत्नं वि नो वोचो जातवेदश्चिकित्वान् ।
गुहाध्वनः परमं यन्नो अस्य रेकु पदं न निदाना अगन्म ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATOIN :—O learned person ! you surely distinguish when you tell us about the great glory, and real wealth in this world. May we attempt to attain that last goal of the secret path, hidden in the cave of intellect. Indeed, you move forward leaving behind all reproachers in this world. Let us know definitely the nature of that reality.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! give us the final answer of the questions, which is our real glory, which is a charming wealth. Let us distinguish between our reproachers and which are doubtful things ?

NOTES: (रेकु) शङ्कितम् । = Doubtful. (द्रविणम्) यशः । धनं द्रविणमुच्यते यत् एनत् अभिद्रवन्ति (NKT 9, 1, 1) = Good reputation or glory.

The seeker after truth is admired:

का मर्यादां वयुना कद्ध वाममच्छां गमेम रघवो न वाजम् ।
कदा नो देवीरमृतस्य पत्नीः सूरो वर्णेन ततनन्नुषासः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION:—O learned persons ! tell us which is the proper boundary (which we should not transgress) ? What are the actions to be done ? When shall we acquire the most admirable knowledge like the prompt and active persons ? When shall we be united with true knowledge like the shining dawns, which are like the wives of the immortal Time, all the time united (interwoven) with the sun ?

PURPORT:—Here is a simile used in the mantra. It is the duty of men to ask the absolutely truthful learned persons what should be the duties of men and the ultimate reality to be attained ? They should ask him as to when will he make them highly learned like the dawns illuminated by the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS: (वयुना) कर्माणि । वयुनमिति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 9) =Actions, duties. (वामम्) प्रशस्तवस्तु । वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 2,8)= Admirable things. (रघवः) सद्यःकारिणः = Active or prompt. (गुहा) बुद्धेः । = Of the intellect. (वाजम्) विज्ञानम् । =Special knowledge.

The teachers are told to answer the questions of their students:

अनिरेण वचसा फल्ग्वेन प्रतीत्येन कृधुनातृपासः ।
अधा ते अग्ने किमिहा वदन्त्यनायुधास आसता सचन्ताम् ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION:—O learned person ! those who are not satisfied and convinced with an answer to big or small complicated question, they can not speak with authority like an unarmed soldier in the battles. What is to their credit ? Therefore, answer their questions well.

PURPORT :—If listeners or students are not satisfied or convinced with the answers received from the learned preachers and teachers, they should go on putting such searching questions, till they are satisfied. After receiving satisfactory answers, they should begin the desired work.

NOTES :—(अनिरेण) अरमणीयेन । =Not charming or convincing. (फल्वेन) महता । =Big. (क्षुना) ह्रस्वेनाऽल्पेन । =Small or short.

The subject of inquisitiveness is elaborated :

अस्य श्रिये समिधानस्य वृष्णो वसोरनीकं दम आ रुरोच ।
रुशद्वसानः सुदृशीकरूपः क्षितिर्न राया पुरुवारो अद्यौत् ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—He alone can enjoy all happiness and have full satisfaction, who is beautiful, possessing lovely form, and acceptable and glorified by many shines like the wealth of earth. It is like that king who is splendid, mighty and gives shelter and inhabitation to many in his home and State, and for whose majesty and prosperity big army shines on all sides.

PURPORT :—Only those can be the sovereigns of a very vast government who are beautiful (internally and extenally), endowed with forgiveness endurance and other virtues like the earth and are very respectable. Well admired with the prosperity of an empire, they raise very powerful well trained army.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुशत्) सुन्दरं रूपम् । रुशत् इति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) पदगतो । =Beautiful or lovely form. (दमे) गृहे । दमे इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) =At home or the State which is like the home of the powerful ruler.

Sūktam—6

Rishi of the Sūktam—Vāmadeva. Devatā—Agni. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pantki of various types. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are stated :

ऊर्ध्व ऊ षु णो अध्वरस्य होतरग्ने तिष्ठ देवताता यजीयान् ।
त्वं हि विश्वमभ्यसि मन्म प्र वेधसश्चित्तिरसि मनीषाम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O liberal donor and learned person! purifier like the fire, you are the best performer of the Yajna (unifying act) among the enlightened men, supervisor of our inviolable and non-violent righteous dealings and possess all the knowledge of a genius scholar, You surpass the wisdom of others. Therefore be well established and honoured among us.

PURPORT :—O men ! honour the persons who have received all knowledge from great scholars, are protectors of all and givers of wisdom or good advice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अध्वरस्य) अहिंसनीयस्य धर्म्यस्य व्यवहारस्य । अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम । ध्वरति हिंसा कर्मा तत्प्रतिषेधः (NKT 1,7) =Of the inviolable righteous dealing. (होतः) दातः । =Liberal donor. (वेधसः) मेधाविनो विपश्चितः । (देवताता) देवताता देवताता इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3, 17) । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) =Of a genius scholar.

The duties of the enlightened persons are told :

अमूरो होता न्यसादि विक्ष्वग्निर्मन्द्रो विदथेषु प्रचेताः ।
ऊर्ध्वं भानुं सवितेवाश्रेन्मेतेव धूमं स्तभायदुप द्याम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—Much happiness can be achieved if a highly learned person, free from all stupidity, accepter of good virtues and giver of bliss to all is appointed on the State duties and battles. Like the fire emitting smoke or the sun in the sky, spreading his light above and below always dispene justice.

PURPORT :—The people can never suffer misery if they appoint or elect a king who is mighty like the sun, burner of the wickeds like the fire, shining like the moon among the subjects on account of justice and humility, and conqueror of the foes in the battles.

NOTES :—(विदथेषु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । =In the battles. (मन्द्रः) आनन्दप्रदः । =Giver of bliss. (धाम) प्रकाशम् । Light.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Because the epithet प्रचेताः used for Agni has been translated by Prof. Wilson as sagaious, and Griffith as wise, it clearly shows that by Agni an intelligent and learned person like a king is meant as interpreted by Rishi Dayananda, and not the material fire.

The duties of the enlightened are highlighted :

यता सुजूर्णी रातिनी घृताची प्रदक्षिणिद् देवतातिमुराणः ।
उदु स्वरुर्नवजा नाक्रः पश्वो अनक्ति सुधितः सुमेकः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a man should behave like the night which comes at fixed time (as ordained by God) and provides happiness and peace and pervades the east and other directions quickly. It manifests the divine morning at its closure. He should also act like the sun causes the day break which ushers true dawn at the day break. It is brilliant and benevolent giving new life to many animals tures like a new enthusiastic preacher. He should not kill creabut desire their welfare.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the preachers to tell people about their duties to be discharged day and night, so that all may accomplish their welfare during their walking, eating and waking etc. properly and regularly.

NOTES :—(घृताची) रात्रिः । घृताचीति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) ।=Night. (स्वरुः) उपदेष्टा । =Preacher. (सुमेकः) सुष्ठु प्रकाशमानः ।=Resplendent or brilliant. (अनक्ति) कामयते । =Desires. (सुधितः) सुहितः । =Benevolent.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—While the Vedas ban killing of animals (स्वरति हिंसाकर्म तत्प्रतिषेधः) Prof. Wilson's translation as "the impendiug shining axe falls upon the victims" is basically illogical.

The duties of enlightened are stated :

स्तीर्णे बर्हिषि समिधाने अग्ना ऊर्ध्वो अध्वर्युर्जुजुषाणो अस्थात् ।
पर्यग्निः पशुपा न होता त्रिविष्ट्येति प्रदिव उराणः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the Adhvaryu (performer of the non-violent sacrifice and other noble acts) should be like the Agni (sun), which shines in the brightest firmament, sometime under the cover of clouds and the sky giving much light with its rays. He sh ould be like the priest who is protector of animals, doing always, good benevolent actions with love and spirit of service.

PURPORT :—Those who always do good to others with non-violent acts and becoming learned, shine well like the sun in the sky.

NOTES :—(त्रिविष्टि) आकाशे । =In the sky. (बर्हिषि) अन्तरिक्षे । =In the firmament. (स्तीर्णे) आच्छादिते । =Covered. (जुजुषाणः) सेवमानः । =Serving with love, doing noble deeds lovingly.

Something about God is taught :

परि त्मना मितद्रुरेति होताग्निर्मन्द्रो मधुवचा ऋतावा ।
द्रवन्त्यस्य वाजिनो न शोका भयन्ते विश्वा भुवना यदभ्राट् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—As the rays of the sun spread in all directions like the horses and it shines, likewise is God, Who is Almighty, and the whole universe trembles before Him. The man who distinguishes between truth and untruth, who is sweet-tongued, is purifier like the fire and performer of Yajna. He does all movements, in proper measure, gives bliss. Being full of bliss he approaches God from all sides (always thinks of Him), and attains all happiness.

PURPORT :—O men ! all should observe truthfulness in all dealings and practise Yoga for acquiring true knowledge of God, Whose light is shining every where. As He is the creator of the sun, moon, stars and planets etc. and from whom all fear, He is Omnipotent.

NOTES :—(शोका:) प्रकाशा: । =Lights. (मितद्रु:) यो मितं द्रवति गच्छति स: । =Doer of all movements in proper measures.

The attributes of a king are told :

भद्रा ते अग्ने स्वनीक संदृग्घोरस्य सतो विषुणस्य चारुः ।
न यत्ते शोचिस्तमसा वरन्त न ध्वस्मानस्तन्वी३ रेप आ धुः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O man ! you possess good arms, and are our king. You deliver justice to a fierce wicked persons. You are a good man and a man of moody nature, beautiful and auspicious, whose splendour can not be destroyed by violent foes even under darkness of the night. Your liberal policy makes men refrain from sinful acts.

PURPORT :—In the reign of a king who is impartial in his dealings and whose policy is liberal and non-obtrusive, none should desire to commit sins and crimes.

NOTES :—(स्वनीक) उत्तमसैन्य ।=Possessing good army. (रेप:) अपराधम् । =Fault, sin. (ध्वस्मान:) ध्वंसका: शत्रव: । =Violent foes. (शोचि:) दीप्ति: । Splendour.

The duty of serving the parents is stressed :

न यस्य सातुर्जनितोरवारि न मातरापितरा नू चिदिष्टौ ।
अधा मित्रो न सुधितः पावको३ग्निर्दीदाय मानुषीषु विक्षु ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the person who is able to distinguish between truth and untruth and whose parents are not happy and honoured, he lands in miseries. But that son shines among men like a benevolent friend and like the purifying fire, whose parents are happy and respected.

PURPORT :—That son is indeed unfortunate and miserable in whose life the parents suffer and are dishonoured. The son who renders good service to the parents and makes them happy, gets good reputation among the people and enjoys happiness.

NOTES :—(साधुः) सत्यासत्ययोर्विभाजकस्य । =Of the person who can distinguish between truth and untruth. (दीदाये) दीप्यते । दीदयति ज्वलतिकर्मा (NG 1, 16) ।=Shines.

The duties of enlightened persons are stated :

द्विर्यं पञ्च जीजनन्त्संवसानाः स्वसारो अग्निं मानुषीषु विक्षु ।
उषर्बुधमथर्यो३ न दन्तं शुक्रं स्वासं परशुं न तिग्मम् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—The learned persons can accomplish all good works who live in the midst of common men, and cover (utilise) fire (knowledge). Like the fire fingers of each hand they do good to others. Like non-violent women washing their face and teeth, they purify people and destroy alleviate their sufferings, like a sharp axe cutting down the wood in making a toy. He gets up early in the dawn, and by becoming highly learned, turns to be twice born (द्विज).

PURPORT :—O men ! people accomplish all works with their fingers. In the same manner, the enlightened persons should get up early in the morning (in the last of the night) and accomplish the welfare of the people. They should alleviate the sufferings of the people like a sharp axe cuts the wood and purifies the subjects as young women clean their face and teeth. They should give happiness to the people by making them twice born (giving second birth in knowledge).

NOTES & REMARKS : (स्वसारः) अङ्गुलयः । स्वसार इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG

2, 5) =Fingers. (अथर्य:) अहिंसिता: स्त्रिय: । अथर्यति गतिकर्मा (NG 2, 14) ज्ञानवत्य: सुखप्रापिकाश्च । =Non-violent and inviolable women.

(Dvija or twice-born are those who attain true knowledge, and are awarded the sacred thread यज्ञोपवीत in recognition of their meritousness Ed.).

The superiority of the people is mentioned :

तव त्ये अ॑ग्ने हरितो॑ घृतस्ना रोहितास ऋज्वञ्चः स्वञ्चः ।
अरुषासो वृषण ऋजुमुष्का आ देवतातिमह्वन्त दस्माः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should use your fingers, bathed in water of ghee (clarified butter). These make you grow (by doing good works), and are engaged in performing straightforward and noble acts and which perform Yajnas. Like the mighty well-trained horses, they go straight and destroy all miseries. These fingers and such powerful horses should be properly utilised by you.

PURPORT :—The persons simplify and solve their problems, who increase their economic power, doing good works with their fingers (hands) like the powerful horses. (It shows the importance of manual power. Ed)

NOTES .—(रोहितास:) वर्द्धका: ।=Which cause growth. (अरुषास:) सुशिक्षितास्तुरङ्गा: । अरुषा इत्यश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) =Well trained horse. (हरित:) अङ्गुलय: हरित इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2, 5) =The fingers. (दस्मा:) दु:खोपक्षयितार: । =Destroyers of miseries.

The importance of common people is highlighted :

ये ह त्ये ते सह॑माना अयासस्त्वेषासो॑ अग्ने अर्चयश्चरन्ति ।
श्येनासो न दुवसनासो अर्थं तुविष्वणसो मारुतं न शर्धः ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! you are purifying like the fire. You should honour the persons who are able to pull on with happiness and misery alike and other sets of emotions. They are great scholars, splendid, active like the horses and blessed with the spirit of service to others. They like the might of the wind, pray to God for more strength, accomplish good works with their full force with requisite aids.

PURPORT :—O men ! those persons should be respected who are of forgiving nature, shining on account of the righteous conduct, and are illustrious, prompt and powerful like the horses.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अयासः) प्राप्तविज्ञानासः ।=Those who have acquired good knowledge, scholars. (श्येनासः) श्येनः पक्षीव सद्यो गन्ताऽश्वाः । श्येनास इत्यश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) =Horses active and fast going like the hawks. (दुवसनासः) परिचारकाः । दुवस्यति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) =Attendents, servants.

The importance of common man is emphasized :

अकारि ब्रह्म समिधान तुभ्यं शंसात्युक्थं यजते व्यू धाः ।
होतारमग्निं मनुषो नि षेदुर्नमस्यन्त उशिजः शंसमायोः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O brilliant learned person ! always support the God fearing men and they sit near a virtuous men, purifying like the fire, liberal donor and appreciate ideal life. Support him who praises your admirable good wealth economic potential (in the form of wisdom, knowledge etc.), and work for the welfare of unifiers. You earn wealth for them.

PURPORT :—O learned person or king ! those persons are admired everywhere, who desire wealth for you, and bow before God and the enlightened men.

NOTES :—(ब्रह्म) महद्धनम् । =Great wealth. (यजते) सङ्गच्छते । =For the unifier. (उशिजः) कामयमानाः । =Desiring.

Agni here is mentioned as God :

अग्ने कदा त आनुषग्भुवद्देवस्य चेतनम् ।
अधा हि त्वा जगृभ्रिरे मर्तासो विक्ष्वीड्यम् ॥ २ ॥

TRANSLATION :—O God ! when will men act according to your instructions Who are Giver of happiness and Resplendent? When will they be wholly agreeable to you? When will men accept You, the Omniscient as Admirable and Adorable by all people? This is our desire.

PURPORT :—O God! we constantly pray to You, desirous to know when will all men be devoted to You. Acting in accordance with Your commands, we are true worshippers by Your Grace.

O merciful Indwelling spirit! make all people full of love towards You soon.

NOTES :—(अग्ने) परमात्मन् । =O God. (आनुषक्) अनुकूलः । =Agreeable. (देवस्य) सुखदातुः सर्वत्र प्रकाशमानस्य । =Of Thee who art Giver of happiness and shining every where.

The Agni is compared with God :

ऋतावानं विचेतसं पश्यन्तो द्यामिव स्तृभिः ।
विश्वेषामध्वराणां हस्कर्तारं दमेदमे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The men who see God as the illuminator of non-violent and in-violable Yajnas and inanimate matter, they are absolutely truthful, resplendent like the sky with stars, and present in every house or place (becauce of their reputation) and they accept Him as such in their hearts and shine well.

PURPORT :—Those who know that God is the Illuminator of the inanimate material cause of the universe and every house, they shine in the world like the moon or planets in the solar world by the light of the sun.

NOTES :—(स्तृभिः) नक्षत्रैः । With stars and planets. (हस्कर्त्तारम्) प्रकाशकर्त्तारम् =Illuminator. (दमे दमे) गृहे गृहे । दमे इति गृहनाम (=NG 3,4) =In every house.

The significance of Agni is underlined :

आशुं दूतं विवस्वंतो विश्वा यश्चर्षणीरभि ।
आ जंभ्रुः केतुमायवो भृगंवाणं विशेविंशे ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—That learned man becomes full of all bliss and joy, who takes from the sun Agni (energy/power). It is like a messenger, and rapidly ripening all things for the welfare of the people. He upholds that Agni (electricity) as enlightened scientists, take all light and knowledge.

PURPORT :—Those who take energy/power from the sun and other sources are givers of happiness to the people.

PURPORT :— O king ! if you become self-controlled and just, then all will be able to deliver good to the people. By inviting you to associate in righteous conduct, we get prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS : (वीरपेशाः) वीराणां पेशो रूपमिव रूपं येषान्ते । पेश इति रूपनाम (N G 3. 7) । =Whose appearence is like that of the heroes. (इत्थाधिये) अनेक प्रकारेण धीर्यस्य तस्मै । इत्था इति सत्यनाम =whose intellect is of assured kind and truth, (NG.3,10) :

An ideal king should be an enlightend wise man and source of inspiration setting an example of spotless noble life for others to follow. God is the Sovereign of the universe and the mantra is equally applicable in His case.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are stated; by the illustration of Agni :

त्वद्वा॒जी वा॑ज॒म्भ॒रो विहा॑या अभिष्टि॒कृज्जा॑यते स॒त्यशु॑ष्मः ।
त्वद्र॒यिर्दे॒वजू॑तो मयो॒भुस्त्वदा॒शुर्जू॒जुवाँ॑ अग्ने॒ अर्वा॑ ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! you generate Agni in the form of energy. It takes us soon to distant places, is capable to hold much weight, full of true strength (vigorous), and speedy fulfiller of desires. The wealth known by the enlightened persons and applied is the source of happiness and it is manifested through you. It acts like a swift un-arrested horse.

PURPORT :— O men ! the Agni is the form of power/energy. It is manifested by you and knowledge. It can carry weighty vehicles, is source of happiness, producer of wealth and causes swift locomotion.

NOTES :—(विहायाः) विजिहीते सद्यो गच्छति येन सः। =Which makes us move soon. (जूजुवान्) भृशं गमयिता। =Causing much and speedy movement. (अर्वा) यः सद्य ऋच्छति गच्छति सः। अग्निर्वा अर्वा (Taittiriya 1, 3, 6, 4) =Speedy. (वाजी) वेगवान्। =Rapid, quick. (वाजम्भरः) प्राप्तं बहुभारं धरति सः। =Carrier of much weight.

The duties of learned leader are told :

त्वाम॑ग्ने प्रथ॒मं दे॑व॒यन्तो॑ दे॒वं मर्ता॑ अमृत म॒न्द्रजि॑ह्वम्।
द्वे॒षो॒युत॒मा वि॑वासन्ति धी॒भिर्दमू॑नसं गृ॒हप॑तिम॒मूर॑म् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned leader! you are immortal by the nature of soul. You should also serve those mortals who desire to acquire true knowledge and therefore serve you. They should be first and foremost among the enlightened persons, who use sweet language and thus gladden. They should be free from malice and ignorance, self-controlled and master of the house. They serve you with good intellect and noble actions.

PURPORT :—The persons are desired by all who have become scholars and enlightened householders. They make the children of others learned by the observance of Brahamcharya and by imparting good education, by dispelling ignorance and other vices and making them endowed with peace and other noble virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS: (अग्ने) परमविद्वन् : =Great scholar. (देवयन्तः) कामयमानाः। =Desiring knowledge and other virtues. (द्वेषोयुतम्) द्वेषादिभीरहितम्। =Free from malice. (दमूनसम्) दमनशीलम्। =Self controlled.

The epithets used in the mantra for Agni like मन्द्रजिह्वम्, द्वेषोयुतम, दमूनसम्, अमूरम् are translated by Prof. Wilson as whose tongue exhilirates, the dissipator of sin, the lord of the mansion, the unperplexed; and by Griffith as "whose voice is pleasant, who removest hatred.

friend of the home, the household's lord and un-erring. These make it quite clear that by Agni, a highly learned, self-controlled man is meant and not the material fire. The same has been interpreted by Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati though the Rishi never consulted these English versions.

Again the duties of the learned persons are mentioned :

आरे अस्मदमतिमारे अंह आरे विश्वां दुर्मतिं यन्निपासि ।
दोषा शिवः सहसः सूनो अग्ने यं देव आ चित्सचसे स्वस्ति ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O great scholar ! you are son of a mighty person. Like God, you remove from us all ignorance all sins and all the evil thoughts and protect your favourites, because you are auspicious or benevolent. You united us and others day and night with full scale welfare. Therefore, you are venerable.

PURPORT :—We decide to honour only those persons who keep us away from all un-righteous conduct, company of the wicked and evil intellect.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आरे) दूरे । आरे इति दूरनाम (NG 3, 26) । =Far away. (देव:) जगदीश्वर इव । देवो दानाद् वा दीपनाद वा द्योतनाद् वा (NKT 7, 4, 16) शान्ति सुखानन्दप्रदाता परमेश्वर: । =Like God (अह:) पापात्मकं कर्म । अहन्ति प्राप्नुवंति दुःख येन तत् अह: पापम् । =Sin.

स इधानः प्रति दोषामुषासं पुष्यन् रयिं सचते घ्नन्नमित्रान् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! let you become the Army Chief and labour diligently. He nourishes your great and glorious army, that serves well and shines with splendour supporting the members of his army at dawn and night and destroyes the enemies In fact, they are opposed to Dharma but acquire riches with unfair meas.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should give due honour and wealth to the Commanders of your armies and dispensers of justice. They shine with knowledge, humility and Dharma etc., and sustain their people and get victory, and destroy the wicked enemies. You should properly advance the cause of Dharma (righteousness), Artha (Wealth) Kama (Fulfilment of noble desires) and Moksha (emancipation.)

NOTES : (इध्मम्) देदीप्यमानम् । —Resplendent, glorious. (शश्रमाणः) भृशं श्रमं कुर्वन् । —Labouring diligently.

The duties and qualities of the learned persons are stated :

अग्निरीशे बृहतः क्षत्रियस्याग्निर्वाजस्य परमस्य रायः ।
दधाति रत्नं विधते यविष्ठो व्यानुषङ्मर्त्याय स्वधावान् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O rulers and the people ! that man should be respected by all who like the purifying fire is the master (leader) of the great Kshatriyas (brave warriors) and others. Like the electricity, he should be the master of the scientific knowledge and exalted wealth. Being endowed with physical and spiritual wealth and abundant food materials, he being agreeable, gives to the worshipper of God and followers of the laws of the State previous gift or wealth like Agni (fire and electricity etc.)

PURPORT :—The persons advancing the prosperity of the State, shine like the sun and electricity and spread its good reputation. They are respected everywhere.

NOTES : (यविष्ठः) अतिशयेन युवा शरीरात्मबलयुक्तः । =A young man endowed with physical and spiritual power, most energetic. (वाजस्य) वेगस्य विज्ञानस्य वा । =Of speed or scientific knowledge.

The same subject of learned persons is continued :

यच्चिद्धि ते पुरुषत्रा यविष्ठाचित्तिभिश्चकृमा कच्चिदागः ।
कृधी ष्वस्माँ अदितेरनागान्व्येनांसि शिश्रथो विष्वगग्ने ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are shining with knowledge and humility. O most youthful and energetic whatever offence we may commit against men, due to human inconsiderateness make us free from all sins on the face of the earth and minimize our all types of faults.

PURPORT :—O king ! if ever we commit a sin or offence through ignorance or inadvertently even then don't leave us un-punished. Make us righteous by imparting good education and fit to rule over the State.

NOTES :—(अदितेः) पृथिव्याः । अदितिरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) =Of the earth. (शिश्रथः) शिथिलीकुरु वियोजय ।=Loosen, separate. (आगः) अपराधम् । =Fault, offence. (एनांसि) पापानि । =Sins.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened persons are underlined :

महश्चिदग्न एनसो अभीक ऊर्वाद्देवानामुत मर्त्यानाम् ।
मा ते सखायः सदमिद्रिषाम यच्छा तोकाय तनयाय शं योः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person! let us destroy all sins (should not repeat), whether committed by the enlightened or ordinary men, be they neighbour and wise and however great they may be. Being your friends, may we never suffer ony harm at any place. Bestow happiness on our sons whether infants or grown ups, as a result of merits.

PURPORT :— O men ! living in the company of the enlightened persons, and having received good education and given up sinful acts, being friendly to all, we urge others also to do the same. Let us make all boys and girls happy by imparting good education to them and making them acquire the knowledge of all sciences. You should emulate it.

NOTES & REMARKS : (ऊर्वात्) विस्तीर्णात् । =Vast, great. (सद्म) स्थानम् । =Place. (एनसः) अपराधस्य । =From sin. (योः) सुकृताज्जनितम् । =As a result of merits or good actions. (तोकाय) सन्तानाय पुत्राय । तोकमित्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2) तनय इत्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2) =For the issue or son.

The attributes of learned persons are highlighted :

यथा ह त्यद्वसवो गौर्यं चित्पदि षिताममुञ्चता यजत्राः ।
एवो ष्वस्मन्मुञ्चता व्यंहः प्र तार्यग्ने प्रतरं न आयुः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you help us to prolong our life and are free from the sins, so we may also help to do so. O respecters of the enlightened person. you live in knowledge and therefore set us entirely free from all sins like past occasions. Attain the pure speech in order to acquire true knowledge, which consists of the words and their meanings and their underlying purpose. Let us also give up all sins and attain well-trained speech in the same manner.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should also behave like the righteous absolutely truthful learned persons. They having given up all sinful conduct, observe perfect truthfulness and have desire to make others also truthful like themselves.

NOTES :—(गौर्यम्) गौरीं वाचम्। गौरीति वाङ्नाम (NG 1/11) To the speech. (पदि) प्राप्तव्ये विज्ञाने । =In the true attainable knowledge. (सिताम्) शब्दार्थविज्ञानसम्बन्धिनीम् =Belonging to the words, their meanings and their underlying purpose. (वसव:) निवसन्त: । =Living.

The attribntes of the rulers are stated :

प्रत्य॒ग्निरु॒षसा॒मग्र॑मख्यद्वि॒भा॒तीनां॑ सु॒मना॑ रत्न॒धेय॑म् ।
या॒तम॑श्विना सु॒कृतो॑ दुरो॒णमुत्सूर्यो॒ ज्योति॑षा दे॒व ए॑ति ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—That man attains happiness who highlights the glory of rulers like the Agni (energy), because he is in the forefront of the resplendent dawns (noble activities). He approaches a righteous person, gives cheer like the sun i.e. is giver of happiness with his light (knowledge).

PURPORT :—Endowed with the energy, generated through the air, electricity and the sun, one sustains and protects the people. May we obtain the treasures of gems or wealth with truth and justice ?

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अख्यत्) प्रकाशयति । =Manifests. (दुरोणम्) गृहम् । दुरोणेति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) =House. (अश्विना) वायुविद्युतैइव । अश्विनौ यद् व्यश्नुवाते सर्वमिति (NKT 12, 1, 1) =Like the air and electricity.

The efficient cause of the solar and other worlds is stated :

ऊर्ध्वं भानुं सविता देवो अश्रेद्द्रप्सं दविध्वद्गविषो न सत्वा ।
अनु व्रतं वरुणो यन्ति मित्रो यत्सूर्यं दिव्यारोहयन्ति ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that the resplendent solar world does every good work in accordance with the dictates of God, like a traveller desiring to get good messages and senses. It is the God's commands that control water, air and elevate the sun in the sky. The sun shakes the earth and diffuses its rays up and down.

PURPORT :—Men should know that God has created water, fire and air after creating the sun, so He has generated the earth and other worlds. (He is the efficient cause of the Univarse).

NOTES :—(वरुणः) जलम् । =Water. (मित्रः) वायुः अयं वै वायुर्मित्रोयोऽयं पवते । (Stph 6, 5, 4, 14) =Air. (द्रप्सम्) पार्थिवम् भूगोलम् । =Earthly globe. (दविध्वत्) भृशं धुन्वन् । =Shaking much.

The efficient cause of the solar and other worlds is continued:

यं सीमकृण्वन्तमसे विपृचे ध्रुवक्षेमा अनवस्यन्तो अर्थम् ।
तं सूर्यं हरितः सप्त यह्वीः स्पशं विश्वस्य जगतो वहन्ति ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The men who desire to have abiding and sure welfare, never waver from the path of duty and not worship anyone else except God and symbolize the sun for dispelling darkness. As seven kinds of the rays, like the directions, convey to the sun, as upholder (lit. binder) of the whole world, like-wise the highly learned should lead people to the noble virtues.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the rays carry the sun for dispelling darkness, so the enlightened persons should deliver true sermons for dispelling the darkness of ignorance from the whole world and for the preservation of knowledge.

NOTES :—(हरितः) दिश इव व्याप्ताः किरणाः । हरित इति दिङ्नाम (NG 1, 6) =Rays of the sun like the directions. (स्पशम्) बन्धकम् । = Binder, Controller, Upholder. (विपृचे) वियोजनाय । =For dispelling.

The attributes of the enlightened person are mentioned :

वहिष्ठेभिर्विहरन्यासि तन्तुमवव्ययन्नसितं देव वस्म ।
दविध्वतो रश्मयः सूर्यस्य चर्मेवावाधुस्तमो अप्स्वन्तः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! shining with knowledge, like the sun rises dispelling darkness with its rays and goes out of the subtle cause (matter), same way you proceed to your abode dispelling the darkness everywhere. You should resemble the rays of the sun, like the skin covers body. Throw off the darkness, spread in the firmament.

PURPORT :—O preacher ! the sun spreads its light with the attraction of the rays and covers darkness like the skin covers body. It roams in the firmament, so you should roam about in the world dispelling all ignorance and spreading knowledge.

NOTES :—(तन्तुम्) कारणम् । =Cause. (वहिष्टोभिः) अतिशयेन वोढृभिः । =With the rays of the sun which carry. (अप्सु) अन्तरिक्षे । आप इत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) =In the firmament. (दविध्वतः) कम्पयतः । =Shaking off.

The questions and answers are put to give out the attributes of the enlightened person, related to the solar world :

अनायतो अनिबद्धः कथायं न्यङ्ङुत्तानोऽव पद्यते न ।
कया याति स्वधया को ददर्श दिवः स्कम्भः समृतः पाति नाकम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! why does not the sun, moving about here and there, is bound by attraction, whether looking up hand down. How does it move along with the earth, containing food materials and other things? Who has seen Him, who is like the Pillar of light and embodiment of truth and, protects the men and provides emancipation where there is no misery ?

PURPORT :—O learned person ! why does not the sun standing in the firmament fall down ? How does the sun give light and happiness ? How does it move ?

The answers to these questions are that the sun does not fall down as it is upheld by God. It moves in its circumference along with the planets surrounding it. It is the upholder of the worlds near it by the law of gravitation. It gives happiness by the Laws of God.

NOTES :— (अनायत:) इतस्ततोऽगच्छन्त्सन्निहित: । =Not moving here and there, but well—established. (स्वधया) अन्नादिपदार्थयुक्तया पृथिव्या सह । स्वधेत्यन्नाम (NG 2, 7) =With the earth containing food material and other things.

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā. Agni, as defined. Chhanda-various types of Pankti and Trishtup. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The attributes of the scholars comparable with Agni are told :

प्रत्यग्निरुषसो जातवेदा अख्यद्देवो रोचमाना महोभिः ।
आ नासत्योरुगाया रथेनेमं यज्ञमुप नो यातमच्छ ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O highly admired teachers and preachers ! you are free from evil conduct. Moving along with elders in your transport, you perceive our bright and glaring dealings and the Yajna—the sacrificial acts. As the energy (power electricity,) is existent everywhere and is brightening and (the solar energy) starts from the beginning of the day, you the teachers and preachers come to us nicely.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile. As the sun rises and shines in the morning, likewise the teachers and preachers take a lead on the path of truth, like a chariot, and thus get happiness and knowlege for the masses. They are no doubt, useful for the world.

NOTES :—(अग्निः) विद्युदिव । =Like energy (power/electricity) (जातवेदाः) उत्पन्नेषु विद्यमानः । =Existent everywhere. (रोचमानाः) प्रकाशमानाः । =Glaring. (नासत्या) अविद्यामाना सत्याचरणौ । =Devoid of or aloof from evil conduct.

The attributes of scholars are metioned :

इमे हि वां मधुपेयांय सोमां अस्मिन्यज्ञे वृंषणा मादयेथाम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men and women ! as the sturdy and fast horses (horse-power) carry the transport early morning with great speed and excellently and take you to the destination. They carry, bath of you to the site of Yajna (non-violents acrificial act), so that you, both eat and drink the nourishing and sweet stuff (Soma) and enjoy your nuptial life having acquired vitality.

PURPORT :—If, men and women rise quite early and go on morning walk before the sunrise in open fields, they will never fall sick and would become strong and sturdy and will live long span of life. Thus you enjoy full pleasure in the married life in good measure.

NOTES :—(वहिष्ठाः) अतिशयेन वोढारः । =Strong and sturdy load carriers. (अश्वासः) सद्योगामिनः । =Fast horses. (मधुपेयाय) मधुरैर्गुणैः पातुं योग्याय । =Sweet drink to be relished. (यज्ञे) सङ्गन्तव्ये गृहाश्रमे । =In the married life.

The attributes of the scholars are mentioned :

अनायतो अनिबद्धः कथायं न्यङ्ङुत्तानोऽव पद्यते न।
कया याति स्वधया को ददर्श दिवः स्कम्भः समृतः पाति नाकम्॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION ;—A learned and un-dogmatic person always gets honour and respect. He always rises, and never falls down. He takes or adopts his own course. Thus he builds his home a happy sojourn on the firm pillars (foundation). In fact, very few are aware of this hard truth.

PURPORT :—By shaking off ignorance, O learned ! this soul never falters. Similarly, in case a person observes the righteousnes (Dharma), he achieves happiness. Likewise, the one who realizes God, his all desires are verily fulfilled.

NOTES :—(अनायतः) अदूरभवः =Existing nearly. (अनिबद्धः) परवतव देकत्र न स्थितः। =Not committed, undogmatic, practical. (स्वधया) स्वकीयया गत्या। =With his own and peculiar devices. (स्कम्भः) गृहाधारको मध्ये स्थितस्तम्भ इव=On the firm pillars or foundation.

The science of Agni is underlined :

परि॑ त्रिविष्ट्य॑ध्वरं यात्य॒ग्नी र॒थीरि॑व । आ दे॒वेषु॒ प्रयो॒ दध॑त् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! Agni in the form of energy/electricity or fire is present in our noble dealings. It is just like a Commander of the Army having many chariots, giving desirable wealth to the enlightened men in order to achieve three kinds of happiness—physical, spiritiai and divine. These should be utilised by you also for various purposes.

PURPORT :—As a commander of good and powerful army attains happiness (of three kinds), likewise a knower of the science of Agni, attains the joy of the body, senses and souls.

NOTES :—(त्रिविष्टि) त्रिविधे सुखप्रवेशे । आत्मा वा अग्निः (Stph 7, 3, 1, 2) =In the achievement of happiness of three kinds-physical divine and spiritual. (प्रयः) कमनीयं धनम् । =Desirable wealth. (अध्वरम्) सत्कर्त्तव्यम् व्यवहारम् । =Honourable dealing. By the word Agni, God and soul are also taken besides fire, electricity or sun etc.

The science of Agni is described :

परि॒ वाज॑पतिः क॒विर॒ग्निर्ह॒व्यान्य॑क्रमीत् । दध॒द्रत्ना॑नि दा॒शुषे॑ ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—A benevolent man who behaves and acts like energy (electricity) always enjoys happiness. He becomes the owner/master of food and productions and other good things, and achieves expertise in the sciences. For a devotee of liberal disposition, he upholds charming wealth of various kinds, obtains, presentable objects from all sides.

PURPORT :—As donors give good things for others, in the same way Agni (energy/electricity) gives much as its attributes or properties are for the benefit of others. A learned learder also benefits others.

NOTES :—(वाजपतिः) अन्नादीनां स्वामी। वाज इत्यन्न नाम (NG 2,7) =Lord of good materials and other things. (हव्यानि) दातुं योग्यानि। =Worth giving.

The duties of a king are stated :

अयं यः सृञ्जये पुरो दैववाते समिध्यते। द्युमाँ अमित्रदम्भनः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should honour the brave person who glows with the light of knowledge and is destroyer of enemies. He excels (shines) in the battle and in the act of doing good to the enlightened pessons.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should bring up and protect the fearless brave vigorous persons like sons. They destroy the foes in great battles.

NOTES :—(संजये) यः प्राप्ताञ्छत्रून् जयति तस्मिन् =In a battle where one conquers enemies. (दैववाते) देवानां प्राप्ते भवे। =In the act of doing good to the enlightened persons.

The duties of the rulers are underlined :

अस्य घा वीर ईवतोऽग्नेरीशीत मर्त्यः। तिग्मजंम्भस्य मीळ्हुषः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the brave person alone can achieve victory. Under the command of this undoubtedly active Chief Commander of Army whose face is full of splendour like the purifying fire and who is virile, he can overpower his enemies. Thus the brave persons achieve victory.

PURPORT :—A Commander-in-chief should deploy only the brave persons in the army because they can conquer their enemies.

NOTES :—(ईवत:) प्रशस्तगमनकर्त्तः । =Whose movement is admirable. (तिग्मजम्भस्य) तिग्मं तीक्ष्णं तेजस्वि जम्भो मुखं यस्य तस्य । =Of the person whose face is full of splendour.

The duties of the ruler is further highlighted :

तमर्वन्तं न सानसिमरुषं न दिवः शिशुम् । मर्मृज्यन्ते दिवेदिवे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! purify the infant, got from the light i.e. possessive of knowledg. The enlightened men teach/train him evey day like speedy horse. In fact, like a red colour person, full of splendour, and analyzing power (in order to distinguish between good and bad traits), they shape him properly.

PURPORT :—Those persons who train their children well like a horse, augment their happiness.

NOTES :—(दिव:) प्रकाशात् । =From the light of knowledge. (अर्वन्तम्) शीघ्रगामिनमश्वम् । =Speedy horse. (अरुषम्) रक्तगुणविशिष्टम् । = Red coloured, full of splendour.

The duties of a teacher are stated :

बोधद्यन्मा हरिभ्यां कुमारः साहदेव्यः । अच्छा न हूत उदरम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O teacher ! before the marriage, I lived in the company of the truthful and enlightened persons when called on. In fact, I was not able to understand well, all that. Thereever fore teach me well again the precept and practice, as they are like the two horses.

PURPORT :—When boys and girls trained by their parents go to the Gurukula (the abode and family of preceptor), they should request the Acharya to teach them obedience to him with humility. Those who do so, achieve the last end of knowledge, even in distant destinations, where they reach in a chariot driven by the horses.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरिभ्याम्) अश्वाभ्यामिव पठनाभ्यासाभ्याम् =With two horses in the form of precept and practice. (साहदेव्यः) ये देवैः सह वर्त्तन्ते तत्र भवेषु साधुः । विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph 3,7 3,10) सत्यसंहिता: वै देवाः (Aittareya 1,6) सत्यमया उ देवाः (कौषीतकी ब्रा० 2,8) =Good among those who live in the company of the enlightened persons.

Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others took Sahadeva as the name of a particular king, while it simply and merely means living in the company of the enlightened persons.

The duties of the pupils are mentioned :—

उत त्या यजता हरी कुमारात्साहदेव्यात् । प्रयंता सद्य आ ददे ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—The industrious teachers and preachers impart knowledge and dispel ignorance. They should take a pledge from a Brahmachari (pure and celibate) who is living in the company of the enlightened persons and then should teach him all sciences without any loss of time.

PURPORT :—When students (boys/girls) go for study, they should take a pledge, that we shall study under you with observance of Brahmacharya and in accordance with your guidance and instructions and shall complete the term of Brahmacharya vowed. The teachers should also take pledge to the effect that we will impart you education with love and sincerity without resort to any kind of breach.

NOTES :—(हरी) अविद्याया हर्त्तारौ । =Dispellers of ignorance. (यजता) दातारावध्यापकोपदेशकौ । =Teachers and preachers who are givers of knowledge.

The duties of the teachers and preachers are told :

एष वां देवावश्विना कुमारः साहदेव्यः । दीर्घायुरस्तु सोमकः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are well-versed in all sciences. You should always try to see that this your pupil is peaceful nature, like the moon may acquire longevity.

PURPORT :—The teachers and preachers should always endeavour to transform their students into righteous and long-lived scholars.

NOTES :--(अश्विना) सर्वविद्याव्यापिनौ । अश्विनावध्वर्यू (Aittarey 1,18 कौषीतकी ब्रा० 18, 1 Gopath उ० 2,6, 5,18) अध्वर्युः—अध्वरयुः, अध्वरं युनक्ति: अध्वरस्य नेता, अध्वरं कामयत इति वा (NKT 1.3,8) अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम । ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा तत्प्रतिषेधः (NKT 1.3,8) अत्र ब्रह्मयज्ञस्य योजकौ नेतारौ वा अध्यापकोपदेशकौ गृह्येते। अध्यापनं ब्रह्मयज्ञः । इति मनुस्मृतौ ।=Well-versed (liberally pervading) in all sciences. (सोमकः) सोम इव शीतलस्वभावः =Of peaceful disposition like the moon.

Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others to take the word सोमकं: as the name of a particular prince instead of taking it as a derivative word, clearly meaning of peaceful disposition like the moon.

The duties of teachers and preachers are underlined :

तं युवं देवावश्विना कुमारं साहदेव्यम् । दीर्घायुषं कृणोतन ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are the most virtuous givers of knowledge. A bachelor who is your student and lives in the company of the enlightened truthful persons, you make him long-lived.

PURPORT :—O learned men and women ! it is your duty to make all your pupils long lived by imparting them good education and endow them with wisdom.

NOTES ;—(देवौ) विद्यादातारौ । देवो दानाद् वा दीपनाद् वा द्योतनाद वा (NKT 7, 4, 16) =Givers of good knowledge. (अश्विनौ) शुभगुणव्यापिनौ । =Most virtuous (literally pervading in good virtues).

Here the first meaning has been taken deriving it from.

Sūktam 16

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Indra. Chhanda-Trishtup and Panki of various types. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes and duties of a king (Indra) are mentioned :

आ सत्यो यातु मघवाँ ऋजीषी द्रवन्त्वस्य हरय उप नः ।
तस्मा इदन्धः सुषुमा सुदक्षमिहाभिपित्वं करते गृणानः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us produce more food and other things. Because the king (government) employs only the virtuous persons capable to generate all sorts of potential in the State. May that truthful king of upright policy and endowed with admirable wealth come to us alongwith his officers and workers to help us.

PURPORT :—Let us try to develop prosperity of the State for the pleasure of that king, who strengthens the State, supports the people with good policy. His men also being righteous always love to protect the people and unite us with love (not with force).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋजीषी) ऋजुनीतिः । =Man of upright policy. (हरयः) मनुष्याः । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =The human beings. (अन्धः) अन्नादिकम् । अन्ध इत्यन्न नाम (NG 2, 7) =Food and other things. (द्रवन्तु) गच्छन्तु । =May go fast or run.

The rulers duties are highlighted :

अव स्य शूराध्वनो नान्तेऽस्मिन्नो अद्य सवने मन्दध्यै ।
शंसात्युक्थमुशनेव वेधाश्चिकितुषे असुर्याय मन्म ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANTLATION :—O brave king ! you destroy enemies. Do not put an end to their life. Always protect a preacher who admires the Shastras and the knowledge in order to gladden us in this Yajna, which is yet another name of a genuine desire of the welfare of all. Protect a noble travelling preacher because he tries to enlighten less fortunate and ignorant persons living near the site of our Yajna.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always protect the wise preachers because they desire to make all people highly learned.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सवने) क्रियाविशेषयज्ञे । सवनम् इति यज्ञ नाम (NG 3, 17) =In a particular Yajna. (उक्थम्) वक्तुं योग्यं शास्त्रम् । =Shastra that is worth-teaching. (वेधाः) मेधावी । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम । (NG 3, 15) =Genius. (स्व) अन्तं प्रापय । =Destroy.

The duties of the enlightened persons are stated :

कविर्न निण्यं विदथानि साधन्वृषा यत्सेकं विपिपानो अर्चात् ।
दिव इत्था जीजनत्सप्त कारूनह्ना चिच्चक्रुर्वयुना गृणन्तः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The learned persons always admire and preach and give good knowledge in day time. They train seven kinds of artisans. In this manner, a mighty person protects the method of sprinkling, and accomplishes the things worth knowing, honours and generates positive light of knowledge like a great scholar.

PURPORT :—The persons who intensify their knowledge and industriousness, train seven kinds of artisans. Having accomplished many works, they are able to fulfil their noble desires.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(निण्यम्) निश्चितम् । निण्यम् निर्णीतान्तर्हितनाम (NG 3, 24) =Sure, certain, definite, (वयुना) प्रज्ञानानि । वयुनम् इति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) =Special knowledge. (कारून्) शिल्पिनः । =Artists or artisans.

The seven kinds of artists or artisans have not been enumerated in the commentary. They may be taken as goldsmiths, blacksmiths, painters, technicians, photographers, musicians and weavers.

The duties of the enlightened persons are reinforced :

स्व१र्यद्वेदि सुदृशीकमर्कैर्महि ज्योती रुरुचुर्यद्ध वस्तोः ।
अन्धा तमांसि दुधिता विचक्षे नृभ्यश्चकार नृतमो अभिष्टौ ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the great light which is handsome looking, and it manifests giving happiness. The rays of the sun shine in day time, when the sun thrashes the thick and undesired gloom of night and illumines all. Likewise, the best leaders and noble thoughts make people happy by united good acts, jointly perfomed for the welfare of all by dint of the mantras. They are to be respected by all.

PURPORT :—Good policy and initiative with determination in the vast administrative work, bring happiness to the rulers and the subjects. It grows day by day like the sunshine.

NOTES :—(अर्कैः) मन्त्रैर्विचारैः । मंत्रो मननात्, अर्को मन्त्रो भवति यदनेनार्चन्ति (NKT 5, 1, 4) With the mantras and noble thoghts. (वस्तोः) दिनम् । वस्तोरित्यहर्नाम (NG 1, 9) = Day.

The duties of the enlightened persons are highlighted :

ववक्ष इन्द्रो अमितमृजीष्यु१भे आ पप्रौ रोदसी महित्वा ।
अतश्चिदस्य महिमा वि रेच्यभि यो विश्वा भुवना बभूव ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that God is the Greatest or Supreme Being. He sustains all universe by His infinite greatness like the sun, who pervades and surpasses all and fills heaven and earth with His magnitude. He is the symbolic of uprightness and upholds this infinite universe. Because of His vastness, He has surpassed all the regions and exceeds the world.

PURPORT :—Those persons are respected in the world who understand the glory and majesty of God to be the highest.

NOTES :—(विरेचि) विरिच्यते । = Surpasses. (ववक्षे) वहति । = Bears, Upholds, Sustains.

Translator's notes :—This mantra clearly tells that God is Omnipresent and Omnipotent. The idea of Indra being a particular deity residing in heaven is irrevelent here, as well as incorrect.

इन्द्रं मित्रं वरुणमग्निमाहुः एकं सद्विप्रा is another proof from the Vedas to prove the first point.

The attributes of a king are told :

विश्वानि शक्रो नर्याणि विद्वानपो रिरेच सखिभिर्निकामैः ।
अश्मानं चिद्ये बिभिदुर्वचोभिर्व्रजं गोमन्तमुशिजो वि वव्रुः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—The winds dissipate the clouds for rains and the cowherds desiring the wel-fare of the cows take them out for grazing. Likewise, the mighty and learned men alone are able to rule over the earth. With the cooperation and assistance received from the loving and all time friends, they always get justice and perform all beneficial acts, which is not mere lip service to them.

PURPORT :—That man can become a king or protector of the people who has good friends, who destroys the wicked like the sun, dissipates the clouds. As a milkman takes out the cows from cowshed to the pasture lands, such a leader keep people away from in justice.

NOTES :—(अश्मानम्) मेघम् । अश्मा इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) = Cloud. (अपः) कर्माणि । अप इति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) = Acts.

The do's for enlightened persons are elaborated :

अपो वृत्रं वव्रिवांसं पराहन्प्रावत्ते वज्रं पृथिवी सचेताः ।
प्रार्णांसि समुद्रियाण्यैनोः पतिर्भवञ्छवसा शूर धृष्णो ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O firm and brave king ! you are of a noble mind and a concious lord. Inspire and encourage that man who destroys enemies and protects your subjects, like the sun thrashes the cloud with its thunderbolt of rays. The clouds hold the water while the earth holds them in the oceans.

PURPORT :—They alone should be appointed for administrative works, who make all people happy like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृत्रम्) मेघम् । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1,10) Cloud. (वज्रम्) किरणरूपम् । =Thunderbolt in the form of the rays. (शवसा) बलेन । शव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =With strength. (अर्णांसि) उदकानि । अर्ण इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Waters. (प्रएर्नाः) प्रेरय: । =Prompt or encourage.

The duties of the enlightened are highlighted :

अपो यदद्रिं पुरुहूत दर्दराविर्भुवत्सरमा पूर्व्यं ते ।
स नो नेता वाजमा दर्षि भूरिं गोत्रा रुजन्नङ्गिरोभिर्गृणानः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! invoked by many, you annihilate your enemies with your straightforward policy which is corroborated by our leader, because he proves his power, and in league with you destroy the previous impetus of your adversaries. Such a mighty person should be the commander of your Army, who is admired by others, annihilates the enemies like the sun, which shakes the waters and shatters many small and big clouds with the winds.

PURPORT :—O king ! protecting illustrious men of pure policy, support your subjects well with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सरमा) या सरति सा सरला नीतिः =Straightforward policy. (अङ्गिरोभिः) वायुभिः । प्राणो वा अंगिराः(Stph 6, 2, 1, 28) प्राणा वायुरूपा एव इत्युपलक्षणाद् वायोः ग्रहणम् । =With winds. (गोत्रा) गोत्राणि मेघस्याऽवयवान् । गोत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =Segments of the clouds. (अद्रिम्) मेघम् । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =Clouds.

The attributes of learned person are underlined :

अच्छा कविं नृमणो गा अभिष्टौ स्वर्षाता मघवन्नाधमानम् ।
ऊतिभिस्तमिषणो द्युम्नहूतौ नि मायावानब्रह्मा दस्युरर्त ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! your mind devoted to the advancement and welfare of people, possess abundant wealth, and have attained happiness. You should prompt in the activities of fulfilling noble desires and in the acquirement of wealth and earning good reputation. A wise man tries to make his speach divine and effective in order to earn the wealth of wisdom. A man of wicked nature, endowed with evil intellect and does not know the Vedas would perish. Keep away or banish such a wicked person from your State.

PURPORT :—O king ! be our ruler having slayed deceitful wicked and mischievous persons. Honour the righteous and highly learned persons and thereby get admired everywhere.

NOTES :—(नाधमानम्) ऐश्वर्यं कुर्वाणम् । =Earning the wealth of wisdom. (द्युम्नहूतौ) धनयशसोर्हूतिः प्राप्तिर्यस्यां तस्याम् । द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) । द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नं वा (NKT 5,1, 5) हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च अत्र आदानं प्राप्तिर्वा मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3-9) अत्र कुत्सित प्रज्ञाग्रहणम् । =Where there is attainment of wealth and good reputation. (मायावान्) कुत्सितप्रज्ञायुक्तः =Man of bad intellect.

The duties of the people are told :

आ दस्युघ्ना मनसा याह्यस्तं भुवत्ते कुत्सः सख्ये निकामः ।
स्वे योनौ नि षदतं सरूपा वि वां चिकित्सदृतचिद्ध नारी ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! have for marriage a bride, who is brave to punish the wicked person or evils, truthful and is also beautiful. Reject a man who is evil minded and contemptible for friendship. Help a good physician to live in your locality, where you reside with your wife (and family).

PURPORT :—Get only a virtuous wife who is equally beautiful and virtuous. She should be capable to destroy all evils and not in contemptible woman. Live with her lovingly at your home.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कुत्सः) निन्दितः । कुत्सः- कुत्सितः । कुत्स इति वज्र-

नाम (NG 2, 20) अत्र सज्जनहन्ता। =Bad, contemptible. (ऋतचित्) या ऋतं सत्यं चिनोति सा। ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) चिञ्-चयते (स्वा०) =Who always picks up truth, truthful. (अस्तम्) प्रक्षिप्तम्। =Thrown. (योनौ) गृहे। योनिरिति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) =At your homes.

Again the duties of a king are stated :

यासि कुत्सेन सरथमवस्युस्तोदो वातस्य हर्योरीशानः।
ऋज्रा वाजं न गध्यं युयूषन्कविर्यदहन्पार्याय भूषात् ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATOIN :—O king ! you desire to protect others, and destroy the enemies. The master of wind-like speedy horses, you go to the army with your chariot (transport), desiring to coordinate and guide movement and speed. Being a man of surpassing wisdom, you finish all the contemptible wicked persons. Approach him who crowns himself with noble virtues and banishes all the evils and miseries. Only then you are fit to rule.

PURPORT :—Those persons are fully revered, who always to guard the people with truth and justice. They give up all contemptible acts and the association with mean and wicked persons.

NOTES :—(गध्यम्) ग्रहीतव्यम्। अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेन रेफलोपो हस्य घः। गध्यं गृह्णाते: (NKT 5, 3, 15) =Worth taking, good. (तोदः) शत्रूणां हन्ता। =Destroyer of enemies. (हर्योः) अश्वयोः। हरी-इन्द्रस्य (NKT 1,15) =Of the horses.

The duties of the king are futher elaborated :

कुत्साय शुष्णमशुषं नि बर्हीः प्रपित्वे अह्नः कुयवं सहस्रा।
सद्यो दस्यून्प्र मृण कुत्स्येन प्र सूरश्चक्रं वृहतादभीके ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION:—O king ! with the dawn risen, all miseries get away. The miseries are the results of contemptible dealings or insipid harmful bad food. As the sun sets, the planets in motion and dispels all darkness quickly. Likewise a king destroys thousands of wicked thieves and smashes them as soon as they reach near you.

PURPORT :—O king ! with powerful weapons like thunderbolt you kill the thieves, robbers and other wicked persons. You become mighty like the sun.

NOTES :—(शुष्णम्) शुष्कं नीरसम्। =Insipid. (असुषम्) असुरं दुःखम्। =Misery which is like a demon. (कुत्सेन) कुत्से वज्रे भवेन वेगेन। कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) । =With rapidity like that of the thunder-bolt. (अभीके) समीपे। प्रपित्वे अभीके-इत्यासन्नस्य। प्रपित्वे प्राप्ते अभीके अभ्यक्ते (NKT 3, 4, 20) =Near.

The duties of the king are highlighted :

त्वं पिप्रुं मृगयं शूशुवांसमृजिश्वने वैदथिनाय रन्धीः ।
पञ्चाशत्कृष्णा नि वपः सहस्रात्कं न पुरो जरिमा वि दर्दः ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O king ! destroy the wicked and violent men as soon as in advance and become powerful. It is essential for the sake of good of the persons, who are advanced, straight-forward and virtuous, and are the sons of highly learned men. Recruit in your army fifty thousand brave persons. They are able to destroy enemies and with their help annihilate all the wicked persons.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the king and other officers of the State to have thousands of brave persons in their army. As old age diminishes beauty and strength, so they should gradually diminish the strength of the foes and adopt pure policy.

NOTES :—(पिप्रुम्) व्यापकम्। =Pervasive. (शूशुवांसम्) बलेन वृद्धम्। =Very powerful, advanced in strength. (निवपः) सन्तनुहि। =Extend. (ऋजिश्वने) ऋजुगुणैर्वृद्धाय। =For the man, advanced, straightforward and virtuous. (अत्कम्) अतति व्याप्नोति तं वायुम् =Air, which provides vitality. (कृष्णा) कृष्णानि सैन्यानि । =Attractive strong arms. कृष्णानि सैन्यानि । =Attractive and powerful armies, able to destroy enemies.

The criteria of manning the army personnel is defined :

सूरं उपाके तन्वं दधानो वि यत्ते चेत्यमृतस्य वर्पः ।
मृगो न हस्ती तविषीमुषाणः सिंहो न भीम आयुधानि बिभ्रत् ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION:—O king ! you should duly respect, protect and recruit brave persons in your army, who are near (known to) you. Having the strong physical of the body, splendour like the sun, bearing beauty of the immortal soul within, quick like the deer, powerful like the elephant, terrible like the lion, holding weapons like the sword, gun, canons, and others, burn the strong army of the foes.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. O king ! by the army of persons who are splendid, like the sun by the observance of Brahmacharya, beautiful, impetuous, powerful and mighty like the lions, experts in the military science, conquer your enemies and attain good reputation everywhere.

NOTES :—(तविषीम्) बलयुक्तां सेनाम् । तव इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) तविषी बलवती सेना । =Powerful or strong army. (उषाण:) दहन् । =Burning.

The criteria and qualities of the army and ministers etc. are told :

इन्द्रे कामा वसूयन्तो अग्मन्त्स्वर्मीळ्हे न सवने चकानाः ।
श्रवस्यवः शशमानास उक्थैरोको न रण्वा सुदृशीव पुष्टिः ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O king ! make those persons incharge of the army and in civil administration, who desire wealth, food and good reputation simultaneously with the prosperity of the State. They are resplendent when prompted to surpass the enemies in their strength, such people attain happiness on account of victory in the battle. They are indeed charming, lovely, inspiring, virtuous, and treating the welfare of the State as that of their homes.

PURPORT :—The desirous of wealth should develop the physical and spiritual strength and should be proficient in the science of warfare and collect all requisites.

त्वामनु प्रमतिमा जगन्मोरुशंसो जरित्रे विश्वध स्याः ॥ १८ ॥

18. TARNSLATION :—O king ! upholder of all, you protect the intellect of a beautiful learned person. Be his honest or sincere friend in all battles and disputes. Much praised everywhere, you be giver of happiness to an admirable person, so that we may get good intellect flowing from you.

PURPORT :—O men ! make him only a king, who is master of all and the guardian of the intellect of the heroes and experts in the battles who know the warfare and are ideal preachers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वामदेवस्य) सुरूपयुक्तस्य विदुषः । वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 8) =Of a learned and beautiful person. (वाजसातौ) सङ्ग्रामे । वाजसातौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) =In the battle. (अवृकः) अस्तेनः । वृक इति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24)=Not a thief, honest or sincere. (जरित्रे) स्तुत्याय । =For an admirable man.

Here Vamadeva is not a particular person by name, as it is against the fundamental principle of the Vedic terminology and परन्तु श्रुति सामान्यम् referred to in the Meemansa. (a branch of Indian system of philosophy). It means an admirable highly learned person who is beautiful because of knowledge, wisdom, truthfulness and other virtues. Ed.)

The duties of the rulers are underlined :

एभिर्नृभिरिन्द्र त्वायुभिष्ट्वा मघवद्भिर्मघवन्विश्वं आजौ ।
द्यावो न द्युम्नैरभि सन्तो अर्यः क्षपो मदेम शरदश्च पूर्वीः ॥ १९ ॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O king! you destroy enemies and possess abundant wealth. May we enjoy happiness in all days, nights and seasons in the company of leading men, endowed with admirable wealth. May we seek shelter in you in the course of battles in the company of the illustrious and wealthy men like you. You are our master and resplendent like rays of the sun.

PURPORT :—Such persons always enjoy bliss who attain good reputation like the rays of the sun and become rich having conquered their enemies and have made firm alliance with righteous people. Endowed with physical and spiritual strength, always keen for truth, wealthy, and born in the same your country, they praise their country on account of good acts and policies of its men and rulers.

अकारि ते हरिवो ब्रह्म नव्यं धिया स्याम रथ्यः सदासाः ॥ २१ ॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O king! you have good horses, admire the virtuous learned persons, grow more foodgrains and other kinds of wealth for the devotees of God, like the flooded rivers. Those who praise you on account of your virtues, they give admirable great wealth also to you. Let us be endowed with good intellect and good actions with all our attendants and be happy like a good charioteer reaching his destination in time.

PURPORT :—Let us elect our ruler, who examines truth, is admired everywhere and takes his subjects to progress like the rivers and takes to distant places like a horse. Let us always enjoy happiness along with our attendants being obedient to him.

NOTES :—(इषम्) अन्नाद्यैश्वर्यम् इषमिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)=Wealth in the form of foodgrains and other kinds. (पीपे:) प्यायय । =Multiply. (हरिव:) प्रशंसिताऽश्व: । हरी इन्द्रस्य (NG 1, 15) आदिष्टोपयोजननाम (ओ प्यायी-वृद्धौ) भ्वा० =Having good horses.

Suktam-17

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā Indra. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The attributes of a king (Indra) are denoted and told :

त्वं महाँ इन्द्र तुभ्यं ह क्षा अनु क्षत्रं मंहना मन्यत द्यौः ।
त्वं वृत्रं शवसा जघन्वान्त्सृजः सिन्धूँरहिना जग्रसानान् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king endowed with knowledge and prosperity) ! you are great. You regard the land and kingdom like the great sun and make it mighty. We also have great regard for you. The sun destroys the clouds and fills rivers with the rain waters, likewise you destroy your enemies, and with the wealth and strength make your people surpassing the best among the army of the enemies.

PURPORT :—O the rulers and officers of the State ! as the great sun fills rivers with rain waters, in the same way you should adorn the State with wealth and prosperity. Complying to the commads of the king, makes the State great in every way.

NOTES :—(क्षा:) भूमय: । क्षेति पृथिवीनाम =Earth, land. (वृत्रम्) मेघवद

वर्त्तमानं शत्रुम् । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =Cloud like enemy. (अहिना) मेघेनेव धनेन । अहिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1,10) =With wealth like the cloud. (जग्रसानान्) शत्रुसेनाग्रसमानान् । =Like the top men of the enemy's army.

The attributes of the Agni (king) are mentioned :

तवं त्विषो जनिमन्रेजत् द्यौ रेजद्भूमिर्भियसा स्वस्यं मन्योः ।
ऋघायन्तं सुभ्वः पर्वतास आर्द्रन्धन्वानि सरयन्त आपः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king of noble progeny! by the splendour of God and by His fear, the heaven and earth tremble. Likewise, let your enemies tremble to see your vestuers and wealth. The big clouds like the mountains rain well the sun. They are dissipated and through the rains, send waters to all dry and waterless places, becouse let your armies and ministers be matching with that.

PURPORT :—O king! you should give up all prejudices or of partiality like God, and should deal with your subjects like their father. As the world stands in an order because of the fear of God, so let the world be able to give legitimate enjoyment under your fear. As the sun sends asunder the cloud, and gladdens the world with rains, so give due punishment to the wicked and make good persons happy.

NOTES :—(ऋघायन्त) बाध्यन्ते । =Are compelled, troubled. (पर्वतास:) शैला इवोच्छ्रिता मेघा: । पर्वत इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) । =Big clouds like the mountains. (आर्दन) हिंसन्ति । =Destroy.

The attributes of a king are underlined :

भिनद्गिरिं शवसा वज्रमिष्णन्नाविष्कृण्वानः सहसान ओजः ।
वधीद्वृत्रं वज्रेण मन्दसानः सरन्नापो जवसा हतवृष्णीः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king! the sun breaks down a cloud and destroys it with its rays. From that shattered cloud, the waters whose obstruction was destroyed rush forth with rapidity. In the same manner, gladdening all good persons, putting up with all difficulties, manifesting your energy, hurl your powerful weapons. It is like the rays of the sun shatters the army of the foes into pieces with your strength and having destroyed the enemies make their blood flow.

PURPORT :—Those who become illustrious like the sun on account of the light of justice and strength, they destroy the wicked and give joy to good persons in this world and enjoy lasting bliss in future.

NOTES :—(वज्रेण)] किरणेन । वीर्यं: वज्र: (Stph 1. 3, 5, 7) =Weapon which is like the rays of the sun, (सहसान:) सहमान: । अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेन मस्य स: =Putting up with all difficulties. (गिरिम्) गिरिवद् वर्त्तमानं मेघम् गिरिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) = Mountain like cloud.

The children's attributes of a king are told :

सुवीरंस्ते जनिता मंन्यत द्यौरिन्द्रस्य कर्ता स्वपंस्तमो भूत् ।
य ईं जजानं स्वर्यं सुवज्रमनंपच्युतं सदंसो न भूमं ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! your father is endowed with much prosperity. Like lightning or electricity, you are very powerful person and accomplish the most excellent work. You also should follow into his footsteps and should give birth to a strong manly son, who is capable to give happiness, irresistible or irremovable from his station, bearer of a powerful weapons and is endowed with greatness. If you do so, we shall follow you like the members of the assembly.

PURPORT :—The civilised members of the assembly attain good reputation with having an excellent king and propogating justice. In the same manner, if you give birth to a son in your wife, after observing Brahmacharya righteously and in accordance with the rituals of the PUTRESHTI YAJNA (a Yajna performed with the desire of procreating a son), then he will of course be having a son positively who will be an illustrious and reputed :

NOTES :—(द्यौः) विद्युदिव । =Like the lightning or electricity. (स्वपस्तमः) शोभनान्यपांसि कर्माणि यस्य सोऽतिशयितः =Doer of excellent works.

The attributes of a good king are again stated :

य एक इच्च्यावयति प्र भूमा राजा कृष्टीनां पुरुहूत इन्द्रः ।
सत्यमेनमनु विश्वे मदन्ति रातिं देवस्य गृणतो मघोनः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—May we be happy by having a king, who is invited and admired by many, who shines with his noble virtues among the peasants and other men, and who even single handed casts down many enemies? All people should support this truly liberal donor and best among the group. They are endowed with divine virtues and wealth and admire all sciences.

PURPORT :—He alone is fit to be a ruler sho single handed is capable to conquer many enemies. Single-handed, he alone should be capable to achieve victory. He should have received the company, association and teachings of good men and always should act right-eously and justly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रातिम्) दातारम् । =Donor, Embodiment of charity. (राजा) शुभगुणः प्रकाशमानः । =Shining with noble virtues. (कृष्टीनाम्) कृषीवलादिप्रजास्थमनुष्याणाम् । कृष्टय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3) । =Of farmers and other men.

The spiritual interpretation of the mantra regarding God is quite clear. He is the only Lord of all people and whose munificence is glorified by all.

The duties of the king are elaborated :

सत्रा सोमां अभवन्नस्य विश्वे सत्रा मदांसो बृहतो मदिष्ठाः ।
सत्राभंवो वसुंपतिर्वसूंनां दत्रे विश्वां अधिथा इन्द्र कृष्टीः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! if you are truly the Lord of good wealth among the rich, you may uphold all men rolling in the abundance of gold and other kind of valuable wealth. His all members (staff) should be truthful and of peaceful disposition, and they should he the givers of great joy to others and enjoying cheer and all bliss for themselves.

PURPORT :—The king who desires the welfare of his subjects like that of his own, only he can have good members in his council or assembly, and his prosperity would ever grow.

NOTES :—(सत्रा) सत्याः । सत्रा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) =True (सोमाः) सोम्यगुणसम्पन्नाः सभ्या जनाः । मदासः आनन्दाः । =Civilised men of peaceful disposition.

अयं वाजं भरति यं सनोत्यस्य प्रियासः सख्ये स्याम ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! may we have friendship of a king who when elected enlightens the ignorant, possesses abundant wealth and inspires the trained army with zeal single handed. He imparts the true knowledge to men. I learn about his reputation of being a person, and is endowed with wisdom.

PURPORT :—O king ! follow the advice and instructions of those who train armies and particularly lead them during the battles, inspires the warriors with zeal by proper oratory, and points out your drawbacks planily. Regard such fearless people as your friends and join them in all works

NOTES :—(चातयते) विज्ञापयति चततीति गतिकर्म्मा (NG 2,14) =Inspires. Takes forward. (समीचीः) याः सम्यगञ्चन्ति शिक्षा प्राप्नुवन्ति ताः सेनाः = Well—trained armies. (आजिषु) सङ्ग्रामेषु। सम्+अंचु—गति पूजनयोः गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञान-प्राप्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम्। आजेति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) =In the battle.

How should a king rule over the State is stated ? :

अयं शृण्वे अध जयन्नुत घ्नन्नयमुत प्र कृणुते युधा गाः।
यदा सत्यं कृणुते मन्युमिन्द्रो विश्वं दृळ्हं भयत एजदस्मात्॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king ! when you are appointed on a post after full test, you annihilate enemies or conquer them in the battle and preserve the land belonging to the State. Such a king, possesses great wealth, and about his reputation I hear so much. When he takes a true vow, all becomes firm and when he incurs wrath or righteous indignation, then all, that is stationary or mobile, begin to tremble with fear.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should select those persons as officers whose integrity is beyond the doubt and who are experts in holding firmly the security of the State during the warfare. You should behave with them truthfully, guard righteous men peacefully, and punish severaly the wicked, so that people may not go astray from the path of Dharma or righteousness.

NOTES :—(गाः) पृथिवीराज्यानि। गौरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1)=The kingdom of the earth, land. (एजत्) कम्पते। Trembles.

The ways and means to achieve victory and joy by a king is highlighted :

समिन्द्रो गा अंजयत्सं हिरंण्या समंश्विया मघवा यो हं पूर्वीः ।
एभिर्नृभिर्नृतमो अस्य शाकै रायो विंभक्ता संभरश्च वस्वंः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—The Indra (king) is the lord of opulence and destroyer of enemies. He is the best leader of men, completely wins the land, gold and other kinds of wealth and transports. He guards the learned and aged people. He alone is capable to rule, distributor of the riches by power of his army, and upholder of wealth (or the benefit of all).

PURPORT :—That king alone can be happy after achieving victory who has good helpers, and is endowed with good wealth and materials. He conquers enemies and gives wealth with proper pipeline of supplies and distribution and is efficient.

NOTES :—(शाकै.) शक्तिभिः । = With powers. (इन्द्रः) शत्रुविदारकः । = Destroyer of enemies.

The fitness of the ruler is described :

कियंत्स्विदिन्द्रो अध्यैति मातुः कियंत्पितुर्जनितुर्यो जजानं ।
यो अंस्य शुष्मं मुहुकैरियंति वातो न जूतः स्तनयंद्भिरभ्रैः ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—He can become a worthy king, who like the wind driven by thundering clouds, achieves victory with the aid of the brave warriors. In fact, they help him repeatedly and whom people always remember for his high traditions of family-his mother and father.

PURPORT :—The persons who know the obligation of their parents, serve them sincerely. Like the lightning impelled by the cloud and the wind, they get strength, conquer their enemies repeatedly and become renowned.

NOTES &REMARKS ;—(अधि,एति) स्मरति । =Remembers. (मुहुकैः) मुहुर्मुहुः कुर्वद्भिः । =Helping again and again. (शुष्मम्) बलम् । शुष्मम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =Strength.

Greatfulness to parents and to help them has been emphasised :

A king should honour good men and equally he should punish the guilty, is mentioned :

क्षियन्तं त्वमक्षियन्तं कृणोतीयर्ति रेणुं मघवा समोहम् ।
विभञ्जनुरशनिमाँ इव द्यौरुत स्तोतारं मघवा वसौ धात् ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O king ! a rich and worthy person gives wealth to a devoted priest. Equally, a wealthy person who is like the light (of knowledge) or is a warrior applying many weapons is the destroyer of enemies, should be honoured; but in case he makes a man dispossess his abode or is found engaged and is committing crimes, he should be punished by you.

PURPORT :—O king ! if a man commits a crime don't leave him without punishment. As a Yajaman (performer of Yajna) having chosen a scholar as priest in the Yajna, pleases him by giving money (Dakshina), in the same manner, choose good and virtuous members in your company and give them wealth and make them full of bliss.

NOTES :—(क्षियन्तम्) निवसन्तम् । =Dwelling. (रेणुम्) अपराधम् । = Crime, guilt. (समोहम्) सम्यग्गूढम् =Hidden, secret.

A king should get manufactured quick-moving machines and punish the wicked :

अयं चक्रमिषणत्सूर्यस्य न्येतशं रीरमत्ससृमाणम् ।
आ कृष्ण ईं जुहुराणो जिघर्ति त्वचो बुध्ने रजसो अस्य योनौ ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O king ! this industrious person

manufactures wheel of a machine as God makes this solar world. The other man drives the speedy horses. The farmer going some times on the straight and sometimes crooked (rough) path makes the water flow or sprinkle (for the fields etc.). Some scholar uses his speech (power of discussion) and takes delight in the description of the firmament, and other worlds and the home (this earth). Honour all such tireless astronomists and punish the wicked.

PURPORT :—The persons who manufacture various artistic and complicated machines and enjoy by quick transport getting quick movement, become prosperous. Having given up crookedness, they make others happy?

NOTES :—(एतशम्) अश्वम्। एतश इति अश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) =Horse. (कृष्ण:) कर्षक: । =Farmer, Driver. (बुध्ने) अन्तरिक्षे । बुध्नम् अन्तरिक्षं बद्धा अस्मिन् धृता आप इति वा (NKT 10, 4, 44) =In the firmament. (त्वच:) वाच: । =Of the speech. (सिषक्ति) क्षरति । =Makes flow.

The significance of firm dealing in administration under law by a king is told :

असिक्न्यां यजमानो न होता ॥ १५ ॥

*15. TRANSLATION :—*That king always enjoys happiness who like a Yajamana (performer of Yajna) is giver of fearlessness at night time.

PURPORT :—The king instils fearlessness among the people with strict enforcement of law. The people then do not get fear from any quarter.

NOTES :—(असिक्न्याम्) रात्रौ। असिक्नीति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) =In the night. (होता) सुखस्य दाता । =Giver of happiness. (यजमान:) सङ्गन्ता । =Unifier.

The arrangement for proper watch at night, proper and vigilance and strict enforcement of the law machinery are the duty of a king to make it rule.

The way to attain happiness and prosperity by the person is stated :

गव्यन्त इन्द्रं सख्याय विप्रा अश्वायन्तो वृषणं वाजयन्तः ।
जनीयन्तो जनिदामक्षितोतिमा च्यावयामोऽवते न कोशम् ॥ १६ ॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O men ! being wisemen we invoke Indra (the king, shining like the sun on account of his virtues) for friendship. We desire the cow, horses, knowledge or food and good wives, because she showers happiness, like a mother and gives protection. We invoke him (Indra) like a person, who draws water from a well.

PURPORT :—Those who desire to attain happiness and prosperity should elect a good king who showers wealth like a cloud and whose protection never ceases for his friend.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजयन्तः) विज्ञानमन्नं वेच्छन्तः । =Desiring knowledge or food. (जनिदाम्) या जनिं जन्म ददाति । = Mother. (अवते) कूपे । अवत इति कूपनाम (NG 3, 23) =In the well. (कोशम्) मेघम् । कोश इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) Cloud.

A good king should be like a mother and friend to all good people and should try to fulfil their noble desires.

The communion with God is described :

त्राता नो बोधि ददृशान आपिरभिख्याता मर्डिता सोम्यानाम् ।
सखा पिता पितृतमः पितॄणां कर्तेमु लोकमुशते वयोधाः ॥ १७ ॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! know that God who is our saviour, who benevolently looks upon all, all-pervading and is instructor as the indwelling spirit. He is the bestower of happiness on those who are of peaceful disposition like the moon. He is our friend, a protector, the father (creator) of the world, the Great Father and Protector among the protectors. He gives away to the one who is desirous of peace and prosperity in the world, good life and all desirable things, because He is their upholder.

PURPORT :—You must know that God is the Giver of happiness to all like a friend. He is the Great Teacher of Truth, the First Father, the Great preserver and supervisor of all the actions. He is the dispenser of justice, Indwelling spirit and All-pervading. After knowing. Him, have communion with Him.

NOTES:—(आपिः) व्याप्तः । =All-pervading. (अभिख्याता) अभिमुख्येनान्तर्यामितयोपदेष्टा । =Instructor or Teacher of Truth as Indwelling spirit. (ईम्) सर्वम् । =All. (वयोधाः) यो वयो जीवनं कमनीयं वस्तु दधाति स =He who is the upholder of life and all desirable things.

The ways to supplement prosperity of the State are mentioned :

सखायतामविता बोधि सखा गृणान इन्द्र स्तुवते वयो धाः ।
वयं ह्या ते चकृमा सबाध आभिः शमीभिर्महयन्त इन्द्र ॥ १८ ॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are giver of great wealth, and friend of those who act friendly, and are their protector. Grant them the desirable wealth and to your admirers, and praise his virtues. Enlighten the suffering human beings, who approach you with the supplications, and honour you with the peaceful acts. O Indra (shining like the sun with knowledge and humility).

PURPORT :—O king ! if you desire to make your State advanced, deal with all like a friend, giving up all prejudices or partiality. Extend your splendour protecting good people and punishing the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शमीभिः) क्रियाभिः । शमीति कर्मनाम (NG 2,1) =With acts that lead to peace. (इन्द्र) सूर्यं इव विद्या विनय प्रकाशित । परमैश्वर्यप्रद । अथ यः स इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) एष एवेन्द्रः य एष सूर्यः स्तपति (Stph 1, 6, 4, 18) =Shining like the sun with knowledge and humility.

A king should be truly devoted to God and should be just like Him.

The essential qualities of state employees to be appointed by a king for administrative work are mentioned :

स्तुत इन्द्रो मघवा यद्ध वृत्रा भूरीण्येको अप्रतीनि हन्ति ।
अस्य प्रियो जरिता यस्य शर्मन्नकिर्देवा वारयन्ते न मर्ताः ॥ १९ ॥

19. TRANSLATION :—Neither highly learned truthful persons nor ordinary men can deviate the king from right path because he is possessor of much wealth and mighty like the sun. He destroys alone many un-yielding pieces of clouds (makes the lands irrigated). Lovingly admired, he is able to destroy many adversaries single-handed and his warriors also are able to do such mighty deeds.

PURPORT :—None can defeat a king who appoints highly learned and faithful loving truthful people for various jobs of the State.

NOTES :—(वृत्रा) वृत्राणि मेघावयवान् । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =The pieces of the cloud. (शर्मन्) गृहे । शर्म इति गृहनाम । (NG 3, 4) = At home.

The ministers and other people should always prompt the king to be just, is highlighted :

एवा न इन्द्रो मघवा विरप्शी करत्सत्या चर्षणीधृदनर्वा ।
त्वं राजा जनुषां धेह्यस्मे अधि श्रवो माहिनं यज्जरित्रे ॥ २० ॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you our great ruler are giver of wealth, upholder of men and not using ordinary horses (modes of transport), rather aeroplanes etc. for distant journeys. They do all truthful acts. Shining with virtues give us the admirers of noble virtues, great knowledge and food.

PURPORT :—The persons who restrain the king, inclined to do unjust acts, enjoy much happiness being the preachers of truth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विरप्शिं) महान् । विरप्शीति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) =Great. (श्रवः) श्रवणमन्नं वा । श्रव इति अन्नाम (NG 2, 7) श्रूयते इति श्रवः, तस्मात् शास्त्रश्रवणादि रूपं ज्ञानमपि । =Knowledge or food.

The yardstick of the ministers' and other's behaviour is pointed out :

नू ष्टुत इन्द्र नू गृणान इषं जरित्रे नद्यो३ न पीपेः ।
अकारि ते हरिवो ब्रह्म नव्यं धिया स्याम रथ्यः सदासाः ॥ २१ ॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O king ! always admiring truth and admired by us, you multiply, like rivers, the knowledge and foodgrains for your admirers with the assistance of good men. You have earned great and new wealth, wisdom and other kinds. May we agree to your intellect alongwith our attendents, possessing many chariots and other vehicles?

PURPORT :—O men ! it is your duty to act in accordance with the desire and instructions of the king, who is un-parallelled in virtues, actions, temperament and knowledge. He multiplies wealth and food materials for the welfare of the people. You should also build an army with strong wings.

NOTES :—(हरिवः) प्रशस्तमनुष्ययुक्त । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) = Having good men. (इषम्) अन्नं विज्ञानं वा । इषमिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Food or knowledge. (गृणानः) सत्यं स्तुवन् । =Admiring truth.

Sūktam-18

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā—Indra and Aditi. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various types. Svara—Dhaivata and Panchama.

The golden path for a wealthy man (Indra) is pointed out :

अयं पन्था अनुवित्तः पुराणो यतो देवा उदजायन्त विश्वे ।
अतश्चिदा जनिषीष्ट प्रवृद्धो मा मातरममुया पत्तवे कः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! this is the time tested and recognised path by which all learned persons become exalted. All this world can make real progress by treading upon this path. But, however great progress, you may make, never insult your mother in any way.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should also walk that path which is trodden by absolutely truthful learned persons. However, great advancement you may be able to make, never insult your mother.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवा:) विद्वांस: । विद्वांसो हि देवा: । (Stphs 3,10, 3, 7) =Learned persons. (उदजायन्त) उत्कृष्टा भवन्ति । =Become exalted. (पत्तवे) पत्तुं प्राप्तुम् । = To get.

By mother (मातारम्), motherland may be taken. A man should never insult harm or degrade the motherland by any of his activities.

The guidelines for a noble man are laid :

नाहमतो निरया दुर्गहैतत्तिरश्चता पार्श्वान्निर्गमाणि ।
बहूनि मे अकृता कर्त्वानि युध्यै त्वेन सं त्वेन पृच्छै ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! let me not destroy the difficult paths of Dharma. Let me go from the right side, (not transgressing the path of Dharma or duty). There are many duties which I have not yet discharged, that is, let me discharge them. Let me fight with a man who goes astray or acts unjustly. Let me ask a wiseman about my duties (when I am in doubt). You should also do so and turn away from the path of un-righteousness.

PURPORT :— I do not commit tabooed actions and do not leave works unfinished after the initiation. If some one wants to fight with me, I ask him questions to dissuade and silence him. Same way you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS :=(दुर्गहा) यो दुर्गानि दुःखेन गन्तुं योग्यान् हन्ति । = He who destroys on transgresses the difficult paths (of Dharma or duty). (त्वेन) केन = From whom.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The path of Dharma is sometimes difficult to follow in the Upanisadic language, उत्तिष्ठत जाग्रत प्राप्य वरान् निबोधत। क्षुरस्य धारा निशिता दुरत्यया दुर्गम पथस्तत् कवयो वदन्ति (Kathop).

—Arise, awake and stop not, till the goal is attained. Get the knowledge of Dharma from the enlightened persons, as it is a difficult path like walking over the blade of a razor.

But on account of difficulty, the path of Dharma should never be given up.

Maintaining of the army for the Indra (King or Commander-in-chief of the Army) is underlined :

परायतीं मातरमन्वचष्ट न नानु गान्यनु नू गमानि।
त्वष्टुर्गृहे अपिबत्सोममिन्द्रः शतधन्यं चम्वोः सुतस्य ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The Indra (Commander of the Army) is the destroyer of enemies, drinks the Soma juice. It is very valuable, invigorating, placed in-between the armies and extacted in the house of an enlightened person (Vaidya). It never neglects, rather serves whole-heartedly the dying mother (decling the state in their motherland). I should also emulate and should not adopt the ways of the wicked persons.

PURPORT :—The commanders of the Army having received honour at the state function, and having acquired perfect strength by regular diet and exercise, settle disputes among the armymen and others. Thus they achieve victory. The kings who serve the army men like their own sons, serve their ill mother (declining state in their motherland) and follow the path of justice.

NOTES :—(परायतीम्) म्रियमाणाम्। =Dying. (इन्द्रः) शत्रुविदारकः सेनेशः। इन्द्रः इन्दन् शत्रूणां दारयिता वा द्रावयिता वा (NKT 7, 2)। =The Commander of the Army who is destroyer of the enemies. (त्वष्टुः) प्रकाशस्य। =Of the enlighened person.

The significance of good path by the illustration is taught to Indra :

किं स ऋधक् कृणवद्यं सहस्रं मासो जभार शरदश्च पूर्वीः ।
नही न्वस्य प्रतिमानमस्त्यन्तर्जातेषूत ये जनित्वाः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! time is there which is signalled by months and autumn and other seasons and is known by the beings born in the past, or to be born in future. It has no likeness or the means of measurement i.e. is limitless. It is really the upholder of thousands of articles.

PURPORT :—O men ! the time divided and upheld by the months and seasons and years etc. is infinite and limitless, itself and is the measurer of all born in the world. You should also likewise know about it and never waste valuable time.

NOTES :—(ऋधक्) सत्यम् । =Truly, verily. (प्रतिमानम्) परिमाणसाधनम् । =Means of measurement. (जनित्वाः) ये जनिष्यन्ते ते । =Who will be born in future.

The way to bring up children is told to mothers :

अवद्यमिव मन्यमाना गुहाकरिन्द्रं माता वीर्येणा न्यृष्टम् ।
अथोदस्थात्स्वयमत्कं वसान आ रोदसी अपृणाज्जायमानः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—The mother gave birth to an Indra (would-be king) with the desires of welfare. She nurtures great urge so that there may not be any un-desirable trait in him. As soon as he passed out of his seat of education like the sun, he filled earth and heaven with his splendour. It is like a well-dressed man, who comes out with his splendour and protects the world.

PURPORT :—If a mother teaches her sons who are like the sun and instructs them to be away from evil conduct, they turn out to be very good.

NOTES :—(अवद्यमिव) निन्दनीयमिव । =Reprehensible. (अत्कम्) कूपम् ।

अत्क इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) = Well, (वृतम्) नितरां प्राप्तम् । = Got. (वसान:) आच्छादयन् । = Covering.

It may mean besides the meaning of well, bearing powerful weapons like the thunderbot. Svami Dayananda has explained अत्कम् in as व्याप्तिशीलं वस्त्रम् in his commentary. So it may mean wearing clothes or well-dressed.

The subject of clouds is dealt by the way of illustration :

एता अर्षन्त्यललाभवन्तीर्ऋतावरीरिव संक्रोशमानाः ।
एता वि पृच्छ किमिदं भनन्ति कमापो अद्रिं परिधिं रुजन्ति ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O seeker after truth ! these rivers flow making some indistinct roaring sound, and look charming like the dawns. Ask wise poets what do they say ? What is the bank or the land around which they stoop getting water from the cloud ?

PURPORT :—O men ! these rivers are daughters of the clouds, flow overflowing the banks and making indistinct sounds. In the same manner, the armies should go infront of the enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अललाभवन्ता:) अलला अलला इव शब्दयन्तीः = Making some indistinct sound. (ऋतावरीरिव) उषस इव । = Cloud. (अद्रिम्) मेघम् । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) सत्यस्वरूपस्य ब्रह्मणो ध्यानं यस्यां वेलायां प्रधानतया क्रियते सा, ऋतावरी उषा । = Like dawns.

The fanciful poets can tell the message of rivers, which is the message of benevolence. पिबन्ति नद्यः स्वयमेव नाम्भः । परोपकारार्थमिदं शरीरम् as expressed by a well known poet. The rivers also remind men of God-who is their creator. They sing His Glory (so to speak). यस्येमे हिमवन्तो महित्वा यस्य समुद्रं रसया सहाहुः । यस्येमाः प्रदिशो यस्य बाहुः । कस्मै देवाय हविषा विधेम (ऋ. 10, 121, 8) ।

More knowledge about the cloud is imparted :

किमु ष्विदस्मै निविदो भनन्तेन्द्रस्यावद्यं दिधिषन्त आपः ।
ममैतान्पुत्रो महता वधेन वृत्रं जघन्वाँ असृजद्वि सिन्धून् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men! what do the instructive speeches of my son Indra (sun) speak to the cloud? The waters make some reprehensible indistinct sound. My son Indra (sun) has smashed these clouds and set free (released) the waters.

PURPORT :—With the illustration of Aditi, sun and cloud, the duties of the commander of the army and President of the Assembly or Council are described. As the sun, which is the son of the firmament destroys the cloud and makes the rivers flow, in the same manner, the commander of the army who is the son of a highly educated person aod himself well-trained, annihilates the enemies and bags the wealth and prosperity to the army.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(निविदः) नितरां विदन्ति याभिस्ताः वाचः । निविदिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) =Instructive speeches or words. (इन्द्रस्य) सूर्यस्य । एष ऐवेन्द्रो य एष (सूर्यः) तपति (Stph 1, 6, 4, 18) स यः इन्द्रः एष एव य एष (सूर्यः) एव तपति (Jaiminiyopanishad Brahman. 1, 22, 249, 2, 3 2, 5) =Of the sun. (दिधिषन्ते) शब्दयन्ति । =Make sound, murmur.

The above is a poetical or allegorical description to point out the duties of a king or commander of the army. Aditi is a brave mother अदितिः—अदीना देवमाता (NKT 4, 4, 23) and also firmament अदितिद्यौरदितिरन्तरिक्षम् (Rig 1, 89, 10) इति मन्त्रप्रामाण्यात् अदितिः-अन्तरिक्षम् अपि । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) मेघवत् शत्रुरपि ।

The duties of a king are indicated :

ममच्चन त्वा युवतिः परास ममच्चन त्वा कुषवा जगार ।
ममच्चिदापः शिशवे ममृड्युर्ममच्चिदिन्द्रः सहसोदतिष्ठत् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king! keep yourself ever away from the company of a youthful woman, who may lead you astray and may leave you in the lurch. Marry one of the good women who are of peaceful nature like the water and who can make children happy. Serve that man who being full of splendour like the sun, becomes exalted with his strength.

PURPORT:—The persons who are not led astray by indulgent and lustful woman preserve their energy. Those kings who cherish their subjects like their children become exalted.

NOTES:—(ममत्) प्रमादयन्ती । =Indulgent, leading astray. (कुषवा) कुत्सितः सवः प्रेरणा यस्या सा । =Whose impulsion or advice is bad. षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः इति धातोः प्रसवः प्रेरणा । =Swallows.

The duties of a king are mentioned :

ममंच्चुन तें मघवुन्व्यंसो निविविध्वाँ अप हनूं जुघानं ।
अधा निविंद्ध उत्तरो बभूवाञ्छिरो दासस्य सं पिंणग्वधेनं ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION:—O king! you possess abundant wealth. Punish that man who strikes blows and crushes the head of your attendent with a thunderbolt-like weapon. Being the piercer of his less powerful enemies, he smiles. And on rejoicing, he becomes victim of attack.

PUTROR:—O king! put that man who operates treasonary actvities against the people, behind the bars after piercing him with arrows.

NOTES:—(व्यंसः) विप्रकृष्टा अंसा बलादयो यस्य सः । =Of the person of inferior strength (less powerful). (दासस्य) दातुं योग्यस्य । = Of the person who deserves charity. (पिणक्) पिनष्टि । = Crushes.

The duties of a ruler are elaborated :

गृष्टिः ससूव स्थविरं तवागामनाधृष्यं वृषभं तुम्रमिन्द्रम् ।
अरीळ्हं वत्सं चरथाय माता स्वयं गातुं तन्व इच्छमानम् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION:—O king! you possess abundant

wealth. Like a cow bears a calf, a highly learned mother gives birth to a strong, irrestible vigorous, energetic and prompter for noble action. He proves to be invincible, mighty like a bull, destroyer of enemies, and desrious of noble speeeh and he rules over the earth. In the same manner, I extend the administration of the land for you.

PURPORT :—O king ! the limited food of well-cooked rise etc. (proper quantum of diet) taken at proper time makes the body strong and increases physical energy. With it, he achieves victory over the enemies and extends kingdom. In the same manner, increase our happiness with justice, O king !

NOTES :—(गृष्टिः) सकृत् प्रसूता गौः । =Cow which has given birth to a calf once. (तुम्रम्) सत्कर्मसु प्रेरकम् । तुमिः प्रेरणांकर्मा । =Prompter for noble actions. (गातुम्) वाणीम् । गातुरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1) =Speech.

The teaching of children by capable teachers is mentioned :

उत माता महिषमन्ववेनदमी त्वा जहति पुत्र देवाः ।
अथाब्रवीद्वृत्रमिन्द्रो हनिष्यन्त्सखे विष्णो वितरं वि क्रमस्व ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION:—O friend ! well-versed in all sciences, O saviour from miseries ! be industrious and exert youtself to kill (dispel) ignorance like the sun destroys the cloud. Your mother always prays for your greatness. But if you won't obey your father, the enlightened good teachers will desert you.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of of sons and daughters to act in accordance with the teachings of their learned parents regarding the developing and acquiring of knowledge and further promots the pysical happiness by the observance of Brahmcharya. The truthful learned teachers also are kind to the children who are of good character and conduct, but not to those who are used to vices.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महिषम्) महान्तम् । महिष इति महन्नाम (NG

3,3) = Great. (सर्वेषाम्) मावते। = Begs, prays for. (पुत्र) दुःखात् त्रातः। = Saviour from miseries. (वृत्रम्) मेघमिवाविद्याम्। वृत्र इति मेघनाम (1,10) यदवृणोत् तद् वृत्रत्वमिति विज्ञायते। ज्ञानापरकत्वादविद्यापि वृत्रपदाभिधेया। = Ignorance which is like the cloud. (इन्द्रः) परमैश्वर्यवान्त्सूर्य्य इव पिता। अथ यः स इन्द्रो सोऽसौ आदित्यः। (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) = The son who is like the sun. (विष्णो) सकल विद्याव्यापिन्। = Pervading in or well-versed in all sciences.

The subject of teaching of children is mentioned :

कस्ते मातरं विधवामचक्रच्छयुं कस्त्वामजिघांसच्चरन्तम्।
कस्ते देवो अधि मार्डीक आसीद्यत्प्राक्षिणाः पितरं पादगृह्य॥ १२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O son ! who makes your mother widow ? Who guides their daily routine inclusive of sleeping and waking ? Who is it that slays and who should be prostrated (respected) ? Such persons should never be trusted. Who is the person endowed with divine virtues, that is, kind to you, and bestows happiness ? He should be trusted and served by you.

PURPORT:—O children ! never trust the persons who make your mothers widows by killing your fathers or try to slay you.

NOTES :—(अक्षिणाः) क्षयति हन्ति। = Destroys, kills. (पादगृह्य) पादान् ग्रहीतुं योग्यः। = Who deserves to be prostrated.

TRANSLATORS' NOTES :—Looking to the interpretations of others, Rishi Dayananda Saraswati's interpretation is simple and straightforward meaning that such wicked persons who commit such heinous crimes should never be trusted.

Sayanacharya thinks that it is addressed to Indra-the King of the Gods." हे इन्द्र। यस्मात् कारणात् पितुः सकाशात् जनिष्यमाणात् भीतः त्वं त्वदीयं पितरं पादेषु गृहीत्वा प्रकर्षेण अवधीः। (त्वत्तोऽधिकः कः प्रजानां सुखकरोऽधिकः आसीत्।

Prof. Wilson's notes are "Who has made thy mother a widow ? Who has sought to slay the sleeping and the waking ? What deity has been more gracious than thou, since they hast slain the father, having seized him by the foot." Prof. Wilson further states "The particulars of this incident are not related by Sayana, who contents himself with saying the allusions are variously explained by Taittiriyakas."

Griffith also repeats the same thing in slightly different words, taking them to be the words of Vishnu. "Didst thou not slay thine own father, thy father who sought to kill thee when yet unborn and when coming to the birth? Vyasa appears to be the father whom Indra slew. Sayana merely says that the allusions are variously explained by the followers of the Taittiriya school of the Yajurveda

The duties of a ruler are stated :

अवर्त्या शुन आन्त्राणि पेचे न देवेषु विविदे मर्डितारम् ।
अपश्यं जायाममहीयमानामधा मे श्येनो मध्वा जभार ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O king ! I see you as one who provides protection from the mean person, who elopes with my disrespected wife like a falcon. Such a wicked person can not achieve geniune knowledge from the enlightened persons. You must severe your connections from such a man.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should destroy men and women of debaucherous nature after giving them severe punishment.

NOTES :—(श्येनः) श्येन इव शीघ्रगन्ता । =Swift like a hawk. (अमहीयमानाम्) असत्कृताम् । =Disrespected. (मधु) मधुरं विज्ञानम् । =Sweet knowledge.

Sūktam-19

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Indra. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various types. Svaras—Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of Indra (king) are mentioned :

एवा त्वामिन्द्र वज्रिन्नत्र विश्वे देवासः सुहवास ऊमाः ।
महामुभे रोदसी वृद्धमृष्वं निरेकमिद्वृणते वृत्रहत्ये ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O destroyer of the enemies ! you operate the thunderbolt and other powerful arms and missiles. All enlightened and well meaning persons, elect you, who are great, experienced, sublime, and surpassing all in the warfare. Like the sun chosen by the heaven and the earth, you are engaged in the task of destroying the clouds.

PURPORT :—Those learned persons enjoy perfect happiness who accept a man of incomparable virtues as their leader.

NOTES:—(ऊमा:) रक्षणादिकर्त्तारः । =Protectors, lovers. givers etc. (ऋष्वम्) श्रेष्ठम् । ऋष्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) =Sublime, noble. (वृत्रहत्ये) वृत्रस्य हत्या हननमिव शत्रुहननं यस्मिन्त्सङ्ग्रामे तस्मिन् । =In the battle where enemies are destroyed like the clouds.

Comparing with clouds, the attributes of a king are stated :

अवासृजन्त जिव्रयो न देवा भुवः सम्राळिन्द्र सत्ययोनिः ।
अहन्नहिं परिशयानमर्णः प्र वर्तनीररदो विश्वधेनाः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you possess great wealth. The sun destroys the cloud slumbering in the firmament for the release of the channels of water. Likewise, you are the abode of truth and sovereign of the world. You shine well having destroyed your enemies, and keep an association with mature persons because they are the masters of noble speech, and have turned you virtuous.

PURPORT :—Here is a smilie in the mantra. O king ! being a man of truthful character and conduct, you become a sovereign with the help of the absolutely truthful enlightened persons. As the sun destroys the cloud and gladdens the world, so you smash the gangs of thieves robbers and other wicked persons and make your subjects full of bliss

NOTES :—(जिव्रय:) दृढजीवना: । =Aged men of firm l ife. (विश्वधेना:) विश्वा: सर्वा धेना वाचो येषान्ते । धेना इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 12) =The masters of all noble speech. (अर्ण:) उदकम् । अर्ण इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 11) = Water. (वर्त्तनी:) मार्गान् । =Paths, Channels.

The attributes of a king are mentioned :

अतृप्णुवन्तं वियतमबुध्यमबुध्यमानं सुषुपाणमिन्द्र ।
सप्त प्रति प्रवत आशयानमहिं वज्रेण वि रिणा अपर्वन् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are endowed with abundant wealth. The sun destroys the slumbering clouds and sends it down to seven low regions (very low on earth) with its rays. Likewise, you should punish an un-righteous enemy. who is not satisfied with worldly enjoyments (is insatiable). Out of proper season, he takes drinks of various kinds, loses self-control with its kick, is not intelligent and does not mend his ways through the sermons.

PURPORT :—As the sun pierces the clouds with its rays, and makes it rain down on earth and flow in various channels, in the same manner, a king should dispel ignorance through knowledge. He should remove wrong pessons in the faith and work out polities with details.

NOTES:—(वियतम्) अजितेन्द्रियम् । =Not self-controlled. (प्रवत:) अधोमार्गान् । =Downward paths. Low regions. (विरिणा:) हिंस्या: । = Punishable.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The seven downward paths or low regions require further investigation and research.

The subject of army by the illustration of cloud is told :

अक्षोदयच्छवसा क्षाम बुध्नं वार्ण वातस्तविषीभिरिन्द्रः ।
दृळ्हान्यौभ्नादुशमान ओजोऽवाभिनत्ककुभः पर्वतानाम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION:—O men ! you should elect a king who with his armies and with his own strength is able to crush the armies of his enemies, like the storm or strong wind engulfs the water and forbearing firmament. He is the destroyer of enemies and desirous of vigour, softens himself a bit, and comes closer to his enemies like the peaks of the hills in all directions.

PURPORT:—Here is a simile in the mantra. The storm takes above the water made subtle by fire through rains and gladdens the world. In the same manner, a king who has good knowledge of military sciences and has requisite and optimum supplies of military hardware minimises his enemies. He is capable to break the force of the wickeds by punishing the foes and gives them good knowledge and transforms them into good. Such a king constantly gladdens his subjects.

NOTES:—(बुध्नम्) अन्तरिक्षम् । =Firmaments. (ककुभः) दिशाः । ककुभ इति दिङ्नाम (NG 1, 6) =Directions. (तविषीभिः) बलयुक्ताभिस्सेनाभिः । तविषीति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) Here used for powerful army. =With powerful enemies.

The attributes of a Commander of the Army are told :

अभि प्र दद्रुर्जनयो न गर्भं रथाइव प्र ययुः साकमद्रयः ।
अतर्पयो विसृत उब्ज ऊर्मीन्त्वं वृताँ अरिणा इन्द्र सिन्धून् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Commander of the Army ! you destroy your foes, like the sun shatters the big clouds that come like the womb to the wives, like the chariots go along with you, as the sun makes big rivers flow with their waves by sending rains. So you should satisfy loyal warriors and attendants. Let them follow you and let your wife bear child to give birth to brave sons like you.

PURPORT :—The king who has huge transport system like the clouds and has good armies to march on his command, achieves victory like the sun.

NOTES :—(दद्रुः) गच्छन्ति प्राप्नुवन्ति । = Go, receive. (सिन्धून्) नदीः । सिन्धव इति नदीनाम (NG 1, 13) =Rivers, (जनयः) जनिद्यो भार्य्याः । = Mothers, wives. सेनेन्द्रस्य पत्नी (Gopath Brahman 29) तस्मात् इन्द्रस्य सेनापतित्वं स्पष्टम् ।

The attributes of a king are stated :

त्वं म॒हीम॑व॒निं वि॒श्वधे॑नां तु॒र्वीत॑ये व॒य्या॑य॒ क्षर॑न्तीम् ।
अर॑मयो॒ नम॒सैज॒दर्णः॑ सुतर॒णाँ अ॑कृणोरिन्द्र॒ सिन्धू॑न् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! having won vast tracts of land, where several kinds of speakers live for the attainment of happiness and destruction of enemies, make us delighted with humility. Let our flotilla of boats and ships be able to cross the great rivers and oceans easily for the happiness and convenience of all.

PURPORT:—O king ! if you do not gladden us after receiving the rulership of the State and make happy only yourself, your joy will soon fade away. You should make all people rich by making arrangements for the build-up of boats and steamers to cross the rivers, streams and oceans.

NOTES :—(विश्वधेनाम्) समग्रवाचम् । धेना इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1. 10) = Containing or making us hear all kinds of speeches. (तुर्वीतये) शत्रूणां हिंसकाय । =For the destroyer of enemies. (वय्याय) प्राप्तव्याय सुखाय । =For the happiness to be attained.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Sayanacharya has taken तुर्वीतये and वय्याय as Proper Nouns and interpreted them thus saying तुर्वीतिनाम्ने राज्ञे-वय्यनाम्ने च and Prof. Wilson, Griffith and other western scholars have followed it inadvertently. Fundamentally, they took the wrong lines. Griffith has added in the foot-note-Turveeti has been mentioned frequently who had been protected by Indra, and Vayya is said to have been his father and companion.

Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation is correct and significant as shown in the purport.

The duties of a king towards his people are further detailed :

प्राग्रुवो नभन्वो न वक्वा ध्वस्रा अपिन्वद्युवतीर्ऋतज्ञाः ।
धन्वान्यज्राँ अपृणक्तृषाणाँ अधोगिन्द्रः स्तर्यो दंसुपत्नीः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—Ler that man be your king, who serves (supports) the curved in shape (disabled or handicapped or invalids) and destroys the armies. The brave persons destroy the enemies, floods their areas with the waters of the rivers, and respect the women who know the Vedas. He satisfies the thirst of those who go to desert areas (provides drinking water facilities) and does not make inroads on the wives of the workers and covers this drawbacks of the king's family.

PURPORT :—That king alone achieves victory whose armies are like the rivers, and destroys the enemies. Satisfied with the articles of eating and drinking and remaining loyal like the chaste women, they cover the holes (drawbacks) of the kings' family.

NOTES :—(अग्रुवः) या अग्रं गच्छन्ति ता नद्यः अग्रुव इति नदीनाम (NG 1,13)। नभन्वः) अरीणां हिंसका वीराः = Brave men who are destroyers of enemies. (धन्वानि) स्थलप्रदेशान् = Dry places or deserts. (दंसुपत्नीः) दंसूनां कर्मकर्तॄणाम्पत्न्यः। = Wives of the workers.

The duties of a king are elaborated :

पूर्वीरुषसः शरदश्च गूर्ता वृत्रं जघन्वाँ असृजद्वि सिन्धून् ।
परिष्ठिता अतृणद्बद्बधानाः सीरा इन्द्रः स्रवितवे पृथिव्या ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the sun manifests the moving everlasting dawns, thrashes the clouds and seasons like autumn and years and releases the dammed rivers, emcompassed by the cloud and overflows their banks. In the same manner, you should achieve victory by formulating the right policies and organising a strong army. Destroy the enemies with the help of your well-trained army marching to the battle field.

PURPORT :—That king deserves to be a ruler of the earth who formulates good policies like the dawn and organises a strong army like the taming of a flooded river.

NOTES :—(गूर्त्ताः) गच्छन्त्यः हिंसिकाः ।=Moving and destroying darkness. (सीराः) याः सरन्ति ताः नद्यः । सीरा इति नदीनाम (NG 1, 13) =The rivers. (इन्द्रः) सूर्य्यः । यः स इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः ॥ (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) स वः स इन्द्रः एष एव स य एष (सूर्य्यः) एव तपति (Jaiminiyopanished) =The sun (अतृणत्) हिनस्ति । =Destroys.

The duties of a king are highlighted :

वम्रीभिः पुत्रमग्रुवो अदानं निवेशनाद्धरिव आ जभर्थ ।
व्यन्धो अख्यदहिमाददानो निर्भूदुखच्छित्समरन्त पर्व ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you possess good horses, like the rivers overflow the banks with their waves. i.e. overcome enemies. In the same manner, you should downgrade even your own son if he is failing from his ideal position.

The fate of a man who is not a donor is like a partially blind man; he expresses his anguish at the darkness and is not able to go out, and takes shelter in the house of a protector. He repents afterwards.

PURPORT :—O king ! if a ruler's own son is not virtuous and is inauspicious, or incompetent, he should not be entitled to rule. As the river water floods in the rainy season, so a ruler should cause the advancement of his subjects.

NOTES :—(उखच्छित्) य उखङ्गमनाच्छिनत्ति सः । =Restraining the movement: (पर्व) पालकम् । = Protector.

The attributes of a learned person are told :

प्र ते पूर्वाणि करणानि विप्राविद्वाँ आह विदुषे करांसि ।
यथायथा वृष्ण्यानि स्वगूर्ताऽपांसि राजन्नर्याविवेषीः ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION:—O highly intelligent king ! a great scholar tells you about the highly learned and ancient persons and their noble actions. These are beneficient to the people, promote the strength, and are necessarily to be done at the proper time. You should therefore to do them.

PURPORT :—O learned king ! you should be under the instructions of the absolutely truthful and highly learned persons. Do in accordance with to their teachings.

NOTES:—(वृष्ण्यानि) बलकराणि । =Strengthening. (स्वगूर्ता) स्वेन प्राप्तानि। =Received.

The attributes of the king are further stated :

नू ष्टुत इन्द्र नू गृणान इषं जरित्रे नद्यो३ न पीपेः ।
अकारि ते हरिवो ब्रह्म नव्यं धिया स्याम रथ्यः सदासाः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O king ! good men always admire truth, augment the knowledge and foodgrains for a devotee of God. Like the rivers, you have earned great and new wealth of wisdom and other kinds. May we be agreeable to you with our intellect or actions along with our attendants, who possess chariots and other vehicles ?

PURPORT :—O king ! you must always honour the persons who do noble deeds. Let them be agreeable to you and all of you must be the accomplishers of Dharma (righteouness), Artha (wealth), Kama (fulfilment of noble desires) and Moksha (emancipation).

Sūktam-20

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā—Indra. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various types. Svara—Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of an Indra (king) are told :

आ न इन्द्रों दूरादा नं आसादंभिष्टिकृदवंसे यासदुग्रः ।
ओजिष्ठेभिर्नृपतिर्वज्रंबाहुः सङ्गे समत्सुं तुर्वणिः पृतन्यून् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O officers and subjects of the State ! we should always protect and respect the king, endowed with great wealth, who is giver of desirable happiness, and holds powerful weaponry at his disposal. He should be full of splendour, protector of men and prompt in his actions. May he come to us who seek strong army for our protection from the distant or near ones ? In fact, he is attended by the most illustrious and mighty warrirors, who overcome his foes in conflicts and combats (whenever needed.)

PURPORT:—O men ! you should always enjoy happiness and bliss by electing that man as a king who protects from all sides, is the mightiest, endowed with knowledge and strength. His army is undoubtedly civilised and he is conqueror of his enemies in battles.

NOTES :—(तुर्वणिः) शीघ्रकारी । =Prompt. (पृतन्यून्) आत्मनः पृतनां सेनामच्छून् । पृतना इति संग्राम नाम (NG 2, 17) पृतना इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) तस्मात्सेनार्थे पृतनार्थ शब्द प्रयोगः । =Desiring his army.

The attributes of the Indra are stated :

आ न इन्द्रो हरिंभिर्यात्वच्छार्वाचीनोऽवंसे राधंसे च ।
तिष्ठांति वज्री मघवा विरप्शीमं यज्ञमनुं नो वाजंसातौ ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the new king endowed with much wealth, is respectable on account of the riches earned with justice, is knower of weapons and missiles and is great. May he come with admirable noble men for our protection and enrichment ? He comes to this our Yajna in the form of the protection of the people and in the battle. You should accept only such a virtuous person as your king.

PURPORT :—He deserves to be a king, who multiplies the food materials and wealth of the people for their happiness with the help of good members of the assembly, and is victorious in the battles and is just.

NOTES :—(हरिभिः) प्रशस्तैर्नरैस्सह । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =With admirable persons. (विरप्शी) महान् । विरप्शीति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) = Great. (यज्ञम्) प्रजापालनाख्यम् । =Yajna in the form of the protection of the people. (वाजसातौ) सङ्ग्रामे । =In the battle.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Three parts of Yajna-honour of the enlightened persons, association with good men and charity-are essential in the real sense.

यज्ञो वै श्रेष्ठतमं कर्म (Stph 1, 7, 1, 5) यज्ञो वै विशः । यज्ञे हि सर्वाणि भूतानि विष्टानि (Stph 8, 7, 3, 21) ।

The attributes of ministers are underlined :

इमं यज्ञं त्वमस्माकमिन्द्र पुरो दधत्सनिष्यसि क्रतुं नः ।
श्वघ्नीव वज्रिन्त्सनये धनानां त्वया वयमर्य आजिं जयेम ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (Commander of the army who gives abundant wealth) ! you know the use of weapons and missiles, as you are the master of the army, and uphold this our Yajna (in the form of the discharge of the duties regarding the administration of the State) and our duties. Yoy share our intellect. May we be the victorious in battles with you, like a wolf gets over a goat, and share the wealth with you ?

PURPORT :—There is simile in th mantra. All happiness resides in that State where a king pleases the ministers, and ministers please their king, and thus they follow the policy of give and take share each other's pleasures and agonies. The both become powerful for the acquisition of wealth and prosperity, having killed their foes, as the wolf kills a goat, and thus achieve victory.

6\. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! when should we teach your friends about the ideal of brotherhood and friendship ? When should we tell them about the deserving friends ? Let us teach that the knowledge of the desireable things is the final aim of desires. All the articles from earth to different worlds are the wonderful sources of happiness. They are the means of the service and wealth of the beatiful body.

PURPORT—All must establish and maitain the friendship with the absolutely truthful enlightened persons, because they can make all happy by giving them the knowledge of the Science of creation. They are righteous with their teachings and by imparting knowledge of a high order.

NOTES :—(अमत्रम्) सुपात्रम् । =A well deserving person. (श्रिये) सेवायै धनाय वा । =For service and wealth. (सर्गाः) सृष्टयः । =Creation. (इषे) इच्छायै । =For desire.

The subject of removal of the enemies and progress of the army is told :

द्रुहं जिघांसन्ध्वरसमनिन्द्रां तेतिक्ते तिग्मा तुजसे अनीका ।
ऋणा चिद्यत्र ऋणया नं उग्रो दूरे अज्ञाता उषसो बबाधे ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a man full of splendour and influence destroys even the fore-standing and out-of-sight (hidden) armies of the enemies, like the sun dispels darkness of the dawn. He prepares his own armies on strong base for the defeat of the powerful armies of his adversaries. With an intention to kill the oppressing male- violent, he stops the activities initiated against God that is atheism.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always honour the person, who organises and trains well his armies, and defeats the armies of enemies. Because of it, he defeats the foes and enemies in distant areas and becomes frightener. He eradicates poverty and sense of insecurity, gladdens his people and destroys the wicked.

NOTES :—(ध्वरसम्) हिंसकम् । ध्वरति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) =Violent. (तुजसे) बलाय, शत्रूणां हिंसनाय वा । =For strength or destruction of enemies. (ऋणया:) प्राप्तया सेनया । =With the ready army.

The sublimity of truthful conduct is told :

ऋतस्य हि शुरुधः सन्ति पूर्वीर्ऋतस्य धीतिर्वृजिनानि हन्ति ।
ऋतस्य श्लोको बधिरा ततर्द कर्णा बुधानः शुचमान आयोः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :— O king ! you should honour the man of truthful conduct like your Guru (preceptor). His long established armies are capable to stop the enemies, because his understanding of truth is strong and he destroys enemies. His truthful speech removes the obstacles, is pure, as well as purifier. While teaching others, he tells the means to ennoble life.

PURPORT :—O teacher or king ! you should honour and regard the men like yourselves, who are self-controlled, check evil conduct, speak and propogate truth, teach the ignorant persons because they are like the deaf. In fact, they like men long lived by preaching Brahmacharya, and thus destroy miseries and enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुरुधः) याः शु सद्यो रुन्धन्ति ताः स्वसेनाः । शुरुध इति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) =Own armies which soon stop the enemies. (वृजिनानि) बलानि । वृजिनमिति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =The strength. (श्लोकः) वाक् । श्लोक इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) =The speech. (ततर्द) हिनस्ति । =Kills, destroys.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Dayananda Sarasvati gave in his commentry that the removal of deafness is meant here the removal of ignorance and prejudice. These make a man deaf to the words of truth.

The importance of truthful conduct is stressed :

ऋतस्यं दृळ्हा धरुणांनि सन्ति पुरूणिं चन्द्रा वपुंषे वपूंषि ।
ऋतेनं दीर्घमिषणन्त पृक्षं ऋतेन गाव ऋतमा विवेशुः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—The peaceful conduct of the true Dharma is manifold like water. There are many beautifying and gladdening ornamental golden things for the beautiful body of a truthful man. By the observance of truthful conduct, men obtain good food for sustenence and long life; and by truthful conduct, well balanced speeches. In fact, they are like the cows and worship True God.

PURPORT :—O men ! as by water a man can sustain life and produce grains etc. beauty and long life, in the same manner, by the observance of truthful conduct, a man acquires all prosperity and long life. Therefore, you should always observe truthfulness.

NOTES :—(धरुणानीव) उदकानीव शान्तान्याचरणानि । धरुणमित्युदकनाम (NG 1,12) । =Peaceful conduct or dealings. The sublimity of truthful conduct is praised :

ऋतं येमान ऋतमिद्वनोत्यृतस्य शुष्मस्तुरया उ गव्युः।
ऋताय पृथ्वी बहुले गभीरे ऋताय धेनू परमे दुहाते ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! there are earth and firmament endowed with many substances and supported by serene Supreme Power, same way the couple of cow and the speech supply milk and knowledge for the true Yajna. In the same manner, those who observe truth with self-control seek for truth only. Those who realise the the great force of truth and who desire persons to have cow, land and noble speech rapidly, they attain perfect happiness.

PURPORT:—The persons having acquired human body become righteous by observing the truthful conduct. Sincere prayers can accomplish the noble desires of all, like the earth and the sun.

NOTES :—(येमानः) नियमयन्तः । =Controlling, restraining. (गव्युः) य आत्मनो गां पृथ्वीं वाचं वेच्छुः । =Desirous of having his cow, speech or land. (पृथ्वी) भूम्यन्तरिक्षे । =Earth and firmament. (वनोति) याचते । =Begs. (शुष्मः) बलम् । =Force.

The truthful conduct is admired :

नू ष्टुत इन्द्र नू गृणान इषं जरित्रे नद्यो३ न पीपेः।
अकारि ते हरिवो ब्रह्म नव्यं धिया स्याम रथ्यः सदासाः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O king ! having many assistants and being praised on account of true conduct, make you grow like the water of the river. It gives you great wealth or wisdom. Impart knowledge only to him who is keen to acquire it, always admires truthful conduct and leads people towards Dharma or righteousness. Be like us, who with our attendants are masters of the chariot (of body) with the help of the intellect and industriousness.

PURPORT :—O men ! you serve those who establish a righteous policy, and be friendly to them who acquire the knowledge of all sciences.

NOTES :—(जरित्रे) विद्यामिच्छुकाय । =For the one, who is keen to acquire knowledge. (इषम्) विज्ञानम् । =Special knowledge. (ब्रह्म) बृहद्विद्याधनम् । = Great wealth of wisdom.

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! who is the best among man ? The answer is that the best is he, who desires the enlightened persons and friendship with God and serves (observes) Dharma (righteousness). Another answer may be the person, who gains wealth protection that leads beyond all misery, by putting the way of obltation of Soma in the kindled fire. This is the question that we have put to you.

PURPORT :—The answer to the above question is that the well-wisher of the whole world is the person who is desirous of true knowledge and friendship (nearness) with God, doing good to the whole universe, protects all, and brings about the welfare of people, through the performance of Homa or Yajna in the fire.

NOTES :—(देवकामः) यो देवान् विदुषः कामयते । विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) =He who desires the enlightened persons. (ईट्टे) ऐश्वर्यं लभते । =Gets wealth or prosperity. (उशन्) कामयमानः । =Desiring.

The duties of a king are dealt with in the form of questions :

को नानाम वचसा सोम्याय मनायुर्वा भवति वस्त उस्राः ।
क इन्द्रस्य युज्यं कः सखित्वं को भ्रात्रं वष्टि कवये क ऊती ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! who bows with his humble words before a person bringing about the prosperity (of a State). And who seeks excuses for the desire of acquiring knowledge before him ? Who desires to cover all with noble virtues like the rays of the sun? Who desires sincere friendship with God-the Lord of the world? And who desires to establish brotherhood with a wiseman with his protective actions.

PURPORT :—That man alone can get all desirable fruit who is humble in his mind, action and speech, who illumines all like the rays of the sun, who has friendship with God through noble actions, who keeps fraternity with all and who does good to the enlightened persons. (The answers to the above questions are contained in the mantra itself, which have been explained by the commentator in the purport. Ed).

NOTES :—(सोम्याम) सोमैश्वर्य्यं साधवे । =For the person bringing about the prosperity to the State. (उस्राः) रश्मय इव । =Like the rays. (मनायुः) मनोविज्ञानं कामयमानः । =Desiring to acquire true knowledge.

How to perform duties of various kinds is stated :

को देवानामवो अद्या वृणीते क आदित्याँ अदितिं ज्योतिरीट्टे ।
कस्याश्विनाविन्द्रो अग्निः सुतस्यांशोः पिबन्ति मनसाविवेनम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! who desires the protection of the enlightened persons to-day (now)? Who intensely longs for the scholars (who are regular like the cycle of months), the earth and light? Who is the person who extracts the juice of Soma with knowledge and is free from malice? (The answer is Ed.) the heaven and earth, the sun and Agni (electricity energy and fire).

PURPORT :—Those who have an association with the enlightened persons are able to lead others to the fulfilment of noble desires. Those who never long for undesirable things, get their noble desires fulfilled. This is the answer to the question put above.

NOTES :—(आदित्यान्) मासानिव वर्त्तमानान् पूर्णविद्यान् । =Great scholars who are (regular) like months. (अदितिम्) पृथिवीम् । =Earth. (अश्विनौ) द्यावापृथिव्यौ । =The heaven and earth. (अंशोः) प्राप्तव्यस्य

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the person who is purifier like the fire and upholder of noble virtues, grants happiness to him like home. He beholds the rising sun for a long time who says, we bring offerings to Indra (the king endowed with prosperity). A question is put that who is the best among the learned men of good character ? The answer is the greatest leader is one, who is the well-wisher of all people.

PURPORT :—That noble person alone can live for a hundred years, beholding the sun (with good eye-sight and physical fitness. Ed.). Who dwells in Vidya (true knowledge or wisdom) like his own abode ? Who acuires the knowledge of astronomy and other sciences with the obeservance of Brahmacharya ? And who tenders noble advice for the welfare of all men ?

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्नि:) पावकवद्वर्त्तमान: । =Who is like the purifier fire. (भारत:) धारकस्यायं धर्त्ता । =Upholder of the noble virtues. (शर्म) गृहमिव सुखम् । शर्मेति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) =Happiness like home. (नृतमाय) अतिशयेन नायकाय । =For the best leader.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Here it is used for a Brahmana who is upholder of noble virtues and purfier like the fire.

The performance of duties is described :

न तं जिनन्ति बहवो न दभ्रा उर्वस्मा अदितिः शर्म यंसत् ।
प्रियः सुकृत्प्रिय इन्द्रे मनायुःप्रियः सुप्रावीः प्रियो अस्य सोमी ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! enemies cannot conquer him nor other malevolent persons can harm him, who does noble deeds, is dear to God, and who is endeared among men on account of his good service to the people, who is thoughtful among the dear ones, and who is desired and loved by all. The answer is that one who is highly learned and virtuous, free from pleasure and grief and dear to the enlightened men and endowed with various kinds of wealth. Mother (God) bestows upon him much happiness.

PURPORT :—Those who are true devotees of God benefactors of or doers of good to all, and are popular without malice can not be conquered by enemies. As a man gets delight by being in the presence of the mother or good home, same way, such a man is ever delighted enjoying all kinds of happiness.

NOTES :—(दभ्राः) हिंसकाः । दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) । =Violent, malevolent. (अदितिः) माता । =Mother. Now the attributes of the kings and ministers are stated :

सुप्राव्यः प्राशुषाळेष वीरः सुष्वेः पक्तिं कृणुते केवलेन्द्रः ।
नासुष्वेरापिर्न सखा न जामिर्दुष्प्राव्योऽवहन्तेदवाचः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! this brave Indra (opulent king) is well worthy of protection, is capable to subdue the powerful enemies, and eats only the well-cooked good food. He is neither a friend in state dealings nor easily approachable. To the criminals, he does not give protection and slays the antagonistic condemnable and wicked persons of ignoble words.

PURPORT :—The officers of the State who take well-cooked food, and deal with right persons like friends and relations, destroy the wicked persons. Such officers do not attract poverty, i.e. duly rewarded and are not defeated.

NOTES :—(सुष्वेः) सुष्ठु निष्पन्नस्याऽन्नस्य । =Of well cooked good food. (असुष्वे) अलसस्यानिष्पादकस्य ।=Of a lazy person not, producing anything useful for the State. (जामिः) बन्धु । जामि अतिरेकं नाम । समाना जातिर्यस्य वोपजनः (NG 4, 3, 20) । =Brotherhood or friendship.

The qualities of the king and ministers are underlined :

न रेवतां पणिना सख्यमिन्द्रोऽसुन्वता सुतपाः संगृणीते ।
आस्य वेदः खिदति हन्ति नग्नं वि सुष्वये पक्तये केवलो भूत् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—The prosperous king who is very righteous and free from attachement and malice does not establish friendship with a lazy wealthy businessman. He teaches all to administer true justice. He takes sides only of a man who produces much for the state (with honest means. Ed.) and prepares good food-stuff. He slays a shameless wicked and debaucherous person. The wealth of such a noble king is not lost (and coffers are full. Ed.)

PURPORT :—The king of the state should be above approach. He neither favours a rich nor hurts the poor. He punishes well the wicked and protects good persons constantly, and therefore never suffers.

NOTES :—(पणिना) व्यवहर्त्रा वणिग्जनादिना । =With a trader. (असुन्वता) अपुरुषार्थिना । = Not industrious, lazy. (वेदः) द्रव्यम् । वेद इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) । =Wealth.

The impartial administration is praised :

इन्द्रं परेऽवरे मध्यमास इन्द्रं यान्तोऽवसितास इन्द्रम् ।
इन्द्रं क्षियन्त उत युध्यमाना इन्द्रं नरो वाजयन्तो हवन्ते ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—The men of the most exalted nature, men of impartial nature, men who go from place to place and men of strong determination, rely upon a king, because he destroys the wicked and upholds happiness to all- the men engaged in teaching and fight and the enemies. All people praise him and call upon Indra or invite him. Such persons can carry on the work of the State.

PURPORT :—Men should know that such state only can ever prosper, in which men of the exalted nature, men absolutely impartial and men at the lower rungs, whether learned or not learned love their own kingdom-Swarajya and destroy enemies and protect to the loyal to the king.

NOTES :—(अवसितास:) कृतनिश्चया: । =Men of strong determination. (वाजयन्त:) विज्ञापयन्त: । =Teach, instruct. (मध्यमास:) पक्षपातरहिता: । =Impartial.

Sūktam-30

Rishi of the Sūktam—Vāmadeva, Devatā—Indra and Indra and Ushā (combined). Chhanda—Gāyatri and Anushtup of various types. Svara—Shadja and Rishabha.

The attributes of an ideal ruler are told :

नकिरिन्द्र त्वदुत्तरो न ज्यायाँ अस्ति वृत्रहन् । नकिरेवा यथा त्वम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! like the sun destroying the clouds, there is no one superior to the clouds, there is no one superior to you, shining because of your virtues. There is no one more excellent than you. There is no one comparable as you are.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should elect such a king who is the best and the noblest among you.

NOTES :—(वृत्रहन्) यो वृत्रं हन्ति स सूर्य्यस्तद्वद्वर्त्तमान । =Who is like the sun destroyer of the clouds. (ज्यायान्) ज्येष्ठः । =Superior.

The essentials of a ruler are stated :

सुत्रा ते अनुं कृष्टयो विश्वां चुक्रेवं वावृतुः । सुत्रा मुहाँ असि श्रुतः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! because you are great and renowned on account of the observance of truth, therefore all men would follow you. They are of truthful conduct like the wheels (to the body of the waggon).

PURPORT :—O king ! if you are just, all your subjects will follow you.

NOTES :—(सत्रा) सत्याचारस्य । =Of the truthful conduct. (सत्रा) सत्याचरणेन । =On account of truth. (कृष्टयः) मनुष्याः । =The men.

The attributes of a ruler are elaborated :

विश्वें चुनेदुना त्वा देवास इन्द्र युयुधुः । यदहा नक्तमातिरः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you destroy enemies, with the help of the learned persons who have taken a vow to annihilate the wicked day and night. Under your stewardship, they fight with them, and you annihilate them.

PURPORT :—A king should have well trained and good servants and soldiers so that the foes may easily be overpowered. They may not be able to withstand him.

NOTES :—(अना) पणात्मकानि । =Having taken vows. (इन्द्र) शत्रूणां विदारक । =Destroyer of the foes. (आतिरः) हत्याः । =Slay.

The attributes of a ruler still continued :

यत्रोत बांधितेभ्यंश्चक्रं कुत्साय युध्यंते । मुषाय इन्द्र सूर्यम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! in that State where a man

acting like a Chief moves uninterrupted, like the sun-wheel and moves a weapon over a man who fights on behalf of the rebel people and is mad because of armament with weapons and missiles, happiness does not last.

PURPORT :—That king can not remain in power for a long time (must be dethronoed) who does not alleviate the sufferings of the people, does not shine like the sun with his noble vir tues and yet collects revenues from the subjects. (The oppession of people never yields good result-Ed.).

NOTES :—(कुत्साय) शस्त्रास्त्रयुक्ताय । =For a man having arms and missiles. (सूर्यम्) सूर्यमिव वर्त्तमानं न्यायम् । =Justice which is like the sun.

The subject of rulers' duties is further developed :

यत्रं देवाँ ऋघायतो विश्वाँ अयुध्य एक इत् । त्वमिन्द्र वनूँरहंन ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king) ! when you slay single-handed the wicked persons who give trouble to all enlightened men, you become unassiailable by the enemies.

PURPORT :—Whenever wicked persons give trouble to good men, the Indra should punish severely all the un-righteous persons.

NOTES :—(ऋघायतः) बाधमानान् । =Giving troubles. (वनून्) अधर्मसेविनः । =Un-righteous persons.

The functions of the ruler are compared to the sun :

यत्रोत मर्त्याय कमरिणा इन्द्र सूर्यम् । प्रावः शचीभिरेतशम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! let you provide us happiness with your guidance and actions like the sun and air and protect us like a trained horse. In your kingdom, where you give happiness, to a common man, you should not spare the wickeds from punishment.

PURPORT :—Where a ruler honours and respects the noble persons and punishes the wickeds and extends the facilities for education, there all his subjects get healthy and happy.

NOTES :—(भरिण:) प्रदत्ता: ।=Impart, give. (सूर्यम्) सवितारं वायुरिव । =To the sun, who creates the world. (एतशम्) प्राप्तविद्यमश्ववद्बलिष्ठम् । =To the one who is strong like a horse and has acquired knowledge.

The theme of administration is dealt :

किमादुतासि वृत्रहन्मघवन्मन्युमत्तमः । अत्राह दानुमातिरः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are equipped with nice wealthy and annihilator of the enemies. As the sun thrashes means and are the clouds, the same way you finish the devils. Moreover, in other spheres also you rule over us.

PURPORT :—The ruler who is deadly set against the wickeds and provides peace to the noble men, only such a ruler can extend the boundaries of his kingdom.

NOTES :—(वृत्रहन्) शत्रुनाशक ।=Smasher or annihilator of the enemy. (मन्युमत्तम:) प्रशंसितो मन्यु: क्रोधो यस्य सोऽतिशयित: =One who raises his anger for a right cause, and excels over other common men. (दानुम्) दातारम् । =One who gives trouble to the right persons. They are called Danavas.

The Statecraft is described :

एतद्घेदुत वीर्य१मिन्द्र चकर्थ पौंस्यम् ।
स्त्रियं यद्दुर्हणायुवं वधीर्दुहितरं दिवः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you eradicate the vices and the same way the sun thrashes the darkness. In order to remove unhappiness, the sun brings in the light after darkness disappears like a girl. The Indra also likewise extends its valour to activate the persons and smashes the enemies. He also protects the women and attendants.

PURPORT :—As the sun terminates a night with its light and brings forward a day in order to make people happy, the same way the State officers should smash the rogues and their conduct and should give protection to the noble persons. Thus creating more avenues of knowledge they make all the people happy.

NOTES :—(वीर्य्यम्) पराक्रमम् ।=Power or strength. (इन्द्र) दोषविनाशक । =Remover or eradicator of vices. (पौंस्यम्) पुंभ्यो हितम् । =Useful vices for the man. (दुहंणायुवम्) दुःखेन हन्तुं योग्यं कामयते ताम् । =One who is fond of removing unhappiness.

The attributes of a ruler are highlighted :

दिवश्चिद्घा दुहितरं महान्मंहीयमानाम् । उषासमिन्द्र सं पिणक् ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you are a glorious ruler. The way rising morning sun comparable to a girl crushes or defeats the darkness, the same way you should eradicate ignorance and wickeds.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile. A ruler who eradicates injustice like the sun, which overcomers the darkness, same way the ruler establishing the rule of justice and speading the knowledge, surely becomes matching to the sun.

NOTES :—(दुहितरम्) कन्यामिव वर्त्तमानाम् । =Darkness comparable with a girl. (महीयमानाम्) विस्तीर्णम् । =Growing vast. (सम पिणक्) पिनष्टि । =Crushes.

The subject of statecraft is further dealt :

अपोषा अनसः सरत्संपिष्टादह बिभ्युषी । नि यत्सीं शिश्नथद्वृषा ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—A powerful ruler is compared here to the dawn of the morning which eradicates the darkness completely with its emergence, prior to its arrival. The same way a ruler powerful like the sun weakens the wickeds.

PURPORT :—Here is also a simile. As the front portion of a car (chariot) moves ahead of its rear body, similarly the sun and its light appears on the horizon prior to the departure of darkness. A ruler also similarly should dispossess the men of misconduct from the society.

NOTES :—(उषा) प्रातर्वेलेव । =Like the dawn in the morning. (अनसः) शकटस्याग्रम ।=The front portion of a car. (सम्पिष्टात्) संचूर्णितात् । =Well crushed. (विभ्युषी) भयप्रदा । =Dreadful. (शिश्नथत्) शिथिलीकरोति । =Disengages.

Now the attributes of sun are described :

एतद॑स्या॒ अनः॑ शये॒ सुसं॑पिष्टं॒ विपा॒श्या । स॒सार॑ सीं प॒रावतः॑ ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the sun at its dawn smashes the darkness and releases light thoroughly, same way the learned person arrives in the region, moves and activates thoroughly and provides sound sleep to the people (he creates fearless life among the people).

PURPORT :—Here is simile. The dawn moves very fast like a quick transport, same way a ruler must remove ignorance.

NOTES : —(अनः) शकटमिव । =Like a chariot or car. (शये) शयनं कुर्याम् । =Sleep soundly. (विपाशि) विगतपाशे बन्धनरहिते मार्गे । =On the limitless path. (परावतः) दूरदेशात् । =From distance.

The subject of navigation related to the clouds (floods) is described :

उ॒त सिन्धुं॑ विबा॒ल्यं॑ वितस्था॒नामधि॒ क्षमि॑ । परि॑ ष्ठा इन्द्र मा॒यया॑ ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you are equipped with knowledge and prosperity and with your intelligence in planning, build great ships and navigational aids. That way you and your people are able to cross big rivers or oceans with them.

PURPORT :—O men ! in order to cross the oceans and rivers apply your intelligence and techniques to build big ships and thus become prosperous.

NOTES :—(सिन्धुम्) नदम् । =The powerful rivers. (विबाल्यम्) विगतं बाल्यं यस्य तम् । =Not small. (वितस्थानाम्) विशेषेण स्थिताम् । =Particularly situated. (क्षमि) पृथिव्याम् । =On the earth.

The relation between the State and people is defined :

उत शुष्णस्य धृष्णुया प्र मृक्षो अभि वेदनम् । पुरो यदस्य संपिणक् ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! as with your powerful army you smash the towns of your enemies completely and annihilate your adversaries, let you get us that scientific knowledge.

PURPORT :—Idea is that king who is respected is because of his large and powerful army. With his armed might, he removes the injustice and evil conduct. He spots out the right persons.

NOTES :—(शुष्णस्य) बलस्य । =Of the powerful army. (धृष्णुया) प्रगल्भत्वेन । =Strongly. (वेदनम्) विज्ञानम् । =Scientific knowledge. (पुरः) नगराणि । =The cities. (संपिणक्) संचूर्णय । =Smash or annihilate.

The subject of statecraft is compared to the sun :

उत दासं कौलितरं बृहतः पर्वतादधि । अवाहन्निन्द्र शम्बरम् ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you are shining and brilliant like the sun. As the sun brings happiness at the peak of a mountain, you also overpower your adversaries like the clouds and thus look after your people by annihilating the enemies. You should also side with faithful servants comingfrom good families.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the sun builds clouds with its temprature and the clouds bring rains on the earth which gives life to all beings, the same way a ruler spots out the untraceable criminals and robbers and protects the common people.

NOTES :—(दासम्) सेवकम् । =The servant,—the public servant. (कौलितरम्) प्रशस्तकुलीनम् । =Hailing from good families.

Mdl. 4, Skt. 30, Mtr. 16 ।

(शम्बरम्) शं सुखं वृणोति यस्मात् मेघम् । =The cloud which gives delight.

The Statecraft is described more elaborately :

उत दासस्यं वर्चिनंः सहस्राणि शतावंधीः । अधि पञ्चं प्रधींरिव ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! as sharp nails affixed in an axle smash the hurdles, the same way, you should destroy hundreds and thousands wickeds thoroughly; and those who are well intelligent and learned and are under your service, you should protect them.

PURPORT :—The ruler who looks after and protects the State officers from the clutch of the wickeds and gives due respect to the noble persons or people take him to be their master.

NOTES :—(वर्चिनः) बह्वधीतस्य । =Of well learned. (अवधीः) हन्याः । =Kill. (प्रधीनिव) चक्रस्थानि तीक्ष्णानि कीलकानीव वर्त्तमानान् जगत्कराटकान् दुष्टान् । =The wickeds who are like the sharp nails affixed in an axle.

The theme of administration further moves on :

उत त्यं पुत्रमग्रुवः परांवृक्तं शतक्रंतुः । उक्थेष्विन्द्र आभंजत् ॥ १६ ॥

16. TRANSLATION :—A ruler after performing innumerable Yajnas, that is the various inter-actions produced by the combination of noble ideas and actions, looks after the and living of admirable persons. Infact, he comes close to the warriors, who serve their master at the forward morcha and behave like an obedient son. He also gives them good training and teaching, and thus achieves his object.

PURPORT :—As a mother looks after her children, same way if a ruler also follows the same path, the people respect and honour him like their parents.

NOTES :—(अग्रुवः) अग्रसराः । =Those who march forward. pioneers. (परावृक्तम्) अच्छिन्नवीर्य्यम् । =Whose power is never defeated. (शतक्रतुः) असंख्य प्रज्ञः । =Hundred or innumerable inter-actions or Yajnas.

The subject of learned person is described :

उत त्या तुर्वशायदू अस्नातारा शचीपतिः इन्द्रो विद्वाँ अपारयत् ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—A learned person who is master of excellent knowledge (SHACHI), such a king is able to overpower the semi-learned and unvirtuous persons and finally makes them delighted. Thus that king and his subjects both become happy.

PURPORT :—When the people receive educotion from the frank and straightward learned persons, they finally become free from unhappiness and finally become happy.

NOTES : —(तुर्वशायदू) शीघ्रं वशंकरो यत्नवांश्च तौ मनुष्यौ। तुर्वशा इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) यदव इति च। =One who makes the people to submit easily and attempts very hard. The men. (शचीपतिः) प्रजापतिर्वाक्पतिर्वा। =One who is master of words or of the people. (अपारयत्) दुःखात् पारयेत्। =Takes across from the path of grief.

The subject of learned person is further stated :

उत त्या सद्य आर्या सरयोरिन्द्र पारतः। अर्णाचित्ररथावधीः ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O Indra! you are a ruler and therefore, incapacitate or immobilise or smash the transport of the enemy, who move very fast. These who are of good temperament virtues and actions, you should protect them.

PURPORT :—A ruler should incessantly keep the criminals and enemy under his check and should honour the noble persons.

NOTES :—(आर्या) उत्तमगुणकर्मस्वभावौ। =Those who are blessed with ideal virtues, actions and temparament. (सरयोः) गच्छतोः। =Moving forward. (अर्णाचित्ररथौ) अर्णौ प्रापकौ च तौ चित्ररथा आश्चर्यरथौ च तौ। =Those who possess the peculiar chariots and get the same for others also.

The subject of Statecraft is dealt :

अनु द्वा जंहिता नंयोऽन्धं श्रोणं चं वृत्रहन्। न तत्तें सुम्नमष्टंवे ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you annihilate the enemies and wickeds. You lead in the sphere of relieving the human distress, that is you take welfare measures for the blind, invalids and handicapped. If adequate relief measures are provided to them no enemy can overpower our State.

PURPORT :—A ruler who supports and provides necessary help to the blind and handicapped, his kingdom will be ever happy.

NOTES :—(जहिता) जहितौ त्यक्तारौ। =Those who are physically handicapped. (अन्धम्) चक्षुर्विज्ञानविकलम्। =Suffering from opthalmic diseases or is blind. (वृत्रहन्) शत्रुहन्तः। =Killer or smasher of the enemies.

The State administration is compared with the sun :

शतमंश्मन्मयींनां पुरामिन्द्रो व्यांस्यत्। दिवोंदासाय दाशुषें ॥ २० ॥

20. TRANSLATION :—As the sun provides ample light and builds clouds which create rains for the good of people, same way a glorious ruler overcomes or smashes the hundreds of buildings made of stone and dwellings in the towns ruled by his enemies and ultimately he wins the battle.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile. The sun builds power and ultimately overpowers the clouds. The same way, O king ! when you will attain victory oner the towns of your advarsaries, you are bound to acquire wealth and fame.

NOTES :—(अश्मन्मयीनाम्) मेघप्रचुराणामिव पाषाणनिर्मितानाम्। =The towns where the buildings are made of stone like the clustre of clouds. (पुराम्) नगरीणाम्। =Towns or cities. (आस्यत्) व्यसेच्छिन्द्यात्। =Smashes into pieces. (दिवोदासाय) प्रकाशस्य सेवकाय। =For the one who through lights (sun), or for the one who is fond of knowledge (Dapplicable in the case of ruler).

The subject of administration is again compared with the sun :

अस्वापयद्दभीतये सहस्रा त्रिंशतं हथैः। दासानामिन्द्रो मायया ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—A ruler who defeats his hundreds or few enemies and kills them with several weapons and armament, he is capable to provide relief and peace to the State officials. Finally he wins the battle.

PURPORT :—A ruler who appoints a commander capable to destroy his enemies with his skill and intelligence, he is always happy.

NOTES : –(अस्वापयत्) स्वापयेत्। =Provides sound sleep. (दभीतये) हिंसनाय। =In order to kill.

The subject of State administration is vividly stated :

स धेदुतासि वृत्रहन्त्समान इन्द्र गोपतिः। यस्ता विश्वानि चिच्युषे ॥२२॥

22. TRANSLATION :—As the sun smashes the clouds and then gives immense prosperity to the people, same way a ruler who is capable to smash his enemies, he also fetches plenty of prosperity to the people and becomes the master of earth. By his standards, such a ruler downgrades all others.

PURPORT : —A king who appropriately applies his displeasure and happiness, he nurtures the whole nation and is taken to be full of exceptional qualities. His nature and actions are just like the sun.

NOTES :—(इन्द्र) पुष्कलैश्वर्यकारक। =One who provides plenty of prosperity. (गोपतिः) पृथिव्याः स्वामी। =Master of earth. (चिच्युषे) च्यावयसि। =Downgrades.

More details of the nature of administration are described :

उत नूनं यदिन्द्रियं करिष्या इन्द्र पौंस्यम्। अद्या नकिष्टदा मिनत् ॥२३॥

23. TRANSLATION :—O Indra! you protect all and always perform the nice acts and keep the senses at a positive check. There is no other person who can match and kill you.

PURPORT :—The ruler who extends his military power right from the beginning, he is never defeated by his adversaries, and scores victory over them.

NOTES :—(इन्द्र) सर्वरक्षक । =Protector of all. (पौंस्यम्) पुंसु साधु । =A noble man.

The subject of imparting good sermons is dealt :

वामंवामं त आदुरे देवो ददात्वर्यमा
वामं पूषा वामं भगो वामं देवः करूळती ॥ २४ ॥

24. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you kill the enemies, you like and respect the artists and craftsmen and are taker of victory. You should have around you the people who appreciate and admire your efforts. You also have craftsmen and artists, as well as the judicial officers who can bring the desirable result and objects. Let you give a rewarding wealth to the craftsmen, so that they become prosperous, brilliant and discover secrets of nice knowledge. Then they all will ever honour and serve you.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always respect those who teach people about truth, justice and functional knowledge.

NOTES :—(वामंवामम्) प्रशस्यं । वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 8) । =(1) The aspired wealth. (2) The excellent knowledge. (आदुरे) शत्रूणां विदारक । =Smasher of enemies. (देवः) विजयप्रदाता । =Scorer of victory. (करूळती) यः करूनूढा कामयते स करूडतः सोस्यास्तीति । =One who loves and admires the artists and craftsmen.

Sūktam-31

Rishi or seer of the Sūktam—Vāmdeva. Devatā or subject—Indra. Chhanda or Metre—Gāyatri of various types. Svara or tune—shadja.

The relations between the ruler and his subjects are described.

कयां नश्चित्र आ भुंवदूती सदावृंधः सखां । कया शचिंष्ठया वृता ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! extending your kingdom and influence you become friendly to us by dint of your protective actions, nice speech, and actions or intelligence. These qualities bear peculiar virtues, actions and temperament, making you a friend in real senses.

PURPORT :—O ruler ! you should act and behave with us in a friendly manner, so that our mutual relations grow closere.

NOTES :—(चित्रः) अद्भुतगुणकर्मस्वभावः । =Bearing distinctive qualities, actions and temperaments. (ऊती) ऊत्या रक्षणादिक्रियया सह । =By dint of your protective actions. The salient qualities of a ruler and his subjects are narrated under the nomenclature of Indra :

आ तू न इन्द्र वृत्रहन्नस्माकमर्धमा गहि। महान्महीभिरूतिभिः ॥१॥

*1. TRANSLATION :—*O ruler ! you are Indra, that is greatly prosperous and are comparable with sun, smashing the clouds.

We seek your blessings for our progress. Grown under your protective faculties, you come to us.

PURPORT :—O ruler ! if you help us to grow more, we shall also equally reciprocate to make you the great.

NOTES :—(इन्द्र) राजन् । =Greatly prosperous. (वृत्रहन्) यो वृत्रं हन्ति सूर्यस्तद्वत् । =The sun which smashes the clouds. (अर्द्धम्) वर्धनम् । = Progress, advancement. (ऊतिभिः) रक्षादिभिः । =Protective faculties.

The relationship between the ruler and his subjects are extensively described :

भूमिश्चिद्घासि तूतुजिरा चित्र चित्रिणीष्वा । चित्रं कृणोष्यूतये ॥२॥

2. *TRANSLATION :—*O ruler ! you are endowed with peculiar qualities actions and temperament. In order to ensure security of your kingdom, you move from pillar to post among your army formations and behave in a peculiar way. Because you fulfil our desires, hence you are worthy of honour or respect.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you succeed in protecting your subjects by arranging mobile courts to administer justice quickly, then your people will certainly achieve miraculous progress.

NOTES :—(भूमिः) भ्रमणशीलः । =Mobile, moving from place to place. (तूतुजिः) शीघ्रकारी । =Fast. (चित्रिणीषु) अद्भुतासु सेनासु । =Among the special army formations. (चित्रम्) अद्भुतम् । =Peculiar or strange.

The subject of ruler and his subjects is further developed :

दभ्रेभिश्चिच्छशीयांसं हंसि व्राधन्तमोजसा । सखिभिर्ये त्वे सचा ॥३॥

3. *TRANSLATION :—*O ruler ! you are the commander of army. Alongwith your trusted and chosen friends, you annihilate the evil people like a hunter, because they violate the moral sanctions. Those who are sincere and truthful, they receive your protection, In such conditions, O ruler ! you are sure to achieve victory.

PURPORT :—Even a small band of friendly persons and are also committed to the path of righteousness, they are capable to annihilate the wickeds, however outnumbered they may be.

NOTES :—(दभ्रेभिः) अल्पैर्हं स्वैर्वा । =Small bands. (शशीयांसम्) धर्ममुत्प्लवमानम् । =Violates of the path of righteousness. (श्रावन्तम्) व्याघ्रमिव प्रजाहिंसकेम् । =Harassing the people like the hunters. (ओजसा) बलेन । =By might. (सखिभिः) सुहृद्भिः । =By the people united with friendship.

The theme of ruler and people relation still continues :

वयमिन्द्र त्वे सचा वयं त्वाभि नोनुमः । अस्माँअस्माँ इदुदव ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! we should behave truthfully among ourselves. We always bow to your command and respect. Let you ever protect us positively.

PURPORT :— O ruler ! the way we treat you truthfully, and sincerely, the same way you also reciprocate towards us, so that we continually make progress and expand.

NOTES :—(सचा) सत्याचारेण । =By dint of truthful conduct. (अभिनोनुमः) भृश नताः स्मः । =Bow before you in respect. (अव) रक्ष । =Protect.

The king and his subjects are again discussed here :

स नश्चित्राभिरद्रिवोऽनवद्याभिरूतिभिः । अनाधृष्टाभिरा गहि ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you are like a sun. As the sun thrashes the clouds, you also reach us with your protective faculties because they are always admired and never repremanded and repressed. We seek you sincerely.

PURPORT :— O people ! as the king protects you in all possible ways, you should also similarly provide him protection.

NOTES :—(चित्राभिः) अद्भुताभिः । =Peculiar. (अद्रिवः) अद्रयो मेघा विद्यन्ते सम्वन्धे यस्य सूर्यस्य तद्वद्वर्त्तमानः । =The sun which has a particular relation with the clouds and thrashes them. (प्रनवद्याभिः) प्रशंसनीयाभिः । =Always admired. (ऊतिभिः) रक्षादिभिः । =By protective faculties. (अनाधृष्टाभिः) शत्रुभिर्धर्षितुमयोग्याभिः । =Not to be reprehanded and repressed by the enemy.

The chapter of ruler and his subjects still continues :

भूयामो षु त्वावंतः सखांय इन्द्र गोमंतः । युजो वाजांय घृष्वंये ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! your suporters and friends are never depressed. In order to seek a specialised knowledge of foodgrains, or agriculture, let them become impressive and influential with the wealth of cow progeny.

PURPORT :—O ruler ! when you achieve teritorial gains, we would also share that your success with prosperity.

NOTES :—(भूयामो) भवेम । अत्र वाच्छन्दसीत्यस्योत्वम् । =Let us be. (त्वावतः) त्वया रक्षिताः । =Protected by you. (गोमतः) गावो विद्यन्ते येषान्ते । =Omner of cow progeny. (वाजाय) विज्ञानायान्नाय वा । =To seek specialised knowledge of foodgrains, or agriculture. (घृष्वये) घर्षणाय । =For depression.

The subject of ruler and rule is further dealt :

त्वं ह्येक ईशिष इन्द्र वाजंस्य गोमंतः । स नो यन्धि महीमिषंम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you are learned or prosperous, and single handed you annex large areas of land in your kingdom and rule over it. In return, it brings specialised knowledge to the people. We sincerely seek for it, as well as for the foodgrains.

PURPORT :—A learned ruler first acquires prosperity with hard labour, and then gives it away among the common people. In fact, he has right to be the master or boss of all the people.

NOTES :—(वाजस्य) [illegible] । =Of the people who are full of specialised knowledge. (गोमतः) बहुविधपृथिव्यादिसहितस्य । =Of the one who occupies large areas of land. (यन्धि) प्रयच्छ । =Give away. (इषम्) अन्नादिकम् । =Foodgrains and wealth.

The attributes of a teacher and preacher are narrated :

न त्वा॑ वरन्ते अ॒न्यथा॒ यद्दित्स॑सि स्तु॒तो म॒घम् । स्तो॒तृभ्य॑ इन्द्र गिर्वणः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! praised through the speeches, you always show inclination to give wealth to the learned. In that sense, no other can match you and therefore the people do not accept a ruler other than you.

PURPORT :— One who gives wealth or knowledge in the world, he is enduring to all. No body is opposed to him.

NOTES :—(वरन्ते) स्वीकुर्वन्ति । =Accept. (दित्ससि) दातुमिच्छसि । = You always show inclination to give. (स्तोतृभ्यः) विद्वद्भ्यः । = Admires and learned. (गिर्वणः) गीर्भिस्सत्कृतः । =Praise through speeches.

More about the teachers and preachers is told :

अ॒भि त्वा॒ गोत॑मा गि॒रानू॑षत॒ प्र दा॒वने॑ । इन्द्र॒ वाजा॑य घृष्व॑ये ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! the masters of excellent speech praise you everywhere. He does it for the sake of food-grains and specialised knowledge which is not perishable. A philanthropist is very well admired and you should also emulate it.

PURPORT :—One who is admired by a learned, in fact he is worthy of respect and honour.

NOTES :—(गोतमाः) प्रशस्ता गौर्वाग्विद्यते येषान्ते । गौरितिवाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) =Those who are masters of nice speech and languages. (अनुषत) स्तुवन्तु । =Admire. (दावने) दात्रे । =For a philanthropist. (घृष्वये) घर्षिताय शुद्धाय । =Not perishable or pure.

The teacher and preacher are further described :

प्र ते वोचाम वीर्या॑ या मन्दसान आरुजः । पुरो दासीरभीत्य ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king ! cherishing a great ambition, you treat your enemies with scant respect as is meted out to the maid-servants. After winning the towns, you make their vanished citizens free from diseases. Let us tell to others about your heroic deeds.

PURPORT :—A ruler who is capable to defeat his foes, only he can rule over the kingdom.

NOTES :—(वीर्या) बलपराक्रमयुक्तानि कर्म्माणि । =Heroic deeds. (मन्दसानः) कामयमानः । Desirous. (आ, अरुजः) समन्ताद्रोगयुक्ताः । =Sick persons. (पुरः) नगरीः । =Towns. (दासीः) सेविकाः । = Maid servants.

The attributes of teachers and preachers are elucidated :

ता ते गृणन्ति वेधसो यानि चकर्थ पौंस्या । सुतेष्विन्द्र गिर्वणः ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! who soever admire your heroic strength in their speech and language, you assign them into gainful tasks. Let us also admire such persons.

PURPORT :—Only such people are worth admiring, who are admired by impartial and straightforward persons.

NOTES :—(गृणन्ति) स्वीकुर्वंति वर्णयन्ति । =To state or mention. (वेधसः) मेधाविनः । =Wise men. (चकर्थ) करोषि । =Perform. (पौंस्या) पुंभ्यो हितानि बलानि । =Heroic deeds. (सुतेषु) निष्पन्नेषु पदार्थेषु । =Gainful tasks.

The teacher-preacher theme further moves on :

अवीवृधन्त गोतमा इन्द्र त्वे स्तोमवाहसः । ऐषु धा वीरवद्यशः ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION : —O learned person or ruler ! scholars and scientists who earn reputation for you and intensify your fame because of their adventures and heroic spirit and produce increasing wealth, you harness and hold well their exploits.

PURPORT ;—O king ! those who bring fame for your kingdom, you should also duly make them reputed.

NOTES :—(अवीवृधन्त) वर्धयन्तु । =Produce increased wealth. (गोतमाः) विद्वांसः । =Masters of speech. (स्तोमवाहसः) प्रशंसाप्रापकाः । = Who earn reputation. (वीरवत्) वीरा विद्यन्ते यस्मिंस्तत् । =Heroic tasks.

Further attributes and duties of the teachers and preachers are stated :

यच्चिद्धि शश्वतामसीन्द्र साधारणस्त्वम् । तं त्वा वयं हवामहे ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O people ! God is great and full of prosperity. He is absorbed in all the comprehanded substances by the nature which is eternal. We worship and abide in Him in the positive terms.

PURPORT :—O men ! God is Master of all the substances created by nature since eternal time. He holds and sets them in their making, regulates all the functions of nature and is comprehanding. Worship and,ever say prayer to Him.

NOTES :—(शश्वताम्) अनादिभूतानां मध्ये । —Amidst the substances which are eternal. (साधारणः) सामान्येन व्याप्तः =Comprehanded. (हवामहे) स्तुमहे, आश्रयेम =Worship or say prayer.

The ideal nature of teachers and preachers is described :

अर्वाचीनो वसो भवास्मे सु मत्स्वान्धसः । सोमानामिन्द्र सोमपाः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you abide in the minds of all your subjects. You guard our present prosperity and provide us complete security in respect of our foodgrains, clothes and ornaments etc. Obviously such actions delight you well.

PURPORT :—A king who guards and protects the life and property of the public, he ensures the prosperity of his kingdom very well and soon.

NOTES :—(अर्वाचीनः) इदानीन्तनः । =Contemporary, pertaining to present times. (सोमपाः) यः सोममैश्वर्यं पाति सः । =Sentinel or gu... of the life and property. (अन्धसः) अन्नादेः । =Of the crops and foodgrains. (सुमत्स्व) आनन्द । =Delight well.

The attributes of teachers and preachers are further dealt :

अस्माकं त्वा मतीनामा स्तोमं इन्द्र यच्छतु । अर्वागा वर्तया हरी ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the cheerings or applauses which we thoughtful persons offer to you may enable you to treat energy and water or train the horse-power well again and again.

PURPORT :—A king who is well skilled and humble, earns appreciation and admiration of every kind. Only such a ruler can discipline his subjects.

NOTES :—(मतीनाम्) मननशीलानां मनुष्याणाम् । =Of thoughtful persons. (स्तोमः) स्तुतिः । =Cheerings. (वर्तय) अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः । =Treat or train, (हरी) अग्निजले अश्वौ वा । =Energy and water or horses (or horse-power).

For a good ruler proper utilisation of teachers and preachers is stated :

पुरोळाशं च नो घसो जोषयासे गिरश्च नः । वधूयुरिव योषणाम् ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O doctor ! you get us ideally hygenically and nutritiously prepared meals for our consumption. As a chaste wife is devoted to her husand, and he accepts her sincerely. Same way you listen attentively to our advice or petitions.

PURPORT :—A chaste wife is devoted to her loving husband and he accepts her advice or saying attentively. A good ruler also listens to the people's verdict and decides all the issues with justice. Such a king gets prosperous and is respected.

NOTES :—(पुरोळाशम्) सुसंस्कृतान्नविशेषम् । =Ideally and hygenically and nutritiously prepared meals. (घसः) भोगः । =Consumption.

EDITOR'S REMARKS :—The intro indicates the subject related to teachers and preachers. It may look superficially inconsitant, when Svami Dayanand translates it as doctor. In fact a doctor is also a teacher and preacher, because he imparts education in healthcare and medicare.

———

The subject of teacher and preacher further continues :

सहस्रं व्यतीनां युक्तानामिन्द्रमीमहे । शतं सोमस्य खार्यः ॥ १७ ॥

17. TRANSLATION :—The teachers and preachers who approach a wealthy person to beg large amount of money and food-grains, they hardly get any response, however, well-meaning and conscious, they may be. Likewise, the cases are decided scornfully by the ruler, when they go on begging. The moral is not be greedy by ideal persons teachers and preachers.

PURPORT :—Those who go on begging from the affluent persons and rulers, they get very little response and respect. In contrast, those who do not beg, they gain plenty.

NOTES :—(व्यतीनाम्) गमनकर्तॄणाम् । =Of those who approach. (युक्तानाम्) समाहितानाम्। =Of the well meaning in consumption. (इन्द्रम्) दुष्टहर्त्तारं राजानम्। =To the ruler who quells the rogues. (ईमहे) याचामहे। =Beg. (खार्यः) एतत्परिमाणमितान्यन्नादीनि। =Plenty of foodgrains and materials.

Again the subject of teachers and preachers is brought in :

सहस्रा ते शता वयं गवामा च्यावयामसि । अस्मत्रा राध एतु ते ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O master of wealth ! let us get plenty of wealth from you. In fact, it is we, who get you cattle wealth in large numbers.

PURPORT :—O master of wealth ! we get from you cattle wealth and other forms of wealth resources. In return, we are inclined to give you our wealth of wisdom.

EDITOR'S REMARKS: The teachers and preachers receive wealth in cash and kind from the rich persons, and in return they should give good teachings and preachings to them. Here addressing a wealthy man in the mantra is thus related to the subject referred to in the intro of the mantra.

NOTES :—(सहस्त्रा शता) सहस्त्राणि शतानि। =In hundred and thousand. (गवाम्) गोआदि पशूनाम्। =Cattle wealth. (आच्यावयामसि) प्रापयामः। = Get.

The relations between a ruler and wealthy men on one side, and teachers and preachers on the other side are narrated :

दशं ते कुलशांनां हिरंण्यानामधीमहि। भूरिदा अंसि वृत्रहन् ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you finish your enemies and with the exploits give away money to the teachers and preachers. Let us receive tens of pitchers full of golden coins.

PURPORT :—One who is a philanthropist and gives plenty to others, such a ruler of rich person earns the friendship of several other persons.

NOTES :—(कलशानाम्) घटानाम्। =Of the pitchers. (हिरण्यानाम्) स्वर्ण निर्मितानाम्:। =Made of gold. (दश) अनेके दशसंख्याकाः। =Several tens. (वृत्रहन्) शत्रुहन्ता। =One who finishes his enemies.

The attributes of teachers and preachers are further stated :

भूरिदा भूरिं देहि नो मा दुभ्रं भूर्या भंर। भूरि घेदिंन्द्र दित्ससि ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O ruler or wealthy man ! you are giver of plenty, and are particularly keen to give away more and more to your people. You give us plenty because its your nature. Thus you should support many people. Do not give them poorly and never seek for small.

PURPORT :—A philanthropist is much admired and the one who gives away, a minimum amount or conttibution, he is not talked about in the words of praise.

(भूरिदाः) बहुदाः । =Philanthropist. (दभ्रम्) अल्पम् । =Minimum. (भूरि) बहु । =Plenty. (दित्ससि) दातुमिच्छसि । =Seek to give away.

Subject of teacher and preacher is dealt further :

भूरिदा ह्यसि श्रुतः पुरुत्रा शूर वृत्रहन् । आ नो भजस्व राधसि ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O brave ruler ! you acquire wealth, and with it you donate freely. This makes you distinguished and famed. Because of this you look after us well. Hence you should look after us continuously.

PURPORT :—One who gives in donation substantially, his fame spreads everywhere.

NOTES :—(भूरिदाः) बहुप्रदाः । =Giver of plenty. (श्रुतः) सर्वत्र प्रसिद्धकीर्त्तिः । =Famed. (पुरुत्रा) बहुषु प्रतिष्ठितः । =Distinguished among many. (शूर) शत्रुहन्तः । =Killer of enemy. (वृत्रहन्) प्राप्तधन । =One who has acquired wealth. (राधसि) संसाध्नोसि । =Look after well.

The chapter of teacher and preacher goes on :

The parents should arrange education for their children :

यदारमक्रन्नृभवः पितृभ्यां परिविष्टी वेषणा दंसनाभिः ।
आदिद्देवानामुप सख्यमायन्धीरासः पुष्टिमवहन्मनायै ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—The wise men receive all sorts of education from their parents. Because of this education and its essence ingrained in the mind alongwith ideal action, they prove worthy of the friendship of the scholars. Thereafter, they attain wisdom, which originates from Yogic exercises and become acceptable. All the parts and organs of the body get adequate strength because of the Yogic exercises.

PURPORT :—The persons who receive education at the age of five from their mothers and at the age of eighth from their fathers and later on from their teachers upto the age of forty-eight, they become very learned wise and religious and in order to deliver good to the mankind they live prety long life.

NOTES ;—(अरम्) अलम् । =Achieve. (पितृभ्याम्) विद्वद्भ्यांजनीजनकाभ्याम् =From the learned parents-mothers and fathers. (परिविष्टी) सर्वतो विद्याव्याप्नोति यया तया क्रियया । =Attaining full knowledge. Education by the parents and serving to them are emphasized :

पुन॒र्ये च॒क्रुः पि॒तरा॒ युवा॑ना स॒ना यूपे॑व ज॒र॒णा शया॑ना ।
ते वाजो॒ विभ्वाँ॑ ऋ॒भुरिन्द्र॑वन्तो॒ मधु॑प्सरसो नोऽवन्तु य॒ज्ञम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :— On becoming young, respect the persons who serve their parents well and give them full rest and respect upto the old age and prove to them like their pillar (support), they become handsome and prosperous. Let those old parents continue the tradition of study and teaching. In their accompaniment and association and with the favour of blessings of the Almighty God, let me become wise and learned.

PURPORT :—The parents who make their children Brahmachari (celibate) for a pretty long period and make them good natured and learned, they always have youthful life even in their old age because of their service given to them by their children .

EDITOR'S NOTES :— The importance of parents and teachers to teach the children is a noble Vedic concept. Shtapatha Brahman says :—मातृमान् पितृमानाचार्यवान् पुरुषो वेद ।

Svami Dayananda has thus begun the second chapter of Satyartha Prakasha with this very key-note about the education.

NOTES :—(युवाना) प्राप्तयौवनौ । =Youthful. (सना) संसेविनौ । =Serving. (यूपेव) स्तम्भ इव दृढौ । =Like a pillar. (जरणा) जरां प्राप्तौ । =Old. (शयाना) यौ शयाते तौ । =Sleeping in rest. (यज्ञम्) अध्ययनाध्यापनादिकम् । =Study, teaching and other good actions.

Emphasise has been laid on the role played by the parents during the education of their children :

यत्सं॒वत्स॒मृ॒भवो॒ गामर॑क्षन्यत्सं॒वत्स॒मृ॒भवो॒ मा अपि॑शन् ।
यत्सं॒वत्स॒मभ॑र॒न्भासो॑ अस्या॒स्ताभिः॒ शमी॑भिरमृत॒त्वमा॑शुः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION:— The wise parents always impart ideal education to their children and train them in the proper use of the speech. The intelligent parents and teachers bring up their children in an affectionate manner and look after their physical and intellectual development. The good mothers enlighten their children with affection like a cow caressing its calf. Such children or students get the best knowledge from their parents and teachers, serve them properly. Because of this, these teachers and parents attain the highest delight, satisfaction and salvation very soon.

PURPORT :—The wise parents and their teachers bring up the children and students by the observance of Brahmacharya (celibacy). And thus they acquire knowledge, strength virtues and fine actions. They attain the highest degree of delight.

NOTES :—(संवत्सम्) सङ्गतं वत्समिव । =Like an attachment to calf. (ऋभवः) मेधाविनः पितरः । =The wise or intelligent parents. 7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! giver of much wealth your steads are beautiful and speedy, added with the wise men. You make your friends because of their good deeds. They are in fact upholders of jewels of noble virtues. They take milk in the morning and well-cooked pure and juicy food at noon. In this way, you get abiding happiness and health.

PURPORT :—The men are very fortunate who have highly learned persons as their friends, and desise welfare of all. They perform good deeds by discharging their duties in the morning, noon and evening and who take proper diet at proper time, and are friendly to all.

NOTES :—(सवनम्) सकलसंस्काररसोपेतम् । =Well-cooked and juicy food. (हर्य्यश्व) हर्याः कमनीया गमनीया अश्वा यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ । =He who possesses beautiful and speedy horses.

The duties of the enlightened ones are told :

ये देवासो अभंवता सुकृत्या श्येना इवेदधि दिवि निषे ।
ते रत्नं धात शवसो नपातः सौधन्वना अभंवतामृतासः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION:—The enlightened persons are famed on account of good deeds, and take flights to the sky (by aircrafts etc.) being industrious like the hawks. They are also powerful being the sons of those who keep the firmament free of pollution by performing Yajnas. They never go astray from the path of Dharma (righteousness), and lastly attain the bliss of emancipation.

PURPORT :—Those who go to the firmament by the aircrafts like the hawks, who become truly enlightened by the performance of righteous acts and turn others also on the same path, get prosperity in this world and emancipation thereafter in the heaven.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्येना-इव) श्येनवत्पुरुषार्थिनः । =Industrious like the hawks. (नपातः) ये धर्मान्न पतन्ति । =Who do not go away from the path of righteousness. Sūktam—36

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā or subject. Ribhus. Chhanda-Trishtup and Jagati of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Nishada.

The subject of technology is dealt :

अनश्वो जातो अनभीशुरुक्थ्यो रथस्त्रिचक्रः परि वर्तते रजः ।
महत्तद्वो देव्यस्य प्रवाचनं द्यामृभवः पृथिवीं यच्च पुष्यथ ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O wisemen ! admirable three-wheeled your car is without horses for driving and without reins. It traverses the firmament. Your interest is teaching of the enlightened persons, and consequently you cherish the heaven (firmament) and earth.

PURPORT :—You should build aircraft and the transport applying the various machines of horse-power, but not the horses. These are operated by fire (fuel or energy) and water etc. You should travel on the earth, in the sky and sea and thus acquire mundane wealth and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनभीशुः) अप्रतिग्रहः । =Without reins. (प्रवाचनम्) उपदेशनम् । =Teaching/preaching/impartive instruction. (त्रिचक्रः) त्रिचक्रोपेतं यानम् । =Three-wheeled car/plane.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In this mantra, it is clear reference to the building up of a car or conveyance like the aircraft, which is operated without horses and reins, which traverses on the earth, in the sea and in the sky. Even the translation of the mantra given by Prof. Wilson and Griffith leads to the same conclusion. Prof. Wilson's translation अनश्वः is horseless and of अनभीशुः is without reins. परिवर्तते रजः has been translated by him as traverses the firmament. Griffith's translation is "the three wheeled car that does not run with horse, or reins is worthy of lands and rolls round the firmament."

Though Prof. Wilson has not given any note on the mantra, Griffith has added a strange note not admitting the reference to the aircrafts, though it is so much clear. His note is :—the car; the three wheeled chariot of the Ashvins (2) drawn by asses (?) i.e. the grey clouds of the morning twilight.

Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation is quite simple and straight as clearly borne out by the adjective of रथः as अनश्वः and अनभीशुः etc.

The technology is highlighted :

रथं ये चक्रुः सुवृतं सुचेतसोऽविह्वरन्तं मनसस्परि ध्यया ।
ताँ ऊ न्वस्य सवनस्य पीतय आ वो वाजा ऋभवो वेदयामसि ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O wisemen ! you possess practical knowledge of handicrafts. We invoke you respectfully because you are the wise sages and by meditation make a well-manufactured undeviating car (in the form of aircraft etc.). We give you lips or give special instructions about it to make this science of engineering perfect. Grasp this knowledge thoroughly from all sides.

PURPORT:—O wisemen ! collect and honour the great technicians and engineers from all the sides who are expert in manufacturing and driving various vehicles and develop this technology.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अविह्वरन्तम्) अकुटिलगतिम् =Straight, un-deviating. (सवनस्य) शिल्पविद्याजनितस्य कार्यस्य । =Of technology work. (वाजा:) प्राप्तहस्तक्रिया: । (वाजा:) वज-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय प्राप्त हस्तक्रियेति व्याख्यानम् । =Those who have received vocational knowledge and training with hands.

The importance of technology is stressed :

तद्वो वाजा ऋभवः सुप्रवाचनं देवेषु विभ्वो अभवन्महित्वनम् ।
जिव्री यत्सन्ता पितरा सनाजुरा पुनर्युवाना चरथाय तक्षथ ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O wisemen ! endowed with large stocks of foodgrains and other kinds of wealth, well-versed in all (lit. pervading) sciences, and having received great honour by good teaching and preaching this technology among the enlightened persons, you make your old parents again prosperous young and able to walk well, and consequently they acquire knowledge and eat good food.

PURPORT:—O wisemen ! if you get good knowledge and training, having stayed among the enlightened persons, then you will be revered by all like old (mature) persons, though young in age.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विभ्व:) सकलविद्यासु व्याप्ता: । =Well versed in all sciences (lit. pervading all sciences). (चरथाय) गमनाय विज्ञानाय भोजनाय वा । =For giving away (walking well) for acquiring knowledge or for taking food. (वाजा:) अन्नादियुक्ता: । वाज इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2,7) वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) । वज-गतौ (म्वा०) =Endowed with abundant foodgrains, strength and knowledge of all kinds.

The technology is further developed in deeds

एकं वि चक्र चमसं चतुर्वयं निश्चर्मणो गामरिणीत धीतिभिः ।
अथा देवेष्वमृतत्वमानश श्रुष्टी वाजा ऋभवस्तद्व उक्थ्यम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O prosperous wisemen ! it is your very adorable act that you cultivate the land well like the fingers. You divide one cloud-like ladle of Purushārtha (ultimate goals of life) into four or one parts of human life, into four Ashramas and thus get into the world of the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—Those who perform admirable actions, having enjoyed happiness (material as well spiritual), they get fame among the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चमसम्) मेघमिव विभक्तम् । =Divided like the cloud. (धीतिभि:) अङ्गुलिभिरिव विलेखनगतिभि: । धीतय इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2, 5) । गौरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) । =By the movements of the fingers, cultivating processes. (गाम्) पृथिवीम् । =Earth, land.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The four Purushārthas or aims of life are Dharma (righteousness) Artha (wealth) Kāma (fulfilment of noble desires) and Moksha (emancipation).

Four Ashramas are Brahmacharya ; Grihastha (domestic life) Bānaprashth (recluse) and Sanyāsa (complete renumciation and detachment). Taking गाम् for cow, some interepret it to mean that wise veterinarians make a week cow strong and milk-yielding.

The same subject of technology is continued :

ऋभुतो रयिः प्रथमश्रवस्तमो वाजश्रुतासो यमजीजनन्नरः ।
विभ्वतष्टो विदथेषु प्रवाच्यो यं देवासोऽवथा स विचर्षणिः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—The man whom highly learned leading truthful persons prepare and who knows much about the Omnipresence of God and other eternal subtle things, is fit to be taught. It is from that wise man that most illustrious wealth including the foodgrains and good reputation etc. are obtained. He whom your wise men protect becomes true observer of all the important things.

PURPORT :—Those are good scholars who make their students highly learned. Those persons are to be taught and preached, who are ignorant of the true nature of things. They enjoy happiness having achieved the knowledge and wealth and are righteous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रथमश्रवस्तमः) अतिशयेन प्रथमं श्रवः श्रवणमन्नं वा यस्मात् सः । श्रव इत्यन्ननाम श्रूयते इति सतः यशो वा तस्मादेव कारणात् । =Most illustrious, wealth consisting of foodgrains and good reputation etc. (विभ्वतष्टः) यो विभुषु पदार्थेष्वतष्टोऽविचक्षणः सः । =He who is not well aware of the Omnipresent God and other all pervading subtle things.

The subject of technology is further developed :

स वाज्यर्वा स ऋषिर्वचस्यया स शूरो अस्ता पृतनासु दुष्टरः ।
स रायस्पोषं स सुवीर्यं दधे यं वाजो विभ्वाँ ऋभवो यमाविषुः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that man becomes endowed with special knowledge, taker of noble virtues, a Rishi (a visualiser of the true meaning of the mantras), worthy of homage, invincible in battles, a hero, the discomfiter of foes, whom wisemen protect with the knowledge of Omnipresent God and whom a great scholar upholds. He is possessed of ample wealth and great vitality.

PURPORT :—Those men who desire to imbibe noble virtues with the association of the enlightened persons become admirable, invincible by their foes, wealthy and mighty.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजी) विज्ञानवान् । वज-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थ-ग्रहणम् । =Endowed with special or true knowledge. (अर्वा) शुभ-गुणप्रापकः । (अर्वा) ऋ-गतिप्रापणयोः (भ्वा०) अत्र शुभगुणप्रापकः । =Conveyer of noble virtues. (ऋषिः) यो यथार्थं मंत्रार्थं दर्शयति । ऋषिर्दर्शनात् स्तोमान् ददर्श इति निरुक्ते । =(One who visualises true meaning of the mantra. Ed.)

The application of technology in the society is stressed :

श्रेष्ठं वः पेशो अधि धायि दर्शतं स्तोमो वाजा ऋभवस्तं जुजुष्टन ।
धीरांसो हि ष्ठा कवयो विपश्चितस्तान्वं एना ब्रह्मणा वेदयामसि ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O active wisemen of good character and conduct! your form and golden appearence is excellent, agreeable and admirable because of your association with noble and highly educated persons. You also become Yogis of contemplative nature, far-sighted preacher and discreet scholars. Through the Vidya (learning), we tell you about the attributes of the enlightened persons. Serve them well and become like them.

PURPORT :—Those students who having approached and served the excellent teachers and most reliable truthful persons, receive education from them. They become great scholars and wealthy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजा:) प्राप्तसुशीला वेगवन्तः । वाजाः is from वज-गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु गत्यर्थमादाय वेगवन्तः इति व्याख्या प्राप्त्यर्थं चादायप्राप्तसुशीला इति व्याख्या । =Speedy or active, endowed with good character and conduct. द्युमन्तं वाजं वृषशुष्ममुत्तममा नो रयिमृभवस्तक्षता वयः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned wisemen! do you bestow upon us (for the development of) our intellect, all nourishments and food that are good for men and resplendent knowledge. That is the real strength of the powerful persons and thus let you increase our happiness from all sides.

PURPORT :—The learned men should be considered as the among the intellectuals.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भोजना) पालनान्यन्नानिवा। (भोजनानि) भुज-पालनाभ्यवव्यवहारयो:। =Nutrients or food.(वृषशुष्मम्) वृषाणां बलीनां बलम् शुष्ममिति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)। =The mighty.

The subject of technology further moves :

इह प्रजामिह रयिं रराणा इह श्रवो वीरवत्तक्षता नः ।
येन वयं चितयेमात्यन्यान्तं वाजं चित्रमृभवो ददा नः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O wisemen ! grant us in this world good progeny or State, good food and reputation that make us heroes, so that we may greatly excel others and also enlighten them. Please grant excellent knowledge for this pupose.

PURPORT :—When men come in association with the enligtened persons, they should request them to impart true knowledge, good reputation, wealth, good progeny and good army of brave persons. They should enlighten others after having received true knowledge from them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चितयेम) चिति संज्ञानमाचक्ष्महि। =Enlighten. (श्रव:) अन्नं श्रवणं ख्याति: वा। श्रव इति अन्ननाम श्रूयतं इति सत: यशो वा श्रूयते इत्यस्मादेव (NKT 10, 1, 5) =Food or fame.

Sūktam-37

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vămadeva. Devată—Ribhus. Chhanda-Trishtup, Pankti and Anushtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Rishabha.

The duties and attributes of the absolutely truthful and enlightened persons are described :

उप नो वाजा अध्वरमृभुक्षा देवा यात पथिभिर्देवयानैः ।
यथा यज्ञं मनुषो विक्ष्वा३सु दधिध्वे रण्वाः सुदिनेष्वह्नाम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O great scholars ! charming thoughtful men have non-violent (friendly) dealings all the times. In the same manner, you also uphold them and visit to attend our non-violent sacrifice (Yajnas) by the paths earlier trodden by the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—Those who follow the path of the righteous enlightened persons are able to do good to the peaple.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) वैरादिदोषरहितं व्यवहारम् । (यज्ञम्) यज-देवपूजासंङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) । =Dealing in a way, free from malice and other evils. The subject of duties and attributes of the truthful persons is continued :

ते वो हृदे मनसे सन्तु यज्ञा जुष्टासो अद्य घृतनिर्णिजो गुः ।
प्र वः सुतासो हरयन्त पूर्णाः क्रत्वे दक्षाय हर्षयन्त पीताः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! may the Yajnas (truthful dealings) reach you purified with ghee (clarified butter) and serve the enlightened persons. Performed well, may they be acceptable to you. May they seek you for intellect and dexterity and may they gladden you with the (Soma) juice, drunk to heart.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should endeavour in such a manner that purity, intellect and dexterity may always grow. Those who having given up meat-eating and drinking would take good food, increase their knowledge constantly.

NOTES :—(यज्ञा:) सत्या व्यवहारा: । =Truthful dealings. (हर्षयन्त) कामयन्ताम् । हर्य-गति कान्त्यो: (भ्वा०) कान्ति:-कामना । =May desire. (दक्षाय) चातुर्याय । दक्षइति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । =For dexterity, strength.

More duties of the enlightened ones are narrated :

जुह्वे मनुष्वदुपरासु विक्षु युष्मे सचा बृहद्दिवेषु सोमम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O great men ! you are endowed with true knowledge and taking good food. Your praise gives me pleasure, and so I give joy to you (by my humility and service). I seek to acquire wealth by well-considered method, with body and speech, like an enlightened thoughtful person, because he lives in association with good people, and deals truthfully. And with regard to the divine objects, he is beneficient to truthful and highly learned persons. I invoke and give you happiness. You may also kindly invoke me and give happiness and joy.

PURPORT :— As leasned hersons give you happiness, and desire to do good to you, you should also reciprocate similarly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(न्युदायम्) यं मनोदेहवचनैरुदायन्ति तम् । = Which is elevated and acquired by intellectual and physical support and noble speech. (उपरासु) श्रेष्ठासु । उपरा इति दिङ्नाम (NG 1, 6) उपर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) मेघवत् सर्वहितकरीषु सर्वदिग्वासिनीषु श्रेष्ठासु प्रजासु । =Noble. (सचा) सत्येन । सचा इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) पद-गतौ । =With truth, honestly.

The attributes of the truthful persons are further stated :

पीवो॑ अश्वा॑: शुचद्र॑था हि भूतायः शिप्रा वाजिनः सुनिष्काः ।
इन्द्र॑स्य सूनो शवसो नपातोऽनु॑ वश्चेत्यग्रियं मदाय ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O speedy brave men ! you are brave and possess stout horses, (horse-power machines). Mounted on such a brilliant vehicle, which have jaws and nose like parts and are decorated with ornaments of gold (gilded) etc. and become victorious. O son of a prosperous king ! you never falter down and are very powerful. Exert yourself well for the attainment of joy and bliss. We know how to make you happy, likewise you should also make us happier.

NOTES :—(चेति) विज्ञायते (चिति) संज्ञाने (भ्वा०) । =Is known (अग्रियम्) अग्रे भवं सुखम् । = Forward happiness.

The duties and attributes of the truthful persons are stated :

ऋभुमृंभुक्षणो रयिं वाजे वाजिन्तमं युजम् ।
इन्द्रंस्वन्तं हवामहे सदासातममश्विनम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION ;—O great scholar ! we invoke you for the sake of wisemen, for acquiring in the battle splendid wealth, consisting of speedy horses and other animals. Ruled by a noble king, always cooperating and sharing fortunes with others, you should also desire and seek to acquire it.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should multiply each others' wealth by competion, and conquer your enemies in battle fields.

NOTES :—(इन्द्रस्वन्तम्) परमैश्वर्य्ययुक्तस्वामिसहितम् । =Associated with a prosperous king. (सदासातमम्) सदाऽतिशयेन विभजनीयम् । = To be divided into or shared by many.

The previous subject of duties of the enlightened ones is dealt :

सेदंभवो यमवंथ यूयमिन्द्रंश्च मत्यम् ।
स धीभिरंस्तु सनिता मेधसांता सो अर्वता ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O wisemen ! may the man whom you and a prosperous king protect be endowed with wisdom. Also you become distinguisher between truth and falsehood and victorious in the battles.

PURPORT :—O officers of the State and military men ! if kings and wisemen are your chiefs or guides, then your victory is assured and you may incessantly enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सनिता) सत्याऽसत्ययो: संविभाजक: । =Distinguisher between truth and falsehood. (मेघसाता) शुद्धसंङ्ग्रामविभक्तौ =In the pure battle. (षण्-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) To distinguish. मेधृ-मेधासंगमनयो: हिंसायां च । By taking the third meaning of हिंसा or violence, the word, medha, may be used for battle though in the Nighantu (3, 15) it is stated [illegible] (NO 3, 15) and in 3, 17 as मेघ इति यज्ञनाम (NG, 3, 17). By मेघ or संग्राम even internal battle between good and bad tendencies and thoughts may be taken, as the help of wisemen is needed to defeat or nullify the undesirable thoughts and habits.

The theme of duties is continued :

वि नों वाजा ऋभुक्षणः पथश्चितन यष्टवे ।
अस्मभ्यं सूरयः स्तुता विश्वा आशास्तरीषणि ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O great scholar, being glorified by us enlighten us about the direct path of truth for unification, so that all our noble desires be fulfilled by the obtaining the power of crossing over all the miseries.

PURPORT :—The noble desires of those are fulfilled, who receive good education from the enlightened persons since their childhood.

NOTES :—(आशाः) इच्छाः । =Desires. (तरीषणि) दुःखं तरितुं सामर्थ्यम् । =The power to get over miseries.

The duties of the enlightened persons are highlighted :

तं नों वाजा ऋभुक्षण इन्द्र नासत्या रयिम् ।
समश्वं चर्षणिभ्य आ पुरु शंस्त मघत्तये ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O liberal donors ! you are wisemen. Give our men various and abundant wealth for the attainment of admirable riches. The absolutely truthful president of the Council of ministers and chief justice are of this nature. O prosperous king ! you praise these wisemen.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all men to help in the advancement of the fiscal power of the State, so that people may enjoy various kinds of happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजाः) दातारः । वाज इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7).

=Donors. (नासत्या) अविद्यमानासत्याचारौ सभान्यायेशौ । =The President of the Council of ministers and Chief justice.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The liberal givers of food stuff and other requisite things may be called वाजा: ॥
(नासत्या) सत्यावेव नासत्यावित्यौर्णनाभः (NKT. 6, 3, 13) ।

Sūktam-38

Rishi or the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā or subject-Dyavā-Prithivee and Dadhikrā. Chhanda-Pankti and Thrishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivatā.

The attributes of an ideal king are described :

उतो हि वां दात्रा सन्ति पूर्वा या पूरुभ्यस्त्रसदंस्युर्नितोशे ।
क्षेत्रासां ददथुरुर्वरासां घनं दस्युभ्यो अभिभूतिमुग्रम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :— O king and chief commander of the army ! all the wicked and malevolent persons fear from you. You liberally give away to your faithful servants in the battles and to those who distribute the fields and fertile lands to deserving persons. With the help of chief commander, you give a crushing defeat to the thieves and robbers with the powerful weapons. Therefore, you deserve respect from all.

PURPORT :—O king and commander-in-chief of the army ! you should keep under you the well trained servants, slay the robbers and other wicked persons, be victorious and maintain the State with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नितोशे) नितरां वधे । नितोशत इति वधकर्म (NG 2, 19) । =In the battle where the foes are killed. (उर्वरासाम्) बहुश्रेष्ठाः पदार्थाः सन्ति यस्यान्तां भूमिम् सनति तम् । =To the person who distributes the fertile land among the deserving (landless) men. (अभि-भूतिम्) पराजयम् । =Defeat. (त्रसदस्युः) त्रस्यन्ति दस्यवो यस्मात्सः । =One who makes the robbers, wicked and thieves tremble.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The contention of Sayanacharya Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others to take the word त्रसदस्यु as the name of a particular person, instead of taking if for a commander-in-chief of the army from whom all wicked persons fear is wrong and is against the fundamental principle of the Vedic terminology and etymology.

The attributes of a king are stated :

उत वाजिनं पुरुनिष्षिध्वानं दधिक्रामु ददथुर्विश्वकृष्टिम् ।
ऋजिप्यं श्येनं प्रुषितप्सुमाशुं चर्कृत्यमर्यो नृपतिं न शूरम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O President of the Council and Commander-in- Chief of the army ! that man is able to conquer his enemies whom you give all support, who is swift, repeller of the foes, and with whose help the men conquer. He is the best among the protectors of the straight-going, impetuous like a hawk, and much adorable. Such a man eats pure food, is brave like a protecting king and destroys his enemies.

PURPORT :—If officers of the State manufacturer powerful weapons with the help of technology, and build a strong well-trained and well-equipped army, they could never be defeated anywhere.

NOTES :—(दधिक्राम्) यो दधिना धारकेणाऽधिकेन सह तम् । =Endowed with abundant holding power. (प्रुषितप्सुम्) यः प्रुषितान् स्निग्धान् पदार्थान् प्साति भक्षयति तम् । =One who eats rich (nutritious) food. (ऋजिप्यम्) ऋजिपेषु सरलानां पालकेषु साधुम् । =Good among those who nourish the men of straightforward nature.

The qualities of an ideal ruler are described :

यं सीमनु प्रवतेव द्रवन्तं विश्वः पूरुर्मदति हर्षमाणः ।
पड्भिर्गृध्यन्तं मेधयुं न शूरं रथतुरं वातमिव ध्रजन्तम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! that man is able to slay his enemies, whom all men praise rejoicing, run to help him like flow down a precifice, and spring up on their feet like a hero (out of their love. Ed.). Engaged in a battle, drawing a car, and going on as swift as the wind, he desires to achieve victory and annihilate the foe.

PURPORT :—The virtuous persons live in the State of that king, who is repository of many virtues like the water flowing down.

NOTES :—(पूरुः) मनुष्यः । पूरव इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । = Man. (गृध्यन्तम्) अभिकांक्षमाणम् । =Desirous of victory. (मेधयुम्) मेधं हिंसां कामयमानम् । =Desiring the destruction of the wicked enemy.

The attributes and role of a king are told :

यः स्मारुन्धानो गध्यां समत्सु सनुतरश्चरति गोषु गच्छन् ।
आविर्ऋजीको विदथा निचिक्यत्तिरो अरतिं पर्याप आयोः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should appoint an officer who is well-versed in science of permanent value and is capable to restrain from all sides the flocks and multitudes of enemies in the battles. He rushes through the enemy region. In fact, his fame as straightforward is well known, moves on earth observing every things well, and puts to shame the wicked foes and alleviates the suffering of his men and acquires knowledge like the water for life.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should appoint such men for conquering enemies, who are capable to establish peace in their own State, are a terror to the enemy, mighty, long-lived and illustrious.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गध्या) मिश्रीभूतान् । गध्यति मिश्रीभावकर्मेति (NKT 5, 3, 15) । =Mingled. (अरतिम्) दुःखम् । =Misery, suffering. (आविर्ऋजीकः) प्रसिद्धसरलस्वभावः । =Whose straightforwardness is well-known.

The duties and attributes of a king are narrated :

उत स्मैनं वस्त्रमथिं न तायुमनुं क्रोशन्ति क्षितयो भरेषु ।
नीचायमानं जसुरिं न श्येनं श्रवश्चाच्छा पशुमच्च यूथम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—That king is soon ruined whom men curse as a thief stealing the garment or acting meanly like a hawk. The people cry on account of his cruel treatment towards good animals. The people lose all respect of him owing to his mean behaviour.

PURPORT :—You should know it for certain that the king is ruined within no time, who takes revenues from the people without fulfilling his duties properly, whose subjects are troubled by the wicked persons. Who himself is mean and voilent like a hawk and stupid and whose army is like a thief.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तायुम्) तस्करम् । तायुरिति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24) =Thief. (जसुरिम्) प्रयतमानम् । =Endeavouring, active. (क्षितयः) मनुष्याः । क्षितय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =Men. (भरेषु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । भरे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) =In battles.

The duties and attributes of a king are highlighted :

उत स्मासु प्रथमः सरिष्यन्नि वेवेति श्रेणिभी रथानाम् ।
स्रजं कृण्वानो जन्यो न शुभ्वा रेणुं रेरिहत्किरणं ददश्वान् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that king alone grows or alround prospers, who goes forward building a strong army which is like a garland along with chariots of various kinds and shining well on account of his virtues. His army makes the dust of the land going up in a battle like the wind giving impetus to the fire.

PURPORT :—That king alone becomes illustrious and sovereign, who protect the subjects and being the knower of the military science is conqueror, dexterous, righteous and highly learned. He is endowed with good assistants, or helpers.

NOTES :—(ददश्वान्) दत्तवान् वायुरिव । =Like the wind. (स्रजम्)

मालामिव सेनाम् । =Army which is like garland. (वेवेति) गच्छति । =Goes.

The attributes of a king are stated :

उत स्य वाजी सहुरिर्ऋतावा शुश्रूषमाणस्तन्वा समर्ये ।
तुरं यतीषु तुरयन्नृजिप्योऽधि भ्रुवोः किरते रेणुमृञ्जन् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that victorious king should be honoured, who is endowed with knowledge, who possesses the powers of endurance (stamina. Ed.) in the battle, and impels a powerful army. He is the best among the men of straightforward nature. He serves the people physically, accomplishes all good acts, and tosses up the dust thrown on his braves in the battles.

PURPORT :—He alone is fit to rule, who is highly learned, possesses the power of endurance, is server of truth, a man of straight-forward or truthful of upright nature and master of good and strong army.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यतीषु) नियतासु सेनासु । =Among the lined up armies. (ऋञ्जन्) प्रसाध्नुवन् । ऋञ्जति प्रसाध्नुनकर्मा (NKT 6, 4, 21) Accomplishing. (तुरयन्) सद्यो गमयन् । =Active, doing the works soon.

More attributes of the king are enumerated :

उत स्मास्य तन्यतोरिव द्योर्ऋघायतो अभियुजो भयन्ते ।
यदा सहस्रमभि षीमयोधीद्दुर्वर्तुः स्मा भवति भीम ऋञ्जन् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the splendour of the king manifests itself, when he even in grim situation scores victory. He fights against thousands on every front during the attacks and kills the enemies and himself is irresistible. All are afraid of him because of the lightning speed and he being the resplendent.

PURPORT :—When a king kills the wicked persons like thunder-bolt or and honours the righteous men, he can fight with thousands even single handed. All wicked persons flee away and disappear when he wields his thunderbolt of justice.

NOTES :—(ऋघायत:) हिंसत:। =Slaying. (अभियुज:) योऽभियुङ्क्ते तस्य। =Of the person who attacks. (दुर्वर्त्तुः) यो दुःखेन वर्त्तते तस्य। =Fierce, terrible. (तन्यतो:) विद्युत इव। =Of the lightning, thunderbolt.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—

Sayanacharya and some other translators of the Vedas have interpreted this and some other mantras of the hymn linking with horse, but Rishi Dayanand Sarasvati's interpretation regarding a hero is more reasonable and straightforward. He explains दधिक्रा: as य: दधिना धारकेण अधिकेन बलेन सह वर्त्तते तम् endowed with abundant power of upholding.

The attributes of the king are more elucidated :

उत स्मा॑स्य पनयन्ति॒ जना॑ जू॒तिं कृ॑ष्टि॒प्रो अ॒भिभू॑तिमा॒शोः ।
उ॒तैनमाहुः समि॒थे वि॒यन्तः॒ परा॑ दधि॒क्रा अ॑सरत्स॒हस्रैः॑ ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! praise the exceeding speed of justice and force in overcoming the foes. That heroic king who is well-versed in various sciences and who protects all people by appointing women spies (to know their real inentions and schemes), the foes approach him for help in battles. They say that he alone can win, who goes in the battlefield himself with innumerable people being very powerful. And going alongwith them, he upholds all.

PURPORT :—That king alone is admired by all learned persons who protectiog and cherishing his subjects impels them to do good deeds.

NOTES :—(पनयन्ति) व्यवहरन्ति स्तुवन्ति वा। =Praise or act. (जूतिम्) न्यायवेगम्। = The speed in administering of justice. (कृष्टिप्र:) य: कृष्टीन् मनुष्यान्। दूतचारै: प्राति तस्य। कृष्टय: इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3)। =He who protects the people by appointing messengers and spies. (दविध्वः) यो साधकैः सह चरति । =One who moves with the upholders of virtues.

More attributes of a king are mentioned :

आ द॑धि॒क्राः शव॑सा पञ्च॑ कृ॒ष्टीः सूर्य॑इव॒ ज्योति॑षा॒पस्त॑तान ।
स॒ह॒स्र॒साः श॑त॒सा वा॒ज्यर्वा॑ पृ॒णक्तु॒ मध्वा॒ समि॒मा वचां॑सि ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—The king who is approached by the upholders of virtues and upholds all the people divided into five classes (according to their merits and actions) like the sun upholds firmament or diffuses the waters by his light, (he) is a liberal person giving away thousands or hundreds (articles), is powerful and impetuous, very prompt in going to distant places and unites the people with honey (sweet words of praise or exhortation).

PURPORT :—The king who protects all people with justice like the light of the sun, enjoys infinite bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दधिक्राः) यो दधिभिर्धर्तृभिः क्रम्यते गम्यते सः । =He who is aproached by the upholders of virtues. (पंचकृष्टीः) पंचप्रकारकमनुष्यान् । कृष्टय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) पंचजना-निषाद पन्चमा चत्वारो वर्णा इत्यौपमन्यव: निषादः कस्मिन् निषदनो भवति निषण्णमस्मिन् पापकमिति नैरुक्ताः । ब्राह्मणक्षत्रियवैश्यशूद्राश्चत्वारो वर्णाः, वर्णधर्म विमुखाः पापिनश्च । =People divided into five classes.

Sūktam-39

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vămadeva. Devatā or subject-Dadhikrā Metres-Trishtup, Pankti and Anushtup. Svara-Panchama, Dhaivata and Rishabha.

How should a king become ideal and behave is told :

आ॒शुं द॑धि॒क्रां तमु॒ नु ष्ट॑वाम दि॒वस्पृ॑थि॒व्या उ॒त च॑र्किराम ।
उ॒च्छन्ती॒र्मामु॒षसः॑ सूदय॒न्त्वति॒ विश्वा॑नि दुरि॒ताति॑ पर्षन् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—Verily, we praise that swift going

(active) upholder of those who deserve to be renowned in between the heaven and earth, because they scatter the enemies. May the gloom-dispelling and charming donors preserve for me all good things and bear me out beyond all evils.

PURPORT :—Let us praise only that king who keeps us away from all injustice and wicked persons, like the dawn dispels the darkness.

NOTES :—(दधिक्राम्) धर्त्तव्यधरम् । =Upholder of those who deserve to be upheld or preserved. (चर्किण्म) भृशं विक्षेप्याम । =Scatter soon. (सूदयन्तु) क्षरयन्तु। दूरीकुर्वन्तु षूद-क्षरणे (चु०)। =May remove.

The attributes of a king are highlighted :

म॒हश्च॑र्कु॒र्म्यर्व॑तः क्रतु॒प्रा द॑धि॒क्राव्ण॑ः पु॒रु॒वार॑स्य॒ वृष्ण॑ः ।
यं पू॒रुभ्यो॑ दीदि॒वांसं॒ नाग्निं द॒दथु॑र्मित्रावरुणा॒ ततु॑रिम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O President of the Council of Ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! both of you are like the true vital breaths-Prāṇa and Udāna. I make proper use of the speedy horses and exercise great powers of the king who loves great scholars, and is accepted by many good men. He is showerer of happiness and is endowed with virtues which are full of wisdom. You give humility to a prompt person who shines with knowledge, like the fire, for the good of many. I impel such a person to do noble deeds.

PURPORT :—The king who upholds, and properly maintains the wisemen and counsellers, can accomplish all good works because he is powerful like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दधिक्राव्णः) यो विद्याधरान् कामयते तस्य। He who desires or loves great scholars. (मित्रावरुणा) प्राणोदानाविव वर्त्तमानौ सभासेनेशौ प्राणोदानौ मित्रावरुणौ (Stph. 3, 2, 2, 13) प्राणोदानौ वै मित्रावरुणौ (Stph. 1, 8, 3, 12 ; 11.3.6.1. 16 ; 5.3.5.34 ॥) =The President of the Council of Ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army who are like two vital airs-Prāṇa and Udăna.

The duties of the people are told :

यो अश्वस्य दधिक्राव्णो अकारीत्समिद्धे अग्ना उषसो व्युष्टौ ।
अनागसं तमदितिः कृणोतु स मित्रेण वरुणेना सजोषाः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may father and mother make that man sinless who is highly learned, well-versed in all sciences, lover of the upholders of good virtues, who gets up early in the morning before the manifestation of the dawn and enkindles fire. Let such a man love and serve without any discrimination a person, who is friendly to all and is very noble.

PURPORT :—You should know that such a man alone can ever remain cheerful who knows how to combine water and other things with Agni (fire, electricity, energy etc.) and who having formed friendship with good men, gets up early in the morning and performs good deeds.

NOTES :—(अश्वस्य) महतो व्याप्तविद्यस्य । अश्व इति महन्नाम-महर्षिदयानन्द वृतम भाष्ये वहुल: प्रतीयते । स च पाठोऽन्वेष्टव्य: ।=Of the great scholar-proficient in many sciences. (अदितिः) माता-पिता वा ।=Mother or father.

The duties of the people are described :

दधिक्राव्ण इष ऊर्जो महो यदमन्महि मरुतां नाम भद्रम् ।
स्वस्तये वरुणं मित्रमग्निं हवामह इन्द्रं वज्रबाहुम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—We admire and accept (gifts) for welfare and health of a person who is impeller of the great, upholder of virtues, and invokes the glorious name of great strength and nourishing food for good and active persons. As we invoke a person who is of peaceful nature like the water, who is popular like the Prāna, is illuminator of all good virtues, like the electricity, endowed with great wealth, holding powerful weapons and missiles in his arms. You should also know them and admire in the presence of others.

NOTES :—(वरुणम्) जलमिव शान्त्यादिगुणायुक्तम् । =A man of peaceful nature like the water. (मित्रम्) प्राणमिव सर्वप्रियम् । प्राणो मित्रम् । Jaiminiyopnishad Brahmana 3, 3, 6) =Popular like Prāna or vital breath. (इष:) अन्नादे: । अन्नं वा इषम् (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 28, 5) । =Of food and other things.

The duties of the king and his subjects are told :

इन्द्र॑मि॒वेदु॒भये॒ वि ह्व॑यन्त उ॒दीरा॑णा य॒ज्ञमु॑पप्र॒यन्त॑: ।
द॒धि॒क्राम॑ु सू॒दनं॒ मर्त्या॑य द॒दथु॑र्मि॒त्राव॑रुणा नो॒ अश्व॑म् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O King and Prime Minister ! you are like the Prāna and Udāna, you give those good things which are admired by all exalted officers of the State and people; they perform Yajna or just dealings for the good of men. They desire the upholders of justice, the flow of the nectar of devotion and good knowledge which soon confers happiness. Be grateful to the benefactors of humanity, as men are comparable to electricity (which accomplishes so many purposes).

PURPORT :—Those kings and their subjects who always odserve Dharma (righteousness) are free from all partiality and are just. They become popular, and fearless from all the foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) न्यायव्यवहारम् । यज्ञो वै श्रेष्ठतमं कर्म (Stph. 1, 7, 1, 5) यज्ञो वा अर्यमा (तैत्तिरीय-2. 3, 5, 4) =Just dealing. (दधिक्राम्) न्यायधर्त्तृणां कामयितारम् । =Lover of the upholders of justice. (मित्रावरुणा) प्राणोदानवद्राजप्रधानामात्यौ । प्राणोदानौ मित्रावरुणौ (Stph 3, 2, 2, 13) । =The King and Prime Minister are like Prāna and Udāna, two vital airs. (अश्वम्) आशु सुखकरं बोधम् । अश्व इति पदनाम (NG 5, 3) पत-गतौ गतेस्त्रिश्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थंग्रहणम् । =Knowledge which bestows happiness soon.

The duties of a ruler and his subjects are described :

दधिक्राव्णों अकारिषं जिष्णोरश्वस्य वाजिनः ।
सुरभि नो मुखा करत्प्र ण आयूंषि तारिषत् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! indeed I obey to the orders of the king, upholder or impeller of Dharma, endowed with all good virtues and knowledge and is conqueror. He, in fact, makes our mouths and other senses full of fragrant things and prolongs our lives. In the same manner, you should also do.

PURPORT :—O men ! that king should be honoured by us like a father who by performing Homa or Yajna (non-violent sacrifice) with ghee, fragrant and nourishing articles purifies air and water and thus removes their diseases, prolongs their lives and wihses his subjects intensely like his own sons.

NOTES :—(दधिक्राव्णः) धर्मधरस्य क्रमयितुर्वा । =Of the king who is upholder or impeller of Dharma (righteousness). (अश्वस्य) सकल-शुभगुणव्याप्तस्य । =Pervading in or endowed with all good virtues. (मुखा) मुखेन सहचरितानि श्रोत्रादीनीन्द्रियाणि प्रति । =Mouths and other senses like ears etc.

Sūktam 40

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā or subject-Dadhikravā Chhanda-Trushtup and and Jagati. Svara-Dhaivata and Nishăda.

The duties of a ruler (king) and his subjects are told :

दधिक्राव्ण इदु नु चर्किराम विश्वा इन्मामुषसः सूदयन्तु ।
अपामग्नेरुषसः सूर्यस्य बृहस्पतेराङ्गिरसस्य जिष्णोः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! all the dawns intensify the glory of the God who is the Impeller of the Matter-the cause of the divide, and makes me to develop, in the same manner, let us urge all people to work in all directions. The dawns manifest the attributes of the waters, electricity and the sun, and remove the despaie of the king, because He is the protector of all the great things, is the controller of the Prānas and conquers his enemies. In the same manner, let us also prompt all people to do good deeds.

PURPORT :—O king or officers of the State! as the Ushās dawns) awakens all, in the same manner, you awaken and enlighten all subjects with justice. Like the sun is the cause of the dawn, electricity of the sun, air of electricity, Matter is cause of the air and God is the Director (moving spirit) of the Matter, in the same manner, the servants and workers are the cause of the sustenance of the people, chiefs are the cause of the servants, President is the cause of the chiefs and the king is the cause of the President.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दधिक्राव्णः) वाय्वादिकारणं क्रामयितुः । =Of the Director of the matter which is the cause of the matter. (सूदयन्तु) वर्षयन्तु वर्धयन्तु । =May cause rains or growth ? (आङ्गिरसस्य) अङ्गिरस्सु । प्राणेषु भवस्य । प्राणो वा अङ्गिरा: (Stph. 6, 1, 2, 28, 6, 5, 2, 3) =Of any thing born of the or present in the Prānas.

The duties of a ruler and his subjects are further mentioned :

सत्वां भरिषो गंविषो दुवन्यसच्छ्वस्यादिष उषसंस्तुरणयसत् ।
सत्यो द्रवो द्रवरः पंतङ्गरो दंधिक्रावेषमूर्जं स्वर्जनत् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—That king alone should be respected by you, who is conveyor of happiness, expert in feeding and cherishing, and desirous of good cattle, land and noble speeches. He should be also desirous of serving to others and seeking of good reputation and knowledge. Swift moving, he fulfils his noble desires in the morning. He being truthful takes delight in water, milk and the juice of devotion, in the form of Agni (energy) or fire etc., travels in good conveyances which are to be upheld and grows food-grains and generates strength and happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(सत्वा) प्रापकः। =Conveyor of happiness etc. (दुवन्यसत्) परिचरणमिच्छन्। दुवस्यति-परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5)। = Desiring to serve others. (दधिक्रावा) धर्त्तव्ययान् क्रमिता। =Travelling in the vehicles to be upheld or maintained well. (पतङ्गरः) यः पतङ्गेऽग्नौ रमते पतङ्गं ददाति वा। =He who takes delight in Agni in they form of energ, fire etc.

The duties of a ruler and his subjects are elaborated :

उत स्मास्य द्रवतस्तुरण्यतः पर्णं न वेरनु वाति प्रगर्धिनः।

3. TRANSLATION :—Let all ministers have consultations with the king who is quick in taking decision. Greedy hawk going towards its target, covers the path with vigour like the wind or like the feathers of a bird. Such a king is always engaged in cherishing to serve his subjects well.

PURPORT: —Let a king, whose army is strong and energetic like a hawk, protect his subjects and finish all the thieves thungs and robbers from his state.

NOTES :—(पर्णम्) प्रजापालनम्। =Sustaining or cherishing the subjects. (अङ्कसम्) लक्षणम्। =Goal, target or destination. (दधिक्राव्णः) धर्त्तुर्धरस्य वायोः। =Of the wind which is upholder of those who sustain all.

The duties of a king and his subjects are highlighted :

उत स्य वाजी क्षिपणिं तुरण्यति ग्रीवायां बद्धो अपिकक्ष आसनि।
क्रतुं दधिक्रा अनु संतवीत्वत् पथामङ्कांस्यन्वापनीफणत् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as a horse tied by his neck, planks and mouth, accelerates its speed, in the same manner, a man who is mighty and upholder of virtues intensifies his vigour and follows on the footprints of the noble path. Such a person should be appointed by you for the performance of good works.

PURPORT :—As a horse well decked on all sides and properly tied, goes to its destination soon, in the same manner, you go to distant places quickly by the vehicles driven by Agni (fire and energy etc.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सन्तवीत्वत्) बहुबलः सन् । तव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । फण-गतौ (भ्वा०) । =Being very powerful. (दधिक्राः) धर्त्तव्यानां धारकः । =Upholder of the persons who uphold. (अङ्कासि) लक्षणानि चिह्नानि । =Marks. (आपनीफणत) अत्यन्तं गच्छति । =Goes from all sides.

The duties of the teachers and preachers are told :

इन्द्रा को वां वरुणा सुम्नमाप स्तोमो हविष्माँ अमृतो न होता ।
यो वां हृदि क्रतुमाँ अस्मदुक्तः पस्पर्शदिन्द्रावरुणा नमस्वान् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are endowed with great wealth (of wisdom etc.) and with noble character. It is your praise and quality that leads to happiness like a donor, owner of substantial materials and immortal (on account of his good reputation). O teachers and preachers ! who are endearing and mighty like the Prāna and Udāna ? should teach the one who is humble or possessor of good foodgrains, and is very intelligent. Such a man is taught by us and touches your heart (impresses) because of his virtues.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! teach and preach to those persons who are industrious like the performers of the Yajnas, and donors. They should be intelligent, humble, quiet, respectors of the enlightened persons and well disciplined by their parents who make them virtuous and wealthy.

NOTES :—(इन्द्रावरुणा) परमैश्वर्ययुक्त श्रेष्ठाचारिन् । =Teachers and preachers who are endowed with great wealth of wisdom and noble character. प्राणोदानवत् प्रिय बलिनौ । =Who are dear and mighty like the Prana and Udana-two vital airs. (होता) दाता । =Donor.

The duties of a king and his ministers are mentioned :

इन्द्रो ह यो वरुणा चक्र आपी देवौ मर्तः सख्याय प्रयस्वान् ।

2. TRANSLATION :—O noble and wealthy king and prime minister, you are ever-industrious man and try to cultivate your friendship with those who are well-versed in various sciences. They (friends) slay his foes in battles with your protective powers and with the help of great warriors. I listen to him (king) as a renowned person.

PURPORT :—O just king and prime minister ! you should honour and protect the persons who respect you, conquer the enemies, are liberal minded, lovers of peace and desirous of cultivating friendship with you and are victorious.

NOTES :—(प्रयस्वान्) प्रयत्नवान् ।=Industrious. (वृत्रा) वृत्राणि शत्रुसैन्यानि । =The armies of enemies. (समिथेषु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । = In battles.

The duties of the ruler and his Council of the Ministers are told :

इन्द्रा ह रत्नं वरुणा धेष्ठेत्था नृभ्यः शशमानेभ्यस्ता ।
यदी सखाया सख्याय सोमैः सुतेभिः सुप्रयसा मादयैते ॥ ३ ॥

3\. TRANSLATION :—O king and virtuous prime minister ! you are upholders and sustainers of all. You bestow gems and other valuable articles upon the admirers, and good virtuous and learned persons. They being friendly to each another, enjoy bliss with the wealth earned with labour. Thus, you may also enjoy bliss.

PURPORT :—The kings and ministers always enjoy happiness on having acquired wealth, and honour virtuous persons with money and other things.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(धेष्ठा) धातारौ । (२) डुधाञ्-धारणपोषणयोः (मु०) । =Upholders and sustainers of all. (सोमैः) ऐश्वर्यैः । (सोमैः) षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः । अत्रैश्वर्यार्थे ग्रहणम् । =With wealth. (शशमानेभ्यः) प्रशंसमानेभ्यः । शशमानः अर्चतिकर्मा (NG 3, 14), प्रशंसाऽप्यर्चनार्थकम् । =Admirers.

The subject of duties of a ruler and his subjcets is continued :

यो नो दुरेवो वृकतिर्दभीतिस्तस्मिन्मिमाथामभिभूत्योजः ॥ ४ ॥

prime minister ! you are full of splendour. Slay your mighty enemies taking in hand the thunderbolt and light of the knowledge and justice. Create in us the power that destroys enemies like a wolf, become difficult to be resisted and fierce. Have faith in his (ruler's) power.

PURPORT :—O kings and ministers ! you should develop your strength by the observance of Brahmacharya, knowledge, truth, self-control etc. Keep far away your foes, protect your subjects and enjoy the bliss of the un-obstructed kingdom. Create in us the power that destroys enemies like a wolf, and is difficult to be resisted and fierce. Have faith in them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृकतिः) वृकवत् शत्रुहिंसकः । =Destroyer of enemies like a wolf. (दभीतिः) हिंस्रः । दभीतिः वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) । = Violent, fierce. (दिद्युम्) विद्यान्यायप्रकाशम् दिद्युत् इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) =Light of knowledge and justice. (मिमाथाम्) रचयेतम् । =Make, create.

The duties of the teachers and preachers are mentioned :

इन्द्रा युवं वरुणा भूतमस्या धियः प्रेतारा वृषभेव धेनोः ।
सा नो दुहीयद्यवसेव गत्वी सहस्रधारा पयसा मही गौः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O the noble teachers and preachers ! endowed with the great wealth of knowledge, you become the conveyors of this good intellect and speech (knowing their past tendencies), like a bull that excites (for imprignation. Ed.) the milch cow. May that cow (of intellect and speech) bearing thousands of channels yield to us great reward (fulfil our noble desires) like a milch cow that has gone forth to pastures in the company of bull and whose udders are filled with milk.

PURPORT :—There is an Upamalankara or simile used in the mantra. O teachers and preachers ! you should give such a good intellect to all so that they may be able to fulfil their noble desires.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रतारा) प्राप्तारौ । =Attainers. (सहस्रधारा) सहस्राण्यसङ्ख्याः धाराः प्रवाहा यस्या वाचः सा । सहस्रम् इति बहुनाम (NG 3,1)। धेनुरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) =Speech that has innumerable flows or channels.

The duties of the rulers are told :

तोके हिते तनंय उर्वरासु सूरो दृशीके वृषणश्च पौंस्ये ।
इन्द्रा नो अत्र वरुणा स्यातामवोभिर्दस्मा परितक्म्यायाम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king and prime minister ! make us mighty for the sake of benevolent children (young and old) and for worth-seeing valour in this State on this fertile land, where there are powerful horses and other useful animals. Let us be like the sun in the world, and become destroyers of all miseries under your protective powers.

PURPORT :—The king and all officers of the State should be powerful just-like the sun in the world. They should nourish their subjects like a father nourishes his children. They should liquidate all thieves and robbers.

NOTES :—(दस्मा) दुःखोपक्षयितारौ । =Destroyers of miseries परितक्म्यायाम्) परितस्तक्मानश्वो यस्यां तस्याम् । तक्म इत्यश्व नाम (NG 2, 2) । So परितक्म्यायाम् may also mean where there are good children everywhere. =Where there are powerful horses and other animals all around.

The duties and rights of the subjects are told :

युवामिद्ध्यवसे पूर्व्याय परि प्रभूती गविषः स्वापी ।
वृणीमहे सख्याय प्रियाय शूरा मंहिष्ठा पितरेव शंभू ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king and prime minister ! you are able to protect us well as your predecessors had done. You are brave and fearless destroyer of your enemies, most respected like the benevolent parents whose children sleep well on account of discharging their duties. In day time (other times also), we choose you for our close friendship and desire the protection of the king.

PURPORT :—O people ! you should accept only those rulers who are able to treat all like their children as parents do.

NOTES :—(प्रभूती) समर्थौ । =Capable, fit. (स्वापी) शयानौ । =Sleeping well at night.

The duties of the rulers are told :

ता वां धियोऽवसे वाजयन्तीराजिं न जग्मुर्युवयूः सुदानू ।
श्रिये न गाव उप सोममस्थुरिन्द्रं गिरो वरुणं मे मनीषाः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as my well- restrained or refined speeches, intellects or actions impress a noble person that gives great happiness and leads to prosperity, like the cows or lands for wealthy, in the same manner, your intellects give good knowledge for protection in the battle. Desiring your company, let them come because good and liberal donors nourish them constantly.

PURPORT :—As highly learned mothers train their children well by nourishing them well and make them happy with education, so a king should behave with all his uncompartially subjects. (He should not be only like a father, but also like a mother to them.)

NOTES :—(वाजयन्तीः) ज्ञापयन्त्यः ।=Enlightening, giving knowledge. (आजिम्) सङ्ग्रामम् आजौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) । =Battle. (गावः) पृथिव्यो धेनवो वा । गौरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) । = Lands or cows.

The duties of the rulers and their subjects are told :

इमा इन्द्रं वरुणं मे मनीषा अग्मन्नुप द्रविणमिच्छमानाः ।
उपेमस्थुर्जोष्टार इव वस्वो रघ्वीरिव श्रवसो भिक्षमाणाः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! those Brahmacharines (the virgins taking a vow of celibacy) who aproach their teachers with great desire (of wisdom etc.), wealth, reputation and good temperament, become very good like my intellects (by coming in contact with the wise). As men serving wealthy persons get wealth, so Brahmacharinis of tender age beg alms who go to their teacherssses, and become exalted.

PURPORT :—O king ! the girls enjoy great delight by becoming highly learned and glorious by means of knowledge and by having good education received with the observance of Brahmacharya and by wedding suitable husbands afterwards. Same way, you should also enjoy bliss with your subjects and the subjects should reciprocrate in your company.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रम्) परमैश्वर्य्यम् । =Great wealth (of wisdom etc.). (वरणम्) श्रेष्ठं स्वभावम् । =Good temperament. (रघ्वीरिव) लघ्व्यो ब्रह्मचारिण्य इव । =Like little Brahmacharinis. (श्रवसः) अन्नस्य । श्रव इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) । =Of food.

The duties of the subjects are told :

अश्व्यस्य त्मना रथ्यस्य पुष्टेर्नित्यस्य रायः पतयः स्याम ।
ता चक्राणा ऊतिभिर्नव्यसीभिरस्मत्रा रायो नियुतः सचन्ताम् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :— O men ! while doing good deeds, they (the king and his ministers or the teachers and preachers) come in contact with our wealth, with new protective powers. Being full of determination, they attain prosperity. In the same manner, let us become masters of undecaying riches comprising speedy horses, vehicles and nourishments.

PURPORT :—Men should aspire to have all bliss as industrious men of self-control acquire all kinds of wealth or prosperity.

NOTES :—(नियुतः) निश्चययुक्ताः । =Full of determination. (सचन्ताम्) सम्बध्नन्तु । =May be united with or attain.

The duties of a ruler are told :

मम द्विता राष्ट्रं क्षत्रियस्य विश्वायोर्विश्वे अमृता यथा नः ।
क्रतुं सचन्ते वरुणस्य देवा राजामि कृष्टेरुपमस्य वव्रेः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! all enlightened persons who are immortal (by the nature of their soul and good reputation) serve the kingdom in two ways. Through my intellect, I am a Kshatriya (protector of people from distress) and long-lived. I rule over the subjects, while the wisemen follow my intellect and they are able to attract them, trying to make them lead a good life and accept others' virtues.

PURPORT :—In this world there are primarily two things i.e. owner and the object owned. It is only by living in a State where there are long-lived, just and righteous ministers who accept the virtues from all and are ideal noble men, and because of them a common man enjoys much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वव्रेः) स्वीकर्त्तुः । = Of the person accepting or taking other's virtues. (क्रतुम्) प्रज्ञाम् । क्रतुरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) । = Good intellect.

The attributes of God are mentioned :

अहं राजा वरुणो मह्यं तान्यसुर्याणि प्रथमा धारयन्त ।
क्रतुं सचन्ते वरुणस्य देवा राजामि कृष्टेरुपमस्य वव्रेः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I am the best Ruler shining on account of my virtues. I rule over this world which is good, acceptable and lived by men and other beings. All the enlightened persons are devoted to Me, upholding clouds and other things they are manifestations of my power, and thus attain good intellect. So you should also emulate.

PURPORT :—The persons should worship only one God. He is Omnipresent, Giver of intellect and wealth and is the Lord of the world and enjoys all happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वरुणः) सर्वोत्तमप्रबन्धकर्त्ता । = The best Ruler or Ordainer of the world. (कृष्टेः) मनुष्यस्य । कृष्टय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । = Of a man. (असुर्याणि) असुराणां मेघादिनामिमानि चिह्नानि असुर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) । = Clouds and other symbols or manifestations of power.

त्वष्टेव विश्वा भुवनानि विद्वान्त्समैरयं रोदसी धारयं च ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that I (God)

am the Most Exalted Lord of the Universe and have created it like a great artisan. These two vast, deep, well-knit worlds heaven and earth, upholding various objects, by My Greatness. Being Omniscient, I animate and uphold all these worlds.

PURPORT :—As expert, dextrous, highly learned artisans manufacture many good articles, in the same manner, all this wonderful good world is made and upheld by Me. No soul on earth has ever got the power of creating such a world, though they manufacture various articles to a certain extent by taking someting out of My creation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रजसी) द्यावापृथिव्यौ। रजसीति द्यावपृथिवीनाम (NG 3, 30) । =Heaven and earth. (सुमेके) शोभने मया सृष्टे सुष्ठुशिष्ते । =Well made and established properly by me. The attributes of God are highlighted :

अहमपो अपिन्वमुक्षमाणा धारयं दिवं सदन ऋतस्य ।
ऋतेन पुत्रो अदितेर्ऋतावोत त्रिधातु प्रथयद्वि भूम ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! it is I (God) who create and make use of the electricity produced from waters (Hydro-electric) in this world, born of the eternal matter. It is I who sustain this varied universe which is like the son of the firmament, upheld by three Gunas (ingredient of prakriti in Sankhya system, Ed.) Satva, (righteousness) Rajas (passion) and Tamas (inertia) and time.

PURPORT :—O men ! there is no other upholder of this world except Me. Know this world which is an effect like the cause-matter duo containing three Gunas.

सत्यस्य प्रकृत्याख्यस्य । ऋतम् इति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 50) । अथ सत्योत्पादकारणस्य प्रकृत्याख्यस्य ग्रहणम् । =True eternal cause named Matter. (त्रिधातु) त्रय: सत्वरजस्तमांसि गुणा धारका यस्मिस्तत् सर्वं जगत् । =This whole world or universe in which three Gunas named Satva, Rajas and Tamas are upholders. (explained vividly in the Sankhya system of ancient philosophy. Ed.).

The attributes of God are further elaborated :

मां नरः स्वश्वा वाजयन्तो मां वृताः समरणे हवन्ते ।
कृणोम्याजिं मघवाहमिन्द्र इयर्मि रेणुमभिभूत्योजाः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—As leading learned men are elected on account of their worth, they stock good horses or energy etc., enlighten others about men, invoke me (God) in battles. And I am the Lord of the venerable wealth, endured with victorious Prowess, instigate for the battle (when it becomes inevitable) and raise the dust. So you should also choose Me as your Supreme Leader and Helper.

PURPORT :—O men ! those who pray to Me, who am Omnipresent, Indwelling spirit, Omnipotent God for victory, I lead them to victory. I help only those who fight righteously.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(समरणे) सङ्ग्रामे । समरणे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 16) ।=In the battlefield. (आजिम्) सङ्ग्रामम् । आजौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 16) =Battle. (वाजयन्त:) जानन्तो ज्ञापयन्तो वा । =Knowing or enlightening.

More stated about Gold :

अहं ता विश्वा चकरं नकिर्मा दैव्यं सहो वरते अप्रतीतम् ।
यन्मा सोमासो ममदन्यदुक्थोभे भयेते रजसी अपारे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I do all these wonderful deeds

(mentioned earlier). The soul therefore prays earnestly for My Divine unsurpassed and perfectly unknown vigour, and am loved by the enlightened persons. Prosperous men who are devoted to Me enjoy great delight. Both limitless heaven and earth which are remarkable are afraid of Me. There is none who could match Me.

PURPORT :—O men! you should know that all visible and invisible objects have been created by Me. My power is unparalleled and infinite. The men enjoy all Bliss by attaining Me. The All beings are afraid of Me on account of My Omnipotence.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अप्रतीतम्) अप्रज्ञातम् । =Not known thoroughly. (सोमासः) ऐश्वर्य्यवन्तः । =Prosperous. (रजसी) द्यावपृथिव्यौ । रजसीति द्यावापृथिवीनाम (NG 3, 30) =Heaven and earth.

The Communion with God is elaborated :

पुरुकुत्सानी हि वामदाशद्धव्येभिरिन्द्रावरुणा नमोभि: ।
अथा राजानं त्रसदस्युमस्या वृत्रहणं ददथुरर्धदेवम् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are benevolent like the air and energy. The earth has many a misery-destroying powers and it gives you happiness through the food and other acceptable substances. You roam over the earth for protection, like a good king, who is full of splendour like the sun. The wicked persons are afraid of them and is illuminator of half of the sun world at a time. Let us know you well along with the treasures of earth.

PURPORT :—O men! always have communion with that one God by whose Grace the earth becomes fertile and the sun gives light and heat.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुकुत्सानी) पुरूणि कुत्सानि यस्यां सा। कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20)। अत्र दुःखनिवारकशक्तेः ग्रहणं प्रतीयते। =Which has many powers of destroying the miseries. Some queries and answers regarding teachers and preachers are raised :

क उं श्रवत्कतमो यज्ञियानां वन्दारुं देवः कतमो जुषाते ।
कस्येमां देवीममृतेषु प्रेष्ठां हृदि श्रेषाम सुष्टुतिं सुहव्याम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! who is the best enlightened man who gets delighted on praising the accomplishers of the Yajna and who serves him ? In whose heart is placed the most beloved, admirable and acceptable highly learned lady among the immortal persons (by the nature of their soul and good reputation), whom we should serve ?

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! we ask these questions which is Yajna ? Who are the performers of the Yajna ? Who is the Deva (enlightened person) and who is a Devi (highly learned lady)? What is immortal which is to be heard about and served ? The answers to the questions are given later on in the corresponding mantras.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्रेषाम) सेवेम । =May we serve ? (सुहव्याम्) सुष्ठु गृहीतव्याम् । =Acceptable.

More questions are put :

को मृळाति कतम आगमिष्ठो देवानामु कतमः शंभविष्ठः ।
रथं कमाहुर्द्रवदश्वमाशुं यं सूर्यस्य दुहितावृणीत ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—Who is it among the enlightened on the earth etc. that gives happiness ? Which or what it is that comes again and again ? Who is the Deva, the Greatest Bestower of of happiness ? whom vehicle do they talk about is quick and drawn by rapid steads ? Whom a learned beautiful lady, like the Dawn, the daughter of the sun, selects ?

PURPORT :—O learned persons! here following are the answers to the questions put in the first and the second mantras :—

(1) He who listens to a teacher like the Usha (dawn) from the sun.

(2) He who serves victory (true knowledge) like the air.

(3) He who chooses an admirable person as husband as an educated lady does.

(4) He is giver of happiness to who is a benevolent person.

(5) Electricity comes soon and again and again.

(6) God is the Greatest among the givers of true happiness and the Best among the enlightened charming ones.

(7) It is like an aircraft vehicle driven by the proper utilization of the water, fire and machines etc. and is remarkable. All this, you should know well.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (देवानाम्) विदुषां मध्ये पृथिव्यादीनां वा । विद्वांसो हि देवा: (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) त्रयस्त्रिंशद् देवा: अष्टौ वसव: एकादश रुद्रा: द्वादशादित्या: प्रजापतिश्चवषट्कारश्च (Aitareya 2,18,3,7) अष्टौ वसव: पृथिव्यादय: । =Among the enlightened or the earth etc. (दुहिता) दुहितेव कान्ति: । =The daugheter-like lustre.

More inquisitiveness is described :

मक्षू हि ष्मा गच्छथ ईवतो द्यूनिन्द्रो न शक्तिं परितक्म्यायाम् ।
दिव आजाता दिव्या सुपर्णा कया शचीनां भवथः शचिष्ठा ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! you are of pure nature, good protectors, and are born of the light of knowledge from all sides. Moreover, you are the wisest among the knowers of intellects or speeches quickly, and go to attain energy in this world. The electricity similarly also brings light endowed with various movements. How do you become the most wise ?

PURPORT :—Those who increase their powers like electricity become wise and attain unmatched glory and prosperity in the world.

NOTES :—(ईवतः) बहुगतिमतः । =Endowed with various movements. (धून्) प्रकाशान् । =Lights. (परितक्म्यायाम्) परितः सर्वतस्तकन्ति हसन्ति यस्यां सृष्टौ तस्याम् । =In the world where people laugh from all sides. (सुपर्णा) सुष्ठु पर्णानि पालनानि ययोस्तौ । =Good protectors.

The duties of teachers and preachers are mentioned :

का वां भूदुपमातिः कया न आश्विना गमथो हूयमाना ।
को वां महश्चित्त्यजसो अभीक उरुष्यतं माध्वी दस्रा न ऊती ॥ ४ ॥

4\. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are invited and are highly praised learned persons. You are sweet tempered and destroy miseries. Who can stand in comparison with you, i.e. you are unparalleled. In what manner do you come to us ? What is worth renouncing or improper in dealing with you ? None at all, as you are so pure. By what kind of protection do you save us ?

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! your glory is manifest only when you endow us with true knowledge and sweep away our all evils or defects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्विना) व्याप्तविद्यावध्यापकोपदेशकौ । अश्विनावध्वर्यू (Aitareya 1, 8) (Stph 1, 1, 2, 17) अध्वर्यू-अध्वरस्य प्रणेतारो (NKT 1, 3, 8) । =Highly learned teachers and prechers. The role of teachers and preachers is mentioned :

सिन्धुर्ह वां रसया सिञ्चदश्वान्घृणा वयोऽरुषासः परि ग्मन् ।
तदू षु वामजिरं चेति यानं येन पती भवथः सूर्यायाः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! the rivers delight you (lit. sprinkle) with their sweet water. Pervasive red coloured bright objects are added to the quick-going fire and other things from all sides. You know well what is to be obtained and retained and the rest is to be thrown away, (Ed.) as residue or worthless. With this knowledge, you get a good vehicle manufactured and become protectors of the lustre of the sun or the dawn.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! the men water trees and fields with good water and afterwards get fruits when they grow. In the same manner, you should teach and preach all men, develop their intellects and enjoy the fruit of happiness.

NOTES :—(अश्वान्) सद्योगामिनोऽग्न्यादीन्=Speedy articles like energy/electricity etc. (घृणा) प्रदीप्ता: । =Bright. (सूर्य्यायाः) सूर्यस्येयं कान्तिरूपास्त-स्याः । =Of the lustre of the sun or dawn. (अजिरम्) प्राप्तव्यं प्रक्षेपकं वा । =Worthy of getting or throwing away.

The subject of teachers and preachers is continued :

इहेह यद्वां समना पंपृक्ते सेयमस्मे सुंमतिर्वाजरत्ना ।

The subject of teachers and preachers is continued :

को वामद्या करते रातहव्य ऊतये वा सुतपेयाय वार्कैः ।
ऋतस्य वा वनुषे पूर्व्याय नमो येमानो अश्विना ववर्तत् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! who are the liberal donor who honour today for protection or for the drink of good juice of soma etc ? Who is it that shows respect to you ? Who are expert knowers of truth by offering good and dealing with you with reverence ? Those persons of self-control who honour you, you should also duly return honour to them. O learned person ! as you beg (pray for) knowledge from these teachers and preachers, you should always honour them.

PURPORT:—O teachers and preachers ! it is your positive duty to make all highly educated and civilised who, honour you. You should respect the persons from whom you receive knowledge or make others receive it.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वनुषे) याचसे । वनु-याचने (तना०) । =Beg, pray for. (अर्कैः) सत्कारैः । =With honour. (नमः) अन्नम् । नम इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) । =Food.

The same subject of teachers and preachers is continued :

हिरण्ययेन पुरुभू रथेनेमं यज्ञं नासत्योप यातम् ।
पिबाथ इन्मधुनः सोम्यस्य दधथो रत्नं विधते जनाय ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O benevolent, absolutely truthful teachers and preachers ! come to this Yajna (in the form of reading and teaching) with the chariot decked with gold etc. Drink the sweet juice of Soma and bestow charming wealth (of the wisdom etc.) upon an industrious person.

PURPORT :—O men ! those persons are givers of real happiness in the world who are propogators of true knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) अध्यापनाऽध्ययनाख्यम् । =Yajna in the form of studies and teaching. (विधते) पुरुषार्थं कुर्वते । विधेम परिचरणकर्मा (NG 2, 5) परिचरणं पुरुषार्थद्योतकम् । =For an industrious person. TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अध्यापनं ब्रह्मयज्ञः (मनुस्मृतौ) । =Teaching is a part of the Brahma Yajna, according to Manu which included studying.

The duties of the kings and their ministers are told :

आ नो यातं दिवो अच्छा पृथिव्या हिरण्ययेन सुवृता रथेन ।
मा वामन्ये नि यमन्देवयन्तः सं यद्दे नाभिः पूर्व्या वाम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king and prime minister ! you are experts in doing good deeds done, similar to your ancestors well. Come to us on earth. We desire you to visit in a well-constructed, covered and beatifully decked with gold etc. vehicle, like an aircraft. May not others who are your favourites, restrain you. Please accept what I give you as a representative (lit. a navel or centre) of the people.

PURPORT :—All people should always desire the association of the king and the officers of the State. They should have equanimity of mind in happiness and miseries.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिवः) कामयमानान् । दिवु क्रीडाविजिगीषाव्यवहारद्युतिस्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (दिवाः) [कान्तिः कामना ।=Desiring. (रथेन) विमानादियानेन । =Vehicle like the aircraft etc. The meaning taken here रथो रंहतेर्गति कर्मणः रममाणोऽस्मिस्तिष्ठतीति वा रपतेर्वा रसतेर्वा (NKT 9, 2, 61) ।

So any charming vehicle may be called रथः. It does not mean merely a chariot.

The subject of State officials is elaborated :

नू नो र॒यिं पु॑रु॒वीरं॑ बृ॒हन्तं॒ दस्रा॒ मिमा॑थामु॒भये॑ष्व॒स्मे ।
नरो॒ यद्वा॑मश्विना॒ स्तोम॒माव॑न्त्स॒धस्तु॑तिमाजमी॒ळ्हासो॑ अग्मन् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O destroyers of all miseries, the virtuous king and prime minister! you are like the sun and the moon and lead men who are the children of the diffusers of truth. They praise you both gladly, and love glorifying you. Give us great wealth which can maintain many heroes, so that glory and wealth may grow among the rulers and their subjects.

PURPORT :—O king and prime minister! be benevolant to us like the sun and the moon. Give us ample wealth, so that we may become rich.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्विना) सूर्याचन्द्रमसाविव शुभगुणयुक्तौ ।

तत्कावश्विनौ । द्यावापृथिव्याविप्येके । सूर्यचन्द्रमसावित्येके (NKT 12, 1, 1) = Virtuous like the sun and the moon. (आजमीढ्हासः) येऽजान् विद्यया सिञ्चति तदपत्यानि । अजान् = नित्यजीवान् । मिह-सेचने । = The children of those who spread knowledge among eternal souls (reputed ones. Ed.).

The attributes of good men are told :

इहेह यद्वां समना पपृक्षे सेयमस्मे सुमतिर्वाजरत्ना ।
उरुष्यतं जरितारं युवं ह श्रितः कामो नासत्या युवद्रिक् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! you are free from all falsehood. Let your good intellect which is full of peace and other virtues and which leads to the attainment of the wealth of good knowledge serve us also in this world. Fulfil the desire of the admirer of all sciences, which leads towards you, and thus saves them.

PURPORT :—Men should always desire to possess the intellect of the absolutely truthful enlightened persons and have longing for the attainment of truth. Thus all their noble desires may be fulfilled.

NOTES :—(समना) सान्त्वनादिगुणयुक्ता । =Full of peace and other virtues. (वाजरत्ना) विज्ञानधनप्राप्तिसाधिका । =Leading to the attainment of the wealth of good acquisition knowledge.

Sūktam—45

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Ashvins (2). Chhanda-Jagati and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Nishāda and Dhaivata.

The attributes of the sun are told :

एष स्य भानुरुदियर्ति युज्यते रथः परिज्मा दिवो अस्य सानवि ।
पृक्षासो अस्मिन्मिथुना अधि त्रयो दृतिस्तुरीयो मधुनो वि रप्शते ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men! this sun which goes towards the earth with its rays is rising up. On its top sky, the chariot is yoked (in the form of group of the rays of the sun). In the region of nice firmament, three joint and related to each other substances i.e. air, water and electricity shine. In the middle of this sweetness, the fourth namely the cloud particularly shines up in the firmament. You should acquire knowledge well about them.

PURPORT :—O men! the resplendent sun that shines in the centre of many planets is connected with the universe, all around. The earth and moon rotate and it is on account of that, the rains shower. This secret you should unravel.

NOTES & REMAKS :—(परिज्मा) परितः सर्वतो ज्मायां भूमौ गच्छति त्यजति वा । ज्मेति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) । =That which goes towards the earth by its rays (the sun). (त्रयः) वायुजलविद्युतः । (दृतिः) मेघः । दृतिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) । =Air, water and electricity/energy.

The same subject of sun is described :

उद्वां पृक्षासो मधुमन्त ईरते रथा अश्वास उषसो व्युष्टिषु ।
अपोर्णुवन्तस्तम आ परीवृतं स्वर्ण शुक्रं तन्वन्त आ रजः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! you should know the nature of the rays of the sun which are sweet (useful), and appear at the various stages of the dawn. It scatters the surrounding darkness like the sun and spreads bright radiance over the firmament. These both look like the horses and the chariots.

PURPORT :—All these planets revolve around the sun. As the rays of the sun dispel the darkness of half the world and generate light, so the enlightened persons should dispel ignorance by imparting education and create knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (अपोर्णुवन्तः) निवारयन्तः । =Dispelling. (स्वः) आदित्यः । स्वरादित्यो भवति । सु अरणः सु ईरणः स्वृतो रसान् स्वृतो भासं ज्योतिषां स्वृतो भासेतिवा । (NKT 2, 4, 14) । =Sun. (व्युष्टिषु) विविधासु सेवासु । = In various services or aspects.

The same subject of attributes of the solar energy is continued :

मध्वः पिबतं मधुपेभिरासभिरुत प्रियं मधुने युञ्जाथां रथम् ।
आ वर्तनिं मधुना जिन्वथस्पथो दृतिं वहेथे मधुमन्तमश्विना ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Commander-in-Chief of the army and warriors ! drink the sweet and tasteful Soma juice in the company of soldiers, who are fond of this sweet soma. Get ready your aircraft like vehicles for the paths of journey known to you, thereby reaching your destination sweetly (easily). As the sun and air carry the cloud, so you should carry this sweet juice of Soma etc. far and near.

PURPORT :—O Commander-in-chief of the army and warriors ! take your meals alongwith the other soldiers of the army and manufacture such vehicles by which you may increase your mobility strength and wealth. As the wind and lighting gladden all by raining, so you should make all subjects happy.

NOTES :—(अश्विना) सेनेशयोद्धारौ । =The Commander of the army and warriors. (मधुने) विज्ञाताय मार्गाय । =For the known paths.

More about the solar energy is told :

उदप्रुतो मन्दिनो मन्दिनिस्पृशो मध्वो न मक्षः सवनानि गच्छथः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION:—O king and Commander-in-chief of the army ! come to our places of prosperity with your swan-like horses which have sweet (charming) movements, and are inviolable. They are golden winged, wakers at dawn, bearers of burden, dispensers of water and are gladdening. Come to us as the bees are set upon the collection of honey.

PURPORT :—O kings and officers of the State ! you go to distant places and come by applying various machines in your vehicles, and move by the proper combination of fire, water and other substances. And thereby you desire to achieve prosperity. This is the way that you may be able to get any jewel.

NOTES :—(हंसासः) हंस इव सद्यो गन्तारोऽश्वाः । हंसास इत्यश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) =Horses which go quickly like the swans. (अस्रिधः) अहिंसिताः । =Not injured. (सवनानि) ऐश्वर्य्याणि । =Prosperity, wealth.

The same subject of energy is dealt :

स्वश्वरासो मधुमन्तो अग्नय उस्रा जरन्ते प्रति वस्तोरश्विना ।
यन्निक्तहस्तस्तरणिर्विचक्षणः सोमं सुषाव मधुमन्तमद्रिभिः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king and chief minister ! the purifying leading men praise the rays of the sun because they are full of sweetness, and performers of good action. In the same manner, a man of pure character takes men across all miseries, is very intelligent and extracts the juice of Soma and other plants with the help of the clouds. You should know all these phenomena well and utilise them properly.

PURPORT :—O men ! accomplish all desired works by having knowledge and using of the fire (energy), soma creeper and other things by the association of learned artisans and technicians.

NOTES :—(निक्तहस्तः) शुद्धहस्तः । णिजिर्-शौचपोषणयोः (जुहो०) । =A man of clean character. (विचक्षणः) अतीव धीमान् । वि+चक्षिङ्— व्यक्तायां वाचि, दर्शनेऽपि (अदा०) =Very intelligent.

More about the energy used in the vehicles is told :

आकेनिपासो अहभिर्दविध्वतः स्वर्ण शुक्रं तन्वन्त आ रजः ।
सूरश्चिदश्वान्युयुजान ईयते विश्वाँ अनु स्वधया चेतथस्पथः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O expert manufactures and drivers of the vehicles ! the rays of the sun shine dispersing the darkness by the light of the day and overspread the firmament and bring down the rain-water. The sun yokes his horses in the form of the rays and proceeds. Thus you should know the nature of all substances by taking proper food etc. and guide on the right path of progress to be followed.

PURPORT :—O men ! if like the rays of the sun and the sun itself, you use water with energy in various vehicles, you can easily travel on earth, water and firmament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुक्रम्) जलम् । शुक्रम् इत्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Water. (रजः) लोकम् । लोका रजांस्युच्यन्ते (NKT 4, 3, 19) । =World. (अश्वान्) आशुगामिनः किरणान् । =Rapid going rays. (आकेनिपासः) ये आके समीपे नितरां यान्ति ते किरणाः । आके इति अन्तिकनाम (NG 2, 16) । = Near-advancing rays.

The subject of solar energy is continued :

प्र वामवोचदश्विना धियंधा रथः स्वश्वो अजरो यो अस्ति ।
येन सद्यः परि रजांसि याथो हविष्मन्तं तरणिं भोजमच्छ ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! I am intelligent and upholder of technical work. I tell you the science of that charming vehicle which has good horses in the form of energy/electricity etc. and is undecaying. With its you may grow in good quantity edibles and various substances and keep away from (prevent) diseases and thus quickly reach distant places of the world.

PURPORT :—O men ! we impart you instructions in technical science. By the help of it, you may be able to manufacture various vehicles and go quickly from place to place and get means of legitimate enjoyment.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भोजम्) भोक्तुं योग्यम् अभ्यवहार: भोजनम् अत्र द्वितीयार्थः । भुज-पालनाभ्यवहारयोः = Enjoyable. (हविष्मन्तम) बहुसामग्रीयुक्तम् । हविः-हुदानादनयोः आदाने च आदानयोग्य विविधपदार्थं ग्रहणमत्र । =Full of various substances.

Sūktam—46

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Indra-Vayu. Chhanda-Gayatri of various kinds. Svara-Shadja.

The science of electricity is told :

अग्रं पिबा मधूनां सुतं वायो दिविष्टिषु । त्वं हि पूर्वपा असि ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are the mightiest like the wind. You are verily the Protector of the ancient knowledge regarding the divine activities. Drink the first quality of (best) effused juice of the sweet saps.

PURPORT :—O learned man ! you impart the knowledge of the ancient sciences (including the science of electricity) after having fully learnt it well. Therefore you are the leader of these activities.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वायो) वायुरिव वलिष्ठ । वा-गतिगन्धनयो: (अदा०) गतिर्बलद्वारैवेति बलवत्ता तात्पर्यम् । =The mightiest like the wind. (दिविष्टिषु) दिव्यासु क्रियासु । दिविष्टषु इति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) पद-गतौ-गतेस्त्रयोऽर्था: । =Among the divine activities.

The same subject of science of energy is continued :

शतेना नो अभिष्टिभिर्नियुत्वाँ इन्द्रसारथिः । वायो सुतस्य तृम्पतम् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are benevolent and mighty like the wind and endowed with the knowledge. You satisfy us with desirable activities like the mighty wind whose charioteer is electricity does satisfy us and makes us happy.

PURPORT :—O men ! the electricity with the wind and the wind with electricity accomplish various activities. So you should accomplish various works with the combination of the earth, water and other things.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नियुत्वान्) बलवान् समर्थो नियुत्वान् ईश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22) वायु: । =Mighty and efficient wind. (वायो) वायुवद्वर्त्त-मानविज्ञानयुक्त । (वायो) वा =गतिगन्धनयोः, गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् । = Mighty like the wind and endowed with knowledge.

The subject of energy is explained :

आ वां सहस्रं हरंय इन्द्रवायू अभि प्रयंः । वहंन्तु सोमंपीतये । ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened persons ! like the sun and the wind, give knowledge to those men (who alleviate sufferings) who bring thousands of desirable things (including good food) in order to make you drink the juice of Soma.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should always serve those enlightened persons who make you highly learned by teaching and training well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रयः) कमनीयम् । प्रय इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) प्रय इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) । =Desirable. (हरयः) हरणशीला मनुष्याः । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) दुःखहरणशीलाः । =Men who alleviate sufferings.

The attributes of energy are told :

रथं हिरंण्यवन्धुरमिन्द्रवायू स्वध्वरम् । आ हि स्थाथों दिविस्पृशंम् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O quick-going teachers and preachers of technology ! like the wind and electricity, you mount on the golden 'seated' vehicle. It helps non-violent good activities in the sky and elsewhere in the performance.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! you should give the knowledge of the science of various vehicles decked with gold and other metals to men, so that they may be able to go to the firmament soon.

NOTES :—(इन्द्रवायू) वायुविद्युद्वच्छीघ्रकारिणौ शिल्पविद्याऽध्यापकोपदेशकौ । = Quick going or active teachers and preachers of technology. (दिविस्पृशम्) दिवि स्पृशति येन तम् । = Touches the sky.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—यदशनिरिन्द्रस्तेन । कौषतकी ब्राह्मणे ६—८ स्तनयित्नुरेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6, 3, 9) । The epithet used for the रथ or vehicle is very significant. Even the translation of the word made by Prof. Wilson as 'the car soaring to heaven' and by Griffith as 'The car that reaches heaven' clearly indicate that there is reference to an aircraft or aeroplane.

More about the energy is told :

रथेन पृथुपाजसा दाश्वांसमुप गच्छतम् । इन्द्रवायू इहा गतम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king and Commander of army ! you are mighty like the wind and electricity. Come here to this battle-field with your very strong charming vehicle and go to a liberal donor.

PURPORT :—Like the wind and electricity, a king and his ministers should be strong.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रवायू) वायुविद्युदग्नी इव राजसेनेशौ । =A king and the commander of the army who are mighty like the wind and electricity. (पृथुपाजसा) विस्तीर्णबलेन । पाज इति बलनाम =With strong power.

The sun and air are described :

इन्द्रवायू अयं सुतस्तं देवेभिः सजोषसा । पिबतं दाशुषो गृहे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are like the sun and the air and who equally love one another, as you drink the Soma juice that has been prepared in the house of a liberal donor alongwith learned persons. Same way the sun and the air drink the sap of all substances.

PURPORT :—As the air and the sun are benevolent to all, so should the enlightened persons be.

NOTES :—(इन्द्रवायू) सूर्यवायू इवाध्यापकोपदेशकौ । =Teachers and preachers who are benevolent like the sun and the air. (सजोषसा) समानप्रीतिकामौ । =Equally loving one another.

अचित्रे अन्तः पणयः ससन्त्वबुध्यमानास्तमसो विमध्ये ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you should choose for marriage those praiseworthy girls (one gild for one man), who are like the dawns, sleep soundly at mid-night, are daughters of those who possess admirable wealth, make homes happy and give good advice to their husbands regarding the wealth to be given in charity and other matters.

PURPORT ;—O men ! you should accept as wives only those girls who are learned like you and are endowed with good merits, actions and temperament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऊच्छन्ती:) सुवासयन्त्य: । उच्छि विवासे । विवासो विनाश: समप्तिरित्यर्थ:, इति क्षीरतरङ्गिण्यां क्षीरस्वामी विरचितायाम् । दु:खस्य विनाश: सुखस्य स्थापनम् । =Causing to live happily. (भोजान्) पालकान्पतीन् । = Husbands who maintain well. (पणय:) प्रशंसनीया: =Admirable, praiseworthy.

The same subject of duties of people is continued :

येना नवग्वे अङ्गिरे दशग्वे सप्तास्ये रेवती रेवदूष ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should put those women for the discharge of the domestic duties, who are greatly active and energetic young women, who distribute wealth among the needy, and are charming like the dawns. Highly learned and endowed with wealth and beauty, they should be willing to live lovingly in the houses of husbands, whom they love and care like their Prānas (vital breaths), have nine cows and ten cows in the form of five senses of perception and five senses of action and seven Prānas in the mouth.

PURPORT :—That man enjoys happiness who is highly learned, of good character and temperamentlly superior in knowledge and strength. A beautiful and youthful boy marries a girl suitable in all respects. That woman can only make all of us happy who always desires and loves her husband, and makes progress in financial position and knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सनय:) विभक्तय: । =Distributors of wealth to the needy. (अङ्गिरे) प्राणवत्प्रिये पत्यौ । प्राणो वा अङ्गिरा: (Stph 6, 1, 2, 28) । =In the husband who is dear like the Prāṇa (vital breath). (रेवती:) बहुधनशोभायुक्ता: । =Women endowed with abundant wealth and beauty. (ऊष) निवासयन्ति । =Cause to dwell.

The duties of people are narrated :

यूयं हि देवीर्ऋतयुग्भिरश्वैः परिप्रयाथ भुवनानि सद्यः ।
प्रबोधयन्तीरुषसः ससन्तं द्विपाच्चतुष्पाच्चरथाय जीवम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the dawns awake the sleeping beings whether they are bipeds or quadrupeds prompting them to persue their activities, and go to distant worlds. In the same manner, you should go to women, who are endowed with the divine merits, actions and temperament, along with truthful mighty and industrious persons and speedy horses, PURPORT :—The men endowed with noble virtues, get matching noble women. They should be learned and beloved and shine for ever like the dawns, and enlighten all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋतयुग्भि:) य ऋतेन सत्येन तै: । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) । =Truthful. (अश्वै:) महाबलिष्ठै: पुरुषार्थयुक्तै: । वीर्यं वा अश्व: (Stph 2, 1, 4, 23, 24) यजमानो वा अश्व: (Taittiriya. 3, 9, 17, 4, 5) =Very mighty and industrious persons or speedy horses. (ससन्तम्) शयानम् । =Sleeping.

The duties of men and women are described :

क्वं स्विदासां कतमा पुराणी यया विधाना विदधुर्ऋभूणाम् ।
शुभं यच्छुभ्रा उषसश्चरन्ति न वि ज्ञायन्ते सदृशीरजुर्याः ॥ ६ ॥

6 TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the bright dawns happily

proceed, they are not distinguished being similar and undecaying. Which of them is old ? By which the rites of the geniuses are accomplished and which are new ? It very difficult to say, such women who are bright or splendid on account of their virtues are very good.

PURPORT :—As all dawns are alike, so the wivesd who are like their husbands in virtues are admirable. They should marry young men when in youth, and be even happy and full of bliss. As it is not known which dawn is old and which one is new, such is the position of those girls who have observed Brahmacharya for a long time. They remain young and energetic for a very long time.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋभूणाम्) धीमताम् । ऋभुरिति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) । =Of the wise. (अजुर्यः) अजीर्णाः । अ+जृ-वयोहानौ (जु०) । =Undecaying.

The duties of people are told :

ता घा ता भ॒द्रा उ॒षसः॑ पु॒रासु॑रभि॒ष्टिद्यु॑म्ना ऋ॒तजा॑तसत्याः ।
यास्वी॑जा॒नः श॑शमा॒न उ॒क्थैः स्तु॒वञ्छंस॒न्द्रवि॑णं स॒द्य आप॑ ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! in the dawns a man performing Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) praises with proper words, and is himself admirable. He obtains wealth or good reputation, is auspicious today as he was earlier. In the same manner, you should put the domestic duties on those Brahmacharinis who are well-versed in truthful dealings and endowed with admired glory and wealth.

PURPORT :—As the dawn always dwells with the sun, in the same manner, husband and wife married in accordance with their consent and choice would be glorious and truthful.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अभिष्टिद्युम्नाः) प्रशंसित-यशोधनाः । द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) [illegible] (NKT 5, 1, 5) =Endowed with admirable glory and wealth. (ऋतजातसत्याः) ऋताज्जातेषु व्यवहारेषु सत्सु साध्व्यः । =Well-versed or experts in truthful dealings.

The duties of people are listed :

ता आ चरन्ति समना पुरस्तात्समानतः समना पप्रथानाः
ऋतस्य देवीः सदसो बुधाना गवां न सर्गा उषसो जरन्ते ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should marry those girls who have observed Brahmacharya and have stood the tests, and are matching with their husbands, in merits, actions and temperament. They are illuminators of truth, possessors of the vast knowledge and beauty, enlighten even the civilised persons like the dawns, are matching like the calves are with the cows.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should suitably marry those highly learned Brahmacharinis who are endowed with beauty and good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(समना) समानाः गुणकर्मस्वभावाः । अत्र सुपां सुलुगिति जसो लुक् ।=Endowed with similar merits, actions and temperament. (सदसः) सभ्यान् । =Civilised persons. (पप्रथानाः) विस्तीर्णविद्यासौन्दर्यादिगुणाः । =Possessing vast knowledge, beauty and other virtues.

Some teachings for the women are given :

ता इन्न्वेव समना समानीरमीतवर्णा उषसश्चरन्ति ।
गूहन्तीरभ्वमसितं रुशद्भिः शुक्रास्तनूभिः शुचयो रुचानाः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O women ! like the dawns whose hue has not been obliterated, are all identical of similar form, pure, bright and illumining. Concealing their dark destroying attributes, they proceed at great speed and give happiness to all. In the same manner, you should make all beings happy.

PURPORT :—Those women only are bestowers of delight who destroy the miseries like the dawns and generate happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमीतवर्णा:) अहिंसितवर्णा: । =Whose hue has not been obliterated. (अभ्वम्) महान्तम् । अभ्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) । =Great. (रुशद्गि:) हिंसकैर्गुणैः । =With dark destroying attributes.

The system of Svayamvara (selection of husband/wife by mutual choice) is mentioned :

रयिं दिवो दुहितरो विभातीः प्रजावन्तं यच्छतास्मासु देवीः ।
स्योनादा वः प्रतिबुध्यमानाः सुवीर्यस्य पतयः स्याम ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned ladies ! as the divine, resplendent daughters of the sun in the form of the rays give light, in the same manner, bestow upon us happiness and wealth comprehending good progeny, so that the people awaken or enligten you for your benefit. May we become the lords of mighty army, consisting of that progeny.

PURPORT :—It is by marrying by Svayamvara system (self or mutual selection) that these girls who are resplendent or bright like the dawn, generate happiness. Thus the men may become prosperous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुवीर्यस्य) सुष्ठुपराक्रमयुक्तस्य सैन्यस्य । =Of a very powerful army. (स्योनात्) सुखात् । स्योनमिति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) । =With happiness. (दुहितर:) कन्या इव किरणा: । (दिव:) द्योतमानस्य सूर्यस्य । दिवुघातोर्घुत्यर्थ मादाय व्याख्या । =Rays which are like the daughters of the sun.

The duties of men are mentioned :

तद्वो दिवो दुहितरो विभातीरुप ब्रुव उषसो यज्ञकेतुः ।
वयं स्याम यशसो जनेषु तद् द्यौश्च धत्तां पृथिवी च देवी ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! conveyor or performer of Yajna, I tell you what noble women say to you. They are like the resplendent daughters of light—the dawns. May the earth and power (energy) uphold that (message), so that we may earn (be the possessors of) good reputation or glory among men.

PURPORT :—Those who make people to accept truth by p reaching one and all, become illuminators like the sun and upholders of the people like the earth.

NOTES :—(यज्ञकेतुः) यज्ञस्य प्रापकः । =Conveyor of Yajna, i.e. leading men towards the path of Yajna. (द्यौः) विद्युत् । =Electricity.

Sūktam—52

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva—Devatā. Usha. Chhanda-Gāyatri. Svara-Shadja.

The attributes of a noble woman are described :

प्रति ष्या सूनरी जनी व्युच्छन्ती परि स्वसुः । दिवो अदर्शि दुहिता ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the dawn indeed is like the daughter of the sun, precedes or leads well towards the sun, generates light and dispels darkness. Likewise should a noble woman be. She should be a good leader, leading towards light by dispelling the darkness of ignorance and cause all to live in happiness, by driving away all misries.

PURPORT :—That woman is good who is like the dawn.

NOTES :—(सूनरी) सुष्ठुनेत्री । =Good leader. (व्युच्छन्ती) निवासयन्ती । =Causing to live in happiness.

The same subject of attributes of a noble woman is continued :

अश्वेव चित्रारुषी माता गवामृतावरी । सखाभूदश्विनोरुषाः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O man ! the dawn is wonderful, reddish, manifester of truth; is like a mare, the friend of the sun and the moon. She should be considered as the mother of the rays. (In the same manner, a noble woman should be preceptor of truth, like a sister or the teacher and the preacher and mother of noble speech).

PURPORT :—O men ! the dawn which is like the mother or the friend should be utilised properly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्विनोः) सूर्य्याचन्द्रमसोः । तत्कावश्विनौ सूर्याचन्द्रमसावित्येके (NKT 2, 2, 8) । =Of the sun and the moon. (गवाम्) किरणानाम् । =Of the rays.

The attributes of an ideal woman are continued :

उ॒त सखा॑स्य॒श्विनो॑रु॒त मा॒ता गवा॑मसि । उ॒तोषो॒ वस्व॑ ईशिषे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :— O noble woman ! you are shining like the dawn. You are like a friend or companion of your husband. You are the friend of a teacher and preacher. You are mother like the cows (because of feeding them). You keenly desire to have good wealth.

PURPORT :—That woman gives happiness who is like a friend and is obedient. She illuminates the family like the dawn.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्विनोः) सूर्य्याचन्द्रमसोरिवाऽध्यापकोपदेशकयोः । तत्कावश्विनौ ? सूर्याचन्द्रमसावित्येके (NKT 12, 1, 1) अश्विनावध्वर्यू (ऐतरेय ब्राह्मणे 1, 18, Stph 1, 1, 2, 16) गोपथ ब्राह्मणे 3, 2, 6 अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3, 17) अध्यापनं ब्रह्मयज्ञः (मनुस्मृतौ) । ब्रह्मयज्ञस्य नेतारौ अध्यापकोपदेशकावेव । =Of the teacher and preacher who are like the sun and the moon.

The qualities of a good woman :

या॒व॒यद्द्वे॑षसं त्वा चिकि॒त्वित्सू॑नृतावरि । प्रति॒ स्तोमै॑रभुत्स्महि ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O noble woman ! you drive away all malicious or molevolent persons, and enlighten and illuminate true speech. May we know you well with words of praise.

PURPORT :—That woman alone is noble who does not have malice towards any one, nor has the company of malicious persons. She possesses admirable true speech.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यावयद्द्वेषसम्) यावयन्तं द्वेष्टारं द्वेषसं द्वेष्टारं पृथक्कुर्वन्तीम् । यु-मिश्रणेअमिश्रणे च (अदा०) अत्र अभिश्रणार्थः । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) । =Driving away a malicious or malevolent person. (सूनृतावरि) सत्यवाक्प्रकाशिके । सुनृता-सत्यमधुरा वाक् तद्वती । सुनृतेति वाङ्नाम तद्वतीम् । =Illuminator of true speech.

It is noteworthy that while Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others take this and other mantras addressed only to the dawn, Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati taking into consideration यावयद् द्वेषसम् चिकित्वत् सूनृतावरि । and other epithets used for the Usha, takes them addressed to a noble woman, charming like the dawn. Even Sayanacharya translated these epithets like यवयन्तौ वियुज्यमानौ द्वेषांसि द्वेष्टारो यस्यास्तादृशी । पृथक् क्रियन्ते द्वेषास्यनयेति वा । रात्रौ हननायोद्यता द्विषः उषा काले हि पलायन्ते (सा) (चिकित्वत्) ज्ञापयन्तीम् । Prof. Wilson translates सूनृतावरि as endowed with truth यावयद्द्वेषसम् as baffler of animosities चिकित्वत् as restorer of consciousness. Griffith has translated यावयद्द्वेषसम् as who driveth hate away. These epithets are not applicable in the case of formal or nature's dawn. They are clearly applicable to the noble woman, charming like the dawn. Rishi Dayanand Sarasvati's interpretation is therefore the most authoritative, relevent and rational.

In the praise of women in good dealings :

प्रति॑ भ॒द्रा अ॑दृक्षत॒ गवां॒ सर्गा॒ न र॒श्मयः॑ । ओषा अ॑प्रा उ॒रु ज्रयः॑ ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! various objects of the world are seen which are like the resplendent rays of the sun pervaded by the dawn. An ideal woman should be like that.

PURPORT :—Those women who illuminate good dealings like the rays of the sun always promote the reputation of their family for its welfare.

NOTES :—(सर्गाः) सृष्टयः । =Creations, created objects. (अयः) अतितेजोमयाः । =Resplendent.

The duties of a woman are compared with the dawn :

आपप्रुषी विभावरि व्यावर्ज्योतिषा तमः । उषो अनु स्वधामव ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O virtuous woman ! you are endowed with admirable multiform light and well-versed in (lit. pervading) various sciences, and shine like the dawn, with your light of knowledge. May you remove all our vices and defects like the darkness, and preserve well the foodstuff and other articles.

PURPORT :—As the dawn dispels all darkness by its light, in the same manner, highly learned woman should remove all vices and defects by their good temperament and thus protect all by preparing well-cooked good food.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आपप्रुषी) समन्तात्सर्वा विद्या व्याप्नुवती । पृ— पालनपूरणयोः (जुहो०) । =Pervading all sciences from all sides. (विभावरि) प्रशस्तविविधप्रकाशयुक्ते । भा-दीप्तौ (अदा०) । =Endowed with various lights.

The same subject of woman comparable with is continued :

आ द्यां तनोषि रश्मिभिरान्तरिक्षमुरु प्रियम् । उषः शुक्रेण शोचिषा ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O noble woman ! you shine like the dawn. As the dawn illuminates the heaven as well as the vast firmament with its pure rays (lustre), in the same manner, you make your dear husband renowned and glorious by your pure lustre.

PURPORT :—That woman only enjoys much happiness who always satisfies her husband with knowledge, humility, good character and temperament and other virtuers.

NOTES :—(शोचिषा) प्रकाशेन । =With light, lustre. (प्रियम्) कमनीयं पतिम् । =To dear husband.

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that One God should be glorified by all of us, about Whom good leaders should tell others in day time and night that He is the Giver of all prosperity, Bestower of happiness, and, Admirable and Adorable. May He Who apportions precious things (gems etc.) to thoughtful persons, bestow upon us excellent wealth (or good reputation and glory).

PURPORT :—Most unfortunate are they, who worship any one else, giving up the worship of One God—Who is the Giver of all wealth and glory, is Adorable and Admirable.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सविता) सर्वैश्वर्यप्रदः । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः । अत्र ऐश्वर्यार्थग्रहणम् । =Giver of all wealth or prosperity. (देवः) सर्वसुख-प्रदाता । देवो दानाद् वा दीपनाद् वा द्योतनाद् वा (NKT 7, 4, 76) दानार्थमादाय सर्वसुख प्रापक इति व्याख्यानम् । =Bestower of all happiness.

The attributes of God are told further :

देवेभ्यो हि प्रथमं यज्ञियेभ्योऽमृतत्वं सुवसि भागमुत्तमम् ।
आदिद्दामानं सवितर्व्यूर्णुषेऽनूचीना जीविता मानुषेभ्यः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O Savita (Creator of the world) ! you confer upon the souls, virtues endowed with divine merits, actions and temperaments and are performers of the Yajnas along with always speaking truth etc., the most desirable and sublime joy of emancipation at first. Those who gives himself upto you, you cover him from all sides by Your pervasion. You give most imitable (ideal) lives to thoughtful men. Therefore, you are worthy of adoration by all of us.

PURPORT :—O men ! adore only that One God, Who prompts us to truthful acts and fills all with bliss by giving the joy of emancipation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवेभ्य:) दिव्यगुणकर्मस्वभावेभ्यो जीवेभ्य: । =For the souls endowed with divine merits, actions and temperament. (दामानम्) दातारम् । =Giver. (अनूचीना) यान्यनुचरन्ति । =Imitable or ideal. (वि ऊर्णुषे) स्वव्याप्त्याऽऽच्छादयसि । =Converest with Your pervasion.

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! we can not violate the summit or high teachings and food of a man friendly to all, of a noble most acceptable man and of a glorious purifying leader. In the same manner, let a mother endowed with perfect knowledge protect us alongwith the enlightened persons or earth etc. and let a highly learned father who is ever attentive preserve us.

PURPORT :—No man should resort to violence against a person or thing (without particular reason) and none should take intoxicants. One should accept the noble teachings of the enlightened persons of father and mother.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अदितिः) अखण्डितज्ञानः । अदितिः—अदीना देवमातेति (NKT 4,4,23) अदितिर्द्यौरदितिरन्तरिक्षमदितिर्माता सपिता सपुत्रः (ऋ० १,८९, १०) । =Endowed with inviolable knowledge. (देवी) देदीप्यमाना विदुषी माता । =Glorious enlightened mother. (धासिम्) अन्नम् । धासिमित्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Food.

The subject of attributes of the learned persons is continued :

अग्निरीशे वसव्यस्याग्निर्महः सौभगस्य । तान्यस्मभ्यं रासते ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned man ! as an industrious man like fire is the master of all good wealth, as Agni (fire, power etc.)

is the master of all prosperity and gives that to us, in the same manner, you should also do.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! the Agni (fire or electricity etc.) when conquered (utilised) with knowledge, leads to great prosperity having accomplished many works. In the same manner, when served by the people, you make them prosperious by accomplising teaching, preaching and other works.

NOTES :—(अग्नि:) अग्निरिव पुरुषार्थी । =Industrious like the fire. (वसव्यस्य) वसुषु धनेषु साधो: । =Of good wealth.

The same subject of learned person's attributes is continued :

उषों मघोन्या वंह सूनृते वार्या पुरु । अस्मभ्यं वाजिनीवति ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O wife ! behaving like the dawn, and endowed with absolutely true and sweet speech, you cause to attain admirable wealth, and possession of good knowledge. Let you lead us to many desirable objects.

PURPORT :—As the dawn does good to all souls, so a highly learned wife attains popularity everywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (मघोनि) प्रशंसितधनकारिके । मघमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) मह पूजायाम् । =Causing admirable wealth. (वाजिनीवति) उत्तम विद्यायुक्त । वाज:-वज गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थषु ज्ञानार्थंग्रहणमत्र । =Possessor of good knowledge.

The attributes of learned persons are stated :

तत्सु नंः सविता भगो वरुंणो मित्रो अंर्युमा । इन्द्रों नो राधसा गंमत् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the sun, the group of good articles to be served or taken by us, Udānā and Prāna, are dispenser of justice. Come to us with their accomplishing power like electricity comes to us. In the same manner, you approach us.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! as we get regularly the sun, air, Prānas etc. and electricity, in the same manner, approach us constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भग:) भजनीयः पदार्थसमुदायः। According to the well known Sanskrit Verse by भग: may be taken the following desirable things. ऐश्वर्यस्य समग्रस्य, धर्मस्य यशसः श्रियः। ज्ञान वैराग्ययोश्चैव षण्णां भग इतीरणा wealth, righteousness, good reputation, beauty knowledge and dispassion. =The group of articles to be served or taken by us. Sūktam—56

Rishi of the Sūktam—Vămadeva. Devata or subject-Dyăvă-Prithivyau. Chhanda—Trishtup, Gāyatri and Pankti. Svara—Dhaivata, Panchama and Shadja.

The attributes of the heaven and sky, are told :

मही द्यावापृथिवी इह ज्येष्ठे रुचा भवतां शुचयद्भिरर्कैः।
यत्सीं वरिष्ठे बृहती विमिन्वन् रुवद्धोक्षा पप्रथानेभिरेवैः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a learned person is like the sun who eradicates all evils and teaches and preaches with force. He knows righty the attributes of the vast and excellent sources of the energy-the fire, sun and earth, possessing and purifying the admirable extensive properties, leading to happiness. He become benevolent to all.

PURPORT :—The men who know the real nature of all things from earth to sun, become prosperous and he should make all happy.

NOTES :—(विमिन्वन्) विशेषेण प्रक्षिपन्। =Particularly throwing away all evils. (एवै:) सुखप्रापकैः। =Attributes or qualities which lead to happiness. (अर्कै:) अर्चनीयैः। =Admirable, worthy of respect.

The same subject of attributes of heaven is continued :

देवी देवेभिर्यजते यजत्रैरमिनती तस्थतुरुक्षमाणे ।
ऋतावरी अद्रुहा देवपुत्रे यज्ञस्य नेत्री शुचयद्भिरर्कैः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a learned person knows the bright heaven and earth along with the purifying and adorable (worthy of association) enlightened persons. He confers happiness on all, and who are full of much truth, are free from malice and leaders of the world. Inriolable, and having truthful wise men as their sons, he unites them and utilises well, and thus becomes very luckly.

PURPORT :—Those persons are ever fortunate who having known thoroughly the attributes and properties of all things from earth to matter utilise them for the accomplishment of works.

NOTES :—(उक्षमाणे) सर्वान् प्राणिनः सुखैः सिचमाने । =Sprinkling all beings with happiness. (यज्ञस्य) संसारव्यवहारस्य । =Of the dealing of the world.

———

The attributes of heaven and sky are further told :

स इत्स्वपा भुवनेष्वास य इमे द्यावापृथिवी जजान ।
उर्वी गभीरे रजसी सुमेके अवंशे धीरः शच्या समैरत् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should always adore that One God Who is the Doer of very good deeds, Most Wise, Creator by His Infinite Wisdom of the vast, serene, beautiful and un-supported sun and earth made out of particles of Rajas (रजस्) (second element of matter) and related to each other. It is He, Who moves or shakes them.

PURPORT :— O men ! that One Lord of the world alone should be worshipped by you. Who has made numberless earths (planets) and Who moves them in proper cycle.

NOTES :—(सुमेके) एकीभूते सम्बद्धे । =United related. (स्वपाः) शोभनान्यपांसि । कर्माणि यस्य सः । =Doer of good deeds. (शच्या) प्रज्ञया । =With wisdom.

The subject of universe and its creator is further described :

नू रोदसी बृहद्भिर्नो वरूथैः पत्नीवद्भिरिषयन्ती सजोषाः ।
उरूची विश्वे यजते नि पातं धिया स्याम रथ्यः सदासाः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a learned person who loves and serves all, knows with his intellect or actions about heaven and earth which lead to happiness. These planets are vast in the universe, and are to be united or utilised properly. They contain spacious dwellings inhabited by our wives and protect us. In the same manner, let (one wife for one man) us know the secrets of universe well and be the masters of many chariots and attendants.

PURPORT :—Those men who know well about the electricity and earth endowed with many great potentialities become rich very soon.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इषयन्ती) सुखं प्रापयन्त्यौ । इष-गतौ (दिवा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थ-ग्रहणं कृत्वा व्याख्या । = Leading to happiness. (वरूथैः) उत्तमैर्गृहैः । वरूथमिति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) । = With good homes.

It is wrong and misleading that Prof. Wilson translated सदासाः as "possessed of slaves." दास means servants or attendants (vide Monier William's Sanskrit-English Dictionary pp 477, where Dasa-Karma-Kara is shown 'a servant doing his work'. Editor). Slavery is nowhere sanctioned in the Vedas.

The training in technology is described :

प्र वां महि द्यवी अभ्युपस्तुतिं भरामहे । शुची उप प्रशस्तये ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O experts in arts, crafts and industries ! as we praise the properties of pure, great and resplendent heaven and earth for our progress, we admire you—the teachers and workers.

PURPORT :— Men should always honour the persons from whom they acquire the knowledge of technology, and other sciences.

NOTES :—(वाम्) युवयोरध्यापक क्रिया कर्त्तो: । =Of you-the teachers and workers (of technical arts). (मही) महागुणे । =Great, endowed with great attributes.

The some subject of technology is narrated :

पुनाने तन्वा मिथः स्वेन दक्षेण राजथः । ऊह्याथे सनाद्धृतम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—The teachers and students of the technical science know with their strong body and mind about the purifying sun and earth. They shine and mutually ponder over the Primordial matter and its effect (the world, which is true or real). They should be duly honoured.

PURPORT :—Those who become experts in technology, should be duly respected and honoured by king and others.

NOTES :—(दक्षेण) बलयुक्तेन । =Strong, vigorous. (सनात्) सनातनात् । Firm eternal material cause i. e. matter.

Something about technology is further told :

मही मित्रस्य साधथस्तरन्ती पिप्रती ऋतम् । परि यज्ञं नि षेदथुः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you should know well and properly utilise the knowledge about heaven and earth which can take you beyond the miseries. They are great and filling with joy, are born out of true eternal cause which is to be united with i. e. matter. They accomplish the work of a man who is friendly to all.

PURPORT :—Men should get all desirable works fulfilled by knowing thoroughly about the heaven and earth (universe) which are supporters of all and accomplishers of all acts.

NOTES :—(तरन्ती) दु:खं प्लावयन्त्यौ । =Taking beyond all miseries. (पिप्रती) सर्वानन्दं प्रपूरयन्त्यौ । =Filling with all joy.

Sūktam—57

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vāmadeva. Devatā-Kshetrapati. Shunah, Shunasirah and Sīta. Chhanda-Anushtup, Ushnik and Trishtup. Svara-Gāndhāra, Dhaivata and Rishabha.

The subject of agriculture is narrated :

क्षेत्रस्य पतिना वयं हितेनेव जयामसि ।
गामश्वं पोषयित्न्वा स नो मृळातीदृशे ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—With the help of lord (master) of the farmland like the loyal army serves our interest, we win the land and the food that nourshes our cows and horses. May be, you secure way, and make us always happy.

PURPORT :—There is Upamālankara or simile used here. As with a well-trained loyal army, heroes achieve the victory, in the same manner, those who are experts in agricultural work, get abundant wealth.

NOTES :—(हितेनेव) हितसाधकेन सैन्येनेव । =As with a loyal army serving our interests.

EDITOR'S NOTES :—Quite likely, the late Indian Prime Minister Lalbahadur Shastri, who was an Oriental Sankrit scholar, had raised his war slogan of Jai Jawan and Jai Kisan (Hail to the soldier and farmer) during the 1965 war with Pakistan.

———

The subject of agriculture is further stated :

क्षेत्रस्य पते मधुमन्तमूर्मिं धेनुरिव पयो अस्मासु धुक्ष्व ।
मधुश्चुतं घृतमिव सुपूतमृतस्य नः पतयो मृळयन्तु ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O master of the field ! the protectors of truth acquire true knowledge which is sweet and pure like the clarified butter, and make us happy. In the same manner, like the cow giving milk, produce for us a sweet stream (i.e. plenty) of milk.

PURPORT :—As intelligent farmers please all by producing energy and pure foodgrains, in the same manner, all should encourage the peasants and protect them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धुक्ष्व) पूर्णं कुरु। धुक्ष- सन्दीपन क्लेशन जीवनेषु (भ्वा०)। अत्र पूरणार्थे सन्दीपनाभिप्रायमादायार्थः स्वामिना कृतः। =Fill. (ऊर्मिम्) जलधाराम्। =Wave, stream.

The same subject of farming is continued :

मधुमतीरोषधीर्द्याव आपो मधुमन्नो भवत्वन्तरिक्षम् ।
क्षेत्रस्य पतिर्मधुमान्नो अस्त्वरिष्यन्तो अन्वेनं चरेम ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may the herbs, waters and the light of the sun etc. be sweet (propitious) to us. May the sky be sweet to us. The lord of farmland be sweet to us, and may we follow him unimpaired.

PURPORT :—As all men desire good things for themselves, they should equally desire them for others also.

NOTES :—(द्यावः) सूर्यादि प्रकाशाः। =The light of the sun etc. (अन्तरिक्षम्) आकाशम्। =Sky. (अरिष्यन्तः) अन्यैरहिंसिस्यन्तः। =Unimpaired or unharmed by others.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—द्यावः is from दिवु। Here the meaning of द्युति or light has been particularly taken.

The subject of agriculture goes on :

शुनं वाहाः शुनं नरः शुनं कृषतु लाङ्गलम् ।
शुनं वरत्रा बध्यन्तां शुनमष्ट्रामुदिङ्गय ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O farmers ! the bulls work happily and thus make us happy. The leading peasants may lead us to happiness; may their plough and furrow work well, may the trees happily bind and so wield the agricultural tools and implements happily.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the farmers to have good plough and all other tools and implements, bulls and seeds, to prepare good fields and produce good foodgrains.

NOTES :—(शुनम्) सुखम् । =Happiness. (वाहा:) वृषभादय: । =Bulls etc. (लाङ्गलम्) हलावयव: । =Plough. (अष्ट्राम्) कृषिसाधनावयवम् । =Implements of agriculture.

The same subject of farming is continued :

शुनासीराविमां वाचं जुषेथां यद्दिवि चक्रथुः पयः ।
तेनेमामुप सिञ्चतम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O master and servant of the field ! sprinkle this earth with the water and the speech by throwing light on the subject of agriculture, that you have acquired in the field of the science of agriculture and which you serve so well.

PURPORT :—The farmers should first learn the science of agriculture and then take up the farming, and thus possess wealth and foodgrins.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुनासीरौ) क्षेत्रपतिभृत्यौ । =The owner of the field and the farm labour. (पय:) उदकम् । पय इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 2) । =Water. (दिवि) कृषिविद्याप्रकाशे । दिवु धातोरनेकार्थेषु द्युत्यर्थग्रहणम् । द्युति: प्रकाश: अत्र कृषिविद्याप्रकाश: ।=In the field of the science of agriculture.

The same subject of agriculture goes on :

अर्वाची सुभगे भव सीते वन्दामहे त्वा ।
यथा नः सुभगाससि यथा नः सुफलाससि ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O lucky augmenter of good wealth, my wife ! you should be humble like the furrow. You should be like the people, who make the land prosperous. You act fruitful to us like the earth. Therefore, we desire you.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile in the mantra. The earth when well-cultivated produces good crop, in the same manner, a man who has received good education through the observance of Brahmacharya (cotinence) gives birth to good children. The kingdom of the land is the important cause of great prosperity. In the same manner, husband and wife who love each othe become prosperous.

NOTES :—(सीते) हलादिकर्षणावयवायोनिर्मिता । = Furrow. (वन्दामहे) कामयामहे । = Desire.

The same subject of farming is further highlighted :

इन्द्रः सीतां नि गृह्णातु तां पूषानु यच्छतु ।
सा नः पयस्वती दुहामुत्तरामुत्तरां समाम् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O farmers ! may the river or canal, full of waters be harnessed by you. May a digger of the earth take in hand the furrow and may the nourisher direct or use it properly. May he utilise this furrow which stimulates the desire of vast growth of food, and the land he cultivated again and again to make it pure and fertile. So you should also do.

PURPORT :—All farmers should follow the instructions given by the expert, experienced and highly agriculture scientists and thus increase and improve the production of agriculture.

NOTES :—(इन्द्रः) भूमेर्दारयिता । = Digger or cultivator of the earth (land). (पयस्वती) बहूदकयुक्ता । = Full of plenty water. (दुहाम्) प्रपूरिकाम् । That who makes up the deficit fulfills foodgrains. (समाम) शुद्धाम् । = Pure.

The same subject of farming goes on :

शुनं नः फाला वि कृषन्तु भूमिं शुनं कीनाशा अभि यन्तु वाहैः ।
शुनं पर्जन्यो मधुना पयोभिः शुनासीरा शुनमस्मासु धत्तम् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—May the ploughshares or farm labours break up our land happily. May the farmers go happily with their oxen, may the clouds water the earth with sweet showers happily. O the master and attendant of the farmlands, you are givers of happiness and thus bestow happiness upon us.

PURPORT :—Let the peasants turn good plough-shares and manufacture farm implements, and thus by digging the good earth with ploughs enjoy good happiness. They should give happiness to rulers and common people also.

NOTES :—(शुनासीरा) सुखदस्वामिभृत्यो कृषीवलो । =The master and farm labours who are givers of happiness. (शुनम्) सुखम् । = Happiness.

Sūktam-58

Rishi of the Sūktam. Vāmadeva. Devatās or subjects-Agni, Surya, waters, cows or ghee (clarified butter). Chhanda-Trishtup, Pankti, Ushnik and Anushtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama, Dhaivata, Gāndhara and Rishabha.

The nature and attributes of water are told :

समुद्रादूर्मिर्मधुमाँ उदारदुपांशुना सममृतत्वमानट् ।
घृतस्य नाम गुह्यं यदस्ति जिह्वा देवानाममृतस्य नाभिः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! know about it from the firmament (or ocean) which springs forth the water-waves of sweetness with the help of rays of the sun. Being divine, it is extremely pleasant in taste. The real source of water is dormant. Emanicipation is the result of the teachings of the enlightened persons or leading the divine virtues. You should understand well this truth.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know that the water goes up the firmament from the earth through the energy of the sun through air. The rain thus caused by the laws of God, becomes sweet and its other attributes are like nector.

NOTES :—(समुद्रात्) अन्तरिक्षात् । =From firmament. (अंशुना) सूर्य्येण । =By the energy or rays of the sun. (घृतस्य) उदकस्य । =Of water.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—समुद्र इत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) घृतमित्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) । The real cause of water is Primordial matter; it is dormant mysrious and unmanifested.

———

The subject of water is continued :

वयं नाम प्र ब्रवामा घृतस्यास्मिन्यज्ञे धारयामा नमोभिः ।
उपं ब्रह्मा शृणवच्छस्यमानं चतुःशृङ्गोऽवमीद् गौर एतत् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—He whose knowledge of the four Vedas is like four horns, who studies and enjoys the Vedas, is perfectly well-versed in each of them, preaches them to humanity and listens to their teachings from others is the praise-worthy embodiment of knowledge. It is our duty to propagate his qualities to others and act upon it, in the Yajna in the form of the dealings. It connects the Yajna with the water of the rains etc. honouring the teachers with good food etc.

PURPORT :—O men ! as a person well-versed in all the four Vedas and absolutely truthful teaches and decides about the principles of life for following, so we should also do and decide.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ब्रह्मा) चतुर्वेदवित् । =Knower of all the four Vedas. (चतुः शृङ्गः) चत्वारो वेदाः शृङ्गाणीव यस्य सः =Who has four Vedas as animals have their horns-pillars of strength. (गौरः) गौ गवि सुशिक्षितायां वाचि रमते सः । =One who enjoys or takes delight in the well-trained or cultured speech.

Now something about the science of God is told in the third mantra :

चत्वारि शृङ्गा त्रयो अस्य पादा द्वे शीर्षे सप्त हस्तासो अस्य ।
त्रिधा बद्धो वृषभो रोरवीति महो देवो मर्त्याँ आ विवेश ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—This Yajna or righteous conduct has got four horns in the orm of the four Vedas; three feet in the form of action, contemplation and knowledge; two heads in the form of worldly prosperity and emancipation; seven hands in the form of five senses of perception or action, Antahkaran or inner senses and soul. This mighty, attainable Yajna, the giver of all happiness, interlinked with a triple bond of Shraddhā (faith) Purushartha or industriousness and practice of Yoga, roars loudly and enters into the mortals being the shower of joy (delights. Ed.).

PURPORT :—O men! in this world pervaded by God, Yajna has got four horns in the form of the four Vedas, Nāma (noun) Ākhyāta (verb) Upasarga (a preposition fixed to verb) and Nipāt (indeclinable); Vishva, Taijasa, Prājna and Tureeya and Dharma (righteousness) Artha (wealth) Kāma (fulfilment of noble desire) and Moksha (emancipation); three feet in the form of three Savanas (in the sessions); three times i.e. present, past and future; Karma (कर्म) Upāsana (contemplating) and Prāna (knowledge and mind, speech and body etc.). It has two heads in the form of Vyavahāra (secular dealing) and Parmārtha (spiritual), two kinds of words नित्य (eternal), and non-eternal. Udgaan and Prāyanaa (Uttarāyana and Dakshinayana two solestices) and teacher and preacher. It has seven hands in the form of the Gāyatri and other principal metres numbering seven, seven cases of the Grammar, seven Prānas,-five कर्मेन्द्रिय (senses of action), body and soul. It is bound by the triple bond of mantras, Brahmans (commenteries on the Vedas with applications in the Yajnas) and Kalpa (rituals) in the chest, neck and head, in the three bonds of श्रवण (hearing) मनन (reflection), and निदिध्यासन (meditation, and Brahmacharya), good actions and good thoughts. Thus accomplished this dealing is great and venerable, which has delved into the behaviour of mankind. All should know this state of things well.

NOTES :—(चत्वारि) चत्वारो वेदा: । =Four Vedas. (अस्य) धर्म्यव्यवहारस्य । =Of this righteous conduct. (द्वे) अभ्युदयनि:श्रेयसे । =Worldly prosperity and salvation. (सप्त हस्तास:) पंच ज्ञानेन्द्रियाणि वा कर्म्मेन्द्रियाण्यन्त:करणमात्मा च । =Hands in the form of five senses of perception or action, inner senses and soul. (त्रिधा बद्ध:) श्रद्धापुरुषार्थं योगाभ्यासैः। =Interlinked by the triple bound of faiths, industriousness and practice of the Yoga. (वृषभः) सुखानां वर्षणात्। =Shower of happiness.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—This is one of the most significant mantras of the Vedas which has got many a meaning. Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati in his commentry on the Yajurveda (17.91) has given some other meaning, also in addition to the above. He has extensively quoted passages from the Nirukta of Yaskacharya and Maha-bhashya of Patanjali.

The duties of the enlightened persons are told by the illustration of the sun:

त्रिधा हितं पणिभिर्गुह्यमानं गवि देवासो घृतमन्वविन्दन्।
इन्द्र एकं सूर्य एकं जजान वेनादेकं स्वधया निष्टतक्षुः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—The enlightened persons, admirable masters of the worldly affairs, acquire after research the knowledge hidden in the Vedas and laid in three ways as the electricity exposes a part of knowledge, sun another part and the wise learned peson portrays the third part by their wisdom and experience.

PURPORT :—As the learned persons shining with admirable dealings, having attained well-trained speech and intellect and having acquired the knowledge of electricity and other things, know God and extend happiness by obeying to His command, in the same manner, all should perform and emulate.

NOTES :—(स्वधया) स्वकीयया धृतया प्रज्ञया। =With the intellect within. (पणिभिः) प्रशसितव्यवहर्त्तृभिः। =By doers of admirable and and good deeds. (घृतम्) घृतमिवानन्दप्रदम् विज्ञानम्। =Knowledge which like ghee (clarified butter) is the giver of delight or bliss. (वेनात्) कमनीयात् परमात्मनः सकाशात्। =From God Who is Most Desirable.

The nature and work of the clouds is told by the way of illustration :

एता अर्षन्ति हृद्यात्समुद्राच्छतव्रजा रिपुणा नावचक्षे ।
घृतस्य धारा अभि चाकशीमि हिरण्ययो वेतसो मध्य आसाम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! living in the midst of these currents of water being full of splendour and desirable, I illuminate them which flow out from the lovely firmament and thousands of movements and do not dwell with the wicked foes. So you should also know this truth.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! as rains falling from the sky nourish all worlds, in the same manner, the world of sciences flowing from your mouth protect the whole universe.

NOTES :—(वेतसः) कमनीयः ।=Desrable. (हिरण्ययः) तेजोमयः । सुवर्णमयो वा । तेजो वै हिरण्यम् ।। (तैत्तिरीय ब्राह्मणे 1, 8, 9, 1=Full of the splendour or golden. (अभि, चाकशीमि) प्रकाशयामि । काशृ दीप्तौ । दीप्तिः प्रकाशनम् । =Illuminate.

The nature and attributes of water are told :

सम्यक्स्रवन्ति सरितो न धेना अन्तर्हृदा मनसा पूयमानाः ।
एते अर्षन्त्यूर्मयो घृतस्य मृगा इव क्षिपणोरीषमाणाः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—Those highly learned persons become glorious and renowned, whose speeches are endowed with knowledge and flow together in the form of verses from the depth of heart and purified by mind (thoughts) like the rivers flow to the ocean. These waves of knowlede pour swiftly like waves of the water or a deer running out of fear of a tiger.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. Those who speak the truth, being pure and calm like the water, soon enjoy the desired happiness and prosperity.

NOTES :—(धेनाः) विद्यायुक्ता वाचः । =Speeches endowed with the knowledge. (घृतस्य) उदकस्य । =Of the water.

The attributes of speech are mentioned by the illustration of water :

सिन्धोरिव प्राध्वने शूघनासो वातप्रमियः पतयन्ति युह्वाः ।
घृतस्य धारा अरुषो न वाजी काष्ठा भिन्दन्नूर्मिभिः पिन्वमानः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! pleasing God and good men, pouring down the sermons, I dispel all ignorance like the force of great streams of water. Their impact is like the swift wind and they rapid down a declivity, breaking through the barriers by the confining the (river) banks (laying a dam) from their whirling waves, like a high spirited steed (horse).

PURPORT :—Those scholars are great, whose sermons flow on like the currents of the rivers and end all miseries like the swift horse.

NOTES :—(शूघनासः) आशुगन्त्रयः । =Flowing rapidly. (पिन्वमानः) प्रसादयन् । =Pleasing God and good men.

The attributes of the learned persons are stated :

अभि प्रवन्त समनेव योषाः कल्याण्यः स्मयमानासो अग्निम् ।
घृतस्य धाराः समिधो नसन्त ता जुषाणो हर्यति जातवेदाः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—Just as the streams of ghee and fuel go to the fire (in the Yajna), as the women of high character with a devoted mind and gently smiling incline towards their husbands, so do the speeches containing pure knowledge glowing with apt uses of meaning and relation of words (in technological sequence in Sanskrit called सिद्धे शब्दार्थ संबंधे Ed.) reach a learned person. Enjoying them, he attains brilliance. Such a scholar serving Vidya (knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness) desires the welfare of all.

NOTES :—(धेनाः) विद्यायुक्ता वाचः । धेना इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) = Speeches endowed with knowledge. (ईषमाणाः) गच्छन्तः । ईष गतिहिंसा-दर्शनेषु । अत्र गत्यर्थः =Going. (हर्यति) कामयते । (हर्यति) हर्य गतिकान्त्योः (भ्वा०) कान्तिः कामना । =Desires.

More about the learned persons is stated :

कन्यांइव वहतुमेतवा उं अञ्ज्यञ्जाना अभि चांकशीमि ।
यत्र सोमः सूयते यत्र यज्ञो घृतस्य धारां अभि तत्पंवन्ते ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—As maidens deck themselves with gay beauty aids and exhibit their beauty to join their husbands, same way where prosperity (or the group of herbs) reigns, where Yajna or the noble work worth doing is performed, there the intellectual speeches are sanctified on all sides. I illuminate them again and again.

PURPORT:—There is Upamalankara or simile in the mantra. As a maiden who desires to choose a suitable husband, tests him well (in knowledge, health and beauty. Ed.), same way the teachers and preachers should test their pupils and listeners or audience well. It is an act by which prosperity grows and purity of action is brought about. The enlightened persons should speak to others (about this secret of success. Ed.).

NOTES :—(वहतुम्) वोडारम् । वह प्रापणे (भ्वा०) = Husband. (अंजि) व्यक्तं सुलक्षणम् । अंजू-व्यक्तिप्रेक्षणकान्ति गतिषु । अत्र व्यक्तीकरणार्थः व्यक्तिकरम् प्रकलम् = Good tractor adornment. (अंजाना:) प्रकटयन्त्यः । = Manifesting. (यज्ञ:) अनुष्ठातुमर्हो व्यवहारः । = A noble act worth doing.

The same subject of learned persons is continued :

अभ्यर्षत सुष्टुतिं गव्यमाजिमस्मासु भद्रा द्रविणानि धत्त ।
इमं यज्ञं नयत देवता नो घृतस्य धारा मधुमत्पवन्ते ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! bestow on us excellent possessions, renowned beneficial dealings of the tongue (speech. Ed.) and riches or reputation which give good happiness. Lead us to this Yajna, O enlightened men ! The speeches are illuminator of knowledge and purify an action endowed with admirable knowledge. So attain good reputation after making us pure.

PURPORT :—The enlightened persons are admired by all who make people virtuous by delivering good sermons.

NOTES :—(आंजिम्) प्रसिद्धम् । =Famous. (द्रविणानि) धनानि यशांसि वा । द्रविणमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) धनं द्रविणमुच्यते येनेतदभिद्रवन्ति (NKT 8, 1, 1) यशोऽपि द्रविणमस्मादेव हेतोः । मानो हि महतां धनम् । =Riches or good reputation. (घृतस्य) प्रकाशितस्य बोधस्य । घृ क्षरण दीप्तौ अत्र दीप्त्यर्थं बोधार्थः । =Of the illumined knowledge. (मधुमत्) प्रशस्तविज्ञानयुक्तं कर्म्म । (मधु) मनेर्धश्छन्दसि (उणादिकोषे 2, 117) मन-ज्ञाने (दिवा) । =An action endowed with admirable knowledge.

The knowledge about God is imparted :

धामं॑न्ते विश्वं भुवं॑नमधिं श्रितम॒न्तः स॑मु॒द्रे हृ॒द्य॑१॒न्तरायु॑षि ।
अ॒पामनी॑के समि॒थे य आभृ॑त॒स्तम॑श्याम॒ मधु॑मन्तं त ऊ॒र्मिम् ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O God ! this whole universe depends upon Your power and might. It is vast like the atmospher and pervades the ocean or firmament of our heart. It dwells within the army of our Prānas and even battle-fields of good and evil. May we enjoy that Bliss of protection which is uphled by the enlightened persons ? May we always have communion with you.

PURPORT :—O men ! always worship that One God, Who pervades the world, upholds and preserves all as an Indwelling Spirit and by Whose Grace, there is development and growth of knowledge, long life and victory.

NOTES :—(धामन्) आधारे । =Support of the world. (अपाम) प्राणानाम् । आपो वै प्राणाः (Stph 3, 8, 2, 4) । =Of the Prānas or vital breaths. (अनीके) सैन्ये । =In the army. (समिथे) सङ्ग्रामे । समिथे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 7) । =In the battles.

The attributes of the preachers and audience are told :

अबोध्यग्निः समिधा जनानां प्रति धेनुमिवायतीमुषासम् ।
यह्वा इव प्र वयामुज्जिहानाः प्र भानवः सिस्रते नाकमच्छ ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the fire (of Yajna) is enkindled with fuel, medicated and fragrant herbs ghee etc., as the rays of the sun go early in the morning to the coming dawn like the milch cow, and they go to the firmament like the big tress shooting up and leaving behind their branches. Same way, you should also be.

PURPORT :—Having acquired the knowledge of the science of fire, who apply it for practical puspotes, they grow like trees, being free from misery.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यह्वा इव) महान्तो वृक्षाः इव। यह्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) । =Like big trees. (वयाम्) शाखाम्। वया शाखामिति (NKT 3,3) । स्वः, पृष्वीः, नाकः, गौः, विष्टपम् नभ, इति षट् साधारणानि । द्युलोकान्तरिक्षसाधारणानीत्यर्थः । =Branches. The same subject of preachers and their audience is continued :

अबोधि होता यजथाय देवानूर्ध्वो अग्निः सुमनाः प्रातरस्थात् ।
समिद्धस्य रुशददर्शि पाजो महान्देवस्तमसो निरमोचि ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that performer of the daily Havana (Yajna, non-violent sacrifice), who is of pure mind goes to seek the divine enlightened persons or virtues for their association. Like the fire going upward, he gets up early in the morning, shines like the form of the enkindled fire. The great resplandent sun being mighty dispels the darkness. You should make proper use of the light and rays of the sun.

PURPORT :—Those men who make progress and go upward like the fire by their good conduct, are free from ignorance and become glorious or renowned.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुशत्) रूपम् । रुशत् इति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) । पद-गतौ । गतेस्त्रयोऽर्थाः । ज्ञानं गमनं प्राप्तिश्च । प्राप्त्यर्थंग्रहणं कृत्वा हर्षप्रापकरूपम् । =Form. (देवान्) विदुषो दिव्यान् गुणान् वा । विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph. 3,7,3,10) । =Enlightened persons or divine virtues.

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the highly learned persons shine on account of pure speech and other virtues like the purifying fire with its brilliant rays. He takes up the pain of the group of people (as leader) and always goes up (in advance) and is seated on the right side (to show respect). That learned lady who conveys the knowledge and happiness to others, makes progress in every sphere should also be honoured. Such scholars drink milk and juice of invigorating herbs and fruits in proper vessels.

PURPORT :—Those who satisfy or please the masses, become glorious with good reputation every where, like the sun with its rays.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईम्) प्राप्तम् । ईम् इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) पद गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । सर्वे रश्मयो गाव उच्यन्ते (NKT 2, 2, 8) अच्-व्यक्तिम्रक्षण कान्तिगतिषु । अत्र व्यक्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । =Received. 4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! indeed, the day and night of diametrically opposed form generate the white one (day) which throws light on all. In the same manner, like the eyes of the persons seek Agni from the sun. Indeed, the minds of the Yogis ponder well over God.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know that the enlightened persons are like the days and un-educated persons are like the nights.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उषसा) रात्रिदिने । =Night and day. (वाजी) विज्ञापको दिवसः । वाजी is from वज गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थमादाय विज्ञापक इति व्याख्या । =Day that shows all things. The subject of preachers and audience is continued :

जनिष्ट हि जेन्यो अग्रे अह्नां हितो हितेष्वरुषो वनेषु ।
दमेदमे सप्त रत्ना दधानोऽग्निर्होता नि षसादा यजीयान् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION ;—O learned person ! the performer of the Yajna in the early morning is the best among the benevolent persons. He has indeed conquered the internal and external foes, without injuring the tender feelings of others. Shining like the sun bearing seven rays or the fire in the jungles, he becomes glorious. He sits (for lecturer) in a house endowed with wealth and divine virtues, because he does noble and united actions.

PURPORT :—As morning time is beneficial to all, so the performer of the Yajnas who is always engaged in doing noble deeds becomes the well-wisher of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जेन्यः) जेतुं शीलः । =Conqueror. (अरुषा) न मर्मव्यापी । रुष-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) । =Not injuring or hurting the tender feelings of others. (दमे दमे) गृहे गृहे । दमे इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) । =In every house.

The same subject of preachers and their audience is continued :

युवा कविः पुरुनिष्ठ ऋतावा धर्ता कृष्टीनामुत मध्य इद्धः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a performer of the Yajnas should be full of splendour like the electricity or the fire placed in the center and seated in the lap of its mother-the wind, young (energetic), extremely wise and highly learned, having implicit faith in God and the Vedas or going to various places for preaching, distinguisher of truth from untruth, upholder of divine virtues, seated in the lap of the mother earth in a place full of fragrance. He should be protector of men as well of the animals and birds.

PURPORT :—As the fire seated in the wind in the form of electricity or lightning makes all happy, in the same manner, a righteous and learned person can make all people full of bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋतावा) सत्यविभाजकः ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3,10) वनु-संभक्तौ ।=Distinguisher between truth and untruth. (कृष्टीनाम्) मनुष्याणाम् । कृष्टय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) ।=Of men. (उपस्थे) समीपे । =Near.

The subject of teacher-preacher goes on :

प्र णु त्यं विप्रमध्वरेषु साधुमग्निं होतारमीळते नमोभिः ।
आ यस्ततान रोदसी ऋतेन नित्यं मृजन्ति वाजिनं घृतेन ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that Agni which is with food (oblations), truth and water, spreads itself to the earth and the heaven and moving articles, should be known well. They who know its science, ever purify themselves and who admire in Yajnas, non-violent sacrifices, the performer of good Yajnas, splendid like fire who is wise, become happy.

PURPORT :—As highly learned persons are endowed with wealth and foodgrains by applying fire in various works, so they become the possessors of the realisation of its nature by its application.

NOETS & REMARKS :—(विप्रम्) मेधाविनम् । विप्र इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) । =Very wise. (घृतेन) उदकने । घृतमिति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12)। =With water. (नमोभिः) अन्नादिभिः । नम इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=With food etc.

More is told obout the preachers and audience :

मार्जाल्यो मृज्यते स्वे दमूनाः कविप्रशस्तो अतिथिः शिवो नः ।
सहस्रशृङ्गो वृषभस्तदोजा विश्वाँ अग्ने सहसा प्रास्यन्यान् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O splendid like the fire ! you who are self-controlled, admired by or amongst the wise sages, auspicious, venerable guest (whose date of coming is not fixed) possessor of thousands of splendours like horns, mighty and showerer of happiness, very vigorous, purifier of all like the fire are purified at their is dwelling places, (by the great seers). You protect us and all others with your power. Therefore we serve you.

PURPORT :—They are to be considered as true guests who are men of self-control, auspicious, righteous scholars and interested in doing good to other. As fire is the purifier of all, so the guests are purifiers of the whole world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मार्जाल्य:) संशोधक । मार्जाल्य: मृजूष शुद्धो (अदा०) =Purifire. (सहस्त्रशृङ्ग:) सहस्राणि शृङ्गणीव तेजांसि यस्य स: । =Who is the posssssor of thousands of splendours like the horns.

9. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the man for whom you manifest yourself, becomes endowed with admirable and righteous actions. He becomes the very beautiful man of good character and conduct, handsome, radiant, desirable and worthy of service. He roams about among the men to preach truth. As you surpass all by your virtues, therefore you are worthy of our veneration.

PURPORT :—Those are true guests who go from place to place to preach truth and preach it to those who approach them, who are well-wishers of all, highly learned and absolutely truthful.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईळेन्य:) प्रशंसनीय धर्म्यकर्मा । ईड् स्तुतौ (अ०) प्रीञ्-तर्पणे कान्तौ च कान्ति:- कामना । =Doer of admirable and righteous actions. (प्रिय:) कमनीय: सेवनीयो वा । =Desirable and worthy of service.

The subject of preachers goes on :

तुभ्यं भरन्ति क्षितयो यविष्ठ बलिमग्ने अन्तित ओत दूरात् ।
आ भन्दिष्ठस्य सुमतिं चिकिद्धि बृहत्ते अग्ने महि शर्म भद्रम् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O very energetic learned person ! shining like electricity, you preach truth to all from far and near. The men therefore, offer you food and other things. O the purifying leader ! know the good intellect of the men of auspicious conduct. Let this big and vast home be giver of cherished happiness to you.

PURPORT :—The guests do good to all by inculcating truth. They should be honoured in return by offering eating and drinking articles, wealth and sweet words.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने:) पवित्रकर्त्तः १ =1. Purifier like the fire. 2. Pervading in all sciences like electricity. (भन्दिष्ठस्य) अतिशयेन कल्याणचरणस्य । भदि कल्याणे सुखे च (भ्वा०) । =Of the most auspicious conduct. (चिकिद्धि) विजानीहि । कित-ज्ञाने (जुहो०) =Know. (शर्म) गृहं सुखं वा । शर्मेति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) शर्मेति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) =Home or happiness.

The subject of attributes of preachers is continued :

आद्य रथं भानुमो भानुमन्तमग्ने तिष्ठ यजतेभिः समन्तम् ।
विद्वान्पथीनामुर्वन्तरिक्षमेह देवान्हविरद्याय वक्षि ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person full of splendour (preacher/guest) ! be seated today in this resplandent vehicle, harnessed by swift horses (or power etc.) which is well-constructed and strong. As you take us to the vast firmament and bring the enlightened persons here for taking good food, therefore you are to be respected by us.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the householders to bring venerable guests while even living far off at their homes in good vehicles for preaching truth and to honour them by offering good food etc.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यजतेभिः) सङ्गतैरश्वादिभिः संयुक्तम् । यज-देवपूजा संङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा.) अत्र संङ्गतिकरणार्थ ग्रहणम् । =Chariot harnessed by speedy horses etc. (हविरद्याय) अत्तुं योग्याय अन्नाय । हु दानादनयोः आदाने च (जु०) अत्र आदानार्थं ग्रहणम् । =For good food.

The performance of preachers is highlighted :

अर्वोचाम कवये मेध्याय वचो वन्दारु वृषभाय वृष्णे ।
गविष्ठिरो नमसा स्तोमम॒ग्नौ दि॒वीव रुक्ममुरुव्यञ्चमश्रेत् ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O king and others ! let the guests deliver sermons to him, who is firm in well balanced and cultured speech, who honours venerable persons with salutations and good food, who loves and has splendour like the sun and the fire and because of his virtues gets reputation far and near. We preach admirable truth to him, who is highly learned, pure, very mighty and showerer of truthful speeches.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the highly learned guests to preach particularly to those who are of pure heart lovers of knowledge and seekers after truth and good actions. In the case of those, who do not possess these virtues and adverse characterstics, they should make them capable to receive truth by teaching them in a simple and lucid language and manners.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वन्दारु) प्रशंसनीयं धर्म्यम् । वदि-अभिवादन स्तुत्योः (भ्वा०) अत्र स्तुत्यर्थग्रहणं कृत्वा व्याख्या । =Admirable and in accordance with Dharma or righteousness.

Sūktam-2

Rishi of the Sūktam-Atreya or Vrisha or both. Devatā-Agni. Svara-Trishtup, Pankti and Ati-agati of various types.

The benefits of marriage in young age is emphasized :

कुमारं माता युवतिः समुब्धं गुहा बिभर्ति न ददाति पित्रे ।
अनीकमस्य न मिनज्जनासः पुरः पश्यन्ति निहितमरतौ ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as a fully young married mother cherishes her well-protected and conceived child in the womb and does not give it on to its father, though she does not minimise the importance of the father. When the child is born after the completion of the period of pregnancy, the father beholds the child only thereafter. You should also do like that.

PURPORT :—If boys and girls after the study of all sciences observe Brahmacharya, and having acquired the knowledge of the science of procreating the children, in accordance with the Svayamvara systems (self-choice). They give father the children, and caress and always enjoy bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(समुब्धम्) समत्वेन गूढम् । =Duly protected and concealed. (मिनत्) हिंसत् । मीञ्-हिंसायाम् (क्र्या०) । उब्ज-आर्जवे (तु.) । =May harm. (अन्नीकम्) सैन्यम्-बलम् । =Army, strength.

The subject of marriage in young age is again dealt :

कमेतं त्वं युवते कुमारं पेषी बिभर्षि महिषी जजान ।
पूर्वीर्हि गर्भः शरदो ववर्धापश्यं जातं यदसूत माता ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O young mother ! who is the boy (or the daugher) whom you foster having protected and preserved the seed of the father ? The great mother, venerable on account of beauty, strength, character and good conduct has given birth to the child. I have seen him born as the mother brought him forth (the above may be attributed to the father of child even).

PURPORT :—O girls ! don't marry till the completion of the sixteenth year from birth, and boys should not marry till twenty-fifth year. The children of those who thus marry after observing Brahmacharya, become handsome, virtuous, long lived and liked by all good people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महिषी) महारूपबलशीलादियोगेन पूजनीया । मह-पूजायाम् (चुरा.) [illegible] (स्वा.) । =Respectable on account of great beauty, strength, good character and conduct. (पेष्यो) पेष्यकारं गर्भशयस्य वीर्यम् । =Semen which takes the form of pi of flesh.

The same subject is continued :

हिरंण्यदन्तं शुचिवर्णमारात्क्षेत्रांदपश्यमायुधा मिमानम् ।
ददानो अस्मा अमृतं विपृक्वत्कि मामनिन्द्राः कृणवन्ननुक्थाः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I have seen very closely the son born from the union of those couples who have observed Brahmacharya, and where the mother is a married cultured woman, Such a son has shining teeth like gold or full of splendour, possesses pure and beautiful appearence and wielder of sharp weapons. Being a liberal donor, I give him the bliss of emancipation. What harm can those, who are devoid of true wealth and not learned, do to me ? Nothing.

PURPORT :—O men ! let not your children marry without the observance of perfect Brahmacharya (continence), education, true knowledge, youth and mutual love. If you follow this line, all will be blessed with very good progeny and attain much bliss. Those who become such good children, poverty, foolishness of the poor and the stupid, can not obstruct them in any way.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हिरण्यदन्तम्) हिरण्येन सुवर्णेन तेजसा वा तुल्या दन्ता यस्य-तेजो वै हिरण्यं, (Tattiriya Brahman 1, 8, 9, 11) ।=Whom teeth shining like gold or are full of splendour. (आरात्) समीपात् । आराद् दूर समीपयोः । =From near. (अमृतम्) मोक्षसुखम् । = The happiness of emancipation.(अनुक्था) अविद्वांसः । =Not highly learned.

The relationship between the marriage and good progeny is told :

क्षेत्रांदपश्यं सनुतश्चरंन्तं सुमद्यूथं न पुरु शोभमानम् ।
न ता अंगृभ्रन्नजनिष्ठ हि षः पलिक्नीरिद्युवतयो भवन्ति ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the son whom I have beheld is born of a well-cultured wife. Dealing honestly, shining by himself (because of his virtues) like the formation of armies and very mighty, he is always happy. Those Brahmacharnis, (unmarried girls) who duly observe set rules of the Brahmacharya (continence) select their husbands in youth, and become endowed with the happiness of sons and grandsons, when they become grey-headed (old).

PURPORT :—O men ! if you enjoin upon your children to observe Brahmacharya for a pretty long period, they would give you much happiness being righteous, wise and long-lived.

NOTES :—(सुमत्) स्वयमेव । =Himself. (पलिक्नीः) श्वेतकेशाः । =Grey-haired.

The subject of relation of progeny with marriage is described :

के मे मर्यकं वि यवन्त गोभिर्न येषां गोपा अरणश्चिदास ।
य ईं जगृभुरव ते सृजन्त्वाजाति पश्व उप नश्चिकित्वान् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! who are they who can separate from us our young sons like the herds for the cowherd ? Every one of such children is a man of amiable nature. Those who take care of the animals, who give birth to good progeny (of good breed) and acquire this knowledge (of animal husbandry on animals and Eugenics among men. Ed.) rise above miseries. He who being enlightened, produces or trains such children is our real well-wisher.

PURPORT :—The men should put this question to the highly learned persons. Who are the persons that can make our children of little knowledge endowed with great intelligence? Their answer is that it is only the absolutely truthful experts who can accomplish this task and none else.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईम्) विद्याम् । ईम् इति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) पद-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् । =Knowledge. (वियवन्त) वियोजयेयुः । =May separate.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are told:

वसां राजानं वसतिं जनानामरांतयो नि दंधुर्मर्त्येषु।
ब्रह्माण्यत्रेरव तं सृजन्तु निन्दितारो निन्द्यासो भवन्तु ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION:—Let not the learned persons banish him who appoints a dispenser of justice for the benefit of men and their property. Those who are revilers and tell virtues as demerits and demerits as the virtues, are worthy of condemnation on account of their un-righteous conduct. Such people give wealth to the wicked persons to help them in the evil designs. Let such men remain far away from a man, who are free from all the three types of miseries, (individual or physical, social and cosmic).

PURPORT:—O men ! you should give proper punishment to those persons who are of un-righteous conduct, thieves, robbers and malicious, and put them behind the bars (when necessary) in solitary camps. Those who are devotees of God and righteous persons, keep them close to you and honour them.

NOTES:—(वसाम्) वसतां प्राणिनाम् । = Of living creatures. (अरातयः) अन्यायेनादातारः शत्रवः । = Enemies who take possessions unjustly of the men. (अत्रेः) अविद्यमान त्रिविध दुःखस्य । = He who is free from all the three kinds of sufferings (individual, social and cosmic).

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES:—Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others take Atri as the name of a particular sage, which is against the basic rules of the vedic terminology. Griffith's foot-note runs. "This stanza appears to refer to some contention between the descendants of Atri and some other priestly family, perhaps Bhrigue as Prof. Ludvig thinks regarding the worship of Agni." (The Hymns of the Rigveda Translated by R. T. H. Griffith, P. 467). All this is nothing but wild inagination of some of these Western translators.

शुनश्चिच्छेपं निदितं सहस्राद्यूपादमुञ्चो अशमिष्ट हि षः ।
एवास्मदग्ने वि मुमुग्धि पाशान्होतश्चिकित्व इह तू निषद्य ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you loosen from thousand-fold bondage even of a man who is engrossed in sensual pleasures, because he attains peace (by your association and teachings). In the same manner, o wise leader ! seated in this righteous dealings, free us from all bondages.

PURPORT :—The duty of the enlightened persons is to separate people from all ignorance, and unrighteous conduct and thus make them highly learned and righteous. Thus they should constantly make them free from the bondage of all miseries.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुनःशेपम्) सुखस्य प्रापकम् इन्द्रियाण्मम् । =A man engrossed in sensual pleasures, but trying to confer happiness on others. (यूपात्) मिश्रितादमिश्रिताद् बन्धनात् । =From bondage of all kinds whether mixed or otherwise. (चिकित्वः) बुद्धिमन् । = O wise man !

The attributes of enlightened persons are told :

हृणीयमानो अप हि मदैयेः प्र मे देवानां व्रतपा उवाच ।
इन्द्रो विद्वाँ अनु हि त्वा चचक्ष तेनाहमग्ने अनुशिष्ट आगाम् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O burner of all the sins and evi's like fire ! (enlightened persons) ! donot leave or depart away from me when feel angry. Let me acquire true knowledge from Indra-a preceptor endowed with the great wealth of wisdom who has imparted instructions to you. Being the protector of the vow of truth undertaken by the enlightened persons, he has taught the truth to me. Instructed by him, let me acquire true knowledge.

PURPORT :—Those men who are of evil attributes, actions and temperament should be kept away. By the association of the righteous persons who preach truth, people become good and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) त्रिदोषनाशक । =Burner of sins and evils like the fire of three kinds. (इन्द्रः) विद्यैश्वर्ययुक्तः । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये । =Endowed with the great wealth of wisdom. (हृणीयमानः) क्रोधं कुर्वन् । हृणीयते क्रुध्यतिकर्मा (NG 2, 19, 12) =Being angry.

The duties of the enlightened persons are defined :

वि ज्योतिषा बृहता भात्यग्निराविर्विश्वानि कृणुते महित्वा ।
प्रादेवीर्मायाः सहते दुरेवाः शिशीते शृङ्गे रक्षसे विनिक्षे ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—Agni in the form of the sun (sun-light or knowledge. Ed.) etc. shines with great radiance. It makes all things manifest by its light. It sharpens its horns for the destruction of the Rākshasas or germs of diseases. In the same manner, you should dispel all un-divine deceitful intellects or ideas which lead to evil outcome from all sides.

PURPORT :—As the sun dispels all darkness and fear by generating light, in the same manner, the enlightened persons should dispel all darkness of ignorance, and illuminate the souls of all by generating the sun of true knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मायाः) छलादियुक्ताः प्रज्ञाः । मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) अत्र दुष्ट प्रजाग्रहणं प्रसङ्गवशात् । =Intellects full of deceit etc. (दुरेवाः) दुष्टम् एवं प्रापणं कर्म यासां ताः । =Leading to wicked or evil actions. (अग्निः) सूर्यादिरूपेण पावकः इव (ई) गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थ-ग्रहणम् । =Agni in the form of the sun etc.

The removal of ignorance is told by the illustration of impact of the weapons :

उत स्वानासो दिवि षन्त्वग्नेस्तिग्मायुधा रक्षसे हन्तवा उ ।
मदे चिदस्य प्र रुजन्ति भामा न वरन्ते परिबाधो अदेवीः ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :— O learned persons ! being preachers, you should destroy all wicked tendencies, and always live in the light of knowledge, like the heroes wield sharp weapons made of Agni (fire, power, electricity) are capable to destroy their wicked enemies. You should enjoy bliss. Keep away or remove anger and other undivine acts, because they obstruct the performance of good deeds.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! those who have studied the science of archery and are experts in the use of the arms and missiles, they annihilate enemies by the use of the weapons made of Agni (fire-power) and achieve victory. In the same manner, ward off all ignorance and laziness with force of teaching and preaching of knowledge and manifest knowledge and good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वानास:) उपदेशका: । स्वन-शब्दे (भ्वा०) =Preachers. (भामा:) क्रोधा: । भाम इति क्रोधनाम (NG 2, 13) =Anger (रुजन्ति) आभञ्जन्ति । रुजो भङ्गे (तुदा.)= Break away.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are told :

एतं ते स्तोमं तुविजात विप्रो रथं न धीरः स्वपा अतक्षम् ।
यदीदग्ने प्रति त्वं देव हर्याः स्वर्वतीरप एना जयेम ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O famous learned person ! I do good deeds and meditation, endowed with patience, forgiveness and other virtues, and manufacture this beautiful chariot (vehicle). So you should also do. O giver of the knowledge of all sciences ! if you build a good chariot, you would receive admirable dealings. We conquer these desirable Prāṇas (vital airs), endowed with admirable happinese. So you should also do.

PURPORT :—O men ! the highly learned persons conquer and they have only righteous desires in mind. So you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्तोमम्) प्रशंसितव्य व्यवहारम् । स्तु-स्तुतौ । =Admirable. (हर्या:) कमनीया: । हर्यं-गति कान्त्यो (भ्वा०) कांन्ति:-कामना । =

Desiable. (अपः) प्राणान्। आपो वै प्राणाः (Stph. 3, 8, 2, 4) प्राणोऽप्सु (Jaiminiyopanishad 3, 10,19) =Prānas or vital airs.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are told :

तुविग्रीवो वृषभो वावृधानोऽशत्र्व१र्यः समजाति वेदः । इतीममग्निममृता अवोचन्बर्हिष्मते मनवे शर्म यंसद्धविष्मते मनवे शर्म यंसत् ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION:—O learned persons ! a powerful man of beautiful neck, very mighty, always grows in strength and wisdom. The master of all senses, he acquires wealth without any opposition. He bestows happiness or home upon a thoughtful high learned person, preserves many good things (and performs non-violent sacrifices). Those who have acquired spiritual knowledge, tell about Agni in the form of electricity.

PURPORT:- It is the duty of all enlightened persons to impart good education to all students, so that they give up animosity and lead others towards happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुविग्रीवः) बहुबलयुक्ता: सुन्दरी वा ग्रीवा वा यस्य सः । तुवीति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) । अति बहि सुन्दरार्थे प्रयोगः ।=Very powerful or having beautiful neck. (अर्यः) स्वामी-अर्य इतीश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22) =Master of science. (बर्हिष्मते) प्रवृद्ध विज्ञानाय (हविष्मते) बहूत्तमपदार्थ युक्ताय हु- दानादनयोः आदाने च । अत्र-आदानक-बहुपदार्थग्रहणम् । बृह-वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) अजगति क्षेपणयोः (भ्वा०) । =For a man of advanced knowledge.

Sūktam-3

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vasushurta Ātreya. Devatā or subject-Agni. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The duties of a ruler are told :

त्वम॑ग्ने॒ वरु॑णो॒ जाय॑से॒ यत्त्वं मि॒त्रो भव॑सि॒ यत्समि॑द्धः ।
त्वे विश्वे॑ सहसस्पुत्र दे॒वास्त्वमिन्द्रो॑ दा॒शुषे॒ मर्त्या॑य ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :— O learned ruler ! O protector of strength ! all enlightened persons are pleased with you when being a friend you are illumined or enlightened ; when you take the form of Varuna-the best acceptable and the fastener of the wicked, and when being Indra you become the giver of wealth. You give the wealth thus to him, who deserves your help and encouragement.

PURPORT :—O ruler ! let that man ever maintain friendship with you, even if you are his friend, foe or indifferent. You should also be friendly to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (वरुणः) दुष्टानां बन्धकृच्छ्रेष्ठः । अनृते खलु वै क्रियमाणे वरुणो गृह्णाति (Taittiriya 1, 7,2, 6) वरुणो वा एते गृह्णाति यः पाप्मना गृहीतो भवति (Stph 12, 7, 2,17) =The best binder (fastener) of the wickeds. (इन्द्रः) ऐश्वर्यदाता । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा०) । =Giver of health. (दाशुषे) दातुं योग्याय । दाशृ-दाने (भ्वा.) =Deserving donation or help.

The subject of ruler is continued :

त्वम॑र्य॒मा भ॑वसि॒ यत्क॒नीनां॒ नाम॑ स्वधाव॒न्गुह्यं॑ बिभर्षि ।

2. *TRANSLATION :—*O king, possessor of good foodgrains ! you are dispenser of justice of those who desire (justice) and bear a secret name, make the couples of unified mind (loving each other). Therefore all enlightened persons minifest you with good words like they do to a delighted friend.

PURPORT :—That king only is good who is just to his subjects. As a friend gladdens his friend, so should a king do towards his subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्यमा) न्यायाधीशः । =Dispenser of justice. (कनीनाम्) कामयमानानाम् । कनी-दीप्तिकान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०) कान्तिः कामना =Of the people desiring (justice). (अञ्चन्ति) व्यक्तिकुर्वन्ति । अञ्जू-व्यक्ति म्रक्षण कान्ति गतिषु (भ्वा०) अत्र व्यक्तिकरणार्थं । =Manifest.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—By गुह्यनाम or secret name may be meant appellations like न्यायप्रिय (just) दयालु (kind) प्रजावत्सल (beloved of the people) etc. which the people use for a good ruler.

———

The duties of a ruler are mentioned :

तवं श्रिये मरुतों मर्जयन्त रुद्र यत्ते जनिम चारु चित्रम् ।
पदं यद्विष्णोरुपमं निधायि तेनं पासि गुह्यं नाम गोनाम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Rudra (chastiser of the wickeds) ! good brave men purify you for attaining prosperity. They purify your wonderful and beautiful birth or body, which is to be acquired or achieved. Protect them with that secret name or subduing power of the senses which you have established in you being just like Omnipresent God. Therefore, you are worthy of veneration.

PURPORT :—O king ! as you protect your subjects being impartial like God, then only your emergence or birth will be considered to be successful and useful, and not otherwise.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मरुत:) मनुष्याः । मरुत:मितराविणो वा ऽमितरोचिनो वा महद् द्रवन्तीति वा (NKT 17, 2, 14) =Men. क॒दा चि॑कित्वो अ॒भि च॑क्षसे॒ नोऽग्ने॑ क॒दाँ ऋ॑त॒चिद्या॑तयासे ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! you are the son of a mighty father who has observed Brahmacharya, and are full of splendour like the fire. I think about you (your welfare) again and again. You are like my son and protector from the calamity, and intensely long for your father and separate him (keep him away) from the misery. Being well-versed in the Vedas, when will you give us good sermons and when will you urge upon us to do good deeds ?

PURPORT :—If parents make their boys and girls acquire knowledge with Brahmacharya, and get them married in ripe youth, then they may enjoy much happiness.

NOTES :—(यातयासे) प्रेरये: । =Urge. (योधि) वियोजय । =Separate. (ऊहे) वितर्कयामि । =Think about or think pros and cons.

The subject of duties towards the child education is dealt :

भूरि॒ नाम॒ वन्द॑मानो दधाति पि॒ता व॑सो॒ यदि॒ तज्जो॒षया॑से ।
कु॒विद्दे॒वस्य॒ सह॑सा चका॒नः सु॒म्नम॒ग्निर्व॑नते वावृधा॒नः ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O man! dwelling in good virtues, you should serve that great name (noble tradition), which your devout father upholds by the strength like of an enlightened person. Desiring happiness, he glorifies God and grow like fire.

PURPORT :—O children! the parents who provide you with second birth (at the hands of the Acharya the preceptor) and enable you to have the appellation of DVIJA or twice—born, you shauld in return, serve them well and discharge your duties.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कुवित्) महत् । कुवित इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) अत्र बहु महत् । =Great. (वनते) संभजति । वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा.) =Glorifies God well. (जोषयासे) सेवये: । जुषी प्रीतिसेवनयो: । =Serve.

The duties of the parents and teachers to prohibit the progeny from committing the theft and other bad habits are told :

त्वम॑ङ्ग जरि॒तारं॑ यविष्ठ॒ विश्वा॑न्यग्ने दुरि॒ताति॑ पर्षि ।
स्ते॒ना अ॑दृश्रन् रि॒पवो॒ जना॒सोऽज्ञा॑तकेता वृजि॒ना अ॑भूवन् ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION:—O dear very youthful (energetic) learned person ! you should protect or nourish well your father who is admirer of knowledge and virtues, and give up all acts which lead to misery. Keep yourself away from those foolish sinful thieves and other wicked enemies, whom men see (indulging in the vices).

PURPORT :—O good children ! you should give up all the unrighteous conduct, honour your parents and achieve good reputation by liquidating the bands of thieves.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जरितारम्) विद्यागुणस्तावकं पितरम् । =Father who is admirer of knowledge and virtues. (अज्ञातकेताः) अज्ञातः केतः प्रज्ञा यैस्ते । =Foolish. (वृजिनाः) पापाचाराः वर्जनीयाः । =Men of sinful conduct who should be given up.

The duties of the people are stated :

इमे यामासस्त्वद्रिगभूवन्वसवे वा तदिदागो अवाचि ।
नाहायमग्निरभिशस्तये नो न रीषते वावृधानः परा दात् ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O good children ! the man full of splendour like the fire, keeps us away from the harm. While growing from all sides, he does not give us trouble trying to reform you, and tells your offence detrimental to the acquirement of true wealth. The persons who have control over themselves should purify such people by way of teaching and preaching. By so doing, they enjoy the bliss.

PURPORT :—O men ! do not keep away the learned persons who do not punish anyone, not committing offence.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यामासः) यमनियमान्विताः । =Endowed with Yamas (five restraints) and Niyamas (five observances.) (त्वद्रिक्) त्वां प्रति यतमानः । =Trying to reform you. (रीषते) हिनस्ति । Harms, resorts to violence, kills.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :— (यम्) उपरमे is the root verb of the Yama. There are five Yamas-Ahinsa (non-violence) truth, non-stealing, Brahmacharya, renunciation of surplus wealth and five Niyamas consisting of purity, contentment, austerity, study of scriptures and surrender to God.

Sūktam—4

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vasushurta Atreya. Devatā-Agni. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The duties of a king are narrated :

त्वामग्ने वसुपतिं वसूनामभि प्र मन्दे अध्वरेषु राजन् ।
त्वया वाजं वाजयन्तो जयेमाभि ष्याम पृत्सुतीर्मर्त्यानाम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining with good virtues, you pervade in knowledge like electricity. I gladden you in the Yajnas in accordance with awarding of inviolable dealings by protection of the people and justice, as you are the lord of the vast riches. May we overcome groups of hostile men in battles under your leadership ?

PURPORT :—The persons always achieve victory only with the advancement of the State and its unparalleled prosperity, particularly when the leaders are righteous and highly learned persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पृत्सुतीः) सेनाः । पृत्सु इति संग्रामनाम (NG2,17) पृत्सुतीरिति तत्पर्यायः । =Armies. (अध्वरेषु) अहिंसनीयेषु प्रजापालनन्यायव्यवहारेषु । अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम । ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा-तत्प्रतिषेधः (NKT 1, 3, 8) । =In the inviolable dealings of the protection of the people and justice. (वाजम्) सङ्ग्रामम् । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) तत्प्रधानत्वात्संग्रामेऽपि अत्र वाजपदाभिधेयः । =Battle.

The subject of duties of a king is dealt :

हव्यवाळग्निरजरः पिता नो विभुर्विभावा सुदृशीको अस्मे ।
सुगार्हपत्याः समिषो दिदीह्यस्मद्र्यक् सं मिमीहि श्रवांसि ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the fire indeed is the bearer of oblations and resplendent. It protects and illuminates like the Omnipresent God. In the same manner, you being our shining and ever youthful father give us food alongwith various things like fire (knowledge etc.) and others. Knowing us well and enlightening us, arrange for us study, teaching and other beneficial activities.

PURPORT :—O king ! as Agni in the form of electricity and fire does good to all, and as God nourishes or sustains all like father and creates innumerable articles for their use, so you should also be.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इष:) अन्नानि । इषमिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) अन्नं वा इषम् । (कौषीतकी ब्रा 28, 5.) इषम् इट च पर्यायौ ।=Foodgrains. (अस्मध्रक्) योऽस्मानंचति । जानाति ज्ञापयति वा । =He who knows or enlightens us. (श्र्वांसि) अध्ययनाध्यापनादीनि कर्माणि । =Study, teaching and other beneficial acts.

The duties of the subjects are told :

विशां कविं विश्पतिं मानुषीणां शुचिं पावकं घृतपृष्ठमग्निम् ।
नि होतारं विश्वविदं दधिध्वे स देवेषु वनते वार्याणि ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! pure and purifying others like fire, the king is enkindled with clarified butter (ghee). He who is just like the Omniscient God, is the lord of the human beings, pure, donor and wise, and whom you uphold (support). He in fact distributes desirable objects among the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—That king alone is mighty the like fire, who is dispenser of justice like God, highly learned and endowed with noble characteristics. He even can become an emperor (or can shine well on account of his virtues).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वार्याणि) वरितुं स्वीकर्तुं महाणि । वृञ्-वारणे (स्वा०) हु-दानादनयो: । (जु) ।=Desirable. (होतारम्) दातारम् ।=Donor. (वनते) सम्भजति । वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा.) । =Distributers.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The appellations like कवि and विश्वविदम् clearly show that here by Agni only material fire is not meant. Prof. Wilson translates कविम् as wise and विश्वविदम् as 'all knowing'. Griffith translates them as 'sage' and Omniscient' respectively. Rishi Dayananda's translation therefore is most rational.

The same subject of people's duties is continued :

जुषस्वाग्न इळया सजोषा यतमानो रश्मिभिः सूर्यस्य ।
जुषस्व नः समिधं जातवेद आ च देवान्हविरद्याय वक्षि ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned king! shining and burning foes like fire, you always endeavour, love and serve all with good speech (words). Your enemies are like fuel because of your splendour which is like the rays of the sun. Bring the enlightened persons here for participating in feasts with good food, and thus entertain them well.

PURPORT :—O men! as all the actions of the souls are accomplished by the rays of the sun, so all the just acts of the king like sustaining the subjects are accomplished with the help of absolutely truthful enlightened persons (people and staff).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इलया) प्रशंसितया वाचा । इलेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) ।=With admirable speech. (समिधम्) काष्ठमिव शत्रुम् ।=Enemy who is like the wood.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The idea imparted in the mantra seems to be that efforts should be made (as far as possible) to convert even enemies into friends by sweet and pleasant words and behaviour.

The duties of a king are further stated :

जुष्टो दमूना अतिथिर्दुरोण इमं नो यज्ञमुप याहि विद्वान् ।
विश्वा अग्ने अभियुजो विहत्या शत्रूयतामा भरा भोजनानि ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king! you are endowed with many good virtues like electricity, possess peace and control mind, senses etc. Like a served and loved enlightened guest at home, you come to our Yajna with gift of good food and other articles. Slay all the armies of the enemies and take possession of the foodgrains left behind by the foes and sustain the people.

PURPORT :—That king becomes very popular who having killed the wicked, deals with his subjects justly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) अन्नाद्युत्तमपदार्थदानम् यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरण दानेषु अत्र तृतीयार्थग्रहणम् ।=The gift of good food and other articles. (अभियुजः) या आभिमुख्यं युञ्जते ताः शत्रुसेनाः । =The armies of the enemies. (भोजनानि) प्रजापालनानि भोक्तव्यान्यन्नानि वा । भुजपालनाभ्यवहारयोः (रु.) अभ्यवहारः भोजनम् ।=The protection of the subjects or food materials.

The same subject of king's duties is dealt :

वधेन दस्युं प्र हि चातयस्व वयः कृण्वानस्तन्वे३ स्वायै ।
पिपर्षि यत्सहसस्पुत्र देवान्त्सो अग्ने पाहि नृतम वाजे अस्मान् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O the best leader ! you are son of a mighty father. Making your body strong by taking good food and other things necessary for sustaining life, you annihilate the robbers and thieves with powerful and fatal weapons. You sustain your subjects well, and protect the learned persons in the battle.

PURPORT :—O king ! always nourish righteous persons by killing the wickeds and by conquering your enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चातयस्व) हिंसय हिंधि वा ।=Kill yourself or make others kill. (वयः) जीवनम् । वयः जीवनपर्यायिरूपेण सुप्रसिद्धम् । Bio इत्यादयो विदेशीयभाषायां जीवनवाचकाः शब्दा एतस्मादेवोद्भूताः । वयः इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=Life.

The duties of the rulers and their subject are described :

वयं ते अग्न उक्थैर्विधेम वयं हव्यैः पावक भद्रशोचे ।
अस्मे रयिं विश्ववारं समिन्वास्मे विश्वानि द्रविणानि धेहि ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O pure illuminator of light the learned ! O king, full of splendour like electricity ! we honour you with admirable words making you glorious (renowned). You may do the same for us. We make you a possessor of wealth containing all sorts of valuable articles by presenting valuable things and accepting them. So you should do to us.

PURPORT :—As the administered subjects should increase the produce and wealth and prosperity of the king, so the king should also increase their prosperity. Dealing with one another like father and children, you become glorious.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्रविणानि) यशांसि । =Good reputation. (उक्थैः) प्रशंसितैर्वचनैः ।=With admirable words.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—द्रविणमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) धनं द्रविणमुच्यते यदेनदभिद्रवन्ति (NKT 8, 1, 1) । अनया व्युत्पत्त्या यशोऽपि द्रविणम् यत् एनत् अभिद्रवन्ति । अथवा यशः उत्तमजनधनम् 'मानो हि महतां धनम् इति सुभाषितम् । उक्थम्=वच-परिभाषणे । तत्र थक् प्रत्ययः ।

The duties of the rulers and subjects are elaborated :

अस्माकमग्ने अध्वरं जुषस्व सहसः सूनो त्रिषधस्थ हव्यम् ।
वयं देवेषु सुकृतः स्याम शर्मणा नस्त्रिवरूथेन पाहि ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you act like the purifying fire. O son of a mighty person ! you have observed Brahmacharya for a long period. You are impartial to all the three kinds of people, i. e. your subjects, staff and relatives. Serve them with love in our non-violent Yajna in the form of protection and happiness of the subjects. Protect us constantly in our homes, which they deserve suitably built for all the three main seasons i. e.

rains, winter and summer. Because of that we may be able to spread righteous deeds among the enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—All people should address or present submissions to the ruler in this way—O king ! protect or sustain us properly, so that protected by you we may remain engaged in doing righteous acts and make you also advanced in every manner.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्रिषधस्थ) त्रिभिः प्रजाभृत्यात्मीयैः जनैः सह पक्षपात-रहितस्तिष्ठति तत्सम्बुद्धौ । =Impartial to all kinds of people i.e. your subjects, staff and relatives. (शर्मणा) गृहेण । शर्म इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) । =With home. (त्रिवरूथेन) त्रिषु वर्षाहिमन्तग्रीष्मसमयेषु वरुथेन वरेण । =Good or suitable in all seasons like rains, winter and summer. (हव्यम्) दातुमर्हं सुखम् । हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च । अत्रदानार्थग्रहणम् । =Happiness worth-giving.

The duties of rulers and people are stated :

विश्वा॑नि नो दु॒र्गहा॑ जातवेदः॒ सिन्धुं॒ न ना॒वा दु॑रि॒ताति॑ पर्षि ।
अग्ने॑ अत्रि॒वन्नम॑सा गृणा॒नो॒३॒॑ऽस्माकं॑ बोध्यवि॒ता त॒नूना॑म् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king ! in association with Sanyasis, you constantly move from place to place for preaching, because you take us across all intolerable evils and miseries, like the people are taken across a river by a boat or ocean by a steamer. Respected by us with reverence or honoured with food and glorifying God, we know you are the protector of our lives and possessions.

PURPORT :—The kings, teachers and preachers take all people across the ocean of misery, and enjoy unparalleled happiness through it.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अत्रिवत्) अतयः सततं गन्तारो विद्यन्ते यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौः अतयः अत-सातत्यगमने (भ्वा०) अतयः परिव्राजकाः । =Those who have association with the Sanyasis constantly moving for preaching. (दुरिता) दुःखेन प्राप्तुं भोग्यानि। =Difficult to cross over, intolerable.

The same subject of ruler's 'and people's duties is continued :

यस्त्वां हृदा कीरिणा मन्यमानोऽमर्त्यं मर्त्यो जोहवीमि।
जातवेदो यशो अस्मासु धेहि प्रजाभिरग्ने अमृतत्वमश्याम् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king ! you are purifier like the fire, and with admiring heart we call upon you. I being an ordinary mortal and you being the immortal because of your glory know the immortality of soul. I enjoy emancipation along with all good people, those who are to be protected. Establish in us good reputation.

PURPORT :—As the subjects always strive for the welfare of the king (State), the same way, a ruler should also desire the happiness of his subjects. All may enjoy unparalleled happiness with mutual love in this way.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कीरिणा) स्तावकेन। किरिरिति स्तोतृनाम्। (NG 3, 16)। =Admirer. (अग्ने) पावकवद्वर्त्तमान राजन्। =O king purifying like fire.

The same theme of ruler-people moves :

यस्मै त्वं सुकृते जातवेद उ लोकमग्ने कृणवः स्योनम्।
अश्विनं स पुत्रिणं वीरवन्तं गोमन्तं रयिं नशते स्वस्ति ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned wise person ! whosoever performs good works, you bestow apparent happiness upon him. He enjoys welfare and all sorts of riches-horses, cattle, sons and brave followers.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you make all your subjects endowed with knowledge and humility, wealth, good progeny and prosperity, then all the subjects will have the highest regard for you.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(लोकम्) द्रष्टव्यम् । लोकृ-दर्शन (भ्वा०) ।=Worth seeing. (नशते) प्राप्नोति । नशत् व्याप्तिकर्मा (NG 2, 18) ।=Attains.

Sūktam-5

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vasushruta Ātreya. Devata or subject-Apram. Chhanda-Nishāda Gāyatri, Virat Gāyatri-Pipilika-Madhya-Gāyatri and Ushnik. Svara-Rishabha.

The duties of the learned men are stated :

सुसंमिद्धाय शोचिषे घृतं तीव्रं जुंहोतन । अग्नये जातवेदसे ॥ १॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! put the oblations of well-purified (clarified butter), ghee into this well-ablaze purifying fire, which is existent in all the objects.

PURPORT :—The teachers who sow the seeds of knowledge in the pure hearts become glorious and mighty like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शोचिषे) पवित्रकराय । शुचिर-पूतीभावे (दिवा०) । =Purifying. (तीव्रम्) सुशोधितम् =Well purified.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The purport seems to be based upon the social interpretation of the mantra taking Agni for an educated pupil and ghee for the knowledge.

The same subject of teacher's duties is dealt :

नराशंसः सुषूदति यज्ञमदाभ्यः । कविर्हि मधुहस्त्यः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a man of genius who is free from deceit, is sweet handed (in dealings) and admired by all men. He showers nectar in this Yajna (in the form of the diffusion of knowledge), He enjoys much happiness thereby.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! a cow (lit. makes to flow) gives milk for the happiness of all, same way the shower of the sermons containing true knowledge give happiness to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुषूदति) अमृतं क्षरति । षूद-क्षरणे (भ्वा.) = Makes to shower nectar. (यज्ञम्) विद्याप्रचाराख्यं व्यवहारम्, यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु, अत्र विद्यादानार्थं ग्रहणम् । =Dealing in the form of diffusion or disseminating of knowledge. (अदाभ्यः) निष्कपटः । = Free from deceit.

Here the duties of a king are mentioned :

ईळितो अ॑ग्न॒ आ व॑हेन्द्रं॑ चि॒त्रमि॒ह प्रि॒यम् । सु॒खै रथे॑भिरू॒तये॑ ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O illumined soul ! being admired by us, bring in this world vehicles which are wonderful and bestow happiness, and dear prosperity in order to protect us.

PURPORT :—O king ! having attained prosperity, you roam about everywhere for the protection of your subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) प्रकाशात्मन् । अगि गतौ [गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र-ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् अथवा अग्निवत् प्रकाशित: । =Illumined soul. (इन्द्रम्) परमैश्वर्यम् । =Prosperity.

———

The same subject of duties of a ruler is continued :

ऊर्णम्रदा वि प्रथस्वाभ्य१र्का अ॑नूषत । भवा॑ नः शुभ्र सा॒तये॑ ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king of pure character ! you proclaim (enact laws etc.) with regard to the distribution of inherited wealth. Be giver of happiness to us. O knowers of the spirit of the mantras ! with your protective powers or the helpers blot out the evils, and impart us (lit. praise us) the knowledge of all sciences.

PURPORT :—The king and officers of the State should take only their due share of the wealth by proper division and should give due share to the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्काः) मन्त्रार्थविदः । अर्को मन्त्रो भवति यदनेनार्चन्ति (NKT 5, 1, 4) तस्मान्मन्त्रार्थविदोऽर्काः । =The knowers of the meaning of the mantras (ऊर्णम्रदाः) य ऊर्णं रक्षकं म्रदन्ति । ऊर्णु ञ् आच्छादने (म्र) मृद्क्षेपे (क्र्या.) षण, सम्भक्तौ (भ्वा.) । =Those who blot out evils with protective powers and with the help of men. (सातये) दायविभागाय । =For the due distribution of inheritance or patrimony.

The duties of the house holders-married people are told :

देवीर्द्वारो वि श्रयध्वं सुप्रायणा नं ऊतये । प्रप्र यज्ञं पृणीतन ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! take wives who work for your happiness, cause delight like the good doors (source) by which one can enter the house well. Discharge the duties of this Yajna (in the form of the dealing of household life) properly.

PURPORT :—If men and women are of matching merits, actions and temperament and thereafter marry and begin the household life, they may enjoy perfect happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्वारः) द्वाराणीव सुखनिमित्ताः । =Source of happiness like the doors. (सुप्रायणाः) सुष्ठुः प्रकृष्टमयनं गमनं याभ्यस्ताः । सु+प्र । अय-गतौ । =By which one can enter the house (treasure house of knowledge). (यज्ञम्) गृहाश्रमव्यवहारम् । यज-देवपूजा-सङ्गतिकरणरूपो गृहस्थाश्रमयज्ञः : =Dealings of the household life.

The duties of a ruler are further continued :

सुप्रतीके वयोवृधा यह्वी ऋतस्यं मातरां । दोषामुषासमीमहे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! by praying to God at the time of the night and dawn, one gets knowledge well. You promote desirable good life, and are great givers of respect of truth. So you should also beg for your welfare to God at those two times.

PURPORT :—As day and night live together, so married couple should live mutually helping.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यह्वी) महत्यौ । यह्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) ।

The rulers' duties are highlighted :

वातस्य पत्मन्नीळिता दैव्या होतारा मनुषः । इमं नो यज्ञमा गतम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O divine donors ! admired by all, come to this our Yajna (unifying dealings) and to good men, like a man goes to a path where the wind is blowing, i.e. is easy track.

PURPORT :—O men and women ! being admired by all because of the observance of righteous conduct, let us accomplish our dealings or discharge the duties of the household life (grihastha-shrama).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) सङ्गन्तव्यं व्यवहारम् । यजधातोः सङ्गतिकरणार्थमादाय व्याख्यानमत्र । =Unifying dealings or conduct. (होतारा) दातारौ । हु—दानादनयोः आदाने च अत्र दानार्थकः । =Donors.

The duties of a ruler are further dealt :

इळा सरस्वती मही तिस्रो देवीर्मयोभुवः । बर्हिः सीदन्त्वस्रिधः ॥ ८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the non-violent admirable knowledge, noble speech and good land which are endowed with divine virtues and lead to happiness by having attained and leading the noble domestic life. So you should also be well-established there.

PURPORT :—O men and women ! for your happiness you achieve knowledge, noble speech and kingdom of the land tracts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इडा) प्रशंसिता विद्या । =Admirable knowledge. (सरस्वती) वाक् । =Noble speech. (बर्हिः) उत्तमं गृहाश्रमम् । =Good domestic life.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—इडा is from ईड़-स्तुतौ, so it means admirable. Here it is used for admirable knowledge and is derived from बृह-बृद्धौ । It is used for Yajna and all great actions. Here it is used for great or good domestic life.

The duties of the rulers (administrators) and their subjects are told :

शिवस्त्वंष्टरिहा गंहि विभुः पोषं उत त्मनां । यज्ञेयंज्ञे न उदंव ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you destroy all miseries, come to us in every unifying and nourishing act like Ashvinou (2) and Omnipresent God and protect us well.

PURPORT :—O men ! bring about the welfare of all by dealing justly like God.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्वष्टः) सर्वदुःखच्छेत्तः । =Destroyer of all miseries. (विभुः) व्यापकः परमेश्वर इव । त्वक्ष्-तनूकरणे (भ्वा.) त्वष्टा तूर्णमश्नुत इति नैरुक्ताः । त्विषेर्वास्याद् दीप्तिकर्मणः त्वदातर्वा स्याद् दीप्तिकर्मणः । =Like the Omnipresent God.

The subject of the acquisition of knowledge is dealt with :

यत्र वेत्थ वनस्पते देवानां गुह्या नामानि । तत्र हव्यानि गामय ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O protector of the forests ! where you know the unknown names of the learned persons, convey the articles worth-giving and worth accepting.

PURPORT :—Those who know the names of the learned persons who have deep knowledge of the medicinal plants, they are able to bestow abundant happiness upon the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हव्यानि) दातुमादातुमर्हाणि वस्तूनि । =Things worth giving and worth accepting.

Here वनस्पते may also mean the knowers of Botanical science. The Botanists know the names of various trees and plants which ordinary people do not know. They should be honoured.

The same subject that is the duties of the rulers-people are described :

स्वाहाग्नये वरुणाय स्वाहेन्द्राय मरुद्भ्यः । स्वाहा देवेभ्यो हविः ॥ ११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! for the science of electricity (energy) etc., you should always use truthful (factual) speech. For good men, you should use good and respectful speech. For prosperity and for the welfare of all people, you should do good deeds. For the enlightened persons, you should give articles worth-giving.

PURPORT :—Men should always do good to the people, by acquiring the knowledg of the science of Agni (fire), and electricity (energy) and by honouring highly learned persons or scientists.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वाहा) सत्या वाक् । स्वाहा=सु+आह = उत्तमा सत्या वाक् । आ+हा=स्वाहा ओहाक् त्यागे त्यागादिसत्यक्रिया । =Truthful speech. (स्वाहा) सत्क्रिया =Truthful acts. (इन्द्राय) ऐश्वर्याय । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा.) । =For the sake of prosperity. (मरुद्भ्यः) मनुष्येभ्यः । =For men.

Sūktam-6

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vasushruta Ātreya. Devatā-Agni. Chhanda—Pankti and Brihati of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Madhyama.

The attributes of Agni are stated :

अग्निं तं मन्ये यो वसुरस्तं यं यन्ति धेनवः ।
अस्तमर्वन्त आशवोऽस्तं नित्यासो वाजिन इषं स्तोतृभ्य आ भर ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! it is this Agni (energy/electricity etc.) which pervades all and when methodically used, it comes to the milch kine, makes it active and quick going. It makes rapid perishing things inperishable by nature (on account of the refrigerational nature Ed.). I know the nature of this Agni.

By its knowledge and application, bring good to your admirers or devotees of God.

PURPORT :—O men ! if you know and use methodically the Agni (electricity/energy etc.) then it not only brings in rapid movement but also moves others very quickly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अस्तम्) प्रक्षिप्तं प्रेरितम् । असु-क्षपणे (दिवा०) । =Thrown, driven or used properly. (आशव:) आशुगामिन: पदार्था: । अशूङ्-व्याप्तौ सङ्घाते च (स्वा०) । =Quick-moving articles.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The user of the science of Agni (power/energy/electricity) by its proper uses gets prosperity and becomes the possessor of the milch kine, rapid horses and all consumable articles.

———

The same subject of Agni is described :

सो अग्निर्यो वसुर्गृणे सं यमायन्ति धेनवः ।
समर्वन्तो रघुद्रुवः सं सुंजातासः सूरय इषं स्तोतृभ्य आ भंर ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! Agni is a useful item like wealth. It is described in various speeches. To its knower come speedy steeds. Distinguished scientists come to carry on researches on it. It is this Agni (electicity etc) the properties of which I praise (describe). By using it methodically, bring food and other requtsite articles for the teachers of this science.

PURPORT :—O men ! become great scholars or scientists through the knowledge of Agni and other articles and make teachers also prosperous, thus increase their wealth.

3. TRANSLATION :— O men ! the way we take and properly utilise foodgrains and other presentable commodities which create and boost economic power or reputation and truth and take the support of light (of knowledge); in the same manner, you should also do.

PURPORT :—If enlightened persons generate the light of knowledge in the souls of men by dealing with them impartially, then they may become good and fit to receive words of wisdom.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नस्य) धनस्य यशसो वा। द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नं वा (NKT 5, 1, 5)। =of wealth or good reputation. (रश्मिम्) प्रकाशम्। =Light.

EDITOR'S NOTES :—In the Divine prayer of AsatoMaa Sadgamaya, Tamaso Maa Jyotirgamaya, the Jyoti or light has been described and symbolized to knowledge. Hence the translated portion is revelent.

The same subject of friendship moves on :

स स्मा कृणोति केतुमा नक्तं चिद्दूर आ सते ।
पावको यद्वनस्पतीन्प्र स्मा मिनात्यजरः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that person who possesses the decaying and purifying quality of fire and makes men to protect forests (or forest dwellers) even at night and staying away at a distant place, gives knowledge to another good person. He in fact destroys the wicked and vices and is respected everywhere.

PURPORT :—The enlightened men even when living at a distant place are benevolent day and night like the fire. They are indeed the protectors of the forests of trees, which are really the ornaments (gems) of the world. (Forests provide sufficient oxygen for the preservation of life. Editor).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(केतुम्) प्रज्ञाम्। केतुरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)। =Intellect or good knowledge. (मिनाति) हिनस्ति। मीञ्-हिंसायाम् (क्रया.) =Destroy.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened persons are told :

अवं स्म यस्य वेषणे स्वेदं पथिषु जुह्वति ।
अभीमह स्वजेन्यं भूमा पृष्ठेव रुरुहुः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! in whose pervasive dealing or search, hewers make their sweet flow (labour to the maximum) and ascend as on the back of the earth, the portion of which can be conquered and grow harmoniously. You should also do research in the same manner.

PURPORT :—Those persons who accomplish their works after knowing the dealings going on their way, enjoy much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वेषणे) व्याप्ते व्यवहारे। विष्लृ व्याप्तौ (जुहो.)। =In pervasive dealings. (रुरुहुः) वर्धन्ते। रुह-बीजजन्मनि प्रादुर्भावे च (भ्वा.) =Grow.

EDITOR'S NOTES :—Probably the last portion of the translation points out to the importance of research in the Social Forestry.

The duties of the enlightened persons are stated :

यं मर्त्यः पुरुस्पृहं विदद्विश्वस्य धायसे ।
प्र स्वादनं पितूनामस्ततातिं चिदायवे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—A man should use his desirable knowledge or things for the good of all, because he gets it for the sake of a man and for upholding the world. What tasteful food he gets should be used for benefitting others, after acquiring necessary strength for himself. And a householder when he comes in contact, with such a person should also be persuaded to use his wealth and energy for doing good to others.

PURPORT :—A man should use whatever good things and knowledge he gets to acquire the happiness of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—([illegible]) [illegible] गृहनाम (NG

3, 4) ।=House-holder. (पितुनाम्) अन्नानाम्। पितुरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) । =Of food of various kinds.

The duties of a ruler are told again :

स हि ष्मा धन्वाक्षितं दाता न दात्या पशुः ।
हिरिश्मश्रुः शुचिदन्नृभुरनिभृष्टतविषिः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :— That man grows happily who has gold-like his beard, whose teeth are pure or clean, who is extremely wise, whose army has not been burnt or destroyed, or defeated and who is a good donor. As a living bird flies upward to an undecayed firmament, the same way who catches hold of the wicked enjoys delight.

PURPORT :—As a man who cuts crops, separates chaff from and takes corn, or as an animal cuts into pieces the corn etc. in the same manner a king should punish robbers and wicked persons severely.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धन्व) अन्तरिक्षम्। धन्व इत्यन्तरिक्ष नाम (NG 1, 3) धन्वान्तरिक्षं धन्वन्त्यस्मादापः। =Firmament. (ऋभुः) मेधावी। ऋभुरिति मेधावि नाम (NG 3, 15)। =Extremely wise, genius. The householder's duties are mentioned :

त्वामग्ने मानुषीरीळते विशो होत्राविदं विविचिं रत्नधातमम् ।
गुहा सन्तं सुभग विश्वदर्शतं तुविष्वणसं सुयजं घृतश्रियम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O prosperous householder ! shining

like fire, men praise or illuminate you with virtues. You are knower of havan (non-violent sacrifice) discriminator between good and bad, upholder of gems, illuminer of all, good performer of the yajnas, and eater of ghee (clarified butter) or shining with ghee seated in the cave of heart (as soul) and render service to all. Let us also know well such men.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know a good king, like you know about the science of energy/electricity, that brings new life and consciousness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विविचिम्) विवेचकं विभाग कर्त्तारम् विचिर-पृथग्भावे (रुधा.) । =Discriminator. (तुविष्वणसम्) बहूनां सेवकम् तुवि इति बहुनाम (NG 3,1) । =Doer of service to all.

The duties of a learned person are told taking the sense of word 'Agni' :

त्वाम॑ग्ने घर्ा॒सिं वि॒श्वधा॑ व॒यं गी॒र्भिर्गृ॒णन्तो॑ नम॒सोप॑ सेदिम ।
स नों जुषस्व समिधा॒नों अ॑ङ्गिरो दे॒वो मर्तस्य य॒शसा॑ सु॒दीतिभिः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! we approach you who are bearer of virtues and upholder of all, praising you with our words and with obeisance. O dear to us like Prāna ! you are a liberal donor, shining with your virtues and love, and serve us with good donations or gifts of men, food, water and wealth.

PURPORT :—It is the nature of all, to have the same feeling and attitude, as one has towards himself and looks after his own interests.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यशसा) उदकेनान्नेन धनेन वा । यश इति उदकनाम 1, 12 ॥ मन्ननाम 2, 7 । धननाम (NG 2, 10) =With good donations or gifts. (सुदीतिभि:) सुष्ठु दानैः । =With noble contribution or donation.

The learned person's duties further elaborated :

त्वमंग्ने पुरुरूपो विशेविंशे वयो दधासि प्रत्नथा पुरुष्टुत ।
पुरूण्यन्ना सहंसा वि रांजसि त्विषिः सा ते तित्विषाणस्य नाधृषे ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! praised by many, it is your lustres illumined by the knowledge like the flame of fire by which you shine. It makes you bold from all sides. This your lustre upholds various kinds of foodgrains for the welfare of your subjects. Being multiformed, you maintain life with strength like the old established system. You should know all this.

PURPORT :—O man ! as Agni (fire) upholds this world, you should also uphold all men in the light of knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तित्विषाणस्य) अग्निज्वालयेव विद्यया प्रकाशमानस्य । त्विष दीप्तौ (भ्वा) =Shining with knowledge as by the flame of fire. (वयः) जीवनम् । =Life.

The duties of scholars are mentioned :

त्वामंग्ने समिधानं यविष्ठ्य देवा दूतं चंक्रिरे हव्यवाहंनम् ।
उरुज्रयंसं घृतयोनिमाहुंतं त्वेषं चक्षुर्दधिरे चोदयन्मंति ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O most youthful (energetic) king ! the learned persons uphold (use for various purposes) Agni/fire, and it drives the most acceptable (good) vehicles very speedly. In his house there is water (combined with fire) full of sound from all sides, and is resplendent, a powerful mean for seeing like the eye, stimulator of intellect, and accomplisher of various dealing. In the same manner, we may also uphold you.

PURPORT :—Men can not know the properties of fire and the result of its combination with water etc. without the association and guidance of enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हव्यवाहनम्) यो हव्यान्यादातुमर्हाणि यानानि सद्यो वहति तम् । हु-दानादनयोः आदने च । अत्र आदानार्थं गृहीत्वा व्याख्यानम् । =

Which drives acceptable vehicles quickly ? (उरुज्रयसम्) बहुवेगवन्तम्।

=Very speedy. (घृतयोनिम्) घृतमुदकं प्रदीप्तं कारणं वा योनिर्गृहं यस्य तम्। घृतमिति उदकनाम् (NG 1, 12) योनिरिति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) घृ-क्षरणदीप्त्योः (जु) =In whose house there is water or enkindling cause.

The duties of the enlightened persons are further told :

त्वाम॑ग्ने प्र॒दिव॒ आहु॑तं घृ॒तैः सु॑म्ना॒यवः॑ सु॒षमि॒धा समी॑धिरे ।
स वा॑वृधा॒न ओष॑धीभिरुक्षि॒तो॒३॒॑ऽभि ज्रयां॑सि॒ पार्थि॑वा॒ वि ति॑ष्ठसे ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! as men desirous of happiness, enkindle with ghee and other things and with good fuel, the fire endowed with light, in the same manner, you being great and using ghee etc. make others grow with Soma, barley and other nourishing substances and thus perform speedy works known on the face of the entire earth, so let us make you happy, who are preacher and teacher of technology.

PURPORT :—O men ! as highly learned persons or scientists generate energy from all resources, so the enlighted persons accept virtues from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ज्रयांसि) वेगयुक्तानि कर्माणि। =Works full of speed. (उक्षितः) संसिक्तः। उक्ष-सेचने उक्षित इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)। =Sprinkled. (घृतैः) प्रदीपकैः साधनैः। घृ-क्षरण दीप्त्योः (जु. हो.)। =Enkindling means.

Sūktam—9

Rishi of the Sūktam-Gaya-Ātreya. Devatā-Agni. Chhanda-Ushnik, Anushtup and Brihati of various kinds. Svara-Rishabha, Madhyama and Panchama.

The attributes of Agni (energy) etc. are told :

त्वामग्ने हविष्मन्तो देवं मर्तास ईळते ।
मन्ये त्वा जातवेदसं स हव्या वक्ष्यानुषक् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person! you are purifying like fire. The men of good charitable disposition praise the resplendent Agni, present in all embodied things, therefore they praise you. I know you well. You convey all oblations suitably.

PURPORT :—Those who seek after the properties of Agni (energy/electricity) and other elements, generate dealings in accordance with their knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) पावक इव वर्त्तमान विद्वान् । =Observed person purifying like fire. (हविष्मन्तः) प्रशस्तदानादियुक्ताः हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (हु) अत्र दानार्थं ग्रहणम् । =Men endowed with charity and other virtues.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are described :

अग्निर्होता दास्वतः क्षयस्य वृक्तबर्हिषः ।
सं यज्ञासश्चरन्ति यं सं वाजासः श्रवस्यवः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—As a donor is purifier like fire and he lives in the middle and independent auspicious house, which is inhabited by men of charitable disposition. In the same manner, the man who is surrounded by shrewd and intelligent men, desires food and good reputation and is worthy of association, and thus becomes the enlightener of the people.

PURPORT :—Men should build spacious houses and acquire the knowledge of various articles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षयस्य) निवासस्थ। क्षि-निवासगत्योः (भ्वा) अत्र-निवासार्थं। =Of the dwelling place.

The attributes of Agni (energy/electricity) are told :

उत स्म यं शिशुं यथा नवं जनिष्टारणी ।
धर्तारं मानुषीणां विशामग्निं स्वध्वरम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The parents procreate new baby, likewise Agni (energy) is generated by attraction of two substances. Let learned persons generate Agni (energy) which upholds human beings and by which many (Yajnas) non-violent good acts are performed.

PURPORT :—There is a simile in the mantra. As parents enjoy happiness by giving birth to a good progeny, in the same manner, learned scientists become prosperous by tapping the resources of energy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वध्वरम्) सुष्ठ्वहिंसाधर्मं प्राप्तम् अध्वरः-ध्वरति हिंसाकर्मा तत्प्रतिषेधः (NKT 9, 3, 8) =Non-violent.

The attributes of the enlightened men are told :

उत स्मं दुर्गृभीयसे पुत्रो न ह्वार्याणाम् ।
पुरु यो दग्धासि वनाग्ने पशुर्न यवसे ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! like the serpents, you are very difficult to be caught by your adversaries. You are full of splendour like the fire burning forests, or like an animal eating the grass. Therefore, you are the knower of science.

PURPORT :—He who is like a serpent or a cow for acquiring the knowledge of science, is fit to know the properties of energy and other elements.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ह्वार्याणाम्) कुटिलानाम् । ह्वृ-कौटिल्ये (भ्वा) =Of the serpents which creep crookedly. (यवसे) अद्याय घासाय । =For eatable grass.

————

The same subject of attributes of enlightened persons is dealt :

अधं स्म यस्यार्चयः सम्यक्संयन्ति धूमिनः ।
यदीमह त्रितो दिव्युप ध्मातेव धमति शिशीते ध्मातरी यथा ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—Accomplish works with the energy, which effective in all directions, and which going to distant places makes sound in the firmament (in the planets. Ed.) and which makes thing subtle in the article making noise.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should acquire the knowledge of the science of energy prior to other sciences connected with physics.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्रितः) संप्लावकः । तृ-प्लवनसन्तरणयोः । (भ्वा.) प्लुङ् । =Going well to distant places. (ध्मातेव) धमनकर्त्तेव । =Like one making sound. (ईम्) सर्वतः । =From all sides.

————

The attributes of enlightened persons are enlightened :

तवाहमग्न ऊतिभिर्मित्रस्य च प्रशस्तिभिः ।
द्वेषोयुतो न दुरिता तुर्याम मर्त्यानाम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! let me become admirable under your protection and praises, for you are my friend. You should also be praiseworthy everywhere. Let us all join to undo the malicious acts and miseries of the people.

PURPORT :—A friend admires his friend, while an enemy takes no interest in the welfare of his adversary. In the same manner, having become friends, let us destroy the miseries of the mortals.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुर्याम) हिंस्याम । तुर्वी-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) =Let us destroy.

———

The subject of merits of enlightened are described :

तं नो अग्ने अभी नरो रयिं सहस्व आ भर ।
तं क्षेपयत्स पोषयद्भुवद्वाजस्य सातय उतैधि पृत्सु नो वृधे ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O powerful learned person ! endowed with the forbearance and other virtues, provide us good leaders and the desired wealth. Let us honour you for this. May you constantly remind us to do good deeds ? May you cherish us well ? May you be helpful to us in the distribution of food etc. among the needy or deserving persons ? Be our helper in the battlefields for our all-round development.

PURPORT :—The seekers of truth should pay to the enlightened persons in a nice way. Please urge upon us to cultivate good virtues, cherish us with Brahmacharya and other means. As you are capable to distinguish between truth and untruth, the experts in the military science protect us ceaselessly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षेपयत्) प्रेरयेत् । क्षिप-प्रेरणे (दिवा०) ।=May urge ? (वाजस्य) अन्नादेः । संविभागाय (सातये) वाजइति मन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) षण-संभक्तौ (भ्वा) ।=For proper distribution of food and other things.

Sūktam-10

Rishi of the Sūktam-Gaya Ātreya. Devatā-Agni, Chhanda-Anushtup, Ushnik and Brihati of various kinds. Svara-Rishabha, Madhyama and Panchama.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are further told by the word 'Agni'

अग्न ओजिंष्ठमा भंर द्युम्नमस्मभ्यंमध्रिगो ।
प्र नों राया परींणसा रत्सि वाजांय पन्थांम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! going towards the upholders of the people bring to us ever good reputation or wealth full of the greatest splendour. You take delight by showing us the path of true knowledge alongwith the acquirement of abundant wealth. Therefore you deserve reverence.

PURPORT :—Those persons become endowed with due reputation, who, by good teachings increase, the reputation of others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अध्रिगो) योऽध्रून्धारकान् गच्छन्ति तत्सम्बुद्धौ । =O learned persons going towards the upholders of the people. (वाजाय) विज्ञानाय । वाज:-वज गतौ इत्यामाभिष्पन्नः । गतेष्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थ-ग्रहणम् (परीणसा) इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) । =For knowledge.

The Agni (qualities of learned people) goes on :

त्वं नों अग्ने अद्भुत क्रत्वा दक्षस्य मंहना ।
त्वे असुर्य१मारुहत्क्राणा मित्रो न यज्ञियः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teacher or preacher of wonderful merits, actions and temperament ! make us grow with the great status of the person who is endowed with intellect of a clever and powerful man. As a man fit to perform Yajna, grows and develops the strength of a friend who gives up even his life for the welfare of others, same way, make us advanced or progressive.

PURPORT :—He alone is a sublime or ideal teacher who for honour of all, gives them true knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) अध्यापकोपदेशकौ। अग्निः अग्निः कस्माद-ग्रणीर्भवति (NKT 7, 4, 15) अगि गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् वृथा "अध्यापकोपदेशकौ" इति व्याख्यौ। =O teacher or preacher. (दक्षस्य) चतुरस्य विद्याबल युक्तस्य। दक्ष इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =Of a clever person endowed with knowledge and strength.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are stated :

त्वं नो॑ अग्न एषां॒ गयं॒ पुष्टिं॑ च वर्धय।
ये स्तोमे॑भिः प्र सूरयो॒ नरो॑ मघान्या॑नशुः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! with the association of those leading enlightened men who have acquired wealth with the compliance of tanets relevant contained in the Vedic mantras, increase their progeny, wealth or home and their strength.

PURPORT:—Absolutely truthful enlightened persons should intensify the happiness and strength of all.

NOTES & REMARRS :—(गयम्) अपत्यं गृहं च। गय इत्यपत्य नाम (NG 2, 2) धननाम 2, 10 गृहनाम 3, 4) = Progeny, wealth and home.

The same subject of learned person's attributes and their duties are told :

ये अ॑ग्ने चन्द्र ते गिरः॑ शुम्भन्त्यश्व॑राधसः।
शुष्मे॑भिः शुष्मिणो॒ नरो॑ दिवश्चि॒द्येषां॑ बृहत्सु॑की॒र्तिर्बोध॑ति त्मना॑ ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you proclaim to be giver of delight, and thus accomplish energy etc. like the words of the leading and mighty men. You desire the welfare of all, and shine with their virtues. You know their great glory of good reputation and retain it your soul. Let them be your friends.

PURPORT :—The learned persons become friends and are endowed with the matching merits, actions and temperaments. They tell one another about the science of Agni (energy and electricity) and other elements, and thus get their noble desires fulfilled.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्वराधसः) विद्युदादिपदार्थसंसाधिकाः । =Accomlishers of energy and other things. (दिवः) कामयमानाः । =Desiring (the welfare of others). (चन्द्र) आह्लादप्रद । =Giver of delight.

The technocrats are described :

तव॒ त्ये अ॑ग्ने अ॒र्चयो॒ भ्राज॑न्तो यन्ति धृष्णु॒या ।
परि॑ज्मानो॒ न वि॒द्युतः॑ स्वा॒नो रथो॒ न वा॑ज॒यः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! the enlightened men who take to technical science in your company are illumined with knowledge and humility and enlighten others. Clever (having the kingdom of the earth all around), and like the energy or like the fast band of aircraft and other vehicles making sound, they soon become prosperous.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. Those who really know the technical science, become quick-going travellers, like the energy everywhere, and like the aeroplane and other vehicles. They acquire wealth from all sides and enjoy much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्चयः) विद्याविनयप्रकाशिताः । = Illumined with knowledge and humility. (परिज्मानः) परितो ज्मा भूमिराज्यं येषान्ते । =Those who have acquired vast tracts of land.

The same subject of technocrate is continued well :

नू नों अग्न ऊतये सबाधसश्च रातये ।
अस्माकासश्च सूरयो विश्वा आशास्तरीषणि ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned king! those enlightened persons who are facing similar difficulties and are our part and parcel (kith and kin) help us in overcoming all types of the ocean of misery for our protection and are benevolent.

PURPORT :—They are scholars or scientists who manufacture aircraft and other vehicles soon and make us travel around the world. They are called as men of admirable charity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रातये) दानाय । =For charity, donation. (तरीषणि) तरणे । =In crossing over or overcoming.

The duties of the pupils are mentioned :

त्वं नों अग्ने अङ्गिरः स्तुतः स्तवान आ भर ।
होतर्विभ्वासहं रयिं स्तोतृभ्यः स्तवसे च न उतैधि पृत्सु नों वृधे ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O donor! you are dear to us like our Prăna (vital breath). O learned person! being admired by us and praising the worthy wise men, bring to us wealth which can put an end to even the most difficult situation. Bring us such wealth for all admirers (individually and collectively) and stand in all battles for our advancement.

PURPORT :—The pupils have great regard and honour for the donors, because they give due recognition and respect to them. The right type of admirers (not the sycophants) are the great pillars of strength.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अङ्गिरः) प्राण इव प्रिय । प्राणो वा अंङ्गिराः (Stph 6, 1, 2, 28, II, 6, 5, 2, 3, 4) । =O dear like our Prăna. (पृत्सु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । पृत्सु इति संग्राम नाम (NG 2,17) । =In battles.

Sũktam—11

Rishi of the Sũktam-Sutambhara Ātreya. Devatā-Agni Chhanda-Jagati of various kinds. Svara-Nishāda.

The attributes of Agni (fire) are told :

जनस्य गोपा अजनिष्ट जागृविरग्निः सुदक्षः सुविताय नव्यसे ।
घृतप्रतीको बृहता दिविस्पृशा द्युमद्वि भाति भरतेभ्यः शुचिः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know well about the fire (energy) which is protector of the people, is ever awake, giver of much strength, and enkindled by the oblations of ghee and which is pure. It is manifested for the acquisition of new prosperity with great light (of knowledge). It shines brilliantly for the upholders and supporters of the people.

PURPORT :—Highly learned persons must know well the properties of Agni (energy and electricity) and other elements.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुविताय) ऐश्वर्याय । =For the sake of property. (भरतेभ्यः) धारणपोषण कृद्भ्यो । मनुष्येभ्यः । = For men who are upholders and supporters of the people.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is gratifying to find that both Sayanacharya and Mahidhara have interpreted ऋत्विग्भ्यः for priests and not for the descendants of Bharata. Both Wilson and Griffith have translated भरतेभ्यः as "for Bharatas" though both have admitted in their foot-notes that Sayanacharya and Mahidhara take this word for priests. Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation given above is the best giving the derivative भृञ्-भरणे (भ्वा०) डु भृञ् धारणपोषणयोः (जु) That shows also width of vision and broader outlook not confining it to priests. सुविताय-षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (भ्वा) अत्र ऐश्वर्यार्थं ग्रहणम् ।

The attributes of the enlightened persons are stated :

यज्ञस्यं केतुं प्रथमं पुरोहितमग्निं नरस्त्रिषधस्थे समींधिरे ।
इन्द्रेण देवैः सरथं स बर्हिषि सीदन्नि होता यजथाय सुक्रतुः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O leading scholars ! as they enkindle (honour well) a man who is purifire and shining like the fire, is the best leader, giver of true knowledge, firm in three things (places/ vidya Dharma and industriousness), in the same manner, you who are endowed high, like in the firmament, alongwith energy earth, and other things and various vehicles.

PURPORT :—Those highly learned persons only are the enlighteners of all, who stand firm in Vidya (true knowledge) Dharma (righteousness) and industriousness and urge others to do the same.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञस्य) सम्यग्ज्ञानस्य । =Of true knowledge. (इन्द्रेण) विद्युता । =With electricity.

The enlightened person's attributes are mentioned :

असंमृष्टो जायसे मात्रोः शुचिर्मन्द्रः कविरुदतिष्ठो विवस्वतः ।
घृतेन त्वावर्धयन्नग्न आहुत धूमस्ते केतुरभवद्दिवि श्रितः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O student shining like fire ! inviting respectfully, we honour you whom the enlightened persons have developed with the light of Vidya (knowledge) as from the sun. Like smoke from the fire your intellect is in the resplendent, most desirable and venerable God. Having received education from matter like Vidya and Acharya (preceptor), you become pure, delighted, admirable and far-sighted sage.

PURPORT :—Those boys and girls who having received education from enlightened men and women (with the observance of Brahmacharya) become pure.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(असंमृष्टः) सम्यगशुद्धः । =Very impure. (घृतेन) विद्याप्रकाशेन । घृ-क्षरणदीप्त्योः । =With the light of knowledge.

(आहुत) सत्कारेण निमन्त्रित। =Invited respectfully. (दिवि) प्रकाशमाने कमनीये सत्कर्त्तव्य परमेश्वरे दिवु-क्रीडा विजिगीषा व्यवहार-द्युति स्तुति मोदमद स्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (दि०) अत्र द्युति कान्ति स्तुत्यर्थं ग्रहणम्। =In Resplendent, desirable and venerable God. (मन्द्र:) प्रशंसित: आनन्दित: मदि-स्तुति मोदमदस्वप्न कान्ति गतिषु (भ्वा०)। =Admired, delighted.

The attributes of Agni and other elements are told further :

अग्निर्नो यज्ञमुपं वेतु साधुयाग्निं नरो वि भंरन्ते गृहेगृंहे।
अग्निर्दूतो अंभवद्धव्यवाहंनोऽग्निं वृंणाना वृंणते कविक्रंतुम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men! the Agni pervades all our unifying dealings, the good and leading men keep Agni (fire) in every home, the fire which takes acceptable oblations to distant places, and acts like a messenger, and the wise men choose fire which is beneficial like the intellect of wise persons.

PURPORT :—The persons are always respectable who are mighty like fire, benevolent like good men and are auspicious to all men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञम्) सङ्गन्तव्यं व्यवहारम्। यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरणदानेषु अत्र सङ्गति करणार्थ:। =Unifying act. (वेतु) व्याप्नोतु। वी-गति व्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्य सनखादनेषु (अदा०) अत्र व्याप्त्यर्थ:। =May pervade.

EDITOR'S NOTES :—The fire as intepreted above clearly establishes the meaning but the material fire.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are further mentioned :

तुभ्येदमंग्ने मधुमत्तमं वचस्तुभ्यं मनीषा इयमंस्तु शं हृदे।
त्वां गिरः सिन्धुमिवावनीर्महीरा पृंणन्ति शवंसा वर्धयंन्ति च ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O student! having pure heart like fire, let this most sweet speech be for you; and let this intellect be giver of happiness to you. Take those great adorable and protective Vedic speeches which fill up your knowledge, like the large rivers replenish the sea and sustain you with strength and service and augment your power.

PURPORT :—O students ! as rivers decorate and fill the sea, so let speeches endowed with knowledge and humility decorate and fill you, so that by their power, let only true ond beneficial words may always come out from your mouths.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अवनीः) रक्षिकाः। अवधातोरनेकार्थेषु प्रथमस्य रक्षणार्थस्यात्र ग्रहणम्। =Protective. (शवसा) बलेन परिचरणेन वा। शवतीति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) शव इति बलनाम (NG 2,9)। =By dint of power and spirit of service.

त्वाम॑ग्ने अङ्गि॑रसो गुहा॑ हि॒तमन्व॑विन्दञ्छिश्रिया॒णं वने॑वने ।
स जा॑यसे म॒थ्यमा॑नः सहो॑ म॒हत्त्वामा॑हुः सह॑सस्पु॒त्रम॑ङ्गिरः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O student ! you are eager to acquire knowledge like the enlightened persons are dear like the Prānas and well versed in various sciences. You attain God pervading every soul-like the fire in the forest in the cave of intellect and enable you also to attain Him. Like wise you become a great scholar when churned (trained well) so that O dear like the Prāna (vital breath) ! the scholars tell you that the son of a man endowed with knowledge and strength, as having acquired great energy.

PURPORT :—O men ! as Yogis ever enjoy happiness or bliss, having attained God through self-restraint or combination of concentration, meditation and trance, so you should also enjoy bliss by attaining Him.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अङ्गिरसः) प्राणा इव विद्यासु व्याप्ता जनाः प्राणो वा अङ्गिराः (Stph 6, 1, 2, 28, 11, 6, 5, 2, 3, 4)। =Men pervading all sciences like the Prănas. (गुहा) बुद्धौ। =In the cave of intellect. (अङ्गिरः) प्राणः इव प्रिय। अगि-गतौ। गतेस्त्रयोऽर्थाः ज्ञानं गमनं प्राप्तिश्च। अत्र प्राप्त्यर्थं ग्रहणं। व्याप्ति पर्यायरूपेण। =Dear like Prāna.

Sūktam—12

Rishi of the Sūktam–Sutambhara Ātreya. Devata-Agni. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The attributes of Agni (energy) are told :

प्राग्नये बृहते यज्ञियाय ऋतस्य वृष्णे असुराय मन्म ।
घृतं न यज्ञ आस्ये३ सुपूतं गिरं भरे वृषभाय प्रतीचीम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as I utter a speech which imparts knowledge and motivates to perform suitable act to manifest this Agni (energy) in which Yajnas (non-violent of sacrifices) are performed, which showers water, is in Prānas (in subtle form) and is most powerful. So you should also uphold or utilise it properly. I do it by putting in the mouth pure ghee (clarified butter) as well as in the Yajna.

PURPORT :—Men should try to acquire the knowledge of the earth and other objects, after getting the knowledge of the fire.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्म) ज्ञानोत्पादकं कारणम् । मन्म-मननीयानीति (NKT 10, 4, 42) । =That which causes knowledge. (ऋतस्य) जलस्य । ऋतम् इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Of water. (प्रतीचीम्) पश्चिमां क्रियाम् । =Suitable etc.

The duties of the enlightened persons are stated :

ऋतं चिकित्व ऋतमिच्चिकिद्धयृतस्य धारा अनु तृन्धि पूर्वीः ।
नाहं यातुं सहसा न द्वयेन ऋतं सपाम्यरुषस्य वृष्णः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men desirous of knowing true cause ! know God only Who is Absolutely True. Know also the true and most established since ancient time, that cause the knowledge of truth and root out all ignorance ? I do not desire to be guided merely by physical force and do not curse or condemn truth of a non-violent mighty person, which is like pure water. This truth I get by the strength acquired by the knowledge of cause and effect.

PURPORT :—O men ! the enlightened persons always uphold truth by condemning untruth and uphold knowledge by giving up ignorance. So you should also emulate.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋतम्) १. सत्यं कारणम् । २. सत्यं ब्रह्म । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG) =1. True cause. 2. God who is absolutely True. (वन्धि) हिन्धि (उ) । तुदिर हिंसानादरयोः (रुधा०) अत्र हिंसार्थग्रहणम् =Destroy, dispel. (अरुषस्य) अहिंसकस्य । रुष-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०), दिवा । =Of a non-violent person.

The duties of a highly learned person are mentioned :

कथा नो अग्न ऋतयंन्नृतेन भुवो नवेदा उचथस्य नव्यः ।
वेदा मे देव ऋतुपा ऋतूनां नाहं पतिं सनितुरस्य रायः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! by which method or knowledge do you enlighten us ? Observing truth in conduct after knowing the virtues of universal truth, protects us in different seasons and indicates what is proper. I, a newly learned man, do not squander away the wealth which is divided according to the needs of the seasons. So you should also know me and not destroy me.

PURPORT :—O men ! it is only by observance of truth that the true kingdom of earth is obtained. By kingdom of the earth and prosperity, all people enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उचथस्य) उचितस्य । वच-परिभाषणे (अदा) षण संभक्तौ (भ्वा) । =Of what is proper ? (सनितुः) विभाजकस्य । नवेदा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) । =Of the divider.

The duty of the highly educated persons is told :

के ते अग्ने रिपवे बन्धनासः के पायवः सनिषन्त द्युमन्तः ।
के धासिमग्ने अनृतस्य पान्ति क आसतो वचसः सन्ति गोपाः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! you should know well these things. (1) Who are the imprisoners of your enemies ? (2) Who are the protectors of your kingdom or State ? (3) Who are the persons desiring the welfare of all or enlightened, who divide work and wealth among all ? O illuminator of Vidya (true knowledge) and humility, Who protect food and who are the persons who defend or support false conduct ?

PURPORT :—O learned king ! you should perform such the way by your foes may be destroyed and the subjects may be well-sustained or cherished.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धासिम्) अन्नम् । धासिरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) । =Food. (द्युमन्तः) कामयमानाः प्रकाशवन्तो वा । दिवु-क्रीड़ा विजिगीषा व्यवहारद्युति स्तुति मोदमद कान्तिगतिषु । अत्र कान्तिद्युत्यर्थ ग्रहणम् । कान्तिः कामना । द्युति प्रकाशः । =Desiring of the welfare of all or shining.

A king is advised to be judicious :

सखायस्ते विषुणा अग्न एते शिवासः सन्तो अशिवा अभूवन् ।
अधूर्षत स्वयमेते वचोभिर्ऋजूयते वृजिनानि ब्रुवन्तः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! let your attendants and yourself destroy even learned persons who being your benevolent friends before, have now turned into malevolent enemies. But protect or support those persons who behave uprightely, teaching men about the acquisition of wealth or preservation of strength by their noble words.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of men (king and his servants) to dishonour those former friends who turn into enemies and to honour those former foes who turn into friends.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अघूर्षत) हिंसन्तु । =Destroy. (वृजिनानि) धनानि बलानि वा वृजनिम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । =Wealth or strength.

———

The duties and functions of a king are described :

यस्ते अग्ने नमसा यज्ञमीट्ट ऋतं स पात्यरुषस्य वृष्णः ।
तस्य क्षयः पृथुरा साधुरेतु प्रसर्स्राणस्य नहुषस्य शेषः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! may your residence protect us, which is very good like the son of a good man urging all to tread on the path of righteousness and which makes the Yajna prosperous by giving food and other commodities. It protects true justice. Let it come to us. (Let it be helpful to us when needed).

PURPORT :—O men ! enjoy good happiness by protecting a man who serves the enlightened persons and protects (defends) Dharma.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नहुषस्य) मनुष्यस्य । नहुष इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । =Of a man. (शेषः) यः शिष्यते सः । शेष इत्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2) । =One who imparts teaching and disciplines others like his son. (अरुषस्य) अहिंसकस्य । १. रुष- हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) २. रुष-हिंसायाम् । =Of the non-violent.

The attributes of the enlightened persons (Agnis) are told :

अर्चन्तस्त्वा हवामहेऽर्चन्तः समिधीमहि । अग्ने अर्चन्त ऊतये ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! we accept you (as leader) for our protection and advancement, honouring you. Let us illumines the world well, honouring you. Let us become great scholars by revering you.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! let us receive good education and wisdom by honouring you and let us enjoy bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सम्-इधीमहि) प्रकाशयेम। इन्धी-दीप्तौ (रुधा०) हु० दानादनयोः। प्रदाने च (जुहो०) अत्र प्रदानार्थंग्रहणम्। आदानमत्रस्वीकरणम् अग्रणी-रूपेण। =Let us illumine well. (हवामहे) स्वीकुर्महे। =We accept.

The duties of enlightened persons are described :

अग्नेः स्तोमं मनामहे सिध्रमद्य दिविस्पृशः। देवस्यं द्रविणस्यवः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! we desiring wealth to day know the properties, functions and nature of fire (enlightened persons). It is accomplisher of various purposes, and gives happiness being under the control of God and radiant. So you should also know this truth.

PURPORT :—Those who are desirous of wealth, must acquire the knowledge of the fire and other objects,

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्तोमम्) गुण कर्मस्वभाव प्रशंसाम्। =The praise (appraisal. Ed.) of the properties, functions and nature. (दिविस्पृशः) यो दिवि परमात्मनि सुखं स्पृशति तस्य। =Of fire which is giver of happiness being in the control of the Refulgent God. (सिध्रम्) साधकम्। स्तु-स्तुतौ (अद्य) षिध्रु-संराद्धौ (दिवा)। =Accomplisher of various purposes.

The same subject of enlightened persons is continued :

अग्निर्जुषत नो गिरो होता यो मानुषेष्वा। स यक्षद्दैव्यं जनम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! a donor who is purifier like the fire loves and accepts our speeches and he associates with and adores a scholar endowed with divine virtues. So you should also do.

PURPORT :—If there is no fire, none can even move his tongue.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(अग्नि:) पावक इव विद्वान् । =A learned person purifier like the fire. (होता) दाता । हु-दानादनयो: आदाने च अत्र दानार्थग्रहणम् । =Donor. (यक्षत्) सङ्गच्छेत्पूजयेद्वा । यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरण दानेषु । अत्र पूजा सङ्गति-करणार्थं ग्रहणम् । =May associate with or worship ?

The attributes of the enlightened persons are described :

त्वमग्ने सप्रथा असि जुष्टो होता वरेण्यः । त्वया यज्ञं वि तन्वते ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the scholars perform Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) with you, and you are a donor or accepter of good virtues, a renowned person, served by people, and most acceptable. Therefore you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—Men should perform Yajnas which are accomplishers of Dharma (righteousness) Artha (wealth) Kama (fulfilment of noble desires) and Moksha (emancipation) with the association cf absolutely truthful enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सप्रथा:) प्रसिद्धकीर्ति: । प्रथ-प्रख्याने (भ्वा) =A man of renowned glory, famous. (जुष्ट:) सेवित: । जुषी-प्रीतिसेवनयो। (तुदा) । =Served by the people ?

The same subject of enlightened persons (Agni) is continued :

त्वामग्ने वाजसातमं विप्रा वर्धन्ति सुष्टुतम् । स नो रास्व सुवीर्यम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O great scholar ! the wisemen exalt you, as you are the greatest distributor of knowledge (sharer of knowledge with others), and endowed with good reputation and strength. Bestow upon us good energy.

PURPORT :—O men ! if absolutely truthful enlightened persons exalt you from all sides, your unparaellled influence may grow more and more day-by-day.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजसातमम्) वाजानां विज्ञानानां वेगानामतिशयेन विभाजकम्। वाजः वज गतौ-गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम्। षण-संभक्तौ (ध्वा)। =Disseminator of knowledge and rapidity. (विप्राः) मेधाविनः। =Extremely wise men.

The subject of enlightened person is further developed :

अग्ने नेमिर॒राँ इ॑व दे॒वाँस्त्वं प॑रि॒भूर॑सि। आ राध॑श्चि॒त्रमृ॑ञ्जसे ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you encompass the divine virtues or enlightened men from all sides, like the circumference surrounds spokes of a wheel. Because you accomplish (earn well) wonderful wealth (of wisdom), therefore, you are worthy of veneration.

PURPORT :—There is simile here. As the wheel is adorned with the spokes etc, so men are adorned with the association of the enlightened persons and good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवान्) दिव्यान् गुणान् विदुषो वा विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10)। =Divine virtues or enlightened persons. (ऋञ्जसे) प्रसाध्नोषि। ऋञ्जतिः—प्रसाधनकर्मा (NKT 6,4,21)। =Accomplish or earn well.

Sūktam - 14

Rishi of the Sūktam-Sutambhara Ātreya. Devatā. Chhanda-Gāyatri of various kinds. Svara-Shadja.

The properties of Agni (fire) are told :

अ॒ग्निं स्तोमे॑न बोधय समिधा॒नो अम॑र्त्यम् । ह॒व्या दे॒वेषु॑ नो दधत् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! awaken that immortal Agni (fire) with praise of its properties which is well-kindled and takes the articles worth—giving and accepting (them. Ed.) put into it the divine objects or in the enlightened men.

PURPORT :—O men ! with great industriousness acquire the knowledge of physics.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हव्या) दातुमादातुमर्हाणि वस्तूनि । हु- दानादनयोः आदाने च (जु०) । =The articles worth—giving and accepting.

More about the Agni (enlightened persons) is continued :

तम॑ध्व॒रेष्वी॑ळते दे॒वं मर्ता॒ अम॑र्त्यम् । यजि॑ष्ठं॒ मानु॑षे॒ जने॑ ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—The men who in all inviolable righteous acts glorify that Immortal Eternal and Most Adorable, the Most Unifying God, self effulgent like the resplendent fire, enjoy much happiness.

PURPORT :—Those persons who acquire the knowledge of the science of physics like the knowledge of fire, become happy from all sides.

NOTES :—(अध्वरेषु) अहिंसनीयेषु धर्म्येषु व्यवहारेषु । =In all inviolable righteous acts. (यजिष्ठम्) अतिशयेन सङ्गन्तारम् । =The Greatest unifier.

The same subject of enlightened persons is dealt :

तं हि शश्वन्त ईळते स्रुचा देवं घृतश्चुतां । अग्निं हव्याय वोळ्हवे ॥ ३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The eternal souls should praise that Resplendent God with the practice of Yoga, as the priests and the performers of the Yajnas praise fire with the ladle (Sruchha) with which ghee (fuel oil) is put to carry the articles worth—giving and accepting to distant places.

PURPORT :—As the artisans having acquired the knowledge of fire and other objects accomplish many purposes and fulfil their noble desires, so let the men fulfil their noble desires by knowing God in right perspective.

NOTES :—(शश्वन्तः) अनादिभूता जीवाः । =Eternal souls. (स्त्रुचा) यज्ञसाधनेनेव योगाभ्यासेन । =By the practice of Yoga as with the ladle in the Yajnas.

Agni (fire and king) is told futher :

अग्निर्जातो अरोचत घ्नन्दस्यूञ्ज्योतिषा तमः । अविन्दद् गा अपः स्वः॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the fire as soon as (manifested) blazes brightly, dispersing with its lustre darkness (of smoke), and gets in touch with the rays of the sun, firmament and clouds, in the same manner, a king endowed with knowledge and humility, slaying the wicked thieves, dispells injustice with justice, achieves victory and gets good reputation.

PURPORT :—As fire shines by dispelling darkness, in the same menner, a king should shine by eliminating all wicked thieve.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गाः) किरणान् । सर्वे रश्मयो गाव-उच्यन्ते (NKT 2, 2, 8) । =Rays of the sun. (अपः) अन्तरिक्षम् । आप इति अन्तरिक्षनाम (N.G. 1, 3) । =Firmament. (स्वः) आदित्यम् । स्वः आदित्यो भवति सु अरणः सु ईरणः । स्वृतोरसान् स्वृतो भासं ज्योतिषां स्वृतो भासेति वा (NKT 2, 4, 14) । =The sun.

The same subject of Agni is further stated :

अ॒ग्निमी॑ळे॒न्यं॑ क॒विं घृ॒तपृ॑ष्ठं सपर्यत । वेतु॑ मे शृ॒णव॒द्धव॑म् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as a learned person pervades and listens to my invocation, in the same manner, serve (make proper use of) the Agni (energy) which is praiseworthy, illuminator or far sighted and has ghee at its base.

PURPORT :—Those men who practise the study of the science of fire and other branches of (physics) can enjoy happiness constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईळेन्यम्) प्रशंसनीयम् । ईड-स्तुतौ (अदा०) । =praiseworthy. (कविम्) क्रान्तदर्शनम् । =Illuminator, seen from a distance. (सपर्यंत) सेवध्वम् । सपर्यति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) । =Serve, utilise properly.

The illustration of Agni is told :

अ॒ग्निं घृ॒तेन॑ वावृधुः॒ स्तोमे॑भिर्वि॒श्वच॑र्षणिम् । स्वा॒धीभि॑र्वच॒स्युभिः॑ ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—With the help of those highly learned men who desire to use always good words, and who are endowed with meditation, who augment illuminator fire with ghee and praises, would acquire the knowledge of fire and other objects.

PURPORT :—As fire grows with fuel etc. likewise true knowledge increases by the association with and in company of the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विश्वचर्षणिम्) विश्व प्रकाशकम् विश्वचर्षणीरिति पश्यति कर्मा (NG 3, 10) अत्र दर्शनार्थः । =Illuminator of all. (स्वाधीभिः) सुष्ठुध्यानयुक्तैः सु+आ+ध्यै चिन्तायाम् (भ्वा०) । =With those endowed with good meditation.

Sūktam—15

Rishi of the Sūktam-Dharuna Angirasa, Devata-Agni, Chhanda—Pankti and Virāt of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of the enlightened persons and fire are told :

प्र वेधसे कवये वेद्याय गिरं भरे यशसे पूर्व्याय ।
घृतप्रसत्तो असुरः सुशेवो रायो धर्ता धरुणो वस्वो अग्निः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! as I hold this purifying fire which is kindled with ghee, gives happiness to the Prānas, good delight, upholds the wealth, and sustains the earth and other things. So far getting its true knowledge; I utter words of praise to a scholar, who is worthy of being known, admirable, and having received education from experienced and enlightened persons are extremely wise. In the same manner, you should also support him for the above purpose.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! teach the extraordinary science of Agni (energy and electricity) to the intelligent and virtuous students.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वेधसे) मेधाविने । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम । (NG 3, 15) =For extremely wise. (कवये) विपश्चिते । कविः इति । मेधाविनाम (NG 2, 15) । =For scholar.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithets like वेधाः, कविः etc. used in the mantra clearly denote that by Agni is here meant a wise and enlightened leader as Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati has justifiably interpreted. Both Wilson and Griffith translate the words as 'the Creator' and the 'far seeing'-far-sighted (Wilson) and Wise Ordainer (Griffith), but think erroneously that by Agni, is meant the fire. How strange and absurd it is ?

The attributes of the enlightened persons are stated :

ऋतेन॑ ऋ॒तं ध॒रुणं॑ धारयन्त य॒ज्ञस्य॑ शा॒के प॑र॒मे व्यो॑मन् ।
दि॒वो धर्म॑न्ध॒रुणे॑ से॒दुषो॒ नॄ॒ञ्जा॒तैरजा॑ताँ अ॒भि ये न॑न॒क्षुः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—Those men uphold (firmly acquire) true knowledge who by the observance of truth attain God Who is the upholder of the true material cause (matter), living in the Omnipresent Supreme Being, Who is the sustainer of the sun and the eternal laws, for getting strength and for the performance of all noble activities and approach. Enlightened men dwell in God and know themselves to be the born souls, though living with ordinary men.

PURPORT :—Those are truly learned persons who having associated with the scholars (of the past and present) acquire the knowledge of God, souls, matter and its effects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्योमन्) व्यापके । वि+अव मन अवघातोः । प्रवेशार्थ-मादाय व्याख्या । =Pervading. (सेदुषः) ज्ञानवतः । =Wise men. (ननक्षुः) प्राप्नुवन्ति । नक्षतिर्गति कर्मा (NG 14, 2) =Approach, attain.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are mentioned :

अं॒होयुव॑स्त॒न्व॑स्तन्वते॒ वि वयो॑ म॒हद्दु॒ष्टरं॑ पू॒र्व्याय॑ ।
स सं॒वतो॒ नव॑जातस्तुतुर्या॒त्सिं॒हं न क्रु॒द्धम॒भितः॒ परि॑ ष्ठुः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! if a person the righteous men separating all sins in the body extend great and rare new life and then remain happy. That men living in their company becomes highly learned with new practice and destroys all evils as an angry lion destroys the animals that approach him.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. Those men who keep themselves away from all sins and observe Dharma (righteousness), augment their physical and spiritual happiness and the span of life. As an angry lion slays the animals that come near him, so men should destroy all evils or woes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अंहोयुवः) यँऽहोऽपराधं युवन्ति पृथक्कुर्वन्ति ते । यु मिश्रणामिश्रणयोः (अदा) अत्र अमिश्रणार्थः अमिश्रणम् पृथक् करणम् । =Those who remove or separate all sins. (सः संवतः) ससेवमानः । सम+वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) =Serving. (तुतुर्यात्) हिंस्यात् तुरी-गतिस्वरण हिंसनयोः (दिवा) अत्रहिंसार्थः । =May kill.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened persons are told :

मातेव यद्भरसे पप्रथानो जनंजनं धायसे चक्षसे च ।
वयोवयो जरसे यद्दधानः परि त्मना विषुरूपो जिगासि ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you are a scholar as you are distinguished with regard to your knowledge, uphold every man to sustain and impart instructions to him like a mother. Leading a good life yourself you admire a desirable life and being a great scholar, you praise the properties of all things.

PURPORT :—Those learned persons become venerable in the world, who foster all students like mothers, who desire the advancement of all and instruct them about the actions which increase Brahmacharya and span of life.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विषुरूपः) प्राप्तविद्यः । वि+सु+रूपः =He who has acquired good knowledge. (जिगासि) प्रशंससि । (जिगासि) । गाः स्तुतौ (जुहो) । =Praise. (चक्षसे) ख्यापयितुम् । चक्षिङ् व्यक्तायां वाचि (प्रदा) =To tell, instruct.

The same subject of enlightened person's duties is continued :

वाजो नु ते शवसस्पात्वन्तमुरुं दोघं धरुणं देव रायः ।
पदं न तायुर्गुहा दधानो महो राये चितयन्नत्रिमस्पः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are giver of peace and bliss. May your impetus meet and maintain peak of strength and fulfil noble desires and uphold of the wealth. As a thief keeps contact with his colleague seeking his footprints, likewise bearing truth in the cave of the intellect for the acquirement of great wealth of wisdom and enlightening a protector of men, please all.

PURPORT :—As a thief follows another theif by seeking his footprints, same way, you should bear truth in your souls, fulfil your noble desires and please all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दोषम्) प्रपूरकम् । =Fulfiller (of noble desires). (अद्रिम्) पालकम् । =Protector of men. (प्रस्यः) प्रीणय । = Please, satisfy.

Sūktam—16

Rishi of the Sūktam-Puru Ātreya. Devata-Agni. Chhanda-Trishtup. Ushnik and Brihati. Svara-Dhaivata, Rishabha and Madhyama.

The energy is described :

बृहद्वयो हि भानवेऽर्चा देवायाग्नये ।
यं मित्रं न प्रशस्तिभिर्मर्तासो दधिरे पुरः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! honour or utilise properly Agni (in the form of energy) which is resplendent and endowed with divine properties is evident as men always have a friend in front of them with words of praise (to learn about it), and utilise it properly so that there may be a bright splendour (prospects).

PURPORT :—As a friend gets happy and grows by upholding a friend, in the same manner, the enlightened persons grow with bliss, after having acquired the knowledge of Agni (energy) and its other forms.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वयः) प्रदीपकं तेजः । (वयः) वी-व्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्यसन् खादनेषु-अत्र कान्त्यर्थं ग्रहणं । कृत्वा व्याख्या ।=Splendourt hat enkindles. (अग्नये) विद्युदाख्य । सर्वधातुभ्योऽसुन् (उणादिकोषे 3, 18, 9) इति वीधातोः असुन् प्रत्ययः । =For Agni in the form of the electricity.

The same subject of energy is continued :

स हि द्युभिर्जनानां होता दक्षस्य बाह्वोः ।
वि हव्यमग्निरानुषग्भगो न वारमृण्वति ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—A learned leader is purifier like Agni (energy) and giver of strength to the arms (armed strength Ed.) of the people (by teaching them proper exercise). Like the sun, he uses the acceptable and presentable objects suitably, and becomes powerful by fulfilling his righteous desires.

PURPORT :—Those highly learned persons only are fortunate who treat all people as their own selves, impart them knowledge and thus make them advanced in every way.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युभिः) धर्म्यैः कामैः (द्युभिः) दिवु-क्रीडा विजिगीषा-व्यवहार-द्युति-स्तुति मोदमद स्वप्नकान्तिः गतिषु (दिवा०) अत्र कान्तिः कामना । =By the fulfilment of righteous desires. ये मे पञ्चाशतं ददुरश्वानां सधस्तुति ।
द्युमदग्ने महि श्रवो बृहत्कृधि मघोनां नृवदमृत नृणाम् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the guests give me the admirable knowledge of Agni (energy, electricity) and other proper impetuous articles. Endowed with the light of true science, let them grant me vast and great knowledge and good food. O immortal (by the nature of soul) ! make the wealthy persons truly progressed like your leading men.

PURPORT :—O men ! honour the guests very well who impart you the knowledge of physics and other sciences.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्वानाम्) वेगवतामग्न्यादिपदार्थानाम् । =Of impetuous objects like the Agni (energy/electricity etc.) and others. (द्युमत्) यथार्थज्ञानप्रकाशयुक्तम् । =Endowed with the light of true knowledge.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अग्निर्वा अश्वः श्वेतः (Stph 3, 6, 2, 4) अग्निरेष यदश्वः (Stph 6, 3, 3, 22) । सोऽग्निरश्वो भूत्वा प्रथमः प्रजिगाय (Gopatha upanishad 3, 4, 11,) अश्वो न देववाहनः (ऋ. 3, 27 14) इति । अश्वेति वा एष (अग्निः) भूत्वा देवेभ्यो यज्ञं वहति (Stph 1, 4, 1, 30) ।

Sūktam—19

Rishi of the Sūktam-Vavri Atreya-Devata or Subject-Agni. Chhanda- Gāyatri, Ushnik, Anushtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara-Gāndhara and Rishabha.

The teachings of the enlightened person are stated :

अभ्यवस्थाः प्र जायन्ते प्र वव्रेर्वव्रिश्चिकेत । उपस्थे मातुर्वि चष्टे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! and accepter of truth experiences, the various (high, low and middle) states (accepter of truth) knows reality. He becomes distinguished by remaining close to and following her mothers' teachings since childhood.

PURPORT :—There is no living being who does not have high, middle and low states. But only that person is able to reform these various states, when trained by his mother, father and Acharya (precepter).

NOTES & REMARKS :=(वव्रिः) अङ्गीकर्त्ता । स्वीकर्त्ता । वृङ्.-वरणे (स्वा०) । =Accepter (of truth). (विचष्टे) विख्यायते । वि+चक्षिङ् व्यक्तायां वाचि दर्शनेऽपि । =Become distinguished.

More stated about the teachings from the enlightened persons :

जुहुरे वि चितयन्तोऽनिमिषं नृम्णं पान्ति । आ दृळ्हां पुरं विविशुः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—The persons who enlighten others day and night behave not crookedly but uprightely. They protect wealth (internal as well as external) enter into a strong city.

PURPORT :—The persons of upright nature are enlighteners of truth and are engaged in doing good work every moment. They bring prosperity to the State.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चितयन्तः) ज्ञापयन्तः । चिती-संज्ञाने (भ्वा.) । =Enlightening, teaching. (नृम्णम्) धनम् । नृम्णम् इति धननाम (NG 2,10) =Wealth. (जुहुरे) कुटिलयन्ति । (जुहुरे) हृ-कौटिल्ये (भ्वा.) । अत्र-विजुहुरे-सरलभावेन वर्तन्त इत्यर्थः । =Behave crookedly.

The enlightened persons are narrated :

आ श्वैत्रेयस्य जन्तवो द्युमद्वर्धन्त कृष्टयः
निष्कग्रीवो बृहदुक्थ एना मध्वा न वाजयुः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! all living beings including men grow in the midst of water in the firmament (raining water). A man desiring good food is delighted with this sweet water. Similarly a man who has ornaments made of gold (named nishka equal to four golden coins) in his neck is very much admired and enjoys glorious happiness.

PURPORT :—O men ! knowing that all substances are born of the water and have their origin in water, enjoy happiness of all kinds. (The human and other living beings have 85 percent, and more water in their bodies. Ed.).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्वैत्रेयस्य) श्वित्रास्वन्तरिक्षस्थासु दिक्षु भवस्य जलस्य । मधु इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) । =Of the water in the firmament. (कृष्टयः) मनुष्याः । कृष्टयः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । =Men. (वाजयुः) वाजमन्नमात्मन इच्छन् । =Desiring good food.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In the original Sanskrit commentary मघवा has been explained as मधुना though in the Hindi translation it has been rendered as मधुर जलसे. Better sense will be honey, which is considered in Ayurveda to be one of the best foods.

For teachings the enlightened persons are described :

प्रियं दुग्धं न काम्यमजामि जाम्योः सचा ।
घर्मो न वाजजठरोऽदब्धः शश्वतो दभः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—I have good appetite of a healthy person, am inviolable, and engaged in good actions. Ceselessly like the destructive force or dear like the milk. I attain whatever is desirable on the earth and heaven because they produce or contain food materials. You should also do the same with me.

PURPORT :—There is a simile used in the mantra. Those men are the protectors of all. like the earth who pervade (are knowers of) all sciences. As the sun light is dear to all like the milk, the followers of Dharm (righteousness) are also liked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जाम्योः) अत्तव्यान्नप्रदयोर्द्यावापृथिव्योः । अमु अदने (भ्वा.) । =Givers of food materials of the earth and heaven. (दभः) दभ्नाति हिनस्ति येन सः । दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) =Destructive. (अजामि) प्राप्नोमि । घर्म इति अहनाम् (NG 1, 19) । =Attain, achieve.

The enlightened persons are further mentioned :

क्रीळन्नो रश्म आ भुवः सं भस्मना वायुना वेविदानः ।
ता अस्य सन्धृषजो न तिग्माः सुसंशिता वक्ष्यो वक्षणेस्थाः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are like the rays of the sun. The Agni (in the form of energy/electricity) manifests itself alongwith light carrying its flames and air bestows happiness. They are similarly well-admired like the heroes lying in the vehicles impulsive armies. Supporting and ever cheerful, let them be giver of happiness to all.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. O learned person! as the extensive rays of the sun give happiness everywhere to all, in the same manner, being good scholars, you should go everywhere and gladden all by giving good sermons or teachings.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वक्षणेस्थाः) या वाहने तिष्ठन्ति ताः। वह-प्रापणे (स्था.)। = Laying or sitting in the vehicles. (वक्ष्यः) वोढ्यः। = Carrying. (रश्मे) रश्मिवद्वर्त्तमान विद्वान्। = O scholar who are like the rays of the sun.

Sūktam-20

Rishi of the Sŭktam-(Endeavouring) Atris. Devata or subject-Agni. Chhanda-Anushtup and Pankti, Svara-Gāndhāra and Panchama.

The duties of the enlightened persons, are mentioned with the word 'Agni' :

यमग्ने वाजसातम त्वं चिन्मन्यसे रयिम् ।
तं नो गीर्भिः श्रवाय्यं देवत्रा पनया युजम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O distributor of knowledge and other things among others! O highly learned person! whichever wealth you consider good for yourself, which (wealth) is to be admired by the truthful learned persons, which (wealth) is useful to hold (being noble), convey or disseminate that to others also (for their use) through your dealings and good speeches.

PURPORT :—Whatever good desire one has for his ownself, he should have the same kind of desire for others. That only is the righteous dealing. As living beings do not to suffer from miseries in their own case and pray and attempt for happiness, they should do the same for others also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजसातम) प्रतिशयेन वाजानां। विज्ञानादिपदार्थानां-

विभाजकं-तत्संबद्धौ । वाजः वन-गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् । =Distributor of true knowledge and other things among others. (पनया) व्यवहारेण प्रापय मन्त्रसंहितायामिति दीर्घः । पन-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च । अत्र व्यवहारार्थग्रहणम् । =Convey or disseminate it to achieve by your dealings.

The same subject of enlightened persons is continued :

ये अ॒ग्ने नेरय॑न्ति ते वृ॒द्धा उ॒ग्रस्य॒ शव॑सः ।
अप॒ द्वेषो॒ अप॒ ह्वरो॒ऽन्यव्र॑तस्य सश्चिरे ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! let the old (experienced) in knowledge and age act aimed at your sublime (superior) strength, and perish those who have malice towards you. Those who do not act on the path of an un-righteous person behaving crookedly, do not suffer or falter.

PURPORT:—Those persons only should be respected as old who always speak the truth, who make all happy by doing good to them and who never act against the injuction of Dharma.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शवसः) बलस्य । शव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 10) । =Of strength. (ह्वरः) कुटिलाचरणाः ह्वृ-कौटिल्ये (भ्वा०) । =Of crooked conduct.

The enlightened person's way of life is mentioned :

होता॑रं त्वा वृणीम॒हेऽग्ने॒ दक्ष॑स्य॒ साध॑नम् ।
य॒ज्ञेषु॑ पू॒र्व्यं गि॒रा प्रय॑स्वन्तो हवामहे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! we industrious perons invoke an accomplisher of strength in the Yajnas by our speech gained by ancient truthful persons, and choose (apply) Agni (energy) for happiness. So we choose you as a priest.

PURPORT :—The people have great regard for a benevolent person doing good to others. Therefore, the enlightened men always do good deeds to others.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(होतारम्) दातारम्। = Donor, giver of happiness etc. (प्रयस्वन्तः) प्रयतमानाः)। = Endeavouring, industrious.

The duties of the enlightened persons are told further :

इ॒त्था यथा॑ त ऊ॒तये॒ सह॑सावन् दि॒वेदि॑वे ।
रा॒य ऋ॒ताय॑ सुक्रतो॒ गोभिः॑ष्याम सध॒मादो॑ वी॒रैः स्या॑म सध॒माद॑: ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O mighty wise person ! we are ceaselessly endowed with noble speeches for protection and advancement and for the wealth earned with righteous conduct. Likewise you should also be. Let us be accompanied by the heroes day and night, living together.

PURPORT :—Only those persons enjoy happiness who work hard with strength for acquisition of wealth by taking the army of the heroes with them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋताय) धर्म्मव्यवहारेण प्राप्ताय। ऋ-गतौ (क्र्या) अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम्। = Received with righteous conduct. (सधमादः) सहस्थानाः। सह्सद तृप्तयोः (चुरा०)। = Having the same place, living together.

Sūktam—21

Rishi of the Sūktam-Sasa Ātreya. Devatā-Agni. Chhanda-Anushtup, Ushnik and Brihati of various kinds. Svara-Rishabha and Madhyama.

The enlightened persons (Agni) is mentioned :

म॒नु॒ष्वत्त्वा॒ नि धी॑महि मनु॒ष्वत्समि॑धीमहि ।
अग्ने॑ मनु॒ष्वद॑ङ्गिरो दे॒वान्दे॑वय॒ते य॑ज ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are dear to us like Prāna. We place Agni (fire/energy) for the accomplishment of various works. We make a man glorious (lit. enkindle) divine and make for him (in his favour) because he desires to enlightened persons to cultivate divine virtues, like a thoughtful person. In the same manner, we establish you in the performance of the truthful act and thus be united like good men.

PURPORT :—The thoughtful persons desire to cultivate divine virtues. They should know the science of Agni (energy/and electricity) and other objects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मङ्गिर:) प्राण इव प्रिय: । =Dear like Prāna. (यज) सङ्गच्छस्व । =Be united or associated. (देवयते) देवान् दिव्यगुणान्कामय-मानाय । =Desiring divine virtues.

The same subject of enlightened persons is dealt :

त्वं हि मानुषे जनेऽग्ने सुप्रीत इध्यसे ।
स्रुचंस्त्वा यन्त्यानुषक्सुजात सर्पिरासुते ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O well-born learned person ! you are purifier like the fire. As the fire is enkindled with ghee, in the same manner, you are enkindled in a famous man, when well-pleased with him. As the ladle and other implements of the Yajna are received suitable by you like wise you should be agreeable to all.

PURPORT :—O men ! the fire grows by the use of the sticks and ghee etc. Likewise, you should grow constantly by acquiring knowledge and cultivating good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जने) प्रसिद्धे । =Distinguished, famous. (आनुषक्) आनुकूल्येन । =Suitably, agreeably.

The attributes of a knower of technology are told :

त्वां विश्वे सजोषसो देवासो दूतमक्रत ।
सपर्यन्तस्त्वा कवे यज्ञेषु देवमीळते ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned poet ! all the enlightened persons loving and serving one another make the fire as messenger, and praise its properties in the company of good people, and thus serve or utilise it for various purposes. Likewise, we serve and honour you.

PURPORT :—Those who make the fire (energy) as messenger or communicator (taking from it various useful works) become owner of admirable wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सपर्यंन्तः) परिचरन्तः । जुषी-प्रीति सेवनयोः (तुदा०) =Serving. (सजोषसः) समान प्रीति सेविनः सपर्यति परिचरण कर्मा (NG 3, 5) =Loving and serving one another equally.

The enlightened persons is further highlighted :

देवं वो देवयज्ययाग्निमीळीत मर्त्यः ।
समिद्धः शुक्र दीदिह्यृतस्य योनिमासदः ससस्य योनिमासदः ॥ ४ ॥

4. *TRANSLATION :—*O highly learned persons ! let a man praise divine fire (or energy) in the company of absolutely truthful scholars. O mighty person ! being enkindled (enlightened) illuminate all.—Know the cause and property of true infinitesimal particles or atoms and also their cause and effect.

PURPORT :—The persons who accomplish their works after knowing the secrets of creation of including their cause and effect, know the order of thc creation. They however do not suffer.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋतस्य) सत्यस्य परमाण्वादेः । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) अत्र सत्य परमाण्वादे ग्रहणम् । =Of the true infinitesimal particles or atoms etc. (ससस्य) कार्य्यस्य । =Of the effect. (योनिम्) कारणम् । =Cause.

Sūktam-22

Rishi of the Sŭktam-Vishvasama Ātreya-Devatā-Agni Chhanda Gāndhāra. Svara-Rishibha-Brihati-Madhyama.

The Agni is mentioned :

प्र विश्वसामन्नत्रिवदर्चा पावकशोचिषे ।
यो अध्वरेष्वीड्यो होता मन्द्रतमो विशि ॥ १ ॥

1. *TRANSLATION :—*O man full of alround peace ! revere him (Agni-enlightened person) exceedingly like a distinguished scholar, because he is praiseworthy in all Yajnas or non-violent noble deeds, a liberal donor, endowed with much bliss among the people and shining like the purifying fire.

PURPORT :—Men should honour only righteous persons and not others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अत्रिवत्) व्यापकविद्यवत् । अत-सातत्यगमने धातु-पाठ । गमनस्य गतेर्वा त्रयोऽर्थाः ज्ञानं गमनं प्राप्तिश्च । ज्ञानार्थ-मादाय व्यापक विद्य इति व्याख्यानम् । =Like a person knower of many sciences. (पावक-शोचिषे) पावकस्य शोचिः प्रकाश इव प्रकाशो यस्य तस्मै । शोचिरिति ज्वलनाम (NG 1, 17) ज्वलनं प्रकाश इत्यर्थान्तरम् । =For a person whose life is like the light of the purifying fire.

The same subject of Agni is further developed :

न्य१ग्निं जातवेदसं दधाता देवमृत्विजम् ।
प्र यज्ञ एत्वानुषगद्या देवव्यचस्तमः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! utilise well that Agni which upholds and sometimes disintegrates or breaks up earth and other objects. It has to be united, and is pure like the performer of the Yajnas. It is present in created things and is endowed with divine attributes, functions and nature.

PURPORT :—As the Ritviks (performers of the Yajnas) conclude the Yajna, in the same manner, Agni (in the form of energy or electricity) accomplishes technological (projects).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञः) सङ्गन्तव्यः । यज धातो पूजा । अत्र सङ्गति करणार्थः । =Worthy or being united or used. (देवव्यचस्तमः) यो देवान्पृथिव्यादीन्धरति-भिनत्ति च सोऽतिशयितः । वि+अंजु गति पूजनयोः । अत्र गतेः गमनप्राप्त्यर्थं-ग्रहणम् । वि—विशिष्टतया वि—विरुद्धोर्थं । =Which upholds and sometimes breaks up earth and other objects.

The subject of Agni is further described :

चिकित्विन्मनसं त्वा देव मर्तास ऊतये ।
वरेण्यस्य तेऽवंस इयानासो अमन्महि ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! let us the mortals know you well, because you are endowed with enlightened mind. We approach you by the association of your desirable protective cover shining and purifying.

PURPORT :—Men should carry out research into sciences by the association of highly learned scientists.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चिकित्वन्मनसम्) चिकित्विमाविज्ञानवतां मनइव मनो यस्य तम् । चिती-संज्ञाने (भ्वा.) अत्र धातोरनेकार्थत्वात्र कान्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम् । Whose mind is like the mind of great scholars or scientists. (अवस:) कमनीयस्य । कान्ति: कामना । =Of desirable protection. (इयानास:) प्राप्नुवन्त: इणगतौ (अदा.) । =Approaching.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Even the translation of Prof. Wilson of चिकित्वन्मनसम् as "who are of intelligent mind" clearly shows that by Agni, material fire is not meant but a highly learned leader. Strangely and erroneously Prof. Wilson and many western scholars like him think that fire is glorified in such mantras.

The Agni is further mentioned :

अग्ने चिकिद्ध्य१स्य न इदं वचः सहस्य ।
तं त्वा सुशिप्र दम्पते स्तोमैर्वर्धन्त्यत्रयो गीर्भिः शुम्भन्त्यत्रयः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O powerful and learned husband and wife ! you have handsome chin and nose. The persons free from three kinds of misery—physical and mental, social and cosmic-grow harmoniously because of admirable dealings and men free from lust, anger and greed purify all by their noble speeches. Therefore, know well this our utterance and of the devotee. We revere you.

PURPORT :—The industrious persons make all grow and preachers purify all. All men should also act like that.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुशिप्र) शोभनाहनुनासिक । =Having handsome chin and nose. (अत्रय:) अविद्यमानत्रिविधदु:खा: । =Free from three kinds of misery आध्यात्मिक (physical & mental) आधिभौतिक (Social) आधिदैविक (Cosmic) । (अत्रय:) त्रिभि: काम क्रोध लोभ दोषै: रहिता: । =Free from the three evils of lust, anger and greed.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The second interpretation given by Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati reminds the verse in the Bhagavad Gita. त्रिविधं नरकस्येदं, नाशनमात्मन: । काम: क्रोधस्तथा लोभ:, तस्मादेतत् त्रय त्यजेत् । (गीता अ. १६) । It is wrong on the part of Prof Wilson and Griffith to take the word अत्रय:—twice, used in this mantra and else where, as the sons of the Atri-a particular sage. It is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic Termology.

Sūktam—23

Rishi of the Sūktam-Dyumna Vishvacharshani. Devatā or subject-Agni. Chhanda-Anushtap and Pankti of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of Agni (a brave person) are told :

अग्ने॒ सह॑न्तमा भ॑र द्यु॒म्नस्य॑ प्रा॒सहा॑ र॒यिम् ।
विश्वा॒ यश्च॑र्ष॒णीर॒भ्या॒३॑सा वाजे॑षु सा॒सह॑त् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O brave person ! you are full of splendour like the fire, give us wealth of good reputation because it overcomes all powerful and glorious armies and gives inspiring and exhorting teachings with your mouth.

PURPORT :—A desirous to achieve victory has well-trained army of brave soldier. Having inspired them with the teaching of heroism, he urges them to fight with foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नस्य) धनस्य यशसो वा । द्युम्नम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशोवा अन्नं वा (NKT 5,1,5) । =Of wealth or good reputation. (प्रासहा) याः प्रकर्षेण शत्रुबलानि सहन्ते ताः सेनाः। मन्त्रान्येषामपीत्याद्यचो दीर्घः। =The armies which can overcome the strength of the adversaries. (चर्षणीः) प्रकाशमाना मनुष्यसेनाः। =The glorious armies of men.

The brave persons are highlighted :

तमग्ने पृतनाषहं रयिं सहस्व आ भर ।
त्वं हि सत्यो अद्भुतो दाता वाजस्य गोमतः ॥ २ ॥

2\. TRANSLATION :—O mighty king ! bring to us that hero who is the best among good men, gives happiness and wealth consisting of many cattle, land and wealth. Endowed with wonderful actions, that brave man enables to defeat the army of the foes.

PURPORT :—That king alone can achieve victory and attain prosperity, who supports truthful, highly learned, firm, liberal and brave persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सहस्वः) बहु सहो बलं विद्यते यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ सह इति बलनाम (NG 3, 9)। =Very powerful. (वाजस्य) सुखधनादेः। वाज इति धननाम (NG 2, 9)। =Of happiness and wealth etc.

The attributes of a hero are told :

विश्वे हि त्वा सजोषसो जनासो वृक्तबर्हिषः ।
होतारं सद्मसु प्रियं व्यन्ति वार्या पुरु ॥ ३ ॥

3\. TRANSLATION :—O king ! all the highly learned persons take shelter under you, who are a liberal donor at your palace to all. Loving and serving one another, famous for their good character and conduct, proficient in all sciences like the priests well-versed in the Vedas, such brave persons acquire much wealth.

PURPORT :—O king ! you must always protect and honour those staff who love to take the state on the path of progress and are righteous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृक्तबर्हिषः) श्रीविद्या ऋत्विज इव सर्वविद्यासु कुशलाः। वृक्तबर्हिषः इति ऋत्विङ्नाम (NG 3, 18)। =Proficient in all sciences, like the priests well-versed in the Vedas. (जनासः) प्रसिद्धशुभाचरणाः। जनी-प्रादुर्भावे। =Famous for their good character and conduct.

The subject of brave persons is further developed :

स हि ष्मा विश्वचर्षणिरभिमाति सहो दधे।
अग्ने एषु क्षयेष्वा रेवन्नः शुक्र दीदिहि द्युमत्पावक दीदिहि ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned mighty person! you shine like the fire. One can certainly be a victor who is endowed with the light of all knowledge, upholds power in the dwelling places which ultimately creates self-respect and self-confidence. With the help of such a person, grant unto us articles with admirable wealth. O purifire! with pure character and conduct you enlighten us well.

PURPORT :—The men who possess perfect physical and spiritual power are able to impart strength to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विश्वचर्षणिः) अखिलविद्याप्रकाशः। चर्षणिरिति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) पद-गतौ। गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम्। विश्वचर्षणीः इति-पश्यति कर्म (NG 3, 11)। =A man full of the light of the knowledge of all sciences. (दीदिहि) १. देहि =Give २. प्रकाशय। =Enlighten.

Sūktam—24

Rishi of the Sŭktam-Bandhu, Subandhu, Shruta Bandhu and Vipra Bandhu. Devata-Agni. Chhanda-Bhūrig Brahati.

The attributes of Agni (God or king) are told :

अग्ने त्वं नो अन्तम उत त्राता शिवो भवा वरूथ्यः ॥ १ ॥
वसुरग्निर्वसुश्रवा अच्छा नक्षि द्युमत्तमं रयिं दाः ॥ १ ॥ २ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king! you are our close friend, our protector and auspicious, and are living in good abode and providing others also to inhabit, with wealth and food materials. Be auspicious and protector like Agni, (fire). Grant us most glorious wealth.

(2) In the case of God as pointed out by Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati in his purport-O God ! you are our close friend (on account of your Omnipresence), our saviour, and conferer of bliss and worthy of the highest praise.

PURPORT :—A ruler should be like God who is Omnipresent, protector of all, gives joy to all, and provide all objects happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अन्तम:) समीपस्थ: । अन्तम: अन्तिकम: अन्तिक कस्मादानीतं भवति (NKT 3, 2, 10) ।=Living near us. (वरूथ्य:) वरूथेषूत्तमेषु गृहेषु भव: वरूथम् इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) ।=Living in good houses or abodes. (वसुश्रवा:) धनधान्ययुक्ता: । श्रव इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 20) ।= Endowed with wealth and foodgrains etc.

———

The duties of the enlightened persons are further told by the name of Agni :

स नो बोधि श्रुधी हवमुरुष्या णो अघायतः समस्मात् ॥ ॥
तं त्वा शोचिष्ठ दीदिवः सुम्नाय नूनमीमहे सखिभ्यः ॥ ३ ॥ ४ ॥

3. & 4. TRANSLATION :—O ruler ! you are thoroughly purifier and illuminator of truth, therefore enlighten us. Listen attentively to what we read as memorandum or our invocation. Keep us away from all sinners or desires of committing sins. We pray to you for our happiness and the happiness of our friends.

PURPORT :—All subjects should pray to the ruler in the following manner :

You should keep away all sins and crimes, and protect us.

Augment the dissemination of knowledge, increase happiness for all righteous friends and punish the wicked constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शोचिष्ठ) अतिशयेन शोधक:। शुचिर्-पूतीभावे (दिवा)। =Exceedingly purifier. (दीदिव:) सत्यप्रद्योतक:। दीदयति ज्वलति कर्मा (NG 1, 16)।=Illuminator of truth. (ईमहे) याचामहे। ईमहे याच्या-कर्मा (NG 1, 16) =Beg for, pray.

Sūktam—25

Rishi of the Sūktam-Ātreyas (the sons of Atri). Chhanda-Anushtup and Ushnik. Svara-Dhaivata and Rishabha.

The attributes of Agni are told :

अच्छा वो अग्निमवसे देवं गासि स नो वसुः।
रासत्पुत्र ऋषूणामृतावा पर्षति द्विषः॥ १॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned person! the radiant Agni (fire) you admire for your protection. That Agni is giver of various articles like the sons of the seers who are distinguisher of truth from untruth, and overcomes the foes and gives us victory.

PURPORT :—As a good son of a scholar, having become highly learned abandons greed and other evils and makes his parents happy, in the same manner, the fire (energy) when properly utilised bestows happiness upon all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋषूणाम्) मन्त्रार्थविदाम्। अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेन इकारस्य स्थाने उत्वम्। =Of the knowers of the meanings of the Vedas. (ऋतावा) सत्यासत्यस्य विभाजक:। (वन-संभक्तौ)। =Distinguisher between truth and false-hood.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Victory can be achieved by the use of Agneyastra and other powerful electric weapons. (Agni here.)

Now the duties of Agni (ruler) are told :

स हि सत्यो यं पूर्वे चिद्देवासश्चिद्यमीधिरे ।
होतारं मन्द्रजिह्वमित्सुदीतिभिर्विभावसुम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—That truthful and noble king alone is fit to rule whom even the old (experienced) scholars enkindle or enlighten, because he is a liberal donor, sweet-tongued, and endowed with glorious wealth and holy splendour.

PURPORT :—That king alone is able to protect the people and make the state prosperous who is honoured on account of his virtues accepted even by absolutely truthful enlightened person.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदीतिभिः) सुष्ठु दीप्तिभिस्सहितम् । सु+दीप्तिभिः वर्णलोपः । =Endowed with holy splendours. (विभावसुम्) प्रकाशयुक्त वसु धनं यस्य तम् । वि+भा+वसु भा-दीप्तौ (अदा) । =Possessor of glorious wealth.

The attributes of Agni (enlightened persons) are told :

स नो धीती वरिष्ठया श्रेष्ठया च सुमत्या ।
अग्ने रायो दिदीहि नः सुवृक्तिभिर्वरेण्य ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O acceptable learned king ! you are purifier like the fire. Give us riches free from all evils alongwith the choicest, most excellent, the best and subtle intellect through the action.

PURPORT :—Only those should be honoured by all who desire to have good intellect.

NOTES :— (सुवृक्तिभिः) सुष्ठु वृक्तिर्वर्जनं यासां ताभिः क्रियाभिः । =Through the activities free from sins.

The same subject of duties of the Agni are stated :

अग्निर्देवेषु राजत्यग्निर्मर्तेष्वाविशन् ।
अग्निर्नो हव्यवाहनोऽग्निं धीभिः सपर्यत ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! know the various kinds of

Agni and serve them with good intellect. There is an Agni (highly learned person) purifier like the fire who shines among the persons, of his class. There is another Agni (in the form of energy) which shines among the mortals when used methodically or scientifically. There are third and fourth categories of Agni in the form of the fire and the sun which carries the oblations to distant places.

PURPORT :—O learned persons! if you know well Agni of various kinds as hinted at the mantra, what happiness is there you may not obtain? (You will get it all).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्निः) १-पावक-इव वर्तमानो विद्वान् अग्निः कस्मादग्रणीर्भवति (NKT 7, 4, 15) अग्निरिति पदनाम (NG 5, 1) पद-गतौ गतेस्त्रयोऽर्थाः ज्ञानं गमनं प्राप्तिश्च । विद्वदर्थे ज्ञानार्थ ग्रहणम् । पावक सूर्यार्थे सुखतापादि प्रापकम् । =A scholar who is purifier like the fire. 5. TRANSLATION :—O well-honoured king ! you observe non-violence well, like the kindled Agni (fire) well, like the upholder of the earth etc. In the same manner, you worship and support the divine virtues and persons. Therefore you are the best.

PURPORT :—The Agni (in the form of the sun, power. energy etc.) protects or sustains all. In the same manner, the king protects and sustains all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यजति) पूजयति । यज-देवपूजा संगतिकरण दानेषु (भ्वा) अत्र पूजार्थ-ग्रहणम् । ध्वरति-वधकर्मा (NKT 2, 19 =Worship. (स्वध्वर) सुष्ठु अहिंसायुक्त । Observer of non-violence well. (आहुत) सत्कृत । =Honoured. (हव्यवाट्) पृथिव्यादि वोढा । =Upholder of earth and other things.

The duties of the enlightened persons are further highlighted :

आ जुहोता दुवस्यताग्निं प्रयत्यध्वरे । वृणीध्वं हव्यवाहनम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! the Yajna (dealing of technology etc.) requires great endeavour for its completion. Serve or properly utilise the Angi (purifying fire), accept it and give it (its knowledge) to others because it is the conveyor of good articles.

PURPORT :—The students should themselves accept and experiment on the technical science, as the expert artists or technicians do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दुवस्यत) परिचरत । दुवस्यति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) =Serve for utilise methodically. (हव्यवाहनम्) उत्तम-पदार्थप्रापकम् हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (जु) अत्र आदानार्थं ग्रहणम् । वह प्रापणे (भ्वा) । =Conveyor or conferer of good articles. Sūktam—29

Rishi of the Sūktam-Gauriveeti. Devatā-Indra or Ushana. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

Attributes and duties of Indra (a king) are told :

त्र्यर्य॒मा मनु॑षो दे॒वता॑ता त्री रो॑च॒ना दि॒व्या धा॑रयन्त ।
अर्च॑न्ति त्वा म॒रुतः॑ पू॒तद॑क्षा॒स्त्वमे॑षा॒मृषि॑रिन्द्रासि॒ धीरः॑ ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are organiser of prosperity. The persons who uphold three illuminating qualities i.e. knowledge, action and communion in their dealings with the enlightened men, with an organiser or manager who upholds happiness of three kinds (physical, mental and spiritual); with those mortals, who endowed with pure strength honour you; to all of them, you the knower of the meanings of the mantras are giver of good intellect or advice to all of them.

PURPORT :—Those persons only are honoured everywhere who become pure by upholding three qualities-knowledge, action and communion and who acquire strength thereby.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवताता) विद्वत्कर्त्तव्ये व्यवहारे । =In the dealings or transacted by highly learned persons. (ऋषि:) मन्त्रार्थवेत्ता । =The knower of the meanings of the mantras.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—विद्वांसो हि देवा: (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) ऋषिर्दर्शनात् स्तोमान् ददर्शेत्योपमन्यव:, तदायते नास्तपस्यमानाम् ब्रह्म स्वयम्भवभ्यानर्षत् त ऋषयोऽभवन् । तदृषीणां ऋषित्वमिति विज्ञायते । (NKT 2, 3, 11) त्रीणिसुखानि अव्याख्यातानि भाष्येऽत्र । तानि भौतिकमानसिकात्मिक सुखरूपेण ग्रहीतुं शक्यन्ते, आध्यात्मिकाधिभौतिकाधिदैविकानि वा ।

The same subject of Indra is continued :

अनु॒ यदीं॑ म॒रुतो॑ मन्दसा॒नमार्च॒न्निन्द्रं॑ पपि॒वांसं॑ सु॒तस्य॑ ।
आद॑त्त॒ वज्र॑म॒भि यदहिं॒ हन्न॒पो य॒ह्वीर॑सृज॒त्सर्त॒वा उ॑ ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should always be first.

When men honour the prosperous, you are admired because of your being the protector of the kingdom obtained. You accept this adoration with gladness. As the striking thunderbolt sun kills the clouds and generates great waters to go down, same way, you should dispense justice.

PURPORT :—A king should also honour the men who honour him well. As the sun protects the whole world by killing the clouds and by letting the waters flow, in the same manner, a ruler should kill the wickeds and protect the noble persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्दसानम्) स्तूयमानम् । =Being admired. (ईम्) सर्वत: । =From all sides. (सुतस्य) प्राप्तस्य राज्यस्य । =Of the kingdom which has been obtained or annexed. (अहिम्) मेघम् । अहिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) मदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्ति गातिषु (भ्वा) अत्र स्तुत्य । =Cloud.

The duties of a king (Indra) are narrated :

उत ब्रह्माणो मरुतो मे अस्येन्द्रः सोमस्य सुषुतस्य पेयाः ।
तद्धि हव्यं मनुषे गा अविन्ददहन्नहिं पपिवाँ इन्द्रो अस्य ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the sun drinks the juice (of the plants etc. or of the rivers/ponds/oceans) while you drink the juice of this soma (which makes a man healthy and therefore prosperous). It (juice) is well pressed (extracted) by me and by my this friend, so that you may get good cattle and noble speech for the benefit of men. As the sun after drinking (drawing) the water of the ocean slays the clouds, same way, you kill the wicked and protect the State well. O knowers of the four Vedas and other good and brave men ! you shold also do likewise.

PURPORT :—Those men become men of liberal ideas who having studied all the Vedas, renouncing all that should not be eaten or drunk. They also create the light of truth and ward off the untruth like the sun and do justice like a judge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सोमस्य) ऐश्वर्यकारकस्य । =Of Soma which. creates prosperity. (पपिवान्) पानकरः सूर्यः प्र. प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (स्वा.) =The sun which drinks or draws water (of the ocean etc.)

The duties of a king are told :

आद्रोदसी वितरं विष्कंभायत्संविव्यानश्चिद्भियसे मृगं कः ।
जिगर्तिमिन्द्रो अपजर्गुराणः प्रति श्वसन्तमव दानवं हन् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as the sun covers firmly heaven and earth, you restrain from down fall by your attracting power, and by your persuation, inpress all, as the deer are frightened by the lion. In the same manner, killing the wicked and being admired thereby, you protect all the living beings.

PURPORT :—The kings who sustain the State like the sun, frighten the wickeds as the lion frightens the deer. By so doing, they may spread far and wide their good reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(संविव्यान:) सम्यग्व्याप्नुवन् । सं+वि+वी गति व्याप्तिप्रजन कान्त्यसन् खादनेषु । अत्र गत्यर्थः । =Pervading well. (जिगर्त्तिम्) प्रशंसा निगलनं वा गृ-निगरणे (तु०) गृ-शब्दो (चुरा.) अत्र स्तुति शब्दार्थं ग्रहणम् । =Praise or swallowing up. Here the first meaning has been taken.

The knowledge preached by the learned people is praised :

अध क्रत्वा मघवन्तुभ्यं देवा अनु विश्वे अददुः सोमपेयम् ।
यत्सूर्यस्य हरितः पतन्तीः पुरः सतीरुपरा एतशे कः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! he knows the nature of the sustaining rays of the sun falling from the front. Sporting near us (so to speek) like a rider on the horse, because of the knowledge given by him, all learned persons give you the good and worth-drinking juice of the Soma, and thus they become scientists by using their sharp intellect.

PURPORT :—O men ! as there are various elements in the solar system; many kinds of forms are seen. You should know their charactestcs.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरित:) हरितवर्णाः किरणाः । हरित आदित्यस्य आदिष्टोपयोजनानि (NG 1, 15) & (NG 1, 6) । =Rays of the sun of green and other colours. (उपरा:) समीपे रममाणाः । उपरा इति दिङ्नाम । उप समीपे रमन्ते इति उपरा: किरणागृहीताः । =Sporting near. (एतशे) अश्वे-अश्विक इव । एतश इति अश्वनाम (NG 1, 14)=Like a rider on the horse.

The duties of a ruler are stated :

नव यद॑स्य नव॒तिं च॑ भोगान्त्साकं वज्रे॑ण म॒घवा॑ वि॒वृश्च॑त् ।
अर्च॒न्तीन्द्रं॑ म॒रुतः॑ स॒धस्थे॒ त्रैष्टु॑भेन॒ वच॑सा बाधत॒ द्याम् ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! endowed with much wealth, you should end the misery and poverty of your subject. As the sun generates innummerable (literally ninety-nine) enjoyment and dispels darkness by his thunderbolt (in the form of the rays), and as men honour prosperous king standing by their side at the crucial stages, with speech (exhortions) is admired in three ways. He destroys attachment of desires or passions.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should provide innummerable enjoyments for your subjects, by giving up attachment to desires or lustful passion and giving due respect to all justifiably.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विवृश्चत्) छिनत्ति । =Cuts, dispels darkness etc. (द्याम्) कामनाम् । =Strong desire or passion. (त्रैष्टुभेन) त्रिधास्तुतेन । =By the speech praised in three ways.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—प्रश्चू छेदने (तुदा) द्याम् दिवुधातोरनेकार्थेषु अत्र कान्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । कान्ति कामना । By three ways may be taken in the mind, words and deeds. The exact significance of the number नव-नवति (९९) is yet a matter further research for the Vedic scholars.

The duties of sun (a king) are told:

सखा सख्ये अपचत्तूयमग्निरस्य क्रत्वा महिषा त्री शतानि ।
त्री साकमिन्द्रो मनुषः सरांसि सुतं पिबद्वृत्रहत्याय सोमम् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—The Agni (in the form of the fire/energy and sun) soon illuminates three worlds in the middle of the universe and drinks the water of the tanks (by drying it up), and for the slaying the clouds ripens Soma and other things that lead to prosperity in the long run (by increasing physical and mental strength). In the same manner, a friend by the power of his intellect or actions, protects three hundred big animals (cattle wealth) for the welfare of his friend.

PURPORT :—The sun manifests the gross objects that are above, below and in the middle. In the same manner, a king should manifest all good, bad and indifferent dealings and deal with all in a judicious manner.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महिषा) महिषाणां महताम् पशूनाम् । महिष इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) = Big animals. (इन्द्रः) सूर्यः । = The sun. (वृत्रहत्याय) मेघस्य । हननाय । = For slaying the cloud.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—इन्द्र इति ह्येतमाचक्षते य एष सूर्यः तपति (Stph 4, 6, 7, 11) स यः स इन्द्र एष एव तः. य एष सूर्यः) एव तपति Jaiminiyopnishad Brahman 1, 28, 2, 11, 3, 2, 5) वृत्र इति मेघनाम (1. 10) । The exact significance of the number 300 given in the mantra in connection with big animals is still a matter of research for the Vedic scholars.

The duties of a king are told further :

त्री यच्छता महिषाणामघो मास्त्री सरांसि मघवा सोम्यापाः ।
कारं न विश्वे अह्वन्त देवा भरमिन्द्राय यदहिं जघान ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are inviolable make or manufacture three hundred big articles. O man of peaceful disposition like the moon? endowed with abundant wealth you protect these your subjects, like the sun protects the articles on earth, in clouds and in the firmament. When you destroy the cloud, all highly learned persons invoke you for protection, like they invite a good worker for the attianment of prosperity? You should also always endeavour for prosperity.

PURPORT :—As all accept (like) an industrious person, in the same manner, the sun takes or draws the water as ordained by God As by the use of big things men accomplish hundreds of works, a king should accomplish the great statecraft with the cooperation and help of great men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महिषाणाम्) महतां पदार्थानाम् । =Of big or great things. (अघ:) अहन्तव्य: । =Inviolable. (भरम्) पालनम् । = Nourishment or protection.

*TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—*अ+हन हिंसागत्योः (अ.)। अत्र हिंसार्थं ग्रहणम् । भृञ्+भरणे (भ्वा.) डुभृञ् । धारणपोषणयो (जु.) It is a absurd on the part of Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson and Griffith to translate the word महिष used here and in the previous mantra as buffalo, like in classical Sanskrit. In Vedic laxican named Nighantu (3, 3) it is clearly stated महिष इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3). In the mantra like ऋतावान महिषं विश्वदर्श-तमग्निं सुम्नायदधिरे पुरोजन्म: महिषम् has been used as the epithet of Agni and all the above scholars have taken it to mean 'great.' Even in classical Sanskrit, the word महिषी is used for queen as she is to be honoured root verb being मह-पूजायाम् । Therefore to translate the first two stanzas of the mantra by Sayanacharya as हे इन्द्र त्वं (यत्) यदास्त्रो । त्रयाम्मं (शत) शतसंख्यानां महिषाणां पशूनां (मा:) मांसानि (अद्य:) भक्षित वससि is out of context and relevance to mention killing and eating of meal of the buffaloes. Is it possible for Indra or even a demon to eat the flesh of three hundred buffaloes at a time as Wilson has rendered into English saying "When thou (O Indra) hadst eaten the flesh of the three hundred buffaloes, then all the gods summoned thee to battle (Vol. III P. 203)? Griffith has also translated with the same absurdity and ridiculous manner saying "when thou three hundred buffaloes flesh hadst eaten 'etc. (The Hymns of the Ridveda : translated by Griffith P. 489) when the Vedas enjoin upon us to look upon all beings with the eyes of a friend मित्रस्याहं-चक्षुषा सर्वाणि भूतानि समीक्षे मित्रस्य चक्षुषा समीक्षामहे (Yajur 36, 18) and when meat eating is condemned like drinking and gambling with "Vedas" यथा मांसं यथा सुरा यथाक्षा अधिदेवने (attai 6, 108) how can it be possible for Indra, the king of the Devas to take meat, not of one buffalow, but of three hundred, as has been rendered in the mantras. मा: never means मांसानि or meat. It means as Rishi Dayanand has interpreted मा: रचये: as to make because is derived from माङ्-माने (दिवा०) Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati has based his interpretation of महिषाणाम् or phenomenal task on the basis of महिष इतिमहन्नाम (NG 3, 3) ।

The duties of a king are further stated :

उशना यत्संहस्यै३रयातं गृहमिन्द्र जूजुवानेभिरश्वैः ।
वन्वानो अत्रं सरथं ययाथ कुत्सेन देवैरवनोर्ह शुष्णाम् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king and your friend desiring the welfare of others ! come to your home loaded with many useful and nourishing articles in the vehicles drawn by speedy horse or by Agni (energy or electricity etc). With a powerful act like that of a thunderbolt, desiring or paying for the protection of all good men, with the help of the highly learned persons, in fact it is you who protect them. O men ! you should also accompany them in chariots.

PURPORT :—The king and others who are civilised, can manufacture aircraft and other vehicles and annihilate the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उशना) कामयमानः । =Desiring the welfare of all. (कुत्सेन) वज्रेणेव दृढेन कर्मणा । =With a powerful act like a thunderbolt.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) शुष्णम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson & Griffith and others have wrongly interpreted the words used in the mantras like Kutsa and Shushna as the names of particular persons. It is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic terminology and the Vedic lexion Nighantu as quoted above. Sayanacharya's interpretation of शुष्यम् as एतन्नामानसुरम् can not be authentic as it is against his own preliminary Introduction to the Rigveda Samhita. Rishi Dayanand Sarasvati's interpretation of कुत्स, शुष्य other words is based upon Nighantu, the Vedic lexicon.

King's duties are elaborated :

प्रान्यच्चक्रमवृहः सूर्यस्य कुत्सायान्यद्वरिवो यातवेऽकः ।
अनासो दस्यूँरमृणो वधेन नि दुर्योण आवृणङ् मृध्रवाचः ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION.—O king ! add another wheel like that of the sun and have greater use or service for your thunderbolt for going to distant places. Finish the robbers and thieves with fatal weapons cutting their face (nose or body Ed.). Do not allow men of violent speech to remain in your home (kingdom. Ed.)

PURPORT :—As the sun makes its cycle with attractive or gravitative powers, in the same way, you should go around your kingdom with aircraft and other swift transport. Having destroyed robbers, thieves and men of wicked speech, make all honest people and utterers of good words (language) gather around you.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कुत्साय) वज्राय । कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) । =For the thunderbolt. (वरिवः) परिचरणम् । =Service, use. (मृध्रवाचः) हिंस्रावाचो जनान् मृध हिंसायाम् । = To men of using offensive language.

The duties of a ruler are stated further :

स्तोमा॑सस्त्वा गौरि॑वीतेव॒र्धन्नर॑न्धयो वैद॒थि॒नाय॒ पिप्रु॑म् ।
आ त्वामृ॒जिश्वा॑ स॒ख्याय॑ च॒क्रे पच॑न्प॒क्तीरपि॑बः॒ सोम॑मस्य ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the admirable persons or speeches grow or develop by your association. Alongwith them, take up to destroy the hideouts of the enemies by a man exhorting in the battle. The person who makes friendship with you like a faithful dog of upright nature, take food supplies from him (when invited) and drink Soma or use wealth offered by him with love. Let you honour all those who protect you.

PURPORT :—O king ! with the persons who make you grow with noble virtues and who know (and treat. Ed.) you as friend, make friendship with them and grow your prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गौरिवीतेः) यो गौरीं वाचं व्येति सः गौरीति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11,) =He who pervades or is expert in the use of refined speech. (वैदिथिनाय) विदिथिना सङ्ग्रामकर्त्रा निर्मिताय । =Made or sent by a war manager. (ऋजिश्वा) ऋजि सरलश्चासौ । =A faithful dog of upright nature.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—वी गतिव्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्यशन खादनेषु (अत्र व्याप्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम्) Here again Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others like them have erred to take Gauiveeti, Pipru, Vaidithina and Rajishva as Proper Nouns-the names of particular persons. It should be rather proper and meaningful to take their derivative words denoting soul attributes, as explained by Maharshi Dayanand because it was contrary to the basic principle of the vedic terminology and Shri Sayanacharya's own introduction of the Rigveda Samhita upholding the eternity of the Vedas.

The attributes and duties of the enlightened persons are told :

नव॑ग्वासः सु॒तसो॑मास॒ इन्द्रं॒ दश॑ग्वासो अ॒भ्य॑र्चन्त्य॒र्कैः ।
गव्यं॑ चिदू॒र्वम॑पि॒धान॑वन्तं॒ तं चि॒न्नरः॑ शशमा॒ना अप॑ व्रन् ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you should also provide instruction or noble advice to men, endowed with the wealth of knowledge, who have acquired wealth and various herbs like the Soma, who are new or original in their pursuits, who have perfect control over their ten senses (five senses of preception and five of actions). In fact, they have shaken off inorance, and honour ably accept noble thoughts from all sides. That Indra (desirous of more wealth of wisdom) is fond of and protector of the cattle, is dispeller of ignorance and is covered with (full of Ed.) humility other noble virtues. All his ignorance is removed by the enlightened men.

PURPORT :—Eager to learn more and more sciences, and desirous of acquiring true wealth (of wisdom etc.), the self-controlled scholars make the ignorant highly learned, and thus become worthy of veneration.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नवग्वास:) नवीनगतय: नवग्वा: नवगतयो नवनीतगतयो वेति (NKT 11, 2, 19)=Men of new or orginal pursuits. (दशग्वास:) दश गाव इंद्रियाणि जितानि यैस्ते । =Who have conquered all their ten senses i. e, five senses of perceptian and five senses of action. (ऊर्वम्) अविद्याहिंसकम् ऊर्वी-हिंसायां (भ्वा.) । =Destroyer of ignorance. (शशमाना:) अविद्या उल्लङ्घमाना: शश प्लुतगतौ (भ्वा.) प्लुतगति एल्लङ्घम् । मर्के मन्द्यो-भवणीय दनेनार्चन्ति (NG 5, 11, 4) =Transgressing or going beyond all ignorance.

The duties of learned person are further described :

कथो नु ते परिं चराणि विद्वान्वीर्यां मघवन्या चकर्थं ।
या चो नु नव्यां कृणवः शविष्ठ प्रेदु ता तें विदथेंषु ब्रवाम ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O learned king ! endowed with much admirable wealth, you should accept the mighty and admire armies which you have raised in a wonderful way, by training new recruits as yourself are a great instructor. O most powerful man ! you should accept or pay attention to (the command. Ed.) the words which we utter in the battlefield.

PURPORT :—Men should acquire wealth by getting knowledge of the latest new (discoveries and inventions. Ed.) sciences and by accomplishing them at the earliest.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वीर्या) वीर्ययुक्तानि सैन्यानि । =Powerful armies. (विदथेषु) संङ्ग्रामेषु। विदथानीति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) पद-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु गमन प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय सङ्ग्रामार्थ: सम्भवति। यत्र वीरा गच्छन्ति स्वकर्तव्यपूर्त्यै प्राप्नुवन्ति च विजयं धने वा । =In battles.

The same subject of ruler's duties is dealt :

ए॒ता विश्वा॑ चकृ॒वाँ इ॑न्द्र॒ भूर्यप॑रीतो ज॒नुषा॑ वी॒र्ये॑ण ।
या चि॒न्नु व॑ज्रिन्कृ॒णवो॑ दधृ॒ष्वान्न ते॑ व॒र्ता तवि॑ष्या अस्ति॒ तस्याः॑ ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are endowed with much wealth and powerful armies and missiles and are never deserted by your subjects, or devoid of noble virtues by your second birth through Vedarambh (sacred thread) ceremony. And by your strength you have collected all these virtues and useful commodities and have acquired many powers. There is no one to resist your powerful army.

PURPORT :—The king and officers of the State should acquire all knowledge by the observance of the Brahmcharya (continence) upto the age of forty years and after their return from the Gurukula (through Samavartana Sanskara) should marry-choice and strengthen the army. Thus he should protect the subjects from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अपरीत:) अवर्जित: । =Not deserted by the subjects of devoid of noble virtues. (तविष्या:) बलयुक्ताया: सेनाया: =Of powerful army.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—तविषीति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) अत्र बलयुक्तसेना ग्रहणम् Supporting by in the Hindi translation in the mantra of the original Sanskrit चत्वारिंशद्वयस्का: Meaning of forty years has been rendered as चवालीस वर्ष की अवस्था से युक्त । It is not a faithful translation the actual meaning being forty four years.

The significance of industriousness by the learned persons is stated :

इन्द्र ब्रह्म क्रियमाणा जुषस्व या ते शविष्ठ नव्या अकर्म ।
वस्त्रेव भद्रा सुकृता वसूयू रथं न धीरः स्वपा अतक्षम् ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O very powerful person ! endowed with the wealth of knowledge you accept good food and wealth earned by us recently with labour and offered to you with love. I have acquired the fine and beneficent clothes made with righteous industriousness, like a Yogi given to meditation and doing truthful acts does his Sadhana, or as a man seeking prosperity manufactures vehicles of various kinds.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile used in the mantra. O men ! in the hope of getting the wealth of (good-Ed.) Gotra or family, you should not give up industriousness and become slack or lazy. Rather with more and more labour, you should grow your wealth and enjoy, happiness, as by the use of good clothes. Your charming charity extends your glory or good reputation far and wide.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ब्रह्म) अन्नानि धनानि वा । ब्रह्मेत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) धननाम च (NG 2, 10) =Food or wealth. (धीरः) ध्यानवान् योगी । धीराः प्रज्ञानवन्तो ध्यानवन्तः (NKT 4, 2, 4) =A Yogi practising meditation. (स्वपाः) सत्यभाषणादिकर्मसु+अपः इति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) =Engaged in doing model or ideal deeds like speaking the truth and others.

Sūktam-30

Rishi of the Sūktam-Babru Ātreya. Devatā-Indra and Rinancharya. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of Indra (electricity) are told :

क्व१स्य वीरः को अपश्यदिन्द्रं सुखरथमीयमानं हरिभ्याम् ।
यो राया वज्री सुतसोममिच्छन्तदोको गन्ता पुरुहूत ऊती ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—Who is the hero who sees (knows) thoroughly Indra (electricity) and in which one sees a pleasing vehicle drawn by the speed and attraction ? The man equipped by arms and missiles, and admired by many desirous of prosperous home, sees electricity with wealth. He gets a comfortable vehicle.

PURPORT :—O learned person! I ask you who are entitled to acquire the knowledge of the science of energy etc. The answer is that those who are associated with the highly learned scientists in the likeliness of enlightened persons, acquire theoritical and practical knowledge and always try its application. They are entitled to achieve.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रम्) विद्युतम् । =Electricity/energy. (हरिभ्याम्) वेगाकर्षणाभ्याम् । =By speed and attraction.

The same subject of Indra is continued :

अवाचचक्षं पदमस्य सस्वरुग्रं निधातुरन्वायमिच्छन् ।
अपृच्छमन्याँ उत ते म आहुरिन्द्रं नरो बुबुधाना अशेम ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—Whomsoever scholars desirous of acquiring the knowledge of the technology, I asked, all those enlightened men told me about the Indra (electricity). Let me acquire the secret and effective knowledge of this science of upholding of noble achievements, and tell it to others. In this manner, being friendly to one another, let us learn this technology with all its branches.

PURPORT :—When persons desirous to acquire some knowledge put questions, proper answer must be given to them. In this way, all should advance the cause af the science of electricity etc. together.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सस्वः) गुप्तम् । = Secret. (पदम्) प्रापणीयं विज्ञानम् । = The knowledge of science which should be acquired.

———

The same subject of Indra is further developed :

प्र नु वयं सुते या तें कृतानीन्द्र ब्रवांम् यानि नो जुजोंषः ।
वेद॒दविंद्वाञ्छृणवंच्च विद्वान्वहंतेऽयं मघवा सर्वंसेनः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (learned person) ! who shall tell you all about the objects which we have made in this world and which you accepted for use with love. When this man endowed with much wealth of knowledge and wisdom and has large army at his support, acquired knowledge and disseminates it to others, then a man who is not highly learned listens to it attentively and gets knowledge.

PURPORT :—There are two means of acquiring knowledge. First the teacher should be an absolutely truthful enlightened person and his pupil is also a pure and industrious man free from deceit. The second method is to get practical knowledge by observance of the acts-being done by righteous and highly learned person, and to emulate the same. By so doing, all can acquire knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्र) विद्वन् । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा०) । = Learned person. A man endowed with great wealth of knowledge. (सुते) उत्पन्ने जगति षु- प्रसवैश्वर्ययो: । = In this world created by God. Here the first meaning of प्रसव or creation has been taken.

———

The duties of a hero are told :

स्थिरं मनश्चकृषे जात इन्द्र वेषीदेको युधये भूयसश्चित् ।
अश्मानं चिच्छवसा दिद्युतो वि विदो गवामूर्वमुस्रियाणाम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O man desirous of the wealth of Yoga ! the sun in order to fight with his strength slays big and small clouds with his band of active rays and both (the sun and his rays) illuminate the world. Same way you achieve victory over all the evils, because sometime even single-handed you make your mind steady. Therefore, you are fit to administer your state well.

PURPORT :—As the sun and the clouds fight, so a king should fight with his foes. As the sun accomplishes all works with his rays, so the king should accomplish all targets of the State with the help of his army and minister.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्र) योगैश्वर्यमिच्छक । इति-परमैश्वर्ये अत्र योगरूपं परमैश्वर्यमभिप्रेयते । =O desirous of the wealth of Yoga. (गवाम्) गन्तृणाम् । गच्छतीति गौः अत्र गमनशीलाः किरणग्रहीताः । =Moving or active. 5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you being the best among men and bearing the famous name (of Indra) shine everywhere. The sun situated at a very long distance conquers waters (cloud) and as all learned scientists are in a way afraid of the mighty electricity/energy. In the same manner, you should make people more happy now.

PURPORT :—As the sun even being at a very long distance from the earth is reputed on account of his light in the same manner, absolutely truthful learned persons become glorious and renowned.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रात्) विद्युतः । =From electricity/energy. (दासपत्नीः) यो जलं ददाति स दासो मेघः स पतिः पालको यासां ताः । यदशनिरिन्द्रस्तेन (Kaushitaki Brahman 6, 9) स्तनयित्नुरेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6, 3, 9) ।=Waters whose husband or lord is cloud.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The enlightened scientists are afraid of electricity on account of its fierce nature. A little lack of precaution may sometimes cause one's death.

———

The duties and attributes of the enlightened persons are stated :

तुभ्येदेते मरुतः सुशेवा अर्चन्त्यर्कं सुन्वन्त्यन्धः ।
अहिंमोहानमप आशयानं प्र मायाभिर्मायिनं सक्षदिन्द्रः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the lightening strikes a cloud lying low which is like a wicked and deceitful enemy, and having slayed makes it fall down on earth, and the priests, givers of happiness, honour you because you are worthy of respect and they produce food for you. In the same manner, let all the enlightened persons bestow happiness on you.

PURPORT :—Only those enlightened persons are givers af happiness to the world who are benefactors like the sun and the cloud for the universe. They give happiness to others like their ownselves.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मरुतः) ऋत्विजः । मरुतः इति ऋत्विङ्नाम (NG 3, 18) । =Priests. (अर्कम्) सत्करणीयम् । अर्कःअर्च-पूजायाम् । अर्को देवो भवति यत्-एनम् अर्चन्ति (N T) =Worthy of respect. अत्रा दासस्य नमुचेः शिरो यदवर्तयो मनवे गातुमिच्छन् ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! possessor of abundant wealth and liberal by their very nature, you give charity from birth, and destroy your enemies in the battle like the sun destroys the cloud by his rays. Desiring well the welfare and land or good speech for all the thoughtful righteous persons, cut off the head of wicked stubborn man as the sun cuts off the head of the cloud.

PURPORT :—O king ! as the sun gives happiness to the world by conquering the cloud, so bestow happiness on your subjects, by conquering your enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सञ्चकानः) सम्यक्कामयमानः चकमानः कान्तिकर्मा। (NG 2, 6) । कान्तिः कामना । चकमानः एव चकानः मवर्ण लोपात् । =Desiring well (the welfare of all). The duties of heroes are elaborated :

युजं हि मामकृथा आदिदिन्द्र शिरो दासस्य नमुचेर्मथायन् ।
अश्मानं चित्स्वर्यं१ वर्तमानं प्र चक्रियेव रोदसी मरुद्भ्यः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! the sun cuts off the head of the cloud which gives water and is eternal by the nature of the cycle of creation and joins the earth, through the wind, and sets in motion the heaven and the earth. In the same manner, make me your helpmate.

PURPORT :—O king ! the sun causes the happiness of the world through the rain, and by causing the rotation of the worlds by the wind creates day and night. In the same manner, increasing knowledge and humility in your State and urging on all to discharge their duties, you spread happiness and victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दासस्य) जलस्य दातुः । दास दाने । = Of the cloud giver of water. (नमुचेः) प्रवाह रूपेणा ऽविनाशिनो मेघस्य । = Of the cloud indestructible by the nature of the cycle of creation. (मरुद्भ्यः) वायुभ्यः । मरुत इति पदनाम (NG 5, 5) । = Of the winds.

The attributes of heroes are highlighted :

स्त्रियो हि दास आयुधानि चक्रे किं मा करन्नबला अस्य सेनाः ।
अन्तर्ह्यख्यदुभे अस्य धेने अथोप प्रैद्युधये दस्युमिन्द्रः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as servant manufacture-arms and have a band of weak (physically not-strong. Ed.) women, so is this cloud before the sun. The king should be mighty like the sun, before whom the army of the wicked foes may not stand. He may manifest or establish his power within the heart of all. The cloud has two kinds of sound (1) soft sound and (2) loud thunder, but when Indra (sun) come to fight with it, it is easily overcome. So should a king get control or achieve victory over thieves, robbers and other wicked persons.

PURPORT :—The servants whose women being weak cause victory to the other party, are not dependable. As there is a war between the sun and the cloud, so should a good king fight with the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दासः) सेवक इव मेघः । = Cloud which is like a servant (subservient). (उभे) मन्दतीव्रे । (अस्य) मेघस्य = Two kinds of sounds of the cloud soft and loud thunders. (धेने) वाचौ । धेना इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) = Two sounds or speeches.

The sermon of the learned persons is told :

समत्र गावोऽभितोऽनवन्तेदेह वत्सैर्वियुता यदासन् ।
सं ता इन्द्रों असृजदस्य शाकैर्यदीं सोमासः सुषुता अमन्दन् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! praise those rays of the sun which are around this world like the cows separated from their calves. It is with the powers of the clouds, that the sun produces many substance and with it, prosper us to make all souls rejoice.

PURPORT :—The cows without their calves do not look so fine, the clouds without their component parts which are like their children (the clouds are ende-ared to all, but they work only under a certain temperature and pressures created by sun and wind. Ed.)

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गावः) किरणः । गाव इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1,5) । =The rays of the sun. (शाकैः) शक्तिभिः । =With powers. (सोमासः) पदार्था ऐश्वर्यवन्तो षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (जीवाः) । =Substances, prosperouso souls.

The attributes of a brave king are stated :

यदीं सोमा बभ्रुधूता अमन्दन्नरोरवीद्वृषभः सादनेषु ।
पुरंदरः पपिवाँ इन्द्रो अस्य पुनर्गवामददादुस्रियाणाम् ॥ ११ ॥

11 TRANSLATION :—O king ! the sun which is the drinker of the water in the abodes of the clouds and destroys many germs of diseases in the bodies, and gives splendour to the rays, and speech. It (sun) is the cause of the rains and makes sound. The Soma and other plants are discovered and purified by the learned persons in order to grow and live rejoicing. You should deal with the people in the same manner.

PURPORT :—The king who is of the nature of sun, and cloud, collects revenues from the subjects for eight months, and supplies them with all desired objects and gladdens them. Such a king becomes prosperous from all sides. (crop-raising goes on for 8 months generally in an year. Ed.)

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बभ्रुघृता:) बभ्रभिर्धृतविद्यैघूता: पवित्रीकृता:। बभ्रु-भृञ् धारणपोषणयो: अत्र शुद्धयर्थ:। = Purified by the Vedas of knowledge. (उस्रियाणाम्) किरणानाम् उस्रा इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) अतोस्रिया। पद प्रयोग उस्रापर्यार्थरुपेता। = Of the rays,

By the illustration of Agni (fire or sun), the duties of a king are told :

भद्रमिदं रुशमा अग्ने अक्रन्गवां चत्वारि ददतः सहस्रा।
ऋणाश्चयस्य प्रयता मघानि प्रत्यग्रभीष्म नृतमस्य नृणाम्॥ १२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O king! purifier like the fire, you are like the sun. In his light men try to pick up or repay the debts of three kinds, that gives or emits four thousand of rays and his happiness is enjoyed by the overcomers (defeaters) of the violent enemies. Let us take (accept) your wealth with hard labour as you are the best among leading men.

PURPORT :—O men! the sun gladdens the whole world by spreading its thousands of rays. In the same maner, a king should gladden all his subjects by giving innumerable good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गवाम्) किरणानाम्। गाव इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5)। = Of the rays. (रुषमा:) ये रुषान् हिंसकान् मिन्वंति प्रक्षिपन्ति ते। रुष-हिंसायाम्। मीञ् हिंसायाम्। = Those who throw away the violent persons.

The same subject of Agni (king) goes on :

सुपेशसं माव सृजन्त्यस्तं गवां सहस्रै रुशमासो अग्ने।
तीव्रा इन्द्रममन्दुः सुतासोऽक्तोर्व्युष्टौ परितक्म्यायाः॥ १३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O learned king! purifier like the fire, you should know the persons and duly serve them, who are the destroyers of the violent by the use of thousands of rays-of the sun, and possessor of sharp knowledge and other noble virtues, when the night is turned into the dawn create in me the lovely form, so that gladden the ruler who is like the sun.

PURPORT:—O men ! if you serve Agni (electricity and sun) methodically, you may spend day and night very happily.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रूशमासः) हिंसकहिंसकाः तके- हंसने । = Annihilators of the violent persons. (इन्द्रम्) सूर्यमिव राजानम् । यो वै इन्द्रः स सूर्यः, यः सूर्यः स इन्द्रः,(Stph) = The king who is like the sun.(परितक्म्यायाः) परितः सर्वतस्तकन्ति हसन्ति यैः कर्म्मभिस्तेषु भवा याः । परितक्म्या इति रात्रिनाम (NG 4, 1) तके-हसने । = Of the night in which men perform of acts causing laughter and joy. (अक्तोः) रात्रेः । अक्तुः इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) = Of the night.

———

The duties of the enlightened persons are narrated :

औच्छत्सा रात्री परितक्म्या याँ ऋणंचये राजनि रुशमानाम् ।
अत्यो न वाजी रघुरज्यमानो बभ्रुश्चत्वार्यसनत्सहस्रा ॥ १४ ॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that joy-giving night causes all to go to the dwellings which distributes four thousands (many) objects under a king (administrators) pays off the debts of the violent (strict discipline-sponsoring). In fact, he administers, like a light and speedy horse driven by a rider, bearer and sustainer of the person.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! you should know the duties that are to be discharged day and night, and discharge them well. And having experimented assignments and duties with them satisfactorily, ask the kings and others about the progress made with regard to them, so that they may all be happy. The cycle of day and night runs on like a speedy horse. (Distribution of 4000 objects under a king needs further research. Ed).

The duties of a king are elaborated :

चतुःसहस्रं गव्यंस्य पुश्वः प्रत्यंग्रभीष्म रुशमेष्वग्ने ।
घर्मश्चित्तप्तः प्रवृजे य आसीदयुस्मयस्तम्वादांम विप्राः ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are purifier and burning (sharp) like the fire. That fire or vigour is full of splendour like gold and is present in a person who gives up bad habits, and is the violent (strict discipline-enforcing) minister. As we accept that the four thousand rays of the sun and the cattle, so you should also do. O wisemen ! we give that to you, and you should give that to us in return.

PURPORT :—The persons who know how to take cold and hot thing methodically (in accordance with the different seasons and times) and give this knowledge to others, remain always free from sickness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुशमेषु) हिंसकमन्त्रिषु । रूश-हिंसायाम् । =In the ministers who are of violent (harsh or disciplinarian) nature. (घर्मः) प्रतापः । घृ-क्षरणदीप्त्योः । अत्र दीप्त्यर्थः । दीप्तिरेवात्र प्रतापः । =Vigour, force.

The attributes of the highly learned persons are told :

प्र ते पूर्वाणि करणानि वोचं प्र नूतना मघवन्या चकर्थ ।
शक्तीवो यद्विभरा रोदसी उभे जयन्नपो मनवे दानुचित्राः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O powerful king ! endowed with much honoured wealth, I tell you the means used by highly learned persons earlier and used by them now in recent times. You should honour those wonderfully liberal and thoughtful persons, who uphold very well (the earth and heaven and instruct all). Dwelling with them, you should achieve victory over (the Prānas) your enemies for the benefit of the thoughtful, and honour them with delight.

PURPORT :—O king and officers of the State ! you should honour the highly learned persons and respect them. You should honour wonderfully liberal and thoughtful persons, who teach you anicient or eternal politics and the means to be used for achieving victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(करणानि) कुर्वन्ति यैस्तानि साधनानि । =Means by which acts are done. (अपः) सूर्यो जलानीव शत्रुप्राणान् । आपो वै प्राणाः ॥ (Stph 3, 8, 2, 4) प्राणो ह्यापः (जैमिनीयोपनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 3, 9 प्राणा वा आपः । तैत्ति, 3, 2, 5, 2 ताण्ड्य 9, 9, 4) । =The Prănas or lives of the foes.

The subject of learned persons is continued :

9. TRANSLATION :—The electricity and its strokes (girds. Ed) take the vehicle to the destination. So, o teachers and preachers ! let the learned persons take you to the place of work on speedy horses that take people to distant places. If electricity and fire are properly combined with water, they make a sound. Then they can carry people to distant places on all sides. If you accept the company of good and wealthy persons who are dear like your Prānas (vital breaths), you can get over the nights of difficulties with their help quite easily.

PURPORT :—O men ! if you combine fire (energy) and water in due proporation, making it sound (while in starting) and by the use of steam drive vehicles with proper machinery, then you can make yourselves and your friends rich, taking them out of many difficulties and miseries.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्राकुत्सा) इन्द्रश्चकुत्सश्चेन्द्राकुत्सौ । विद्युदाघातौ। कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) कुत्सः कृन्ततेरिति (NKT 3, 2 ,12) ।= Electricity and its stroke. The attributes and duties of a king are told :

अदर्दरुत्समसृजो वि खानि त्वमर्णवान्बद्बधानाँ अरम्णाः ।
महान्तमिन्द्र पर्वतं वि यद्वः सृजो वि धारा अव दानवं हन् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are destroyer of your enemies like the sun rends asunder the big moutain-like clouds which are like a well. They set open the floodgates, liberating the obstructed streams. In the same manner, you should direct your senses to perform great deeds. Make us very much delighted. Honour that man who is full of splendour like the sun who kills wicked and selfish persons and utters noble words.

PURPORT:—The sun fills with water the rivers and oceans with the clouds, rent a sunder by him and breaks the banks of the rivers. In the same manner, a king should set aside all the injustice, by providing justice and destroying his enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उत्सम्) कूपमिव। उत्स इति कूपनाम (NG 3,23)। =Like a well. (पर्वतम्) पर्वताकारं मेघम्। =The moutain like big cloud. (धाराः) जलप्रवाहा इव वाचः। धारा इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)। =Speeches which are like streams.

The same subject of duties of a king is continued :

त्वमुत्साँ ऋतुभिर्बद्धधानाँ अरंह ऊधः पर्वतस्य वज्रिन्।
अहिं चिदुग्र प्रयुतं शयानं जघन्वाँ इन्द्र तविषीमधत्थाः॥ २॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king! you are holder of the thunderbolt-like powerful weapons and full of splendour like the sun. As the farmers use wells in varying seasons, (for watering fields etc.) and as the sun rends asunder the cluster of clouds lying in mountains, in the same manner, you should destroy the wicked persons and sustain well your powerful army.

PURPORT:—O king! the peasants take the water of the well to fields, grow food etc. and increase happiness and wealth thereby. Same way, you should help your subjects to grow and advance in all spheres.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरंहः) गमयति। रहि-गतौ (भ्वा०)। =Cause to go or move. (ऊधः) जलाधारं घनसमूहम्। वहति यत् इति ऊधः। श्वेः सम्प्रसारणं च (उणा. 4, 194) धातोः सम्प्रसारणे कृते दीर्घत्वं धकारश्चान्तादेशः। =The cluster of clouds containing water.

The attributes of a king, knower of military science are told :

त्यस्यं चिन्मह्तो निर्मृगस्य वधंर्जघान तविषीभिरिन्द्रः ।
य एक इदंप्रतिर्मन्यमान आदंस्मादन्यो अंजनिष्ट तव्यान् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! as a commander-in—chief who is unparallelled and respected by all, kills a wicked man who is quick-moving (evading or retreating) with his army, like the sun rends asunder clouds. In the same manner, slay the wicked and make us reputed. As another mighty person manifests his power, therefore you make us powerful.

PURPORT :—As the sun by conquering the clouds manifests his power and cherishes all beings, in the same manner, even a single man, expert in the military science achieves victory over many and protects the subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रः) सेनेशः । सेनेन्द्रस्य पत्नी Gopatha Brahman Uttara pt. 2-9) यद्वा सेना इन्द्रस्य पत्नी इन्द्रः सेनेश इति स्पष्टमेव इन्द्र इति ह्येतमाचक्षते य । =The commander-in chief of the army. एष (सूर्यः) तपति । =The sun. The duties of a king are told :

त्यं चिदेषां स्वधया मदन्तं मिहो नपातं सुवृधं तमोगाम् ।
वृषप्रभर्मा दानवस्य भामं वज्रेण वज्री नि जघान शुष्णम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O brave commander-in-chief of the army ! being equipped with thunderbolt-like powerful arms and missiles, you should destroy the impetuous anger of a wicked person, with powerful weapons, as the sun rends upkeeper of the cloud growing in stature. That cloud leads to darkness but not causing the rains. You should slay the wicked who may be taking away easily the food supplied by others, and may cause them harm.

PURPORT :—O king ! as the sun rends asunder the vast cloud, makes it fall down on the earth and preserves the world, in the same manner, you shonld cut into pieces even the most powerful enemies, make them fall down and cherish the subjects with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मिहः) वृष्टेः। मिह-सेचने (भ्वा०) मींह इति पंजाबीभाषायां, भूलं स्थानीयभाषादिषु च। =Of the rain. (शुष्णम्) शोषकं-बलवन्तम्। शुष्णम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)।=Powerful.

The merits of a technologist are told :

यदीं सुक्षत्र प्रभृता मदस्य युयुत्सन्तं तमसि हर्म्ये धाः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! born in a noble Kshatriya family or endowed with good wealth, you should know the secret of this cloud-like enemy whose secret has not been known to others, by your wisdom and action. If in the intoxication of his joy, he desires to fight with you, put him in prison in a place that may put him in discomfort like the darkness.

PURPORT :—Those who develop the science of technology intelligently by knowing the secret nature of all objects, are endowed with good kingdom and prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुक्षत्र) शोभनं क्षत्रं क्षत्रियकुलं धनं वा यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ। क्षत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10)। =Belonging to a noble Kshatriya family or endowed with good wealth. (क्रतुभिः) प्रज्ञाभिः कर्मभिर्वा। क्रतुरिति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) क्रतुरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)। =By wisdom or actions.

The duties of a ruler are told :

त्यं चिदित्था कत्पयं शयानमसूर्ये तमसि वावृधानम् ।
तं चिन्मन्दानो वृषभः सुतस्योच्चैरिन्द्रो अपगूर्या जघान ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! Indra, the commander-in-chief of the army is very good and takes delight in taking invigorating things after much painstaking. He slays suddenly many times an enemy who is sleeping in the sunless night (quite reckless) and is groaning in vanity. That commander is like the sun who sends asunder a cloud growing at night. A king should similarly kills his powerful enemies, proud of their power.

PURPORT :—As the sun rends asunder a cloud and removes all darkness, so a king should slay all enemies and protect good men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कत्पयम्) कतिपयम् । अत्र छान्दसो वर्णलोपो वेति-लोपः । =Several times. (मन्दानः) आनन्दन् । (मन्दानः) मदि-स्तुति मोदमद स्वप्न कान्ति गतिषु (भ्वा०) अत्र मोदार्थः । =Being delighted. The ruler's duties are elaborated :

उद्यदिन्द्रो महते दानवाय वधर्यमिष्ट सहो अप्रतीतम् ।
यदीं वज्रस्य प्रभृतौ ददाभ विश्वस्य जन्तोरधमं चकार ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the commander-in-chief of the army or king stops violence for the benefit of a great donor. His force can not be attained by unrighteous persons, and it slays the wicked by firmly holding thunderbolt-like powerful weapons. By using such powerful weapons against a wicked unrighteous person, he makes him most degraded in the eyes of all human beings.

PURPORT :—O king and other officers of the state ! you should behave or act like the sun and remove the deplorable condition of the State by being full of splendour and killing the wicked foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दानवाय) दानकर्त्रे। दा-दाने। =For the benefit of a liberal man. (अप्रतीतम्) अधर्मिभिरप्राप्तम् अ+प्रति+इतम्-इष गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम्। =Not to be attained by unrighteous persons. (ददाभ) हिनस्ति। =Kills, smashes.

The duties of the learned persons are told further :

त्यं चिदर्णं मधुपं शयानमसिन्वं वव्रं मह्याददुग्रः ।
अपादमत्रं महता वधेन नि दुर्योण आवृणङ् मृध्रवाचम् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the sun is full of splendour and it takes hold of his rays with powerful weapon. The cloud which is full of water protects water inside, as if sleeps in its house (so to speak). It is not bound by any one, acceptable (for its usefulness for rain) pervades the firmament, and possesses a violent speech (in the form of the lightning or thunder) and then rends it asunder. So you should emulate.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the cloud is struck by the lightning, so you should strike and make the wicked persons fall down by overcoming them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(असिन्वम्) अबद्धम्। (असिन्वम्) षिञ्-बन्धने (स्वा०) =Not bound. (अत्रम्) योऽतति सर्वत्र व्याप्नोति तम् (अत्रम्) अत-सातत्यगमने (भ्वा०)। =Pervading everywhere. The same subject of enlightened man's duties is continued :

को अस्य शुष्मं तविषीं वरात एको धना भरते अप्रतीतः ।
मे चिदस्य ज्रयसो नु देवी इन्द्रस्यौजसो भियसा जिहाते ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! who can have the strength and army like that of this lightning ? Even these respendent earth and heaven move by the fear of this Indra (lightning). One of them upholds wealth and the other being invisible is the upholder of its rapidity. These two uphold all and all, the planets are upheld or sustained by them.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know that the Agni is of two kinds (1) in the form of the sun and fire and (2) the other hidden electricity-energy. These two sustain this world and make them move.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अप्रतीतः) अप्रत्यक्षः । यदशनिरिन्द्रस्तेन Kaushitoki Brahman 6, 9) =Not visible with the eyes. (इन्द्रस्य) विद्युतः स्तनयित्नुरेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6, 3, 9) । =Of the electricity or lightning. (ज्रयसः) वेगवन्तः । ज्रयति गतिकर्मा (NG 2, 14) । =Rapid.
The attributes of the learned persons are stated :

न्यस्मै देवी स्वधितिर्जिहीत इन्द्राय गातुरुशतीव येमे ।
सं यदोजो युवते विश्वमाभिरनु स्वधाव्ने क्षितयो नमन्त ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O young woman ! you are giver of joy, learned and powerful like the thunderbolt, yourself is in control for the sake of prosperity, like the earth and the woman desiring happiness who recieves the semen and duly keeps it in herself (womb) till the time of delivery. Such a noble woman conducts herself in accordance with the wishes of her husband who is the upholder of wealth and foodgrains. All persons bow before a noble upholder of power and wealth. So, you should also be endowed with noble virtues.

PURPORT :—As a girl who has observed Brahmacharya for twentyfour years and who desires a husband accepts a person who is matching with and loving to her, in the same manner, Agni in the form of fire, electricity, and sun upholds the whole world. As men bow before the virtuous persons, so all bow before noble men and husbands and wives who are endowed with noble virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गातुः) भूमिः । गातुरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) । =Earth. (उशतीव) कामयमाना स्त्रीव । =A woman desiring a husband. (स्वधान्वे) यः स्वं दधाति तस्मै । =For one who upholds power and wealth etc. (क्षितयः) मनुष्याः । क्षितयः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । =Men.

The same subject of learned persons still continues :

एकं नु त्वा सत्पतिं पाञ्चजन्यं जातं शृणोमि यशसं जनेषु ।
तं मे जगृभ्र आशसो नविष्ठं दोषा वस्तोर्हवमानास इन्द्रम् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! I hear of your reputation as one who has observed Brahmacharya for forty eight years, is chief among the man, the protector of the good, the son of a person who has five powerful Prānas (vital breaths), and is renowned and glorious. Let all people who desire to obtain great prosperity, and desire the welfare of all may take day and night by my energetic husbands endowed with wealth and noble virtues, as their guide and helper.

PURPORT :—A Brahmacharini should always desire to have a person as husband, who is renowned, glorious, a man of good character and conduct, and endowed with good virtues, beauty and love. In the same manner, a Brahmchari should also have his wife who is a Brahmacharini of similar nature, and to a very virtuous virgin.

The attributes of a learned person are told :

एवा हि त्वामृतुथा यातयन्तं मघा विप्रेभ्यो ददतं शृणोमि ।
किं ते ब्रह्माणो गृहते सखायो ये त्वाया निदधुः काममिन्द्र ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! endowed with great wealth, I am the possessor of the wealth of knwoledge and desirous of having a husband. I hear about you as giving wealth to wise men and trying to have progeny at proper season (with self-restraint). What do our friends who are knowers of all the Vedas, get from you, who surrender all their desires (i.e. in love) you ? (They get great happiness and have their noble desires fulfilled.)

PURPORT :—A woman should take as husband a man of self-restraint who has full control over his generative and other organs. He should be a man of good character and temperament and renowned on account of his virtues. She should deal with him properly and enjoy happiness, being very auspicious and fortunate in getting her noble desires fulfilled.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यातयन्तम्) सन्तानाय प्रयतन्तम् । यती-प्रयत्ने (भ्वा०) । =Desiring for getting a progeny. (ब्रह्माण:) चतुर्वेदविद: । ब्रह्मा सर्वविद्य: सर्वं वेदितुम् अर्हति । ब्रह्मा परिवृढ: श्रुततो ब्रह्म परिवृढ सर्वत: (NKT 1,3,8) =The knowers of the four Vedas.

The nature and attributes of sun are told :

यत्त्वा सूर्य स्वर्भानुस्तमसाविध्यदासुरः ।
अक्षेत्रविद्यथा मुग्धो भुवनान्यदीधयुः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned persen ! destroying darkness of ignorance like the sun, as a man having not studies Algebra can not do anything in maths, and as electricity born of the sun (solar power.Ed.) wnen unmanifest is surrounded by darkness, and as the sun by whose light the worlds (planets) are illuminated, we take shelter in them, because they know all about geometry and other science, electricity and the sun.

PURPORT :—O men, as electricity in its unmanifest form does not shine in the darkness, same way, the soul of ignorant person does not shine. As all the worlds are illuminated by the light of the sun, same way, the soul of an enlightened person illumines all truthful dealings and removes falsehood.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सूर्य) सूर्य इव वर्त्तमान । =O learned man shining like the sun. (स्वर्भानुः) यः स्वरादित्यं भाति स विद्युद्रूपः । स्वः आदित्यो भवति सु ईरणः । स्वृतो (साम) स्वृतो भासं ज्योतिषां । स्वृतो भासेतिवा (NKT2, 4, 14) भा दीप्तौ (अदा०) । =Electricity which illumines the sun. (अक्षेत्रवित्) यः क्षेत्रं रेखागणितं न वेत्ति सः । =Ignorant of Algebra or Geometry.

The same subject is continued :

स्वर्भानोरध यदिन्द्र माया अवो दिवो वर्त्तमाना अवाहन् ।
गळ्हं सूर्यं तमसापंव्रतेन तुरीयेण ब्रह्मणाविन्ददत्रिः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the enlightened intellects of the man whose knowlegde is like the light of the sun, fire at the sun covered by the darkness in the form of electricity, because it prevents the performance of the work—then with the sublime knowledge an industrious person going everywhere finds out or locates it. You should know all those good intellects.

PURPORT :—As the hidden electrical sparks (or of power) accomplish great works, in the same way, the intellects of the enlightened persons, accomplish all works of knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वर्भानोः) आदित्यप्रकाशस्य । = Of the light of the sun. (गूळ्हम्) गुप्तं विद्युदाख्यम् । =Electricity. (अत्रिः) सततं गामी । अत सातत्यगमने (भ्वा०) । =Industrious person who goes everywhere.

The duties of the king and his officers are told :

मा मामिमं तव सन्तमत्र इरस्या द्रुग्धो भियसा नि गारीत् ।
त्वं मित्रो असि सत्यराधास्तौ मेहावतं वरुणश्च राजा ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are free from the three kinds of sufferings. Let not a wicked person full of malice and the desire to take away food and selfish of habits swallow me with fear. They have taken shelter in you. You are a friend who has earned wealth with truthful conduct or whose wealth is truth. May the noble commander of the army and the ruler protect me.

PURPORT :—O righteous king and commander of the army ! do not take any one's articles unjustly. Do not go astray from the duty of rulers on account of fear or injustice. Always guard your subjects like friends, being lovers of truth and righteousness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((इरस्या) अन्नेच्छया। इरस्-ईर्ष्यायाम् (काण्ड्वादि) । =By the desire of food. Have desire born of jealousy. (सत्यराधा:) सत्याचरणेन सत्यं वा राधो धनं यस्य । राध इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Who earns wealth with truthful conduct (honestly) or whose wealth is truth.

The attributes and duties of a learned person are told :

ग्राव्णो ब्रह्मा युयुजानः सपर्यन् कीरिणा देवान्नमसोपशिक्षन् ।
अत्रिः सूर्यस्य दिवि चक्षुराधात्स्वर्भानोरप माया अघुक्षत् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O man ! the Brahma (knowner of all the four Vedas) associated with the admirer of all sciences, serves the enlightened with reverence and food, and imparts education to students, sets the eye of a glorious man who is like sun from cloud (ignorance) to the light of the sun (knowledge) and acquires good intallects and dispels all darkness of ignorance.

PURPORT :—The person serving the enlightened persons is a Yogi, and lover of the dissemination of knowledge. He himself is higher learned, preservers knowledge and dispels ignorance like electricity by the contact with the sun and the cloud (solar energy) protects the world and removes misery.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कीरिणा) सकलविद्यास्तावकेन । कीरिरिति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16)। =The admirer of all sciences. (अत्रिः) सकलविद्याव्यापकः। (अत्रिः) अत सातत्य गमने। गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्तिः सातत्येन व्याप्त्यर्थ-ग्रहणम्। =Pervading or proficient in all sciences.

By the illustation of the sun and darkness, the distinction between the enlightened persons and ignorant is pointed out :

यं वै सूर्यं स्वर्भानुस्तमसाविध्यदासुरः।
अत्रयस्तमन्वविन्दन्नह्य१न्ये अशक्नुवन् ॥ ९ ॥

9\. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! only the men of great wisdom and knowledge know when and how the cloud illuminated by the sun envelops the sun with darkness. No other can know the rationate of why and the how of the matter.

PURPORT :—O men ! as a cloud envelops the sun and generates darkness, in the same manner, ignorance envelops the soul and generates nescience (incomprehension). As the sun by destroying the cloud dispels darkness, and manifests light, in the same manner, knowledge destroys ignorance and generates the light of science. This discrimination (critical perception) can be known only by the enlightened persons and not by others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वर्भानुः) आदित्येन प्रकाशितः। =Illuminated by the sun. (आसुरः) असुरो मेघ एव। =Cloud. (अत्रयः) विद्याविशालाः। =Men of vast wisdom or knowledge.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—असुर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)। Ignorance and superstitious persons still believe that it is Rahu that swallows the sun, not knowing the real cause of the solar eclipse. (अत्रयः) त्रिविधाज्ञानरहिताः = प्रकृतिजीवब्रह्मविषयकाज्ञानरहिताः। Free from the ignorance regarding matter, soul and God.

Sūktam—41

Rishi of the Sūktam Atri. Devatā-Vishvedevāh. Chhanda-Trishtup, Pankti and Jagati of various kinds. Svara - Dhaivata, Panchama and Nishāda.

The attributes of Vishvedevās (earth, water, fire and other divine objects and enlightened persons) are told :

को नु वां मित्रावरुणावृतायन्दिवो वा महः पार्थिवस्य वा दे ।
ऋतस्य वा सदसि त्रासीथां नो यज्ञायते वा पशुषो न वाजान् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O teacher and the pupil ! your relation is like the Prāna and Udāna, while acting with truth, under which the nature of light and the great objects of the earth are revealed. Glorious, you who are desirous of performing the Yajnas, protect us in the assembly of truth. You avail us enjoyable objects, like they give to the animals food and fodder.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! if you know the science related to the properties of the earth and other elements, (geology, zeoology, botany etc. agricultural and environmental sciences. Ed.) then please teach and preach that to us. When you sit in an assembly or the court, administer true justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(Here Vishvedevas cover all benefactors, like earth etc. Ed) (मित्रावरुणौ) प्राणोदानाविवाध्यापकाध्येतारौ । प्राणोदानौ वै मित्रावरुणौ (Stph 1, 8, 3, 12 II 3, 6, 1, 16) प्राणोदानौ मित्रावरुणौ (Stph 3, 2, 2, 13) । =The teachers and the pupils who are like Prāna and Udāna (two vital breaths). (दे) देदीप्यमानौ देवौ । अत्र छान्दसो वर्णलोपो वेति वलोपः सुपां सुलुगिति विभक्तेर्लुक् । =Brilliant or glorious, shining on account of their noble virtues.

The Vishvedevāh are mentioned again :

ते नो मित्रो वरुणो अर्यमायुरिन्द्र ऋभुक्षा मरुतो जुषन्त ।
नमोभिर्वा ये दधते सुवृक्तिं स्तोमं रुद्राय मीळ्हुषे सजोषाः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—May the men loving and serving a mighty person cause the wicked to weep, because they give up all bad habits and acts and who bear praiseworthy qualities. May the Mitra (friendly to all), noble, disspenser of justice, possessor of abundant wealth, and great scholar, grant us long life. (May they all love us and guide to lead noble and long life).

PURPORT :—Those enlightend persons only should be regarded as noble who deal with all living beings as their ourselves.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(ऋभुक्षाः) महान् विद्वान् । ऋभुक्षा इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) । =A great scholar. (मरुतः) मनुष्याः । मरुतो मितराविणो वा मितरोचिनो वा मरुद् द्रवन्तीति वा (NKT 11, 2, 14) । =Men. (सुवृक्तिम्) सुष्ठु-वर्जनम् । वृजी-वर्जने (अदा०) ।=To give up thoroughly bad habits and actions.

The Vishvedevah are again explained :

आ वां येष्ठाश्विना हुवध्यै वातस्य पत्मन्रथ्यस्य पुष्टौ ।
उत वा दिवो असुराय मन्म प्रान्धांसीव यज्यवे भरध्वम् ॥ ३ ॥

3. *TRANSLATION :—*O teachers and preachers ! you are great controller, you become instrumental of development in performing of Yajna by one, who desires clouds (for rains) and good food during your journey to any place where the wind is blowing and you are on your chariots. Fill us with knowledge, so that we may accept good virtues.

PURPORT :—As students and teachers always try to propagate knowledge, so other men should also always endeavour to do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(येष्ठा) अतिशयेन नियन्तारौ । =Great controllers. (अश्विना) अध्यापकोपदेशकौ । =Teachers and preachers. (दिवः) कामयमानस्य । =Of a man desirous. (मन्म) विज्ञानम् । =Special knowledge.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—यम-उपरमे(भ्वा०) अश्विनावध्वर्यू (Aitareya 1, 18) (Stph 1, 1, 2, 17) II (Gopath Brahman 3, 2, 6) मुखो वा अश्विनो

The subject of Vishvedevāh is described :

प्र स॒त्वा॒नो॑ दि॒व्यः कण्व॑होता त्रि॒तो दि॒वः स॒जोषा॒ वातो॑ अ॒ग्निः ।
पू॒षा भगः॑ प्रभृ॒थे वि॒श्वभो॑जा आ॒जिं न ज॑ग्मुरा॒श्वश्व॑तमाः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the man who tries to obtain desirable objects like a wiseman, who is performer of the Yajnas and a liberal donor, and is a man of endurance, growing in and travelling on earth, in water and firmament, has noble desires. He serves the enlightened people in association with others, purifying like the fire and active like the air. He is nourisher, giver of wealth, sustainer or cherisher of all in purifying dealings and conveys abundant enjoyment soon, like those who have speedy horses to go to the battlefields quickly.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should become rich by eradicating the poverty by the proper use of Agni (energy/power and electricity) and other things.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कण्वहोता) कण्वो मेधावी चासौ होता दाता च । कण्व इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) । =A genius of extremely wiseman who is the performer of the Yajnas and a liberal donor. (आजिम्) सङ्ग्रामम् । आजौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) । =Battlefield. (दिवः) दिव्याः कामनाः । =Divine or noble desires.

The same subject of Vishvedevāh is continued :

प्र वो॑ र॒यिं यु॒क्ताश्वं॑ भरध्वं रा॒य एषेऽव॑से दधीत॒ धीः ।
सु॒शेव॒ एवै॑रौशि॒जस्य॒ होता॒ ये व॒ एवा॑ मरुतस्तु॒राणा॑म् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men ! uphold good intellects. Fill yourselves with wealth with good horses in your chariots. A man who is giver of good happiness, becomes the bestower of wealth belonging to the son of a person desirous of the welfare of all for protection and attainment of joy. Honour those who are destroyer of the men that cause harm to you (i.e, the enemies).

PURPORT :—O men ! you should become rich by the application of the knowledge related to the properties of Agni (fire and electicity) and other things, protect and nourish the orphans and punish the wicked persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(औशिजस्य) कामयमानस्यापत्यस्य । =The son of a man who desires the welfare of all. (एवैः) प्रापणैः । =By conveying. (एवाः) कामयमानाः । =Desiring peace. (तुराणाम्) हिंसकानाम् । =Of the violent.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—उशिक-वेष्टेः कान्तिकर्मणः तस्य उशिजः पुत्रः औशिजः । कान्तिः कामना । एवैः—आ+इण—गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थंग्रहणं कृत्वा व्याख्या प्रापयैरिति । इण—शीम्यां वन् (उणादिकोषे 1, 182) एवैः अयवैननैर्वेति (NKT 2, 7, 25) एवाः कायमानाः एवैः कामैरयनै णानैर्वेति (NKT 1, 2, 21) =तुर्वी=हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) ।

The subject of Vishvedevāh further moves on :

प्र वो॑ वा॒युं र॑थ॒युजं॑ कृणुध्वं॒ प्र दे॒वं विप्रं॑ पनि॒तार॑म॒र्कैः ।
इ॒षु॒ध्यव॑ ऋत॒साप॒ः पुरं॑धी॒र्वस्वी॑र्नो॒ अत्र॒ पत्नी॒रा धि॒ये धुः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! with the association of truthful learned persons who desire to fight with arrows with proper use of air to harness in the chariot and who make the heavan and earth full of many articles beneficient to you like our lovely and excellent wives, harness your chariot. That chariot should be speedy like the mind and make the learned person wise who praises God and deals righteously, and manifests (famous) with admirable and good substances for good intellect.

PURPORT :—O men ! as chaste noble women give happiness to their husbands and others, in the same manner, you uphold the vehicles speedy like the wind and righteous enlightened persons and make them all happy.

NOTES & REMARKS : — (पनितारम्) स्तावकधर्म्मेण व्यवहर्त्तारम्। पण व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा०) अत्रोभयार्थग्रहणम्। =To a man who praises God and deals righteously or honestly. (अर्कः) अर्चनीयः पदार्थः । =Earth full of many articles.

The subject of Vishvedevāh is dealt :

उप॑ व॒ एषे॒ वन्द्ये॑भिः शूषैः प्र य॒ह्वी दि॒वश्चि॒तय॑द्भिर॒र्कैः।
उ॒षासा॒नक्ता॑ वि॒दुषी॑व॒ विश्व॒मा हा॑ वहतो॒ मर्त्या॑य य॒ज्ञम्॥ ७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should acquire the knowledge of serving (utilising) the day and night like a great and highly learned lady, with the help of the venerable enlightened persons and with varied strength (physical, mental and spiritual). Uphold all Yajna (in the form of propagation of truth and spreads of knowledge) for the benefit of mankind.

PURPORT :—O men! a great and highly learned lady, respected by all learned men and women and upholding all good virtues, makes her husband and other advanced. In the same manner, day and night upholding all dealings advance the world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कैः) पूजनीयैर्विद्वद्भिस्सह । =With the revenerable learned persons. (यज्ञम्) विद्याप्रचारादिकम् ।=The spread of knowledge and propagation of truth etc.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अर्कः । अर्च पूजायाम् । यदनेनार्चन्ति ते । यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) । स्वाध्यायो वै ब्रह्मयज्ञ: (Stph 11, 5, 6, 2) यज्ञो वै श्रेष्ठतम कर्म (Stph 1, 7, 1, 5) यज्ञो हि श्रेष्ठतमं कर्म (Taittiriya 3, 2, 1, 4) All good and beneficial acts are therefore included in the Yajna in the Vedic parlance.

The subject of Vishvedevāh is continued :

अभि वों अर्चे पोष्यावंतो नृन्वास्तोष्पतिं त्वष्टांरं रराणः ।
धन्यां सुजोषां धिषणा नमोभिर्वनस्पतींरोषधी राय एषें ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a good intellect after having acquired wealth and serving good persons with love for obtaning riches, approaches herbs and plants with reverence and food etc. In the same manner, I being a liberal donor, honour the protector of the house who is full of splendour and leaders who support many men under them.

PURPORT :—O men ! as men endowed with sharp intellect and knowledge cherish persons having aquired the knowledge of the Ayurveda (science of life), in the same manner, you should honour those who desire the welfare of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वास्तो:) निवासस्थानस्य । वास्तोष्पतिम् वास्तुर्वं-सतोनिवसतोर्निवासकर्मणस्तस्य पाता वा पालयिता वेति (NKT 10, 2, 17) । =Protector of house. (त्वष्टारम्) तेजस्विनम् । त्विष-दीप्तो—त्विर्षेर्वा स्याद् दीप्तिकर्मण: (NKT 8, 2, 14) । =Full of splendour. (धिषणा) प्रज्ञा । विद्या वै धिषणा (Taittiriya 3, 2, 2, 2) अत्र विद्यायुक्ता बुद्धिः । =Good and sharp intellect.

The same subject of Vishvedevāh goes on :

तुजे नस्तने पर्वताः सन्तु स्वैतवो ये वसंवो न वीराः ।
पनित आप्त्यो यंजतः सदां नो वर्धान्नः शंसं नर्यो अभिष्टौ ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may the moving earth and other VASUS (places of habitation of various beings) be givers of happiness to us, like the heroes endowed with intellect and good physical strength, and like the clouds-givers of water in the vast gift of God, i. e. lands. We always honour those good men who make us grow in the fulfilment of the desired aim. The riches, and make us admirable, absolutely truthful enlightened venerable and the best among men who make us praiseworthy.

PURPORT :—We also cause the noble enlightened persons to grow because they are destroyers of the foes like the herbs, donors like the clouds and quick like the wind.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुजे) दाने। तुज-हिंसाबलादाननिकेतनेषु (चुरा०) अत्र आ-सर्वतः दानमित्यर्थमादाय-दाने इति व्याख्या। =In the act of gift. (तने) विस्तीर्णे। =Vast. (स्वैतवः), सुष्ठुगमनाः। ऐतवः=आ+इण्-गतौ (अदा०)। =Of good movement.

The same subject is continued :

वृष्णाँ अस्तोषि भूम्यस्य गर्भं त्रितो नपातमपां सुवृक्ति ।
गृणीते अग्निरेतरी न शूषैः शोचिष्केशो नि रिणाति वना ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you admire those who are showerers of happiness. The man who grows physically, mentally, and spiritually admires on earth the good path-which does not allow the living beings to fall down-the path of righteousness. The man kindled with knowledge and purifier like the fire, acquires the knowledge of the rays of the sun intellectually and he can enjoy all happiness which can be gained in this world.

PURPORT :—That man alone obtains abundant wealth and honour, who tries to accomplish works after having acquired the knowledge related to the order of the creation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्रितः) त्रिषु वर्द्धकः। त्रिषु देहमनआत्मसु। त्रि+तनु विस्तारे।=He who grows in three spheres-physically, mentally and spiritually. (शोचिष्केशः) प्रदीप्तविज्ञानः। शोचिरिति ज्वलतो नामधेयम् (NG 1, 17) केशाः रश्मयः (NKT 12, 3, 26) काशनाद् वा प्रकाशनाद् वा (12, 3, 26)। =Kindled with knowledge. (अपाम् इव) प्राणिनां जनानामिव। =Like living beings. (सुवृक्ति) सुष्ठु व्रजन्ति यस्मिंस्तम्।=The good path by which men go.

——

The subject of Vishvedevāh goes on :

क॒था म॒हे रु॒द्रियाय ब्रवाम॒ कद्रा॒ये चि॑कि॒तुषे॒ भगा॑य।
आप॒ ओष॑धीरु॒त नो॑ऽवन्तु द्यौर्वना॑ गि॒रयो॑ वृ॒क्षके॑शाः ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION:—O learned person ! may the waters, like herbs like the soma etc, hills whose hair are trees, the sun like the rays protect us. With their help in what manner shall we speak about the great Lord who is worthy of knowledge and attains persons to observe Brahmacharya upto the age of forty-four (inspires) and makes the wicked weep. And when shall we speak about the good wealth—that is to be acquired.

PURPORT :—All men should approach the enlightened persons for their protection of others. And having acquired the knowledge of true sciences by the method of questions and answers, and having taught them to others, let them always plan with zeal how could we increase our prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुद्रियाय) रुद्रैर्लब्धाय । (जगदीश्वराय) ।=For God who has been attained by those persons who have observed Brahmacharya upto the age of forty four years of being dispensers of justice make the wickeds weep. (चिकितुषे) ज्ञातव्याय । कित-ज्ञाने (काशकृत्स्नधातुपाठे 2, 74) ।=Who is worthy of being known ? (वना) किरणानीव । वनम् इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) । =Like rays of the sun.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES : — अथ यानि चतुश्चत्वारिंशद् वर्षाणि तन्माध्यन्दिनं सवनं चतुश्चत्वारिंशदक्षरः त्रिष्टुप् त्रैष्टुभं माध्यन्दिनं सवनं तदस्य रुद्रा अन्वायत्ताः प्राणाः वावरुद्रा एतेहीदं सर्वं रोदयन्ति (Chhandogyopanshad 3,16) ।

The subject of Vishvedevāh is explained :

शृ॒णोतु॑ न ऊ॒र्जां पति॒र्गिरः॒ स नभ॒स्तरी॑याँ इषि॒रः परि॑ज्मा।
शृ॒ण्वन्त्वाप॒ः पुरो॒ न शु॒भ्राः परि॒ स्रुचो॑ बबृहा॒णस्याद्रेः॑ ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION:—O men ! may the protector and chief of the powerful armies or foodgrains etc, who crosses over the water (by boat or steamer) who is to be adored by others, who goes in all directions for work, and listens to our speeches. May the learned persons who are of quiet or peaceful disposition like the water hear us. May the active enlightened persons shining like the white cities who are benevolent like the big cloud, listen to our words.

PURPORT :—There is a simile in the mantra. Only those persons can become highly learned, who gladly undergo the examination in the subjects taught by the enlightened persons. Those teachers only can make the students highly learned who having taught them well, examine them thoroughly like their opponents. Those teachers and students who try as above, always grow like the rivers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नभ:) जलम् । नभ इति उदकनाम साधारणनाम (NG 1, 14) । =Water, sky. (इषिरः) गन्तव्यः । इष-गतौ (दिवा०) इषिमदि मुदिशुषिभ्यः हिरच (उणादिकोषे 1, 51) इति हिरच् प्रत्ययः । =Approachable. (आपः) जलानीव व्याप्तविद्या विद्वांसः । =The learned persons who are of peaceful disposition like the waters. (स्स्रुचः) गमनशीलाः । =Moving, active.

TRANSLATOR'S CRITICAL NOTES :—Though in the printed text of the Sanskrit commentary of नभः, it has been interpreted as water, but the authority quoted (as printed) simply says, नभ इति साधारणनाम (NG 1, 4) which does not tally with the authority quoted above. It should have been. नभ इति उदकनाम ।

The same subject of Vishvedevāh is elucidated :

विदा चिन्नु महान्तो ये व एवा ब्रवाम दस्मा वार्यं दधानाः ।
वयंश्चन सुभ्वं आवं यन्ति क्षुभा मर्तमनुयतं वधस्नैः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O great men ! whoever are the destroyers of miseries, whoever desire the good of all, you should certainly know all about them. We tell you to be endowed with acceptable happiness and life, and always be engaged in doing good deeds. You should teach the people who come to men, for endeavouring with their movement (building their own life) suitably, on being punished and purified.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should also do good deeds like the enlightened do and preach the others to emulate. Punish them who give trouble or frighten others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दस्मा:) दु:खोपक्षेप्तार:। दसु-उपक्षये (दिवा०)। =Destroyers of miseries. (वार्य्यम्) वरणीयं सुखम्। वृञ्-वरणे। =Acceptable or desirable. (सुभ्व:) ये शोभनेषु कर्मसु भवन्ति।=Engaged in doing good deeds.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—By oversight of the printers, meaning of एवा: has been left out in the original text of the Sanskrit commentry which has been translated as (एवा:). In the printed पदपाठ, the reading is एवा: and not एवा. Therefore, it should mean as explained by Dayananda Sarasvati in his commentary on Rg. 5, 41, 5 as कामयमाना: or desiring the welfare of all.

The subject of Vishvedevāh is still discussed here :

आ दैव्यानि पार्थिवानि जन्मापश्चाच्छा सुमखाय वोचम् ।
वर्धन्तां द्यावो गिरश्चन्द्राग्रा उदा वर्धन्तामभिषाता अर्णाः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let me speak well about the persons full of divine virtues, ordinary and well-known on earth for their actions (which cause those births), so that may our true and blissful or golden desires are properly balanced grow like the seas with waters. And may also the living beings grow for the performence or performers of the Yajnas.

PURPORT :—O men ! fulfil your noble desires and adorn your speech by doing good deeds and accepting good virtues. As rivers and seas grow with the water, likewise men grow or make progress righteously by industriousness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्रात:) सत्या: कामा: । =Truthful desires. (चन्द्राग्रा:) चन्द्रं सुवर्णमानन्दो वा अग्रे यासां ताः । =Which have gold or bliss before them. (अर्णाः) समुद्राः । अर्णा इति नदीनाम (NG 1, 13) अत्र नदीपतिः समुद्रः । =Seas.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—(व्रावा:) दिवु—क्रीडाविजिगीषा... स्वप्नकान्ति गतिषु (दिवा०) कांतिः कामना । चन्द्रम् इति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) चदि आह्लादे (भ्वा०) अह्लाद एव आनन्द अर्णाः इति ।

The subject of Vishvedevāh is further treated :

पुदेपंदे मे जरिमा नि धायि वरूत्री वा शुक्रा या पायुभिश्च ।
सिषक्तु माता मही रसा नः स्मत्सूरिभिर्ऋजुहस्तं ऋजुवनिः ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may the mother earth or speech which is full of praise of God, be the giver of good happiness and power endowed with love and other virtues, straight forward in dealings and the sharer of the straight-forward articles with the learned persons, and with their protective powers in their knowable and attainable objects be united with us. May she be established in us.

PURPORT :—O men ! as mother nourishes her children, in the same manner, the knowledge aquired well by the association of the enlightened persons protects the learned ones from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पदेपदे) प्राप्तव्ये प्राप्तव्ये वेदितव्ये वेदितव्ये गन्तव्ये गन्तव्ये वा पदार्थे । =In the object attainable or knowledge. (जरिमा) स्तावका । =Praiser of God. (वरूत्री) वरसुखप्रदा । =Giver of good happiness. (महि) महिती वाग् भूमिर्वा । =Great speech of earth.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—पदी-गतौ । गतेस्त्रयोऽर्थाः ज्ञानं गमनं प्राप्तिश्च । अत्र त्रयोऽप्यर्थाः अभिप्रेताः । जरिता इति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) ।

———

The Vishvedevāh are mentioned :

कथा दाशेम नमसा सुदानूनेवया मरुतो अच्छोक्तौ प्रश्रवसो मरुतो अच्छोक्तौ। मा नोऽहिर्बुध्न्यो रिषे धादस्माकं भूदुपमातिवनिः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! how should we give with reverence food etc. with proper visits to liberal donors, who are men of good food (resources) and reputation. As good and brave men urge us to speak truth, so you should also do. Because the cloud in the firmament is the distributor and upholder of foodgrains for us, we may never suffer on account of food shortage. You also never induce us to do acts of violence.

PURPORT :—You should ask the enlightened persons to find whom should we give and what should we accept from whom, and then act as decided in accordance with their instructions or guidelines. As the cloud nourishes others and is itself dissipated or turn into pieces, in the same manner, though the highly learned persons are sometimes troubled or harmed by others, yet they always do good to others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदानून्) उत्तमदानान् । =Liberal and good donors. (बुध्न्य:) अन्तरिक्षे भव: । =Lying in the firmament. (रिषे) अन्नाय । =For good food.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—दा—दाने । दाभ्यां नु: (उणादिकोषे 3, 32) बुध्नम् अन्तरिक्षम् (NKT 10, 4, 46) बद्धा आस्मिन् धृता आप: इति निरुक्त्या ।

About the enlightened persons (Vishvedevāh) is told further :

इति चिन्नु प्रजायै पशुमत्यै देवासो वनते मर्त्यो व आ देवासो वनते मर्त्यो वः। अत्रा शिवां तन्वो धासिमस्या जरां चिन्मे निर्ऋतिर्जग्रसीत ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person! the man who provides food for your offsprings along the animals, he who provides for and serves the auspicious grand old men of your progeny, and the one who provides for the happy old age of my body, and one that takes your food like the earth, please accomplish all them for us along with all such good people.

PURPORT :—O learned persons! you should try in such a manner that the span of life of men may increase, till they grow old, and in absence of that, they can not become good admirers or experienced persons of all the events.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(निॠतिः) भूमिः। निॠतिरिति पृथिवीनाम। (NG 1, 1)। =Earth. (वनते) सम्भजति। वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा०)। =Divides provides. (धासिम्) अन्नम्। धासिरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)। =Food.

The subject of enlightened persons is continued :

तां वो देवाः सुमतिमूर्जयन्तीमिषमश्याम वसवः शसा गोः।
सा नः सुदानुर्मृळयन्ती देवी प्रति द्रवन्ती सुविताय गम्याः ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O righteous and learned persons! may we have that mighty learned lady who is a good donor, giver of happiness and who goes to you knowingly for the sake of prosperity. May we get her good intellect that uplifts us by giving vigour and good food? O learned persons! whosoever dwell in good virtues, out of them such a noble lady admired on earth, may come to us. O highly learned lady! go to these persons (for preaching truth).

PURPORT :—Men should always take well-cooked good food which promotes intellect and strength, so that your intellect, good reputation and wealth may grow more and more.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वसवः) शुभगुणेषु कृतनिवासाः। वस-निवासे (भ्वा०)। =Always dwelling in good virtues. (ऊर्जयन्तीम्) पराक्रमादिदानेनोन्नयन्तीम्। ऊर्ज—बलप्राणनयोः। (चुरा०)। =Uplifting by giving vigour and inspiration. (द्रवन्ती) जानन्ती गच्छन्ती वा। द्रु—गतौ। गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानगमनार्थ-ग्रहणमत्र। =Knowing or going.

More is described about the enlightened persons :

अभि न इळा यूथस्य माता स्मन्नदीभिरुर्वशी वा गृणातु ।
उर्वशी वा बृहद्दिवा गृणानाभ्यूर्ण्वाना प्रभृथस्यायोः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may admirable speech or earth which is like the mother of the multitude, make us praiseworthy. May the speech which can control many make us glorious alongwith the nervous system (stamina) ? May noble intellect which control many and which are full of light, praising good virtues, covering all objects and upholding life, make us admirable ?

PURPORT :—O men ! if your speech is always full of truth, your span of life will be long.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इच्छा) प्रशंसनीया वाग्भूमिर्वा । =Admirable speech or earth. (उर्वशी) उरु बहुवशेकर्त्री प्रज्ञा । उरवो बहवो वशे भवन्ति यस्या सा वाणी । उर्वशीति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) । उर्वशी—ऊरुवंशोऽस्या (NKT 5, 3, 14) ।=Speech which can control many. =Intellect which can control many. ———

The subject of enlightened persons is dealt :

सिषक्तु न ऊर्जव्यस्य पुष्टेः ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—May a highly learned man associate us with the development or growth of a very mighty person ?

PURPORT :—He who is benevolent to the world can establish and stabilize the relations between all the sciences or departments of knowledge.

मधोर्मदाय बृहतीमृतज्ञामाग्ने वह पथिभिर्देवयानैः ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! Roving and serving, you bring us good food with reverence, by the paths traversed by absolutely truthful enlightened persons for our bliss. Soaked in sweetness that great speech does not attach itself to any external object (i.e. formality, Ed.), and is the instrument of knowledge. It is bright and desirable, by which gifts are offered and which deals with great subjects and enlightens truth.

PURPORT :—Those persons are only highly learned who always beg for knowledge from all sides and never go against the path of righteousness in their conduct.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ग्नाम्) गच्छन्ति ज्ञानं यया ताम्। ग्ना इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) ग्ना इति उत्तराणिपदानि (NG 3, 29) गद-गतौ-त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थ ग्रहणम्। =The instrument of knowledge. (ऋतवाम्) ऋतं सत्यं जानाति यया ताम्। ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10)। =By whose help truth is known.

The same subject of duties of enlightened persons is continued :

अञ्जन्ति यं प्रथयन्तो न विप्रा वपावन्तं नाग्निना तपन्तः।
पितुर्न पुत्र उपसि प्रेष्ठ आ घर्मो अग्निमृतयन्नसादि ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION ;—O seeker after knowledge ! you should acquire knowledge by serving well those persons who desire or manifest you (and others), who spread the seed of knowledge among the wisemen because they put up with all sufferings with Brahmacharya which is purifier like fire. The Yajna is like the dearest child in the lap of the father, and it establishes a leader truthfully, therefore serve it.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. O highly learned teachers ! make the Brahmacharis great scholars who are self-controlled, absolutely truthful, endowed with the power of putting up with all kinds of the hardships like heat and cold, pleasure and pain, praise and censure etc. free from pride and attachment and lovers of truthful conduct and benevolence.

The duties and attributes of an enlightened person are cited :

आ नो दिवो बृहतः पर्वतादा सरस्वती यजता गन्तु यज्ञम् ।
हवं देवी जुजुषाणा घृताची शग्मां नो वाचमुशती शृणोतु ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION ;—O students ! this speech is full of knowledge which is worthy of attainment. Let it come to us who are desirous and of loft ideas, like water from the cloud. A learned lady is of peaceful disposition like water, who serves the public well, is endowed with the divine virtues and the knowledge of the shastras and desirous of the welfare of all. Let her listen to our dealing of knowledge, our invocation or request, and our speech which confers happiness. Let her listen and know also to what you do or learn, when she approaches you.

PURPORT :—It is only those persons whose desires are truthful, carry the most lofty ideas, lovers and doing good to others, are righteous and examiners of the students that attain the divine speech.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिव:) कामयमानान् । दिवु-क्रीडाविजिगीषाव्यवहार-द्युतिस्तुति मोदमदस्वप्नकान्ति गतिषु । अत्र कान्त्यर्थ: । कान्ति: कामना । =Desirous. The theme of a learned person is dealt :

आ धर्णसिर्बृहद्दिवो रराणो विश्वेभिर्गन्त्वोमभिर्हुवानः ।
ग्ना वसान ओषधीरमृध्रस्त्रिधातुशृङ्गो वृषभो वयोधाः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the sun is upholder and gives away (spreads) the great light with all its protective capabilities and accepts the beings. Pervading the speeches and never decaying the herbs like Soma resembles with three basic substances like white red and black horns. It gives beautiful life (span of life) and nourishes the whole world with the rays and is thus benefacter.

You should also come forward in a nice way for the benefit of the world.

PURPORT :—Here is a simile. The learned person who knows well the three qualities of the nature, tells about the ideal speech and never commits violence. He is able to cure the diseases of the people with his medicines and tells the merits of the Brahmacharya and thus prolongs the age of people. He is ever respected in the world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धर्णसिः) धर्त्ता । =Upholder. (बृहद्दिवः) बृहतः प्रकाशस्य । =Of the great light. (ओमभिः) रक्षणादिकारकैः सह । =Alongwith protective capabilities. (वयोधाः) यो वयः कमनीयमायुर्दधाति सः । =One who prolongs ideal span of life.

The same subject of an enlightened person's duties and nature is continued :

मातुष्पदे परमे शुक्र आयोर्विपन्यवो रास्पिरासो अग्मन् ।
सुशेव्यं नमसा रातहव्याः शिशुं मृजन्त्यायवो न वासे ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the persons become worthy to enjoy happiness, who perform acts leading to happiness, live in the good and hygenic place of the mother earth being admirers of good life, love giving in charity and are themselves liberal donors. They purify others with honour as well as with good food, as they purify a small new born child and put him in dress.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. As a mother cleanses her infant child and covers it with good clothes, in the same manner, those who purify their mind by the practice of Yoga, enjoy happiness with wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पदे) प्रापणीये । =In a place to be achieved. (शुक्रे) शुद्धे । शुचिर-पूतिभावे (दिवा०) पद गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्व प्राप्त्यर्थं- ग्रहणम् । =Pure. (रास्पिरासः) ये रा दानानि स्पृशन्ति ते । रा-दाने (अदा०) । स्पृ-प्रीतिसेवनयोः (स्वा०) ।=Those who love to give.

The subject of duties and attributes of an enlightened continued :

बृहद्वयों बृहते तुभ्यमग्ने धियाजुरों मिथुनासः सचन्त ।
देवोदेवः सुहवों भूतु मह्यं मा नों माता पृथिवी दुर्मतौ धात् ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! the couples who have attained old age with good intellect or action offer their great life for your benefit. Let every scholar admire me. Let not my mother who like the earth, ever keep me in bad intellect.

PURPORT :—O men ! Let those persons who are old in age and knowledge and who unite you with various sciences and protect you like mother be venerable to you.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धियाजुरः) धिया प्रज्ञया कर्म्मणा वा प्राप्तजरावस्थाः । जृष् वयोहानौ । धीरिति प्रजानाम । =Those who have attained old age with good intellect good or action. (सुहवः) सुष्ठु प्रशंसनीयः । ह्वेञ् स्पर्धायाम् । =Admirable.

The duties and nature of a learned person are stated :

उरौ देवा अनिबाधे स्याम ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION ;—O enlightened persons ! do arrange in such manner that we may be free from all obstacles in a vast dealing.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the enlightened persons to do such things which may make all men free from obstacles.

The subject of duties and attributes of a learned persons is described:

समश्विनोरवसा नूतनेन मयोभुवा सुप्रणीती गमेम।
आ नो रयिं वहतमोत वीराना विश्वान्यमृता सौभगानि ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you confer joy adopting righteous policy and good guidance, and therefore convey to us wealth and brave and good progeny. By your unprecedented (new) protections, may we have imperishable riches, very good children and grandchildren, all kinds of prosperity and good fortunes.

PURPORT :—The teachers and preachers who lead all men to prosperity by teaching them modern and ancient sciences, become forever admirable.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वीरान्) अत्युत्तमान् पुत्रपौत्रादीन् । पुत्रो वै वीरः (Stph 3, 3, 1, 12) । =Very good children and grandchildren. (सुप्रणीती) धर्म्यंनीतियुक्तौ । =Endowed with or adopting righteous policy.

Rishi or seers of the hymn-Avatsāra Kāshyapa and others. Devatā or subject-Vishvedevāh. Chhanda-Jagati and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Nishāda and Dhaivata.

The attributes of a king are told :

तं प्रत्नथा पूर्वथा विश्वथेमथा ज्येष्ठतातिं बर्हिषदं स्वर्विदम्।
प्रतीचीनं वृजनं दोहसे गिराशुं जयन्तमनु यासु वर्धसे ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as you sustain with good speech a man who behaves like the man of yore, like the predecessors, like this noble persons, and like all enlightened persons, who are the best, who are seated on the best seat (Asana), who are bestowers of happiness, who come in front of us, are mighty and victorious. Let us strengthen those armies by whose help glory as well as your subjects enchance.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should appoint them only on good posts of administration who sustain the State in accordance with the eternal paths and like the old good kings as fathers, who make their armies perfectly strong and conquering all enemies, and make the subjects happy, so that the happiness of the rulers and the subjects may go up constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बर्हिषदम्) बर्हिष्युत्तमासनेऽन्तरिक्षे या सीदन्तम् । बर्हिरिति अन्तरिक्षनाम (NG1, 3) बर्हिरिति इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) ।=Seated on good seat (Asana) or in the firmament (in an aircraft). Great or good Asana etc. (वृजनम्) बलम् । वृजनम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । =Might, but here mighty.

———

The attributes of a king are further stated :

श्रिये सुदृशीरुपरस्य याः स्वर्विरोचमानः ककुभामचोदते ।
सुगोपा असि न दभाय सुक्रतो परो मायाभिर्ऋत आस नाम ते ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king endowed with good intellect and actions ! you are the protector of all women of lovety appearence because of their beauty, like the radiant sun is the illuminator of all directions and the clouds. Even for a violent wicked person who does not prompt rightly, you do not deal with bad intellect. Your name is always in the truth (that is truthful) and, therefore, your subjects grow from all sides.

PURPORT :—As the sun being the illuminator of all directions, causes rains for the benefit of all, in the same manner, a ruler should promote knowledge and happiness of the people illuminating (treating) them with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उपरस्य) मेघस्य । उपर इति मेघनाम (NG 1,10)। =Of the cloud. (स्वः) आदित्यः । स्वः आदित्यो भवति । सु अरणः सु ईरणः । स्वृतो रसान् स्वृतो भास ज्योतिषाम् । स्वृतो भासेति वा (NKT 2, 4, 10) । =The sun. (ककुभाम्) दिशाम् । ककुभ् इति दिङ्नाम (NG 1, 6) । =Of the directions.

Now the attributes of a ruler are told illustrating the cloud :

अत्यं हविः सचते सच्च धातु चारिष्टगातुः स होता सहोभरिः ।
प्रसर्स्राणो अनु बर्हिर्वृषा शिशुर्मध्ये युवाजरो विस्रुहा हितः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the king who is endowed with an inviolable speech cherishes strength, and is of un-restricted movement, very mighty, and ever young and not getting sick or old. He is the destroyer of diseases, benevolent and donor, unites his oblation which is good upholder and pervasive with the firmament, and meets with merit to the people of the loving, world like an infant meets his mother.

PURPORT :—O king ! a performer of the Yajna does good to the world by purifying the air, rains and water by putting oblations, full of fragrant, invigorating and other articles in the fire. In the same manner, make the State happy by imparting knowledge with justice and good reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरिष्टगातुः) अरिष्टा अहिंसिता गातुर्वाग्यस्य सः । रिष्-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) । =He whose speech is inviolable. (विस्रुहा) यो विश्चून् रोगान् हन्ति । =He who destroys diseases. (धातु) यद् धाति तत् । धाव्-धारणपोषणयोः (जुहो०) । =That which upholds or sustains.

———

The attributes of a ruler are told by the illustration of the sun and the cloud :

प्र वं एते सुयुजो यामन्निष्टये नीचीरमुष्मै यम्य ऋतावृधः ।
सुयन्तुभिः सर्वशासैरभीशुभिः क्रिविर्नामानि प्रवणे मुषायति ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—As the sun which is sustainer of the people steals (so to speak) the waters that flow in low places with its rays, in the same manner, O men ! these righteous persons who unite themselves with Dharma (righteousness) for desirable happiness and invisible joy should make even the wicked and fallen subjects the deposers of truth who help the dispenser of justice

(judge or magistrate. Ed.) with the help of those who are good controllers and administrators.

PURPORT :—O men! the sun draws water for the happiness of all, in the same manner, a ruler leading his subjects towards the path of justice, with the help of the high learned judges, thus accomplishes the good of the public.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमुष्मै) परोक्षाय सुखाय । =For invisible happiness. (क्रिविः) प्रजापालनकर्त्ता । =The sustainer of the people. (नामानि) जलानि । नाम इत्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) । =Waters. The Subject of duties of enlightened persons is continued:

श्येन आंसामदितिः कक्ष्यो॒ मदो॑ विश्ववा॑रस्य यजतस्य॑ मायिनः॑ ।
समन्यमन्यमर्थयन्त्येत॑वे विदुर्विषाणं॑ परिपानमन्ति ते ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION:—Those men become happy who associate themselves with a person who is quick-going like a horse among the subjects, is a man of inviolable nature, ever alert and cheerful, acceptable for all, and unifier, and intelligent. They stand closely by him and know how to get good position and `requesting him to help them enjoyable and protective.

PURPORT :—The learned persons who make evil-minded persons endowed with good intellect, and destroy the wicked like the hawk are always good.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(श्येनः) १. प्रशंसनीयगतिरश्वः। श्येनास इति अश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) श्येन इति पदनाम (NG 5, 5)। =The horse of good race. (श्येनः) २. श्येनपक्षी। गत्यर्थमादाय भावार्थे श्येनपक्षिग्रहणम्। =Hawk. (अदितिः) अविनाशिनी प्रकृतिः। =Imperishable matter, nature. (विश्ववारस्य) समग्र-स्वीकरणीयस्य। वृञ् वरणे (स्वा०)। Acceptable to all.

The attributes of good persons are narrated.

सदापृणो यजतो वि द्विषो॑ वधीद्बाहुवृक्तः श्रुतवित्तर्यो॑ वः सचा॑ ।
उभा स वरा प्रत्येति भाति॑ च यदीं॑ गणं भजते सुप्रयावभिः ॥१२॥

12 TRANSLATION :—O men! the man who is satisfied of all, knower of the Vedas, who knows how to go across the ocean of misery, who is respector of the enlightened persons, unifier, destroyer of the foes with his arms and annihilator of the haters of righteousness with the help of his associates, who comes to you for help and instruction, illiminates truth and serves the group of good men, can honour good audience and preachers both.

PURPORT :—The men of just conduct who have studied well the Vedas etc., who destroy the wicked and protect righteous persons, remain ever happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बाहुवृक्तः) यो बाहुभ्यां दुष्टान् वृङ्क्ते छिनत्ति । वृक-आदाने (भ्वा॰) वृजी-वर्जने (अदा॰)। =He Who thrashes asunder the wicked. (द्विषः) धर्मद्वेष्ट्रीन् । =Haters of righteousness. (ईम्) एव। =Only, certainly. (सदापृणः) यः सदा पृणाति तर्पयति सः । पृ-प्रीतौ (भ्वा॰) प्रीम् तर्पणे कान्तौ च (भ्वा॰)। =He who ever satisfies or pleases.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others have taken Sadaprinah, Yajatah, Vriktabahu, Shrutarit and Taryah as Proper Nouns or the names of the seers, But it is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic terminology according to which all words are derivatives. However, Shri Sayanacharya has, it may be pointed out, given derivative meanings also saying. सदापृणः सर्वदानशीलः, यजतः-यष्टा, बाहुवृक्तः बाहुभ्यां वृक्तदमः श्रुतावत्-श्रुतस्य वेत्ता। But Prof. Wilson and Griffith have simply taken them as Proper Nouns Maharishi Dayanahda Sarasvati's interpretation is the best and reasonable.

What should a highly learned person do is told :

सुतंभरो यजमानस्य सत्पतिर्विश्वासामूधः स धियामुदञ्चनः ।
भरद्धेनू रसवच्छिश्रिये पयोऽनुब्रुवाणो अध्येति न स्वपन् ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that learned person only is worthy of respect, who is the sutainer of the Yajamana (who shows respect to the enlightened men) and of the world in general, uplifter of all intellects and actions, promoter and protector of the good.

Infact, that person fills men with knowledge like a cow gives tasteful milk, and who takes shelter in Dharma (righteousness), who does not sleep or show laziness while teaching to others, and always remembers truth.

PURPORT :—He alone is a good person who is grateful, lover of the service rendered to absolutely truthful enlightened persons, giver of wisdom to all, the showerer of true teaching like the cow and who is free from ignorance and other causes of misery.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुतम्भर:) य उत्पन्नं जगद्बिभर्ति । =He who sustains the world which is created by God. (ऊध:) ऊर्ध्वं गमयिता । =Uplifter. (उदञ्चन:) उत्कृष्टतां प्रापक: । उत-अंच-गति पूजनयो: (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययो: । भृ धारणपोषणयो: ।= Leading to sublimity or loftiness.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Here again Shri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson and Griffith and others have taken Sutambhara as the name of a particular Rishi. Shri Sayanacharya has given the derivative meaning of the word यागं निर्वाहक: meaning a performer of the Yajna, but others have ignored even that. The following foot-note given by Griffith is noteworthy—Sutambhara is said to be the name of a Rishi. The word means the bearer of the distilled juice of libation. Prof. Ludwig says that the Hawk is intended (vide, The Hymns of the only Rigveda Vol.I.P. 512.) It shows to what absured length some of these translators of the Vedas have gone.

The same subject of enlightened persons is further explained :

यो जा॒गार॒ तमृचः॑ कामयन्ते॒ यो जा॒गार॒ तमु॒ सामा॑नि यन्ति ।
यो जा॒गार॒ तम॒यं सोम॑ आह॒ तवा॒हम॑स्मि स॒ख्ये न्यो॑काः ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATON :—One who is awake from the sleep of ignorance, men studying (the hymns in the Riks of Rigveda) desire him. He who is awake, to him the hymns of the Samaveda come or reveal. (He gets their knowledge being alert and wakeful). The group of Soma and other creepers or wealth come to him who is thus awake and says I am certainly in your friendship.

PURPORT :—The Vedic knowledge is attained only by those, who desire to acquire that knowledge. He who keeps friendship with good men and other living beings, enjoys much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जागार) अविद्यानिद्राया उत्थाय जागर्ति । जागृ-निद्राक्षये । =Awake from the sleep of ignorance. End of sleep. Here it is used in the sense of the end of the sleep of ignorance (न्योकाः) निश्चितस्थानः । ओक इति निवास नामोच्यते (NKT 3,1,3) ।=Of a certain fixed place. (सोमः) सोमलताद्योषधिगण ऐश्वर्यं वा । ये सत्यं कामयन्ते ते प्राप्तसत्या जायन्ते ।=The group of Soma and other creepers or great wealth.

———

The position attained by awakened persons is described :

अग्निर्जागार तमृचः कामयन्तेऽग्निर्जागार तमु सामानि यन्ति ।
अग्निर्जागार तमयं सोम आह तवाहमस्मि सख्ये न्योकाः ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATON :—O men ! the students who are of good intellect desire only a man (teacher) who is purifier like fire and is awakened; to a man who like fire is awakened (alert); the sciences mentioned in the Sāmveda come or revealed. To the man who is purifier like the fire, comes a pupil who is desirous of acquiring the great wealth of knowledge and says, I am certainly in your friendship.

PURPORT :—The knowledge and good education are acquired by those who are never idle, are industrious, righteous, self-controlled and seeker after knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS (ऋचः) प्रशंसितबुद्धयो विद्यार्थिनः । ऋच् स्तुतौ । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः । अतः ऐश्वर्यग्रहणम् । =The students or admired intellect. (सोमः) विद्यैश्वर्यमिच्छुः ।=Desirous of the great wealth of knowledge. (सामानि)—सामवेदादिप्रतिपादितविज्ञानानीति । =The science told in the Samaveda etc.

Sūktam-45

Rishi of th Sūktam-Sadaprina Ātreya. Devatā- Vishvedavāh. Chhanda-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svara-Panchama and Dhaivata.

The attribuites of the sun are compared with the teachers and preechers :

विदा दिवो विष्यन्नद्रिमुक्थैरायत्या उषसो अर्चिनो गुः ।
अपावृत व्रजिनीरुत्स्वर्गाद्वि दुरो मानुषीर्देव आवः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! always serve the persons who are glaring like the sun and the divine like the cloud. As the sun (by its rays) pervades and knocks at the doors the houses of the people and manisfests its glory, dispels the cloud and removes the darkness in the same manner, always serve those enlightened men who desire the welfare of all beings, who honour good men, who pervade all places with the Vedic sermons like the coming dawns and go everywhere.

PURPORT :— Those persons only deserve to be the teachers and preachers. who are illuminators of Vidy (true knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness) among the people like the dawn and the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्रजिनीः) वर्जनक्रिया । वृजी-वर्जने =The acts of giving up or dispelling. (स्वः) आदित्यः । स्वः आदित्या भवति । स्वरादित्यो भवति सुअरणः सुईरणः स्वृतो भासति (NKT 2, 4, 14) =The sun. (विवः) कामयमानाः दिवुधातो : । कामनार्थमादाय व्याख्या कान्तिः कामना । =Desiring the welfare of all living beings.

The same subject of teachers and preacher is again dealt :

वि सूर्यो अमतिं न श्रियं सादोर्वाद् गवां माता जानती गांत् ।
धन्वर्णसो नद्य१: खादोअर्णाः स्थूणेव सुमिता दृंहत द्यौः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—That man only can make all happy, who desiring the welfare of all promotes or upholds the knowledge and other good virtues like a well-measured pillars. He goes to his pupils and people like the full flowing rivers, growing foodgrains and waters on earth like a highly learned mother. He distributes wealth properly like the sun, distributes its radiance or beauty and earns wealth by duly utilising the rays of the sun.

PURPORT :—Only those wealthy men are always happy who uphold knowledge like the sun, kindness like mother, benevolence like rivers and firmness like pillars.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमतिम्) रूपम् । अमति: इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) =Form, beauty. (खादोअर्णा:) खादो भक्षणीयान्यन्नानि वा यान्यर्णांसि यासु ता: खाद-भक्षणे । अर्णः इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Those rivers which have plenty of waters and grow foodgrains. (धन्वर्णस:) धन्वे स्थले-ऽर्णांसि यासां ता: । =Having waters on ground.

———

The attributes of the enlightened persons are told :

अस्मा उक्थाय पर्वतस्य गर्भो महीनां जनुषे पूर्व्याय ।
वि पर्वतो जिहीत साधत द्यौराविवासन्तो दसयन्त भूम ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—Let us serve all the beings everywhere and destroy evils like a student who approaches enlightened persons to have admirable and glorious birth by knowing God-God, Who is generator of the earth and clouds.

PURPORT :—Those who put in the embrayo the seed of knowledge (mind) of the students, bestow of happiness upon all like the clouds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पवत:) पक्षीव पर्वंवान् मेघ: पर्वत इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =The cloud. (प्रविवासन्त:) सर्वत: परिचरन्त: । विवासति परिचरण-कर्मा (NG 3, 5) । =Serving from all sides. (दसयन्त) दोषानुपक्षयन्तु । दसु उपक्षये (दिवा०) =Destroy evils or defects.

The same subject of attributes of the enlightened ones is continued :

सूक्तेभिर्वो वचोभिर्देवजुष्टैरिन्द्रा न्व१ग्नी अवसे हुवध्यै ।
उक्थेभिर्हि ष्मा कवयः सुयज्ञा आविवासन्तो मरुतो यजन्ति ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the wise and enlightened thoughtful far-sighted persons, performers of good Yajnas in the form of the propagation of Vidya (knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness), always serve or uphold truth, invoke (utilised) electricity fire and you, for protection with admirable words used by the great scholars or scientists. You should also follow the same path.

PURPORT :—Those scholars are the best who uphold happiness, knowledg and science for the good of all, and give the knowledge of Agni (fuel/electricity) etc. to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रा) विद्युतम् । स्तनयित्नुरेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6. 3. 9) [illegible] 1, 2, 1) यज देवपूजा सङ्गति- करण दानेषु अत्र सङ्गतिकरण दानायार्थ-प्रयोगा: जन सङ्गति करणार्थं विद्यादानम् ।= Electricity. (सुयज्ञा: शोभना यज्ञा विद्याधर्मप्रचारिका क्रिया येषान्ते । = Who perform good Yajnas in the form of the propagation of Vidya and Dharma. (अविवासन्त:) सत्यं समन्तात्सेवमाना: । =Upholding or serving truth from all sides.

The same subject is continued :

एतो न्व१द्य सुध्यो॒३ भवा॑म॒ प्र दु॒च्छुना॑ मिनवामा॒ वरी॑यः ।
आ॒रे द्वेषां॑सि सनु॒तर्द॑धामा॒याम॑ प्राञ्चो॒ यज॑मान॒मच्छ॑ ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :— O men ! today we become endowed with good intellect, annihilate the dog-like wicked fedous persons, keep off all acts of animosity, and keep a very good performer of Yajna or unifier in a good position for ever. Being long-lived, you should also do the same.

PURPORT :—Such persons become very much praiseworthy who increasing knowledge, keep of the wicked. Being free from malice and other evils. they uphold the eternal truth.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (दुच्छुना:) दुष्टा श्वान इव वर्तमान: ।= Behaving like bad dogs on account of jealousy and greed etc. (प्राञ्च:) प्राक्तना चिरमायव: । =Long lived.(मिनवामा) हिंसेम । अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः । मीञ-हिंसायाम् (अयाः) प्र + अञ्चु गति पूजनयो: गतेस्त्रिस्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय दीर्घायु: प्राप्ता: इत्यर्थे अत्र ।=Kill, annihilate.

How should men attain intellect is told :

एता धियं कृणवामा सखायोऽप या माताँ ऋणुत व्रजं गोः ।
यया मनुर्विशिशिप्रं जिगाय यया वणिग्वङ्कुरापा पुरीषम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men! let us cultivate that good intellect which makes all as friends to one another, and by which a thoughtful person conquers a wicked. Such a man has handsome chin and nose, and by him a trader desirous of wealth gets water (in a desert etc), by which a mother makes cloud from the rays of the sun (through the process of fumigation etc) and removes misery. In the same manner, you should accomplish this work and attain good intellect and knowledge, PURPORT ;—It is the duty of men to be friendly to each another in order to increase intellectual power and to give scientific knowledge to others. As a Vaishya (businessman) grows by acquiring wealth, same way let all people grow by getting good intellect.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋणुत) साध्नुत। ऋणु-गतौ (तना:) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थो-ष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थंग्रहणम् कार्यंसिद्धि प्राप्नुत। =Accomplish. (वङ्कु:) धनेच्छु:। वकि कौटिल्य (भ्वा•) =Desirous of wealth. (पुरीषम्) पूर्तिकरमुदकम्। पुरीष मित्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Desiring to get wealth by hook or by crook.

What should man do is further highlighted ?

अनूनोदत्र हस्तयतो अद्रिरार्चन्येन दश मासो नवंग्वाः ।
ऋतं यती सरमा गा अविन्दद्विश्वानि सत्याङ्गिराश्चकार ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—Such persons are worthy of respect, who teach in such a manner that even those who are new in the field of education acquire sufficient knowledge in ten months. Such a man is showerer of happiness like the cloud, and he asks only those who have control over their hands and other organs, to do good deeds. He possesses the intellect which equally delighted all subjects, and gets good senses to act and by which a man, dear to us like Prāna (life energy), performs all truthful deeds.

PURPORT :—Those persons are considered to be the righteous ones in this world who being endowed with truthful conduct, accomplish the good of others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनूनोत्) प्रेरयेत् । णुद-प्रेरणे (तुदा०) = May urge. (नवग्वाः) नवीनगतयः । = Whose movements are new, norices. (सरमा) समानरमणा । रमु क्रीडायाम् = Equally delighted in all subjects. (अङ्गिराः) अङ्गानां रसरूपः प्राण इव । प्राणो वा अङ्गिराः (Stph 6, 12, 28, 1, 2, 3, 4) = Like the Prāṇa (vital energy) which is the essense of all organs.

———

How should men behave is told further :

विश्वे अस्या व्युषि माहिनायाः सं यद् गोभिरङ्गिरसो नवन्त ।
उत्सं आसां परमे सधस्थ ऋतस्य पथा सरमा विदद् गाः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men! as the airs are linked with the rays of the sun at the rise of this great dawn, and as enlightened men who practise Prānāyāma bow before God with the recitations of the Vedic mantras, the source is in that Supreme Being. Good intellect gets the knowledge by the path of truth of the Vedic words, which are like rays of the sun.

PURPORT :—As all the beings are delighted at the dawn, in the same manner, men enjoy on being free from all doubts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्युषि) विशिष्टे निवासे। =At the special dwelling or rising, (उत्सः) कूप इव। उच्छ-निवासे। उत्स इति। कूपनाम (NG 3, 2, 3) =Source.

How should men do like the sun is told :

आ सूर्यो यातु सप्ताश्वः क्षेत्रं यदस्योर्विया दीर्घयाथे।
रघुः श्येनः पतयदन्धो अच्छा युवा कविर्दीदयद् गोषु गच्छन् ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—The sun has seven horses in the form of seven kinds of rays. It goes in the long path of the earth, like the hawk, in the firmament. So you O commander-in-chief of the army! should be in the garrison of arms. Like the sun illuminates all the substances while rising upon the earth, a young wise poet or sage is the master of the food and other arts. This you should know well.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should act like the sun which has there are seven elements and which does not leave its own axis and shines well single in the middle of many earths.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सप्ताश्वः) सप्तविधा अश्वा आशुगामिनः किरणा यस्य सः। =Which has seven kinds of quick going rays? (अन्धः) अन्नादिकम्। अन्ध इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Foodgrains and other things. (दीदयत्) प्रकाशयति। दीदयति ज्वलतिकर्मा (NG 1, 16) =Illuminates.

The people's duties under such circumstances are mentioned :

आ सूर्यो अरुहच्छुक्रमर्णोऽयुक्त यद्धरितो वीतपृष्ठाः ।
उद्ना न नावमनयन्त धीरा आशृण्वतीरापो अर्वागतिष्ठन् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the sun ascends with it's strength and comes in contact with water (through its rays). The wise men of meditative disposition pervade the entire worlds by their knowledge, and take water and other things (for proper use). They take ferry a boat or ship by the route of the water. Their Prānas always stand by their side, which are conspicuous on all sides. You must know all this.

PURPORT :—The navigators acquire knowledge of the science of the sun and the water etc, and thus become wealthy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((हरितः) ये हरन्त्युदकादिकम् । हृञ् हरणे (भ्वा॰) = They who draw water etc. (आपः) प्राणाः । आपो वै प्राणाः (Stph 4, 8, 2, 2) जैमिनीयोपनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 3, 1, 9) = Prānas (vital breaths).

The men who pray serously for good intellect become gradually the scholars is told :

धियं वो अप्सु दधिषे स्वर्षां ययातरन्दश मासो नवग्वाः ।
अया धिया स्याम देवगोपा अया धिया तुतुर्यामात्यंहः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men! may we be the protectors of the enlightened persons, and may we get over the sins and miseries by this good intellect or action. Such men of ever new ideas and actions complete the Yajna lasting for ten months. I establish in my Prānas that good intellect which bestows happiness and urges up to share it with others.

PURPORT :—The wise, wealthy and mighty persons protect all, and get over all miseries.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वर्षाम्) स्वः सुखं सनति विभजति यया ताम् षण-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) =By which a man gets happiness and shares it with others. (तुतुर्याम) विनाशयेम । तूरी गीतत्वरणहिंसनयोः (दिवा०) अत्र हिंसार्थकः । =Let us destroy. (अंहः) पापं पापजन्यं दुःखं वा । =Sin or the misery resulting from it.

Pandit Lekhram Vedic Mission has been formed to work upon the objectives dear to the heart of Dandi Swami Virjanand, Rishi Dayanand and their ardent followers like Pandit Lekhram, Swami Shraddhanand, Swami Swatantranand, etc. We shall strive to propagate Vedic views on both the religious and temporal aspects of human life. We shall strive to propagate the vedic views of Maharshee Dayanand Saraswati through various events/programs, seminars, books, audio, video, and discussions at various forums including social media etc. We shall try to publish magazines for spreading views on Vedic knowledge, aryan history and for the enrichment of Samskrit and Hindi. We shall promote Gurukul education system and focus on arsh vidya, vocational-training, handicrafts, family based production-units as well as globalistic and holistic education system thru it. Further, we plan to work to improve the population and quality of animals like indigenous cow (A2 breeds) and other farm, load-bearing and milch animals. We shall also work for the cause of enforcement of prohibition of drugs, alcohol and tobacco, etc and initiate people's awareness and movement against smoking, alcoholism, gambling, flesh-trade, porn, slavery and drug abuse. We shall try to create awareness about and address some of the social evils, such as, female foeticide, dowry, empowerment and participation of women in learning and teaching vedas and decision making, etc. We plan to present a vedic socio-econo-politico alternative to human society suffering from the ill effects of the detrimental models of capitalism, communism, socialism, liberalism, anarchism, individualism, collectivism, gender-struggle, racism, caste by birth-ism, etc.

Our society may consider supporting, cooperating and co-ordinating with other organizations working to achieve similar objectives. We shall promote the ideals of national unity and international peace and amity through globalization of vedic literature, philosophy and social-economic-political ideals. We shall strive to promote communal and social harmony, and the brotherhood of humankind, as enshrined in the vedas. We shall collect funds and spend them in achieving the above objectives.

We request all our subscribers to help us in disseminating the teachings of the vedas. You all are requested to propagate the message of Vedas and please spread these PDF files as much as u can. For downloading more books related to vedic philosophy please visit www.aryamantavya.in

बृहस्पतिः शर्म पूषोत नो यमद्वरूथ्यं वरुणो मित्रो अर्यमा ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may the strength resting in the light (of knowledge) and uniting all beings be harmonious to us. Let it come to us along with good seat (Asana) to be offered it to the enlightened persons. Brihaspati—the protector of the great, and Poosha (nourisher) are the best like the Udāna, and dear like the Prāna. The Aryama-Dispenser of Justice-God and various names denote His different attributes and give us a good home to live or bestow upon us the family happiness.

PURPORT :—The persons who know the properties of the air acquire wealth from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिविक्षयम्) दिवि-प्रकाशे क्षयो निवासो यस्य तमा दिवु धातोरने कार्थेष्वत्रद्युत्यर्थंग्रहणम । द्युतिः प्रकाशः (क्षि-निवास गत्योः । (सुदा०) अत्र निवासार्थकः ।=Whose dwelling is in the light (of knowledge). (शर्म) गृहम् । शर्मेति गृहनाम (N G 3, 4) शर्मेति सुखनाम (N G 3, 6)—Home. (वरुण:) श्रेष्ठः उदान इव उत्तमः =The best like the Udāna. (मित्र:) प्राण इव प्रियः । प्राणो मित्रम् (जैमिनीयोपनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 3, 1, 3, 6) प्राणोदानौ वै मित्रा-वरुणौ (Stph 1, 8, 3, 12) तस्माद्वरुणः उदानः=Dear like Prāna.

TRNSLATOR'S NOTES :—By Brihaspati, Poosha, Mitra, Varuna and Aryama may also be taken as noble persons who are great preceptors, nourishers, friends, the best men and dispensers of justice.

The men's duties are pointed out :

उत त्ये नः पर्वतासः सुशस्तयः सुदीतयो नद्यस्त्रामणे भुवन् ।
भगो विभक्ता शवसावसा गमदुरुव्यचा अदितिः श्रोतु मे हवम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may the persons who are admirable like the clouds, and beneficent and praiseworthy like the wives, readily available for our protection and preservation. May the achievement of good wealth which is pervasive inviolable and given by proper division (to share with others) reach us with strength and protection etc. May all these listen to my invocation and be honoured by me.

PURPORT :—Those persons become humble who sustain the world like the clouds and who dispense admirable justice after hearing the requests of all people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदीतयः) प्रशंसितप्रकाशाः ।=Whose light is admired by all. (अदितिः) अविद्यमानखण्डनः । दो अवखण्डने (दि०) दीदयति-ज्वलति कर्मा (N G 1, 16)=Inviolable.

The queen should also be capable to administer justice :

देवानां पत्नीरुशतीरवन्तु नः प्रावन्तु नस्तुजये वाजसातये ।
याः पार्थिवासो या अपामपि व्रते ता नो देवीः सुहवाः शर्म यच्छत ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION —O men ! may the wives of the learned kings who are keen to deliver justice protect us. May they protect us well for strength and diffusion of knowledge. The glorious and well-invoked learned ladies who are well-known on earth and who are observing the bow of the waters-peacefulness-give us good home. It bestows upon us enjoy or domestic happiness.

PURPORT :—As kings administer justice among the men, same way their wives should administer justice among the women.

Rishi or seer of the Sūkam—Pratiratha Ātreya. Devata-Vishvedevah. Chhanda-Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The attributes of men and women are told :

प्रयुञ्जती दिव एति ब्रुवाणा मही माता दुहितुर्बोधयन्ती ।
आविवासन्ती युवतिर्मनीषा पितृभ्य आ सदने जोहुवाना ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—That women is very auspicious and bestower or happiness upon all who brings light (of knowledge) like the dawn from heaven in household life. She utters words of advice, makes experiments, teaches her daughter as venerable, serves the family people and others thoroughly, expert in mother craft by making her children, worthy of respect. She gets married in youth after receiving good education from her father like teachers with good intellect, and is always very much admired at home.

PURPORT :—The mother teaches her children upto fifth year and then hands them over to their father for training, and the father after teaching them for three years hands them over sons to the Acharya (preceptor). She hands over her daughter to the Acharyā (lady teacher) for receiving education with Brahmacharya; the Acharyas develop the children's complete personality, fully developed with Brahmacharya and educates them with practical knowledge. Having performed their Samavartana (home-returning cermony), they become the decorative of their family.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आविवासन्ती) समन्तात्सेवमाना । विवासति:- परिचरणकर्मा (N. G 3, 5) ।=Serving from all sides. (जोहुवाना) भृशं प्राप्तप्रशंसा: । हु दानादनयो: आदाने च (जु०) अत्र आदानार्थक: अथवा गृहीतप्रशंसेत्यर्थ:= Very much admired.

EDITOR'S NOTE :—The idea of teaching children at three gradual stages of mother, father and teacher is further treated in Shatapath Brahman—मातृमान् पितृमान् आचार्यवान् पुरुषो वेद । It has been explained amply by Dayanand Sarasvati ni Ch.II of Satyartha Prakash Ed.

1. TRANSLATION :—Let all men accept the friendship with the enlightened leaders. Every one should take up arms to preserve or defend his riches, by which you are nourished. May you earn good reputation.

PURPORT :—In order to acquire knowledge, wealth and strength of body, all men should receive education from the enlightened persons and exert themselves physically and spiritually.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नम्) यशः । द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नं वा (NKT 5, 1, 5) ।=Good reputation.(इषुध्यति) इषून् धरति ।=Takes up arms or defends.

What should men do is told further :

ते ते देव नेतर्ये चेमाँ अनुशसे ।
ते राया ते ह्या३ पृचे सचेमहि सचथ्यैः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned leader ! all those are to be honoured by you who unite these people with you for receiving your instructions. Those who guard honour of all with wealth are loved by all or become popular. Let us be united with them who in order to eatablish close contact with you deal in accordance with the rules of proper association.

PURPORT :—O learned person ! give instructions to the people who are near you and receive higher knowledge of various sciences by the association of great scholars or scientists.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(आपृचे) समन्तात् सम्पर्काय । पृची-सम्पृक्त (अदा०) पृची-सम्पर्के (रुधा०)।=For close contact from all sides. (सचथ्यैः) सचथेषु समवायेषु भवैः।=Following the rules of proper association.

What should men honour and what should be achieved is told ? :

अतों न आ नृनातिंथीनतः पत्नींर्दशस्यत ।
आरे विश्वं पथेष्ठां द्विषो युंयोतु यूयुविः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! show respect to our venerable guests who keep people away from unrighteousness and lead them to the path of righteousness. They give strength to or show honour to your wives. Respect all those men who follow the path of righteousness. Let the discriminator drive all adversaries who hate us at a distance. Let all malice and other evils be kept away.

PURPORT :—Men should serve and associate with righteous guests and develop discrimination or discretion. They should throw away all evils like malice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दशस्यत) बलयत । =Strengthen by showing then due respect. (युयुविः) विभागकर्त्ता । =Discriminator.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—दशस्यत has been interpreted by Dayananda Sarasvati here as बलयत though he has not pointed out the root-meaning. Sayanacharya has interpreted it as सर्वतः परिचरत or प्रयच्छत i.e. serve from all sides or give. In Dhatupath, we find Kashakritsna's दश-दर्शने (9, 124), so it may be taken to mean आदृत्य दर्शयत show respect to. To show respect is to strengthen and encouarage others. Or अनेकार्था धातवः Root verbs have got many meanings. पत्नीर्दशस्यत should mean show respect to your wives. But Prof. Wilson has translated it as 'Worship' the wives (of the deities) which is not correct. Griffith also has committed the same mistake by rendering it into English as 'Honour our guests, the Hero Gods and then the Davies. He adds the foot-note—The Davies—the consorts of the Gods. This interpretation is not correct as it is based not upon the test पत्नीर्दशस्यत but upon the imagination of the translators. It is also wrong on their part to take gods' (Wilson) or Gods' '(Griffith) from the .imple word used in the text is अतिथीन् which means the guests.

Who are conveyors of good dealings like the fire become men of preservant nature :

यत्र वह्निरभिहितो दुद्रवद् द्रोण्यः पशुः ।
नृमणा वीरपस्त्योऽर्णा धीरेव सनिता ॥४॥

TRANSLATOR'S NOTE :—The use of the epithet नरः for the Maruts clearly substantiates Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation of मरुतः as men and not storm gods, as Prof, Maxmuller and many other western scholars think. Prof. Wilson has translated as 'leaders of rites' and Griffith also as 'heroes'.

The men's duties are highlighted :

आ रुक्मैरा युधा नरं ऋष्वा ऋष्टीरसृक्षत ।
अन्वेनाँ अह विद्युतो मरुतो जज्झतीरिव भानुरर्त त्मना दिवः ॥६॥

6\. TRANSLATION :—As leading great men train military or armies, agreeable (loyal Ed.) to them at the time of the battle, therefore, you should pick up these brave men who are quick like the winds, rapid and make big sound or lighting to seek victory and glory. Get them equipped with the shining arms and weapons.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all enlightened persons, scholars scientists to give training of science of electricity etc. to the loyal people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋष्वाः) महान्तः। ऋष्वा इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)।=Great. (ऋष्टीः) प्राप्ताः सेनाजनाः। (ऋष्टीः)ऋषी-गतौ (तु०)। गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थंग्रहणम् ।=Men of the armies to come to see the king or the commander of the armies. (जज्झतीरिव) शब्दकारिण्यः शीघ्रगतयो वा ता इव। जज्झतीरिव शब्दानुकरणम् ।=Making noise and rapid movement.

The duties of men are elaborated :

ये वावृधन्त पार्थिवा य उरावन्तरिक्ष आ।
वृजने वा नदीनां सधस्थे वा महो दिवः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know all the good men, who are in the sky or multiform firmament for travel, who are well-known on earth or who grow on the bank of the rivers and in forest. Such men give up all bad habits through good education, and grow desiring the welfare of all and are great by nature and develop their faculties.

PURPORT :—Those who know the science of earth and other elements, grow from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सधस्थे) समानस्थाने ।=In place. (पार्थिवाः) पृथिव्यां विदिताः ।=Well-known on earth.

What should a learned men do is told further :

शर्धो मारुतमुच्छंस सत्यशवसमृभ्वसम् ।
उत स्म ते शुभे नरः प्र स्पन्द्रा युजत त्मना ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learnd person ! praise the strength of thoughtful men who are endowed with truth strength or whose strength is truth. They who accept as guides very wise men. O leading men of perservering movement ! unite yourselves with God for your welfare.

PURPORT :—Men should always admire good strength and God the Almighty.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋभ्वसम्) ऋभुं मेधाविनमसते गृह्णाति तम् । ऋभुरिति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) असु गत्यादिः ।=Acquiring of the wisedom. (स्यन्द्राः) धैर्य्यंगतयः ।=Of preserving movement.

The men's duties are further told :

उत स्म ते परुष्ण्यामूर्णा वसत शुन्ध्यवः ।
उत पव्या रथानामद्रिं भिन्दन्त्योजसा ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men! you may have such marks in the wheels of the chariot which protect you, being the purifiers and the cloud and rain down water. Being protected and honoured, may you dwell here well.

PURPORT :—As the clouds while raining water, break the earth, so the association with noble persons dispels all impurity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(परुष्ण्याम्) पालनकर्त्रीम् (क्रियापद) । पृ—पालनपूरणयोः (जुहो॰) ।=Protectors. (ऊर्णाः) रक्षिताः । उर्णुञ्-आच्छादने (अदा॰) ।=Protected, guarded. (अद्रिम्) मेघम् । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=Cloud.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is wrong on the part of Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others to take Parushni as the name of a particular river and to remark as Griffith has vented to do in his footnot "Parushni—one of the rivers of the Punjab, now called the Ravi". Such a wild imagination is against the fundamental principles of the eternal Vedas which Shri Sayanacharya has so ably enunciated (earlier. Ed.) in his introduction of the commentary on the Rigveda. Such an inconsistancy on the part of a great scholar is deplorable.

Men's duties are to seek all paths of Vidya and Dharma (knowledge and righteousness) etc. :

आपंथयो विपंथयोऽन्तंस्पथा अनुंपथाः ।
एतेभिर्मह्यं नामंभिर्यज्ञं विष्टार ओंहते ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! my Yajna in the form of honour shown to the enlightened persons, association, donation or charity etc. is attained by me by various paths or with the cooperation of the persons following different paths. They are therefore addressed by those names. Some follow a path which goes to all directions. Some tread upon path which goes to diverse directions, or even opposite directions; some are fond of having an underground path, and some follow another path of their choice. Let all co-operate with me when I invite them, even though they tread upon different paths.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should have a clear and distinct experience of all sciences and their practical application and give them to others also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आपथयः) समन्तादभिमुखः पन्था येषान्ते ।=The path that goes to front direction. (यज्ञम्) विद्वत्सत्कारादिकम् । यज—देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु ।=The verb denotes honour that is shown to all enlightened persons or, association and charity.

Men should acquire knowledge and other dealings step by step is told :

अधा नरो न्योहतेऽधा नियुतं ओहते ।
अधा पारावता इति चित्रा रूपाणि दर्श्या ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—That man becomes gratified and makes his life successful, who being a leader in the acquisition of knowledge attains it and helps others to do so, or who attains it being endowed with the certain movement of the wind etc., and who afterwards goes to distant places and feels (experiments. Ed.). These forms found in such a distant place are wonderful and worth seeing (or visiting. Ed.).

PURPORT :—Men should study all sciences with the observance of Brahmacharya, then should visualise their practical applications in arts and industries, and should get the knowledge of distant objects by inference and other means.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ओहते) प्राप्नोति प्रापयति वा । नियुतो वायोः इति आपिक्षेपयोजनानि (NG 1, 15) आ+वह—प्रापणे (भ्वा०) ।=Attains or enables others to attain. (नियुतः) निश्चितवाय्वादिगतिमान् । यु-मिश्रणमिश्रणयोः (अदा०)=Endowed with a certain movement of the wind.

How should men deal with one another is told :

छन्दःस्तुभः कुभन्यव उत्समा कीरिणो नृतुः ।
ते मे के चिन्न तायव ऊमा आसन्दृशि त्विषे ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :— Let those persons who praise God with Vedic mantras, be the protectors of all. Let them be like the well for the persons desirous of bath, and may they be helpful for my sight, for the strength and lustre of body and soul. Let them no be like lustre dancers, scatering evil thoughts or like thieves.

PURPORT :—Those persons are called Aptas—absolutely truthfuls and trustworthy persons, who do not disturb the peace of other's minds and never commit theft, rather they are like the well for a thirsty person and give peace and increase the strength of body and soul.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(छन्दः स्तुभः)ये छन्दोभिः स्तोभन्त स्तवनं कुर्वन्ति ।= Those who praise God with the Vedic mantras. (कुभन्यवः) आत्मनः कुंभनमुन्दनमिच्छवः । कु-विक्षेपे (तुदा०) ष्टुभ-स्तम्भे धारणे । क्रम स्तवनार्थकः । अनेकार्था धातवः इति-नियमात् । स्तुतिद्वारापि धारणमेव हृदि परमात्मने ।=Desirlng wetting or bath. (कीरिणः) विक्षेपकाः ।=Disturbers (of the peace of mind) scatterers of evil thoughts.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Not being able to understand the importance of the mantra, Griffith has remarked in the footnote. The stanza is difficult and obscure. The Hymn of the Rigveda p. 52.

———

Whose association should men keep is told :

य ऋष्वा ऋष्टिविद्युतः कवयः सन्ति वेधसः ।
तमृषे मारुतं गणं नमस्या रमया गिरा ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :— O Rishi ! knower of the meaning of the mantras ! you honour the host of the enlightened men who are knowers of the science of electricity, well-versed in all shastras and great (sublime) geniuses with well-trained, true and soft speech. Make them happy with your refined speech.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋष्टि विद्युतः) विद्युति वृष्टिविज्ञानं येषान्ते । ऋषी-गतौ (तुदा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थंग्रहणम् । =Those who are knowers of the science of electricity. (वेधसः) मेधाविनः । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)।=Geniuses. (ऋष्वाः) महान्तो महाशयाः । ऋष्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3,3)।=Great, endowed with sublime thoughts.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithets used for the Maruts like Rishwah, Kavayah, Vedhasah etc. clerly denote that they are great and wise men and not 'storm sods' as Prof. Maxmuller and some other Western translators have erroneously maintained. Even the faulty translation of Prof. Wilson and Griffith corroborates this. कवय: has been translated by Prof. Wilson as 'wise' and by Griffith as 'Sages'. Can these epithets be used for 'storm gods?

What should men do is further highlighted :

अच्छं ऋषे मारुतं गणं दाना मित्रं न योषणां ।
दिवो वां धृष्णव ओजंसा स्तुता धीभिरिषण्यत ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O Rishi (learned knower of the meaning of the mantras) ! approach the host of the Maruts—thoughtful men, as a youthful wife approaches her husband. Those who desire the welfare of all, who are men of strong determination and therefore admired by all, approach the thoughtful wise people with good intellects, strength and charity. So all should approach them reverentially.

PURPORT :—All teachers and the taught should be friendly to one another and should acquire the knowledge of the properties of the air and other elements.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(धृष्णव:)धृष्टा: प्रगल्भा: दृढ निश्चया: । धृषा-प्रागल्भ्ये (स्वा०) = Men of strong determination. (इषण्यत) प्राप्नुवन्ति । इष-गतौ (दि०)। = Obtain, approach.

Men should acquire the knowledge of various sciences by the association of the great scholars is described :

नू मंन्वान एंषां देवाँ अच्छा न वक्षणां ।
दाना संचेत सूरिभिर्यामंश्रुतेभिरञ्जिभिः ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the thoughtful person who obtains divine persons or objects with the association of the enlightened men, who have heard about the path of truth and who are manifesters of the Vidya (knowledge) and good virtues among themselves and who is liberal in giving charity, does not suffer from poverty and ignorance. You should have contact with such a person.

PURPORT :—Those persons who are lovers of association with the scholars and who are interested in spreading knowledge can acquire knowledge quickly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वक्षण) वहनेन । वह-प्रापणे (भ्वा०) । प्रवाहेण ।=With flow. (अजिभिः) विद्याशुभगुणप्रकटकारकैः । अंजू व्यक्तिमृक्षणकान्तिगतिषु (रुधा:) अत्र व्यक्त्यर्थः । व्यक्तिः-प्रकटीकरणम् ।=Manifesters or revealers of Vidya and good virtues.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The word याम in यामश्रुतेभिः has not been explained in the Sanskrit commentary and in the Hindi translation. It has been interpreted as याम प्रहर सुने गये जिनसे, उन विद्वानों से Here the sense is not clear. In his commentary on Rig 1.37.8 Dayananda Sarasvati has interpreted यामेषु as स्वस्वगमनरूपमार्गेषु, so here also it is proper to take the word याम to mean मार्ग or path. The same meaning has been given by him in his commentary on Rig. 3, 30-15 यामकोशाः—यान्ति येषु ते यामाः मार्गाः ।

Significance of knowledge is stated :

प्र ये मे बन्ध्वेषे गां वोचन्त सूरयः पृश्निं वोचन्त मातरम् ।
अधा पितरमिष्मिणं रुद्रं वोचन्त शिक्वसः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—Those highly learned persons should be respected by me, who for the fulfilment of the desire of my kith and kin tell me about good speech and who tell me about the firmament as mother. Afterwards, the mighty teachers tell me that a powerful and enlightened person who is terrifier of the wicked and who is protector of noble ones is to be regarded as father.

PURPORT :—Men should know that those who give us wisdom and good education should be ever respected.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वन्ध्वेषे) बन्धूनामिच्छार्थे । इषु—इच्छायाम् (तुदा०) ।=For the fulfilment of the desire of the kith and kin. (पृश्निम्) अन्तरिक्षम् । पृश्निरिति साधारणनाम (NG 1, 4) द्युलोकान्तरिक्ष साधारण-मित्यर्थः ।=Firmament. (शिक्वसः) शक्तिमन्तः ।=Mighty. (इष्मिणम्) इष्मो बहुविधो विद्यते यस्य तम् ।=Endowed with much knowledge.

———

The significance of knowledge is described :

सप्त मे सप्त शाकिन एकमेका शता ददुः ।
यमुनायामधि श्रुतमुद्राधो गव्यं मृजे नि राधो अश्व्यं मृजे ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I purify that wealth (of wisdom) which I have heard during the observance of the Yamas (restraints) and Niyamas (observances) and I purify that material wealth which is beneficial to cattle and to the horses. Men of seven kinds being powerful give me hundreds of useful things. You should also know them having obtained them.

PURPORT :—There are seven kinds of men in the world, namely :—foolish, very foolish, extremely foolish, a learned man, a very learned man, the best among the learned persons and a Vedic scholar.

———

Sūktam—53

Rishi or seer of the Sūktam—Shyāvāshva Ātreya. Devata—Marut. Chandas—Gāyatri, Brihati, Anushtup, Ushnik and Pankti. Svaras—Shadja, Rishabha and Panchama.

Men's duties are told :

को वे॑द जान॑मेषां को वा॑ पुरा सु॒म्नेष्वा॑स म॒रुता॑म् ।
यद्यु॑यु॒ज्रे कि॑ला॒स्यः॑ ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O ordinary or highly learned men! who knows the origin or manifestation of these men winds who are used for various purposes? Who is such a man whose mouth (or tongue) is full of certainty about it? Who is it that has been dwelling in happiness before?

PURPORT :—It is only great scholars who can with certainty know the definition and attributes of man, wind and other objects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मरुताम्) मनुष्याणां वायूनां वा । मरुतो मितराविणो वा मितरोचिनो वा । महद् द्रवन्तीति वा (NKT 11, 2, 14) मरुतः इति ऋत्विङ् नाम (NG 3, 18) मरुतः इति पदनाम (NG 5, 5) पद-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय गमनागमनक्रियाप्रापका वायवः ।=Of men or of the winds. (किलास्यः) निश्चितमास्यं यस्य सः ।=One whose mouth (tongue) is full of certainty. (जानम्) प्रादुर्भावम् ।=Manifestation or origin.

The way to querry or technique of questioning is stated :

ए॒तान्रथे॑षु त॒स्थुषः॒ कः शु॑श्राव क॒था य॑युः ।
कस्मै॑ सस्रुः सु॒दासे॒ अन्वा॒पय॒ इळा॑भिर्वृ॒ष्टयः॑ स॒ह ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! who has heard knowledge while standing in their vehicles like the aircrafts etc?

How do they go and whom do they attain? Upon what liberal person with many attendants do their kindred rains flowen down together with manifold food etc?

PURPORT :—It is only a man who knows the properties of many pervasive and useful things ltke electricity. He can know the dealings of the entire technology.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रथेषु) विमानादियानेषु । रथो रंहतेर्गतिकर्मणः । स्थिरतेर्वा स्याद् विपरीतस्य । रममाणोऽस्मिंस्तिष्ठतीति वा । रमतेर्वा रसतेर्वा (NKT 9, 2, 11) ।=In vehicles like the aircraft etc. (सश्चत) आप्नुवन्ति ते । सृ-गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=Obtain, achieve. (इलाभिः) अन्नादिभिः ।=With food etc.

What should men do is told :

ते म॑ आहु॒र्य आ॒ययु॒रुप॒ द्युभि॒र्विभि॒र्मदे॑ ।
नरो॒ मर्या॑ अरे॒पस॑ इ॒मान्पश्य॒न्निति॑ ष्टुहि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—The absolutely sinless men like the desiring birds told me the truth for delight, because they know and attain it. After actually seeing their desires, they have asked me to praise them.

PURPORT:—Those person are called Aptas (absolutely truthful) who acquire knowledge by labouring day and night and give instruction to others. (Here the simple life of a bird is praised as an ideal. Ed.)

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युभिः) कामयमानैः । (द्युभिः) दिवुधातोरनेकार्थेष्वत्र कान्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । कान्तिः-कामना ।=Desiring. (अरेपसः) दोषलेपरहिताः । अरेपस पापेनालिप्यमानयेति ((NKT 12, 3) ।=Free from sins and faults.

The importance of hard work is stressed :

ये अञ्जिषु ये वाशीषु स्वभानवः स्रक्षु रुक्मेषु खादिषु ।
श्राया रथेषु धन्वसु ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the persons who shine on account of their virtues and who are self-luminous with their manifest dealings, in their refined speeches, in their garlands or jewels, in their gold and other ornaments, in their eating, in their vehicles and on earth, they become renowned.

PURPORT :—Those who are industrious are respected everywhere and become wealthy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अंजिषु) प्रकटेषु व्यवहारेषु । अंजु व्यक्तिम्रक्षणकान्तिगतिषु । (रुधा०) । अत्र व्यक्त्यर्थकः । व्यक्तिः प्रकटीकरणम् ।=In manifest dealings. (वाशीषु) वाणीषु । वाशीति वाङ्नाम (NK 1, 11) ।=In speeches. (धन्वसु) स्थलेषु ।=In the landes.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithets used for Maruts like नरः, मर्याः. अरेपसः clearly show that they are sinless leading mortals and not storm gods as erroneously supposed and explained to be by Prof. Maxmullar and others.

The men's duties are stated :

युष्माकं स्मा रथाँ अनु मुदे दधे मरुतो जीरदानवः ।
वृष्टी द्यावो यतीरिव ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O thought men of good life ! for your delight I uphold vehicles like the aeroplanes, good rains (through Yajnas) and lightful of knowledge and like the acts which are to be accomplished with hard labour.

PURPORT ;—O men ! as I uphold with due practice the light of knowledge and rains through the Yajnas, so you should also do.

(NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्याव:) प्रकाशान् (द्याव:) दिवु धातो: द्युत्यर्थमादाय द्युति: प्रकाश: ।=Light. (यतीरिव) प्रयत्नसाध्या क्रिया इव ।=Like the processes to be accomplished with labour.

What should men do is told further :

आ यं नरः सुदानवो ददाशुषे दिवः कोशमचुच्यवुः ।
वि पर्जन्यं सृजन्ति रोदसी अनु धन्वना यन्ति वृष्टयः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the leading persons who are givers of good knowledge and other virtues, desire the welfare of all. They cause the cloud to fall down from the sky for the benefit of all donors. They let loose the rain clouds; and the shedders delers of the rain spread everywhere with abundant water. You should also do likewise.

PURPORT :—They only are good donors who cause sufficient rains through the performance of the Yajnas, and thus work for preservations of forests and construction of the tanks etc.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदानव:) उत्तमविद्यादिशुभगुणदातार: ।=Good donors of knowledge and good virtues.(कोषम्) मेघम् । कोश इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=Clouds. (रोदसी) द्यावापृथिव्यौ । रोदसीति द्यावापृथिवानाम (NG 3, 30) (धन्वना) अन्तरिक्षेण । धन्वान्तरिक्षम् । धन्वन्त्यस्मादाप: (NKT 5, 1, 5) ।=Heaven and earth,

---

The objects of knowledge is described :

तृतृदानाः सिन्धवः क्षोदसा रजः प्र सस्रुर्धेनवो यथा ।
स्यन्ना अश्वा इवाध्वनो विमोचने वि यद्वर्तन्त एन्यः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—As there are cows to (otherwise) give milk profusely, likewise the rivers sometimes break the earth with their waters. (during floods. Ed.) You should take optimum benefit out of the rivers which are very rapid in their movement, like horses traverse the paths.

PURPORT :—As the cows rain milk (give in abundanee) so the rivers, seas and tanks etc. cause rains and irrigation, NOTES & REMARKS :—(ततुदाना:) भूमि हिंसवन्तः। तुदिर्-हिंसाऽनादरयोः (द्व०) अत्र हिंसार्थकः। स्यन्दू प्रस्रवणे (भ्वा०) ।=Breaking the earth by floods etc. (स्यना:) अशुगमना: ।=Repidly going. (एन्यः) या यन्ति ता नद्यः (NG 1, 13)) =—Rivers.

What should men attain is told :

आ यांत मरुतो दिव आन्तरिक्षादमादुत । माव स्थात परावतः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men ! come from the firmament and from your homes to attain your desire.

PURPORT :—Those persons only get their desires fulfilled who give up all malice or animosity and are endowed with good knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमात्) गृहात् । अमा इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4)। अत्र पुंसि प्रयोगश्छान्दसः ।=From home. (दिवः) कामनाः। दिवु—धातोरने—कार्थेष्वत्र कान्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । कान्ति.कामना। =Desires.

What should the enlightened person preach is told :

मा वो रसानितभा कुभा क्रुमुर्मा वः सिन्धुर्निरीरमत् ।
मा वः परि ष्ठात्सरयुः पुरीषिण्यस्मे इत्सुम्नमस्तु वः ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men ! Let not the earth which is devoid of light and or of little lustre, and revolving around the sun) make you hold back from your goal. Let not a river or an ocean hold you fact (actually). Let no man who goes on moving or a woman who goes on constantly or desires to enjoy in a city restrain you, so that you and we may enjoy real happiness.

PURPORT :—Men should labour in such a manner that all his belongings may give happiness to them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रसा) पृथिवी । रसादिगुणयुक्ता ।=Earth. (अनितभा) अप्राप्तदीप्तिः ।=Devoid of light. (कुभा) कुत्सितप्रकाशा ।=Of little lustre. (सरयुः) यः सरति ।=A man moving continuously. (पुरीषिणी) पुर इषिणी । (पुरीषिणी) । स एष प्राण एव यत्पुरीषम् तद्वती प्राणवलवती स्त्री (Stph 8, 7, 3, 6) ।=Going forward or desiring to enjoy in a city.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others have erroneously taken अनितभा, कुभा, क्रुमु, सिन्धु, सरयु and पुरीषिणी as Proper Nouns denoting some rivers, as that is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic Terminology (Nirukta. Ed.). Griffith's footnote shows how uncertain and merely conjectural are the meanings given in their translation. "Rasa-a river, probably an attribute of the Sindhu or Indus as Anitatha also seems to be". Sarayu-probably a river in the Punjab (Vol.I.P. 522 Hymns of the Rigveda). Can we rely upon such mere guesswork full of many probabilities)?

A learned person's desire is told :

तं वः शर्धं रथानां त्वेषं गणं मारुतं नव्यसीनाम् ।
अनु प्र यन्ति वृष्टयः ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I convey or lead you to that strength of the lord of the Maruts heroic men who are masters of new chariots, and I tell you about their light of good virtues.

They are followed by the rains (abundance. Ed.) of happiness and joy.

PURPORT :—Those persons become more mighty, who attain new policy adopted by the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्वेषम्) सद्गुणप्रकाशम्। त्विष-दीप्तौ (भ्वा०)। =The light of good virtues. (शर्धम्) बलम्। शर्ध इति बलनाम(NG 2, 9)। =Strength.

Men's duties are pointed out :

शर्धंशर्धं व एषां व्रातंव्रातं गणंगणं सुशस्तिभिः।
अनु क्रामेम धीतिभिः ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men! we try to surpass in the strength, and the present position group of these heroes by our good praises because works are done by the help of the fingers. So you should also emulate.

PURPORT :—If men try to develop their power to the maximum, they can surpass even very powerful persons.

NOTES&REMARKS :—(व्रातंव्रातम्) वर्त्तमानं वर्त्तमानम्। वृतु-वर्तने (भ्वा०)। =Present position. (धीतिभिः) अङ्गुलिभिः कर्माणीव। धीतये इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2, 4)=Like the works done with the help of the fingers.

What should man do is told :

कस्मा अद्य सुजाताय रातहव्याय प्र ययुः। एना यामेन मरुतः ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—To whom the persons renowned on account of profound knowledge and givers of desirable things have gone with these thoughtful persons in peaceful mind ? Being the givers of knowledge, such persons become admirable everywhere.

PURPORT :—Without imparting knowledge and other good virtues, the scholars are not admired anywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुजाताय) सुष्ठुविद्यासु प्रसिद्धाय ।=Well-known for the knowledge of good sciences. (रातहव्याय) दत्तदातव्यदानाय । जनी-प्रादुर्भावे (भ्वा०)। हा-दाने (अदा०)। हु-दानादनयोः (जुहो॰) ।=Giver of what is worth giving?

———

What should men do is further highlighted :

येन॑ तो॒काय॒ तन॑याय धा॒न्यं१॒ बीजं॒ वह॑ध्वे॒ अक्षि॑तम् ।
अ॒स्मभ्यं॒ तद्ध॑त्तन॒ यद्व॒ ईम॑हे॒ राधो॑ वि॒श्वायु॒ सौभ॑गम् ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O men ! with the same good will that you bestow in the form of imperishable grain seeds to an infant and a grown up son, bestow it upon us, because we seek your life—sustaining and auspicious wealth.

PURPORT :—Those persons who store foodgrains and other articles for the warehousing and nourishment of their children, get imperishable happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तोकाय) सद्यो जातायापत्याय ।=For newly born infant. (तनयाय) कुमाराय ।=For a grown-up unmarried son.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In the Nighantu, we find both तोकस and तनयः । तनयम् इति अपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2) । But when both words are used toghether, they are sometimes taken to mean sons and grandsons or infants and grown-up sons as interpreted by Dayananda Sarasvati.

———

How should men behave is further highlighted :

अतयाम निदस्तिरः स्वस्तिभिर्हित्वावद्यमरातीः ।
वृष्ट्वी शं योराप उस्त्रि भेषजं स्याम मरुतः सह ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men ! we give up the company of the false slanderers or revilers and by doing good deeds having renounced crooked and sinful acts. We possess peace, rain good water alongwith cattle, and unmind happiness and herbs. So you should also do likewise.

PURPORT :—Men should give up the standerers and the habit of slandering, sinners and sin, should conquer enemies. They should keep the body healthy by taking proper herbs and drugs and should enjoy happiness constantly developing soul and freely acquiring of Vidya (true knowledge) and practising Yoga.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उस्त्रि) गवादियुक्तम् । उस्रा इति गोनाम (NG 2, 11) ।=Endowed with cows etc. (निदः) ये निन्दन्ति तान्मिथ्यावादिनः ।= Liars who slander or revile. (अवद्यम्) निन्दितं कर्म । अवद्यावमाधमार्वरेफाः कुत्सिते (उणादि 5, 54) ।=Reprehensible bad acts.

What should men do is told further? :

सुदेवः समहासति सुवीरो नरो मरुतः स मर्त्यः ।
यं त्रायध्वे स्याम ते ॥१५।

15. TRANSLATION :— O respectable leading men ! the man whom you protect becomes a good enlightened person and a good hero. Let us be also like him keeping his company.

PURPORT :—Men should protect all weak beings having become very much elevated or advanced.

The men's duties are elaborated :

स्तुहि भोजान्त्स्तुवतो अस्य यामनि रणन्गावो न यवसे ।
यतः पूर्वाँ इव सखींरनु ह्वय गिरा गृणीहि कामिनः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! delivering sermons, praise those who protect or support men and are God's devotees. With refined speech call upon those who follow the path of ancient people, call upon good friends as they call the cows for fodder. Praise those who have noble desires.

PURPORT :—O learned man, always honour those persons who are admirable friends of all and whose desires are true.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यामनि) मार्गे। याम: अतिस्तुसुहृसृधुक्षिक्षभायावा यदि यक्षिनीभ्यो मन् (उणादि 1, 140) इति याधातोर्मन् प्रत्यय: । यामते गम्यतेऽनेनेति याम:मार्ग-रसा शब्दार्थ: (न्या०) ।=On the path. (भोजान्) पालकान् ।= Protectors or supporters. (रणन्) उपदिशन् ।=Preaching. (कामिन:) प्रशस्तं कामो येषामस्ति तान् ।=To those whose desires are nobles.

Sūktam—54

Rishi or seer of the Sūktam—Shyāvāshva Ātreye. Devatās—Maruts. Chhandas—Jagati and Trishtup of various forms. Svaras—Nishāda and Gāndhāra.

How should the enlig htened persons behave is told :

प्र शर्धाय मारुताय स्वभानव इमां वाचमनजा पर्वतच्युते ।
घर्मस्तुभे दिव आ पृष्ठयज्वने द्युम्नश्रवसे महि नृम्णमर्चत ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you desire the welfare of all, and utter the well—balanced speech. You give the strength to heroic men which is self—radiating and gives respectfully the great wealth of knowledge to a person who is capable to get rain water from the cloud through the Yajna, or is capable to throw down an enemy like the cloud (coverer of other's happiness). Such a person is admirer of the Yajna, and honours venerable persons even during their absence, because they are renowned or glorious.

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! make the ignorant endowed with knowledge by giving them Vidya (true knowledge). By distinguishing between truth and untruth, make people to accept truth and renounce falsehood and thus gather abundant wealth for the happiness of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनज) उच्चरतोपदिशत । अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः । व्यत्ययेनैकवचनं च । अंजू-व्यक्तिम्रक्षण कान्ति गतिषु (रुधा०) । अत्र व्यक्तयर्थकः । व्यक्तिः—प्रकटीकरणं व्याख्यादि द्वारा ।=Utter or preach. (घर्मस्तुभे) यो घर्मं यज्ञं स्तोभति स्तौति तस्मै । घर्म इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3. 17) ।=To him who praise Yajna. (द्युम्नश्रवसे) द्युम्नं यज्ञः श्रवः श्रुतं यस्य तस्मै ।=For a person who is renownd or glorious.

What should men do is told further :

प्र वो मरुतस्तविषा उदन्यवो वयोवृधो अश्वयुजः परिज्रयः ।
सं विद्युता दधति वाशति त्रितः स्वरन्त्यापोऽवना परिज्रयः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION—O men ! honour those mighty persons who desire peace like water, increase the span of their life, and harness speedy articles in their vehicles. Such people are in the habit of going on all sides, unite you with electricity (energy. Ed.) and utter nice words of advice. From three regions, the following waters pronounce your protection. You should utilise them well.

PURPORT :—Those who know the science of energy and other articles, uphold happiness for all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तविषाः) बलवन्तः। तव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)। तविष इति महन्नाम् (NG 3, 3)।=Mighty, powerful. Powerful or mighty, Great on account of the wonderful strength. (परिज्रयः) ये परितः सर्वतो गच्छन्ति ते।=Going on all sides. (वाशति) वाणीवाचरन्ति। गत्यर्थं वाशीति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)।=Act like the speech.

How should men behave is told further :

2. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful person! as you think in your heart, my wishes also have gone to the same direction. These objects worthy of give and take, come as desired, (to our satisfaction. Ed.), strengthen or encourage these mighty persons who are terrible to behold.

PURPORT :—Men should enjoy happiness by doing good to one another.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नेदिष्ठम्) अतिशयेनान्तिकम् । नेदीयः अन्तिकतमम् इति निरुक्ते (5, 4, 29) नेदीय एव नेदिष्ठम् ।=Nearest. (हवनानि) यद् ग्रहीतुं योग्यानि वस्तूनि । हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (जुहो०) ।=Articles worth giving and taking.

The qualities of an ideal man are stated :

मीळ्हुष्मतीव पृथिवी पराहता मदन्त्येत्यस्मदा ।
ऋक्षो न वो मरुतः शिमीवाँ अमो दुध्रो गौरिव भीमयुः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—Like a beautiful lady, who has a virile husband, the earth (human and other-beings. Ed.) comes towards us, staggering yet rejoicing (some times happily and some times unhappily. Ed.). A man (husband. Ed.) of good actions comes to her at home your onslaught (after days hard work. Ed.). A hero is vigorous like a bear and fearful like the sun.

PURPORT :—Those who do good deeds industriously are ever happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मीळ्हुष्मतीव) मीढ्: सेच्यक्ता वीर्यप्रदः प्रशस्तः पतिर्विद्यते यस्याः साः =A lady whose husband is very good and virile. (शिमीवान्) प्रशस्तकर्मवान् शिमी । इति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) । =Dear of good actions. (गौरिव) आदित्य इव । आदित्योऽपि गौरुच्यते उताद: परुषे गवि ऋ. Rig. 6, 16, 3, इति NKT 2, 2, 6) =The sun.

Something about the duties and attributes of the enlightened persons is told again :

नि ये रि॒णन्त्योज॑सा॒ वृथा॒ गावो॒ न दु॒र्धुरः॑ ।
अश्मा॑नं चित्स्व॒र्यं१॒ पर्व॑तं गि॒रिं प्र च्या॑वयन्ति॒ याम॑भिः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—Those men are to be honoured by all who move by dint of their own strength, who are free from yoke, who make the thundering mountain like cloud to shake off and fall down on earth in time. They are not like useless speeches.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the rays of the sun make the clould fall down, so the enlightened persons make the faults and fvll down, thereafter remove them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रिणन्ति) प्राप्नुवन्ति गच्छन्ति वा । रि-गतौ (तुदा०) =Obtain or go. (स्वर्यम्) स्वेरषु शब्देषु साधुम् । स्व-शब्दोपतापयोः (भ्वा०) (अत्र शब्दार्थकः) । गौरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Thundering.

An ideal man's role is described :

उत्ति॑ष्ठ नू॒नमे॑षां॒ स्तोमैः॒ समु॑क्षितानाम् ।
म॒रुतां॑ पुरु॒तम॒मपू॑र्व्यं॒ गवां॒ सर्ग॑मिव ह्वये ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! as I call upon (seek. Ed.) the abundant wonderful (extra-ordinary) strengh of the mighty and thoughtful persons like water is sought by the cows, so you should also rise by the praises of these excellent heroes, who sprinkle happiness and joy over all.

PURPORT ;—Men should know the order of creation and enjoy all bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(समुक्षितानाम्) सम्यक् सेक्तृणाम् ।=Of those who sprinkle happiness and joy over all. (सर्वणामिव) उदकमिव । सर्गा इत्युदकनाम (NG 1,12) सम्+उक्ष सेचने (भ्वा०) =Like water.

Now something about the science of Agni is told :

युङ्ग्ध्वं ह्यरुषी रथे युङ्ग्ध्वं रथेषु रोहितः ।
युङ्ग्ध्वं हरी अजिरा धुरि वोळ्हवे वहिष्ठा धुरि वोळ्हवे ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you are technicians, and harness flames in the vehicles which are like the red mares. Also harness other useful reddish articles in the vehicles; harness the active powers of upholding and attracting to drive (apply to Ed.) in the yoke, because they are like two horses, and possess harness fire and air, which possess most the power of driving and carrying the yoke.

PURPORT :—Men should employ (apply to. Ed.) fire, air, electricity and other articles for driving various vehicles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरूषी:)रक्तगुणविशिष्टा वडवा इव ज्वाला: । अरुषम् इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) =Flames like the red mares. (हरी) धारणाकर्षणाख्यौ । (हरी) हृञ्-हरणे अथवा हृ-प्रसह्यकरणे । अत्र धारणाकर्षणरूपावश्वौ गृह्येते=Articles endowed with the properties of the red colour.

The same subject (of science of Agni. Ed.) is further described :

उत स्य वाज्यरुषस्तुविष्वणिरिह स्म धायि दर्शतः ।
मा वो यामेषु मरुतश्चिरं करत्प्र तं रथेषु चोदत ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION:—O mighty persons ! this Agni—like very strong and speedy red horse, loudly neighing and beautiful to be hold, has been placed here. Let him not delay you in your good dealings endowed with YAMAS and NIYAMAS of fixed periods (here two meanings of the word यम are given Ed.) Spur him forth in your vehicles.

PURPORT :—Always honour those persons who are well-versed in the science of Agni (fire and electricity).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजी) वेगवान् । वाजः – गतिमान् वेगवान् ।= Speedy. (अरुषः तुविष्वणिः) मर्मणः बलसेवी । तुवि-इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) वन् षण् सम्भक्तौ । तस्माद् बहुबलसेवी ।=Very strong. (यामेषु) यमादियुक्त शुभ व्यवहारेषु प्रहरेषु वा ।=In good dealings endowed with Yamas and Niyamas.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—पंच यमाः—अहिंसा सत्यास्तेय ब्रह्मचर्यापरिग्रहाः यमाः । पंच नियमाः-शौचसंतोष तपः स्वाध्यायेश्वरप्रणिधानानि नियमाः

5. Yamas—Non—violence. truthfulness, non-theft (Restraints), Brahmacharya (continence) non-attachment (non-covetouasness Ed.).

5. Niyamas (observanaces). Cleanliness. contentment, austerity, study of the scriptures and surrender to God.

The properties of the air are told :

रथं नु मारुतं वयं श्रवस्युमा हुवामहे ।
आ यस्मिन्तस्थौ सुरणानि बिभ्रती सचा मरुत्सु रोदसी ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—We call towards us (seek. Ed.) the glorious vehicles is (in the form of aircraft etc.) belonging to the mighty persons and connected with the air in which there are many enjoyable gifts and the heroes are therein. There are the sun and the earth connected with the winds upholding charming articles and attributes.

PURPORT :—As the air, sun, and other objects uphold the earth, so the enlightened persons should uphold all men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मारुतम्) मनुष्यवायुसम्बन्धितम् ।=Related to men and air. (सुरणानि) सुष्ठु रमणीयानि सुरणानि । सु+रमु क्रीडायाम् । रणाय-रमणीयाय (NKT 4, 1, 8).=Charming.

The teachings of the enlightened persons are further told :

तं व॒: शर्धं॒ रथे॑शुभं त्वे॒षं प॑न॒स्युमा हु॑वे ।
यस्मि॒न्त्सुजा॑ता सु॒भगा॒ मही॒यते॒ सचा॑ म॒रुत्सु॑ मीळ्हु॒षी ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men! I admire that person who desires glory, in whose home a well-born and fortunate bounteous lady, sprinkles happiness and peace over all men with whom she is connected is well-honoured. I call hither this your host, who is brilliant on chariots, mighty and glorious.

PURPORT :—That family only should be considered to be fortunate in which there are men and women who have completed their Brahmacharya.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शर्धम्) बलयुक्त:न् । शर्ध इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Powerful. (मीलहुषी) सेचनकर्त्री । षच्-समवाये (भ्वा०) =Sprinkler or showerer of joy and peace. (सचा) समवेता । मिह्—सेचने (भ्वा०)= United.

Rishi or seer of the Sūktam—Shyāvāshva Ātreya. Devatā—Maruts. Chhandas—Jagati and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras—Nishād and Gāndhāra.

The attributes of the Rudras are told :

आ रुद्रास इन्द्रवन्तः सजोषसो हिरण्यरथाः सुविताय गन्तन ।
इयं वो अस्मत्प्रति हर्यते मतिस्तृष्णजे न दिव उत्सा उदन्यवे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O brave persons! you cause the wicked to weep. Loving and serving one another equally, having gold in the chariots or with splendid cars, endowed with much wealth, you come hither for our welfare and prosperity. In fact our intellect longs for your company intensely like a thirsty man desires water from the well. You should be respected by us.

PURPORT :—There is Upamalankara or simile used in the mantra. As water drawn from a well gives peace to a thirsty person, same way the enlightenned persons give peace to the seekers after knowledge.

NOTES&REMARKS :—(रुद्रा.) दुष्टानां रोदयितारः। षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः। (भ्वा०) अत्रैश्वर्यार्थः =Causing the wicked to weep. (सुविताय) ऐश्वर्य्याय। =For wealth or prosperity. ———

Now the attributes of the Maruts. (heroes) are told :

वाशीमन्त ऋष्टिमन्तो मनीषिणः सुधन्वान इषुमन्तो निषङ्गिणः ।
स्वश्वाः स्थ सुरथाः पृश्निमातरः स्वायुधा मरुतो याथना शुभम् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O you highly educated and wise men! sons of the firmament you are endowed with admirable speech and knowledge, armed with daggers! spears and swords, carrying good bows and arrows and are giver, you possess of good horses and chariots. With your wood weapons, O heroes! to do good deeds or to achieve victory in battles.

PURPORT :—Men should cultivate knowledge and others good virtues and should ever achieve victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाशीमन्तः) प्रशस्ता वाक् विद्यते येषान्ते । वाशी इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Endowed with admirable speech. (ऋष्टिमन्तः) ज्ञानवन्तः । ऋषी-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् । (पृश्निमातरः) पृश्निरन्तरिक्षं मातेव येषान्ते । प्रश्निरिति साधारण नाम (NG 1, 8) अन्तरिक्षाकाशसाधारणमित्यर्थः । पृश्निः also means पृथिवी or earth इयं पृथिवी वै पृश्निः Taittiraya 1, 4, 1, 5) पृश्न्या वै मरुतो जाता वाचो वा अस्या वा पृथिव्याः (काष्ठक संहिता (10, 111) So पृश्निमाता may also mean those who regard the earth as their mother, who are devoted to the service of the mother earth)= Those who regard the firmament as their mother. (निषङ्गिणः) निषङ्गा प्रशस्ता अस्यादयो विद्यन्ते येषान्ते ।=Possessed or good swords and quivers.

More about the Maruts is told :

धुनुथ द्यां पर्वतान्दाशुषे वसु नि वो वना जिहते यामनो भिया ।
कोपयथ पृथिवीं पृश्निमातरः शुभे यदुग्राः पृषतीरयुग्ध्वम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O heroes! you are full of splendour, terrible to the wicked like the winds, whose mother is firmament. You shake the sky and the mountains or clouds. You give wealth to the liberal donor. The forests bend down out of your fear. You go on your way fearlessly. You terrify the wicked. As the winds yoke the earth; so yoke the currents of water (hydroelectric) for getting water (irrigational purposes. Ed.)

PURPORT :—As the winds shake the earth. clouds and forests and as the enemies cause anger to their foes, likewise the enlightened persons analyse or examine all things and shake (generate. Ed.) electricity and other objects i. e. they (apply Ed.) them for various purposes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धूनुथ) कम्पयथ । धूञ् कम्पने (स्वा०) ।=Shake. (शुभ्रे) उदकाय । शुभमित्युदकनाम (NG 1, 2) । (पृष्ती) सेचन कर्त्री: उदकधारा: पृषु-सेचने (भ्वा०)=The currents of water which sprinkle.

The same subject of Maruts is dealt :

वातत्विषो मरुतो वर्षनिर्णिजो यमा इव सुसदृशः सुपेशसः ।
पिशङ्गाश्वा अरुणाश्वा अरेपसः प्रत्वक्षसो महिना द्यौरिवोरवः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! honour the heroes who are blazing like the wind as of the administrators of justice and, purifiers of the rain (through the Yajnas). They like (help Ed.) one another in their merits, actions and temperaments, lovely or well adorned with gold. They have yellow horses or red steeds, are faultless or sinless, endowed with exceeding vigorous to analyse all objects. In greatness like the sun, they are multiplied in many numbers.

PURPORT :—The upamalankara or simile is used in the mantra. Always honour those brave persons who are glorious like the sun (with the light of their soul), just in dealing like the judges and possessors of the aircraft and other vehicles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुपेशस:) सुष्ठु पेशो रूपं सुवर्णा वा येषान्ते । पेश इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) पेश इनि हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2)=Lovely or decked with gold. (द्यौरिव) सूर्यं इव ।=Like the sun.

The subject of Maruts is dealt further :

पुरुद्रप्सा अञ्जिमन्तः सुदानवस्त्वेषसंदृशो अनवभ्रराधसः ।
सुजातासो जनुषा रुक्मवक्षसो दिवो अर्का अमृतं नाम भेजिरे ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should always honour those persons who are charming on account of their very sweet and cheerful nature who have noble desires, are good donors and splendid to behold. Of inexhaustible wealth, they are born in noble families of golden breasted, desire the welfare of all and are honourable. They attain immortal name.

PURPORT :—The persons who accept noble virtues, actions and temperament from all sides, always enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनवभ्रराधसः) न विद्यतेऽवभ्रो धननाशो येषां ते ।= Those who have inexhaustible wealth. (अंजिमन्तः) प्रकृष्टा अंजयः कामना विद्यन्ते येषान्ते ।=Those who have always noble desires. (पुरुद्रप्साः) बहुमोहाः । =Who are very charming on account of their noble virtues, actions and temperament. (अर्काः) सत्कर्त्तव्याः । (अर्काः) अर्च-पूजायाम् (भ्वा०) =Respectable. (द्रप्सः) दृप हर्षमोहनयोः ।=Very cheerful and charming on account of their noble virtues.

The result of the driving of various vehicles by them maruts (heroes) is told :

ऋष्टयो वो मरुतो अंसयोरधि सह ओजो बाह्वोर्वो बलं हितम् ।
नृम्णा शीर्षस्वायुधा रथेषु वो विश्वा वः श्रीरधि तनूषु पिपिशे ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned and wise men ! spears are on your two shoulders, in your arms are placed strength, power and might. Manly thoughts dwell in your heads, your chariots meant for the battle are powerful weapons and every beauty has been laid on your bodies.

PURPORT :—Those persons become prosperous who being endowed with physical and spiritual and experts in the science of arms are always industrious. They possess very good vehicles and other materials. You should gather all these things.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋष्टयः) ज्ञानवन्तः। ऋषी-गतौ। अत्र ज्ञानार्थ इति निर्दिष्टपूर्वम्। ऋष्टयः शस्त्रास्त्राणि इति महर्षिदयानन्द एव ऋ० 5-54-11 भाष्ये। नृम्णनि-सुराज्य सुनियम ऋत्वादीभि महर्षिरेव यजु० 38, 14 भाष्ये।=Highly learned and wise. (नृम्णा) नरो रमन्तें येषु तानि।=In which men are delight good thought.

The attributes of the Mar*u*ts (brave persons) are told further :

गोम॒दश्वा॑व॒द्रथ॑व॒त्सुवीरं॑ च॒न्द्रव॒द्राधो॑ मरुतो ददा नः।
प्रश॑स्ति नः कृणुत रुद्रियासो भक्षीय वोऽवसो दैव्य॑स्य ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O wise men ! as you are accomplishers of great works, so give us wealth of cows, horses, chariots and heroes, consisting of gold and give joy and bliss. Praise the divine protection provided by the enlightened persons. May I enjoy it as received from you.

PURPORT :—When men associate themselves with the enlightened persons, they should ask them for great wealth in order to perform righteous deeds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((चन्द्रवत्) सुवर्णादियुक्तमानन्दादिप्रदं वा। चन्द्रमिति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) =Endowed with gold and other metals or giver of joy and bliss. (रुद्रियासः) रुद्रेषु साधनकर्त्तृषु। भवाः।=Sons of the accomplishers of good works.

The duties of the Maruts towards the enlightened persons are told further :

हये नरो मरुतो मृळता नस्तुवीमघासो अमृता ऋतज्ञाः ।
सत्यश्रुतः कवयो युवानो बृहद् गिरयो बृहदुक्षमाणाः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O you heroes ! you are endowed with much wealth, immortal in the nature of the soul, knowers of truth, and always listening to truth or renowned for your truth. You are admired everywhere, while serving people abundantly and are greatly glorified among the young and wise poets. Be gracious to us and make us happy.

PURPORT :—Those persons who are absolutely truthful enlightened persons, acquire knowledge and always enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नरः) नायकाः । (नरः) णीञ्-प्रापणे (भ्वा०) जननेतारः ।=Leaders. (तुवीमघासः) बहुधनयुक्ताः । तुवि इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) मघमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Opulent or endowed with much wealth. Sūktam—58

Seer of the Hymn -Shyāvāshva Ātreya. Devatā-Muruts. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svara—Panchama.

The attributes or properties of the wind are told :

तमुं नूनं तविषीमन्तमेषां स्तुषे गणं मारुतं नव्यसीनाम् ।
य आश्वंश्वा अमंवद्वहंन्त उतेशिरे अमृतंस्य स्वराजः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—Those persons achieve victory who acquire the knowledge of the glorious and imperishable material cause of the world (Matter) and use Agni (fire or electricity) and other rapid going articles like horses as at their home. Those who are competent to praise the band of the Maruts (wind and herves) among the people, they uphold their powerful army.

PURPORT :—Those persons can make all happy who know the merits, actions and nature of the world consisting of the cause and effect.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आश्वश्वाः) आशुगामिनोऽग्न्यादयो अश्वा येषान्ते । अग्निर्वा अश्वः श्वेतः (Stph. 3, 6, 2, 5) ।=Those who use Agni (fire or electricity) in the place of rapid going horses. (अमवत्) गृहवत्) अम इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4)=Like home.

What should men do is told further :

त्वेषं गणं तवसं खादिहस्तं धुनिव्रतं मायिनं दातिवारम् ।
मयोभुवो ये अमिता महित्वा वन्दस्व विप्र तुविराधसो नॄन् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION ;—O wise men! praise the band of heroes who are glorious, powerful and having some edibles in their hands, whose vow is to shake or overcome their enemies. They are endowed with good intellect or wisdom, liberal in giving donations, beneficient by their greatness and possessors of infinite good virtues. Admire these men of great wealth.

PURPORT :—Men should honour only able righteous and enlightened persons so that happiness may increase.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धुनिव्रतम्) धुनि: कम्पनमिव व्रतं शीलं येषान्ते ।= Whose vow or habit it is to shake or overcome their enemies. (मायिनम्) प्रशस्ता माया प्रज्ञा विद्यते यस्य तम् । मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)= Endowed with good intellect or wisdom. (तुविराधस:) बहुधनवत: । राध इति धननाम (NG 2, 10)=Very wealthy.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Though Prof. Maxmullar has always put the storm Gods in bracket after that Maruts, even his own translation given below proves expressly that the Maruts are not the strom Gods as supposed by him and others, but heroic and victorious men as the use of the word नृन् shows without the least shadow of doubt.

"The tunible company, the powerful, adorned with gifts on their hands, given to roaring, potent, dispensing treasurers, they who are beneficent infinite in greatness, prais. O poet ! these men of great wealth". (The Vedic Hymns Vol, I by Prof. Maxmuller Page 343). Mark तुविराधस: नृन् These men of great wealth. That is exactly the position of Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati who has rightly translated नृन् used in the mantra as नृन्=Men, धूञ् कम्पने (स्वा०) ।

—— ——

What should men do is told further :

आ वो यन्तूदवाहासो अद्य वृष्टिं ये विश्वे मरुतो जुनन्ति ।
अयं यो अग्निर्मरुतः समिद्ध एतं जुषध्वं कवयो युवानः ।।३।।

3. TRANSLATION :—O young poets ! let these Maruts (monsoon winds) came to you today who are water carriers and who stir up the rain. O brave men, use the fire properly for various purposes which has been lighted for you.

PURPORT :—Those who know the air, Agni (fire or electricity) and other elements which cause rain can use them for siring up the rains.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उदवाहास:) य उदकं वहन्ति तानिव ।=Those who carry stir up or cause the rains. (जुनन्ति) प्रेरयन्ति: जुत-गतौ (तुदा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र गत्यर्थं ग्रहणम् ।=Urge-stir up.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithet used for the Maruts कवयो युवान: has been rendered into English in Griffith's translation as 'youthful sages'. Prof. Wilson has translated it as 'wise and young' and yet all these erroneously think that the Maruts are the storm gods. It is strange.

———

The attributes of the Maruts (highly educated men) are told further :

यूयं राजानमिर्यं जनाय विभ्वतष्टं जनयथा यजत्राः ।
युष्मदेति मुष्टिहा बाहुजूतो युष्मत्सदश्वो मरुतः सुवीरः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O unifying highly education men ! you create (elect) for men an active king who is wise among the wise; from you come the man who can fight with his fists, and is quick with his arm, and also from you come the men with good horses and good valiant hero.

PURPORT :—Men should create (elect) by all fair means a king who is endowed with righteous merits, actions and temperament, and also his assistant of the same nature.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विभ्वतष्टम्) विभूनां मेधाविनां मध्ये तष्टं तीव्रम् ।=Wise among the wise i.e. extra-ordinarily wise or (methodically taught) by the masters. (मरुतः) सुशिक्षिता मानवाः ।= Highly educated or well-trained men.

The merits of the teachings of the enlightened persons are told :

अरा इवेदचरमा अहेव प्रप्र जायन्ते अकवा महोभिः ।
पृश्नेः पुत्रा उपमासो रभिष्ठाः स्वया मत्या मरुतः सं मिमिक्षुः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION ;—O learned persons ! the wind which are sons of the firmament, like the spokes of the wheel, none of them is the last or like the days, which are born on and on without much sound with much might and sprinkle water (shower rain along with lightning and clouds). In the same manner, you heroes, who are undertakers of mighty works with your intellect, manifest your power.

PURPORT ;—There is upamālankāra or simile used here. As the parts of the wheel of the chariot and days revolve turn by turn and as the winds come and go and cause rains, in the same manner, men should behave slowly and reciprocate by raining down happiness with their intellect for the delight of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अचरमाः) नान्त्यावयवाः=Not the last parts. (अकवाः) अशब्दायमानाः । कु शब्दे (अदा०)=Not making much sound. (पृश्नेः) अन्तरिक्षस्य । पृश्निरिति साधारणनाम (NG 1, 4) अन्तरिक्षाकाश साधारणमिति शाकः=Of the firmament. (रभिष्ठाः) अतिशयेन रब्धारः । रभ-राभस्ये (भ्वा०) शीघ्रारम्भे इत्यर्थः ।=Commencers or undertakers of mighty works.

The merits of the teachings of the entitled persons are continued :

यत्प्रायासिष्ट पृषतीभिरश्वैर्वीळुपविभिर्मरुतो रथेभिः।
क्षोदन्त आपो रिणते वनान्यवोस्रियो वृषभः क्रन्दतु द्यौः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned men ! when you come with your quick-going, speedy and strong wheeled vehicles like the aircrafts etc., you shower joy on all. As the rain water goes to or mingles with the rays of the sun, in the same manner, let the cloud born out of the rays roar down resulting in the welfare of all (so to speak). May your noble desire be fulfilled ?

PURPORT :—O men ! you can attain all happiness, if you learn to go quickly to distant places like the winds and satisfy all like the water.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वीलुपविभिः) दृढचक्रैः। वीलु इति बलनाम् (NG 2, 9) पविरिति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) अथवा पविरिति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) गत्यर्थमादाचक्राकैः। =With strong wheels. (उस्रियः) उस्रासु किरणेषु भवः उस्र। इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) =Born from the rays of the sun. (वृषभः) वर्षको मेघः। =The cloud that rains. (पृषतीभिः) वेगादिभिः।= Speedy.

The atributes and duties of the enlightened person are told :

प्रथिष्ट यामन्पृथिवी चिदेषां भर्तेव गर्भं स्वमिच्छवो धुः।
वातान्ह्यश्वान्धुर्यायुयुज्रे वर्षं स्वेदं चक्रिरे रुद्रियासः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION ;—O men ! as the earth which sustains the generative power in proper time, as a wife preserves the semen received from her husband, in the same manner, you use your own strength and employ the winds like the horses, harnessed to the yoke. The brave men who are experts in making the wicked weep, shower happiness and joy from the sweat of their brow while doing labour they cahnge their sweat into rains (work hard, Ed. so to speak.

PURPORT :—Those men can attain all happiness, who are of forbearing nature like the earth, and who being great scholars or scientists apply various gases in their vehicles, and also cause them rains and accomplish their purposes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शव:) गमनम् । शवतिर्गति कर्मा (NG 2, 14) शव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Movement. (रुद्रियास:) रुद्रेषु दुष्टरोदयितृषु कुशला: । रुदिर् अश्रु विमोचने (तु०) ।=Experts in causing the wicked.

The duties of the enlightened persons are told :

हृये नरो मरुतो मृळता नस्तुवीमघासो अमृता ऋतज्ञाः ।
सत्यश्रुतः कवयो युवानो बृहद्गिरयो बृहदुक्षमाणाः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O ye heroes! you are endowed with great wealth (or wisdom), you have attained emancipation; you are knowers of the true eternal God or Matter and you always listen to truth. You are well-versed in all sciences; you are youthful (energetic) physically and spiritually; you are benevolent like the big clouds and you serve the Supreme Being (God). Listen to our words of prayer and make us happy by being gracious to us.

PURPORT :—Only those persons should be respected by us who having acquired the knowledge of all sciences, while serving an absolutely truthful enlightened persons, God and His commands, because they are the men of liberal views, endowed with perfect physical and spiritual power. Uplift us by teaching and preaching.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋतज्ञाः) य ऋतं परमात्मानं प्रकृतिं वा जानन्ति। ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG) 3, 10) ।=Who are knowers of True God or matter. (बृहद्गिरयः) बृहन्तो गिरयो मेघा इवोपकारका गुणा येषान्ते । अत्र सत्यं ब्रह्म, सत्या वा प्रकृतिः । गिरिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) Whose virtues are benevolent like the large clouds. (उक्षमाणाः) सेवमानाः ।=Serving.

2. TRANSLATION :—O leading men! the earth tremples with fear before the strength of the wind, fire, sun and such powerful objects. She swirls, like a full ship, that goes rolling, or like a suffering woman going to some place. The heroes who appear on their marches, are visible from far and showing path to others by their attributes leading to happiness, strive together in the battle or a dealing of knowledge. Such men can make all happy.

PURPORT :—There is upamālankared or simile in the mantra. As the cowards run away from the heroes in the same manner, the earth trembles and moves from the wind and sun. As a ship laden with various articles goes across the sea with the combination of the fire, water, electricity etc, in the same manner, let all men go to the last of knowledge. As brave persons endeavour in the battle, so other men should also try to do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(एषाम्) वाय्वग्न्यादीनाम् ।=Of the wind, Agni (fire and sun) and other objects. (एमभिः) प्रापकैर्गुणैः =The attributes that lead to happiness. (विदथे) सङ्ग्रामे विज्ञानमये व्यवहारे वा ।=In the battle or the dealing of knowledge.

The properties of winds are mentioned :

गवांमिव श्रियसे श्रृङ्गमुत्तमं सूर्यो न चक्षू रजसो विसर्जने।
अत्यां इव सुभ्व१श्चारवः स्थन मर्या इव श्रियसे चेतथा नरः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O noble, beautiful and active leading men ! you shine like the sun touching the uppermost part of the rays. Your eye is like the sun in the world, when the mist is scattered. Like strong horses, you are beautiful. O heroes ! you think of glory like highly learned and manly youths. Give this knowledge to others.

PURPORT :—Those persons can enjoy good happiness who serve or properly apply the light, donation (wealth etc) speed and discrimination like the sun, horse and thoughtful men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((गवामिव) किरणानामिव। गाव इति रश्मिनाम् (NG 1, 5)=Like the rays of the sun. (अत्या इव) अश्ववत्। अत्य इत्यश्वनाम (NG 1, 14)=Like the horses. (चारवः) सुन्दरस्वभावा गन्तारो वा। चर्-गतौ (भ्वा०)।=Men of good nature or active, moving about.

मर्या इव सुवृधो वावृधुर्नरः सूर्यस्य चक्षुः प्र मिनन्ति वृष्टिभिः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! you are like kith and kin and like the red horses go quickly and fight (rush. Ed.), like heroes eager for the battle. Grow like well-grown thoughtfully leaders. Those who destroy the armies of the enemies like the splendour of the sun covered by rain are ever to be respected.

PURPORT ;—There is upamalankāra or similes used in the mantra. Those persons who are powerful like the horses, fearless like heroes, thoughtful like wise leaders, and dispellers of the darkness of ignorance like the sun can bring about the welfare of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरुषास:) रक्तादिगुणविशिष्टा:=Endowed with redness other attributes. (मिनन्ति) हिंसन्ति । मीञ्-हिंसायाम् (क्र्या)=Destroy.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Even Prof. Maxmuller's translation like "the Maruts are like well-grown manly youths and the men have grown strong". It shows that they are not 'the storm gods' as supposed by him and some other western scholars, but it means great heroes among men.

The same subject of wind is dealt :

ते अ॑ज्येष्ठा अक॑निष्ठास उ॒द्भिदोऽमं॑ध्यमासो मह॑सा॒ वि वा॑वृधुः
सु॒जा॒तासो॑ ज॒नुषा॒ पृश्नि॑मातरो दि॒वो मर्या॒ आ नो॒ अच्छा॑ जिगातन ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! let them come to us well are matching in manhood, there is none superior among them, non-inferior by birth. They have grown by their might and have the firmament as their mother, and are well-known for their good dealings. They are noble by birth, desire the welfare of all and with their strength. Come there to us.

PURPORT : –If there is good education among men, then all men whether superior or inferior, may be endowed with distruction and able to also good to the world.

ते मन्दसाना धुनयो रिशादसो वामं धत्त यजमानाय सुन्वते ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men ! you always do good to others. You are purifiers like the fire, endowed with all wealth, desiring the good of all, destroyer of the violent and are ever cheerful. You shakers of the wicked, uphold all that is admirable for a performer of the Yajna who is associated with right lover persons. You do always what is auspicious from behind and above (in all directions. Ed.) alongwith all men of noble desires.

PURPORT :—Those only are (Mahatmas (great souls) who uphold truth for all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विश्ववेदसः) समग्रैश्वर्याः । वेदः इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Endowed with. (रिशादसः) हिंसकानां नाशकाः । रिष—हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) =Destroyers of the violent. (धुनयः) दुष्टानां कम्पकाः । अद्— भक्षणे (अदा०) ।= Shakers of the wicked.

The duty of serving the enlightened men is told :

अग्ने मरुद्भिः शुभयद्भिर्ऋक्वभिः सोमं पिब मन्दसानो गणश्रिभिः ।
पावकेभिर्विश्वमिन्वेभिरायुभिर्वैश्वानर प्रदिवा केतुना सजूः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned great leader ! be pleased to drink Soma (the juice of nourishing herbs) being delighted by the beauty of the company endowed always with bright intellect along—with those men, who are doing good deeds, and venerable, pure and purifiers, conveying all good dealings of the world, which brighten and enliven everything.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of all men to associate themselves with the absolutely truthful enlightened persons to increase their knawledge, span of life and intellect and having adopted proper diet and walk—adopt always good conduct.

NOTES& REMARKS :—(ऋक्वभिः) सत्कर्त्तव्यैः । ऋच्-स्तुतौ । इण-गतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । =Venerable. (विश्वमिन्वेभिः) सर्वं जगद्व्यवहारं प्रापयद्भिः । =Conveying all good dealings of the world.(प्रदिवा)प्रकृष्ट प्रकाशवता । दिवु धातोरनेकार्थेष्वत्र द्युत्यर्थः । द्युतिः—प्रकाशः ।=Brilliant, bright. (सजूः) समानप्रीतिसेवी । स+जुषी—प्रीतिसेवनयोः (तुदा०) =Loving and serving eqully.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is noteworthy that though Prof. Maxmuller has translated Maruts everywhere as 'The storm gods—his own translation of the word 'Āyubhih' (आयुभिः) used here as an epithet of Maruts as 'with men (Aryas) who brighten everything, of ऋक्वभिः as singers, clearly proves that they are really respectable good and brave men and not 'The Storm Gods' as supposed by him and some other western scholars. This hymn is connected with the previous hymn do there is mention of the attributes of the winds, fire and the enlighteded persons.

Sūktam—61

Rishi or seer of the Sūktam—Shyāvāshva Ātreya. Devatā—Maruts. Purumeedha, Taranto and others. Metres or Svaras—Gāyatri, Anushtup and Brihati of various kinds.

The attributes of the Maruts are told by the way of questions and answers.

के ष्ठा नरः श्रेष्ठतमा य एकएक आयय ।
परमस्याः परावतः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O who are you? O leading men! the very best, who have approached one by one from the farthest distance and experts in the subtlest science?

PURPORT :—Who are the best men? Who always perform the best deeds?

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नरः) नायकाः । = Leaders. (परमस्याः) अतिश्रेष्ठा वा । = Of the best science.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—(नरः) णीञ्-प्रापणे । सन्मार्गं नयन्तीति नरः— नायकाः ।

Even Prof. Maxmuller's translation proves quite clearly that they are the best men and not 'The Storm Gods' as supposes them to be in the beginning of every hymn on "Maruts (The Storm-Gods). His translation is "Who are you O Men! the very best, who have approached one by one from the farthest distance?" This is misleading.

The attributes of Maruts are stated :

क्व वोऽश्वाः क्वाभीशवः कथं शेक कथा यय । पृष्ठे सदो नसोर्यमः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O thoughtful men! where are your horses? Where is your finger? How do you come quickly? The seat is on the back of the horse and the reins in the nostrils of the horses?

PURPORT :—Whenever a man puts questions to the enlightened persons, they should answer him properly. If they are impartial like the dispensers of justice, then they can acquire all knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अभीशवः) अङ्गुलयः । = Fingers. (सदः) छेद्यं वस्तु । = Anything to be cut.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अभीशव: इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2, 5) is also अभीशव: इति रश्मिनाम (NG 2, 5) षद्लृ—विशरणगत्यवसादनेषु (भ्वा०) अत्र विशरणार्थमादाय व्याख्या= Bridles. Reins.

———

वि या जा॒नाति॒ जसु॑रिं॒ वि तृष्य॑न्तं॒ वि का॒मिन॑म् ।
दे॒व॒त्रा कृ॑णु॒ते मनः॑ ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION : - O men ! that woman who knows her husband when he is industrious, knows him when he is thirsty (greedy) and knows when he is lustful, engages her mind in the attainment of divine virtues or in the association with the enlightened persons is indeed ideal.

PURPORT :—That woman is the bringer of true welfare to her husband who knows him as an industrious and righteous person and also if he is greedy and lustful. Who having known him as such in all aspects, he urges him to remove all his evils or faults and to take in all good virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जसुरिम्) प्रयतमानम् ।=Industious, trying to do good deeds. (तृष्यन्तम्) तृषातुरमिव ।=Greedy like a thirsty person. (कामिनम्) कामातुरम् ।=Engrossed in lust.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—यद्यपि पाणिनीयधातुपाठे जसधातुः प्रयतनार्थेन दृश्यते तथापि जसु मोक्षणे (दिवा०) जसु—हिंसायम् (चुरा०) इति वर्तते। दुर्गुणानां मोक्षणं हिंसा वा प्रयत्नेनैव भवति नान्यथा। तृष —पिपासायाम् (दिवा०)।

———

Something about the learned persons is told further :

उत घा नेमो अस्तुतः पुमाँ इति ब्रुवे पणिः।
स वैरदेय इत्समः ।८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O man! he who is not praised by good men, is equally imperfect having acquired only half knowledge and engaged in the conduct full of malice; and another who is admired by learned persons but does not perform truthful actions are equal. This is what all of you should know well.

PURPORT :—He who being lazy does not engage himself in doing good deeds and another who is learned and knows truth and untruth but does not perform truthful act are equally unrighteous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नेमः) अर्द्धाधिकारी। नेम इत्यर्धस्य (NKT 3, 4, 20)=Entitled to half portion, imperfect and immature. (पणिः) प्रशंसितः। पण-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा०) =Praised.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Prof. Maxmullar's note on this mantra is 'This verse is very obscene'. (Vedic Hymn Vol. 1 p. 360). (It rather looks strange. Ed.).

———

The duties of the husbands and wives are told :

उत मेऽरपद्युवतिर्ममन्दुषी प्रति श्यावाय वर्तनिम्।
वि रोहिता पुरुमीळ्हाय येमतुर्विप्राय दीर्घयंशसे ।९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—To me who is the possessor of the black horses virile, wise and well famed, my young wife is bestower of admirable bliss, and is manifester of the path of righteousness and justice), tells me plainly about her. Let both of us should behave with self – restraint like the couple endowed with good virtues.

PURPORT :—If husband and wife are of the suitable matching or agreeable merits, actions and temperaments, they can attain good path (of righteousness), great glory and bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ममन्दुषी) प्रशंसनीयानन्दकारी ।=Bestower of the admirable bliss. (वर्त्तनिम्) मार्गम् ।=Path (पुरुमीह्लाय) बहुवीर्यसेक्त्रे । =Very virile inseminator.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTE :—मुदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०) अत्र मोदार्थकः । रप—व्यक्तायां वाचि (भ्वा०) वृतु-वर्तने । वर्तन्ते प्रवर्तन्ते कर्मसु अनेनेति वर्तनिः—मार्गः । रुह —बीजजन्मनि प्रादुर्भावे च (भ्वा०) । अत्र प्रादुर्भावार्थः ।

The duties of husbands and wives are hightighted :

यो मे॑ धे॒नूनां॑ श॒तं वैद॑दश्वि॒र्यथा॒ दद॑त् ।
त॒रन्त॑ इ॒व मं॒हना॑ ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—He alone can be a true master who being the son of the possessor of good horses gives me a hundred cows and who takes me across the ocean of misery like the big boat or steamer taking across the river or ocean.

PURPORT :—As a man who is giver of hundreds or thousands of articles and who protects the cows, goes across the river or ocean with big steamer. In the same manner, wise husband and wife go across the ocean of misery by the observance of righteous conduct.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वैददश्विः) योऽश्वान् विन्दति स विददश्वस्तस्यापत्यं वैददश्विः =The son of man who is possessor of good horses. (मंहना) महत्या नौकया=With big boat or steamer.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—विद्लृ-लाभे । इन्द्रियाणि हयानाहुः (कठोपनिषद्) So by Ashvas the meaning of the senses also can be taken. In that case, it may mean a man of perfact self-control.

मह—पूजायाम् (भ्वा०) ।

It was not correct on the part of Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and Prof. Maxmuller to take the words 'Shyāvāshva and Vidadashvi' Purumidha, as Proper Nouns and names of some sages, as it is against the fundamental principle of the Vedic Terminology, Nighantu and Nirukta, as pointed out several times earlier.

The duties of married couple are stated :

य ईं वहंन्त आशुभिः पिबंन्तो मदिरं मधुं । अत्र श्रवाँसि दधिरे ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! those persons who get pure and delightful water and drinking the sweet honey, juice etc. prepare good food and become wealthy (by keeping good health and exerting themselves).

PURPORT :—Those who make articles that create joy and augment intellect, become rich and beautiful.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईम्) उदकम् । ईम् इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) =Water. (श्रवांसि) अन्नानि । श्रव इत्यन्ननाम=Food material etc. (मदिरम्) आनन्दकरम् =Delightful.

———

Something about good teaching is told :

येषां श्रियाधि रोदंसी विभ्राजंन्ते रथेष्वा । दिवि रुक्म इवोपरि ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—Those enlightened persons by whose beauty and wealth righteous dealings shine like the gold in one's desire and who are seated in the charming vehicles like the aircraft, shine above like heaven and earth.

PURPORT :—There is Upamālankāra or simile used in the mantra. They who gather wealth etc. with righteous labour, become glorious and renowned like the rays of the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्रिया) शोभया लक्ष्म्या वा=By beauty or wealth. (रुक्म इव) रुचिकर: सुवर्णादिपदार्थों यथा । रुक्ममिति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) रुच-दीप्तौ (भ्वा०) युजिरुचि तिजां कुन्त (उणादिकोषे 1, 146) अनुवृत्यामक् प्रत्यय: ।= Like the glittering gold etc. रुक्म इति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) रुच—दीप्तौ (भ्वा०) युजिरुचितिजांकुन्त (उणादिकोष 1, 146).

It is audacious on the part of Prof. Maxmuller and Oldenberg to change the text of the mantras to suit their interpretation. Prof. Maxmuller says in his note on this mantra 'I have adopted the reading Rodasi Vibhrajate (रोदसी विभ्राजते) in my translation. "Then on whose chariots Rodasi glitters in glory." "He take's Rodasi to be the wife of the Maruts, the lightning." (See Vedic Hymn Vol. 1 p. 357, 362,505). But such a change in the text is most objectionable and it shows the audacity on the part of these western scholars. Prof. Maxmullar adds in his note : Oldenberg himself suggests श्रियोऽधि and would translate "They whose cars shine over the two worlds on their chariots." (Vedic Hymn Vol. p. 362). Such changes in the text are Umpamalankar and show only the inability of the translator to understand the meaning of the words used in the mantras, traditionally handed over from generation to generation from the times immemorial.

Something about the sermons and their subject is told :

युवा स मारुतो गणस्त्वेषरथो अनेद्यः । शुभंयावाप्रतिष्कुतः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that blameless, triumphant, irrestible youthful company of the Maruts (mighty men like the winds) which goes to distant seas and is seated in blazing vehicles can accomplish many works.

PURPORT :—Those men who make all men and women energetic (youthful and enlightened), become admirable and bestowers of happiness to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((अनेद्यः) अनिन्दनीयः =Blamelss. (त्वेषरथः) त्वेषः प्रकाशवान् रथो यस्य सः =Seated in blazing vehicle. (शुभंयावा) यः शुभं जलं याति ।=Going to distant waters-rivers and oceans.

Something about the duties of the enlightened persons is told further :

को वेद नूनमेषां यत्रा मदन्ति धूतयः । ऋतजाता अरेपसः १४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! who knows with certainty where those noble persons who are well-known for their truthfulness, and who are sinless or faultless and shakers or strikers of sin, rejoice ?

PURPORT :—We ask you, who are the knowers of the fault (sin) and merit, truth and untruth. The answer is that those who are devotees of God are free from all negligence.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरेपसः) अनपराधिनः ।=Faultless, sinless. (धूतयः) ये पापं धुनयन्ति ते । धून्-कम्पने ।=Who shake or sweep away all sins.

Something about the duties of the enlightened persons is told further :

यूयं मर्तं विपन्यवः प्रणेतारं इत्था धिया । श्रोतारो यामहूतिषु ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O wise men ! you are leaders and listeners to the requests of men in the acts of peace and invocation. Thus with your intellect and actions, you urge them to do good deeds.

PURPORT :—Blessed are those enlightened persons who make men wise by urging them to do righteous dealings.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विपन्यवः) मेधाविनः । विपन्यव इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) = Wise. (यामहूतिषु) उपरमाऽऽह्वानल्यकर्म्मसु । यम्-उपरमे । ह्वेञ्-स्पर्धायां शब्दे च (जु०) = In the acts of peace and invocation.

The duties of the enlightened are stated :

ते नो वसूनि काम्या पुरुश्चन्द्रा रिशादसः । आ यज्ञियासो ववृत्तन ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—Those performers of Yajnas and destroyers of the violent are bringers of welfare to us, who bestow upon us delightful treasures containing much gold.

PURPORT :—Those persons only can do good to others who earn money by righteous or just means.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुश्चन्द्रा) बहुसुवर्णानि । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 9) चन्द्रमिति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) = Much gold. (रिशादसः) हिंसक-हिंसकाः । रिश—हिंसायाम् । अद्-भक्षणे । = Destroyers of the violent.

What are the duties of enlightened are described :

एतं मे स्तोममूर्म्ये दार्भ्याय परा वह। गिरो देवि रथीरिव ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O learned lady ! shining with knowledge and giver of peace and happiness like the night, you hear this praise of mine and drive away the person who desires to harm us. Carry away these my words to distant places like a good charioteer.

PURPORT :—There is upamālankāra (simile) used in the mantra. As night gives happiness to all creatures, so a good wife bestowes happiness upon her husband and others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दार्भ्याय) दर्भेषु विदारकेषु भवाय =For a man who harms and tears. (ऊर्म्ये) रात्रीव वर्त्तमाने ।=Like night.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTE :—दर्भः—दृदलिभ्यां भः (उणादिकोषे 3, 151) दृ—विदारणे हिंसायाम् (स्वा०)।

Among the commentators or translators of the Rigveda Dayananda Sarasvati alone understood the significance of the mantra taking the word ऊर्म्य for a wife ,who should be giver of rest (peace) and joy to her husband and others like the night. Others have taken it for the night only which has no significance at all and is absurd on the very face of it. They have wrongly taken as the name of the son of Ratha Veeti.

The same subject of enlightened men's duties is dealt :

उत मे वोचतादिति सुतसोमे रथवीतौ। न कामो अप वेति मे ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! you should always tell that on the occasion of the movement of the vehicles and on the acquisition of wealth, truth must be preached, so that my desire may not remain unfulfilled.

PURPORT :—It is the foremost duty of the learned and enlightened persons to observe truth and also behave truthfully. They should also preach truth only. This way a man's desires are indeed fulfilled.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुतसोमे) निष्पादितैश्वर्यादौ ।=Those who have acquired prosperity(wealth etc.). (रथवीतौ)रथागमनौ ।=During the movement of transport or travelling. (अपवेति) नश्यति ।= Disappears or kills.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—The right person should always make an earnest appeal to an enlightened person so that he should guide him on the right lines and truthfully. Indeed it helps to build an ideal society.

The subject of teaching of ideals by an enlightened person is highlighted :

एष क्षेति रथवीतिर्मघवा गोमतीरनु । पर्वतेष्वपंश्रितः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION ;—O men ! the way the sun-rays are enshrined in the clouds, and take up the straight movements, same way, you should also guide the people on proper right lines. A wealthy or desirous of being wealthy person reaches his destination by his transport, however difficult the path may be.

PURPORT :—The mantra has simile. The way the sun-rays penetrate into the clouds, but their identity is separate, similarly an enlighened person keeps himself detatched in the world inspite of doing the wordly affairs during his life.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—((क्षेति) निवसति ।=Dwells. (रथवीतिः) यो रथेन व्याप्नोति मार्गम् ।=The pathway which is covered by chariots. (गोमतीः) गावः किरणाः विद्यन्ते यासु गतिषु ताः ।=The rays which dwell in the movements. (अपश्रितः) योऽपश्रयति सः ।=Dependent, sun.

Sūktam-62

Seer of the Sūktam—Shrutivid Ātreya. Devatā—Mitrā Varunau. Meters or Chhandas—Trishtup of various kinds, Tune or Svara—Dhaivata.

The attributes of the sun are told :

ऋतेन ऋतमपिहितं ध्रुवं वां सूर्यस्य यत्र विमुचन्त्यश्वान्।
दश शता सह तस्थुस्तदेकं देवानां श्रेष्ठं वपुषामपश्यम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! I have seen one and the best form of the sun among the embodied substances in which there are one thousand rays that abide together. This true and abiding solar system is covered by the true splendour, and various planets are dependent on it. This the splendid form known to the enlightened persons which you should also behold.

PURPORT :—O men ! this solar system has been made by God with many elements and it is endowed with various attributes. You should know it well.

NOTES & REMARKS —(अश्वान्) किरणान्। एष वा अश्वो मेध्यो य एष (आदित्यः) तपति। तस्मात् अश्वाः आदित्यकिरणाः वपुरिति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7)= Rays. (वपुषाम्) रूपवतां शरीराणाम् =Of the embodied substances.

The attributes of the Mitāvarunau are told :

तत्सु वां मित्रावरुणा महित्वमीर्मा तस्थुषीरहभिर्दुदुह्रे ।
विश्वाः पिन्वथः स्वसरस्य धेना अनु वामेकः पविरा ववर्त ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are like the Prāna and Udāna (vital breaths), You should fulfil or complete that your greatness which God, the Impeller of the world protects, as the rays fill up the times with days. Gratify all your speeches in the middle of the day. Let your pure dealing or conduct be manifest from all sides, even if it is alone or not aided by others.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers! you should teach people the science of day and night, Prāna and Udāna (vital breaths) and electricity, so that all may enjoy delight and bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पवि:) पवित्रो व्यवहार: =Pure dealing or conduct. (मित्रावरुणा) प्राणोदानवदध्यापकोपदेशकौ । =Teachers and preachers who are Like the Prāna and Udāna.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—प्राणोदानौ वै मित्रावरुणौ (Stph. 18, 3, 12, 3, 6, 1, 16) ईमा has not been explained in the commentary here. In his commentary on Rigveda, Rishi Dayananda has explained it as प्रेरक: or Impeller. ईद-गतौ (अ०) कम्पने च, अथवा ईद—क्षेपे (चुरा०) पू-पवने (भ्वा.) ।

The attributes of Mitavarunau are highlighted :

अधारयतं पृथिवीमुत द्यां मित्रराजाना वरुणा महोभिः ।
वर्धयतमोषधीः पिन्वतं गा अव वृष्टिं सृजतं जीरदानू ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O life-giver and noble king and prime minister! as the air and electricity uphold earth and sun, (power. Ed.) so you uphold all. As they make grow the barley and other grains and herbs by their great properties, so you should also multiply them. As they satisfy or gladden the earth, so you should also do. As they cause rains, you should also cause the rain of happiness and joy over all your subjects.

PURPORT :—O king and prime minister ! you should act like the Prāna and the sun, nourish the kingdom of earth, increase (the efficiency and posts of. Ed.) the Vaidyas (physicians) and herbs, cause cause and purify rain (through the performance of the Yajnas) and do everything for bestowing happiness upon all,

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मित्रराजाना) प्राणविद्युतौ। (मित्रराजाना) प्राणविद्युतौ। प्राणो मित्रम् (Jaimaniya upanishad 3, 1, 3, 4=Prāna and electricity. (पिन्वतम्) तर्प्पयतम् । पिवि-सेवने सेचने चेत्येके । अत्र सेवा द्वारा = Satisfy, gladden. (जीरदानू) यौ जीवनं दद्यातां तौ । तर्पणं सुखसेचने वा । राजृ दीप्तौ । राजा-दीप्ता विद्युत्=Gives of life.

The same subject of attributes of Mitravarunau is dealt :

आ वामश्वांसः सुयुजों वहन्तु यतरंश्मय उपं यन्त्ववांक् ।
घृतस्यं निर्णिगनुं वर्तते वामुप सिन्धंवः प्रदिवि क्षरन्ति ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O constructors (builders or maufacturers. Ed.) and drivers of the vehicles, let your easily-harnessed horses or rapid growing fire, electricity etc. bear you both, and with well-guided reins or rays come down here with water below. May the charioteer follow you. Let the rivers rain water when fire is kindled.

PURPORT :—If men build machines in the vehicles, putting fire below and water above, (through steam. Ed.) use them for travelling, they can acquire much wealth thereby.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अश्वास:) अग्न्याद्यास्तुरङ्गा वा। Fire, electricity or horses. (यतरश्मय:) यता निगृहीता रश्मय: किरणा रज्जवो वा येषान्ते । =Those who have controlled the reins or the rays. (निर्णिक) यो निर्णेनेक्ति स, सारथि: । णिजिर्-शौचपोषणयो: (जुहो.) =A charioteer who cleans and strengthens.

The same subject of Mitravarunau is dealt :

अनु श्रुताममतिं वर्धदुर्वी बर्हिरिव यजुषा रक्षमाणा ।
नमस्वन्ता धृतदक्षाधि गर्ते मित्रासाथे वरुणेळास्वन्तः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O friend and noble person ! both of you are upholders of might. You protect the earth—like water with your act of good association of good works. Endowed with abundant good materials, you dwell in your home, uttering good words. Each one of you increases famous and beautiful form. Let us serve you.

PURPORT ;—O highly learned persons ! as Prāna, Udāna and other kinds of air protect the world, so you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमतिम्) रूपम् । अमतिः इति रूपनाम (NG 3,7) =Beautiful form. (बर्हिरिव) जलम् इव बर्हिरित्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12)= Like water. (यजुषा) सत्सङ्गेन क्रियया वा ।=By good association or act. (गर्त्ते) गृहे । गर्त्त इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4)=In your home. (इळासु) वाक्षु । इला इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थः=In the speeches.

More about the Mitravarunau is said :

अक्रविहस्ता सुकृते परस्पा यं त्रासाथे वरुणेळास्वन्तः ।
राजाना क्षत्रमहृणीयमाना सहस्रस्थूणं बिभृथः सह द्वौ ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O very good President of the council of ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army, king and minister ! your hands are free from undue violence or generous like the air and the sun, protector of others, shining on account of your virtues, free from anger, preserve the kingdom or the wealth on earth. Doing always noble deeds you terrify the wicked and protect the world containning thousands of pillars or the charming vehicles.

PURPORT :—O king and ministers, you should become glorious by being righteous and protecting the kingdom with thousands of departments. You should punish the wicked and honour good persons, NOTES & REMARKS :—(अक्रविहस्ता) अहिंसाहस्तौ, दानशील हस्तौ ।= Whose hands are free from undue violence or generous in giving charity. (अहृणीयमाना) क्रोधरहिताचरणौ सन्तौ । हृणीयते क्रुध्यतिकर्मा (NG 2, 12)=Of coaduct free from anger. (सहस्रस्थूणम्) सहस्रम् (असंख्या वा स्थूणा यस्मिंस्तज्जगत्, राज्यं यानं वा ।=The world containing thousand of pillars are the State or the charming vehicles.

7. TRANSLATION :—Let us honour that man who purifies and upholds the gold of the earth and the splendour of the fire and who is active, ever moving forward in this world, who shines therefore in the light of knowledge and in meritorious and benevolent work, full of love.

Let us also respect that good policy which is firm like a pillar and resplendent like the lightning or electriety well-regulated or measured out. Let us share that in the sweetness of our home.

PURPORT :—Those men are true politicians who are established in the divine conduct, who having acquired the knowledge of electricity and other sciences are jsut in the discharge of their domestic duties and are blessed by sharing their wealth and happiness with others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—हिरण्यनिर्णिक्) याः पृथिव्या हिरण्यं मनोस्तेजश्च नितरां नेनेक्ति । =He who purifies and upholds the gold of the earth and splendour of the fire. The attributes of the Mitra and Varuna (king and his minister) are told further :

हिरण्यरूपमुषसो व्युष्टावयःस्थूणमुदिता सूर्यस्य ।
आ रोहथो वरुण मित्र गर्तमतश्चक्षाथे अदितिं दितिं च ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king and his minister ! you are like the Mitra and Varuna (Prāna and Udāna) at the rising of the sun, and the end of the dawn you mount on your splendid car which is like the golden pillar. Seated at your home, you tell people about eternal cause and the perishable world (which is its effect). Let us association with you.

PURPORT :—As at the rising of the sun, darkness disappears and light sets in, in the same manner the kings and their ministers who are knowers of the cause and effect and Atma (God and soul) should illuminate firm justice being friendly to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अयःस्थूणम्)सुवर्णस्तम्भमिव । अयः इति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) । =Like golden pillar. (वरुण) (मित्र) प्राणोदानाविव वर्त्तमानौ राजामात्यौ =The King and minister who are like Prāna and Udāna-two vital breaths. (अदितिम्) अविनाशिकारणम् । अदिति: = Imperishable cause. (दितिम्) नाशवत्कार्य्यम् ।=Perishable effect.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Eternal God as Efficient Cause of the Universe and Eternal matter—as material cause of the world. दिति: is this perishable world. It is noteworthy that differing from Sayanacharya who interprets अदिति as अखण्डनीया भूमि: or the Earth as an inviolable, whole and दिति as 'खण्डितां प्रजादिकाम् i.e. the divisible people and living creatures inhabiting it, Griffith in his footnote on the mantra has expressed the view that the two words Aditi and Diti may perhaps mean eternal and the persishable, younder boundless space and the bounded space near us." (Hymns of the Rigveda Vol. 1 Tranlsated by Grififth p. 534). Though to a certain extent, it is a better interpretation than Sayanacharya's; it does not eome to the standard of Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati's philosophical interpretation which should be accepted by all lovers of truth. How strange it is for Sayanacharya to call the earth as inviolable ?

The same subject of Mitra and Varune is dealt :

यद्बंहिष्ठं नातिविधे सुदानू अच्छिद्रं शर्म भुवनस्य गोपा ।
तेन नो मित्रावरुणावविष्टं सिषासन्तो जिगीवांसः स्याम ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O bountiful guardians of the world ! O king and minister ! you are like the Prāna and Udāna, Protect us living in the shelter which is inpenetrable, strongest, flawless, so that me may distribute the wealth attained from our foes and be victorious.

PURPORT :—The enlightened persons build very good homes, think over all matters dispassionately ond attain victory, knowledge and its application.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बंहिष्ठम्) अतिशयेन वृद्धम् । बण-संभक्तो(भ्वा०) ।
Strongest. (सिषासन्त:) विभजन्त: ।=Dividing or distributing among the needy. (जिगीवांस:) शत्रुधनानि जेतुमिच्छन्त: । जि-जये (भ्वा०) वृहि-वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) Desiring to conqner.

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Archana Atreya. Devatā—Mitravarunau. Metres-Jagati. Svara-Nishā.

Now something about the Mitrāvarunau is told :

ऋतस्य गोपावधि तिष्ठथो रथं सत्यधर्माणा परमे व्योमनि ।
यमत्र मित्रावरुणावथो युवं तस्मै वृष्टिर्मधुमत्पिन्वते दिवः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O protectors of truth ! O observers of true Dharma (righteousness) ! king and his minister ! dwelling in God who is Refulgent like the sky, you, mount on your charming vehicle. He whom you protect in this world, or him the sweet rain (of joy and bliss) is sprinkled from the firmament.

PURPORT :—Where there are righteous king and other officers to govern who nourish theme subjects like their own children. It rains there at proper time and people die in proper time.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्योमवत्प्रकाशिते व्यापके परमात्मनि ।=In Omnipresent God, Who is full of light like the sky. (पिन्वति) सिञ्चति । पिवि-सेवने सेने चेत्येके (भ्वा०) पिवि-सेचने (काशकृत्स्न धातुपाठे 1, 269) । =Sprinkles.

The attributes of the kings and their ministers are told by the use of the word Mitrāvarunau :

सम्राजांवस्य भुवंनस्य राजथो मित्रांवरुणा विदथें स्वर्दृशां ।
वृष्टिं वां राधों अमृतत्वमींमहे द्यावांपृथिवी वि चंरन्ति तन्यवंः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king and minister! you are like the sun and the air, are showers of the path of happiness, shining well on account of your virtues. You shine in this world and in the battle-fields as electricity pervades the heaven and the earth and generates rain. We pray to you for wealth and peace like water.

PURPORT :—As the wind and electricity make all people endowed with wealth and food-grains through rains, so it is the duty of the kinds and their ministers to make their subjects prosperous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मित्रावरुणा) वायुसूर्यौ राजामात्यौ इव । अयं वै वायुर्मित्रो योऽयं पवते (Stph 6, 5, 4, 14) वरुण एव सविता (Jaiminiyopanishad 4, 12, 1, 3) इव)=The king and minister who are like the air and the sun. (तन्दव:) विद्युत: ।=Various kinds of electricity. (अमृतत्वम्) उदकस्य भावम् । अमृतम् इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) अत: अमृतत्वम् उदकस्य भव:-शान्ति:=Peace like water.

The same subject of Mitrāvarunau is continued :

चित्रेभिरभ्रैरुपं तिष्ठथो रवं द्यां वर्षयथो असुंरस्य मायया ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king and minister! as the air and sun are mighty and causers of rain, that the sustainers of the earth and light, illuminators, remain with wonferful clouds with the covering of the cloud, cause and sound and light, in the same manner, you dwell near your people and rain good desires or fulfil them with good intellect of the life-giver.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(असुरस्य) मेघस्य। असुर इति मेघनाम (NG I, 10)। =Of the cloud. (विचर्षणी) प्रकाशकौ। विचर्षणिरिति पश्यतिकर्मा (NG 3, 11) Illuminators. (द्याम्) काशम्। (द्याम) दिवुधातोर्द्युत्यर्थमादाय प्रकाशार्थोऽत्र = Light.

The same subject of Mitrāvarunau is dealt :

माया वां मित्रावरुणा दिवि श्रिता सूर्यो ज्योतिश्चरति चित्रमायुधम् ।
तमभ्रेण वृष्ट्या गूहथो दिवि पर्जन्य द्रप्सा मधुमन्त ईरते ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king and minister ! you are dear like Prāna and Udāna (two vital breaths). Your intellect which is meditating on the nature of electricity attains (invents) a wonderful radiant weapon. Cover it with cloud and rains. O man benevolent like a cloud ! men who are doer of sweet deeds and therefore charming move about in the light of the sun. You should also know and follow them.

PURPORT :—Those kings and ministers advance happiness who are of fiery and cool temperaments like the sun and the moon, very wise and sustainers of the people like rains.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिवि) 1. विद्युति। =In electricity. (दिवि 7. सूर्यप्रकाशे। दिवुधातोर्द्युत्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या =In the light of the sun. (द्रप्साः) विमोहकारकाः। द्रप-हर्ष मोहनयोः (दिवा०) =Charming.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—So द्रप्साः may mean charming and delightful. Covering the air wiih cloud and rain may mean—not using it unnecessrily and using it only for the destruction of the wicked people.

Now something about the attributes and duties of the artists and artisans are told denoted by the word Mitrāvarunau :

रथं युञ्जते मरुतः शुभे सुखं शूरो न मित्रावरुणा गविष्टिषु ।
रजांसि चित्रा वि चरन्ति तन्यवो दिवः सम्राजा पयसा न उक्षतम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O performer of the Yajnas and artisans ! you are like Prāna and Udāna, shining well towards those, who desire the welfare of all, those artisans who harness their delightful vehicles like aircrafts for victory, like fearless heroes they are destroyers of their foes, in the eombination of the rays of the sun. With it wonderful worlds and electric currents are formed. Make arrangements for the sprinking of water (on the roads etc.).

PURPORT ;—Those men who mount on delightful vehicles of various kinds and go to the desired destination, enjoy desirhble happiness,

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मरुतः) शिल्पिनो मनुष्याः । मरुत: मितराविण: (NKT 11, 2, 14) मितवादिनो याज्ञिकाः शिल्पिनो वा । =Artisans. (मित्रावरुणा) प्राणोदानाविव यज्ञशिल्पकारिणौ । =Performers of the Yajnas and artisans who are like Prāna and Udāna. (दिवः) कामयमानान् ।= Desiring the welfare of all.

Something about the enlightened persons denoted by the word "Mitrāvarunau" is told further :

वाचं सु मित्रावरुणाविरावतीं पर्जन्यश्चित्रां वदति त्विषीमतीम् ।
अभ्रा वसत मरुतः सु मायया द्यां वर्षयतमरुणामरेपसम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and the taught ! as cloud thunders, you should utter a wonderful speech which is giver of peace like water and which is endowed with the light of knowledge. O thoughtful men ! you should live on earth with good intellect as there are clouds in the sky. O teachers and the taught ! you should rain attainable and spotless desire i.e. get it accomplished.

PURPORT :—Those men who attain a speech endowed with knowledge and rain down or fulfil noble desires like a cloud, they make men enlightened and sinless.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(इरावतीम्) इरा जलानि विद्यन्ते यस्यास्ताम्। इरावत्य इति नदीनाम (NG 1, 13) तस्मात् इरा-उदकमिति ज्ञायते ।=Which has water (peace like water.) (त्विषीमतीम्) प्रशस्तविद्याप्रकाशयुक्ताम् । त्विष-दीप्तौ (भ्वा०)=Endowed with the light of good knowledge.

The subject of Mitrāvarunau moves on :

धर्मणा मित्रावरुणा विपश्चिता व्रता रक्षेथे असुरस्य मायया ।
ऋतेन विश्वं भुवनं वि राजथः सूर्यमा धत्थो दिवि चित्र्यं रथम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O scholars yon who are dear to us like the Prāna and Udāna (two vital breaths) guard the vows of truthfulness etc. by the intellect which is benevolent like a cloud. By Truth you shine well in the world. You mount on the wonderful vehicle like the sun. Therefore, you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—Those men who observe the vows like truthfulness and perform other good deeds of Dharma (righteousness), get illuminated by truth like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्रता) सत्यभाषणादीनि व्रतानि । एतत्खलु वै व्रतस्य रूपं यत्सत्यम् (Stph 12. 18, 2, 4) अग्निहोत्रं वा व्रतम् (कपिष्ठल कठ-संहितायाम् 36, 4)=Vow, like truthfulness and other good acts.

Sūktam 64

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Archanānā. Devatā or subject—Mitrāvarunau. Chhandas—Anushtup and Ushnik of various types. Svaras—Rishabha and Panchama.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are devoted by the word Mitrāvarunau are told :

वरुणं वो रिशादसमृचा मित्रं हवामहे ।
परि व्रजेव बाह्वोर्जगन्वांसा स्वर्णरम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :— As the enlightened persons who are clear like the Prāna and Udāna and who are active, accept you in the arms, as they do a man leading to happiness with good movement. So we accept with the song of praise a sublime learned person who is friendly to us, and destroyes of his foes.

PURPORT :—O men! as the enlightened persons treat you with love, so you should also treat them lovingly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रिशादसम्) शत्रुनिवारकम् (तु०)। अव-भक्षणे (अ०)।=Destroyer of enemies. (व्रजने) व्रजन्ति यया गत्या तद्वत्।=With good movement. (जगन्वांसा) गच्छन्तौ।=Going active.

The same subject of enlightened persons is continued :

ता बाहवा सुचेतुना प्र यन्तमस्मा अर्चते ।
शेवं हि जार्यं वां विश्वासु क्षासु जोगुवे ॥२॥

2. *TRANSLATION :—*O teachers and preachers! you are like Prāna and Udāna. Stretch out your arms with favouring love unto this man who honours you and tries to do good deeds with his arms and good knowledge; for in all places is sung forth the your ever gracious friendliness. You should also admire his good qualities.

PURPORT :—Let us confer happiness upon those persons who give happiness and joy to good men on eorth with their knowledge and power of arms.

NOTES & REMARKS :—((सुचेतुना) उत्तमविज्ञानेन । चिती संज्ञाने । गुङ्-शब्दे (भ्वा०)=With good knowledge. (जोगुवे) उपदिशामि ।=Tell, preach.

———

Something about the duties of the enlightened men is told :

यन्नूनमश्यां गतिं मित्रस्य यायां पथा ।
अस्य प्रियस्य शर्मण्यहिंसानस्य सश्चिरे ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let me certainly attain that state which is attained by people living at the home or under the shelter of this man, who is a dear friend, free from violence or harm. Let me aiso follow the same path of righteousness.

PURPORT :—Let men initiate the enlightened persons, tread upon the path of Dharma (righteousness) and attain good state.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सश्चिरे) समवयन्ति । प्राप्नुवन्ति । सश्चति गतिकर्मा (NG 2, 12) सत्र गते स्त्रष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् । षच-समवाये=Relate, attain. (शर्म्मणि) गृहे । शर्म इति गृहनाम (NG 3,4) At the home or under the shelter.

———

The attributes of the enlightened persons denoted by the word Mitrā-varunau are told :

युवाभ्यां मित्रावरुणोपमं धेयामृचा ।
यद्ध क्षये मघोनां स्तोतृणां च स्पूर्धसे ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers, as I may have by praise for comparison your simile (example) at the house of the devotees of God and wealthy persons. So you may also do.

PURPORT ;—All men should take the ideal or example of the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मित्रावरुणा) अध्यापकोपदेशकौ ।=Teachers and preachers (स्पूर्धसे) स्पर्धायै ।=For comprison or competition.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—A teacher who is friendly to all and who saves others from sinful path is called Mitra. (मित्र:) त्रि मिदा—स्नेहने ।—प्रमीतेर्मरणात् त्रायते इति मित्रम् (NKT 10, 2, 22)

The same subjeet of Mitrāvarunau is continued :

आ नो मित्र सुदीतिभिर्वरुणश्च सधस्थ आ ।
स्वे क्षये मघोनां सखीनां च वृधसे ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O friend and noble person ! you reside with your splendours or admirabls light, at your home and at gathering for advancement or prosperity as we are your friends and masters of good wealth. Let us dwell with you at your home (from time to time) and at your gatheings.

PURPORT :—These only are good friends who always try to be with their friends in troubles and joys, enjoing their company and helping them in need.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदीतिभि:) प्रशस्त प्रकाशै: । दीव्यति – ज्वलतिकर्मा

(NG 1, 16) =With good light or splendours. (क्षये) निवासे । क्षि-निवास गत्यो (तुदा०) अत्र निवासार्थः ।=At home or dwelling place.

Somethieg about giving up all malice and acquisition of wealth is told further :

युवं नो येषु वरुणा क्षत्रं बृहच्च बिभृथः ।
उरु णो वाजसातये कृतं राये स्वस्तये ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATON :—O noble and friendly person ! among those in whom you uphold much and great wealth, vouchsafe us room for wealth, happiness or welfare and victory in battles.

PURPORT :—Men should give up all malice (or conflict) and should achieve victory and wealth by their united efforts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षत्रम्) धनम् । क्षत्रम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) =Wealth. (वाजसातये) सङ्ग्रामाय । वाजसातौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) =For battle.

Two parts of Yamas and Niyamas (non-maliciousness and non-covetousness of wealth) are admired :

उच्छन्त्यां मे यजता देवक्षत्रे रुशद्गवि ।
सुतं सोमं न हस्तिभिरा पड्भिर्धावतं
नरा बिभ्रतावर्चनानसम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O leaders ! O unifiers ! O king and ministers ! come quickly at the dawn which dispel darkness to the enlightened men or to their wealth which is endowed with the bright rays (of knowledge) to take the wealth to participate in the prosperity by feet like the elephant supporting a person with its beautiful nose.

PURPORT :—O industrious officers and workers of the State! nourish and protect well the subjects with justice and accept wealth given by the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यजता) सङ्गतारौ=Unifiers or associating themeselves with the enlightened persons. (उच्छन्त्याम्) विवसन्त्याम् । उच्छी-विवासे (तुदा०) गाव इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5)=Dispelling darkness and establishing in happiness. Sūktam—65

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Ratahavya Ātreya. Devatā-Mitrāvarunau. Chhandas—Anushtup and Ushnik. Svaras-Rishabha and Panchama.

Something about the teacher and taught, and preacher and the audience is told :

यश्चिकेत स सुक्रतुर्देवत्रा स ब्रवीतु नः ।
वरुणो यस्य दर्शतो मित्रो वा वनते गिरः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—He who is a wise good man, let him know (about God, soul and other matters). Let him teach and preach us who is the best among the enlightened persons. He whose friendship is worth deserving, accepts our words of praise and prayer.

PURPORT :—Let him only preach us who is most highly learned among us. He who is advanced in knowlege, let him distinguish between truth and untruth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुक्रतुः) सुष्ठु बुद्धिमान् । क्रतुरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG.

3, 9) =Very wise. (वनते) सम्भजति । वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा०)=Accepts serves well.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Griffith's translation of the first line is good 'Fully wise is he who has discerned', but that of the second line is wrong when he renders देवेषु (into English as 'the god's' देवेषु means absolutely truthful enlightened persons as passage, like सत्यसंहिता वै देवा: (Aitareya 1, 6) विद्वांसो हि देवा: (Stph. 3, 7, 3, 7) । etc. clearly prove.

The inter-relation between the twin teacher-pupil and preacher-audience is further elaborated :

ता हि श्रेष्ठवर्चसा राजाना दीर्घश्रुत्तमा ।
ता सत्पती ऋतावृध ऋतावाना जनेंजने ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us always hononr those men whose studies are very ideal and deep, who learn all sciences or are of glorious fame for a long time, who shine on account of their virtues, are protectors of the good people, are truthful and increasers (promoters, Ed.) of truth among all men.

PURPORT :—Let those persons be the preachers and teachers who hear (grasp. Ed.), and are great scholars, having full faith in true Dharma and are lovers of knowledge and its propagation,

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्रेष्ठवर्चसा) श्रेष्ठं वर्चोऽध्ययनं ययोस्तौ । वर्च-दीप्तौ । अत्र दीप्ति: ज्ञानप्रकाश: ।=Whose study is good and deep. (ऋतावृधा) ऋतं सत्यं विद्यते ययोस्तौ । ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 1)= Increasers of truth.

The same subject of teacher-pupil and preacher-audience is dealt :

ता वा॑मि॒यानोऽव॑से॒ पूर्वा॒ उप॑ ब्रुवे॒ सचा॑ ।
स्वश्वा॑सः॒ सु चे॒तुना॒ वाजाँ॑ अ॒भि प्र दा॒वने॑ ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are dear to us like ous Prāna and Udāna. I address those who have good deeds and who with other men of good knowledge tell a liberal donor regarding the battles. I approach you together with those who have required the knowledge of various sciences before, for protection and giving us strength.

PURPORT :—As preachers preach about truth, others also should tell those good things to the persons, with whom they come into contact.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इयानः) प्राप्नुवन् । इण्-गतौ । (अदा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।= Approaching. (सुचेतुना) विज्ञानवता सह । चिती-संज्ञाने (भ्वा०) = With a man of good knowledge or wisdom. (दावने) दात्रे । दा-दाने (जु०) वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =For a liberal donor.

The subject of teacher-pupil and preacher-audience is continued :

मि॒त्रो अं॒होश्चि॒दादु॒रु क्षया॑य गा॒तुं व॑नते ।
मि॒त्रस्य॒ हि प्र॒तूर्व॑तः सु॒म॒तिरस्ति॑ वि॒ध॒तः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the friend who takes us away from sin and then gives a good place on earth for dwelling, should take the noble intellect or wisdom of the friend who is prompt and who renders good service to others.

PURPORT :—Those are only true friends who deal with each other without deceit and with pure and honest motives.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अंहोः) दुष्टाचारात् ।=From wicked dealing or sin. (गातुम्) पृथिवीम् । गातुरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) Earth land. (प्रतूर्वतः) शीघ्रं कर्त्तुः । तुरी-गतित्वरणहिंसनयोः (दिवा०) अत्र गतित्वरणार्थः ।=Of a prompt or active person.

The teacher-pupil and speaker -audience relation is narrated :

वयं मित्रस्यावंसि स्यामं सप्रथंस्तमे ।
अनेहसस्त्वोतंयः सत्रा वरुंणशेषसः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! being non-violent, harmless or guarded and truthful to God and associating with the best personalities, let us always be under the shelter of a good friend, who shelters or extends his shelter to utmost distance.

PURPORT :—Men should always be grateful and should give up ingratitude altogether,

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनेहसः) अहिंसकाः सन्तः । एहः इति क्रोधनाम (NG 2, 13) क्रोधो हिंसाक्रोधमूलेति अहिंसाया ग्रहणम् ।=Being non-violent or harmless. (वरुणशेषसः) वरुणा उत्तमो जनः शेषो येषान्ते ।=Who associate only with a good person. (सत्रा) सत्येन युक्तः । सत्रा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) Endowed with truth.

The same subject of teacher-pupil relation is highlighted :

युवं मित्रेमं जनं यतंथः सं चं नयथः ।
मा मघोनः परि ख्यतं मो अस्माकमृषींणां गोपीथे नं उरुष्यतम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! you are our true friends. You inspire the man who is to be taught and lead him towards the goal. Do not insult us who are endowed with abundant wealth. Do not give small quantity of milk and other nourishing food for the Rishis, the knowers of the meaning of the Vedas. Always urge upon us to do good deeds.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons ! you should make all industrious persons happy. O students and teachers ! you should never insult us who are teachers or preachers. Behaving in this way, let us all tread upon the path of Dharma (righteousness).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यतथ:) प्रेरयथ:। यती निकारोपस्कारयो: । (यु०) उपस्करार्थं शोघनीकरणार्थं वा प्रेरणापेक्ष्यते ।=Prompt, inspire, (गोपीथे) गवां पेये दुग्धादौ ।=In the middle of the cows etc. (उरुष्यतम्) प्रेरयेक्षम् । उरुष्यतिः रक्षाकर्मेति (NKT 5, 4, 23) सा रक्षा शुभप्रेरणा द्वारा संभवतीति तदर्थं ग्रहणम् ।= Prompt, urge.

Sūktam-66

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Rātahavya Ātreya. Devatā-Mitrăvarunou Chhandas—Anushtup of various kinds. Svara—Gāndhāra.

What should a man do is told :

आ चिकितान सुक्रतू देवौ मर्त रिशादसा ।
वरुणाय ऋतपेशसे दधीत प्रयसे महे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O wise man ! you are endowed with wisdom for truthful, industrious, great and noble dealings. Hold up ideal enlightened persons who are destroyers of the wicked and are endowed with great wisdom.

PURPORT :—He alone becomes highly learned who increases (promotes, Ed.) his intellect by the association of the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चिकितान) ज्ञानयुक्त। कित-ज्ञाने (काशकृत्स्न

धातुपाठे 2, 27)=Edowed with true knowledge or wisdom. (वरुणाय) उत्तमाय व्यवहाराय। For noble dealings. (प्रयसे) प्रयतमानाय।=For industrious. (ऋतपेशसे) सत्यस्वरूपाय। ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 2, 11) पेश इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7)=For absolutely truthful.

The same subject of duties of a man is continued :

ता हि क्षत्रमविह्रुतं सम्यगसुर्यमाशाते ।
अध व्रतेव मानुषं स्वर्ण धायि दर्शतम् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men! they enjoy good wealth or kingdom free from crookedness, but they are beneficial to all learned persons. They give new life to people who uphold human welfare like good actions and happiness, which is worth seeing (emulation. Ed.)

PURPORT :—All men should uphold happiness and works by the path of Dharma or righteousness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षत्रम्) धनं राज्यं वा। क्षत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) क्षत्रं हि ग्रीष्मः राष्ट्रम् (ऐतरेय ब्राह्मणे 7, 22) जैमिनीयोपनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 1, 85) Wealth or kingdom. (अविह्रुतम्) अकुटिलम्।=Not crooked. (असुर्यम्) असुरेभ्यो विद्वद्भयो हितम्। असुर्यम् असून रान्ति ददतीत्यसुरा विद्वांसः। रा-दाने (अ०) ह्रु-कौटिल्ये (भ्वा०)=Beneficial to all learned persons who give new life to people.

The duties of a man are continued :

ता वामेषे रथानामुर्वी गव्यूतिमेषाम् ।
रातहव्यस्य सुष्टुतिं दधृक्स्तोमैर्मनामहे ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! you engage yourselves in the truthful praise of that liberal donor (who has given whatever is worth-giving) of the aircraft-like vehicles and is going to the path. As a highly learned person upholds earth (for the benefit. of Ed.), for these noble persons by the truthful praise of the properties of various articles (description), in the same manner, we know and admire that scientist and you, who are clever (well-versed. Ed.) and expert in various sciences.

PURPORT :—Blessed are these men who reveal the physical and other sciences for the benefit of the world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गव्यूतिम्) मार्गम् ।=Path. (रातहव्यस्य) दत्तदातव्यस्य । रा-दाने । हु-दानादनयोः (जु०)=He who has given whatever is worth giving i.e. a liberal doner. (दधृक्) प्रागल्भ्यं प्राप्तौ । धृषा-प्रागल्भ्ये (स्वा०)=Clever and well-versed and expert in various sciences.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :- It was misleading on the part of Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others to take Rātahavyā as the name of a particular sage, instead of taking its meaning for a liberal donor as it clearly shows. Griffith's foot-note is worth-noting and amusing :

"Rātahavya – The Rishi of the hymn." I can make nothing out of this stanza, and I follow Sayana in despair of finding a reasonable interpetation."

(The Hymns of the Rigveda Translated by Griffith Vol. p. 537).
No comments are needed. Whom to blame for a scholar's ignorance ?

The duties of a man are mentioned :

अधा हि काव्या युवं दक्षस्य पूर्भिरद्भुता ।
नि केतुना जनानां चिकेथे पूतदक्षसा ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! your might is pure known by your intellect, by the wonderful poetical works, and you also acquire knowledge by the cities built by men (town-planners. Ed.)with great power. Let us honour you for ever.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the enlightened persons to become great scholars and to do good to the ignorant by teaching and preaching.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(केतुना) प्रज्ञया । केतुरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) दक्ष इति बलनाम । (NG 2, 9)=Through intellect. (पूतदक्षसा) पूतं पवित्रं दक्षो बलं ययोस्तौ ।=Men whose might is pure.

———

Women also should behave like the enlightened men is here told :

तदृतं पृथिवि बृहच्छ्रवएष ऋषीणाम् ।
ज्रयसानावरं पृथ्वति क्षरन्ति यामभिः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned lady ! the clouds rain at the right season and down water abundantly. It produces foodgrains on earth and as the Yogis shower truth by preaching and performance of actions in accordance with the Yamas (Ahinsa—non-violence; Satya-truth etc.) and as the teachers and preachers are active and wise, in the same manner try to obtain truth and glory of the Rishis-the knowers of the meaning of the mantras (ऋषयो मंत्रद्रष्टारः इति निरुक्ते. Ed.).

PURPORT :—If ladies having become highly learned or enlightened and after accepting truth, Dharma (righteousness) and good character shower happiness and joy like the clouds, they attain much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पृथिवि) भूमिरिव वर्त्तमाने ।=A learned lady who is like the earth (in forbearance). (श्रवः-अन्नं श्रवणं वा ।= Food or glory. (ज्रयसानौ) गच्छन्तौ विजानन्तौ वा ।=Going or knowing well. (यामभिः) प्रहरैर्यमोद्भवैः कर्म्मभिर्वा ।=At proper (specified. Ed.) time or by the actions performed in accordance with the five Yamas (restraints).

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—श्रव इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)। श्रवः प्रशंसामिति NKT 4, 4, 24 ऋ० 4, 38, 5 व्याख्यायाम्। श्रव इच्छमानः प्रशंसाम् इच्छमानः (NKT 9, 1, 10)=यमाः पंच-अहिंसासत्यास्तेयब्रह्मचर्यापरिग्रहा यमाः (योगदर्शने साधनपादे) 5 Yamas are non—violence, truth, non-stealing Brahmacharya (continence) and non-covetousness.

(क्षत्रम्) राज्यं धनं वा । क्षत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) क्षत्रं हि (ग्रीष्म:) राष्ट्रम् (ऐत० 7, 22 जैमि० 1, 88)=The State or world.

What should men do like whom is told :

आ यद्योनिं हिरण्ययं वरुण मित्र सदथः ।
धर्तारा चर्षणीनां यन्तं सुम्नं रिशादसा ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O friend and O noble person ! you are punishers of the wicked and upholders of (noble. Ed.) men, and attain the knowledge of the electricity (energy etc. Ed.) which is the cause of the resplendent sun and giver of happiness. So let us also do the same.

PURPORT :—Like an enlightened person, you know the splendid electricity (energy. Ed.) as the cause of the sun and do good to others after acquiring this knowledge. Likewise others also should enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(योनिम्) कारणम् ।=Cause, origin. (हिरण्ययम्) तेजोमयम् । तेजो वै हिरण्यम् । (तैत्तिरीय संहिता 5, 1, 10, 5) = Resplendent. (चर्षणीनाम्) मनुष्याणाम् । चर्षणय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =Of men.

How should men behave is told :

विश्वे हि विश्ववेदसो वरुणो मित्रो अर्यमा ।
व्रता पदेव सश्चिरे पान्ति मर्त्यं रिषः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should honour all those who have attained all knowledge and wealth. You are the best, and noble friend of all and dispenser of justice who observes (and treats. Ed.) all others like feet (a powerful organ. Ed.) and saves men from sins.

PURPORT :—As all beings go to the desired place and accomplish their object, in the same manner you should enjoy the desired bliss. Therefore, accomplish all others with truthfulness and with righteous acts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पदेव) पद्यन्ते यैस्तानि पदानि चरणानीव । पदी-पदौ । पदगतौ । गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु च गत्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=Roads. (सश्चिरे) प्राप्नुवन्ति गच्छन्ति वा । सश्चतीति गतिकर्मा (NG 2, 14)=Attain or go.

What should men do is told :

प्रातर्यावाणा प्रथमा यजध्वं पुरा गृध्रादररुषः पिबातः ।
प्रातर्हि यज्ञमश्विना दधाते प्र शंसन्ति कवयः पूर्वभाजः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! early in the morning, unite the vast sun and the dawn that come in the morning, and teachers and preachers who uphold Yajna in the form of the proper administration of the State. (society. Ed.) The sages who serve the old people very much admire them. Do this before the greed of the miserly niggard may sometimes overcome you. The teachers and preachers take away the price of their greed by giving them the teaching of liberality.

PURPORT :—O men ! get your noble desires fulfilled by the association of the rulers and preachers who do not sleep in day time, but are ever alert in the discharge of their duties and by the association the enlightened persons who praise them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रातर्यावाणा) यौ सूर्य्योषसौ प्रातर्यातस्तौ।= The sun and the dawn that come in the morning. (गृध्रात्) अभिकाङ्क्षायाः । गृधु-अभिकाङ्क्षायाम् (दिवा०)=Desire; greed. The character of an ideal lady is told :

स्तोमा॑सस्त्वा विचारिणि॒ प्रति॑ ष्टोभन्त्य॒क्तुभिः॑ ।
प्र या वाजं॒ न हेष॑न्तं पे॒रुमस्य॑स्यर्जुनि ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATOIN :—O thoughtful and beautiful lady ! like the dawn, admirers and praises you on account of virtues like the mighty-peaceful disposition etc., you throw away an impetuous evil thought that fills the heart with grief and misery which is like neighing horse.

PURPORT :—As the enlightened persons praise only the really admirable, likewise a highly educated lady praises only him who is truly praiseworthy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अक्तुभिः) रात्रिभिः। अक्तु इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) ।=By right virtues like the nights peaceful disposition etc. (अर्जुनि) उषर्वद्वत्तं माने। अर्जुनी इति उषोनाम (NG 3, 7) अर्जुनम् इति रूपनाम (NK 3, 7) ।=Beautiful like the dawn. (पेरुम्) पूरकम्।=That which fills the heart with grief or misery etc.

———

The attributes of an ideal woman are mentioned :

दृ॒ळ्हा चि॒द्या वन॒स्पती॑न्क्ष्म॒या दर्ध॒र्ष्योज॑सा ।
यत्ते॑ अ॒भ्रस्य॑ वि॒द्युतो॑ दि॒वो वर्ष॑न्ति वृ॒ष्टयः॑ ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O noble lady ! being firm (in the discharge of duties), you sustain the plants by the power (fertility.

Ed.) of the good soil. Uphold with your strength the divine rains of the cloud which shower waters.

PURPORT :—That lady who is of forebearing nature like the earth and endowed with sons and grandsons, showers of happiness like the rain.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षमया) पृथिव्या । क्षमा इति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) ।=With the earth or soil. (दर्धर्षि) भृशं दधासि—धृञ्-धारणे ।= Upholder well.

What should men do is told :

प्र सम्राजे बृहदर्चा गभीरं ब्रह्म प्रियं वरुणाय श्रुताय ।
वि यो जघान शमितेव चर्मोपस्तिरे पृथिवीं सूर्याय ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O man ! honour a renowned noble king who shines like the sun on account of his virtues, with offer of abundant dear wealth or food (likeable. Ed.) kills the wicked like the sun (dispelling darkness) like a man who performs peace living Yajna covers the ground with the Asana (seat) made of leather (of a dear) मृगचर्म ।

PURPORT :—The men who gladden the king like the performer of the Yajnas, attain much wealth or prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सम्राजे) यः सम्यग्राजते तस्मै । सम्—राजृ-दीप्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=For him who shines much on account of his virtues.

(शमितेव) यथा यज्ञमयः । शमु-उपशमे (दिवा०) ।=The performer of Yajna which gives peace.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It was not correct on the part of prof. Wilson and other to translate the word शमिता as immolator. It simply means the doer of a work that gives peace—the Yajna being a work of this nature.

God's supreme acts are described :

वनेषु व्यन्तरिक्षं ततान वाजमर्वत्सु पय उस्रियासु ।
हृत्सु क्रतुं वरुणो अप्स्वग्निं दिवि सूर्यमदधात्सोममद्रौ ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! it is (Varuna) God the Best and Supreme Being, Who has extended the firmament over the forest or rays. He has given strength to horses, water or sap on the earth, knowledge or determination in the heart. It is He who has placed fire (energy. Ed.) in the waters (hydro-electricity) or sky (in the form of lightning), the sun in the heaven and the Soma plant in the mountains.

PURPORT ;—O men ! constantly meditate upon that One God Who has made all this vast universe.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वनेषु) किरणेषु जङ्गलेषु वा । वनम् इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) ।=The rays or the forest. ((उस्त्रियासु) पृथिवीषु । उस्त्रिया इति गो नाम (NG 2, 11) आपइत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) ।=On lands or earth, parts of. (अप्सु) आकाशप्रदेशेषु । आपइत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) ।= In the regions of the sky or firmament.

What are the acts of God is told :

नीचीनबारं वरुणः कबन्धं प्र ससर्ज रोदसी अन्तरिक्षम् ।
तेन विश्वस्य भुवनस्य राजा यवं न वृष्टिर्व्युनत्ति भूम ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—Varuna (God the Best and Supreme

Being) has created the cloud which rains down water on low region and the heaven, earth and the firmament. He is therefore the monarch of the whole world, watering the soil as the rain grows the barley and other corn. Let us be happy with Him.

PURPORT :—O men ! always adore God, Who is the creator of the world and being king nourishes the subjects as the cloud nourishes the grass and grains.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(नीचीनबारम्) यो नीचप्रदेशे वृष्टि करोति तम् ।= Which rains down water on low regions. (कवन्धम्) मेधम् । कबन्धम् इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) अत्र जलवर्षकस्य मेघस्य ग्रहणं कृतं भाष्यकृता । कम् इति उदकनाम । कं जलमस्यान्तर्वतते इति कवन्धो धोमेघ: ।= Cloud. (व्युनत्ति) क्लेदयति । वि-उन्दी-क्लेदने ।= Wets.

How should a king behave is told :

उनत्ति भूमिं पृथिवीमुत द्यां यदा दुग्धं वरुणो वष्ट्यादित् ।
समभ्रेण वसत पर्वतासस्तविषीयन्तः श्रथयन्त वीराः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! when God waters earth, middle region and heaven, when He pleases to send forth the milk (of the cloud). O brave persons ! desiring a strong army, live on earth like the clouds benevolently and destroy the wicked.

PURPORT :—Those kings (rulers or administrators. Ed.) are the best who always desire the welfare of their subjects. As the clouds shower happiness on all through rains, so the kings should fulfil the noble desires of their people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तविषीयन्तः) सेनां कामयमाना: । तविषीति बलनाम (NG 2,9) । अत्र बलवती सेना ग्रहणम् ।=Desiring a strong army. (श्रथयन्त) हिंसत ।=Destroy.

What do God and enlightened persons do is told :

इमामू ष्वासुरस्य श्रुतस्य महीं मायां वरुणस्य प्र वोचम् ।
मानेनेव तस्थिवाँ अन्तरिक्षे वि यो ममे पृथिवीं सूर्येण ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I proclaim this great speech of the renowned God, Whose glory is manifest in the clouds also; Who abiding everywhere, has meted the earth or the firmament with the sun, as if with due honour.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should always adore that God, Who creates all this world and the enlightened person who admired the speech and intellect of the man, who is knower of the science of the cloud. (Meterology. Ed.).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आसुरस्य) मेघभवस्य । असुर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=Manifest in the cloud. (महीम्) पूज्यां वाणीम् । मह-पूजायाम् (चुरा०) महीति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) ।=Venerable speech.

What should men do is taught further :

इमामू नु कवितमस्य मायां महीं देवस्य नकिरा दधर्ष ।
एकं यदुद्ना न पृणन्त्येनीरासिञ्चन्तीरवनयः समुद्रम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! no one is able to counteract the wisdom and the venerable Divine Speech of the most sagacious God, whereby the buried water shedding rivers running like the female deer fill the ocean with water. You should know them well.

PURPORT :—Blessed are those persons who having acquired great wisdom and speech from the great scholars, teach it to others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(एनीः) एन्योः मृगस्त्रिय इव धावन्त्यः ।=Running like the female deer. (अवनयः) अवन्ति यास्ता नद्यः । अवनय इति नदीनाम

Men should at once remove anything done by oversight :

अ॒र्य॒म्यं॑ वरुण मि॒त्र्यं॑ वा॒ सखा॑यं वा॒ सद॒मिद् भ्रात॑रं वा।
वे॒शं वा॒ नित्यं॑ वरु॒णार॑णं वा॒ यत्सी॒माग॑श्चकृ॒मा शि॒श्रथ॒स्तत् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O noble and highly learned person! if we have sinned against the man who is dispenser of justice, have ever wronged a brother, friend or comrade, the neighbour ever with us, or a stranger, o most acceptable person! remove from us that guilt or trespass.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons! whatever sloth or negligence we may commit by ignorance or oversight, related to the noble persons; please remove that from us.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्यम्यम्) अर्य्यमसु न्यायाधीशेषु भवम्।= Regarding the dispensers of justice. (वरुण) श्रेष्ठ विद्वन् वृञ्-वरणे। वरणीयः श्रेष्ठो विद्वान्। अरणः अपार्णो भवति (NK 3, 2)।=O noble and highly learned person.

Who should be respected and who should be condemned is told :

कि॒त॒वासो॒ यद्रि॑रि॒पुर्न दी॒वि यद्वा॑ घा स॒त्यमु॒त यन्न वि॒द्म।
सर्वा॒ ता वि ष्य॑ शिथि॒रेव॑ देवाधा॑ ते स्याम वरुण प्रि॒यासः॑ ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATON :—O highly learned noble person! if any gamesters (gamblers. Ed.) are engaged in gambling or playing dice, let they be punished. If we do not know what is good for the righteous persons or do not know the truth, please put an end to it, i.e. to this our ignorance or sloth like a loose thing. Let us be your beloved and enlightened person.

PURPORT :—O men! those who are deceitful men engaged in gambling and other evil acts, should be punished and those whose conduct is in accordance with truth should be honoured.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कितवास:) द्यूतकरा: ।=Gamblers. (स्य) अन्तं कुरु । षो-अन्तकर्मणि (दिवा०) ।=Put an end to finish off.

What should the scholars do is told :

इन्द्रा॑ग्नी यमवं॑थ उ॒भा वाजे॑षु मर्त्यं॑म् ।
दृ॒ळ्हा चि॒त्स प्र भे॑दति द्यु॒म्ना वाणी॑रिव त्रि॒तः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! you are like the air and electricity. The man whom you protect in the battles breaks through even the strongly-guarded wealth or good reputation, like a highly learned person breaks through even the difficult portions of the shastras with his teaching, preaching and protection.

PURPORT :—Where there are good teachers who are righteous, highly learned, brave and mighty, none can remain miserable.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्राग्नी) वायुविद्युताविवाध्यापकोपदेशकौ यो वै वायु: स इन्द्र । य इन्द्रः स वायु: (Stph 4, 1, 3, 19) । =Teachers and preachers who are useful like the air and electricity. (द्युम्ना) धनानि यशांसि वा । द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नं वेति (NKT 5, 1, 5) द्युम्नमिति धननाम

(NG 2, 10) ।=Wealth of various kinds, or good reputation. (त्रित:) त्रिभ्योऽध्यापनोपदेशरक्षणेभ्य: ।=By the things, i.e. teaching, preaching and protection.

———

The same subject of scholar's duties are stated :

तयोरिदमवच्छवस्तिग्मा दिद्युन्मघोनोः ।
प्रति द्रुणा गभस्त्योर्गवां वृत्रघ्न एषते ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION —O men ! as the sun uses his rays for the destruction of the cloud, so the Chief Commander of the Army and the President, who are actively going about to discharge their duties and are endowed with abundant wealth possess impetuous strength like home, and very sharp is their thunderbolt-like weapon in their arms. You should also hold that weapon in your hands.

PURPORT :—O officers of the State ! as the sun nourishes the people by killing the cloud, likewise you should protect the people constantly by slaying the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्रुणा) गन्तारौ । द्रु-गतौ (भ्वा) ।=Going about, active. (गवाम्) किरणानाम् । गावः इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) ।=Of the rays. (ईषते) हिनस्ति । ईष-गतिहिंसा दर्शनेषु (भ्वा०) ।=Kills, destroys.

The scholar's duties are described :

ता वा॒मेषे॒ रथा॑नामिन्द्रा॒ग्नी ह॑वामहे ।
पती॑ तु॒रस्य॒ राध॑सो वि॒द्वांसा॒ गिर्व॑णस्तमा ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! we desire to acquire the knowledge of the air and electricity (energy. Ed.) which are protectors of the various charming vehicles leading wealth to quick happiness. We invoke also the teachers and preachers, who are benevolant like the air and electricity, who are endowed with much knowledge and who use most cultured or refined speech.

PURPORT :—Men should receive knowledge and good education by the association of the enlightened persons who pervade in good virtues (knowledge. Ed.) related to air and electricity. Thereafter they should deal with all people like friends.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हवामहे) प्राप्तुमिच्छेम । हु—दानादनयोः आदाने च (जुहो०) अत्र आदानार्थः+आदानं ग्रहणं प्राप्तिर्वा ।=May desire to attain. (तुरस्य) शीघ्रं सुखकरस्य । तुर-त्वरणे (जुहो०)।=Bestowing happines quickly.

(गिर्वणस्तमा) अतिशयेन सुशिक्षितां वाचं सेवमानौ ।=Using most refined or cultured speech.

The duties of the scholars are further dealt :

ता वृधन्तावनु द्यून्मर्ताय देवावदभा ।
अर्हन्ता चित्पुरो दधेऽशेव देवावर्वते ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should honour the twins-teachers and preachers like two partners. They help a man to grow or increase his power. They are non-violent and worthy of respect, liberal doners and shining on account of their virtues. I place them before me as ideal personages. They also try to acquire knowledge and spread it far and wide.

PURPORT :—Those men only are venerable, who endeavour day and night for the welfare of mankind.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अदभा) अहिंसकौ । दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) =Non-violant. (अर्हन्ता) पूज्यौ । अर्ह-पूजायाम् (भ्वा०) ।=Venerable (अर्वते) विज्ञानाय । ऋ-गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु अत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् ।=For knowledge.

The subject of scholar's duties are highlighted :

एवेन्द्राग्निभ्यामहावि हव्यं शूष्यं घृतं न पूतमद्रिभिः ।
ता सूरिषु श्रवो बृहद्रयिं गृणत्सु दिधृतमिषं गृणत्सु दिधृतम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know well the sun and fire by which days are upheld and with the help of the clouds, food materials are produced. They are worthy of acceptance, the pure and invigorating like the clarified butter. They uphold great wealth among the praising enlightened persons which uphold (distribute. Ed.) food among the singing and praising men.

PURPORT :—If you live among the highly learned persons, you can know the science of electricity and cloud etc.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्राग्निभ्याम्) सूर्याग्निभ्याम् । अथ यः सः इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) ।=The sun and fire. (अद्रिभिः) मेघैः । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=By clouds. (श्रवः) अन्नम् । श्रव इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=Food.

प्र शर्धा॑य॒ प्रय॑ज्यवे सु॒खाद॑ये त॒वसे॑ भ॒न्दादि॑ष्टये धु॒निव्र॑ताय॒ शव॑से ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men! the influences born out of a cloud go to the Agni in the form of energy which is praised by good men and is pervading all. So let your intellects or thoughts also be similar. A man approaches those highly learned persons who lead to happiness, achieves strength which is powerful, mighty, enabling a man to perform yajnas of various kinds and to eat good food well, which unites with auspicious delight and whose vow is shaken. So you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(एवया मरुत्) य एवान्प्रापकान् यन्ति तेषां यो मरुन्मनुष्यः । आ+इण=गतौ (अदा०) ।=One of the men who approaches to those who lead to happiness. (सुखादये) यस्सुष्ठु खादति तस्मै । खाद-भक्षणे (भ्वा०) ।=For him who eats well.

प्र स्यन्द्रासो धुनीनाम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should know those persons well who are perfectly pure, who are always engaged in righteous dealings, who are pervading in their forms (truthful manifestations) or well-versed in the knowledge of energy and other subjects, who are like fires melting or ripening earthern articles (pots, pitchers. Ed.) and who listen to the words (advice or sermon. Ed.) of the greatmen. There impeller is the master of those who approaches them that leads to happiness living on the same soil.

PURPORT :—O men ! the noble desires of those persons are fulfilled who desire to acquire knowledge, and having attained the knowledge related to many sciences have control over energy and other articles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुशुक्वान:) सुष्ठु शुद्धा: । सु+ईशुचिर्-पूतीभावे (दिवा.) ।=Perfectly pure. (इरी) प्रेरक: ।=Impeller. (धुनीनाम्) कम्पनक्रियावतीनाम् भूम्यादीनाम् (दिवा०) ईर्-गतौ कम्पने च । धूञ्-कम्पने (स्वा.) ।=Of the earth and other things which have shaking.

Now about the communion with God is narrated :

स चंक्रमे महतो निरुरुक्रमः संमानस्मात्सदंस एवयामंरुत् ।
यदायुंक्त त्मना स्वादधि ष्णुभिर्विष्पर्धसो विमंहसो
जिगांति शेवृंधो नृभिंः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a highly learned and wise Yogi ! you have great order in all you do, and come out of the spacious common dwelling place. God makes you united with Himself in Samadhi (deep meditation, a trance). Then you being endowed with pure virtues and associated with very virtuous leaders go to men who particularly complete (associate fully. Ed.) with him. Such a Yogi should be served and God who enables him to attain this high success should be ever adored.

PURPORT :—Those persons who practise communion with God from the enlightened persons become upholders and bestwoers of happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्नुभि:) पवित्रैर्गुणै: ।=With pure virtues. (विष्पर्धस:) ये विशेषेण । स्पर्धन्ते तान् । ष्णु-प्रस्रवणे (अदा०) अत्र पवित्रप्रस्तावकगुणार्थः ।=Most virtuous. (शेवृध:) सुखवर्धकान् ।=Multipliers of happiness

The qualities of the renowned and to be honoured by the enlightened persons are told :

अपारो वो महिमा वृद्धशवसस्त्वेषं शवोऽवत्वेवयामरुत् ।
स्थातारो हि प्रसितौ संदृशि स्थन ते न उरुष्यता
निदः शुशुक्वांसो नाग्नयः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O you men of mighty power! your greatness is unbounded like fires. May your bright vigour be to our aid. May it protect our glorious strength. Those who reproach us urgently be in bondage (in prison etc) and full of grief (on account of injustice). You are visible helpers (are constantly at our disposal. Ed.) in time of trouble. Save us from shame and insult.

PURPORT :—O men! imprison those people who are in the habit of censuring unjustly and telling lies. Always honour those who are broad-minded, truthful, admirers of good men and benevolent.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृद्धशवसः) वृद्धं शवो बलं येषां तत्सम्बुद्धौ। शव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)।=Those whose might is very much advanced. (शुशुक्वांसः) शोकयुक्ताः। शुच-शोके (भ्वा०)।=Full of grief. (प्रसितौ) प्रकृष्टे बन्धने। प्र+षिञ्-बन्धने (स्वा०)।=In great bondage, inprison.

The character of deserving persons to be honoured is defined :

ते रुद्रासः सुमखा अग्नयो यथा तुविद्युम्ना अवन्त्वेवयामरुत् ।
दीर्घं पृथु पप्रथे सद्म पार्थिवं येषामज्मेष्वा महः
शर्धांस्यद्भुतैनसाम् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men! may the Rudra Brahmacharis (who have observed Brahmacharya upto the age of 44 years), who are performers of good Yajnas and just with splendid brilliancy like fires, endowed with much wealth and good reputation, be our protectors. They are the noble persons whom none can suspect of sin. In the battles with great sinners, their strength is manifested and their great and spacious dwelling place becomes famous.

PURPORT :—Those persons only become glorious and renowned who like fires; are destroyers of sins, illuminators of truth, punishers of the wicked making them to weep and protectors of the righteous men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुद्रासः) मध्यमा विद्वासः ।=Highly learned persons of middle grade, observing Brahmacharya upto the age of 44 years, the first grade being of those who observed Brahamcharya upto the age of 48 years known as Adityas. (अज्मेषु) अजन्ति गच्छन्ति येषु संङ्ग्रामसु । अज्मेति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) ।=In the battles. TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—From the spiritual point of view (Adhyatmik), the mantra is clearly applicable to God, and has thus been aptly translated by Vedic scholar Pandit Ayodhya Prasad in 'Gems of Vedic Wisdom'. (page 59). O God ! men glorify You exceedingly on the earth and even both kinds of riches (i.e. material and spiritual) belonging to mankind magnify you. You are our Protector and you are the only Being to be remembered for crossing the river of sorrow. O God ! you are father and mother of all mankind for ever. It does not contradict the cosmic interpretation given by Dayananda Sarasvati as the spiritual interpretation of the same mantras which have been interpreted in the ARYABHIVINAYA from the material point of view in the commentary of the Rigveda does not contradict the other interpretation.

Sūktam—3

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Agni. Chhandas or Meters—Trishtup and Pankti. Svaras or Tunes—Dhaivata and Panchama.

What should the enlightened persons do is told :

अग्ने स क्षेषदृतपा ऋतेजा उरु ज्योतिर्नशते देवयुष्टे।
यं त्वं मित्रेण वरुणः सजोषा देव पासि त्यजसा मर्तमंहः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O giver of happiness ! O enlightened person ! you are full of splendour like the lightning. Like the sun being the guardian of truth or the true eternal law ordained by God and born in that eternal law, he attains great light. In the same manner, you being desirous of attaining divine virtues and associating with the enlightened persons, you are the guardian of truth and renowned on that account alongwith your friend, because he equally loves and serves a noble person. You guard a sinful person by urging him to give up sins, then he being a noble minded dwells in peace.

PURPORT :—As the sun created by God illuminates the whole world; in the same manner, persons becoming enlightened by the association of great scholars illumine the souls of all. As the sun destroys dankness and generates day, likewise a highly learned and righteous person dispels ignorance and manifests true knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (अग्ने) विद्युदिव तेजस्विन् विद्वन् ।=O highly learned person full of splendour like the lightning or electricity. (सजोषाः) समान प्रीतिसेवी । जुषी-प्रीतिसेवनयोः (तुदा०) ।=Who equally loves and serves. (त्यजसा) त्यागेन । त्यज्-हानौ (भ्वा०) ।=By giving up, by sacrifice.

It is wrong on the part of Griffith to translate अंह, as trouble. It means sin and not trouble.

The same subject of duties of enlightened persons is emphasized :

ई॒जे य॒ज्ञेभि॑: शश॒मे शमी॑भिर्ऋ॒धद्वा॑राया॒ग्नये॑ ददाश ।
ए॒वा च॒न तं य॒शसा॒मजु॑ष्टि॒र्नांहो॒ मर्तं॑ नशते॒ न प्रदृ॑प्तिः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :— To that enlightened persons who is united with the Yajnas in the form of the service rendered to great scholars and speaking of truth etc. He attains peace by doing good deeds, who gives charity to a deserving person, and whose dealing is augmenter of peace, truthful and acceptable. There is no lack of wealth, food and good reputation, and the sin does not approach such a person nor delusion or ignorance touches him.

PURPORT :—Those Yogis who are habituated to speak the truth and observe other rules or righteousness and give fearlessness, having given up sin and delusion, they acquire true knowledge and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञेभिः) विद्वत्सेवासत्यभाषणादिभिः । यज-देवपूजा-सङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) यज्ञो वै श्रेष्ठतमं कर्म ।=By the service rendered to the enlightened persons, speaking of truth and other noble acts. (शमीभिः) शुभैः कर्मभिः । शमी इति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) ।=By noble deeds. (ऋधद्वाराय) ऋधत्संवर्धकः सत्यो वारस्वीकरणीयो व्यवहारो यस्य तस्मै । ऋधु-वृद्धौ (दिवा०) ।=For a person whose dealing is promoter of peace, truthful or honest and acceptable. (यशसाम्) धनानामन्नानां वा यश इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) यश इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Of wealth or food. (प्रदृतिः) प्रकृष्टो मोहः । वीत्यर्थस्तु सुप्रसिद्ध एव । दृप-हर्षमोहनयोः (दिवा०) ।=Great delusion or ignorance.

(Below is the translation by the Editor as Mshad no pages)

The characterestics of the way of thinking (mind) is described :

सूरो न यस्य दृशतिररेपा भीमा यदेति शुचतस्त आ धीः ।
हेषस्वतः शुरुधो नायमक्तोः कुत्रा चिद्रण्वो वसतिर्वनेजाः ॥३॥

3 .TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! your philosophy has good reputation and consoling to the grief-stricken people. Your mind or way of thinking is sinless and terrifying to wickeds. It shines just like the sun, which smashes the darkness and carries glamour. Like sun, the enlightened person thrashes the darkness (ignorance) and dwells in the beautiful rays (ingenousness) of the public. We all should serve such people.

PURPORT :—The mantra carries a simile with the sun. An enlightened person has a penetrating mind, like the lightning and such a person is able to acquire the science and intellect as much as he deserves and applies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दृशतिः) दर्शनम् ।=Visualization or way of thinking or philosophy. (सूरः) सूर्यः ।=Sun. (अरेपाः) निष्पापः । Sinless. (शुचतः) शोकातुरस्य ।=Of grief stricken. (हेषस्वतः) हेषाः प्रसिद्धाः शब्दा विद्यन्ते यस्य तस्य ।=Of reputed. (शुरुधः) यः शुरुमन्धकारहिंसकं तेजो दधाति स सूर्यः ।=The sun which diespels darkness. (रण्वः) रमणीयः ।= Beautiful. (वनेजाः) किरणसमुदाये जायते सः ।=A bunch of rays.

How should the enlightened persons deal is told :

तिग्मं चिदेम महि वर्पो अस्य भसदश्वो न यमसान आसा।
विजेहमानः परशुर्न जिह्वां द्रविर्न द्रावयति दारु धक्षत् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us attain that great and sharp form of the enlightened person, which he illuminates with his mouth, like a controlled and neighing horse, like an axe cutting the wood, like the sap of the palate and like the fire burning the wood.

PURPORT :—O enlightened person ! as a horse leads a man to the path, so you lead to the path of Dharma (righteousness). As a carpenter cuts the wood with an axe, so cut all our evils. As the wet sap from the palate goes to the tongue, so you make people relish the taste of true knowledge.

As fire burns the wood, likewise you burn all our vices.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वर्पः) रूपम् । वर्प इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) । =Form. (विजेहमानः) शब्दायमानः । जेहृ-प्रयत्ने । अत्रोपसर्गादिबलात् शब्दार्थकः ।= Neighing. (भसत्) भासयति । भस-भर्त्सन दीप्त्योः (जुहो०) अत्र दीप्त्यर्थः । दीप्तिः-प्रकाशः ।=Illuminates.

How should men deal mutually is told :

स इदस्तेव प्रति धादसिष्याञ्छिशीत तेजोऽयसो न धाराम्।
चित्रध्रजतिररतिर्यो अक्तोर्वेर्न द्रुषद्वा रघुपत्मजंहाः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the fire (energy. Ed.) which has a wonderful movement, which is not attached to any particular object, is present in many liquid and other things, like a bird at night. It gives up slow speed of flight and flies rapidly like an archer, not tied to any thing, and it upholds the tongue like that of the gold, and sharpens its splendour.

PURPORT :—If men fasten (control) the fire, strengthen it and apply it in preparing battle hardwares, they can go (fly in. Ed. (to the sky like the birds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चित्रध्रजतिः) विचित्रगतिः। ध्रज-गतौ (भ्वा०)। Endowed with peculiar movement. (धाराम्) वाचम्। धारेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) ।=Speech. (अक्तोः) रात्रेः। अक्तोः इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) Of the night.

The pattern of behaviour is described :

स ईं रेभो न प्रति वस्त उस्राः शोचिषा रारपीति मित्रमहाः ।
नक्तं य ईमरुषो यो दिवा नॄनमर्त्यो अरुषो यो दिवा नॄन् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—The man who being of reddish qualities (full of splendour and vigour) and guarding his delicate parts well and knowing the immortality of his soul approaches leaders with good desire or love day in and during night (all time. Ed.). Being venerable and respector of the enlightened persons, he covers rays with his glow like the sun and honouring has friends delivers good sermons.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the sun bestows happiness on all beings by drawing water and raining down, in the same manner, accepting virtues from all, makes al! seekers after knowledge happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रेभः) पूजनीयो विद्वान्, विदुषां सत्कर्त्ता वा। रेभतेरत्यर्चतिकर्म्मा (NG 3, 14)। रेभ इति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 7) ।=Venerable enlightened person or the respecter of the scholars. (उस्राः) किरणान्। उस्रा इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5)।=Rays of the sun. (विवा.) कामनया प्रीत्या। विवु धातोरनेकार्थेष्वत्र कान्त्यर्थग्रहणम्। कान्तिः-कामना।=With good desire or love. (शोचिषा) दीप्त्या सह। शोचिः ज्वलतोनाम (NG 1, 76) =With glow or radiance.

The nature of Agni (fire/energy) is told further :

द्विवो न यस्य विधतो नवीनोद्वृषा रुक्ष ओषधीषु नूनोत्।
घृणा न यो ध्रजसा पत्मना यन्ना रोदसी वसुना दं सुपत्नी ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—That Agni (fire) should be known by all whose light is praised by everyone like a Vaidya (physician), who preserves medicines and who being mighty and full of splendour is admired much for his knowledge and use of the herbs and plants. By his radiance going to the earth and heaven, which have God as their Lord, with his movement and progress and with his wealth of good wisdom he praises a man of self-control (restraint).

PURPORT :—The fire which is in the earth and other things when kindled by rubbing etc, is very useful to men in various ways.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(नवीनोत्) भृशं स्तुस्तो भवति। (षु) स्तुत्यै (अदा०)। =Is much admired. (दम्) यो दमयति तम्। दमु-उपशमे (दिवा०)।=To the man who controls his senses. (नूनोत्) भृशं स्तौति।=Praises much.

What sort of man is fit to be a ruler is told :

धायोभिर्वा यो युज्येभिरर्कैर्विद्युन्न दविद्योत्स्वेभिः शुष्मैः।
शर्धो वा यो मरुतां ततक्ष ऋभुर्न त्वेषो रभसानो अद्यौत् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O learned person! that man alone should be made a king who by his upholding and applicable virtues and honourable powers shines like the lightning, or who augments the strength of men like a wise person and who being resplendent and quick-going (vigorous) glows.

PURPORT :—O men ! he alone can become a ruler, who is vigorous like the lightning, mighty, expert in the knowledge of uniting and dividing people, exceptionally wise or genius, highly learned, self-controlled, fond of cherishing the subjects like their father and is a true Kshatriya (brave soldier).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कैः) अर्चनीयैस्सत्कारहेतुभिः (गुणैः) । (अर्कैः) अर्च-पूजायाम् ।=By venerable and respectable virtues. (शुष्मैः) बलैः । शुष्मिति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=By strength. (शर्धः) बलम् । शर्धः इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Strength.

Sūktam—4

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvaja-Bārhaspatya. Devatā-Agni. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata and Panchama.

What should men do is told :

यथा होतर्मनुषो देवताता यज्ञेभिः सूनो सहसो यजासि ।
एवा नो अद्य समना समानानुशन्नग्न उशतो यक्षि देवान् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O liberal donor ! desiring the welfare of all, you are the son of a mighty and enlightened person who purifies like the fire. You being a thoughtful man, perform the Yajna (divine-non-violent sacrifice) with all requisite means and implements. So be united with us who are desirous of doing good to others and are learned and consequently equal or agreeable to you in battles.

PURPORT :—As highly learned Ritviks-performers of the Yajnas, adorn a Yajna with all necessary means and implements, so the kings should achieve victory in the battles with the (help of. Ed.) brave, learned and powerful warriors.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देवताता) दिव्ये यज्ञे । देवताता इति यज्ञ नाम (NG 3, 17) ।=In the divine Yajna. (यज्ञेभिः) सङ्गतैः साधनोपसाधनैः। यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०), अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थः ।=With joint means and auxiliaries. (समना) सङ्ग्रामे । विभक्तेराकारादेशः । समनमिति संग्राम नाम (NG 2, 17) ।=In the battale. (उशतः) कामयमानान् (उशतः) वश-कान्तौ (अदा०) कान्तिः-कामना ।=Desiring the welfare of all.

What attributes are of God is taught further (The concept of God is explained Ed.)

स नों विभावां चक्षणिर्न वस्तोरग्निर्वन्दारु वेद्यश्चनों धात् ।
विश्वायुर्यो अमृतो मर्त्येषूषर्भुद्भूदतिथिर्जातवेदाः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! God is like the sun Illuminator of the day, is purifying like the fire, Resplendent, Worthy of being known, Eternal and Imperishable, Immortal among the mortals, Venerable like a guest who gets up early at the dawn (for meditation and practice of Yajna), is Omnipresent and Omniscient. He upholds all food materials and other articles. Let Him be auspicious to us.

PURPORT :—O men ! all of you should adore only that one Lord of the world (universe. Ed.) who is self-effulgent like the sun, worthy of being known, free from decay and death, venerable like a guest and is Omnipresent.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चक्षणिः) प्रकाशकः सूर्यः । चक्ष-प्रकथने दर्शनेऽपि (अदा०) अत्र दर्शनार्थः ।=Like the sun which is illuminator. (जातवेदाः) यो जातेषु विद्यते, जातान् सर्वान् वेत्ति वा । जातवेदाः) जाते जाते विद्यते इति वा जातानि वेद वेति (NKT 7, 5, 10) ।=He who is Omnipresent and Omniscient.

———

The same subject of nature and acts of God is continued :

द्यावो न यस्य पनयन्त्यभ्वं भासांसि वस्ते सूर्यो न शुक्रः ।
वि य इनोत्यजरः पावकोऽश्नस्य चिच्छिश्नथत्पूर्व्याणि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that Lord of the world is worthy of being known whose grand glory is sung by men like the enlightened persons who desire the welfare of all. He (God) being Resplendent and Illuminates all, who is decayless, Pure and Purifier pervading all. He dissolves at the end all things whichever are made by men.

PURPORT :—O men ! adore only that one God who is the Illuminator of the luminaries, Eternal among the eternal matter and souls, and Giver of knowledge to the conscious souls.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अभ्वम्) महान्तं महिमानम् ।= Great gloy. (द्याव:) कामयमाना विद्वांसः । (द्याव:) दिवुधातोः कान्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या । कान्ति:-कामना । =Enlightened men desiring the welfare of all. (अश्नस्य) व्यापकस्य । अशूङ्-व्याप्तौ (स्वा०) ।=Of the pervading of vast universe. (पनयन्ति) स्तावयन्ति । पण-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा०)=Glorify or make others to glorify.

How should men do (act. Ed.) is told further :

वद्मा हि सूनो अस्यद्मसद्वा चक्रे अग्निर्जनुषाज्मान्नम् ।
स त्वं न ऊर्जसन ऊर्जं धा राजेव जेरवृके क्षेष्यन्तः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O God—Creator of the world (universe. Ed.) ! you are utterer of true words (in the form of the Vedas) and pervading all edibles and other articles. You are purifier of all like the fire, while pervading them. Grant us strength in the acts requiring strength like a king. Remain in the pure heart af a man who is honest and not a thief. Enable us to conquer all evils.

PURPORT :—O men ! those who are highly learned persons, they should be free from partiality and prejudice and observing righteousness, should glorify God.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सूनो) यत्सूते सकलं जगत्, तत्सम्बुद्धौ। षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययो: (स्वा•) अत्र प्रसवार्थ: ।=Creator of the whole world. (ऊर्जम्) पराक्रमम् ।=Strength, energy. (अवृके) अचोरे। वृक इति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24)।=Not a thief, but an honest man.

———

The subject of God is dealt :

निति॒क्ति यो वा॑र॒णमन्न॒मत्ति॑ वा॒युर्न राष्ट्र्यत्ये॑त्य॒क्तून्।
तु॒र्याम॒ यस्त॑ आ॒दिशा॒मरा॑ती॒रत्यो॒ न ह्रु॒तः पत॑तः परि॒ह्रुत् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us serve that highly learned person who eats good, well-cooked and most acceptable food and goes to all objects (places. Ed.) like the air, who duly punishes the crooked people, like horses (?), the violators of whose orders and adversaries are slayed by us. Let us remain always in justice like God.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should accept him only as a king who eats good food and uses pure drinks like water and milk etc, who is mighty like the air, free from partiality like God and is destroyer of the crooked and unjust persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(राष्ट्री) ईश्वर:। राष्ट्रीतीश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22)। =God. (अक्तून्) प्रसिद्धान् पदार्थान्। (अक्तून्) अन्जू-व्यक्तिम्रक्षणकान्तिगतिषु। अत्र व्यक्त्यर्थ:। व्यक्ति: प्रसिद्धि: ।=Manifest objects. (ह्रुत:) कुटिलत्वं गत:। ह्रु-कौटिल्ये (भ्वा•) ।=Crooked.

(The relevance of horses in the translation is not solved. Ed.)

———

The same subject of God is dealt :

आ सूर्यो न भानुमद्भिरर्कैरग्ने ततन्थ रोदसी वि भासा ।
चित्रो नयत्परि तमांस्यक्तः शोचिषा पत्मन्नौशिजो न दीयन् ।।६।।

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are purifier like the fire. As the wonderful sun with his refulgent rays overspreads both the worlds (heaven and earth) with splendour, and dispels all darkness, likewise going on the path of righteousness and truth, you should spread Dharma everywhere like the son of a person desiring the welfare of all.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the sun by manifesting all the objects by its light dispels the darkness of night, likewise you should illuminate good virtues and dispel the darkness of ignorance.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कैः) वज्रवच्छेदकैः । अर्क इति वज्रनाम । (NG 2, 20) ।=Destroyers of darkness like the thunderbolt or sharp weapon. (अक्तः) प्रसिद्धः ।=Manifest, famous. (औशिजः) कामयमानस्य पुत्रः (औशिजः) वश-कान्तौ (अदा.) कान्तिः-कामना ।=The son of person desiring the welfare of all. (दीयन्) गच्छन् । दीयतीति गतिकर्म्मा (NG 2, 14) ।= Moving and going.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is wrong on the part of Griffith to take Aushija as the name of a particular person, as it is against the accepted principles of the Vedic terminology as denoted in आख्याप्रवचनात्—परन्तु श्रुतिसामान्यमात्रम् and other aphorism of the Meemansa Shastra. It is noteworthy that even Shri Sayanacharya has taken औशिजः as the sun उशिजः स्तोतारः तत्स्तुत्यतया तत्सम्बन्धयौशिजः सूर्यः and prof. Wilson following him has translated the word as "the adored sun but Griffith has put the misleading foot-note saying—"Like Aushija" perhaps some contemporary priest who is regarded as bringing back the daylight by praiser and sacrifice pp, 5590. How absurd all is ?

In the praise of donors of food and other things :

त्वां हि मन्द्रतममर्कशोकैर्ववृमहे महि नः श्रोष्यग्ने ।
इन्द्रं न त्वा शवसा देवता वायुं पृणन्ति राधसा नृतमाः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! purify like the fire, as you listen to our great request. We accept the vast ghee as the giver of delight by the purification of food and other means. O the best leaders ! as God gladdens the whole world, so you make Prāna and others happy, with your strength and wealth. We accept you like electricity.

PURPORT :—Those who are the best among men---enlightened persons with good food and other things and are givers of the best bliss are worthy of respect.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्द्रतमम्) अतिशयेनानन्दकरम् मदि-स्तुति-मोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०) अत्र मोदार्थः । मोदः आनन्दः ।=Giver of the great delight. (अर्कशोकैः) अन्नादीनां शोधनैः । अर्कम्-अर्कमन्नं भवत्यर्चति भूतानि (NKT 5, 1, 4) ।=By the purification of the food etc. (देवता) जगदीश्वरः । (ई०) शुचिर-पूतीभावे (दिवा०) । देवो दानाद् वा दीपनाद् वा द्योतनाद् वा । यो देवः सा देवता (NKT 7, 4, 16) दातृतमत्वादिमुक्तवाद देवता जगदीश्वरः ।=The Lord of the world.

The attributes of the enlightened persons are told further :

नू नो अग्नेऽवृकेभिः स्वस्ति वेषि रायः पथिभिः पर्ष्यंहः ।
ता सूरिभ्यो गृणते रासि सुम्नं मदेम शतहिमाः सुवीराः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned leader ! as you lead us to welfare alongwith honest persons who are not thieves, you guard us and fill us with wealth of all kinds by treading upon the path of righteousness, bestow upon the enlightened persons and devotees of God who glorify Him and admire other good virtues happiness and remove all sins. Let us therefore attain all these good things with you and being good heroes, let us enjoy bliss for hundred years or more.

PURPORT :—O men ! having given up theft, the company of the thieves and dishonest persons, injustice and sinfulness, attain happiness and live up to hundred years.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अंहः) अपराधम् । = Guilt, crime, sin. (सूरिभ्यः) विद्वद्भ्यः । सूरिरिति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) For true, enlightened persons are those who are true devotees of God and the enlightened persons. (सुम्नम्) सुखम् । सुम्नमिति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) । Happiness.

Suktam—5

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Devatā—Agni. Svaras—Dhaivata and Panchama.

What should men take or accept is told :

हुवे वः सूनुं सहसो युवानमद्रोघवाचं मतिभिर्यविष्ठम् ।
य इन्वति द्रविणानि प्रचेता विश्ववाराणि पुरुवारो अध्रुक् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men! I invoke for your guidance. You are a man who is endowed with exalted knowledge or wisdom, accepted by many, devoid of malice, youthful, most energetic, son of a mighty person and whose speech is free from all kinds of animosity; and who obtains all objects desired by all. You are surrounded by wise men.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should take sermons from only such persons who are impartial, devoid of malice, associating themselves with wise men, adored by many highly learned persons and youthful (energetic) by the observance of Brahmacharya (continence).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्वति) व्याप्नोति। इति-व्याप्तौ (भ्वा०)।= Pervades, obtains. (अध्रुक्) यो न द्रुह्यति। अ+द्रुह्—जिघांसायाम् (दिवा०)।= Free from malice. (मतिभिः) मनुष्यैः प्रज्ञाभिर्वा। मतय इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)।=With wise men or intellects.

What should men achieve and in whose presence, is told :

त्वे वसूनि पुर्वणीक होतर्दोषा वस्तोरेरिरे यज्ञियासः।
क्षामेव विश्वा भुवनानि यस्मिन्त्सं सौभगानि दधिरे पावके ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are the master of many armies. O liberal donor ! let us honour you, because under your auspices as purifier like the fire and guardian, the performers of Yajnas urge the people of the whole world to acquire wealth (of all kinds) and all living beings have established their happiness on them on firm ground and by them all their prosperity is upheld.

PURPORT :—It is only when a noble king is there as protector, that the subjects grow every day and in every night and enjoy happiness by acquiring wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुर्वणीक) पुरूण्यनेकानि सैन्यानि यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ। =The master (or commandar. Ed.) of many armies. (दोषा) रात्रौ। दोषा इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) वस्तोरित्यहर्नाम (NG 1, 9)।=In day time, and at night.

The aim of achievement by knowledge is described :

त्वं विन्नु प्रदिवः सीद आसु क्रत्वा रथीरभवो वार्याणाम् ।
अत इनोषि विधते चिकित्वो व्यानुषग्जातवेदो वसूनि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION:—O king ! endowed with abundant wisdom and knowledge as being agreeable, you convey wealth to a noble person who is engaged in doing good deeds and is respector of the enlightened men; and you are the master of chariots and sender of desirable objects among these people by your intellect (one who establishes supply line. Ed.). So be always seated in the middle of good light (of knowledge).

PURPORT :—He alone can become a ruler, who knows politics well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विधते) सत्कर्म । विधेम परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) ।=Respecter of good men and doer of good deeds. (प्रदिवः) प्रकृष्टस्य प्रकाशस्य मध्ये । प्र-दिवुधातोर्द्युतिरर्थमादाय प्रकाशस्येति व्याख्या । द्युतिः-प्रकाशः । द्युत-दीप्तौ ।=In the middle of the exalted light (of knowledge).

What should men do is told further :

यो नः सनुत्यो अभिदासदग्ने यो अन्तरो मित्रमहो वनुष्यात् ।
तमजरेभिर्वृषभिस्तव स्वैस्तपा तपिष्ठ तपसा तपस्वान् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O hero of great enduring power ! O man of great friends ! O highly learned leader ! he who attcks or enslaves us secretly pretending to be a good man, burn him with your undecaying sharp and powerful weapons or purify (amend. Ed.) him, so that he may repent for his evil actions. Who ever being an outsider asks for help, give it to a deserved one. You who have led a life of austerity with the observance of Brahmacharya and practice of Prānāyama, observe Tapas (penance. Ed.) and go on doing good deeds.

PURPORT :—O men ! if a man asks you for help, you should render that help to him, in case he deserves it. If a man harms you, punish him duly. Being ascetics, observe always rules of Dharma or righteousness.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(सनुत्य:) निर्णीतान्तर्हितेषु सिद्धान्तेषु भवः साधुर्वा । =Pretending to be a good man and knower of principles. (अभिदासात्) अभिक्षियति । अभि+दसु—उपक्षये (दिवा०) ।=Harms, attacks, enslaves. (वनुष्यात्) याचेत । वनु+याचने (तना.) ।=May beg or ask for a help. (तपसा) ब्रह्मचर्य्यप्राणायामादिकर्मणा ।=With the observance of Brahmacharya and practice of Pranayama etc.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In the Bhagavad Gita also Yogi Raj Shrikrishna has enumerated Brahmacharya as शारीरतप Physical Tapas (austerity)—देवद्विजगुरुप्राज्ञपूजनं शौचमार्जवम् । ब्रह्मचर्यमहिंसा च शारीरं तप उच्यते ॥ गीता १७. Prāṇāyama comes under mental Tapas आत्म विनिग्रह :—Self-control for which Prāṇāyama is a great help.

The aim of achievement of knowledge is further elaborated :

यस्ते॑ य॒ज्ञेन॑ स॒मिधा॒ य उ॒क्थैर॒र्केभिः॑ सूनो सहसो॒ ददा॑शत् ।
स मर्त्ये॑ष्वमृत॒ प्रचे॑ता रा॒या द्यु॒म्नेन॒ श्रव॑सा॒ वि भा॑ति ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O son of a mightly father ! O immortal (by the nature of soul) ! whoever gives you with the Yajna in the form of the honour, due to an enlightened person, with the words revealing truth or fuel etc. for Yajna or food. This Yajna is performed with respectful words or with admirable articles, shines out in the midst of mortals, like a sage or a man endowed with profound knowledge, with wealth, with full knowledge of good food and glory.

Something about the second birth (through initiation) is told :

त्वां विश्वे अमृत जायमानं शिशुं न देवा अभि सं नवन्ते ।
तव क्रतुभिरमृतत्वमायन्वैश्वानर यत्पित्रोरदीदेः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O immortal, absolutely truthful enlightened person ! leading all men towards the path of righteousnes, all highly learned truthful persons praise you or (acclaim. Ed.) sing for joy as to their infant, when you are born for the second time (through initiation). By your intelligent or wise actions, thoughtful men attain immortality or (final. Ed.) liberation—Moksha. You illumine by the union of Vidya (the knowledge) and Acharya (preceptor) as parents. You are (stand. Ed.) therefore blessed.

PURPORT :—There is upamalankara or simile used in the mantra. The men who having taken birth from their parents, get second birth at the eighth year onward from the Acharya (preceptor) by receiving education from him become praise-worthy and are able to accomplish धर्म Dharma (righteousness) अर्थ Artha (acquisition of wealth) काम Kāma (fulfilment of noble desires) and मोक्ष emancipation.

NOTES & REMARKS : (वैश्वानरः) यो विश्वान्नरान् धर्मकार्य्येषु नयति तत्सम्बुद्धौ । वैश्वानरः कस्मात् विश्वान् नरान् नयति (NKT 7, 6, 21) = He who leads all men towards righteous acts. (पित्रोः) मातापित्रोरिव विद्याऽऽचार्य्ययोः । तत्र यद् ब्रह्मजन्मास्य मौजीबन्धनं चिन्हितम् । तत्रास्य माता सावित्री, पितात्वाचार्य उच्यते । इति मनुस्मृतौ 2, 1, 70 अस्य द्वितीयजन्मनो वर्णनम् ।=From Vidya (knowledge) and Acharya (preceptor) as from their parents.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :- It is not correct on the part of Griffith and other western translators to translate the word देवाः here as elsewhere as all the Gods'. It should be 'highly learned or enlightened persons. (etymologically. Ed.).

What should be the aim of men is told :

वैश्वानर तव तानि व्रतानि महान्यग्ने नकिरा दधर्ष ।
यज्जायमानः पित्रोरुपस्थेऽविन्दः केतुं वयुनेष्वह्नाम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O leader in (of) the world! by the illumination of Vidya (knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness), endowed with illumined soul like the fire, when born out of Vidya and Acharya (knowledge and preceptor) like from the parents, you acquire in day time knowledge of all objects from earth to God (materialism to spiritualism. Ed.) and good intellect, none can resist (bypass. Ed.) those your great vows of Brahmacharya (continence), acquirement of knowledge, speaking of truth and others.

PURPORT :—Men should know clearly that if they take second birth through initiation, all their actions will become successful, i.e. all their efforts will be crowned with success. They will not go in vain.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वैश्वानर) विश्वस्मिन् विद्याधर्मप्रकाशनेन नायक । =Leader in the world by the illumination of Vidya and Dharma. (व्रतानि) ब्रह्मचर्यविद्याग्रहणसत्यभाषणादीनि । Vows like Brahmacharya (continence), knowledge, speaking truth etc. (अग्ने) पावकवत्प्रकाशात्मन् ।=Endowed with illumined soul like the fire.

Sūktam—8

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Vaishvānara. Chhandas—Jagati and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras—Nishāda and Dhaivata.

What should men know and what should they preach are told :

पृक्षस्य वृष्णो अरुषस्य नू सहः प्र नु वोचं विदथा जातवेदसः ।
वैश्वानराय मतिर्नव्यसी शुचिः सोमइव पवते चारुरग्नये ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I will tell aloud (proclaim. Ed.) the might of the fire which is connected with all, is sprinkler of happiness, non-violent (useful) and present (existent. Ed.) in all things. Let me also proclaim its science. Let me uphold the intellect of that great illuminator of the whole world, whose most modern intellect is pure like the Soma (moon-creeper) and beautiful.

PURPORT : - Those persons only enjoy bliss whose intellect is purifying like the Soma (moon creeper), unparallelled strength and the science of Agni (fire and electricity).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पृक्षस्य) सर्वत्र सम्बद्धस्य, सम्पृक्तस्य । पृची-सम्पर्चने (अदा०) ।=Connected with all. (अरुषस्य) अहिंसकस्य । रुष-हिंसायाम् (दिवा०) ।=Non-violent, not harmful. (विदथा) विज्ञानानि ।= Knowledge, sciences.

What should men do is told further :

स जायमानः परमे व्योमनि व्रतान्यग्निर्व्रतपा अरक्षत ।
व्यन्तरिक्षममिमीत सुक्रतुर्वैश्वानरो महिना नाकमस्पृशत् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! you should know well that Agni born in the highest heaven in the form of the sun, is the protector of good actions and causes water (rains). It is the doer of noble deeds, is shining among all men, and touches the state of liberation (where there is no misery) by its greatness.

PURPORT :—O men ! yon should always worship that God, doing good deeds, Who has done a very great benevolent act to us by creating the sun and other worlds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(व्रतानि) सत्यभाषणादीनि कर्म्माणि। व्रतमिति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1) ।=Speaking truth and other good acts. (अन्तरिक्षम्) उदकम् । अन्तरिक्षम् इत्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) इति महर्षि दयानन्देन ऋ. 3, 34, 10 भाष्ये उदलेखि, यद्यपि वैदिक यन्त्रालयमुद्रिते निघण्टावपि न दृश्यते । अन्तरिक्षशब्दः उदकनामसु संभवतः लिपिकप्रमादवशात् । अन्वेष्टव्यानि निघण्टोर्विविध-संस्करणानि ।=Water. (वैश्वानरः) विश्वेषु नरेषु प्रकाशमानाः ।=Shining among all men.

How the sun acts is told further :

व्यस्तभ्नाद्रोदसी मित्रो अद्भुतोऽन्तर्वावदकृणोज्ज्योतिषा तमः ।
वि चर्मणीव धिषणे अवर्तयद्वैश्वानरो विश्वमधत्त वृष्ण्यम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should know well and properly utilise the sun, (solar energy. Ed.). It is like a wonderful friend, shining among all men (beings including the human ones. Ed.) upholding the heaven and earth like hair in the skin, and dispelling the darkness by its light, and moving in his own circumference. He props or supports the whole mighty world.

PURPORT :—O men! you should know that this sun created by God upholds all worlds by His power of attraction like the skin upholding the hair, and moves them regularly and moves Himself in His own circumference.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अन्तर्वावत्) यो अन्तर्भृशं वाति गच्छति। वा-गतिगन्धनयोः (अ०) अत्र गत्यर्थः।=Which moves with in its circum-ferenc. (धिषणे) सर्वस्य धारिके। धिषणे इति द्यावापृथिवी नाम (NG 3, 30)। डु-धाञ्-धारणपोषणयोः (जुहो०) अत्र धारणार्थः।=Upholdes of all, (heaven earth).

What is the nature of air and what it does is told :

अपामुपस्थे महिषा अगृभ्णत विशो राजानमुप तस्थुरृग्मियम्।
आ दूतो अग्निमभरद्विवस्वतो वैश्वानरं मातरिश्वा परावतः॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! you should know well that wind which causes sufferings (hardships or natural calamities. Ed.) (when hot or strong in the form of storm), which supports the shining Agni (heat) of the distant sun. The scientists praise it, as the people praise their good king and approach (it. Ed.) lovingly. It goes near the sun, which standing near the Prānas or waters, and great scientists take it (for proper application).

PURPORT :—As the air upholds the splendour even of the distant sun, similarly a good king should uphold his subjects even though they may reside in distant places.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्रूत:) यो दुनोति परितापयति स: (दु) दु-उपतापे (स्वा०) ।=Which causes suffering (when very hot or strong). (मातरिश्वा) यो मातर्य्यन्तरिक्षे शेते स: वायु: ।=The air which moves in the firmament. (महिषा:) महान्त: इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) =Great. (अपाम्) प्राणानां जलानां वा । आपो वै प्राणा: (Stph 3, 8, 2, 4, जैमि 3 प्र. 3, 1, 9) ।= Of the Prānas or waters.

What should a king do is told further :

युगेयुंगे विदथ्यं गृणद्भ्योऽग्ने र॒यिं य॒शसं॑ धेहि॒ नव्य॑सीम् ।
प॒व्येव॑ राजन्न॒घशं॑समजर नी॒चा नि वृ॑श्च व॒निनं॒ न तेज॑सा ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining like the fire and free from the weakness of old age, you smite down with your splendour a thief (or other sinner), like the sun smites down the cloud, or as a hero smites down with thunderbolt-like sharp weapon a wicked fellow. And in every age or every year, you bestow upon the devotees of God wealth, which is glorious and acquired from scientific works and battles, good reputation or food, and new knowledge (linked with. Ed.) action.

PURPORT :—The simile is used in the mantra. As the sun disperses the clouds and as the thunderbolt cuts asunder what is to be broken, so a king should destroy the thieves and other wicked fellows and should bestow upon the righteous persons wealth and prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विदथ्यम्) विदथेषु सङ्ग्रामविज्ञानादिषु भवम् ।= Acquired from the battles and scientific works. (यशसम्) कीर्तिमन्नं वा ।=यश इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) कीर्त्यर्थ: सुप्रसिद्ध: ।=Glory or food. (पव्येव) वज्रेणेव । पवि: इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) ।=As with thunderbolt like sharp weapon. (अघशंसम्) स्तेनम् । अघशंस इति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 2, 4) =Thief (or other sinner).

The ruler's or king's duties are elaborated :

अस्माकमग्ने मघवत्सु धारयानामि क्षत्रमजरं सुवीर्यम् ।
वयं जयेम शतिनं सहस्रिणं वैश्वानर वाजमग्ने तवोतिभिः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O leader of all ! shining like the fire and highly learned king with your protections, let us win in battles an army consisting of a hundred, a thousand or more soldiers. You bestow upon our wealthy chiefs undecaying state (territories. Ed.) or wealth, good strength which is unbending, but which is full of humility.

PURPORT :—If the king and commanders of his armies are righteous, highly learned, just and men of self-control, they can achieve victory everywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS :– (क्षत्रम्) राष्ट्रं धनं वा । क्षत्रं हि राष्ट्रम् (ऐतरेय ब्राह्मणे 7, 227) क्षत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=State, kingdom or wealth. (वाजम्) सङ्ग्रामम् ।=Battle. (अनामि) अनमनहिम् अथवा नम्येतु ।= Unbending. May be full of humility though unbending or strong.

What should kings and others do is told :

अदब्धेभिस्तव गोपाभिरिष्टेऽस्माकं पाहि त्रिषधस्थ सूरीन् ।
रक्षा च नो ददुषां शर्धो अग्ने वैश्वानर प्र च तारीः स्तवानः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining in a unifying act with knowledge and humility like the sun, illuminating all the three worlds-above below and middle—or like Agni dwelling in three places in the form of fire on earth, lightning in the firmament and sun in the heaven, protect our enlightened devotees with your non-violent protective (guarding. Ed.) powers. Protect also all our kith and kin, so that the strength of the givers of tributes to you and ours may grow. Being praised by us, (you. Ed.)overcome all enemies with our help.

PURPORT :—As the sun illuminates the worlds above, below and the middle, likewise you, O king ! protect all your subjects, make such laws so that the number of the highly learned persons may ever grow.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अदब्धेभिः) अहिंसकैः। दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) ।=Non-violent. (वैश्वानर) विद्याविनयप्रकाशमान ।=Shining with knowledge and humility. (शर्धः) बलम्। शर्ध इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । Strength, might.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—विषधस्थ may also mean according to Dayanand Sarasvati commentary on Rig. 5.8.8 त्रिभिः प्रजाभृत्यादिभिर्जनैः सह: पक्षपातरहितस्तिष्ठति तत्सम्बुद्धौ। One who remains impartial towards his subjects, servants and his own kith and king.

Griffith's foot-note on the hymn is amusing. He says "The hymn is somewhat obscure; but the general purport appears to be : Agni is the priests' guide and teacher. As the sun-light dispels the darkness, so he enlightens our understandings. "(The Hymns of the Rigveda, translated by Griffith Vol. I Page 563).

As a matter of fact, there is no obscurity in the hymn. The mistake lies with Griffith and other scholars of his type in taking Agni only for material fire and to (assume. Ed.) think that fire is the teacher and guide of the priests. It is quite clear that by Agni here is meant an enlightened leader who as Griffith also says "enlightens our understanding and dispels the darkness" of ignorance. This substantiates the interpretation given by Dayananda Sarasvati.

Sūktam—9

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhārādvāja Devatā—Vaishvānara. Chhandas—Trishtup, Pankti and gagati. Svaras—Dhaivata, Panchama and Nishāda.

How should the rulers and their subjects deal with one another is told :

अहंश्च कृष्णमहरर्जुनं च वि वर्तेते रजसी वेद्याभिः ।
वैश्वानरो जायमानो न राजावातिरज्ज्योतिषाग्निस्तमांसि ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! one half of the day (night) is dark and the other one is bright which is endowed with straight movements and other qualities. Both day and night move on with (our. Ed.) knowledge and actions. The fire when kindled with its lustre overcomes the darkness like the sun illuminating the world.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. As day and night are associated with each other, so the king and his subjects should be agreeable to each other. As the sun disples darkness by (its. Ed.) light, so a king should (also. Ed.) dispel the darkness of ignorance by the light of Vidya (knowledge) and humility.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अह:) व्याप्तिशीलम् । अह्-व्याप्तौ (स्वा०) ।= Pervading. (अर्जुनम्) ऋजुगत्यादिगुणम् । अर्जुनम् इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) ।= Endowed with straight movement and other qualities.

———

Whose is the offspring (i.e. The quality of an ideal) are told :

नाहं तन्तुं न वि जानाम्योतुं न यं वयन्ति समरेऽतमानाः ।
कस्य स्वित्पुत्र इह वक्त्वानि परो वदात्यवरेण पित्रा ॥२ ।

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! I do not know either the warp or woof, I know not the web they weave when moving to the contest or battlefield. Whose pure (ideal, Ed.) son who is giver of happiness shall here speak words that must be spoken (meaning ideal. Ed.) without assistance from the father near him (meaning indepently or without any prompting. Ed.) Such a son is very rare.

PURPORT :—It is difficult for us (ordinary persons) to decide (the parenthood of a man. Ed.), but the principle accepted by the wise is that a boy is (not only Ed.) the son of his parents, but he is (also. Ed.) the son of the Acharya (a preceptor) and Vidya (Knowledge or wisdom). Indeed, they give him second birth through initiation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(समरे) सङ्ग्रामे । समर्ये इति संग्राम नाम (NG 2, 17) । समर समर्थ शब्दो पर्यायौ ।=In the battle or contest. (पुत्रः) पवित्रः सुखप्रदो वा । पूङ्-पवने । त्रैङ्—पालने (श्वा०) ।=Pure or giver of happiness.

Something about the son is more is told :

स इत्तन्तुं स वि जानात्योतुं स वक्त्वान्यृतुथा वदाति ।
य ईं चिकेतदमृतस्य गोपा अवश्चरन्परो अन्येन पश्यन् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! he understands the warp and woof or the origin and the Protector of the world, who being the the Protector of the Immortal soul goes up and below i.e. every where. He sees with another eye of wisdom and knows or preserves the semen (i. e. Observes Brahmacharya. Ed.). He speaks at proper time the right thing.

PURPORT :—Those persons only are able to know and tell others about the origin of this materials. Ed world, who receive true knowledge and education from the absolutely truthful enlightened persons with Brahmacharya (continence).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तन्तुम्) कारणम् ।=Cause, origin. (ओतुम्) रक्षकम् । (ओतुम्) अव-रक्षणादिषु (भ्वा०) ।—Protector. (ईम्). उदकम् इव शुक्रम् । ईम् इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) अत्र वीर्यार्थे ।=Semen like water.

The body has both, soul and God is told :

अयं होता प्रथमः पश्यतेममिदं ज्योतिरमृतं मर्त्येषु ।
अयं स जज्ञे ध्रुव आ निषत्तोऽमर्त्यस्तन्वा३ वर्धमानः ॥४॥

4 TRANSLATION :—O learned men ! behold that First (efficient cause), Giver of Peace and Bliss, Immortable, Immortal Light like the sun among the mortals. That is God. Behold also the another seated in the body and ever-working with it, manifesting (though not born) itself with the body. This is your immortal soul.

PURPORT :—O men ! in this body there are two conscious and eternal spirits called soul and God. One of them called Jeevātmā (soul) is limited in space (size. Ed.), knowledge and power, and it having received the body is manifested, grows, changes, decays and enjoys the fruits of its good or bad actions. The other Paramātāmā (God) is Eternal, Immortable, Omniscient, free from the fruit of actions. In fact, this is what you should know decidedly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ज्योतिः) सूर्यं इव स्वप्रकाशं चेतनं परमात्मानम् । =Self-refulgent conscious God like the sun. (होता) दाता-ग्रहीता । (होता) हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (जुहो०) ।=Giver of Peace and Bliss and the fruit of actions of the souls and accepter of men's true devotion.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—ज्योतिः is from द्युत-दीप्तौ । द्युतेरिसिन्नादेश्च

जः (उणादिकोषे 2, 111) इति इसिम् प्रत्ययः आदेशच जः This and other mantras clearly show that the Vedas do not support अद्वैतवाद or monism.

What should be known in this body is told :

ध्रुवं ज्योतिर्निहितं दृशये कं मनो जविष्ठं पतयत्स्वन्तः ।
विश्वे देवाः समनसः सकेता एकं क्रतुमभि वि यन्ति साधु ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that there is a Firm (immortable and unwavering) light which is All-Bliss and steady. This is known as Brahma, Supreme Being or God. Based upon that there is the mind swiftest among all things that fly. On the basis of the mind, there are all the senses of one accord, with one intention, manifesting their own objects—eyes ears etc. having mind as their common means and of common knowledge. They go well unobstructed to receive knowledge of the soul.

PURPORT :—O men ! in this body there is one self-refulgent Brahma (God) Who has Absolute existence, consciouness and Bliss. The second is Jeeva or soul. Third is the mind. Fourth are the senses, fifth are the Pranas (vital breaths) and sixth is the body. In this way, all dealings are accomplished. Among them, Goa is the support or axle of all, the soul is the upholder of the body, senses, Prānas and inner senses (mind, intellect etc) and the seat of the soul is body. All about this truth you must know well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कम्) सुखस्वरूपम् । कम् इति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) ।=Embodiment of abiding happiness or bliss. (देवा:) स्वस्वविषयप्रकाशकानि श्रोत्रादीनीन्द्रियाणि । (देवा:) दिवु-क्रीडा विजिगीषाव्यवहारद्युति स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (दिवा०)अत्र द्युत्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या द्युतिः-प्रकाशः ।=Senses which manifest their objects. (क्रतुम्) जीवस्य प्रज्ञानम् ।=The knowledge of the soul.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is not correct on the part of Griffith to translate विश्व देवा: here and almost everywhere else as "All Gods". He seems to be obsessed with the erroneous idea of polytheiom in the Vedas.

What should be known in the human body is told :

वि मे कर्णा पतयतो वि चक्षुर्वी३दं ज्योतिर्हृदय आहितं यत् ।
वि मे मनश्चरति दूरआधीः किं स्विद्वक्ष्यामि किमु नू मनिष्ये ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons ! my ears unclose to hear, and my eyes go here and there. The light within my heart also goes here and there. The same is the case with my mind which thinks of the distant objects. What shall I speak under these conditions ? What shall it reflect ? Please tell me all about this.

PURPORT :—O enlightened men ! you instruct me about who am I and what are my means and such other things.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दूरआधीः) दूररस्थानां पदार्थानां समन्ताच्चिन्तकम् । Thinking about the distant objects. (नू) सद्यः । अत्र ऋचितुनुघेति दीर्घः । श्रा ध्यैचिन्तायाम् ।—Quickly.

Whom men should fear and never indulge in sin is told :

विश्वे देवा अनमस्यन्भियानास्त्वामग्ने तमसि तस्थिवांसम् ।
वैश्वानरोऽवतूतये नोऽमर्त्योऽवतूतये नः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O God—our supreme leader ! all learned persons bow down before you in fear. They are like our very life like the Prānas. You purifying God stand even in the darkness (depth. Ed,) of matter etc. May you Immortal God, the Illuminator of the whole world be our Protector for our growth, for our harmonious (and integrated. Ed.) development.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the earth and other things have their basis in Prāna and electricity and all beings are afraid of fire, so knowing God as Omnipresent and Indwelling Spirit, enlightened men are ever afraid of committing sins. All people should be afraid of Him (God).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनमस्यन्) प्रह्वीभूता भवन्ति ।=To be polite. (भियाना:) भयं प्राप्ता: ।=Terrified. (त्वम्) परमात्मानमिव विद्युद्युक्तं प्राणमिव परमात्मानम् ।=To you who are energetic life-giving like God. (तस्थिवांसम्) प्रतिष्ठन्तम् ।=Establish. (वैश्वानर:) विश्वस्य संसारस्य प्रकाशक: ।=Illuminator of the whole universe. (अमर्त्य:) मृत्युधर्मरहित: । One who is immortal.

Sūktam—10

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Agni. Chhandas—Trishtup and Brihati of various kinds. Svaras—Panchama, Dhaivata and Madhyama.

What should men do is told :

पुरो वो मन्द्रं दिव्यं सुवृक्तिं प्रयति यज्ञे अग्निमध्वरे दधिध्वम् ।
पुर उक्थेभिः स हि नो विभावा स्वध्वरा करति जातवेदाः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! in the inviolable Yajna—consisting of combination of various articles, which is to be accomplished with great labour, uphold or install with words worth uttering. Agni in the form of electricity/power/energy etc. is giver of great delight or is admirable. That Agni is pure and makes our paths (achirties. Ed.) pleasant. At the same time, we must adore that Omniscient God who is the greatest Illuminator and who makes us endowed with non-violence and other essentials of Dharma (righteousness).

PURPORT :—O men ! as the priests or the performers of the Yajnas enkindle Agni (fire) in the Yajna, place it in front and benefit the world by putting oblations in it, in the same manner, they should always keep God in the bottom of their souls. The priests should put the oblation of mind intellect and other things, and should behold Him (with the internal eyes of wisdom), and (thus Ed.) benefit the world by delivering sermons about Him.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्द्रम्) आनन्दप्रदं प्रशंसनीयं वा मदि-स्तुतिमोद मदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०)।=Giver of joy or admirable. (विभावा) विशेषेण प्रकाशक:। वि-भा-दीप्तौ (अदा०)। Chief Illuminator. (जातवेदा:) यो जातान् सर्वान् वेत्ति स:। जातवेदा: कस्मात् जातानि वेद (NKT 7, 5, 19) ।—God who knows all things.

What should men do is told :

तमुं द्युमः पुर्वणीक होतरग्ने अग्निभिर्मनुष इधानः ।
स्तोमं यमस्मै ममतेव शूषं घृतं न शुचिं मतयः पवन्ते ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! distributor of wealth and knowledge etc. among many, resplendent and upholder of good virtures, you purify like the fire; hear the praise of that Agni (fire) which is purified by you and illumine men and other wise men with pure ghee (clarified butter) and strength, like the affectionate regard.

PURPORT :—All should know that fire is the accomplisher of many works, which proves to be so when applied properly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुर्वणीक) बहूनां सम्भाजक। पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=Distributor among many of various articles. (शूषम्) बलम्। शूषम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Strength. (मतय:) मनुष्या:—मतय: इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) ।=Thoughtful or wise men.

The men's duties are elaborated :

पीपाय स श्रवसा मर्त्येषु यो अग्नये ददाश विप्र उक्थैः ।
चित्राभिस्तमूतिभिश्चित्रशोचिर्व्रजस्य साता गोमतो दधाति ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned men! a wise man among the human beings is a great devotee of God praising Him exceedingly. Endowed with wonderful light (of knowledge), he enhances Agni (fire) with the oblation of foodgrains and gives with (performs. Ed.) admirable deeds; and with wonderful protective powers, he upholds it during the battle with clouds (raining). This mystery, you should know.

PURPORT :—You should properly utilise that Agni (fire) which has wonderful properties, functions and nature.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(गोमत:) अतिशयितस्तोता। गोरिति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) ।=A great devotee of God who glorifies Him exceedingly. (पीपाय) वर्धयति। (ओ) प्यायी-वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) ।=Multiplies increases. (व्रजस्य) व्रजन्ति घना यस्मिंस्तस्य मेघस्य। व्रज गतौ (भ्वा०) ।=Of the cloud.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :- This interpretation of गोमत: shows that according to Dayananda Sarasvati the correct reading of the text before him should be गोतम: and not गोमत:. This requires further research.

Again the duties of men are described :

आ यः पप्रौ जायमान उर्वी दूरेदृशा भासा कृष्णाध्वा ।
अधं बहु चित्तम ऊर्म्यायास्तिरः शोचिषा ददृशे पावकः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know the properties of that Agni (fire and electricity) which when manifested or kindled fills heaven and earth with far extending splendour, as it has travelled a long way (through its smoke). (or wirelines. Ed.) It dispels the thick darkness of the night by its light. It is seen as the purifying fire.

PURPORT ;—Men must know the science of Agni (both in the form of fire and electricity).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उर्वी) द्यावापृथिव्यौ । उर्वी इति द्यावापृथिवीनाम (NG 3, 30) ।=Heaven and earth. (ऊर्म्यायाः) रात्र्याः । ऊर्म्येति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) ।=Night.

What should men do is told further :

नू नश्चित्रं पुरुवाजाभिरूती अग्ने रयिं मघवद्भ्यश्च धेहि ।
ये राधसा श्रवसा चात्यन्यान्त्सुवीर्येभिश्चाभि सन्ति जनान् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O absolutely truthful person ! shining like fire with your protections endowed with much knowledge and exertion, confer wonderful wealth upon us and wealthy persons. Those persons get much respect who stand pre-eminent, surpassing others in offering liberal gifts, in (order to promote Ed.) fame and heroic virtues.

PURPORT :—O men ! respect them much who give you knowledge and wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुवाजाभिः) बहुज्ञानपुरुषार्थयुक्ताभिः । वाजः- वज गतौ । गतोस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) तेन पुरुषार्थ परकोर्थः सो बलमूलक एव सम्भवति ।=Endowed with much knowledge and industriousness. (श्रवसा) अन्नादिना । श्रव इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।= With food and other things.

———

What should the enlightened persons do is told :

इमं यज्ञं चनो धा अग्न उशन्यं त आसानो जुहुते हविष्मान् ।
भरद्वाजेषु दधिषे सुवृक्तिमवीर्वाजस्य गध्यस्य सातौ ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O industrious learned leader ! let every thing be easy for you who is seated here and desiring the welfare of all performs this Yajna (in the form of benevolence etc.) and uphold food and other eatable and proper things. Protect this worshipper (me. Ed.) in the battle or contest of desirable scientific knowledge. You have good path among the upholders of food, knowledge and strength.

PURPORT :—Those who do good to others, get all their good desires fulfilled.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चनः) अन्नादिकम् ।=Materials and other articles. (यज्ञम्) परोपकाराख्यम् । (यज्ञम्) यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु =Yajna in the form of benevolence or doing good to others. Respect shown to the enlightened persons, unification, charity— all these are included in benevolence. (भरद्वाजेषु) ये वाजानन्नादीन् भरन्ति तेषु । वाज इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 6) । (वाजः) वज-गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ग्रहणम् ।=Among those who uphold food and other things including knowledge and strength. (गध्यस्य) अभिकाङ्क्षितुं योग्यस्य ।=Desirable.

———

The duties of the enlightened persons is told further :

वि द्वेषांसीनुहि वर्धयेळां मदेम शतहिमाः सुवीराः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! give up all acts of malice and urge upon others to do so. Increase (our. Ed.) noble speech and food material so that we may enjoy gladness for a hundred years, possessing brave son and other persons.

PURPORT :—The learned men should always do such deeds and should urge upon others to do so, by which all evils may be set aside and intellect, strength and life-span may grow.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इनुहि) विशेषेण व्याप्नुहि। इण् गतौ (अदा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम्। प्राप्तिः व्याप्तिः इत्यनर्थान्तरकम्। इलाइति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) इला इति वाङ्नाम(NG 2, 11) Pervade well or increase. (इलाम्) वाचम् अन्नं वां।=Good speech or food.

Sūktam—11

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Agni. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata and Panchama.

What should the enlightened persons do is told

यजस्व होतरिषितो यजीयानग्ने बाधो मरुतां न प्रयुक्ति।
आ नो मित्रावरुणा नासत्या द्यावा होत्राय पृथिवी ववृत्याः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O liberal donor ! enlightened man purifier like the fire, (and. Ed.) performing the Yajna (non-violent sacrifice) (is. Ed.) well impelled by the wise. Do you invite us with good deeds like the teachers and preachers who are like Prāna and Udāna and are devoid of all false conduct. They unite for giving and taking (people. Ed.) to heaven (from the. Ed.) earth. Having removed all obstacles put (up. Ed.) by mighty men who are like impetuous winds, you unite all.

PURPORT :—Those enlightened men who are dear like the Prāna and Udāna, and industrious, are able to make all happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यजस्व) सङ्गमय। यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थग्रहणम्।=Unite. The enlightened men's duties are described :

त्वं होता मन्द्रतमो नो अध्रुगन्तर्देवो विदथा मर्त्येषु।
पावकया जुह्वा॒ वह्निरासाग्ने यजस्व तन्वं॒ तव स्वाम् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O benevolent like the fire! O enlightened person like the Agni (in the form of fire) which is giver of delight and heat health etc, shining within the Yajna united you and us with its purifying flame. The electricity and sun do it with their power; in the same manner, you being free from malice among mortals unite us and our bodies through the performance of Yajna and other noble philanthropic deeds. [Make us always united and engaged in the performance of Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) and other noble deeds.]

PURPORT :—As Agni (in the form of electricity, fire and sun) does good to the whole world, so the enlightened men gladden the the universe.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्द्रतम:) अतिशयेनानन्दयिता । (मन्द्रतम:) मदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु । अत्रमोदार्थ: ।=Giver of much delight. (अग्ने) अग्निरिव परोपकारिन् ।=Benevolent like the fire. (विदथा) विदथे यज्ञे । विदथ: इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3, 17) ।=In the Yajna.

What and how should the enlightened persons do is told :

धन्यां चिद्धि त्वे धिषणा वष्टि प्र देवाञ्जन्मं गृणते यजंध्यै ।
वेपिष्ठो अङ्गिंरसां यद्ध विप्रो मधुंच्छन्दो भनंति रेभ इष्टौ ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! your blessed intellect which longs for the enlightened men, that is, they praise to take birth among or like the scholars who are dear like the Prānas (vital breaths). When a very wise man who shakes or terrifies the wicked and is a devotee of God always glorifying Him, utters words of sweet wisdom and freedom in the Yajna, it increases knowledge. All these things let us gladly take.

PURPORT :—Blessed are those persons who by the association with the enlightened persons and with their intellect long for the acquisition of knowledge and preach others about truth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धिषणा) प्रज्ञा द्यौ: पृथिवी वा । विद्या वै धिषणा (तैत्तिरीय संहिता 5, 1, 7, 2 मैत्रायणी सं० 4, 2, 1, काठक सं० 19, 7, अत्र विद्या-धारिका बुद्धि: ।=Intellect. How should the enlightened person do is told further :

अदिद्युतत्स्वपांको विभावाग्ने यजस्व रोदसी उरूची।
आयुं न यं नमसा रातहव्या अञ्जन्ति सुप्रयसं पञ्च जनाः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are purifier like the fire, Good men like five Prānas who are givers of proper things, manifest (honour) you with good food etc, because you are industrious. You who are not yet perfectly mature but sufficiently bright with knowledge shine like the good life. You unite the wide-spreading heaven and earth i. e. (make proper use of them travelling in the vehicles and aircrafs).

PURPORT :—As five Prānas (vital breaths) uphold the body, so that who are regular in their taking of food, walk and other movements can maintain their bodies for a long time. In the same manner, the teaching or sermons of the enlightened persons make the knowledge long enduring or permament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अञ्जन्ति) सुप्रकटयन्ति। अञ्जु-व्यक्तिम्राक्षणा कान्तिगतिषु (रुधा०)।=Manifest well, honour. (सुप्रयसम्) सुष्ठु-प्रयत्नवन्तम्। सु+प्र+यसु-प्रयत्ने (दिवा०)।=Industrious. What should men do is again told :

वृञ्जे ह यन्नमसा बर्हिरग्नावयामि स्रुग्घृतवती सुवृक्तिः ।
अम्यक्षि सद्म सदने पृथिव्या अश्रायि यज्ञः सूर्ये न चक्षुः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! I put the ghee (clarified butter) in the fire alongwith some food materials and other things as oblations. I obtain the ladle with the drops of ghee as a river full of water to which men go for taking bath. Firm on the seat of earth is based the altar like the eye, turning towards the sun. All must perform such Yajna very well.

PURPORT :—As the performers of the Yajnas put ghee in the fire, so the enlightened persons should put knowledge in other's intellects. (mind Ed.)-As the eye goes towards the sun (sees through the sun light. Ed.) so the oblations put in the fire pervade the firmament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृञ्जे) त्यजामि । वृजी-वर्जने (अदा.) ।=Leave, put. (बर्हिः) घृतम् । बृह-वृद्धौ । वर्धन्ते जनोऽनेन शक्ताविति बर्हिः घृतम् ।= Ghee (clarified butter created. Ed.) fires. (अयामि) प्राप्नोमि । अय-गतौ (भ्वा०) ।=Obtain, achieve.

How should men behave is told :

दशस्या नः पुर्वणीक होतर्देवेभिरग्ने अग्निभिरिधानः ।
रायः सूनो सहसो वावसाना अति स्रसेम वृजनं नांहः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king purifying like the fire ! you have many armies. O son of a mighty person ! shining alongwith the brave persons who are full of splendour like the fire, you are a liberal donor. Bestow upon us riches, so that becoming safe (lit. covered on all sides), we may escape from the evil strength of our foes as well as from sins.

PURPORT :-O men ! as the fire grows by puttnig the fuel, so you should grow with industriousness. As men give up the adversaries soon, so you should (also. Ed.) give up all unjust conduct and sin quickly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दशस्या) दाशंति ददति येन तद् शस्तदात्मानमिच्छ। अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः।=Give. The qualities of an ideal are told :

तेजिष्ठा यस्यारतिर्वनेराट् तोदो अध्वन्न वृधसानो अद्यौत् ।
अद्रोघो न द्रविता चेतति त्मन्नमर्त्योऽवर्त्र ओषधीषु ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION ;—O men ! the inspiring achievements of the king who is full of splendour like the fire, blazes most splendid like the fire in the finest rays of the sun. His achievement shines waking on the way like a pain (in stomach etc.) growing on the movement. He himself being immortal (by the nature of the soul) active and invincible gives the knowledge about the Soma and other plants.

PURPORT ;—That man alone can get all his desires fulfilled and is blessed, where (his. Ed.) nature and prompting is full of splendour or inspiring. Such a man being devoid of malice, can alleviate the miseries of others as a medicine removes diseases.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्रविता) गन्ता । द्रु-गतौ (भ्वा.) गति प्रापणयो: । गतेष्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=Going from place to place, active. (अरतिः) प्राप्तिः ।=Achievement. (अवर्त्तः) अनिवारणीयः । वृञ्-आवरणे (चुरा०) Invincible.

How should the enlightened persons deal is told :

सास्माकेभिरेतरी न शूषैरग्निः ष्टवे दम आ जातवेदाः ।
द्र्वन्नो वन्वन् क्रत्वा नार्वोस्रः पितेव जारयायि यज्ञैः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men! that king is to be served by us who is like the father, taking good food, and preserving the strength of the body (that attains old age only in the course of time), who is rapid-going like a horse and who serves the cows with his good actions. In the same manner, a man who knows the nature of all objects and who shines like the fire living in his admirable house comes to our aid in undesirable dealing or (in distress at proper time. Ed.).

PURPORT :—As in a praiseworthy (ideal. Ed.) home, a men dwells happily, in the same manner, under the rule of a king who is nourisher of the subjects, people live happily. As a man who has obtained self-control by the use of his good intellect guards the orphans on having attained kingdom. In the same manner, the enlightened men should protect the (people. Ed.) by preaching truth.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(जारयायि) जारं जरावस्थां दातुं शीलं यस्य तच्छरीरम् ।=Body which has to obtain old age in course of time. (शूषैः) बलादिभिः। शूषमिति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=With strength and vigour. (एतरी) प्राप्तव्ये। (एतरी) इण् गतौ। अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम्।= In an attainable or desirable dealing.

The nature of electricity/energy is told :

अर्धं स्मास्य पनयन्ति भासो वृथा यत्तक्षदनुयाति पृथ्वीम्।
सद्यो यः स्यन्द्रो विषितो धवीयानृणो न तायुरति धन्वा राट्॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! scientists praise (take maximum use of. Ed.) the properties of electricity/energy when pervading melting and shaking secretly present like a useless (hidden. Ed.) thief. It makes subtle the glow and goes to the earth quickly. Having known it well and having acquired the knowledge of this science, a glorious or renowned archer (armed man. Ed.) knows the elements of the Dhanurveda (military science).

PURPORT :- O highly learned persons ! if you know the science of electricity, produce it by rubbing with machines and harness for men with it. Then it becomes very impetuous and it shakes all. If it is put in a glass cover and men are kept away separately, then it goes to the earth quickly. This pervading all is very admirable by using it. With its proper use, the king can conquer his enemies quickly and become prosperous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विषितः) व्याप्तः। विष्लृ-व्याप्तौ (जु०) ।= Pervading. (धवीयान्) अतिशयेन कम्पकः धूञ्-कम्पने (स्वा०) ।=That which shakes much. (तायुः) स्तेनः। तायुरिति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24) ।=Like thief.

An ideal man is described :

स त्वं नो अर्वन्निदाया विश्वेभिरग्ने अग्निभिरिधानः ।
वेषि रायो वि यासि दुच्छुना मदेम शतहिमाः सुवीराः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are full of splendour like the fire and moving all quickly like the horse (-power. Ed.) as shining with the various forms of electricity and other objects. Thus you conquer your adversaries who censure (defame. Ed.) you unjustly and take away their riches. Subduing dog-like wicked armies, therefore let us enjoy delight for hundred years being brave heroes.

PURPORT :—Men should accomplish all works by the proper application of Agni (fire and electricity etc.) and other things, and should punish the unjust people and make them calm (disciplined. Ed.). In this way, by doing righteous and just works, all may live for hundred years.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्वन्) अश्वेव शीघ्रं गमयन् । अर्व-गतौ ।= Moving swiftly like a horse. (वेषि) व्याप्नोषि । वी-गतिव्याप्तिप्रजनकान्त्यसनखादनेषु । अत्र व्याप्त्यर्थः ।=Pervade.

Sūktam--13

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Agni. Chhandas—Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras—Panchama and Dhaivata.

In what way, a king can be good is told :

त्वद्विश्वा सुभग सौभगान्यग्ने वि यन्ति वनिनो न वयाः ।
श्रुष्टी रयिर्वाजो वृत्रतूर्ये दिवो वृष्टिरीड्यो रीतिरपाम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O prosperous and auspicious king ! you are full of splendour like the fire, like the birds of the forest. The men obtain all riches and prosperity from you. Like the flow of water from the firmament, the admirable wealth which enables men to go from place to place for (trading and self-sufficieney in. Ed.) food materials are obtained from you in the battles. Therefore, you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. As the sun gladdens the whole world by raining down water from the firmament, so the king should constantly gladden and feed all, by increasing the prosperity by just industriousness (right conduct, Ed.).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वयाः)पक्षिणः ।=Birds. (वृत्रतूर्य्ये) वृत्रस्य मेघस्य हननं यत्र, तद् वद् वर्तमाने संग्रामे । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) तूरी-गतित्वरण-हिंसनयो (दिवा०) अत्र हिंसनार्थः । वृत्रतूर्य्ये इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) ।=In the battle where enemies are killed like the clouds. (श्रुष्टी) क्षिप्रम् । अत्र संहितायामिति दीर्घः ।=Obtain quickly.

How should the enlightened men behave is told :

त्वं भगो न आ हि रत्नमिषे परिज्मेव क्षयसि दस्मवर्चाः ।
अग्ने मित्रो न बृहत ऋतस्यासि क्षत्ता वामस्य देव भूरेः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O liberal donor ! enlightened persons are purifying like the fire. You are worthy of respect as you as a friend are the discriminator (between the untruth and. Ed.) admirable great truth. Therefore you dwell, like circumambient air with wonderous splendour, and being endowed with admirable wealth, enable us to obtain the charming wealth.

PURPORT :—Those enlightened persons who (rightly. Ed.) uphold the beauty of wealth and prosperity like the Prāna, should deal with all in a friendly manner and should make all happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इषे) प्राप्तुम् । इष-गतौ (दिवा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=To obtain. (वामस्य) प्रशस्यस्य । वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 8) ।=Of the admirable. (दस्मवर्चाः) दस्ममुपक्षयितं निवासितं वर्चो दीप्तिर्येन सः । वर्च-दीप्तौ (भ्वा.) दसु-उपक्षये (दि०) क्षि-निवासगत्योः ।=Full of splendour.

How should the enlightened men behave is told :

स सत्पंतिः शवंसा हन्ति वृत्रमग्ने विप्रो वि पणेर्भर्ति वाजंम् ।
यं त्वं प्रंचेत ऋतजात राया सजोषा नप्त्रापां हिनोर्षि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened leader ! you are renowned on account of truth. As the sun protector of waters slays the cloud by its might and upholds the food or knowledge of a dealer or student. So you being endowed with love and the spirit of service, enable to grow with the proper application of electricity grows on all sides.

PURPORT :—Those geniuses who illuminate knowledge like the sun and dispel all ignorance enjoy unparallelled happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पणे) व्यवहर्त्तुः । पण-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा.) अत्र व्यवहारार्थग्रहणम् ।=Of a dealer. (वाजम्) अन्न विज्ञानं वा । वाज इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) वज-गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् ।=Food or knowledge. (हिनोषि) वर्धयसि । हि-गतौ (भ्वा.) वृद्धौ च (स्वा.) ।=Multiplies, enables to grow.

What should men do is told further :

यस्ते सूनो सहसो गीर्भिरुक्थैर्यज्ञैर्मर्तो निशितिं वेद्यानट् ।
विश्वं स देव प्रति वारमग्ने धत्ते धान्यं पत्यते वसव्यैः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O son of the mighty father ! O

enlightened person purifying like the fire, the mortal who approaches and honours you with the most admirable Vedic mantras within the Yajnas, consisting of the honour shown to the scholars, association and charity and with the construction of an altar, gives profound delight. He enjoys all precious things with the Yajnas performed with good wealth, gains wealth of corn and becomes the lord (owner. Ed.) of the treasures. You should associate with such a noble person.

PURPORT :—O men! you should develop your physical and spiritual power with perfect Brahmacharya (continence) and then should (procreate and bring up Ed.) good children.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञैः) विद्वत्सत्कारादिभिः। (यज्ञैः) यज-देव-पूजासंगतिकरणदानेषु ।=By the Yajnas consisting of the honour shown to the enlightened persons, association with them and charity. (वेधा) सुखप्रापिकया। (वेधा) विद्लृ-लाभे। लाभः प्राप्तिः। सुखं प्रापयतीति वेदिः ।= With an altar that leads to happiness.

The men's duties are further continued :

ता नृभ्य॒ आ सौ॑श्रव॒सा सु॒वीराग्ने॑ सूनो सहसः पु॒ष्यसे॑ धाः।
कृ॒णोषि॒ यच्छव॑सा॒ भूरि॑ प॒श्वो वयो॒ वृका॑या॒रये॒ जसु॑रये ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O son of a mighty person! shining like the fire, as you are nourished by strength, uphold for men those powers (for. Ed.) the accomplished famous scholars endowed with heroic progeny. You give long life even to animals and punishment to the violent wolf-like enemy. Therefore, you are just.

PURPORT :—That king who drives away all thieves and other wicked persons and makes the people strong, is well-wisher of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जसुरये) हिंसकाय। जसु-हिंसायाम् (चुरा०)। =For a violent person. (सौश्रवसा) सुश्रवसा विदुषा विवृत्तानि। श्रवः प्रशंसामिति निरुक्ते (NKT 4, 4, 24) श्रव इच्छमानः प्रशंसामिच्छमानः (NKT 9, 1, 10)। =Accomplished by an enlightened person of good reputation.

The ideal duties are elaborated :

व॒द्मा सू॑नो सहसो नो॒ विहा॑या॒ अग्ने॑ तो॒कं तन॑यं वा॒जि नो॑ दाः।
विश्वा॑भिर्गी॒र्भिर॒भि पू॒र्तिम॑श्या॒ं मदे॑म श॒तहि॑माः सु॒वीराः॑ ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O son of a mighty person ! O learned person ! you are purifier like the fire, and preacher of truth and benevolence, vouchsafe us with your all speeches an offspring full of vigour. You are increaser of a man having abundant food and thus extender of happiness, so that I may fulfil my noble desires and may (have. Ed.) brave sons and followers (to. Ed.) gladden us through a hundred years.

PURPORT :—O enlightened persons ! it is your duty to make the sons and daughters of householders happy by giving them good education and preaching truth, so that they may be long-lived and may do the same for other's welfare.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(वद्मा) सत्यहितोपदेष्टा। =Preacher of truth and benevolence. (विहायाः) महान्। विहायेति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)। = Great. (तोकम्) वर्धकम्। = Increaser. (तनयम्) सुखविस्तारकमपत्यम्। तनु-विस्तारे (त०) वद-व्यक्तायां वाचि (भ्वा०)। =A son who is extender of happiness.

Sūktam—14

Seer or Rishi of the Sŭktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Agni. Chhandas—Ushnik, Trishtup, Anushtup and Atijagati of various kinds. Savaras—Rishabha, Gāndhāra and Nishāda.

What should men do is told :

अग्ना यो मर्त्यो दुवो धियं जुजोष धीतिभिः ।
भसन्नु ष प्र पूर्व्य इषं वुरीतावसे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—That man is very fortunate who serves fire with his fingers and other parts of the body alongwith his intellect and work, shines in the world as trained by the old enlightened and accepts good food or knowledge. He quickly becomes distinguished as the first among men.

PURPORT :—Those persons who give up laziness and other evils and are engaged in doing good works with labour, get all desired happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दुवः) परिचरणम् । दुवस्यति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3,5) ।=Service. (धीतिभिः) अङ्गुल्याद्यवयवैः । धीतय: इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2, 5) =With fingers and other organs. (भसत्) प्रकाशते । भस-भर्त्संनदीप्त्योः (जु०) अत्र दीप्त्यर्थः । दीप्तिः प्रकाशः । =Very shining.

What should the men do is further told :

अग्निरिद्धि प्रचेता अग्निर्वेधस्तम ऋषिः ।
अग्निं होतारमीळते यज्ञेषु मनुषो विशः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should also glorify that God who is the upholder and giver of all, whom an enlightened man likes the electricity, who is the giver of knowledge to others and is a seer i.e. the knower of the meanings of the mantras and the the greatest scholar or wiseman. To him other thoughtful persons glorify in Sandhya (meditation & prayer) and other noble works.

PURPORT :—You should know for certain that God alone should be glorified, reflected upon, meditated upon, and adored by you and none else.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वेधस्तमः) विद्वत्तमः । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 5) ।=The greatest scholar. (ऋषिः) मन्त्रार्थवेत्ता । ऋषयो मन्त्र-द्रष्टारः । ऋषिदर्शनात् स्तोमान् ददर्शेति औपमन्यवः (NKT 2, 3, 11) ।=The knower of the meanings of the mantras. (यज्ञेषु) सन्ध्योपासनादिषु सत्कर्मसु ।=Sandhya (meditation and prayer) to God and other noble works.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In this mantra, Agni has been called as प्रचेताः वेधस्तमः and ऋषिः, which Prof. Wilson has translated as 'most wise' and 'a holy sage'. Griffith has translated these words as "Passing wise and a Seer',. How are these eptithets applicable to the material fire and yet many of and these Western translators have taken Agni to mean mere fire. Dayananda Sarasvati is therefore right in taking Agni here for a wise and enlightened leader, as shown above.

———

What the men should do is told :

नाना ह्य॒ग्नेऽव॑से स्पर्ध॑न्ते॒ रायो॑ अ॒र्यः ।
तूर्व॑न्तो॒ दस्यु॑मा॒यवो॑ व्र॒तैः सीक्ष॑न्तो अव्र॒तम् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O learned leader ! the master of wealth should respect those several persons who punish the wicked man who is devoid of righteous acts, and by their noble deeds desire to overcome him and compete with one another for protection, while doing so.

PURPORT :—Those men become prosperous who always try to remove the wicked persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तूर्वन्तः) हिंसन्तः । तुर्वी-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) ।= Punishing, slaying. (सीक्षन्तः) सोढुमिच्छन्तः । षह-शक्तौ सामर्थ्ये (सांशकृत्स्न धातु-पाठे 3, 17) ।=Desiring to put up with or subdue. (अर्य्यः) स्वामी । अर्य इतीश्वरनाम । (NG 2, 22) (अर्यः स्वामिवैश्ययोः इति पाणिनीये Ed.)=Master.

What should men do is told further :

अ॒ग्निर्हि वि॒द्मना॑ नि॒दो दे॒वो मर्त॑मुरु॒ष्यति॑ ।
स॒हावा॒ यस्या॑वृ॑तो र॒यिर्वाजे॒ष्ववृ॑तः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! a sage is purifier like the fire even though not accepted (or inspite of all opposition. Ed.) by all. Shining on account of virtues and putting up with all difficulties, he serves a man (mankind. Ed.). You should know him. Keep far away those who are your reproachers by the help of a man whose wealth (in fighting. Ed.) in battles is not covered (open to public sight. Ed.) but is manifest.

PURPORT i—Men should know the properties of electricity/energy which creates all things by knowing which many weapons like the Agneyastra/firearm etc. are manufactured. You must carry on research about that electricity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उरुष्यति) सेवते । उरुष्यति:-रक्षाकर्मा । सेवा रक्षाद्वारैव भवति । (NKT 5, 4, 23) ।=Serves. 6. TRANSLATION :—O Giver of happiness! worthy of adoration by all friends, shining like purifying fire, you cultivate good intellect or give knowledge about the Agni (fire and electricity etc.) and earth to the learned persons. Attain that delight in which the whole earth looks good. Enlighten those men who desire to acquire knowledge about physics and other sciences. By your protection, may we swim or overcome across all foes, all sins, all evils, defects of bad association and wicked dealings. May we overcome all these evils through your protection over us.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons! what knowledge you acquire, give it to others correctly. Caste aside the evils and vices of men by preaching truth. Always keep yourselves away from all unrighteous dealings. Being pure by the association of the noble persons and by labour, rise above all miseries and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मित्रमहः) मित्रैः पूजनीयः । मह-पूजायाम् (भ्वा॰) ।=Worthy of adoration by the friends. (रोदस्योः) अग्निपृथिव्योः ।=Of the Agni (fire, electricity etc.) and the earth. What should men know is told :

इमम् षु वो अतिथिमुषर्बुधं विश्वासां विशां पतिमृञ्जसे गिरा ।
वेतीद्दिवो जनुषा कच्चिदा शुचिर्ज्योक् चिदत्ति गर्भो यदच्युतम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! as you please this Guru or preceptor who is the protector of all people, who is venerable like a guest, and asks his pupils at the dawn, to sit within himself i.e. like embryo keeps the pupils in his Asharama and creates in them the knowledge of all objects as in day time, and who being pure enjoys the imperishable soul or God, who ever knows all this also becomes an enlightened person.

PURPORT :—O men ! as a guest is venerable, so a knower of physics and other sciences also is worthy of respect. Those who know the properties of electricity that is within all, enjoy desirable happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋञ्जसे) प्रसाध्नोषि। ऋजतिः प्रसाधनकर्मा (NKT 6, 4, 21) ।=Accomplish, here please. (दिवः) दिवसस्य पदार्थबोधस्य। दिवु धातोर्द्युत्यर्थमादाय गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् ।=Of the knowledge of all objects of the day.

What should men do is told further :

मित्रं न यं सुधितं भृगवो दधुर्वनस्पतावीड्यमूर्ध्वशोचिषम् ।
स त्वं सुप्रीतो वीतहव्ये अद्भुत प्रशस्तिभिर्महयसे दिवेदिवे ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O you, who are wonderfully great, whom enlightened men of mature knowledge establish in the sun (regard him as the sun of knowledge illuminatings all sciences), you are firm, admirable and purifier like the fire whose flames go upward. By the praiseworthy righteous acts being very much delighted, you are honoured every day by a person who has pervaded all acceptable things or virtues.

PURPORT :—O men ! as a friend accomplishes works, so Agni (fire or electricity) when applied correctly accomplishes many works.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भृगवः) विद्वांसो मनुष्याः (भृगवा) प्रथिमृदिभ्रस्जाँ सम्प्रसारणं सलोपश्च (उणादिकोषे 1, 28) इति भ्रस्ज पाके इति धातोर्भृगु शब्दसिद्धिः तस्मात् परिपक्वविज्ञानाः विद्वांसः।=Enlightened men. 3. TRANSLATION :—O son of the mighty person ! you are the honest multiplier of the wealth, you are the master of the wealth which is exalted, is different from wealth earned by unfair means and which take across all troubles. You are famous among mortals, are the giver to a man who has attained what was to be attained and to the upholder of knowledge. Being endowed with vast knowledge and wisdom, bestow a good and comfortable home to dwell.

PURPORT :– If men develop their power (physical, mental and spiritual), why should they not be wealthy and prosperous.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अवृक:) अस्तेन: । वृक इति सोमनाम (NG 3, 24) स्तेन:-चोर: । स्तेन: संस्त्यामं संहतं पापकम् अस्मिन् ष्यास्त्या हृभदिभ्य: इनच् (उणादिकोषे 2, 40) स्तेन: स्तेन इति नैरुक्ता: (NKT 3, 4, 20) वृक इति स्तेननाम ।=Not a thief, an honest man. What should men do is again told :

द्युतानं वो अतिथिं स्वर्णरमग्निं होतारं मनुषः स्वध्वरम् ।
विप्रं न द्युम्नवचसं सुवृक्तिभिर्हव्यवाहमरतिं देवमृञ्जसे ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person! let us honour you who respect and please a leader who is illuminator or truthful, is venerable like a guest who leads to happiness, who purified like the fire in which Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) are performed and which is begger of men's oblations, good acts, revealer of words expressing truth, conveyor of what is to be upheld, bestower of joy and shining like a glorious genius.

PURPORT :—As an enlightened man is able to accomplish noble deeds properly, so the Agni (fire or electricity) when utilised properly can accomplish all dealings.

NOTET & REMARKS :—(द्युक्षवचसम्) द्योतकवचनस्य प्रकाशकम् । द्यु क्षम् द्यौरिति प्रकाश: क्षियतिमिव सति यास्मिन् तत् महर्षि: दयानन्द: (यजु. 3, 31 भाष्ये) ।= Illuminator or reveraler of words expressing truth. (सुवृक्तिभि:) सुष्ठु व्रजन्ति याभि: क्रियाभिस्ताभिस्सहितम् ।=By acts by which men go well—on the path of righteousness.

What should men manifest is told :

पावकया यश्चितयन्त्या कृपा क्षामन् रुरुच उषसो न भानुना ।
तूर्वन्न यामन्नेतशस्य नू रण आ यो घृणे न ततृषाणो अजरः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men! that enlightened leader is to be served who shines upon the earth by his purifying and enlightening grace, who is untouched by old age and comes as one athirst in heat (thirsty for acquiring more and more knowledge), who shines like the rider of the horse whipping himself when necessary on the way to the battlefield.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the rays of the sun illuminate the dawn, in the same manner, the enlightened persons should illumine the hearts of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(एतशस्य) अश्वस्य। एतशः इत्यश्वनाम (NG 1. 14) ।=Of the horse. (तूर्वन्) हिंसन्। तूर्वी-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा.) ।= Whipping up, inflicting punishment. (यामन्) यन्ति यस्मिंस्तस्मिन्मार्गे ।= On the road. (क्षामन्) पृथिव्याम्। क्षमा इति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) ।= On earth.

What should men do is told further :

अ॒ग्निम॑ग्निं वः स॒मिधा॑ दुव॒स्यत प्रि॒यम्प्रि॑यं वो॒ अति॑थिं गृणी॒षणि॑ ।
उप॑ वो गी॒र्भिर॒मृतं॑ विवासत दे॒वो दे॒वेषु॒ वन॑ते॒ हि वार्यं॑ ।
दे॒वो दे॒वेषु॒ वन॑ते॒ हि नो॒ दुवः॑ ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O men ! in every admirable dealing, serve him, (the Yajaman), you serve him well who kindles fire with fuel and who serves well your beloved and desirable guest, who shinining with divine virtues by truthful and sweet words admires your acceptable dealing which is like nectar; he who being a liberal donor among the enlightened father-like persons accepts our service.

PURPORT :—O men ! unite or apply for various purposes Agni (fire) like an enlightened leader, so that you may be able to accomplish your noble desired works.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दुवस्यत) परिचरत। दुवस्यति-परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5)।=Serve. (विवासत) परिचरत। विवासतीति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) ।=Serve. (देवेषुदेवः) दिव्यगुणेषु द्योतमानः ।=Shining on account of the divine virtues. (देवेषु) पितृषु विद्वत्सु। विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph 3, 7, 3, 10) । देवा वा एते पितरः (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 5, 6, गोपथब्राह्मणे 2, 1, 24) ।= Among the father-like enlightened persons.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is very wrong on the part of Griffith to translate देवेषु देव: as 'A God among the Gods or God-mid-Gods, though Prof. Wilson's translation of देवेषु देव: as 'a God among gods' is not correct as not understood the significance of the word देव properly, Yet it is not so bad and mischievous as Griffith's. Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation is based upon the authority of the Brahmanas (ancient commentaries of the Vedas) as quoted above.

What should men do again is told further :

समिद्धमग्निं समिधा गिरा गृणे शुचिं पावकं पुरो अध्वरे ध्रुवम् ।
विप्रं होतारं पुरुवारमद्रुहं कविं सुम्नैरीमहे जातवेदसम् ॥७॥

7\. TRANSLATION :—O men ! I praise an enlightened person who shines and purifies like the fire kindled well with fuel, who is streadfast in non-violent sacrifices, pure, purifier, liberal donor, respected by many scholars, void of malice, wise with knowledge and humility and highly learned. We implore him like a sage full of perfect knowledge with the desire of attaining happiness. So you should also implore him for knowledge and wisdom.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should pray to the enlightened persons who are illuminators of truth for imparting knowledge and having acquired it, give it to others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अध्वरे) अहिंसामये यज्ञे । अध्वर इति यज्ञनाम (NG 3, 17) ।=In non-violent sacrifice (ईमहे) याञ्यामहे । ईमहे याञ्याकर्मा (NG 3, 19) ।=Implore, beg. (पुरुवारम्) पुरुभिर्बहुभिर्विद्वद्भिः सत्कृतम् । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG3, 1) । वृञ् वरेण । वरणं स्वीकरणम् सत्करणम् ।=Respected by many great scholars.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In this mantra the epithets used for Agni like विप्रम्, कविम्, जातवेदसम् which Prof. Wilson translates as the wise, the farseeing (far sighted. Ed.), and who knows all that exists and which Griffith translates as wise, the holy singer, benevolent etc. It clearly denotes that here the word does not stand for fire but for a wise leader and yet they suppose that this all is the glorification of fire. Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation is quite straightforward and simple.

--- ---

Who is to be adored by men is told :

त्वां दूतमग्ने अमृतं युगेयुगे हव्यवाहं दधिरे पायुमीड्यम् ।
देवासश्च मर्तासश्च जागृविं विभुं विश्पतिं नमसा नि षेदिरे ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O self—effulgent God ! like the fire, in every age all enlightened Yogis and other ordinary mortals adore you with reverence—You who are Immortal, Conveyor or Provider of all acceptable objects, Protector, Adorable, the Lord of the people, Ever—watchful, Omnipresent and Destroyer of all miseries. They meditate upon you and have communion with you.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should every day adore that one God only who is Omnipresent, Dispenser of justice, and Kind and who deserves all thanks.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हव्यवाहम्) यो हव्यान्यादातुमर्हाणि वहति तम् । हु-दानादनयो: आदाने च (जुहो०) अत्र आदानार्थग्रहणम् । वह-प्रापणे ।=Who conveys or provides all acceptable articles. (दूतम्) यो दु:खानि दुनोति दूरीकरोति तम् । (दूत:) (दु) उपतापे (स्वा०) ।=Who removes all miseries.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithets for Agni used in the mantra like ईड्यम् जागृविम् विभुम् विश्पतिम् which Prof. Wilson has translated as 'Adorable, Vigilant, Pervading and Protector of mankind', and Griffith as Adorable, even watchful, Omnipresent and Lord of household clearly show that by Agni here the Omnipresent, Adorable, and Lord of the world is meant and not fire, yet the western translators have mostly taken fire to be the meaning though these never be applicable in the case of the fire. Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation applicable to God on the basis of the above epithets is quite correct (and understanable Ed.)

How does God aet and how is 'e is to be adored is told :

वि॒भू॒षन्न॑ग्न उ॒भयाँ॒ अनु॑ व्र॒ता दू॒तो दे॒वानां॒ रज॑सी॒ समी॑यसे ।
यत्ते॑ धी॒तिं सु॑म॒तिमा॑वृणी॒महेऽध॑ स्मा नस्त्रि॒वरू॑थः शि॒वो भ॑व ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O Burner or Destroyer of all miseries like the fire ! as you being the remover of all evils or defects the enlightened persons or conveyor of the Dharma (righteousness) Artha (wealth) kama or fulfilment of all noble desires and moksha (emancipation) and adorning all noble deeds and both the enlightened and ordinary persons pervade the universe when we accept meditation on you and you gracious care. Be to us the most auspicious Protector pervading all the high, middle and low regions as your abodes.

PURPORT :—God alone should be adored for ever by all who leads to emancipation easily to those persons who obey the commands of the Creator of the world, make their own attributes, functions and temperament according to Him. He enlightens them about all sciences like a messenger.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रजसी) द्यावापृथिव्यौ । रजसीति द्यावापृथिव्यौ ।= The heaven and earth. (दूतः) यो दोषान् दुनोति दूरीकरोति धर्मार्थमोक्षान् प्रापयति वा । टु-गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थंग्रहणम् वरुथम् इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) ।=He who removes all defects or leads to righteousness wealth and emancipation. (धीतिम्) धारणां धियं वा ।=Concentration (meditation) or gracious care, (good intellect). (त्रिवरूथः) त्रीण्युत्तममध्यमनिकृष्टानि वरुथा, गृहाणीव निवासस्थानानि यस्य सः ।=He who has the best, middle and low places as his dwelling places. (त्रिवरूथः त्रिषु भूम्यऽन्तरिक्षेषु-गृहाणि यस्य सः इति महर्षिदयानन्दः यजुर्वेदे 27, 55 भाष्ये ।=That means Omnipresent.

———

God's knowledge and communion with Him are absolutely necessary is told :

तं सुप्रतीकं सुदृशं स्वञ्चमविद्वांसो विदुष्टरं सपेम ।
स यक्षद् विश्वा वयुनानि विद्वान् प्र हव्यमग्निरमृतेषु वोचत् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us condemn those ignorant persons who do not know and adore that Great God, Who has His symbols everywhere or is the Doer of noble deeds, worthy of being seen to the wise leading to liberation with the practice of Yoga and who knows and shows all things, But let that enlightened person who shining like the fire, tell the immortal souls the knowledge received which is worth giving and enlighten us also about all things.

PURPORT :—Woe to those persons who do not know God and don't obey His commands in practical life, but blessep are those who adore Him. Let us worship or have communion with that one God Who gives us all knowledge through the Vedas.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुदृशम्) योगाभ्यासेन द्रष्टुं योग्यं सुष्ठु दर्शकं वा ।= He who is worth seeing with the practices of Yoga or who shows all well. (हव्यम्) दातुमर्हं विज्ञानम् । (हव्यम्) हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च अत्र दानार्थग्रहणम् ।=Knowledge which is worth giving. (स्वञ्चम्) यः सुष्ठु अंचति जानाति प्रापयति वा तम् । (स्वंचम्) सु+अंचु गतिपूजनयोः (भ्वा०) ।= Who knows thoroughly or leads to bliss.

The way God acts and He is adored is continued :

तमंग्ने पास्युत तं पिपर्षि यस्त आनंट् कवयें शूर धीतिम् ।
यज्ञस्यं वा निशिंतिं वोदितिं वा तमित्पृंणाक्षि शवंसोत राया ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O Fearless Destroyer of the wicked and all evils ! O Dispeller of the darkness of ignorance ! you cherish, and protect or fill with noble virtues, that far-sighted enlightened person who obeys to your commands. You give him the power of concentration. You unite him with the inception (commencement) and accomplishment of the Yajna (non-violent sacrifice or philanthropic act). You endow him with power and wealth. Therefore you are Adorable.

PURPORT :—Those who adore God sincerely, He potects them from all side, inspires them to have righteous virtues, actions and temperament and endowed them with physical and spiritual power, leading them at last the emancipation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) अविद्यान्धकारविनाशक ।=Dispeller of the darkness of ignorance. (शूर) निर्भयदुष्टदोषाविनाशक। (शूर) शृ-हिंसायाम् (त्वया) ।=Fearless Destroyer of the wicked and all evils. (निशितम्) नितरां तीक्ष्णताम् । नि+शो तनूकरणे (दिवा०) ।=Sharpness or accomplishment.

Why should God be adored is told further :

त्वमंग्ने वनुष्यतो नि पांहि त्वमुं नः सहसावन्नवद्यात् ।
सं त्वां ध्वस्मन्वदभ्येतु पाथः सं रयिः स्पृंहयाय्यः सहस्री ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O Almighty God ! Your are Bestower of good virtues and protect us who implore you. Preserve us from all wickedness or censurable conduct. Endowed with that desirable and thousand-fold wealth and food (even though perishable material), that comes to us from all sides by Your grace, let us always adore You. Let us have constant communion with you.

PURPORT :—O men ! Regard that Lord of the world only as your Protector, and Giver of all wealth, and Adorable God Who when implored righteously and sincerely. Keeps us away from all unrighteous conduct and leads to Dharma or righteousness. He gives also happiness of this world even though it is not ever-lasting.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वनुष्यतः) याचमानान् । वनु-याचने (तना०) ।= Imploring. begging. (अवद्यात) निन्द्याचरणात् । अवद्यावमाध मार्व रेफा: कुत्सिते । उणादिकोषे 5, 5) इत्यवद्य शब्दो नियातितः वदितुम् अयोग्यम् । नञ् पूर्वकात् वद-व्यक्तावां वाचि इति धातोः यत् प्रत्तयः ।=From reprehensible or excensurable conduct. (ध्वस्मन्वत्) ध्वंसवन्=Perishable.

———

The same subject of adoration to God is continued :

अ॒ग्निर्होता॑ गृ॒हप॑तिः॒ स राजा॒ विश्वा॑ वेद॒ जनि॑मा जा॒तवे॑दाः ।
दे॒वानां॑मु॒त यो मर्त्या॑नां॒ यजि॑ष्ठः॒ स प्र यं॑जतामृ॒तावा॑ ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! God Who is Illuminator and Upholder of all, the Director of the whole universe as a man is of his home, Dispenser of justice, is the Omniscient Supreme Being. Being the distinguisher between truth and untruth, and the Grestest Unifier. He knows all births (taking form from the origin-Ed.) of the divine things or enlightened, as well as ordinary mortals. May He unite us with happiness peace and bliss. Let Him be our sovereign, so we resolve. You should also resolve like wise.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know that God who knows the actions of the souls of the whole universe, and knowing them thoroughly awards their fruit (and Ed.) is only True King or Sovereign.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जातवेदाः) यो जातान्त्सर्वान् वेत्ति सः। जातवेदाः कस्मात् जातानिवेद। (NKT 7, 5, 19) ।=He who knows all born beings and things., Omniscient. (यजिष्ठः) अतिशयेन यष्टा संगमयिता वा। यज-देवपूजासंगतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) अत्र संगतिकरणार्थः।=The greatest Unifier. (ऋतावा) सत्यासत्ययोर्विभाजकः। ऋतमिति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) =Distinguisher between truth and untruth.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The epithets and expressions like जातवेदाः and विश्वा वेदजनिमा जातवेदाः which Prof. Wilson translates as 'He who knows all, that is, knows all existing beings, and Griffith as' jataveda' knows all generations, clearly indicate that Omniscient God is here meant by जातवेदा अग्निः and not unanimate fire. And yet these western translators erroneously think that fire is meant here and worshipped. How strange ! Griffith quotes and Ludwig says विश्वा वेद जनिमा जातवेदाः knows all generation". Etymology of jatavedah, which is correct but is it applicable to material fire ?

How that God acts is told further :

अग्ने यदद्य विशो अध्वरस्य होतः पावकशोचे वेष्ट्वं हि यज्वा।
ऋता यजासि महिना वि यद्भूर्हव्या वह यविष्ठ या ते अद्य ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION ;—O Pure Illuminator ! O Unifier or Distributor ! O liberal, donor and O Remover of the miseries of all your subjects ! You are Unifier and unite all non-violent acts in the Yajna that leads to real happiness. You are all-pervading by your greatness. Therefore convey to us today, (every day) all articles worth-giving.

PURPORT :—O men ! that one God is to be adored by all, who unifies all this universe and being Omnipresent, commands all to observe non-violence and other rules of righteousness.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(पावकशोचे) पवित्रप्रकाशक। शोचिरिति ज्वलतो नामधेयम्। (NG 1, 17) शोचति ज्वलतिकर्मा (NG 1, 16) तस्मात् शोचि: प्रकाश:।=Pure Illuminator. (यविष्ठ) अतिशयेन संगमयिता विभाजको वा। =Great unifier or distributor.

What should men do is told further :

अभि प्रयांसि सुधितानि हि ख्यो नि त्वा दधीत रोदसी यजध्यै।
अवा नो मघवन्वाजसाताग्ने विश्वानि दुरिता
तरेम ता तरेम तवावसा तरेम ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION ;—O God, Lord of all admirable wealth and most splendid! You have provided us with foodgrains and other desirable articles for our sustenance, which gratify us well. You reveal (through the Vedas) the knowledge of various sciences. You uphold the heaven and earth (for proper unification or utilisation. Protect us in battle (of all kinds), so that relying upon. You, we may safely pass over all sins that cause us suffering. Under your protection, we may swim across the ocean of misery. We may give up all evils or defects.

PURPORT :—O men! by taking refuge in that God only Who provides us with the articles of food and drink beneficient for our life and who reveals truth to us as the Indwelling spirit, go beyond all miseries.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रयांसि) कमनीयान्यन्नादीनि वस्तूनि (प्रयांसि)। प्रय: इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) प्रीञ्-तर्पणे कान्तौ च (व्रधा) कान्ति:-कामना। अत्र कान्त्यर्थे ग्रहणम्। Desirable articles like foodgrains and others. What should men do is told further :

अग्ने विश्वेभिः स्वनीक देवैरूर्णावन्तं प्रथमः सीद योनिम् ।
कुलायिनं घृतवन्तं सवित्रे यज्ञं नय यजमानाय साधु ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king who has many good armies. you who are foremost and famous being seated in your home or office which is decked with wooden and other cloth with all enlightened persons or heroes perform well the Yajna (the act of unification) for the pleasure of God the creator of the world and the Yajamana who is well-versed in the science of uniting people and making various articles in proper proportion.

PURPORT :— O enlightened men and officers of the State ! being seated in the home provided with all requisite articles abundant and Ghee etc. (that is Ed.). Chambers of justice (courts) with the help of the enlightened persons administer justice. Lead all men towards the path of justice, so that all may become benevolent treding the good path (of righteousness).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वनीक) शोभनान्यनीकानि सैन्यानि यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ । अनीकम् अन प्राणने (अदा०) इति धातोः अनिहृषिभ्यां किच्च (उणा 4, 17) वषिपूषिभ्याम् ईकन् इति ईकन प्रत्ययस्य अनुवृत्तिः अनिति जीवयतीति अनीकं सैन्यम् =Having many armies. (कुलायिनम्) गृहादि सामग्रीयुक्तम् ।=Provided with all the domestic (house hold. Ed.) articles. (प्रथमः) प्रख्यातः (प्रथमः) प्रथम इति मुख्यनाम प्रतमोभवति (NKT 2, 6, 22) ।=Foremost or famous.

From what substances or places should (power/energy Ed.) electricity be derived (hairessed. Ed.) is told :

इममु त्यमथर्ववदग्निं मन्थन्ति वेधसः ।
यमङ्कूयन्तमानयन्नमूरं श्याव्याभ्यः ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should also produce electricity by the rubbing process and accomplish many purposes by it as the wise scientists produce it by the process of intelligent rubbing (combustion, Ed) as denoted in the Atharva Veda. This Agni (electricity) has many marks (forms. Ed.) for its manifestation when especially generated or manifested by the processes carried out at nights (any time Ed.) by wise men (technical men or energy scientists. Ed.).

PURPORT :—Those highly learned scientists who can generate electricity by particular methods of rubbing from the earth, firmament sky water, (like hydro-electricity. Ed.) and sun etc, can accomplish many works.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्निम्) विद्युतम् ।=Electricity. (अङ्कूयन्तम्) यस्मिन्नङ्कूनि प्रसिद्धानि चिह्नानि प्राप्नुवन्ति । अत्र संहितायाम् इति दीर्घः ।=Famous. (श्यावाभ्यः) श्यावीषु रात्रिषु भवाभ्यः क्रियाभ्यः (NG 7, 17) ।=In the night. श्यावीति रात्रि नाम (NG 1, 7).

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अकि-लक्षणे (भ्वा०) अङ्क लक्षणे इति चुरादौ । This mantra is very remarkable for throwing hints about some sources of electricity.

What benefits should men take out of the articles of creation is told :

जनिष्वा देववीतये सर्वताता स्वस्तये ।
आ देवान् वक्ष्यमृताँ ऋतावृधो यज्ञं देवेषु पिस्पृशः ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! for the attainment of divine virtures for the welfare or happiness of all, bring immortal divine qualities or enjoyments which augment truthful conduct in this Yajna which bestows happiness on all, and belongs to (part of Ed.) technology. Let this Yajna which gives joy, touch the hearts of the enlightened persons and by this create happiness everywhere.

PURPORT :—The enlightened persons should create happiness of various kinds for themselves and others by obtaining divine enjoyments from the articles of the world through right knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देववीतये) दिव्यगुणप्राप्तये । वी-गतिव्याप्तिप्रजन कान्त्यसन खादनेषु (अ०) अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=For the attainment of the divine virtues. How should the householders endeavour is told :

व॒यमु॑ त्वा॑ गृहपते जनाना॒मग्ने॒ अक॑र्म स॒मिधा॑ बृ॒हन्त॑म् ।
अ॒स्थू॒रि नो॒ गार्ह॑पत्यानि सन्तु ति॒ग्मेन॑ न॒स्तेज॑सा॒ सं शि॑शाधि ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O master of the house, who are purifier like the fire ! we among men with kindled fuel, make the fire mighty. Let not our householder (be out of Ed.) gear and vehicles be found defective. Let them be perfectly alright. Sharpen us with your penetrating splendour and unlighten us well.

PURPORT :—O householder ! you should give up all laziness and having made progress in knowledge of physics and other sciences, teach other students also, so that happiness of all kinds may increase. (boost. Ed.)

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अस्थूरि) अस्थिरं यानम् ।=Not strong vehicle. (सम् शिशाधि) सम्यक्तया शिक्षय । सम्+शासु अनुशिष्टौ अथवा यणानुक्तमम् । शो-तनू करणे इत्यस्य रूप छान्दस । तदः सम्यक् तीक्ष्णी कुरू इत्यर्थः ।=Enlighten us well.

Sūktam—16

Seer or the Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja Devatā—Agni. Chhandas—Ushnik, Gāyatri, Trishtup, Pankti and Anushtup of various kinds. Svaras—Rishabha, Shadja, Panchama and Gāndhara.

What should an enlightened person do is told :

त्वमग्ने यज्ञानां होता विश्वेषां हितः । देवेभिर्मानुषे जने ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O God ! as You are the giver of all Yajnas (unifying noble acts) and are benevolent to all, therefore be impeller (inspirer) of all thoug tful persons alongwith the enlightened men.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons ! as God is the Benevolent to all, Giver of all happiness and worthy of being known by the association of the enlightened men, so you should also be.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञानाम) सङ्गन्तव्यानां व्यवहाराणाम् । य धातोः सङ्गतिकरणार्थमादाय व्याख्या ।=Of the noble dealings. (अग्ने) जगदीश्वर । अग्निः कस्मादग्रणीर्भवति (NKT 7, 4, 15) सर्वाग्रणीः=Supreme leader= अग्निः प्रजापतिः (काठक संहिता 22, 7, 10) अग्निरेव ब्रह्म (Gopatha 1, 5, 15 Stph 10, 4, 1, 5) ।=God, the Lord of the world.

What should an enlightened person do is told further :

स नो मन्द्राभिरध्वरे जिह्वाभिर्यजा महः ।
आ देवान्वक्षि यक्षि च ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned leader ! unite us with the words or speech endowed with true knowledge and humility which cause bliss in this righteous dealing which must be done. Bring here the great and venerable enlightened persons and unite us with all the divine virtues.

PURPORT :—The enlightened persons should always preach to all for acquiring knowledge, so that all may be endowed with divine virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्द्राभिः) आनन्दकारिकाभिः । मन्द्राभिः, मदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्न कान्ति गतिषु (भ्वा.) अत्र मोदार्थः ।=Creating bliss. (जिह्वाभिः) विद्याविनययुक्ताभिर्वाग्भिः । जिह्वेति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)।=Words or speech endowed with true knowledge and humility.

Who is proper or suitable to deliver sermons or preach is told :

वेत्था हि वेधो अध्वनः पथश्च देवाञ्जसा । अग्ने यज्ञेषु सुक्रतो ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened wise leader ! endowed with good intellect or doer of good deeds, you know well and quickly in all dealings consisting of (or releted to. Ed.) the propagation of Vidya (knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness and duties) the paths and ways. Therefore enlighten us about them.

PURPORT :—In this world only those who know the paths leading to the attainment of Dharma (righteousness and duty) Artha (wealth) Kama (fulfilment of noble desires) and emancipation should preach to others and not other ignorant persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वेधः) मेधाविन् । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) ।=O genious, very wise. (अंजसा) स्वच्छन्देन वेगवत्त्वेन अंजसा-इति स्वीकारे च (अव्ययार्थे॰) ।=Freely going.

What should men do is told further :

त्वामीळे अध द्विता भरतो वाजिभिः शुनम् । ईजे यज्ञेषु यज्ञियम् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! as I admire you who are fit to perform Yajnas (of all kinds) in the acts of noble association and being upholder and sustainer in two ways of the teacher and the taught, the preacher and the preached or audience, with knowlege etc., I unite men with happiness. So you should also unite them well.

PURPORT ;—It is the duty of the enlightened persons to acquire knowledge and advance (promote) its cause by giving it to others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्विता) द्वयोरध्यापकाध्येत्रोरुपदेशकोपदेश्ययोर्भवि: ।= The teachers and the taught and the preacher and the preached or audience. (भरत:) धर्त्ता-पोषक: । (डु) भृञ्-धारणपोषणयो: (जु०)=Upholder and supporter.

———

Whom should men honour is told :

त्वामिमा वार्या पुरु दिवोदासाय सुन्वते । भरद्वाजाय दाशुषे ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! you give these many acceptable articles to a person who is himself giver of good and desirable thing, who is extractor of the juice of Soma and other nourishing plants and who is upholder of various sciences and their propagator. Therefore, you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—Men should respect only those who are preachers of truth and knowledge, and not the others.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(दिवोदासाय) कमनीयस्य पदार्थस्य दात्रे । (दिवोदासाय) दिवु धातो: कान्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या । कान्ति: कामना । दासृ-दाने (भ्वा०)= For the giver of a desirable thing. (भरद्वाजाय) धृतविज्ञानाय (भरद्वाजाय) (डु) भृञ्-धारणपोषणयो: (जु०) अत्र धारणार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=Upholder of various sciences.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—It is not correct on the part of Sayanacharya to take the word भरत: used in the fourth mantra and दिवोदास and भरद्वाज used in the fifth's the names of particular king and sages saying 'भरत: दौष्यन्तिरेतत्संज्ञको राजा' (म० 4) दिवोदासाख्याय राज्ञे भरद्वाजाय ऋषये (म० 5)। and thus mislead Prof. Wilson, Griffith and 'other translators who have simply said in the footnotes :– Bharata Sayana considers Bharata here to be the Rja, the son of Dushyanta—Prof. Wilson Vol. III P. 264 "Bharata; according to Sayaya the king of that name, son of Dushyanta and Sakuntala, (Griffith—The Hymns of Rigveda Vol. I. P. 571). It is against the fundamental Principles of the Vedic Terminology accepted by Sayanacharya himself in his interepretation to the commentary on the Rigveda while strongly supporting the eternity of the Vedas. How can the Vedas be regarded as eternal, if they refer to Bharata a the son of Dushyanta born millions of years after the beginning of creations.

What should the enlightened persons do is again told :

त्वं दूतो अमर्त्य आ वहा दैव्यं जनम् । शृण्वन्विप्रस्य सुष्टुतिम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened persons ! you are different in nature from ordinary mortals and are enlighter of the message of the knowledge of all objects like a messenger. Bring here a distinguished scholar trained by absolutely truthful and enlightened persons, listening the praise of a genious or extraordinarly wise man.

PURPORT :—O examiner ! it is your duty to examine the pupils well quite impartially and make them great scholars.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमर्त्यः) साधारणमनुष्यस्वभावविरुद्धः। एकं वै देवा: व्रतं चरन्ति यत्सत्यम् (Stph. 14, 1, 1, 33) सत्यं वै देवा: अमृतं मनुष्या: (Stph 1, 1, 1, 4) मनुष्य: तस्माद् देवानां स्वभावसाधारणा: मृतवादि स्वभावविरुद्ध: = Against or different from the nature of ordinary mortals.

(दूतः) सर्वपदार्थविद्यासमाचारप्रज्ञापकः । दु-गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणं कृत्वा व्याख्या ।=Enlightener of the knowledge of all things like a messenger.

What should men do is told:

त्वामग्ने स्वाध्यो॒३ मर्तासो देववीतये । यज्ञेषु देवमीळते ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person endowed with true knowledge and humility ! as men of meditative nature admire you in the Yajnas (consisting of the study, teaching and preaching) for the attainment of the divine virtues, so let us also praise you.

PURPORT :—The students should serve the enlightened persons for acquiring knowledge. All should know that as among the objects of the creation, Agni (in the form of fire and electricity) is praised on account of its attributes, so among men these righteous enlightened persons are most admirable.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वाध्यः) य सुष्ठु समन्ताद्ध्यायन्ति । सु+आ+ध्यै. चिन्तायाम् (भ्वा०) । Those who meditate well on all sides. (यज्ञेषु) अध्यापनाध्ययनोपदेशाख्येषु व्यवहारेषु । (यज्ञेषु) व्यवहारेषु । यज-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) । विद्यादानम् अध्यापनमुपदेशनं च विद्वद्भिः सङ्गतिकरण द्वारैव अध्ययनं संभवति नान्यथा पंचमहायज्ञेषु प्रथमो ब्रह्मयज्ञः सर्व स्वाध्यायो वै ब्रह्मयज्ञः (Stph 17, 5 ,6, 2) अध्यापनं ब्रह्मयज्ञः इति मनुः (3, 70) स्वकीये धर्मशास्त्रे ।=In the dealings of the study, teaching and preaching.

How should the teachers and the taught deal with one another is told:

तव॑ प्र य॑क्षि संदृशमुत क्रतुं सुदानवः । विश्वे॑ जुषन्त कामिनः ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! all those good donors who desiring to acquire knowledge to see you well and to have your good intellect or actions, give them and oblige.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons! as the persons desiring to acquire knowledge long for you, similarly you should also desire (to have) the students.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यक्षि) यज-सङ्गमय। यज धातोस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु सङ्गतिकरणार्थमादाय व्याख्या ।=Unite.

How should a king deal with his subjects is told :

त्वं होता मनुर्हितो वह्निरासा विदुष्टरः। अग्ने यक्षि दिवो विशः ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king! you are a liberal donor like the purifying fire, benevolent to men and a very great scholar. Therefore, by your mouth (speech or address) by giving good teachings to men, unite the subjects with happiness as they desire it.

PURPORT :—O subjects (people)! as your king loves you and desires to give happiness for you, so you should also long for him and should bestow happiness upon him constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मनुर्हितः) मनुष्याणां हितकारी ये विद्वांसस्ते मनवः (Stph 8, 3, 3, 18) =Benevolent to men. (दिवः) कामयमानाः। दिवु धातोः कान्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या। =Desiring.

What should men do is told again :

अग्न आ याहि वीतये गृणानो हव्यदातये।
नि होता सत्सि बर्हिषि ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! you (occupy) be seated in a good assembly, for the attainment of knowledge and other good virtues and for giving what is worth giving. Therefore, glorifying God and being a liberal donor come to us.

PURPORT :—Where great scholars desire to promote knowledge, there all enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बर्हिषि) उत्तमायां सभायाम् । बर्हिष इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) तस्माद् महति सभास्थाने । बृह-वृद्धौ इति धातोः ।=In a good assembly. (हव्यदातये) दातव्यदानाय । हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (जु०) अत्र दानार्थमादाय व्याख्यानम ।=For giving what is worth giving.

What should men do mutually towards one another is told :

तं त्वा॑ स॒मिद्भि॑रङ्गिरो घृ॒तेन॑ वर्धयामसि । बृ॒हच्छो॑चा यविष्ठ्य ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O very young (energetic) person ! you are like lightning augment the fire with fuel and Ghee (clarified butter), so we increase your power by giving you good knowledge and inspiring thoughts and shine well with wisdom.

PURPORT :—Those king and others who increase the (striktng) power of brave persons with good educatian and honour, like the performers of the Yajna, augment the fire with Ghee (clarified butter), they always achieve victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (अङ्गिरः) विद्युदिव वर्त्तमान । अङ्गिरा उह्यग्निः Stph. Brahmana. अग्नेरेव रूपं विद्युत् । Who are like electricity. (समिद्भिः) सम्यक प्रदीपकैः । सम्+इन्धी-दीप्तौ (रुधा०) । 2. (समिद्भिः) ।=With fuel which enkindle fire. (समिद्भिः)=With inspiring thoughts.

How should men deal with one another is told :

स नः पृथु श्रवाय्यमच्छा देव विवाससि । बृहदग्ने सुवीर्यम् ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O giver of true knowledge ! O accomplisher of noble works like the fire, as you give us well great knowledge which is worth hearing and is a great power, you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—Those who do good to the persons, must be respected by them.

NOTES& REMARKS :—(विवाससि) परिचरसि । विवासति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) ।=Serve (by giving good knowledge and power).

———

The sources of power or energy are described :

त्वामग्ने पुष्करादध्यथर्वा निरमन्थत । मूर्ध्नो विश्वस्य वाघतः ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! as wise scientists derive (generate or tap) electricity from the firmament which is like the forehead of the whole world, so I a non-violent person kindle you (fill you with knowledge).

PURPORT :—O learned persons ! as the scientists who are well versed in the science of physics, (harness) take electricity from the sun and other objects (resources) and thereby accomplish their works; so you should also do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुष्करात्) अन्तरिक्षात् । द्यौः पुष्करवर्णम् (Stph 6, 4, 1, 9) ।=From firmament. (अथर्वा) अहिंसकः । थर्व-हिंसायाम् (काशकृत्स्न धातुपाठे भ्वा॰ 204) ।=Non-violent. (वाघतः) मेधाविनः । वाघत इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15) ।=Wise men.

What should the enlightened persons do is told :

तमु॑ त्वा द॒ध्यङ्ङृषि॑: पु॒त्र ई॑धे॒ अथ॑र्वणः । वृ॒त्र॒हणं॑ पुर॒न्द॒रम् ॥१४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O learned king! the son of a non-violent person who approaches many upholders of knowledge and is the knower of the mantras of the Vedas, kindles you with knowledge like the sun—the destroyer of the cities of the cloud, so do you enlighten me.

PURPORT :—O enlightened persons ! as God has created this resplendent sun which is benevolent to all, so you should make all people enlightened with knowledge.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(दध्यङ्) यो धारकान् विदुषोऽञ्चति प्राप्नोति सः । दध्यङ् (डु) धाञ्-धारणपोषणयो: (जु०) अत्र धारणार्थ: । अंचु गतिपूजनयो: (भ्वा०) अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु गति प्राप्त्यर्थग्रहणम् ।=He who approaches the upholders (of knowledge). (पुरन्दरम्) यो मेघस्य पुराणि दृणाति ।=The sun who tears away or is destroyer of the cities of the cloud.

What should men do is told further :

तमु॑ त्वा पा॒थ्यो वृषा॒ समी॑धे दस्यु॒हन्त॑मम् । ध॒न॒ञ्ज॒यं रणे॑रणे ॥१५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O men! as a virile person full of splendour like the sun which causes rains and is knower of the right path, kindles or inspires you who are the best among the destroyers of the wicked persons and who are conquerors of wealth in every battle, so I do. You should also kindle me in your hearts asking for my help.

PURPORT :—O men ! if you fight in the battle after acquiring the knowledge of electricity, then I who am giver of abundant wealth to you, make you victorious by the aid of the electrical and other powerful arms.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृषा) वर्षकस्सूर्य्य इव वीर्य्यसेचकः । एष वै वृषा हरिर्य एष सूर्यः तपति (Stph Brahmana 14, 3, 1, 26)=A virile person like the sun that causes rain.

What should men do is told further :

एह्यू षु ब्रवाणि तेऽग्नं इत्थेतरा गिरः । एभिर्वर्धास इन्दुभिः ॥१६॥

16. TRANSLATION ;—O enlightened person ! shining like the fire, come with the knowledge for proper use of the Soma creeper and other plants or the rays of the moon which increase your power. And in this way, I will tell you about the new words (of advice). Listen to them.

PURPORT :—Let us have those good scholars who having acquired the knowledge of all sciences desire that they should impart this knowledge to others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्दुभिः) सोमलतादिभिश्चन्द्रकिरणैर्वा । यशमाणो वै सोमो राजा इन्दुः (Jaiminyopanishad 1, 90)=By the use of the moon creeper and other nourishing creeperes and herbs or the rays of the moon. (इतराः) नवीनाः ।=New.

Where should men have their mind (concentrate.) is told :

यत्र क्व च ते मनो दक्षं दधस उत्तरम् । तत्रा सदः कृणवसे ॥१७॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! whereever your mind upholds exalted power, keep or engage it there. Tell me where is it ?

PURPORT :—O men ! your mind when engaged in the meditation upon God, the Lord of the world or in the practice of Yoga, becomes pure (or sinless) it is able to accomplish great works. Engage yourselves in doing that noble work.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दक्षम्) बलम् । दक्ष इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) =Power, energy. (सद:) सीदन्ति यस्मिंस्तत् । षद्लृ-विशरणगत्यवसादनेषु (भ्वा०) =A seat, place of meditation.

How can man's desires be fulfilled is told :

नहि ते पूर्तमक्षिपद्भुवन्नेमानां वसो । अथा दुवो वनवसे ॥१८॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O giver of shelter or supporter of others ! none can throw away him who gives food and other things to the needy or deserving persons, none can overcome them. Accept our services.

PURPORT :—The noble desires of those persons are fulfilled (by God's grace) and they are not obstructed who always observe the rules of truthful conduct.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नेमानाम्) अन्नानाम् । नेम इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=Of food material. (दुवः) परिचरणम् । दुवस्यति परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) ।=Accept. (वनवसे) सम्भज । वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=Service.

The character of Agni is told :

आग्निरगामि भारतो वृत्रहा पुरुचेतनः । दिवोदासस्य सत्पतिः ॥१९॥

19. TRANSLATOIN :—O highly learned persons ! let us serve that great enlightened leader who is the good protector or the giver of light (of knowledge and truth), upholder or supporter, destroyer of all sins, and who has under his instruction (command) or guidance, many good persons, full of splendour like Agni (fire or sun).

PURPORT :—As the soul in this body can do many works (wonders.) with the help of many means-senses, mind and intellect, etc. so an enlightened person can also accomplish all works.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(दिवोदासस्य) प्रकाशदातुः। दिवः प्रकाशस्य। दिवु-क्रीडाविजिगीषाद्युति स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु। अत्र द्युत्यर्थग्रहणम्। द्युतिः प्रकाश= Of the giver of light (of knowledge or truth). (भारतः) धर्ता पोषको वा। दासृ-दाने (भ्वा०)=Upholder or supporter.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is wrong (not reasonable) on the part of Sayanacharya to take the word as the name of a particular king and say दिवोदासस्य एतत् संज्ञस्य राज्ञः. It is against the fundamental (etymological) principles of the Vedic terminology as earlier pointed out and explained by him in his preliminary Introduction to his Commentary on the Rigveda. This self-contradiction does not behove a scholar like Sayancharya. Prof. Wilson and Griffith have committed the same mistake. But while as Sayancharya has explained भारतः as हविषां भर्ता Bearer of oblations, Griffith has taken it to mean "The especial protector of the Bharata which is worse than Sayanacharya or Wilson's अथोयदेवेष (अग्निः) देवेभ्यो हव्यं भरति तस्माद् भारतः (जैमिनोपो: 3-62)। So Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation is quite correct and supported by the authority of the Jaiminiyopanishad Brahmana.

The character of Agni is further developed :

स हि विश्वाति पार्थिवा र॒यिं दाश॑न्महित्व॒ना। व॒न्वन्नवा॑तो अस्तृ॑तः ॥२०॥

20. TRANSLATION :—The fire without wind and unassailed bestows all earthly (material) riches by its greatness when utilised properly.

PURPORT .—O men! why should not you serve or utilise that Agni (fire electricity) which gives much happiness?

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अस्तुतः) अहिंसितः। अ+स्तृ-हिंसायाम् ।= Unassailed. (दाशत्) ददाति। दाशृ-दाने ।=Gives. (वन्वन्) सम्भजन्। वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०)=Serving or being used properly.

What should men do is told :

स प्रत्नवन्नवीयसाग्ने द्युम्नेन संयता। बृहत्ततन्थ भानुना ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person! purifier like the fire! as the sun overspreads light with rays as of old, in the same manner, with quite new and well controlled wealth (or good reputation) spread over us light of knowledge and happiness.

PURPORT :—Those who are glorious like the sun, attain every new glory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नेन) धनेन यशसा वा। द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) द्युम्नमिति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) येन नरः सर्वत्र प्रतिष्ठां लभते तद् द्युम्नं यशः अथवा द्युम्नः द्योततेर्यशोऽवा धन्नंवेति (NKT 5, 1, 5)=With wealth or good reputation.

How should men behave is told :

प्र वः सखायो अग्नये स्तोमं यज्ञं च धृष्णुया।
अर्च गाय च वेधसे ॥२२॥

22. TRANSLATION :—O friends! honour him who accomplishes your praise and Yajna (truthful conduct). O highly learned person! firmly honour the genius or extra-ordinarily wise man who is a purifier like the fire and praise him, who deals with you as a friend.

PURPORT :—As the sun is the accomplisher of the attainment of the fruit of the Yajna, so are the absolutely truthful enlightened righteous and benevolent persons. Men should deal with others in the world, bearing this always in mind.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धृष्णुया) दृढत्वेन । (ञि) धृषा-प्रागल्भ्ये (स्वा०) प्रागल्भ्यम्-दृढता ।=Firmly.

——

The nature of Agni is told further :

स हि यो मानुषा युगा सीदद्धोता कविक्रतुः । दूतश्च हव्यवाहनः ॥२३॥

23. TRANSLATION :—Agni (fire) which is the bearer of the oblations and is like a messenger (conveying smoke and fragrance of the oblation to distant places), is seated in every age. Like a great scholar, it is accomplisher of great works.

PURPORT :—Agni (fire) which is accomplisher of many works like a righteous highly learned person, should be used for accomplishing various purposes by the enlightened men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कविक्रतुः) महान् विद्वान् । कविः—क्रान्तदर्शनः कवतेर्वा (NKT 12, 2, 14) कवीनां विदुषां क्रतुः प्रज्ञा कर्म वा यस्य सः इति महर्षिः दयानन्द सरस्वती (ऋ. 3, 27, 12) भाष्ये क्रतुरिति कर्मनाम (NG 3, 9)=Great scholar.

——

What should men do again is told :

ता राजाना शुचिव्रतादित्यान्मारुतं गणम् । वसो यक्षीह रोदसी ॥२४॥

24. TRANSLATION :—O men ! establishing others in good virtues, unite here in this world teachers and preachers who are friendly and who shine on account of knowledge, whose acts are pure, twelve months, band of thoughtful heroic men and various objects of the (heaven and earth).

PURPORT :—Those men enjoy happiness who by serving the teachers and preachers acquire the science of physics.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आदित्यान्) द्वादश मासान् । कतम आदित्य इति द्वादश मासा: संवत्सर इति होवाच । एत आदित्या: । एते हीदं सर्वमाददाना: यन्ति ते यदिदं सर्वम् माददाना यन्ति तस्मात् आदित्या इति (Stph. Brahmana 11, 6, 3, 8 जैमिनोयोपनिषद् 2, 77) = Twelve months.

The dealing or association with good men is never invain is told :

वस्वीं ते अग्ने संदृष्टिरिषयते । मर्त्याय । ऊर्जो नपादमृतस्य ॥२५॥

25. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! you are purifier like the fire, your good look which is connected with the knowledge of the earth and other Vasus (places of habitation) is increaser of the strong and active person who desires to have good food or true knowledge and who is immortal (by the nature of his soul).

PURPORT :—O men! always respect the person whose vision of knowledge is never vain (absolutely useless) and by learning from whom, men become good scholars.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इषयते) इषमन्नं विज्ञानं वा कामयमानाय । इषम् इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) इष-गतौ (दि०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थग्रहणमत्र = For a man desiring good food or scientific knowledge. (वस्वी) पृथिव्यादिवसुसम्बन्धिनी । कतमे वसव इति । अग्निश्च पृथिवी च वायुश्चान्तरिक्षं चादित्यश्च द्यौश्च चन्द्रमाश्च नक्षत्राणि चैते वसव: । एते हीदं सर्वं वासयन्ते तेयदिद सर्वं वासयन्ते तस्माद् वसव इति (Stph 17, 6, 3, 6 जैमिनीयो. 2, 77) = Belonging to the earth and other vasus- places of habitation.

What should an enlightened pcrson do is told further :

क्रत्वा दा अंस्तु श्रेष्ठोऽद्य त्वां वन्वन्त्सुरेक्णांः ।
भर्तं आनाश सुवृक्तिम् ॥२६॥

26. TRANSLATION :– May the man, possessing good wealth who with his intellect and acts, in case of misery and who is very much endowed with righteous virtues, actions and temperament and who serves you, enjoys happiness and may you impart knowledge to him.

PURPORT :—Those persons only should be considered very good, who give good knowledge to the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुरेक्णः) शोभनं रेक्णः धनं यस्य सः । रेक्ण इति धननाम (NG 2, 10)=He who is possessor of good wealth i.e. earned honestly and by fair means. (सुवृक्तिम्) सुष्ठु व्रजन्ति दुःखानि येन ।=The acts by which men get over miseries.

What should men do is told further :

ते ते अग्ने त्वोता इषयन्तो विश्वमायुः ।
तरन्तो अर्यो अरातीर्वन्वन्तो अर्यो अरातीः। ॥२७।

27. TRANSLATION :—O man shining with knowledge like the fire, you should as your master commands you, let those be your kith and kin who protected by you, desiring good food, strong and active all their lives, dividing the miserly adversaries achieve victory. May you be their master.

PURPORT :—Let those persons be appointed as incharge of all works, who by the observance of Brahmacharya (abstinence) are free from diseases and long lived.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरातीः) न विद्यते रातिर्दानंयेषु तान् कृपणान्

विरोधिन: । अ+रा दाने (अदा•)=Miserly adversaries. (वन्वन्त:) विभजन्त: । वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा•) Dividing. (अर्यः) स्वामी । अर्यः इति ईश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22) Master, lord.

What should a king do is told further :

अग्निस्तिग्मेनं शोचिषा यासद्विश्वं न्यत्रिणम् ।
अग्निर्नो वनते रयिम् ॥२८॥

28. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as fire burns every thing that is lying near, by its sharp blaze, so appoint him as the head of the military (defence), department who casts down all wicked enemies and bestowes wealth upon us.

PURPORT :—A king should take the opinion of the people also when appointing officers, by doing so there will be no occasion for disturbance or discontentment.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अत्रिणम्) शत्रुम् । अत्रिणो वै रक्षांसि । पाप्मानोऽत्रिण: (षड्विंश ब्राह्मणे 3, 1) । रक्षांसि वै पाप्माऽत्रिणा (ऐतरेय ब्राह्मणे 2, 2)=Sinful enemy. (शोचिषा) ज्योतिषा । शोचिरिति ज्वलतोनाम (NG 1, 17)=By blaze or lustre.

What should king do is told :

सुवीरं रयिमा भर जातवेदो विचर्षणे । जहि रक्षांसि सुक्रतो ॥२९॥

29. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are endowed with knowledge and strength. O full of splendour ! bring us from all sides, riches with heroes. O most wise and doer good deeds ! slay you the wicked persons.

PURPORT :—A king should always protect with wealth, the righteous, highly learned and brave persons born in Kshatriya (warriors) family and should subdue the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जातवेदः) जातप्रज्ञानबल । जातवेदाः कस्मात् जातानि वेदेति जातवेदाः (NKT 7, 5, 19) =Possessor of knowledge and strength. (विचर्षणे) तेजस्विन् । विश्वचर्षणिः-पश्यतिकर्मा तस्माद् विचर्षणिः विशेषेण प्रष्टव्यः तेजस्वी यथा शरीरं मे विचर्षणम् (तैत्तिरीयोपनिषदि इत्यादौ (NKT 3, 11) =Full of splendour.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is note-worthy that the epithet जातवेदाः has been used for Agni in the mantra which Prof. Wilson has translated as 'all-beholder' and Griffith as 'most wise' and yet they think, it is to the inanimate fire that the prayer is addressed. How strange and absurd.

———

What should a king and an enlightened person do is told :

त्वं नः पाह्यंहसो जातवेदो अघायतः । रक्षा णो ब्रह्मणस्कवे ।।३०।।

30. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned lecturer of the Veda, preserve (protect) us from the person who desires to do a sinful act and the sin or the unrighteous conduct.

PURPORT :—O king or enlightened person ! keep us away from an un-righteous conduct and the person doing the unrighteous acts and thus increase our happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ब्रह्मणस्कवे) वेदस्य वक्ता: वेदो वै ब्रह्म (जैमिनीयोपनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 4, 11, 4) कु-शब्दे (अदा०) तस्मात् कविः-वक्ता (अंहः) अमेर्हुक् च (उणादिकोषे 4, 213)=Lecturer or preacher of the Veda. ———

What should a king do is told further :

त्वं तं देव जिह्वया परि बाधस्व दुष्कृतम् ।
मर्तो यो नो जिघांसति ॥३२॥

32. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned administrator of justice! punish severely that evil-doer with your tongue (by pronouncing judgement) who desires to kill us.

PURPOTT :—O learned judge or king! inflict quickly severe punishment on him who giving up justice with partiality or prejudice, observes unrighteousness.

What should a king do is again told :

भरद्वाजाय सप्रथः शर्म यच्छ सहन्त्य । अग्ने वरेण्यं वसु ॥३३॥

33. TRANSLATION :—O donor of peaceful nature! you who are renowned, grant a man who upholds true knowledge and food materials, a good shelter and desirable wealth.

PURPORT :—O good householder ! give donation to a man who deserves it well, being a righteous person.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भरद्वाजाय) घृतविज्ञानाऽन्नाय । वाज इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) वजगतौ गतेष्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थग्रहणं कृत्वा वाजपदेन विज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् ।= Who is upholder of true knowledge and food materials. (सप्रथः) प्रख्याता सह वर्त्तमानः । प्रथ-प्रख्याने (भ्वा०) प्रख्यानं प्रसिद्धिः प्रख्यातः प्रसिद्धो वा= Famous renowned.

The same subject is continued :

———

What kind of speech should be used by men is told :

उपं त्वा रणवसंदृशं प्रयंस्वन्तः सहस्कृत। अग्नें ससृज्महे गिरंः ॥३७॥

37. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person! purifier like the fire, as we being industrious use good speeches for our purposes, so let us always manifest such true and sweet words for you also whose look is lovely and who do things with energy.

PURPORT ;—Men should know that as they like pleasant speech to be used for their delight, so they should use that for others also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रयस्वन्तः) प्रयतमानाः । प्र+यसु-प्रयत्ने (दिवा०)। =Endeavouring, industrious. (रणवसन्दृशम्) रमणीयसदृशम्। सह इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) षह्-शक्तौ (काशकृत्स्नधातुपाठे 3, 17)=Of charming appearance, of one whose looks are lovely.

What should men attain is told :

38. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! you are shining with knowledge like the fire, you being endowed with splendour or glittering like gold, we come to your home for shelter as we come to the shade to escape heat of the sun.

PURPORT :—O highly learned person ! we come to your home, as from the heat of the sun to the shade, as your home is suitable and pleasant in all seasons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(घृणेः) प्रदीप्तात्सूर्य्यात् । घृ-क्षरणदीप्त्योः (जुहो०)= From brilliant sun. (शर्म) गृहम् । शर्म इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4)=Home, shelter.

What should men do is again told :

य उग्र इंव शर्यहा तिग्मश्रृंङ्गो न वंसंगः। अग्ने पुरों रुरोजिंथ ॥३९॥

39. TRANSLATION :—O king! shining like the fire, we honour you as you are of righteous dealing. slayer of the wicked persons who must be slayed, full of splendour like the sun whose rays are sharp like the horns of a bull and break the might of the foes being fierce to them.

PURPORT :—Those kings and officers of the State conquer their enemies who are full of splendour like the sun.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शर्यंहा) हन्तव्यहन्ता। (शर्य:) शृ-हिंसायाम् (ब्रह्मा) =The slayer of those who should be killed. (वंसग:) यो वंसं सम्भजनीयं व्यवहारं गच्छति स:। वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा०)=Whose dealing or conduct is righteous. (तिग्मश्रृङ्ग) तिग्मानि तीव्राणि श्रृङ्गाणीव किरणा यस्य सूर्यस्यव:।= The sun whose rays are sharp like the horns (of a bull)

What same subject is continued :

आ यं हस्ते न खादिनं शिशुं जातं न बिभ्रंति।
विशामग्निं स्वध्वरम् ॥४०॥

40. TRANSLATION :—Those who bear agni (fire) protector of men, in which good non-violent sacrifices are performed, as they bear some eatable in their hands or a new born infant is borne in the arms, become blessed by them, as their noble desires are fulfilled by its proper and methodical use.

PURPORT :—Those persons who know the science of fire, thoroughly, like the infant in the lap, become the protectors and nourishers of the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(खादिनम्) खादितुं भक्षयितुं शीलम् खाद-भक्षणे (भ्वा०) = Eatable.

What should men attain is told :

प्र देवं देववीतये भरता वसुवित्तमम् ।
आ स्वे योनौ नि षीदतु ॥४१॥

41. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! for the attainment of divine virtues, establish Agni (fire or electricity) which is giver of much happiness and heat and conveyor of abundant wealth (when used methodically) in your home, so that a man may sit happily.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should acquire the knowledge of Agni (in the form of fire and electricity) and other objects for the attainment of divine virtues.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देववीतये) दिव्यगुणप्राप्तये । वी-गति व्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्यसन खादनेषु (अदा०) अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम् ।= For the attainment of the divine virtues. (देवम्) दातारम् । देवो दानाद् वा दीपनाद् वा द्योतनाद् वा द्युस्थानो भवतीति वा (NKT 7, 4, 16) = Giver of happiness and heat.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The mantra is also applicable to a great scientist who knows how to acquire wealth by the proper and methodical use of the Agni (fire and electricity) विद्वांसो हि देवाः (Stph. Brahmana 3, 7, 3, 10) ।

Good householders should be honoured by the learned persons is told :

आ जातं जातवेदसि प्रियं शिंशीतातिथिम् ।
स्योन आ गृहपतिम् ॥४२॥

42. TRANSLATION :—O learned persons! honour a householder who is well known among the knowers of various sciences and is venerable like a dear guest. Honour him to your home.

PURPORT :—Those who enkindle (use pervasive electricity), everywhere achieve victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जातवेदसि) जातविद्ये ।=In the circle of the highly learned persons. (शिशीत) तीक्ष्णीकुरुत ।=Sharpen, here—honour or encourage.

अग्ने युक्ष्वा हि ये तवाश्वासो देव साधवः । अरं वहन्ति मन्यवे ॥४३॥

43. TRANSLATION :—O great technologist! giver of the divine happiness, harness speed and other qualities which are of good movement and which can accomplish many works in the vehicles when used by a man of righteous indignation or worth.

PURPORT :—Those scientists who apply Agni (fire and electricity) and other things in the vehicles are able to fulfil their desires.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अग्ने) शिल्पविद्याविद्वन् । अगि-गतौ (भ्वा०) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् =A highly learned person, knower of the science and technology. (अश्वास:) वेगादयो गुणा: । अश्वास: युङ्क्ष्व इत्यादि प्रसङ्ग वशाच्छिल्प विद्याविद्ग्रहणम् । मशूङ् केषांसत्कार: कर्त्तव्य इत्याह=Speed and other qualities.

Who should be honoured by men is told :

अच्छा नो याह्या वहाभि प्रयांसि वीतये । आ देवान्त्सोमपीतये ॥४४॥

44. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! come to us, to drink the draught of Soma juice, obtain from all sides the most desirable or dearest articles. Approach the enlightened person, for the attainment of knowledge.

PURPORT :—Men should invite the enlightened person to show them respect.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रयांसि) प्रियतमानि । प्रीञ्-तर्पणे कान्तौ च (क्र्या०) कान्तिः कामना प्रयः इति उदकनाम (NG 1, 12) प्रयः इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7)=The most desirable or dearest articles. So प्रयांसि includes good water, food and other desirable things. (वीतये) ज्ञानाय ।= For the attainment of knowledge.

What should men do is again told :

उदग्ने भारत द्युमदजस्रेण दविद्युतत् । शोचा वि भाह्यजर ॥४५॥

45. TRANSLATON :—O upholder of noble virtues ! enlightened person free from the defects of old age, (energetic) and un-decaying, you illuminate constantly. Therefore shine forth and glean with the light of knowledge.

PURPORT :—As the sun shines and illumines constantly in the world, so the enlightened persons should illuminate all, in truthful conduct.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भारत) भर्त्तः । (भारत) भृञ्-धारणपोषणयोः (जु) अत्र धारणार्थः=O upholder (of noble virtues).

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Even Sayanacharya has explained

भारत for Agni as हविष्मन्तः which Wilson has translated as 'the bearer of oblations' 'but Griffith has very erroneously translated it as 'O Agni of the Bharatas'. taking भारत as proper noun for the descendants of a king named Bharat. This is wrong as it is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic terminology as pointed out several times before.

What should be adored by men is told :

वीती यो देवं मर्तो दुवस्येद॒ग्निमी॑ळीताध्व॒रे ह॒विष्मा॑न् ।
होता॑रं सत्यय॒जं रोद॑स्योरुत्तानह॑स्तो॒ नम॒साऽऽवि॑वासेत् ॥४६॥

46. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened persons ! the mortal, who with the desire of attaining peace and bliss, being a liberal donor worships in the Yoga, consisting of Ahinsa-non-violence, truth and other virtues, self refulgent God, who is most desirable, uniting people with truth (through the Vedas), Giver of true happiness and pervading the heaven and earth, with uplifted or folded hands and with reverence, so you should also do.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should also ever worship that God whom the Yogis adore or meditate upon.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दुवस्येत्) सेवेत् । दुवस्यति परिचरण कर्मा (NKT 3, 5) परिचरण सेवा ।=Serve or adore. (अध्वरे) अहिंसादि लक्षणे योगे । (अध्वरे) ध्वरति हिंसा कर्मा । तत्प्रतिषेधा:—योगस्य प्रथमाङ्ग यमा: अहिंसा-सत्यास्तेय ब्रह्मचर्या परिग्रहा यमः (योग दर्शने) =In the Yoga consisting of अहिंसा or non-violence, truth and Brahmacharya etc. (सत्ययजम्) यस्सत्यं यजति सङ्गमयति तम् यज-देवपूजासङ्गति करणदानेषु (भ्वा०) अत्रसङ्गतिकरणार्थः= Who unites with the truth (through the Vedas). (वीती) कामनया । (वीती) वी-गतिव्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्यसन खादनेषु (अ०) कान्तिः-कामना ।= With desire.

आ ते अग्न ऋचा हविर्हृदा तष्टं भरामसि ।
ते ते भवन्तूक्षण ऋषभासो वशा उत ॥४७॥

47. TRANSLATION :—O God the Supreme leader ! we meditate upon your Divine nature in our purified heart with the Rigveda and other Vedas. By your grace, let all our kith and kin be showerers of peace, very good and desirous of the welfare of all.

PURPORT :—Those who obey the commands of God with earnest heart, become exalted.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हविः) अन्तःकरणम् । (हविः) हु-दानादनयोः आदाने च (जुहो०) दीयते परमात्मानं प्रति इति हविः शुद्धान्तः करणम् । =Heart, mind, intellect, ego. (उक्षणः) सेचकाः । उक्ष सेचने (भ्वा०)=Showerers of peace. (ऋषभासः) उत्तमाः ।=Very good. (वशाः) कामयमानाः । वश-कान्तौ (अ०) कान्तिः-कामना ।=Desiring the welfare of all.

Something about God is told :

अग्निं देवासो अग्रियमिन्धते वृत्रहन्तमम् ।
येना वसून्याभृता तृळहा रक्षांसि वाजिना ॥४८॥

48. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as highly learned persons enkindle the fire, first in soul, slayer or dispeller of darkness and by its help, enkindle (earn) quickly or scientifically acquired wealth of various kinds and crush down the wicked persons, so having destroyed all evils and defects, they illuminate (reveal) God, so you should also do.

PURPORT :—As the priests kindle the fire in the alter, pour oblations and benefit the world, so the Yogi/Sanyasis illuminate God in the hearts of all and destroy their evils.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तृह्ला) हिंसितानि । तृह-हिंसायाम् (रुधा०)= Destroyed, crushed. (वाजिना) वेगेन विज्ञानेन वा । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) वज-गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् पाप्मा वै वृत्रः (Stph 11, 1, 5, 7) पाप्मा वै तमः (तैत्ति सं० 5, 1, 8, 6 कठ संहितापाद 31, 1)=Quickly or scientifically.

Sūktam—17

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaja. Devatā—Indra. Chhandas—Trishtup, Pankti and Ushnik of various kinds. Svaras-Dhaivata, Panchama and Rishabha.

What should men do is further told :

पिबा सोमम॒भि यमुग्र तर्द ऊर्वं गव्यं महि गृणान इन्द्र ।
वि यो धृष्णो वधिषो वज्रहस्त विश्वा वृत्रममित्रिया शवोभिः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O holder of the weapons! bold, desirous of acquiring wealth and prosperity, you smite with the might, every hostile being as the sun destroys the cloud. O full of splendour ! praising great products of milk, slay the person who deserves to be slayed, drink some juice of the invigorating herbs like the Soma (moon-creeper).

PURPORT :—Those men who accept good persons who having removed the wicked with Brahmacharya, knowledge and noble deeds destroy enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऊर्वम्) हिंस्यम् । उर्वी-हिंसार्थः (भ्वा०)=He who deserves to be killed, (शवोभिः) बलैः । शव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) । =With might. (वृत्रम्) मेघम् । वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=Cloud । By oversight the meaning of तर्दः is omitted in the sanskrit commentary. It is derived from तुदिर-हिंसा मादरयोः (रुधा०) अत्तिति स्यर्थः ।

The same subject of men's duties is continued :

स ईं पाहि य ऋजीषी तरुत्रो यः शिप्रवान् वृषभो यो मतीनाम् ।
यो गोत्रभिद्वज्रभृद्यो हरिष्ठाः स इन्द्र चित्राँ अभि तृन्धि वाजान् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O destroyer of the wicked ! you are of straightforward and upright nature and have risen above all miseries, and protect the thing which you have obtained. You are of beauteous jaws and nose, mighty among men, wielder of the thunderbolt-like sharp weapons, piercer of the band of the wicked and destroyer of the evils and miseries. You smite down the violent men even though they may be endowed with marvellous strength.

PURPORT :—O king ! honour the men who are protectors of people and destroyers of the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋजीषी) सरल स्वभाव: । ऋज गतिस्थानार्जनोपार्जनेषु (भ्वा०) = Men of straight forward and upright nature. (तरुत्र:) सर्वदु:खादुत्तीर्ण: । तृ-प्लवनसन्तरणयो: (भ्वा०) अत्र तरणार्थ। = He who has risen above all miseries. (वाजान्) हिंसकान् । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) अत्र बले हिंसकाय दुष्टान् = Violent.

What should men do is further told :

एवा पाहि प्रत्नथा मन्दतु त्वा श्रुधि ब्रह्म वावृधस्वोत गीर्भिः ।
आविः सूर्यं कृणुहि पीपिहीषो जहि शत्रूँरभि गा इन्द्र तृन्धि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O destroyer of the wicked ! like the ancient people, (you) protect the Vedas and hear the Vedas which delight you by giving good admirable teachings and grow harmoniously thereby. By your speech (you) reveal the nature of God who is the Divine Sun-Illuminator and Dispeller of all darkness. Eat good food and drink pure water. Destroy the foes. Destroy or give up all evils and vices, and acquire good lands.

PURPORT :—Those persons become popular in the world who worship God with true (sincere) faith and test the students after teaching them well.

NOTES & REMARKS — (तुन्धि) हिन्धि। तुदिर्-हिंसायाम् (रुधा०) = Destroy, slay. (सूर्य्यम्) परमेश्वरम्। = God, the Divine Sun. (इषः) अन्नम्। इषम् इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) = Food. (मदन्तु) प्रशंसन्तु। मदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०) स्तुति मोदार्थः = May admire.

The duties of men are stated further :

ते त्वा मदा॑ बृहदि॑न्द्र स्वधाव इमे पीता उ॑क्षयन्त द्युमन्त॑म्।
म॒हामनू॑नं त॒वसं॒ विभू॑तिं मत्स॒रासो॑ जर्हृषन्त प्र॒साह॑म् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O (possesser of abundent food) king! these gladdening drops of Soma when quaffed shall augment you in your mighty splendour. Let these cheering drops delight you greatly, who are great, perfect, strong, powerful, prosperous and all subdueing or forbearing having many noble desires in your mind. Let them honour you.

PURPORT :—Those good men whom the kings honour should please them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वधाव:) स्वधाबह्वन्नं विद्यते यस्य तत् सम्बुद्धौ। = He who is the possesser of abundant food materials. (द्युमन्तम्) बहु कामयुक्तम्। (द्युमन्तम्) दिवुधातोः कान्त्यर्थमादाय बहुकामयुक्तम् इति व्याख्या। = Having many noble desires about doing good to others.

The duties of men are described :

येभि॒: सूर्य॑मु॒षसं॑ मन्दसा॒नोऽवा॑स॒योऽप॑ दृ॒ळ्हानि॒ दर्द्र॑त्।
म॒हाम॒द्रिं परि॒ गा इ॑न्द्र॒ सन्तं॑ नु॒त्था अच्यु॑तं॒ सद॑स॒स्परि॒ स्वात् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :— O prosperous king ! desiring the welfare of all, you arrange inhabitation of the people like the sun and the dawn (vigorous and charming) on the land and cast down even firmly. With these means, you urge established wicked people, even an unshakable or imperishable person like a great cloud to do beneficial acts under the instructions of the Assembly in the intrest of the public at large.

PURPORT :—He is the best king who destroys the wicked and rules over his subjects through the assembly of the best people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्दसानः) कामयमानाः। मदि-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्न-कान्तिगतिषु (भ्वा०) अत्र कान्त्यर्थः। कान्तिः-कामना = Desiring (the welfare of all). (अद्रिम्) मेघम्। अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) = Cloud. (दर्दृत्) दृणीहि। दृ-विदारणे (क्र्या०) = Smite down.

———

What should men do is further told :

तव॒ क्रत्वा॒ तव॒ तद्दं॒सना॑भिरा॒मासु॑ प॒क्वं शच्या॒ नि दी॑धः।
और्णो॒र्दुर॑ उ॒स्रिया॑भ्यो॒ वि दृ॒ळ्होदू॒र्वाद् गा अ॑सृजो॒ अङ्गि॑रस्वान् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! by your wisdom and your actions, may we attain mature and well cultured scientific knowledge among the people (yet immature). You uphold this knowledge with your wisdom or with your subjects. Let us honour you, who have opened the doors of the house for the rays of the sun, save the lands from the violence of the malovolent persons and being endowed with great energy of the Prānas (vital breaths), make all (people) firm.

PURPORT :—Those men who having received education from the enlightened persons, show due respect to all, shine like the sun after obtaining kingdom.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (उस्रियाभ्यः) किरणेभ्यः। उस्राः इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) उस्रा एव उस्रियाः। यद्यपि निघण्टोरनेकेषु संस्करणेषु उस्रिया इति गोनामसु पठित स्तथापि प्राचीनसंस्करणेषु उस्रियाः इत्यादि रश्मिनामसु पठित आसीदिति प्रतीयते।=With the rays. (अङ्गिरस्वान्) अङ्गिरसो बहुविद्याः प्राणा विद्यन्ते यस्मिन्।=Endowed with great vitality.

———

The theme of men's duties is further developed :

पप्राथ क्षां महि दंसो व्यु१र्वीमुप द्यामृष्वो बृहदिन्द्र स्तभायः।
अधारयो रोदसी देवपुत्रे प्रत्ने मातरा यह्वी ऋतस्य ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O sun-like king! causer of prosperity, the sun does a marvellous act by filling the vast earth and the heaven with its light. It being very great, upholds great worlds, so you should fill all with the light of knowledge. As the sun upholds the old earth add heaven which are born of true cause-matter, and are like the children of the enlightened men, and are like mothers, so you should also uphold all.

PURPORT :—O men! as the sun upholds the worlds and supports all like the father, so you should also behave.

NOTES & REMARKS —:(क्षाम्) भूमिम्। क्षा इति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1)।=Earth. (यह्वी) महत्यौ। यह्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)=Great. (ऋष्वः) महान्। ऋष्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) =Great saint.

———

Who is adorable for men is further told :

अधं त्वा विश्वे पुर इन्द्र देवा एकं तवसं दधिरे भराय ।
अदेवो यदभ्यौहिष्ट देवान्त्स्वर्षाता वृणत इन्द्रमत्रं ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O lord of the world ! giver of great wealth, all enlightened persons take shelter in you and holding you in front, because you are One and Almighty, and you uphold them with true, knowledge. That ignorant person devoid of the light of wisdom and divider or mitigator of happiness who enters into wrong logic with the very enlightened men, can never acquire true knowledge. Those who choose God as their Adorable Lord, enioy perfect bliss.

PURPORT :—Those persons who adore God only, get great wealth and prosperity. That person who being devoid of knowledge enters into useless discussion with the enlightened men, can not gain any thing, (knowledge).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तवसम्) बलादिवर्धकम् । तव इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=Increaser of the strength and wisdom. (औहिष्ट) वितर्कयति । ऊह-वितर्के (भ्वा०)=Argues wrongly. (स्वर्षाता) सुखानां विभाजकः । स्वः+षण-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) (इ) =Divider of happiness. (भराय) पालनाय । भृञ्-धारणपोषणयोः (जु०) अत्र पोषणार्थः ।=For feeding, for nourishment.

The same subject of men's duties is dealt :

अध द्यौश्चित्ते अप सा नु वज्राद् द्वितानमद्भियसा स्वस्य मन्योः ।
अहिं यदिन्द्रो अभ्योहसानं नि चिद्विश्वायुः शयथे जघानं ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O men ! when the sun smites down the wandering cloud and makes it to sleep (so to say), in the same manner, O prosperous king ! when you, who are like the life of all people, you smite down a wicked enemy, your subjects desiring their meal bow down before you in two ways. First before the might of your thunderbolt-like sharp and powerful weapons and second, before your wrath against the unrighteous and unjust persons.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should deal with one another like the sun and the cloud and support or cherish one another.

NOTES & REMARKS —(विश्वायुः) समग्रायुः । आयवः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 3. 3)=The life or supporter of all people. (चोः) कामयमानाः (चोः) दिवु-धातोः कान्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या । कान्ति-कामना =Desiring their moral. (अहिम्) मेघम् ।=The cloud.

How should the officers of the State deal is told :

अध त्वष्टा ते मह उग्र वज्रं सहस्रभृष्टिं ववृतच्छताश्रिम् ।
निकाममरमणसं येन नवन्तमहिं सं पिणगृजीषिन् ॥१०॥

10. *TRANSLATION :—*O impetuous and upright hero ! I put into your hand a thunderbold-like powerful weapon which is crusher of thousands of the wicked persons, which protects hundreds of good persons and which is, therefore, desired but is not liked by the foes. You are mighty and prompt and pierce your enemies, crush the boastful, but now bowing before you out of fear, foe as the sun crushes the cloud. Let us also wield such strong arm.

PURPORT :—O brave persons ! you should also wield weapons, as the knowers of the science of archery do.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्वष्टा) छेदकः । त्वक्ष-तनूकरणे (भ्वा०) त्वष्टा तूर्णमश्नुते इति नैरुक्ताः । त्विषेर्वास्यात् दीप्तिकर्मणः त्वक्षतेर्वा स्यात् करोति कर्मणः (NKT 8, 2, 15)=Piercer or destroyer of enemies. (सहस्रभृष्टिम्) सहस्राणां भञ्जके छेदकम् ।=Piercer of thousands of foes. (शताश्रिम्) यः

The men's duties are elaborated :

वर्धान्यं विश्वे मुरुतः सजोषाः पचंच्छुतं मंहिषाँ इन्द्र तुभ्यम् ।
पूषा विष्णुस्त्रीणि सरांसि धावन्वृत्रहणं मदिरमंशुमस्मै ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are full of splendour like the sun. May all men love and serve one another and strengthen you. You should know (study) the electricity which is giver of nourishment and pervasive. It pervades firmament, earth and heaven all the three worlds, when running (in motion). You being active or running should slay your enemy as the sun smites down the cloud. You should know and be grateful to the person who gives you hundreds of big stuffs and who cooks for the benefit of others giving them the delightful aud foe-destroying Soma juice also.

PURPORT :—As the people strengthen the king and the State, helping in its development by all legitimate means, so the king also should make them grow more and more.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महिषान्) महतः । महिष इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)=Great. (विष्णुः) व्यापको विद्युद्रूपः ।=Pervading electricity.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—It is erranous, rather so mischievous, when Prof. Wilson and Griffith translated the second stanza as 'May Pushan and Vishnu dress for you a hundred buffaloes' (Wilson) and 'He dressed a hundred buffaloes, O Indra, for you'. (Griffith). Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati on the basis of the Vedic Lexicon Nighantu 3, 3 said that महिष means महान् i.e. great.

Is it even conceivahle that a hundred buffaloes can be dressed for any one however mighty he may be ? What those great one hundred things are—is a matter of research.

What should the king and others do is told :

आ क्षोदो महि वृतं नदीनां परिष्ठितमसृज ऊर्मिमपाम् ।
तासामनु प्रवत इन्द्र पन्थां प्रार्दयो नीचीरपसः समुद्रम् ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O sun-like king ! as the sun sets free the rushing waves of waters of the floods greatly swelled encompassed and obstructed. It turns their deep slope, courses downwards, towards the firmament or ocean, so you should direct your army and subjects rightly making them happy and crush down your foes.

PURPORT :—Those kings and officers of the States who are full of splendour like the sun, can protect their people and crush down all enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षोदः) उदकम् । क्षोद इत्युदकनाम (NG 1, 12) (इन्द्र) सूर्य्य इव राजन् । अथ यः स इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) अत्र इन्द्रः सूर्य इवो प्रतापी तेजस्वी च राजा=O king who is full of splendour like the sun. (प्रार्दयः) आर्दयति नयति । अर्द-गत याचने च (भ्वा०) =Takes.

How should the kings and their subjects deal with one another is told :

एवा ता विश्वा चकृवांसमिन्द्रं महामुग्रमजुर्यं सहोदाम् ।
सुवीरं त्वा स्वायुधं सुवज्रमा ब्रह्म नव्यमवसे ववृत्यात् ॥१३॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O king ! who is very prosperous or destroyer of enemies, that man who deals with you (approaches you) and who makes all necessary arrangements, are great. They are full of splendour, young (not old), giver of strength, surrounded by many good heroes; expert in wielding good weapons or well armed hero, able to use thunderbolt like powerful arms, for protection and justice, can multiply great wealth or good materials.

PURPORT :—All should always strengthen the hands of a king who is protector of the subjects like their own father and who is expert in the science of archery, politics and military science.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रम्) परमैश्वर्यवन्तं शत्रुविदारकं वा। इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा०) इन्द्रम् शत्रूणां दारयिता वा द्रावयिता वेति (NKT 7, 10, 1, 8)= Endowed with much wealth of destroyer of the enemies. हन्नंच्युतच्युदस्मेषयंन्तमृणोः पुरो वि दुरों अस्य विश्वाः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O just king and officers of the state ! let there be our ancient bond of friendship with you. Let there be our friendship with those persons also, who say like this. As the sun who is firm and smites the cloud with the help of the winds, in the same manner, o destroyer of miseries ! accomplish the works of the person who comes to you. As the sun illumines the doors of this world, so you should open all the cities (of the state.)

PURPORT :—Men should always have friendship with good people as far as it is possible to do. Then they should endeavour to see that this friendship is not lost. As the sun illuminates all, so the king should illuminate the whole state with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अङ्गिरोभिः) वायुभिः। ये वै देवानामङ्गिरसस्ते ब्राह्मणस्य प्रस्येनसः अग्निर्वायुर्वीग बृहस्पतिः (काष्ठक संहिता 8,4) अत्र वायोर्ग्रहणम्। =With winds. वृणक्पिप्रुं शम्बरं शुष्णमिन्द्रः पुरां च्यौत्नाय शयथाय नू चित् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! as the sun dissipates a cloud that eats away the crop,, is pervasive, thunderer, harmful for the crop, and coverer of happiness, so a good king who destroys a wicked person who eats away or misappropriates others property, is selfish (filling up his own belly), who roars and exploits others so that his subjects may go freely from one place to another and may sleep well without anxiety or worries and who does not come under delusion, nor resorts to falsehood in dealing with one another is worthy of respect. He bears a name that may be well-remembered.

PURPORT :—As the sun creates the cloud and causes it to rain down but is not bound by such act, in the same manner, good men do not get deluded and attached by doing righteous deeds and dealing with good men, but (they) enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चुमुरिम् अत्तारम् ।=Eater of other's property. (धुनिम्) ध्वनितारम् ।=Roaring. (प्रिप्रुम्) व्यापनशीलम् ।=Pervasive. (शम्बरम्) शं सुखं वृणोति येन तं मेघम्=The cloud which causes happiness.

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! accomplish your desirable works by knowing the nature of Indra (sun/power) which is great and pervading human and other beings in the form of electricity, which grows by the firmament and air. It is non-violent, vast and extensive, and generated well. It grows for generating force that can do many works like a man.

PURPORT :—As a friend tries to occomplish many works with the cooperation of a friend, so electricity and the sun created by God are useful to the doers of good works.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चर्षणिप्राः) यश्चर्षणिषु मनुष्येषु विद्युद्रूपेण व्याप्नोति। चर्षणयः इति मनुष्य नाम (NG 2.3)। पृ-पालनपूरणोः (जुहो०)। (चर्षणिप्राः) यश्चर्षणीन् मनुष्यान् सुखैः पिपर्ति सः इति महर्षि दयानन्द सरस्वती ऋ० 1, 185, 1 भाष्ये।=Which pervades man in the form of electricity. (द्विबर्हाः) योऽन्तरिक्षवायुभ्यां द्वाभ्यां वर्धते। बृह-वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) ।=That grows with the firmament and air.

How should men make progress is told :

इन्द्रमेव धिषणां सातये धाद् बृहन्तमृष्वमजरं युवानाम् ।
अषाळ्हेन शवसा शूशुवांसं सद्यश्चिद्यो वावृधे असामि ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—That man can quickly wax with strength, which cannot be borne or conduced by enemies, who with his wisdom or noble deeds supports for distribution—a person who is endowed with great wealth or prosperity, splendid like the sun, which is vaster than the earth, moving on its own axis and undecaying like a young man.

PURPORT :—As men grow by getting a great friend, in the same manner, they can make very great advancement by aquiring the knowledge of the science of electricity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धिषणा) प्रज्ञया कर्मणावा ।=By wisdom or action. (इन्द्रम्) सूर्यमिव परमैश्वर्यवन्तम् । एष एवेन्द्रः य एष (सूर्यः) तपति (Stph 1,6,4,19) इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा०)=Endowed with great wealth like the sun. (शूशुवांसम्) व्याप्नुवन्तम् । (टुओ) विश्व-गतिवृद्धयो (भ्वा०) गतोचिर्थे प्राप्तार्थे ग्रहणम्-प्राप्तिः व्याप्तिः ।=Pervading. (असामि) अनल्पम् । सामि अङ्गे (अव्ययार्थं शास्त्रम् असामि अनघम् अनल्पम् पूर्णम् अत्यधिकंवा-सामि-अर्धंजुगुप्सयोः इत्यव्ययार्थे । =Much.

How should a king be is further told :

पृथू करस्ना बहुला गभस्ती अस्मद्र्यक्सं मिमीहि श्रवांसि ।
यूथेव पश्वः पशुपा दमूना अस्माँ इन्द्राभ्या ववृत्स्वाजौ ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! giver of much wealth and dispenser of justice, stretch out those hands of yours and extend towards us, your wide capacious arms and grant us good food materials. As herdsman guards the cattle and other animals, so being agreeable to us, listen to our requests. Being a man of self-control, move you round about us in the battles.

PURPORT :—Those persons only prosper who give up all laziness and try to do noble deeds. As herdsmen become rich by feeding and nourishing (and rearing) the animals, so industrious persons become wealthy by eradicating poverty.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गभस्ती) हस्तौ । गभस्ती इति बाहुनाम (NG 2, 4) । =Arms. (करस्ना) यौ करान् कर्त्तॄन् स्नापयतः शोधयस्तौ । स्नाशौचे (अदा॰) (ड) कृत्-करणे (तना॰) ।=Hands which purify the doers of good acts). ———

How should men (behave and act) is further told :

तं व॒ इन्द्रं॑ च॒तिनं॑मस्य शा॒कैरि॒ह नू॒नं वा॑ज॒यन्तो॑ हुवेम ।
यथा॑ चि॒त्पूर्वे॑ जरि॒तार॑ आ॒सुरने॑द्या अनव॒द्या अरि॑ष्टाः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us invite Indra-Giver of great wealth who is also giver of bliss with his great powers, enlightening you about him because he is, as are the ancient devotees of god free from all blame, without reproach and uninjured in this world.

PURPORT :—O men ! as admirable absolutely truthful and enlightened persons become blessed by engaging themselves in righteous deeds, so let all men be blessed by doing like wise.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अनेद्याः) अनिन्दनीयाः ।=Free from blame or reproach. (अनवद्याः) प्रशंसनीयाः ।=Admirables. (अरिष्टाः) अहिंसिता । =Uninjured or unharmed.

———

How should men behave and act is further told :

धृतव्रतो धनदाः सोमवृद्धः स हि वामस्य वसुनः पुरुक्षुः ।
स जग्मिरे पथ्या३ रायो अस्मिन्त्समुद्रे न सिन्धवो यादमानाः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons! that man becomes the lord of the admirable wealth in whom riches earned by righteous means are united (blended) like rivers that co—mingle with the ocean. Such a man is the upholder or noble deeds, giver of wealth, advanced in wealth or in knowlege of the Soma and other herbs and has abundant and good food.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. As the rivers going to the ocean quickly become steady having reached the ocean, in the same manner, it is only to a righteous and industrious person riches beget.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुक्षुः) पुरूणि बहुन्यन्नानि यस्य सः । क्षु इति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) पुरुइति बहुनाम (NG 3,9) ।=Who possesses adundant food material of various kinds. (यादमानाः) अभिगच्छन्त्यः । यादमानाः-अभिगच्छन्त्य इति सायणाचार्योऽपि ।=Going, flowing.

What should a king do is furthertold :

शविष्ठं न आ भर शूर शव ओजिष्ठमोजो अभिभूत उग्रम् ।
विश्वा द्युम्ना वृष्ण्या मानुषाणामस्मभ्यं दा हरिवो मादयध्यै ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O hero! the great subduer of the wicked, master of admirable men, grant us the mightiest might, strong and most potent force, vourchsafe us all splendid vigorous powers of men, to make us joyful.

PURPORT :—O king! having imbibed all the virtues that are necessary for protecting and preserving the state, administer it with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरिवः) प्रशस्ता हरयो मनुष्या विद्यन्ते यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG, 2,3) ।=Master of the admirable men. (अभिभूते) दुष्टानामीममवकर्त्तः ।=Subduer of the wicked. (द्युम्ना) द्योतमानानि यशांसि धनानि वा । द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2,10) द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशोवा अन्नं वेति (NKT 5,1,5) ।=Shining wealth or good reputation.

The same subject of kings duties is continued :

यस्ते मदः पृतनाषाळमृध्र इन्द्र तं न आ भर शूशुवांसम् ।
येन तोकस्य तनयस्य साता मंसीमहि जिगीवांसस्त्वोताः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! bring to us that friendly (non-violent) rapturous joy which pervades good virtues, and victorious in the battle, so that we who are conquerors by nature, protected by you may know (understand) your protection and gift of knowledge in the matter of our offspring.

PURPORT :—O people of the State ! you should tell the king in this manner, you should get enacted such lands that our children may receive good education, so that victory and joy may grow more and more.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जिगीवांसः) जेतुं शीलाः जि-जये (भ्वा०) ।=Of conquring nature. (शूशुवांसम्) शुभगुणव्यापिनम् । (टुओ) श्वि-गति वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) ।=Pervading good virtues. (अमृध्रः) अहिंसाः । मृधु-मर्दने काश-कृत्स्नधातु पाठे (6, 72) ।=Non-violent, friendly.

आ नो भर वृषणं शुष्ममिन्द्र धनस्पृतं शूशुवांसं सुदक्षम् ।
येन वंसाम पृतनासु शत्रून्तवोतिभिरुत जामींरजामीन् ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—the destroyer of the strength of the wicked ! bestow upon us the heroic power, skilled and exceedingly strong, pervading good virtues, by which men win the real wealth, under your protection, we may distinguish between our kith and kin and our foes who are not related to us among the armies.

PURPORT :—A king should endeavour, in such a way that the friends and foes may be divided (identified.) They should also develop such power that the foes may disappear.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुष्मम्) बलम्। शुष्मम् इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) ।=Strength, power. (वंसाम) विभजेम। वन संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=May divide. (जामीन्) सम्बन्धिनो बन्धवादीन्। स्पृ-प्रीति-सेवनयोः (स्वा०) ।=kith and kin.

———

What should all men do is further told :

आ ते शुष्मो वृषभ एतु पश्चादोत्तरादधरादा पुरस्तात्।
आ विश्वतो अभि समेत्वर्वाङिन्द्र द्युम्नं स्वर्वद्धेह्यस्मे ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! (you are) giver of great wealth. Let the heroic strength come from behind us (our followers). Let it come from before us (our leader) from above us and from below us. From every side may the shining glory of wealth, endowed with much happiness come to usher us. Bestow this upon us. Give us the glory of the realm of splendour.

PURPORT :—O king and the people ! you should try in such a manner that all may attain happiness and good reputation from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नम्) प्रकाशमयं यशो धनं वा। द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2,1) द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशो वा अन्नंवेति (NKT 5,1,5) ।=Shining glory or wealth. (स्वर्वत्) स्वर्बहुविधं सुखं विद्यते यस्मिस्तत् ।=Endowed wiih much happiness.

What should men do is again told :

नृवत्तं इन्द्र नृतंमाभिरूता वंसीमहिं वामं श्रोमंतेभिः ।
ईशे हि वस्वं उभयंस्य राजन्धा रत्नं महिं स्थूरं बृहन्तंम् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king ! (you are) giver of great wealth, by your protections which has many heroic persons. Like heroes, may we win wealth and share it with others by deeds of glory. By the noble words which are worth hearing, I see the wealth both belonging to the king and the people. Vouchsafe us riches (that are) vast, charming admirable, firm and great.

PURPORT :—The king and his subjects should always acquire admirable knowledge and great wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(राजन्) विद्याविनयाभ्यां प्रकाशमान । राजृदीप्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=O king shining with knowledge and humility. (श्रोमतेभिः) श्रवणीयैर्वचनैः ।=With good words that are worth hearing. (स्थरम्) स्थिरम् । ष्ठा-गतिनिवृत्तौ ।=Firm, steadfast.

The same subject of people's duties is dealt :

मरुत्वंन्तं वृषभं वांवृधानमकंवारिं दिव्यं शासमिन्द्रंम् ।
विश्वासाहमवंसे नूतंनायोग्रं संहोदामिह तं हुंवेम ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as we call upon for new protection, a man who has many admirable men as his assistants and warriors, is very mighty, and waxed in strength. Free from noisy foes, charming, ruling impartially, he shines with the beauty of body, soil and kingdom, putting up with all troubles patiently, (Such people are) full of splendour, giver of strength in the dealing of or for administration. So you should also do.

PURPORT :—The people of the State and officers should accept a man as ruler who is endowed with the best virtues, actions and that king should administer true justice with the cooperation of all.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(मरुत्वन्तम्) प्रशस्ता मरुतो मनुष्या विद्यन्ते यस्य तम् । मरुतो मितराविणोवाऽमितरोचिनेवा मरुद् द्रवन्तीति वा (NKT 11,2,14) तस्मान्ति भाषिणां तेजस्मित बलवंता वीराणां ग्रहणम् ।=Him who has admirable men as his assistants and brave warriors. (अकवारिम्) न विद्यन्ते कवा: शब्दावमाना अरयो यस्य तम् । कु-शब्दे (अदा०)।=Who has no noisy foes. (दिव्यम) कमनीयम् दिवुधातोरनेकोर्थेषु कान्त्यर्थे ग्रहणम् । कान्ति-कामना ।=Charming, desirable.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—Griffith translated वृषभम् which is used as epithet or adjective of Indra a 'Bull', which is ridiculous and absurd.

More about the people is mentioned :

जनं वज्रिन्महि चिन्मन्यमानमेभ्यो नृभ्यो रन्धया येष्वस्मि ।
अधा हि त्वा पृथिव्यां शूरसातौ हवामहे तनये गोष्वप्सु ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O king ! wielder of the thunderbolt-like good arms and missiles, smite down this mighty and haughty person for the welfare of the well-educated and cultured leaders and protect those in the battle (where heroes are divided) among whom I am also one. We call on you on earth, for wealth and kine for the welfare of our children and safety of our Prānas (live) or purity of waters.

PURPORT :—O king and officers of the State ! punish that person who being haughty, troubles good men. Protect all with the knowledge of military science, so that you may have good reputation everywhere on the face of the earth.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शूरसातौ) शूरा: सनन्ति विभजन्ति यस्मिन्त्संग्रामे तस्मिन् । शूरसातौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2,17)।=In the battle where heroes are divided in two parties. (नृभ्य:) नृभ्यस्सुशिक्षितेभ्यो नायकेभ्य: । नी-प्रापणे (भ्वा०) नृत्यन्तीतिनर:-नेतार:-नायका वा ।= Well educated and cultured leaders. (अप्सु) जलेषु प्राणेषु वा । आपो वै प्राणाः भेषजम् (काण्व शतपथे 4,8,2,2) ।=In waters or Prânas. (रन्धया) हिंसया रध-हिंसासंराध्योः (दिवा०) अत्र हिंसार्थं ।=Through violence.

Men's attributes are narrated :

वयं तं एभिः पुंरुहूत सख्यैः शत्रोः शत्रोरुत्तर इत्स्याम ।
घ्नन्तों वृत्राण्युभयानि शूर राया मंदेम बृहता त्वोताः ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O barve king ! you are invoked of many. Through your friendship, may we be victors over every foe slaying the armies of the enemies. After achieving victory over the foes and having acquired wealth of both kinds (from the rulers and the subjects) may we, protected by you, enjoy happiness with ample riches.

PURPORT ;—If the rulers and the subjects are friendly to one another, then having conquered all enemies, they may shine with great wealth and glory of the State.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृत्राणि) धनानि । वृत्रमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) =Wealth. (उभयानि) राजप्रजास्थानि ।=Belonging to the king and the people.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—उभयानि Of both kinds may also mean both material and spiritual in the form of knowledge. wisdom, peace etc.

Sūktam—20

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Indra. Chhandas—Anushtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svaras-Gāndhāra, Panchama and Dhaivata.

What should men desire is told :

द्यौर्न य इन्द्राभि भूमार्यस्तस्थौ रयिः शवसा पृत्सु जनान् ।
तं नः सहस्रंभरमुर्वरासां दद्धि सूनो सहसो वृत्रतुरम् ॥ १ ॥

1\. TRANSLATION :—O good son of a mighty father ! endowed with much admired wealth, you are master of the wealth that is like the lightning or the sun, which overcome the foes in battles with his might. Grant us that sublime victory which nourishes or feeds thousands of people, is destroyer of the foes like the clouds and is the best (seen) on the face of the earth, so that we may become prosperous.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. Those men achieve victory who are mighty like electricity, radiant like the sun and adventurous in the battles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्यौः) विद्युत् सूर्यो वा । द्यौः is from दिवु-क्रीडा विजिगीषा व्यवहारद्युतिस्तुति मोदमदस्वप्न कान्तिगतिषु । अत्र द्युत्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या । =Lightning (electricity) or the sun. (पृत्सु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । पृत्सुइति संग्राम-नाम (NG 2.17) ।=In the battles. (उर्वरासाम्) बहुश्रेष्ठानां भूमीनाम् ।=Very good lands.

The object of man's desire is described :

दिवो न तुभ्यमन्विन्द्र सत्रासुर्यं देवेभिर्धायि विश्वम् ।
अहिं यद्वृत्रमपो वव्रिवांसं हन्नृजीषिन्विष्णुना सचानः ॥ २ ॥

2\. TRANSLATION :—O king of upright nature ! as the sun united with the power of all-pervading God or electricity smites down the cloud enclosing water and covering the sky, so the enlightened persons desiring the welfare of all, entrust you with all wealth belonging to the ignorant sinners with truth.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the sun draws the sap of water for eight months and rains it down in four months, in the same manner a king should collect the revenue for eight months and should safeguard the people by showering fearlessness on them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋजीषिन्) ऋजुधर्मयुक्त ।—Endowed with upright nature. (सत्रा) सत्येन । सत्रा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3,10) ।=With truth. (विष्णुना) व्यापकेन जगदीश्वरेण विद्युता वा । विष्लृ व्याप्तौ व्यापकत्वात् जगदीश्वरो विष्णुः विद्युच्च । =With all-pervading God or electricity. (असुर्यम्) असुराणां मूढानां पापिनामिदमैश्वर्यम् । असुषु-प्राणेषु रमन्ते इति असुराः पापिनो मूढाः ।=Wealth belonging to the ingorant sinners.

Men's ideal desires are deseribed :

तू॒र्व॒न्नोजी॑यान्त॒वस॒स्तवी॑यान्कृ॒तब्र॒ह्मेन्द्रो॑ वृ॒द्धम॑हाः ।
राजा॑भवन्मधु॒नः सो॒म्यस्य॒ विश्वा॑सां॒ यत्पु॒रां द॒र्त्नुमाव॑त् ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should make him as your king, who is the slayer of the foes, is mighteer of the mighty and much admired, who has amassed wealth and food, multiplier of prosperity. Moreover, that king should have many great assistants. He protects that man who sends asunder the cities of the wicked and (dutributes) the sweet juice of the Soma and other plants.

PURPORT :—O men ! you appoint him as king and enjoy happiness who is brave, mightiest of the mighty, the great scholar, old and experienced among the old and respector of the victorous servants or workers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तूर्वन्) हिंसन् । तुर्वी-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) ।= Slaying, destroying. (कृतब्रह्मा) कृतं ब्रह्म धनमन्नं वा येन सः । ब्रह्मेति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) ।=He who has amassed wealth or food. (दर्त्नुम्) विदारकम् दृ-विदारणे (क्र्या०) ।=Destroying. (तवसः) बलस्य । तव इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) =Of the might.

The subject of ideal human desires is elaborated :

श॒तैर॑पद्रन्प॒णय॒ इन्द्रा॒त्र दशो॑णये क॒वये॒ऽर्कसा॑तौ ।
व॒धैः शुष्ण॑स्या॒शुष॑स्य मा॒याः पि॒त्वो नारि॑रेची॒त्किं च॒न प्र ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king) ! giver of food (provides job) to those knowers of proper dealings who are not perplexed in administration even by hundreds of means of slaying, should be respected. In the matter of the distribution of food materials none can surpass the wisdom and prosperity of a man who is very mighty, dose not commit sin from his ten senses, does not exploit others and is wise and learned person.

PURPORT :—O men ! a king should punish those persons who give up the path of righteousness and go astray. He should always honour those who perform noble deeds giving up all unrighteousness with ten senses (five of perception and five of action).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पित्वः) अन्नादिकम् । पितुः इति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) ।=Food materials and other things. (अर्कसातौ) अन्नादिविभागे । अर्क इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2,7) ।=In the distribution of food materials and other things. (दशोणये) दशोनयः परिहाणानि यस्मात्तस्मै । दश-पंच ज्ञानेन्द्रियाणि पंच कर्मेन्द्रियाणि ।=He who abstains from committing any sins with his ten senses. Five senses of perception, five senses of action.

——

The subject of man's ideal areas of desires goes on :

महो द्रुहो अप विश्वायु धायि वज्रस्य यत्पतने पादि शुष्णः ।
उरु ष सरथं सारथये करिन्द्रः कुत्साय सूर्यस्य सातौ ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should honour that mighty person who slays all enemies by throwing thunderbolt-like powerful weapon, and the whole life (of good men) is supported. The commander of the army who is the destroyer of the foes, does much for the welfare of a charioteer alongwith his chariot and for the proper use of the thunderbolt or strong weapon upon the wicked persons at proper time in the light of the sun, making due division of time.

PURPORT :—A king should remove animosity and other evils and should make people long-lived by making them observe Brahmacharya (abstinence). He should illuminate like sun, the chariots and other parts of the arms and should protect the people by distinguishing truth from falsehood.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कुत्साय) वज्रप्रहाराय । कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) ।=For using thunderbolt-like powerful weapon. (सातौ) संविभागे । षण संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=In distribution.

———

What should a man forbid is told :

प्र श्येनो न मंदिरमंशुमस्मै शिरों दासस्य नमुचेर्मथायन् ।
प्रावन्नमीं साप्यं ससन्तं पृणग्राया समिषा सं स्वस्ति ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—That king can become a sovereign who (as a last resort) even severs the head of a servant who inspite of persuation does not give up the bad habit of taking the intoxicant like a falcon, (or gives him severe punishment), and protects the industrious person who completes the work and then sleeps or takes rest. He fills (awards) an industrious person with wealth and with food.

PURPORT :—It is the duty of the kings who inflict severe punishment on those who take intoxicants and to honour duly those who are industrious and do not show laziness (slackness) in doing work.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मदिरम्) मादकं द्रव्यम् ।=Intoxicating substance. (नमुचेः) यो न मुंचति तस्य ।=Of the person who does not give up an evil. (साप्यम्) कर्मान्तकारिणम् । षो-अन्तकर्मणि (दिवा०) ।=Him who completes the work. (ससन्तम्) शयानम् (सस्ति) स्वपिति कर्मा (NG 3,22) ।=Sleeping.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—This mantra clearly shows that drinking wine (liquor) etc. is strongly condemned by the Vedas. It is considered to be a very great sin as it leads to sinful acts.

———

What should a king do is further told :

वि पिप्रोरहिमायस्य दृळ्हाः पुरो वज्रिञ्छवसा न दर्दः ।
सुदामन्तद्रेक्णो अप्रमृष्यमृजिश्वने दात्रं दाशुषे दाः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O wielder of the powerful arms and missiles and liberal donor ! you shatter with your might the strong cities or forts of deceitful crooked person like the cloud who has spread his deception in many places. That abundant wealth you give to the deserving person who is multiplier of uprightness and other virtues. Give that to us also.

PURPORT :—A king should make his cities very strong and should not break them through, having given up all deceit. He should give charity to deserving person and should slight a wicked man who does not deserve it.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पिप्रोः) व्यापकस्य । पृ-पूरणे (चुरा०) ।=Pervading. (अहिमायस्य) अहेर्मेघस्य मायाच्छादिनमिव कापट्यं यस्य तस्य । अहिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1,10) मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3,9) । (अप्रमृष्यम्) अप्रसह्यम् ।=Unbearable, abundant.

———

What should a king do is told :

स वेतसुं दशमायं दशोणिं तूतुजिमिन्द्रः स्वभिष्टिसुम्नः ।
आ तुग्रं शश्वदिभं द्योतनाय मातुर्न सीमुप सृजा इयध्यै ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you who desire to attain happiness, have for enlightening you a man who goes from place to place, who has pure heart which is of the measurment of ten fingers, who refrains from doing unrighteous act with (any of the) ten senses, and who is mighty and accepter of good virtues, and has elephants ect. for his army. He should nourish his subjects as a mother nourishes her children.

PURPORT :—That king alone can become truly rich who does righteous deed with his ten senses, increases knowledge and promotes desired happiness, constantly and who nourishes his subjects like mother.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दशमायम्) दशाङ्गुलय इव माया मानं यस्य तम्। माङ्-माने।=Who has a pure heart of the measurement of ten fingers. (तुग्रम्) आदातारम्।=Accepter of good virtues. (वेतसुम्) व्यापनशीलम्।=Pervading or going from place to place.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3,9) So it may also mean whose intellectual power is ten-fold than the intellect of an average person. तुजि-बलादाननिकतेनेषु (भ्वा०)। अत्र आदानार्थग्रहणण् वी-गति व्याप्तिप्रजनकान्त्यसनखादनेषु (अदा०) अत्र व्याप्त्यर्थंग्रहणम्।

The subject of kings duties is further elaborated :

स ईं स्पृधो वनते अप्रतीतो बिभ्रद्वज्रं वृत्रहणं गभस्तौ।
तिष्ठद्धरी अध्यस्तेव गर्ते वचोयुजा वहत इन्द्रमृष्वम् ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—That king holding in his hand the thunderbolt-like powerful weapon which destroys the foes, like the sun in its rays, not known by enemies, meets his competitors and takes water in proper quanity. As a charioteer drives the horses and sits in his house afterwards, so yoke or harness the horses in the form of the power of upholding and attraction with the words who carry the king like electricity.

PURPORT :— A king should keep his plans as secret, when (until) a work is accomplished' then only should men know about it. He should wear weapons, train his armies well and attain great prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अप्रतीत:) शत्रुभिरज्ञात:। अ+प्रति+इत इण-गतौ (अदा.)।=Not known by enemies. (अस्तेव) प्रेरक: सारथिरिव। असु-क्षेपणे (दिवा.)।=Like a charioteer. (हरी) आकर्षणधारणाकर्षणे।=The power of upholding and attraction acting like horses. (गर्त) गृहे गर्त इति गृहनाम (NG 3,4) =In the house.

What should men do is further told :

सनेम तेऽवसा नव्यं इन्द्र प्र पूरवः स्तवन्त एना यज्ञैः ।
सप्त यत्पुरः शर्म शारदीर्दर्द्धन्दासीः पुरुकुत्साय शिक्षन् ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! giver of great wealth, by your protection, let us divide seven cities. As men praise you with Yajnas consisting of good dealings and acts, with this protection etc., so you also should admire good virtues and men with them because they are endowed with new knowledge and power. That man who having obtained attendants to help in the autumn season giving training to the person who has many powerful weapons destroys all miseries and slays enemies, should be respected.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should all behave like a king who deals with all with humility, Throw away all miseries, having built good houses with labour, which give delight in all seasons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुकुत्साय) बहुशस्त्राय । कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) ।=For a man possessing many powerful weapons. (पूरवः) मनुष्याः । पूरवः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3) ।=Men. (शर्म) गृहम् । शर्म इति गृहनाम (NG 3,4) ।=House. (यज्ञैः) सद्व्यवहारमयैः । यज्ञ-देवपूजासङ्गतिकरणेदानेषु (भ्वा.) ।=Full of good dealings.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is not correct to take पूरवः used in the mantra as the Proper Noun as Griffith translated it as "purus lands you with their sacrifices," instead of taking it to mean 'men'. Even Sayanacharya and Wilson have done, saying मनुष्याः and men (Wilson). The authority of the Vedic Lexicon Nighantu 2, 3, पूरवः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3) is quite clear on the point. But unfortunately all the three Sayanacharya, Wilson and Griffith have committed the mistake of taking पुरुकुत्स, शरत् (Purukutsa and Sharad) as Proper Nouns standing for पुरुकुत्साय एतन्नामकायराज्ञे (सा०) शान्नाम्नोऽसुरस्य the name of a king and a woman. Griffith has interpreted शारदी: as autumn but different from Sayana's interpretation. Dayanand Sarasvati's interpretation is based upon the authority of the Vedic Laxicon-Nighatu where we find पूरव ईति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3) and कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) ।

What should a king do is further told :

त्वं वृध इन्द्र पूर्व्यो भूर्वरिवस्यन्नुशने काव्याय ।
परा नववास्त्वमनुदेयं महे पित्रे ददाथ स्वं नपातम् ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :– O Indra (King) ! endowed with knowledge and wealth, taught by the experienced old teachers, serving those who are increasers of your wisdom and knowledge, you give new built house which is strong and firm and which can be given for other's use —to a scholar trained well by the sage poets and desiring it (on account of necessity) being himself a nourisher of the people and having given it willingly do not seek its return.

PURPORT :– That king who respects all duly is regarded by all as a father.

NOTES & REMARKS :– (उशने) कामयमानाय । (उशन) वशकान्तौ (अदा०) कान्ति:-कामत्व वास्तुर्वसतेर्निवास कर्मण इति (NKT 1,2,17) ।= For a person desiring well. (काव्याय) कविभि: सुशिक्षिताय ।=Well trained by the poet-sages, (नववास्त्वम्) नवीनं निवासम् । तस्माद्वास्तु-निवास स्थानम् ।= New house.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :– It is, therefore, wrong on the part of Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson Griffith and others to take Ushana Kavya and Nuwavastvam as the names of particular persons. It is not only against the fundamental principles of the Vedic Terminology, but also against Sayananacharya's on "Introduction to his commentary" in which he has established the eternity of the Vedas. The meanings of these words are quite clear.

What should a man do is further told :

त्वं धुनिरिन्द्र धुनिमतीर्ऋणोरपः सीरा न स्रवन्तीः ।
प्र यत्समुद्रमति शूर पर्षि पारया तुर्वशं यदुं स्वस्ति ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O king ! protector and nourisher of all, you being shaker of your foes, please and satisfy your subjects, who make sound expressing some discontent. They come to you which are ike the nerves as rivers flowing towards the sea, make them happy. Take us across the river of misery, as you take a person who is under your control or obedient to you and an industrious person beyond misery and make them enjoy happiness.

PURPORT :—O king ! make your subject always joyous uttering auspicious and happy words. As the rivers become established having reached the sea, so you should endeavour in such a manner that your subjects may become steady and contented having approached you.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धुनिमतीः)शब्दायमानाः प्रजाः । ध्वन.शब्दे (भ्वा.) । =The people making sound (of discontent). (सीराः) नाड्यः। =Nerves. (तुर्वशम्) सद्योवशगमनम् । तुर्वशा इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3)=Under your control or obedient. (यदुम्) यत्नशीलं मनुष्यम् । यदवः इति मनुष्यनाम् (NG 2,3) ।=Industrious man.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Inspite of these meanings of the words Turvasha and Yadu denoting men, how wrong it is on the part of many translators of the Vedas to take them as the Proper Nouns denoting some particular persons or families.

What should a man do is further told :

तव ह त्यदिन्द्र विश्वमाजौ सस्तो धुनीचुमुरी या ह सिष्वप् ।
दीदयदित्तुभ्यं सोमेभिः सुन्वन्दभीतिरिध्मभृतिः पक्थ्य१र्कैः ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O king ! upholder of happinsss your sound and legitimate enjoyment that protects all in the battle, the man who even when going to sleep enlightens people, he who being destroyer of enemies, upholder of the fuel for the performance of the Yajnas and who looks with various kinds of food materials, and extracting the juice of Soma and other plants or herbs or earning money, gives you happiness, you should honour all of them.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should make your armies strong by taking in it powerful orators, (exhortors or inspirers), eaters of good and nourishing food (for strength) and brave persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धुनीचुमुरी) ध्वनि: शब्दश्चुमुरिर्भोगश्च तौ ध्वन-शब्दे चमु-अदने (भ्वा.) ।=Sound and legitimate enjoyment. (सस्तः) शयानः । स्वपिति स्वपितिकर्मा (NG 3,22) ।=Sleeping. (दभीतिः) हिंसकः । दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2,19) ।=Destroyer of the wicked. (आजौ) सङ्ग्रामे । आजौ इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2,17) ।=In the battle.

3. TRANSLATION :—O lord of the world ! you destroy all ignorance by the light of knowledge and spread intellect, as the sun dispels all darkness. Therefore, you alone are worthy of service. O God, the Lord of abundant food-materials ! the men desiring to attain your Divine nature, never resort to violence.

PURPORT :—The men enjoy vast happiness who having accepted the Dharma (duty) of non-violence or harmlessness and having increased knowledge and wisdom, desire to attain God.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अवयुनम्) अज्ञानमन्धकाररूपम् । वयुनमिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3,9)=Darkness of ignorance. (वयुनवत्) प्रज्ञावत । वयुनमिति प्रशंस्यनाम (NG 3,8) ।=Endowed with intellect. (मिनन्ति) मीञ् हिंसायाम् (क्र्या.) ।=Resort to violence.

What should we ask the enlightened persons—is told :

यस्ता चकार स कुहं स्विदिन्द्रः कमा जनं चरति कासु विक्षु ।
कस्ते यज्ञो मनसे शं वराय को अर्क इन्द्र कतमः स होता ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O learned person ! you are destroyer of miseries. Tell me where is that Lord, Giver of all wealth, who has created all these objects of the world ? Which man can attain Him ? In what kind of people does He pervade or manifest His Power ? O enlightened person ! which is the Yajna or unifying act that gives peace to your thoughtful noble mind ? Who is Adorable ? Who is the liberal donor ? Please give answers to these questions.

PURPORT :—O enlightened person ! who is it that can do all these acts, that increase intellect ? Who it is that pervades all people to do good to them ? Who is adorable and who is the liberal donor ? Answer these questions satisfactorily.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कः) अर्चनीयः । अर्कोदेवोभवति, यदेनमर्चन्ति (NKT 5,1,4) अर्च-पूजायाम (भ्वा०) कृदाधाराचिकालभ्यः कः (उणादिकोषे 3,40)

What should the enlightened person do is further told :

आ जनाय द्रुह्वणे पार्थिवानि दिव्यानि दीपयोऽन्तरिक्षा।
तपा वृषन्विश्वतः शोचिषा तान्ब्रह्मद्विषे शोचय क्षामपश्च ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O mightiest enlightened person ! illuminate with the light of your knowledge all the articles that are of divine qualities, belonging to the firmament or the earth. For a man, who hates God or Veda and who is of oppressive nature create heat (hatred) from all sides. For them who give trouble to good men, create grief or repentance and enlighten the earth and water.

PURPORT :—O enlightened men ! having acquired the knowledge of the earth and other (geo-physical) elements impart that knowledge to others. Purify the wicked by giveng them good teachings.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(क्षाम्) पृथिवीम् । क्षा इति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1) ।=Earth, (शोचिषा) प्रकाशेन । शोचिः इति ज्वलतोनाम (NG 1,17) शोचति ज्वलति कर्मा (NG 1,16) अत्रप्रकाशार्थकः ।=With the light (of knowledge).

What should a king do is further told :

The attributes of an ideal king are described :

स नो नियुद्भिः पुरुहूत वेधो वि वाराभिरा गहि प्रयज्यो ।
न या अदेवो वरते न देव आभिर्याहि तूयमा मद्र्यद्रिक् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O performer of many Yajnas ! O revered by many wise persons ! come to us with the movements which are accepted by all and which are like the horses of fixed movement; come to me quickly with the methods that an unenlightened person cannot accept.

PURPORT :—The way adopted by the enlightened persons is not generally accepted by the ignorant people, Therefore, men should know that the manners of the enlightened men are different from those of the ignorant. This (difference) you must know.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नियुद्भिः) निश्चियद्गतिभिरश्वैरिव ।=With fixed movements like those of the horses. (मद्यद्रिक) कदभिमुखः=Towards me. (वेधः) मेधाविन् । विधा इति मेधाविनाम । (NG 3, 15)=Very wise, genius.

Sūktam—23

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā-Indra. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti. Svaras-Dhaivata and Panchama.

The duties and attributes of Indra (king) are told :

सुत इत्त्वं निमिंश्ल इन्द्र सोमे स्तोमे ब्रह्मंणि शस्यमान उक्थे ।
यद्वां युक्ताभ्यां मघवन्हरिभ्यां बिभ्रद्वज्रं बाह्वोरिन्द्र यासिं ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—killer of the foes! you are worthy of respect, as you become prosperous king, on the occasion of your praise on acquisition of the admirable wealth that is worth bearing or speaking. Endowed with that wealth and accomplished by two men who take away sins from you (by their good teachings) (that is) teachers and preachers, you bear the thunderbolt—like powerful weapon in your hands.

PURPORT :—The kingdom of those kings becomes stable, who cherish their subjects like their fathers, with alertness and bear powerful arms. They drive away the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(निमिश्लः) नितरा मिश्रः। =Endowed with mixed. (सोमे) ऐश्वर्ये । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (स्वा. भ.) अत्र ऐश्वर्याग्रहणम् ।=In wealth or prosperity. (हरिभ्याम्) हरणशीलाभ्यां मनुष्याभ्याम्। हरयः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) =By two men, who with their good teaching drive away sins.

What should a king do is elaborated :

यद्वां दिवि पार्ये सुष्विमिन्द्र वृत्रहत्येऽवसि शूरसातौ ।
यद्वा दक्षस्य बिभ्युषो अबिभ्यदरन्धयः शर्धत इन्द्र दस्यून् ॥२॥

2, TRANSLATION :—O Indra (destroysr of the wicked) ! you protect an industrious devotee in the exalted and desirable dealing, in the battle where heroes are divided in two parties (camps) and which is like the destruction of the cloud. You are not afraid of fthe mighty person, who on the other hand is afraid of you. You being fearless and undaunted kill the powerful, wicked robbers who take other's property by force.

PURPORT :—He alone deserves to be a king who protects and leads his army in the battle and slays the enemies, thieves and robbers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरन्धयः) हिंसय। रध-हिंससंराध्योः (दिवा.) अत्र हिंसार्थकः ।=Destroy. (दस्यून्) बलात्परस्वाऽऽदातृन् । दसु-उपक्षये (दिवा.)= Robbers, taking away by force other's wealth. (शर्धतः) बलवः ।= Powerful, mighty.

The same subject of a king's duties is continued :

पाता सुतमिन्द्रो अस्तु सोमं प्रणेनीरुग्रो जरितारमूती ।
कर्ता वीराय सुष्वय उ लोकं दाता वसु स्तुवते कीरये चित् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let that prosperous king be our ruler who protects us with his protective powers, is exceedingly tusj, full of splendour, guards the extractor of the Soma juice, who is admirer of good virtues. Let him be our administrator who gives to the brave devotee of God, who is admirer of good man, and bestowes upon him good dwelling place and wealth.

PURPORT :—O men ! regard him only as a king, who is knower of all shastras, is industrious, righteous and a man of self-control.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रणेनीः) प्रकर्षेण न्यायकृत् ।=A very good dispenser of justice. (कीरये) स्तावकाय । कीरिः इति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) =Praiser of God and the virtues of good men.

What should men do—is further told :

ब्रह्माणि हि चकृषे वर्धनानि तावत्त इन्द्र मतिभिर्विविष्मः ।
सुते सोमे सुतपाः शंतमानि राण्ड्या क्रियास्म वक्षणानि यज्ञैः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O King ! endowed with great wealth, we along with other good men, pervade the various kinds of wealth which you produce and which are increasers of happiness. May we and the protector of the produced articles perform acts that are bestowers of great happiness with the Yajnas, or dealings leading to the wealth (material as well as spiritual) enjoyable things conveying joy to all.

PURPORT .—Men should imitate a good act done by others. All should acquire prosperity by united efforts and then protect the people with justice.

NOTES & REMARKS - (रान्द्र्या) रान्द्र्याणि रन्तुं योग्यानि । रमु-क्रीडायाम् (भ्वा०)=Enjoyable. (वक्षणानि) प्रापकाणि । वह-प्रापणे (भ्वा०) =Leading to joy. What should men do—is further explained :

स मन्दस्वा ह्यनु जोषमुग्र प्र त्वा यज्ञास इमे अंश्नुवन्तु ।
प्रेमे हवासः पुरुहूतमस्मे आ त्वेयं धीरवंस इन्द्र यम्याः ॥८॥

8. TARNSLATION :—O Indra ! you are expert in knowledge and actions. Let all yajnas (righteous dealings) come to you. Let all acts of charity, acceptance of good virtues and eating good nourishing and pure food, come to you, who are admired by many. Let this intellect be for our protection and growth. Attain that with self-control. Give that to us. Be joyful with love—doing all these good deeds.

PURPORT :—O men ! always promote that intellect and those actions by which true knowledge and bliss may grow more and more.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जोषम्) प्रीतिम् । जुषी-प्रीतिसेवनयो: । अत्र प्रीत्यर्थ: =Love. (यज्ञास:) सर्वे धर्म्या व्यवहारा: । यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरण दानेषु (भ्वा०) =All righteous acts or dealings, so all good acts are included in yajna. (इवास:) दानाऽऽदानाऽदनाख्या: ।=Charity, acceptance of good virtues and eating good and nourishing pure food.

How should men deal with one another—is told :

तं वः सखायः सं यथा सुतेषु सोमेभिरीं पृणता भोजमिन्द्रम् ।
कुवित्तस्मा असति नो भराय न सुष्विमिन्द्रोऽवसे मृधाति ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O friends ! gladden that Indra—the king who is destroyer of enemies, who is nourisher and causer of prosperity and who does not kill for your's and our's protection and nourishment when (his) acts leading to prosperity are accomplished. Gladden him by giving good food and pure water etc. which may cause great delight to him.

PURPORT :—Those persons who protect one another having given up attachment and repulsion, enjoy much happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सोमेभि:) ऐश्वर्यप्रेरणादिक्रियाभि: । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययो: (भ्वा०) । प्रसव:-प्रेरणा ।=By the acts of impulsion etc. which lead to prosperity. Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bhāradvāja. Devatā—Indra. Chhandas—Pankti, Trishtup and Brihati. Svaras—Panchama, Dhaivata and Madhyama.

What should a king do—is told :

वृषा मद इन्द्रे श्लोक उक्था सचा सोमेषु सुतपा ऋजीषी ।
अर्चत्र्यो मघवा नृभ्य उक्थैर्द्युक्षो राजा गिरामक्षितोतिः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—That man only, who is the mightiest, blissful, praised even among wealthy persons, united with all by love, great ascetic, man of upright nature, and endowed with earned wealth, whose protection (which) does not decay (is the right man to ensure protection of all). Such a person brilliant, shining on account of his admirable actions. utterer of speeches full of justice and knowledge for men, hearer of the requests or complaints of his subjects. Honour him because he is fit to rule and none else.

PURPORT :—O men! that person becomes glorious and renowned everywhere who is always engaged in doing good deeds, is truthful, man of self-control and protector of the subjects like his father.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(श्लोक:) वाक् श्लोक इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Speech. (उक्था) प्रशंसितानि कर्माणि। (उक्था) वच-परिभाषणे। पातृ तुदिविवचिरिचिसिचिभ्य:स्थक् (उणादिकोषे 2, 7) इति थक् प्रत्यय:। =Admirable deeds. (ऋजीषी) सरलगुणकर्मस्वभाव: =Whose merits actions and temperament are upright.

What is the relation between the sun and the earth—is told :

अक्षो न चक्र्योः शूर बृहन्प्र ते मह्ना रिरिचे रोदस्योः ।
वृक्षस्य नु ते पुरुहूत वया व्यूतयो रुरुहुरिन्द्र पूर्वीः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O great hero! the lofty axle of your wheels is not surpassed by any thing between heaven and earth in greatness, and your ancient protections grow on like the branches of a tree. O revered by many! Let all men know this.

PURPORT :—As the axles of wheel are supporters of the wheels, extend like the branches of the trees, which stand in the firmament (above earth), in the same manner, all worlds (planets) revolve around the sun and all good people tread upon the path of justice.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रोदस्योः) द्यावापृथिव्योः। रोदसीति द्यावापृथिवीनाम (NG 3, 30) =Between the heaven and earth. (रिरिचे) अतिरिणक्ति। रिचिर्-विरेचने (रुधा०)=Surpasses. (वयाः) शाखाः। (भावार्थे व्याख्यातः) =Branches.

How should the king and his subjects deal with one another :

शचीवतस्ते पुरुशाक शाका गवामिव स्रुतयः संचरणीः ।
वत्सानां न तन्तयस्त इन्द्र दामन्वन्तो अदामानः सुदामन् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O very powerful king! destroyer of miseries, your lands who are endowed with much power (energy) and good progeny are full of energy like the movements of the cows. Your subjects are the objects of love like the vast line of the calves. O king! bound well by the laws and rules of good conduct, you should free those persons who are fettered (on account of injustice and oppression).

PURPORT :—There is simile in the mantra. Those kings are of admirable influence who free their subject from injustice and oppression and urge them to tread upon the path of righteousness. As cows are the fosterers and developers of their calves, so the officers of the State are the developers of the people.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शचीवत:) प्रज्ञाप्रजायुक्तस्य । शचीति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)=Endowed with wisdom and progeny or good subjects. (तन्तय:) विस्तीर्णा: =Vast lines. (दामन्वन्त:) बहुबन्धना: =Much fettered. Bound by injustice and oppression.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :— शंचिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) Though in the extant editions of the Vedic Lexicon named Nighantu, the reading is शच्चि इति प्रज्ञानाम but Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati's commentry shows clearly that in the edition of the Nighantu, that he consulted there was also the reading शचीति प्रज्ञानाम. On the basis of it, in his commentaries he has explained the word शची as प्रजा also for instance in Rig 4.30.17 शचीपति:-प्रजापति: । Rig. 6.44.9 शचीभि:-प्रज्ञाभि:-कर्मभिर्वा प्रजाभि: सह Research is required regarding this to find out ancient manuscript.

मित्रो नो अत्र वरुणश्च पूषार्यो वशस्य पर्येतास्ति ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—That king enjoys much happiness who does one work to—day, another tomorrow and in this way always discharges his duty again and again being very active. He is friend, the best, nourisher the lord of the obedient persons.

PURPORT :—O men ! the king who performs good acts every day again and again, becomes like a friend of all by giving up all injustice and is dealing with all impartially. All become obedient to him or under his control.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(करवरम्) कर्त्तव्यं कर्म। (इ) कृञ्-करणे (तना०)= The work to be done as a duty. (अर्यः) स्वामी। अर्य इति ईश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22) =Master, lord. (आचक्रिः) समन्तात्कर्त्ता।=Doer from all sides again and again, very active.

The relations between the king and his subjects – is dealt :

वि त्वदापो न पर्वतस्य पृष्ठादुक्थेभिरिन्द्रानयन्त यज्ञैः।
तं त्वाभिः सुष्टुतिभिर्वाजयन्त आजिं न जग्मुर्गिर्वाहो अश्वाः ॥६॥

6.TRANSLATION : O king ! great scholars who convey their ideas through appropriate words, lead you forward with admirable acts and Yajnas (performance of philanthropic works) as water from the mountain's ridge. Brave persons go to the battle-field gladdening you with these praises.

PURPORT :—O king ! as the water from the top of the mountain goes to (flows down) a tank or spring, so with those well-wishers of the subjects who approach you, make satisfactory progress or advancement in all directions.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञैः) सत्कर्मानुष्ठानैः। यज-देवपूजा-सङ्गतिकरण-दानेषु (भ्वा०)। यज्ञै सर्वेषां शुभकर्मणामन्तर्भावः=By the noble deeds. What should men do—is further told :

न यं जरंन्ति शरदो न मासा न द्याव इन्द्रमवकृशयंन्ति ।
वृद्धस्यं चिद्वर्धतामस्य तनूः स्तोमेंभिरुक्थैश्च शस्यमांना ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened persons ! serve that great scholar whom neither months nor autumn seasons wither with age, nor fleeting days enfeeble, still may his body work by taking admirable and praiseworthy articles and good words of advice (imparted) by experts. It is God whom neither months, nor sun and other objects nor autumn and other seasons wither away, nor fleeting days enfeeble. You must serve that God sincerely.

PURPORT :– That scholar only can work in his old age, who makes all wise, of good character and of righteous conduct. Those persons who adore God, who is Immortable and free from the defects of birth, death and old age etc. become praiseworthy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जरन्ति) जीर्णां कुर्वन्ति । जृष्-वयोहानौ (दिवा.)= Wither with age. (अवकर्शयन्ति) कृशं कर्तुं शक्नुवन्ति । कृश-तनूकरणे (दिवा०)= Enfeeble.

What should men do—is again told :

न वीळवे नमंते न स्थिराय न शर्धते दस्युजूताय स्तवान् ।
अज्रा इन्द्रस्य गिरयश्चिदृष्वा गंम्भीरे चिद्भवति गाधमंस्मै ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! praise that bold person who bends (cannot be coerced) not to the strong but of wicked nature, nor the steady, nor to the bold initated by the thieves or robbers. He does not admire such strength of the wicked. The attributes or properties of electricity (power) which throw away articles, are great like the clouds. Its glory or power is deep and immeasurable. So God's power is the greatest and infinite.

PURPORT :—As the properties of electricity are great, so are the attributes of God. Those who having given up the communion with God and association of the absolutely truthful persons, associate themselves with the wicked are always miserable.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दस्युजूताय) दुष्टसङ्गाय ।=For the association of the wicked. (वीलवे) प्रशंसनीयाय बलाय । वीलु इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) =For admirable strength. (अज्राः) प्रक्षेप्तारः (अज्राः) अज-गतिक्षेपणयोः (भ्वा.) । अत्र क्षेपणार्थः ।=Throwers. (ऋष्वाः) महान्तः । ऋष्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)=Great. (शर्धते) बलाय । शर्धः इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=For the force.

The same subject of men's duties is continued :

9. TRANSLATION :—O mighty purifier of the produced objects, give the strengthening food materials and other things by your deep and great power. Give us knowledge, being non-violent, standing up erect to protect us at the time when the gloom of night brightens to morning.

PURPORT :—Those persons who observing Yamas (restraints) and Niyamas (observance) endeavour day and night to accomplish work, become exalted.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(परितक्म्यायाम्) निशिः । परितक्म्या इति पदनाम (NG 4, 1) पदी-गतौ अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय ।=In the night. (अक्तोः) रात्रेः अक्तुः इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) विश्राम प्रापिका रात्रिरित्यर्थः=Of the night. (व्युष्टौ) प्रभाते ।=In the morning. (अरिषण्यन्) अहिंसयन् । रिष्-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा०) =Non—harming.

The men's duties are told :

सचस्व नायमवसे अभीके इतो वा तमिन्द्र पाहि रिषः ।
अमा चैनमरण्ये पाहि रिषो मदेम शतहिमाः सुवीराः ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king or enlightened person ! living near us, be just for our protection. Protect him from the violent people when he is here at, home or in the forest. Keep him away from all wicked conduct. May we live for a hundred winters (years) being surrounded by all heroes.

PURPORT :—Those who are highly learned persons, whether they are near or far, having developed their intellect by the just conduct and the practice of Yoga should protect the people industriously in quarters (buildings) of the cities or in the forests.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमा) गृहे । अमा इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4)= At home. (रिष:) हिंसकात् ।=From a violent person. (रिष:) (2) दुष्टाचरणात् ।=From wicked conduct. (अभीके) समीपे । प्रपित्वे अभीके इत्यासन्नस्य (NKT 3, 4, 20)=Near.

Sūktam—25

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaja. Devatā—Indra. Chhandas—Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras-Panchama and Dhaivata.

What should a king do—is told :

या त ऊतिरवमा या परमा या मध्यमेन्द्र शुष्मिन्नस्ति ।
ताभिरू षु वृत्रहत्येऽवीर्न एभिश्च वाजैर्महान्न उग्र ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you are administrator of justice and endowed with admirable strength and splendour, with your protections whether they are the least, the midmost or the highest support us well in battles. You being great with speediness and other good qualities, protect us well.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you protect the subjects, they will also protect or support you from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुष्मिन्) प्रशंसितबलयुक्त। शुष्मम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)=Endowed with admirable strength. (वृत्रहत्ये) वृत्रस्य मेघस्य हत्येव हननं यस्मिन्त्सङ्ग्रामे। वृत्रतूर्ये इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17)=In the battle where enemies are killed like the clouds by the sun.

What should a commander of the army do—is told :

आभिः स्पृधो मिथतीररिषण्यन्नमित्रस्य व्यथया मन्युमिन्द्र।
आभिर्विश्वा अभियुजो विषूचीरार्याय विशोऽव तारीर्दासीः॥२॥

2\. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—commander of the army ! with these your protection or armies, discomfit the hosts of the enemy that fight against us and check them by your wrath not slaying un-righteously or uselessly. With these protections or armies, chase the foes to every quarter and subdues the female servants that are scattered everywhere and are engaged in doing their work (to do service) for good and righteous persons. Drive away all miseries of the people.

PURPORT :—Those Commanders of the armies only should be honoured, who having trained their armies well, protect and honour them and making them experts in the science of warfare, drive away all thieves and robbers and unjust enemies and incessantly protect righteous people.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(मिथतीः) शत्रुसेनाः हिंसन्तीः मेथृ-मेधाहिंसनयोः (भ्वा०) अत्र हिंसार्थकः।=Killing the armies of the enemies. (इन्द्र) सेनाध्यक्ष। सेना वा इन्द्राणी (मैत्रायणी सं० 2, 2, 5; काठक सहिता 1, 10) तस्मात् इन्द्र-सेनानीः।=Commander of the army. (आर्याय) उत्तमाय जनाय। आर्यः-ईश्वरपुत्रः (NKT 6, 5, 26) अर्यः इतीश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22)=For a good man.

The Commander's duties are further elaborated :

इन्द्रं जामयं उत येऽजामयोऽर्वाचीनासों वनुषों युयुज्रे ।
त्वमेषां विथुरा शवांसि जहि वृष्ण्यांनि कृणुही पराचः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Commander of the army ! you smash the strength of the enemy like the faithful wives eliminate the upkeeps. Besides strengthen your own army, in order to defeat the enemies.

PURPORT :—They alone are good (defence) ministers who defend their people like their own sons and punish the wicked by strengthening their army and thus subdue the enemy.

———

What should the king and his ministers do—is told :

शूरों वा शूरं वनते शरीरैस्तनूरुचा तरुषि यत्कृण्वैते ।
तोके वा गोषु तनये यदप्सु वि क्रन्दसी उर्वरासु ब्रवैते ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O officers of the State ! with strong body, the hero slays the hero in the battle and honours good brave men. They make loud sounds when fighting. They make about the welfare of their infants and grown up children and make proper use of the earth, water and the tongue.

PURPORT :—O men! as in the battles, heroes divide the heroes, so the king and ministers should distinguish between good and bad men and appointed officers discriminately and command them. As an expert in agriculture enlighten the peasants about agriculture, so a man should urge his children to receive good education with the observance of Brahmacharya.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तनूरुचा) या तनूषु रुक् प्रीतिस्तया । रुच-दीप्ता-

वभिप्रीतौ च (न्या०) अद्माभिः प्रीत्यर्थं तोकम् इत्यपत्यनाम (NG 2, 2)। तनयः इत्यपत्यनाम NG 2, 2)। Love with the body and its development. (उर्वरासु) पृथिव्यादिनिमित्तेषु = Regarding the fertile lands.

How should a king be—is told :

नहि त्वा शूरो न तुरो न धृष्णुर्न त्वा योधो मन्यमानो युयोध ।
इन्द्र नकिष्ट्वा प्रत्यस्त्येषां विश्वा जातान्यभ्यसि तानि ॥५॥

5\. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—Commander of the army ! no hero, no prompt violent person, no impertinent (or bold) brave, no bad warrior proud of his valour can fight with you. None of them is match for you. You far surpass all their strength and achieve victory. Thus you get good reputation.

PURPORT :—The king, officers of the State and especially the men of the army should develop their power and knowledge in such a manner that none should dare to fight with them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुरः) हिंसकः शीघ्रकारी। तुर-त्वरणे (जुहो.) तूरी-गतित्वरण हिंसनयोः (दिवा०)। = A prompt or violent person. (मन्यमानः) अभिमानी सन्। Being proud of his valour. (धृष्णुः) धृष्टः। = Impertiment or bold.

What should a king do—is told :

स पत्यत उभयोर्नृम्णमयोर्यदी वेधसः समिथे हवन्ते ।
वृत्रे वा महो नृवति क्षये वा व्यचस्वन्ता यदि वितन्तसैते ॥६॥

6\. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you who are the lord of both subjects and your armies, if you divide or collect the wealth (which men enjoy) and if two heroes who are endowed with abundant wealth and live in a comfortable big house full of men fight, one of them achieves victory. Those who are extraordinarily wise, and face challenge in the battle, they are surely victorious.

PURPORT :—That king always achieves victory who having given up all partiality, deals with justice with both the friends and the foes, who appoints all righteous and wise men incharge of all departments and who appoints men of noble families and firmly loyal heroes in the army—is always victorious.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नृम्णम्) नरा रमन्ते यस्मिंस्तद्धनम् । नृम्णम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Wealth which is enjoyed by men. (वेधसः) मेधाविनः । वेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)=Extraordinarily wise men, genius. (वितन्तसैते) भृशं युध्येताम् तन्तस्-दुःखे (काङ्क्षादिः) अत्र दुःखजनकेयुद्धे ।=Fight well.

What should a king do—is again told :

अधं स्मा ते चर्षणयो यदेजानिन्द्रं त्रातोत भवा वरूता ।
अस्माकांसो ये नृतमासो अर्य इन्द्रं सूरयो दधिरे पुरो नः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (piercer of the wicked) ! when our great leaders who are highly learned and experts in all dealings, uphold our cities, you be their saviour, and the being best be their lord. O the manliest of our friends, king giver of great wealth, make your enemies cowards and trembling with fear and be our best protector.

PURPORT :—O king ! appoint such persons as originally belong to this state, are born in noble families, in the army only and in charge of defence department for the protection of the State and safeguard them well ceaselessly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चर्षणयः) सर्वव्यवहारविचक्षणा मनुष्याः । चर्षणयः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3) चर्षणिः इति पदनाम पद-गतौ गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् ज्ञानसम्पन्नत्वात् सर्वव्यवहारे विचक्षणः ।=Men who are experts in all dealings. (अर्यः) ईश्वरः स्वामी वा । अर्यः इति ईश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22)=Lord. (वरूता) श्रेष्ठः) =The best.

What should a king do—is further told :

अनु॑ ते दायि म॒ह इ॑न्द्रि॒याय॑ स॒त्रा ते॒ विश्व॒मनु॑ वृत्र॒हत्ये॑ ।
अनु॑ क्ष॒त्रमनु॒ सहो॑ यजत्रेन्द्र॑ दे॒वेभि॒रनु॑ ते नृ॒षह्ये॑ ॥८॥

8 TRANSLATION :—O piecer of the wicked—Indra! the most revered king, to you have been given in the battle all lordly power and might along with the enlightened persons; for your wealth, with truth whole world is given. For the battle where the wicked are slaughtered like the cloud, great kingdom or wealth has been given, great energy has been given to you and great happiness.

PURPORT :—O king ! do always good deeds. Being accordant with good persons, honour them constantly with wealth and other things. Having known all political science, with the association of the scholars who are preachers of truth, propagate it constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रियाय) धनाय। इन्द्रियम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10)=For wealth. (वृत्रहत्ये) मेघहननमिव सङ्ग्रामे वृत्र इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)=In the battle where the wicked persons are slaughtered like the clouds. (क्षत्रम्) राज्यं धनं वा।=Kingdom or wealth.

What should a king do—is again told :

ए॒वा न॒: स्पृध॒: सम॑जा स॒मत्स्विन्द्र॑ रार॒न्धि मि॑थ॒तीरदे॑वीः ।
वि॒द्याम॒ वस्तो॒रव॑सा गृ॒णन्तो॑ भ॒रद्वा॑जा उ॒त त॑ इन्द्र नू॒नम् ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! (piercer of the strength of the foes), enlighten us who are combating and destroy all violent undivine forces in the battle. O Indra giver of all happiness ! by your protection praising you in the day—let us the upholders of pure knowledge achieve victory.

PURPORT :—All heroes resort to the king who is always a protector and who trains all brave warriors well, and then urges them for the battle.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ररन्धि) रन्धय हिंधि । अत्र तुजादीनामित्यभ्यास-दैर्घ्यम् । रध-हिंसासंराध्योः (दिवा.) अत्र हिंसार्थः ।=Destroy. (मिथतीः) हिंसतीः । मिथृ मेधा हिंसनयोः । (भ्वा०) अत्रहिंसार्थकः ।=Resorting to violence. ((भरद्वाजाः) धृतशुद्धविज्ञानाः । वाजः वजगतौ (भ्वा.) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् भृज-धारणपोषणयोः अत्र धारणार्थकः ।=Upholding pure knowledge.

Sūktam—26

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaja. Devatā—Indra. Chhandas—Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras-Panchama and Dhaivata.

How should a king and his subjects deal with one another—is told :

श्रुधी नं इन्द्र ह्वयामसि त्वा महो वाजस्य सातौ वावृषाणाः ।
सं यद्विशोऽयन्त शूरसाता उग्रं नोऽवः पार्ये अहन्दाः ॥१॥

1 TRANSLATION :—O king ! showing strength we, your people call on you and tell about our condition in the great battle where heroes are divided. Hear our prayers or requests. Against those who come to us at the time of the battle, in the day which is to be preserved, give us strong protection.

PURPORT :—It is the bounden duty of the kings to listen attentively to what the subjects say, so that there may not be a conflict between the rulers and the people and happiness may grow day by day.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वावृषाणाः) वृषं बलं कुर्वाणाः अत्र तुजादीनामित्यभ्यासदीर्घः । वृष-संभक्तौ (भ्वा.) ।=Showing strength. (शूरसातौ) शूराणां सातिर्विभागो यस्मिंस्तस्मिन्त्सङ्ग्रामे ।=In the battle where the heroes are divided in two opposite camps. (पार्ये) पालयितव्ये । पृ-पालन पूरणयोः (जु.) =To be preserved or supported.

त्वां वाजी हवते वाजिनेयो महो वाजस्य गध्यस्य सातौ ।
त्वां वृत्रेष्विन्द्र सत्पतिं तरुत्रं त्वां चष्टे मुष्टिहा गोषु युध्यन् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—king ! destroyer of the wicked, as the son of a highly learned mother and himself a mighty scholar calls upon you and enlightens you for the distribution or dissemination of the true knowledge worthy of attainment by all, so he tells you to be great in the matter of acquiring wealth protector of the righteous people. A man who fights on the face of the earth and uses his fists and other organs to slay his foes, tells you to be the saviour from difficulties by helping with riches.

PURPORT :- O king ! you should be present whereever your subjects desire you to be present, to please them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजिनेयः) वाजिन्या ज्ञानवत्या अपत्यम् । वज-गतौ गतेस्त्रिस्वर्थंस्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=The son of a highly learned and wise mother. (वाजी) वेगवान् ज्ञानीजनः । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2,9)= A mighty and highly learned wise man. (गध्यस्य) सुर्वैः प्राप्तुं योग्यस्य । गध्यं गृह्णातेः (NKT 5,3,15) ग्रहण्योग्यं प्राप्त व्यमित्यर्थः ।=Of the knowledge worthy of attainment by all. (चष्टे) कथयामि ।=I tell, say.

———

What should a king do is—again told :

त्वं कविं चोदयोऽर्कसातौ त्वं कुत्साय शुष्णं दाशुषे वर्क् ।
त्वं शिरो अमर्मणः पराहन्नतिथिग्वाय शंस्यं करिष्यन् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you urge a farsighted learned person to distribute food materials among the needy and deserving. You slay a mighty but exploiter for the protection of a devotee and for the proper use of your thunderbolt like weapon. You behead an invulnerable but cruel demon and do good to hospitable person. Therefore you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—A king should appoint only men endowed with knowledge, humility and other good virtues for administraitve work. He should get good reputation by being giver of knowledge and thus advancing the State.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्कसातौ) अन्नादिविभागे। अर्क इति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) षण-संभक्तौ ।=In the distribution of food and other things. (कुत्साय) वज्राय। कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) ।=For the thunderbolt. (वर्क्) छनत्सि ।=Cleave, destroy.

———

The same subject of the duties of a king—is continued :

त्वं रथं प्र भरो योधमृष्वमावो युध्यन्तं वृषभं दशद्युम् ।
त्वं तुग्रं वेतसवे सचाहन्त्वं तुजिं गृणन्तमिन्द्र तूतोः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (Chief commander of the army) ! you bring forward a charming car. Protect a very powerful warrior, who is giver of light with all his ten fingers—hands and other organs when fighting with the wicked. Slay a mighty and wealthy wicked person and multiply the power of a mighty devotee of God, who is full of splendour.

PURPORT :—That king enjoys much happiness who encourages the construction of various vehicles and the heroes expert in military science.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुग्रम्) तेजस्विनम्। (तुग्रम) तुज-हिंसा बलादान निकेतनेषु अत्र व लार्थे मायाय व्याख्या ।=Full of splendour. (तुजिम्) बलिष्ठम्। (तुजिम) बलिष्ठम अत्रा तुजधातोर्बलार्थं एवं ग्रहीतः अथवा तुजि-पालने (भ्वा०) पालको बलिष्ठ एव सम्भवति नाल्पबली भीरुर्वा ।=The mightiest. (वेतसवे) व्याप्तैश्वर्ये। =In a wealthy person or vast prosperity. (दशद्युम्) दशभिरङ्गुलिभिः प्रकाशप्रदम् ।=Giver of light with all the ten fingers i.e. hands and other organs. (वृषभम्) बलिष्ठम्। वृष-शक्तिबन्धने (चुरा.) ।=The mightiest.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—It is wrong on the part of Shri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others to take वृषभम् दशद्युम, तुजिम् and तुग्रम् as the proper nouns as names of some kings or demons, as it is against the fundamental principles of the Vedic Terminology. The uncertainity and mere guess work of these interpretations is evident from the fact that Sayanacharya explains वेतसवे in two quite different ways वेतसुनीम् कश्चिदसुरः यद्वा वेतसवे इति तृतीयार्थे चतुर्थी । वेतसेनासुरेण संहितं तुग्रं हतवानसि इति (सायणाचार्यः स्वकीय भाष्ये) Rishi Dayanand Sarasvati has given the derivative meanings of all these words following the Nirukta doctrine that सर्वाणि नामानि आख्यातजानि: i. e. all names are derived from the Verbroots and Meemansa principle that परन्तु श्रुति सामान्य मात्रम् (मीमांसा शास्त्रे 1, 31) which Sayanacharya himself has quoted approvingly in the Introduction to his Commentary on the Rigveda, but which he has unfortunately not been able to follow. thus contradicting his own statement.

The same subject of duties of a king—is continued :

त्वं तदुक्थमिन्द्र बृहणा कः प्र यच्छता सहस्रा शूर दर्षि ।
अव गिरेर्दासं शम्बरं हन्प्रावो दिवोदासं चित्राभिरूती ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—king-giver of happiness ! with wonderful protections you utter the admirable words encouraging people thereby. O destroyer of your enemies ! you destroy hundreds of thousands of the foes. You slay a servant and accomplice of the wicked foe, pleasing him who like cloud covers or obstructs the happiness of good persons.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always increase the power and wealth of your subjects, destroy the wicked and serve the enlightened persons, so that there may be infinite happiness or joy for all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बर्हणा) वर्धनेन । बृह-वृद्धौ (भ्वा०) ।=By an act that makes people grow or by encouraging. (गिरेः) मेघस्य । गिरिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1,10)=Of the cloud. The same subject of the duties of a king—is continued :

त्वं श्रद्धाभिर्मन्दसानः सोमैर्दभीतये चुमुरिमिन्द्र सिष्वप् ।
त्वं रजिं पिठीनसे दशस्यन्षष्टिं सहस्रा शच्या सचाहन् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! being delighted with the upholding of truth and wealth, for the elimination of misery, you make to sleep an eater of good food. Smite down your enemies with wisdom and good action, as the sun destroys the clouds, giving sixty thousands or innumerable articles.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should always foster your subjects with perfect love and justice. Increase your good reputation by appointing thousands of the righteous and highly learned persons in-charge of various departments and works.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दभीतये) दुःखहिंसनाय। दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) ।=For destroying misery. (चुमुरिम्) अत्तारम् । चमु-अदने (भ्वा०) । =Eater. (दशस्यन्) प्रयच्छन् ।=Giving.

The same subject is continued :

अहं चन तत्सूरिभिरानश्यां तव ज्याय इन्द्र सुम्नमोजः ।
त्वया यत्स्तवन्ते सधवीर वीरास्त्रिवरूथेन नहुषा शविष्ठ ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O mightiest king (bestower of happiness) ! living with us let me enjoy that state which is glorified with brave thoughtful enlightened persons, with you who have houses comfortable in winter, summer, and rainy seasons and along with other scholars. Let me also enjoy that admirable delight and strength.

PURPORT :—Those persons enjoy very good happiness who with the association of the enlightened persons, perform righteous and admirable actions being industrious.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नहुषा) मनुष्यः । नहुष इति मनुष्यनाम

(NG 2,3) ।=Thoughtful men. (त्रिवरूथेन) त्रीणि त्रिविधानि शीतोष्ण वर्षा सुख कराणि वरूथानि गृहाणि यस्य तेन । वरूथम् इति गृहनाम (NG 3,4) ।= Houses comfortable in the winter, summer and rainy-in all the three main seasons.

The same subject of the duties of a king—is continued :

वयं तं अस्यामिन्द्र द्युम्नहूतौ सखायः स्याम महिन प्रेष्ठाः ।
प्रातर्दनिः क्षत्रश्रीरस्तु श्रेष्ठो घने वृत्राणां सनये धनानाम् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O glorious Indra—king (bestower of all happiness) ! at this holy invocation with wealth or glory, may we be your best beloved friends. You being a liberal donor every morning be an illustrious ruler in the destruction of the obstructors of righteousuess and distribution of wealth of various kinds.

PURPORT :—Good men should have friendship with that king who is accepted as lover of virtues and industrious, protector of the noble persons and remover of the wicked and the friend of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्युम्नहूतौ) द्युम्नेन धनेन यशसा वा हूतिराह्वानं यस्यां तस्याम्. द्युम्नमिति धननाम (NG 2, 10) । द्युम्नं द्योततेर्यशोवा अन्नं वेति (NKT 5,1,5) ।=An act in which there is an invocation with wealth or glory. (प्रातर्दनिः) प्रातःकाले दनिर्दानं यस्य ।=Who is a liberal donor every morning. (क्षत्रश्रीः) राज्य लक्ष्मीः । क्षत्रं हि राष्ट्रम् (ऐतरेये 7,22) । =Endowed with the wealth of the State.

Sūktam—27

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaaja, Devatā or subject Indra and Dāna stuti. Chhandas—Trishtup and Ushnik of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata and Rishabha.

Some questions are put in the first mantra :

किमस्य मदे किम्वस्य पीताविन्द्रः किमस्य सख्ये चकार ।
रणा वा ये निषदि किं ते अस्य पुरा विविद्रे किमु नूतनासः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O good physician ! what does Indra-the destroyer of miseries do in the delight of this Soma (juice of Soma and other nourishing plants) what does he do in this drinking or friendship with it ? Those who are delighted in this house, what they of old time or recent know about it and what do they do ?

PURPORT :—These are some of the questions regarding the drinking of Soma juice. The answers to these questions are given in the next mantra.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मदे) आनन्दे । मदी-हर्षे (दिवा.) ।=In the delight. (रणा:) रममाणा: । रमु-क्रीडायाम् (भ्वा०) ।=Delighted. (निषदि) निषविन्ति यस्मिन् तस्मिन् गृहे ।=In the house. (विविद्रे) विदन्ति । विद-ज्ञाने(अ०) =Know.

What articles should be used—is told :

सदस्य मदे सद्वस्य पीताविन्द्रः सदस्य सख्ये चकार ।
रणा वा ये निषदि सत्ते अस्य पुरा विविद्रे सदु नूतनासः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O seekers after truth ! a highly learned expert physician does attain true knowledge free from sloth in the delight of this Soma. On its drinking also he does true or good deeds only. In its friendship (constant use and love) he does the same thing. Those who live in the house, being delighted whether old or young obtain only truth.

PURPORT :—Men should always abstain from taking intoxicants and take only such things which increase intellect, strength, span of life and energy, so that happiness may ever grow.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सत्) प्रमादरहितं सत्यं ज्ञातम् ।=True knowledge free from sloth. (विविद्रे) लाभन्ते । विद्लृ-लाभे (तुदा०) ।=To obtain.

What should men meditate upon—is told :

नहि नु तें महिमनः समस्य न मघवन् मघवत्त्वस्यं विद्म ।
न राधंसो राधसो नूतनस्येन्द्र नकिर्ददृश इन्द्रियं तें ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O lord and Giver of all wealth ! there is none who is equal to your entire glory. None has seen and known your lordship and might perfectly. None has seen your wonderful riches productive of ever new wealth. None has ever seen your senses as you are absolutely formless. So we adore you or have communion with you.

PURPORT :- O men ! always medidate upon that One God Whose Glory is unequalled and whose power is un-parallelled and who is absolutely formless. He is Omnipresent and Indwelling Universal spirit ever to be adored.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्र) परमैश्वर्यप्रदेश्वर । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा०) । =O Lord Giver of great wealth. (राधस:) धनस्य । राध इति धननाम (NG 2,10) ।=Of wealth.

How should the kings and their subjects deal with one another—is told :

एतत्त्यत्तं इन्द्रियमंचेति येनावंधीर्वरशिंखस्य शेषः ।
वज्रंस्य यत्ते निहंतस्य शुष्मांत्स्वनाच्चिदिन्द्र परमो ददारं ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king ! full of splendour like the sun, and having good Shikha when you who are great in might pierce, by the force of your descending electric weapon, at the mere sight, even the boldest of the foes, is demolished or becomes senseless. Always terrify the wicked by your might.

PURPORT :—The king who is mighty like the lightning or electricity is, increaser of knowledge, and who illumines in just dealing like the sun, should be regarded as the jewel among kings.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुष्मात्) बलाच्छोषणात् । शुष्मम् इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) ।=By the force. (इन्द्र) सूर्य इव राजन् । अथ यः स इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः (Stph 8,5,3,2) ।=O king full of splendour like the sun.

———

How is an ideal king—is told :

वधीदिन्द्रो वरशिखस्य शेषोऽभ्यावर्तिने चायमानाय शिक्षन् ।
वृचीवतो यद्धरियूपीयायां हन्पूर्वे अर्धे भियसापरो दर्त् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—As the sun smites down the cloud, so a king full of splendour destroys his enemies and gives instruction to a man who approaches him again and again and honours him. He slays the wicked enemies at the place of drinking the Soma of those good men who desire the Munis (hermits) if they disturb them mischiveously. The electric current sent by the king destroys such wicked person. At the same time, while destroying the wicked, we should honour a preacher of truth.

PURPORT :—Those men who in the early part of their life receive good education from scholars and having given up all vices are of good character and temperament, are always afraid of unrighteous conduct (They keep themselves away from all unrighteous acts).

NOTES & REMARKS :—हरियूपीयायाम्) (हरीन् मुनीनिच्छतां पीयायां पानक्रियायाम् । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) । अतीइव मननशीला मुनयो गृहीताः पा-पाने (भ्वा०) ।=In the act of the drinking soma by the noble men desiring the Munis or hermits. (चायमानाय) सत्कर्त्रे ।=For a person honouring good men. (वरशिखस्य) वरा श्रेष्ठा शिखा यस्य, तस्य तद्वत् मेघस्य ।= For a man of good Shikha like the cloud.

What should a king do—is told :

त्रिंशच्छतं वर्मिण इन्द्र साकं यव्यावत्यां पुरुहूत श्रवस्या ।
वृचीवन्तः शरवे पत्यमानाः पात्रा भिन्दाना न्यर्थान्यायन् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O Commander-in-Chief of the army ! admired by many, honour those three thousand (or more) armoured warriors, who being free from diseases, break or shatter into pieces various vehicles of their enemies behaving together like their masters, to destroy them, cannot get in the army where good food of barley etc. is cooked but some how their desire could not be fulfilled on account of certain circumstances.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should keep and honour those great heroes in the army who are of firm resolve and undertaking and ready with their military uniform.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यव्यावत्याम्) यवे भवा यव्याः पाका विद्यन्ते यस्यां सेनायाम् ।=In the army where various preparation of barely etc. are made. (श्रवस्या) श्रवस्यन्ते भवानि । श्रव इति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) ।= Belonging to food.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The exact significance of त्रिंशच्छतम् or three thousand is a matter of further research.

———

What should a king do is further told :

यस्य गावावरुषा सूयवस्यू अन्तरू षु चरतो रेरिहाणा ।
स सृञ्जयाय तुर्वशं परादाद्वृचीवतो दैववाताय शिक्षन् ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! that man can attain inviolable kingdom whose army and policy which are like somewhat red rays, desiring good barley etc. and tasting it move among the people, should throw away all evil giving instructions for the science of divine air and creation to the thoughtful man belonging to the dispeller of darkness of ignorance.

PURPORT :—That king who develops good policy and army obtains inviolable kingdom.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गावो) गावो किरणाविव सेनाराजनीती ।=Army and policy which are like two rays of the sun. (रेरिहाणा) भास्वादयन्त्यो रिह-कत्यनयुक्त निन्दाऽऽदानेषु (तुदा.) ।=Tasting. (सुञ्जयाय) उत्पादनाय ।=For creating. (वृचीवत:) छेदनवत: ।=Pierces (of ignorance etc.)

What should a king do is told further :

द्वयाँ अग्ने र॒थिनो॑ विंश॒तिं गा व॒धूम॑तो म॒घवा॒ मह्यं॑ स॒म्राट् ।
अ॒भ्याव॒र्ती चा॑यमा॒नो द॑दाति दू॒णाशे॒यं दक्षि॑णा पार्थ॒वाना॑म् ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! purifier of virtues like the fire, please those persons who are the owners of the chariots, having good wives, you who are possessor of admirable wealth, shining well by your wisdom, moving about for achieving victory, revered by men, give twenty cows both to the men of army and the subjects. Satisfy me by the sacrificial gift (Dakshina)—guerdon of the highly learned kings which is inviolable.

PURPORT :—The king who makes those persons fearless, who are born in noble families, are experts in knowledge and practical dealing and righteous, belonging to the royal family attains unparalleled glory or reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(द्वयान्) प्रजासेनाजनान् ।=Both the subjects and men of army. (चायमान:) पूज्यमान: ।=Being revered.

Sūktam—28

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaaja. Devata or subject Gavah or Indira. Chhandas—Trishtup, Jagati and Anushtup, Svaras—Dhaivata, Nishada and Gandhaara.

Let men know the attributes of the rays of the sun—is told :

आ गावो॑ अग्मन्नुत भद्रम॑क्रन्त्सीद॑न्तु गो॒ष्ठे र॒णय॑न्त्व॒स्मे ।
प्र॒जाव॑तीः पुरु॒रूपा॑ इ॒ह स्यु॒रिन्द्रा॑य पू॒र्वीरु॒षसो॒ दुहा॑नाः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let the rays of the sun come here and do good to us. Let them come like the cows who bring about good health to us, who make good sound and sit in the cowshed. As the ancient dawns which are multicoloured and bear various kinds of progeny in them for the king fulfilling many desires endowed with great wealth, so let them be so to you also.

PURPORT :—If the rays of the air are purified by growing trees and by the smoke of the fragrant homa (daily yajna) they make all happy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गावः) किरणाः गाव इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1,5)= Rays of the sun and the air. (रणयन्तु) शब्दयन्तु । रणा-शब्दार्थः (भ्वा०) ।=Make sound.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The meaning regarding the cow is clear and has not therefore been particularly explained in the commentary on the hymn.

What should a king do—is further told :

इन्द्रो॒ यज्व॑ने पृण॒ते च॑ शिक्ष॒त्युपेद्द॑दाति॒ न स्वं मु॑षायति ।
भूयो॑भूयो र॒यिमिद॑स्य व॒र्धय॒न्नभि॑न्ने खि॒ल्ये नि द॑धाति देव॒युम् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—That king alone is able to make all grow harmoniously, who increases the wealth of true knowledge and establishes a man desiring the association of the enlightened persons in unified and separate dealing; who does not deprive any one of the knowledge of himself, gives instructions to the performer of the Yajna and to him who makes all happy.

PURPORT :—Those only are most reliable and absolutely truthful and enlightened persons who give again and again the treasure of true knowledge to the deserving seekers of truth without deceit.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वं मुषायति) स्वकीयं बोधं चोरयति । मुष-स्तेये (क्या०) ।=Deprives of the knowledge of self. (खिल्ये) खण्डेषु भवे ।= Belonging to parts. (पृणते) सुखयते । पृण-प्रीण्ने (तुदा०) ।=To the person who makes others happy.

Which is the best donation—is told :

न ता नंशन्ति न दंभाति तस्करो नासामामित्रो व्यथिरा दंधर्षति ।
देवाँश्च याभिर्यजंते ददाति च ज्योगित्ताभिः सचते गोपतिः सह ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—You should acquire the words of knowledge with the observance of Brahmacharya and other rules with which a Yajamana (performer of the Yajnas) honours the enlightened persons and associates with them and gives that knowledge to others. The master of the cows and the pure words ever united himself with them for a long time. The trouble caused by the adversaries cannot subdue them nor can a thief steal them.

PURPORT :—O men ! the donation or gift of knowledge is the best producer of happiness, imperishable, ever—growing and incapable of being stolen by theives. This is what you should all know.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दभाति) हिनस्ति । दभ्नोति वधकर्मा (NG 2,19)। Destroys. (दधर्षति) तिरस्करोति धृष-प्रसहने (चुरा०) ।=Subdues. (सचते) समवैति । षच-समवाये (भ्वा०) ।=Is united, joins.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Other translators of the Vedas like Sayanacharya, Venkat Madhava, Sankara Swami, Prof. Wilson and Griffith have interpreted this and other mantras of the hymn only regarding the cows, which is the apparent meaning but Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati taking the other meaning of गौ=as speech गौरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) has explained the whole hymn in that light.

Who can attain true knowledge and who cannot—is told :

न ता अर्वा रेणुकंकाटो अश्नुते न संस्कृतत्रमुप यन्ति ता अभि ।
उरुगायमभंयं तस्य ता अनु गावो मर्तस्य वि चंरन्ति यज्वंनः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :- O men ! a man who is intelligent and immersed in passions like a horse and who is full of darkness in his heart like a well full of sand, cannot enjoy the Vedic speech. Those ignorant persons who do not approach a preserver of Sanskrit (cultured) pure Vedic speech cannot obtain that. But the pure speech and knowledge is attained by a man who is much raised on account of his divine virtues and who is fearless. Like the rays of the sun, those cultured and pure Vedic words follow a man who associates with the enlightened persons and serves them.

PURPORT :—O men ! those persons whose diet and conduct are impure, who are addicted to licencious pleasures back biters and keeping bad company can never attain true knowledge. Only those whose diet and movements are pure, who are self controlled, utterers of truth, associating with good men, and industrious, attain true knowledge. This is what you should all know well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अर्वा) अश्व इव बुद्धिहीनो विषयासक्तः ।=Un intelligent and licentious person like the horse. (रेणुककाटः) रेणुकाकूप इवान्धकारहृदयः ।=One whose heart is full of darkness of ignorance like the well full of sand. (संस्कृतत्रम्) यः संस्कृतं त्रायते रक्षति तम् ।=To the preserver of Sanskrit or the refined speech.

Man must have the desire of acquiring true knowledge—is told :

गावो भगो गाव इन्द्रों मे अच्छान् गावः सोमस्य प्रथमस्यं भक्षः ।
इमा या गावः स जंनास इन्द्रं इच्छामीद्धृदा मनंसा चिदिन्द्रंम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION ;—O highly learned renowned persons ! as the cows feed their calves with milk, enjoying the first soma (wealth of herbs and grass etc) in the same manner let the cows, noble speeches and good men who are devoted to God give me desirable things. Let a man endowed with knowledge and wealth, who is the master of these pure speeches give me knowledge. I desire to have the knowledge of God who is the lord of the world and an enlightened person with all my heart and mind or knowledge.

PURPORT :– Those persons who desire to acquire knowledge with their soul and heart, enjoy all happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(भगः) ऐश्वर्यमिच्छुः । भज सेवायाम् (भ्वा०) सेवनीयम् ऐश्वर्यंधर्मज्ञान कीर्त्यादिकम् ।=Desirous of acquiring wealth or prosperity. (सोमस्य) ऐश्वर्यस्य । षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययोः (स्वा०) अत्र ऐश्वर्यार्थः ।=Of prosperous.

———

What should men do as duty—is told :

यूयं गांवो मेदयथा कृशं चिदश्रीरं चित्कृणुथा सुप्रतीकम् ।
भद्रं गृहं कृणुथ भद्रवाचो बृहद्वो वय उच्यते सभासु ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! make all your speeches love and sweet. Whatever obscene and inauspicious unrighteous conduct is there, diminish or remove it. Make your abode full of blissful containing good doors etc. and auspicious shining with the enlightened persons. Be in the assemblies endowed with true and auspicious or pleasant speech. Make your life great.

PURPORT :—Those persons are blessed and benevolent to all who make their speech mild, truthful and righteous, build houses comfortable in all seasons, participate in good assemblies and attain long-life.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मेदयथा) स्नेहयथ स्निग्धा । मधुराः कुरुत ।= Loving and sweet. (अश्रीरम्) अश्लीलममङ्गलमधर्माचरणम् ।=Obscene, inauspicious or unrighteous conduct. (सुप्रतीकम्) शोभनानि प्रतीकानि प्रतीतिकराणी द्वारादीनि यस्मिंस्तत् ।=Full of beautiful doors etc. (वयः) जीवनम् ।=Life.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The other meaning of the mantra regarding cows is quite clear.

Griffith's metrical translation which may be quoted here expresses it fairly well.

"O cows, Ye fatten even the worn and wasted, and make the unlovely beautiful to look upon. Prosper my house ye, with auspicious voices. Your power is glorified in our assemblies."

How should a king nourish his subject—is told :

प्रजावंतीः सूयवसं रिशन्तीः शुद्धा अपः सुप्रपाणे पिबन्तीः ।
मा वः स्तेन ईशत माघशंसः परि वो हेती रुद्रस्य वृज्याः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as a cowherd nourishes or guards the cows grazing upon good pastures and eating good grass and drinking pure water at good drinking places, in the same manner, you nourish your subjects. Let not a thief or violent sinful person be their master and the weapon of a fierce person avoid them.

PURPORT :—Those kings, ministers and servants are admirable who nourish the people like father, who make them industrious making them pure in diet and movement and hierce (destroy) thieves and other wicked men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रिशन्तीः) भक्षयन्तीः । रिश-हिंसायाम् । (तुदा०) अत्र प्रसाग्रहभक्षणार्थः ।=Eating. (अघशंसः) हिंस्त्रः पापकृत् । अघं पापं शंसति-स्तोतीति अघशंसः पाप प्रशंसकः पापकृत् शंसु-स्वतौ (भ्वा०) =A violent sinner. (हेतिः) वज्रम् । हेतिः इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) ।=Thunderbolt like weapon.

उपेदमुंपपर्चनमासु गोषूपं पृच्यताम् ।
उपं ऋषभस्य रेतस्युपेन्द्र तवं वीर्यैं ॥८॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O giver of great wealth or causer of prosperity, Indra (King) ! let your subjects be united with the power of their who are the best. Let them be united with your might. Let there be this admixture in these lands or speeches. Let there be this admixture or close relationship be in politics.

PURPORT :—Those kings and officers of the State who having become highly learned, work agreeably in the council and always try to get unanimity by discarding all discord, are endowed with uninterrupted or unbroken power.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उपपर्चनम्) असम्बन्धः । पृची-सम्पर्चने (अदा.) पृचो-सम्पर्के (रु) ।=Close relation. (गाषु) पृथिवीषु वाक्षु वा गौरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1) गौरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1,11) ।=In the lands or speeches.

Sŭktam—29

Rishi or Seer of the Sŭktam—Bharadavaaja Devata—Indra Chhandas—Trishtup, Pankti and Ushnik of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata, Panchama and Rishabha.

How should men behave—is told :

इन्द्रं वो नरः सख्याय सेपुर्महो यन्तः सुमतये चकानाः ।
महो हि दाता वज्रहस्तो अस्ति महामु रण्वमवसे यजध्वम् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! your good leaders in order to attain truly great knowledge and desiring wisdom have chosen an enlightened person, who is endowed with the great wealth of wisdom and knowledge. They glorify him for his loving kindness. He is the giver of great scientific and other knowledge and wielder of thunderbolt like powerful arms and missiles for protection and growth etc. You should also associate with him and honour him as he is great and charming preacher of true knowledge.

PURPORT :—O men! always honour those persons who having pledged for your firm friendship try to do good to you with their body, mind and wealth. You should for ever remain in their friendship.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चकानाः) कामयमानाः। चकमानः कान्तिकर्मा (NG 2,6) छान्दसेवर्णलोपः ।=Desiring. (रणवम्) रमणीयमुपदेशकम् । रण-शब्दे (भ्वा०) रमु-क्रीडायाम् (भ्वा०) रण्वः-रमणीयः रमधातोर्बहुलकादौणादिकोवः प्रत्ययः इति महर्षि दयानन्द सरस्वती ऋ० 1-6-3 भाष्ये ।=Charming preacher of truth.

What should a king do—is again told :

आ यस्मिन्हस्ते नर्यां मिमिक्षुरा रथे हिरण्यये रथेष्ठाः ।
आ रश्मयो गभस्त्योः स्थूरयोराध्वन्नश्वासो वृषणो युजानाः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men! in the hands of which Indra (king) there are reins in whose splendid car there are seated many heroes in whose strong arms there are arms and missiles like the rays of the sun which are useful for men and in whose vehicles great articles like electricity etc. are harnessed like mighty horses which lead on towards the path, such a king can bestow happiness upon the people.

PURPORT :—The reputation of that king spreads everywhere like the rays of the sun who keeps with honour good and righteous heroes, who know the use of the aircrafts and other vehicles and scientists who know well the science of electricity and various other sciences.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हिरण्यये) तेजोमये। तेजो वै हिरण्यम् (काठक-संहिता 11,4,8, 21, 7 मैत्रायणी सं० 3, 7, 5 तैत्तिरीय सं० 5, 1, 10, 5) ।=

Splendid. (अश्वासः) अश्वा इव महान्तो विद्युदादयः पदार्थाः अश्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3,3) महर्षि दयानन्देन ऋ० 4,1,6 अन्यत्र च स्ववीय भाष्येऽतेन् रूपेण बहुमोक्तं यद्यपि वर्तमान संस्करण षु न तल्लभ्यते। प्ररातन संस्करणान्यन्वेष्टयामि।=Great things like electricity which are harnessed like horses. (गभस्त्योः) बाह्वोर्भुजयोः गभस्तीति बाहुनाम (NG 2,4)।=In the arms.

How is that ideal king is further told :

श्रिये ते पादा दुव आ मिमिक्षुर्धृष्णुर्वज्री शवसा दक्षिणावान्।
वसानो अत्कं सुरभिं दृशे कं स्वर्ण नृतविषिरो बभूथ ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O leader, your feet are meant for doing work and for enhancing wealth (by going to different places). We serve you, who are bold with your strength, wielder of powerful weapons, liberal giver of Dakshina guerdon or sacrificial gifts) robed in a garment fragrant and fair to look on, and endowed with knowledge and wisdom.

PURPORT :—O king, why should we not serve you by resorting to whom abundant wealth foodstuff, clothes; vehicles, happiness and honour can be obtained ?

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अत्कम्) व्याप्तशीलं वस्त्रम्।=Vast or big cloth. (इषिरः) ज्ञानवान् / इष-गतौ (दिवा.) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थग्रहणम् इषिमदिमुदि खिदिभ्यः किरच् इति (उणा 1,51) किरच प्रत्ययः।=Endowed with knowledge and wisdom. (दुवः) कार्यसेवनम्। दुवस्यति परिचरण कर्मा (NG 3,5) परितोगमनं कार्यमिम्।=Doing work. (मिमिक्षुः) आसिंचतः। मिषु-सेंचने (भ्वा०)=Sprinkle.

How is that ided king is—further told :

स सोम आमिश्लतमः सुतो भूद्यस्मिन्पक्तिः पच्यते सन्ति धानाः।
इन्द्रं नरः स्तुवन्तो ब्रह्मकारा उक्था शंसन्तो देववाततमाः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :=Be you our ruler, under whose guidance and shelter good food is cooked and fried grain is mingled; soma (juice of soma plant and other herbs) mixed from all sides, for with many other ingredients or wealth is prepared and acquired. Acquirers of wealth or foodstuffs, who approach great scholars and preach admirable things also praise you very much, on account of your virtues.

PURPORT :—If the ruler is not righteous, all dealings are spoiled or omitted. Those are righteous subjects, who uphold wealth, era and prosperity under the rulership of a good king.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सोम:) ऐश्वर्ययोग ओषधिरसो वा। षु-प्रसवैश्वर्ययो: (स्वा.) अत्रोभयार्थं ग्रहणम्। ब्रह्मोति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ब्रह्मोति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=The juice of the plants and herbs or combination of wealth. (ब्रह्मकारा:) ये ब्रह्म धनमन्नं वा कुर्वन्ति ते।=Those who acquire wealth or food material. (देववाततमा:) येऽतिशयेन देवान् विदुष: पदार्थान् वा प्राप्नुवन्ति ते। वा-गतिगन्धनयो: (अदा•) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेष्वत्र प्राप्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम्।=Those who approach the most enlightened persons get divine objects.

How is God—is told :

न ते अन्तः शवसो धाय्यस्य वि तु बाबधे रोदसी महित्वा।
आ ता सूरिः पृणाति तूतुजानो यूथेवाप्सु समीजमान ऊती ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Lord of the World ! You are worthy of our adoration and glorification, the end of whose might has not been held by any one, who by His greatness and glory controls the heaven and earth. An enlightened devotee who does works promptly and is united with your protection and other acts, makes all happy like the groups of creatures in the waters or particles in the Prānas (vital airs).

PURPORT :- O men ! that God alone should be adored by all, who is endowed with infinite attributes and actions and who being the Director of the whole world, when properly adored, is the bestower of happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तूतुजान:) क्षिप्रकारी। तूतुजान: इति क्षिप्रनाम (NG 2,15)।=Prompt in doing works (समीजमान:) सम्यक्सङ्गच्छमान:। =Associating well. (पृणति) सुखयति। पृण-प्रीणने (तुदा०) प्रणनं तृप्तकरणां सुखप्रदान द्वारा-यज देवपूजा संङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा०) अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थः ।=Gladdens.

The attributes and duties of a king, as lord in a limited sphere —are told :

एवेदिन्द्रः सुहव ऋष्वो अस्तूती अनूती हिरिशिप्रः सत्वा।
एवा हि जातो असमात्योजाः पुरू च वृत्रा हनति नि दस्यून् ॥६॥

6\. TRANSLATION :—O men ! may Indra (king who is devoted to God) the great, whose invocation is good and whose jaws and nose are charming and who is industrious, bestower of happiness by his unaided protection. Let him be the giver of bliss also. He alone is fit to be a soverign whose might is unequalled, who acquires abundant wealth and kills the wicked thieves and robbers.

PURPORT :—He alone is a great ruler who maintains the knowers of good policies, nourishes righteous subjects and does not keep or support thieves and other sinners. He alone should be served by good men.

Sūktam—30

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam—Bharadvaaja Devata Indra. Chhandas Trishtup Brihati and Ushnik—Svaras—Dhaivata, Panchama and Rishabha.

How should a king be—is told :

भूय इद्वावृधे वीर्याँय एकोँ अजुर्यो दयते वसूनि ।
प्र रिरिचे दिव इन्द्रः पृथिव्या अर्धमिदस्य प्रति रोदसी उभे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! the sun illuminates the half of the heaven and earth and surpasses all luminaries by his greatness and it is by his power of attraction that all worlds are upheld, in the same manner, the king who waves in heroic powers, is young and energetic, alone gives wealth to deserving persons, become very good and glorious like the sun.

PURPORT :—The king illumines and becomes glorious like the sun by his noble virtues—and by the aid of his assistants and good materials. As the sun illuminates half the globe standing infront of all words, in the same manner, a ruler should illuminate justice only distinguishing between justice and give that just to all impartially.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अजुर्यः) अजीर्णो युवा । अ+जृष्-वयो हानो (दिवा:) ।=Young (energetic) and not old. (रिरिचे) रिणक्त्यतिरिक्तो भवति । रिचिर्-विरेचने (रुधा॰) ।=Surpasses. (इन्द्रः) सूर्यः इव । (इन्द्रः) अथयः स इन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्यः (शतपथ ब्राह्मणे 12,1,3,15) इदि-परमैश्वर्ये (भ्वा॰) ।= Like the sun.

How should that king be—is told :

अधा मन्ये बृहदसुर्यमस्य यानि दाधार नकिरा मिनाति ।
दिवेदिवे सूर्यो दर्शतो भूद्वि सद्मान्युर्विया सुक्रतुर्धात् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should be like the sun, who being of good deeds, upholds day by day the cloud and the winds which none can destroy or hinder. The sun upholds all places along with the earth. I regard you as a king when you also perform such mighty and benevolent deeds.

PURPORT :—As the sun upholds the cloud every day and making it rain down upholds the earth and all articles in it, not harming them, so the king should uphold the state—should shower happiness over all and administer justice to all the subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मिनाति) हिनस्ति, मीञ्-हिंसायाम (क्र्य.) ।= Destroys, hinders. (सद्मानि) स्थानानि, सद्मेति गृहनाम (NG 3,4) ।= Places. (उर्विया) पृथिव्या सह, उर्वीति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1) ।=With earth.

The same subject of king's duties—is continued :

अ॒द्या चि॒न्नू चि॒त्तदपो॑ न॒दीना॒ं यदा॑भ्यो॒ अर॑दो गा॒तुमि॑न्द्र ।
नि पर्व॑ता अद्म॒सदो॒ न सेदु॒स्त्वया॑ दृ॒ळ्हानि॑ सुक्रतो॒ रजां॑सि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O (doer of good deeds) king ! shining like the sun, as the sun attracts the earth and from rivers makes the waters draw and then causes them to rain, you should also do like that. As by the sun the worlds are made steadfast, so you should make firm the subjects and officers of the State like the clouds which live in the grain and (corn etc. as they are produced by the rain), and are produced by the rain.

PURPORT :—As the sun takes sap from all article for eight months, puts it in the clouds and causing rain gladdens all people, so you should receive revenue from your subjects for eight months and give it back in four months in some form or other.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरदः) विलिखत्याकर्षति । रद—विलेखने (भ्वा०) =Attracts. (पर्वताः) मेघाः पर्वतः इति मेघनाम । (NG 1, 10) ।=Clouds.

How is God ?—is told :

स॒त्यमि॒त्तन्न त्वावाँ॑ अ॒न्यो अ॒स्तीन्द्र॑ दे॒वो न मर्त्यो॒ ज्याया॑न् ।
अह॒न्नहिं॑ परि॒शया॑न॒मर्णो॒ऽवासृ॑जो अ॒पो अच्छा॑ समु॒द्रम् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O God ! lord of the world Selfeffulgent like the sun, as the sun created by you leaves asunder the cloud that besieges the water and lets loose the streams to hurry sea-ward or towards the firmament, it is indeed true that there is none like you; no enlightened person or refulgent world nor any ordinary mortal is superior to you.

PURPORT :—O men! you should know well this fact that there is none equal to that lord of the world, who has made the sun for sustaining the universe which attracts and causes rain and light, what to say of superior to Him.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(देव) विद्वान्प्रकाशमानो लोको वा। देवो दानाद्वा दीपनाद् वायुस्थानो भवतीतिक (NKT) ।=Enlightened person or refulgent world. (अहिम) व्याप्नुवन्तं मेघम्। अहिरिति मेघस्य (NG 1, 10) अह-व्याप्तौ (स्वा०)।=The pervading cloud. (अर्णा) उदकम्।=Water.

The same subject of king's duties—is continued :

त्वम॒पो वि दुरो॒ विषू॑ची॒रिन्द्र॑ दृ॒ळ्हम॑रुजः॒ पर्व॑तस्य।
राजा॑भवो॒ जग॑तश्चर्षणी॒नां सा॒कं सूर्यं॑ ज॒नय॒न् द्याम॒ुषास॑म् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O God! giver of all great wealth, as the sun breaks up the firmness of the cloud and illuminating doors on all sides, causes rain and becomes the illuminator of all world and men, so you engender the sun the light and dawn and prevading them destroy all misery and are the soveriegn of all worlds and all men.

PURPORT :—O men! adore or have communion with that God with your souls, who is the creator of the sun and all other objects, their illuminator, upholder and pervading all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विषूचीः) व्याप्तानि। वि+सु+अञ्चु-गतौ याचने: (भ्वा०) अत्र गतेष्त्रिष्वर्थेषु गत्यर्थग्रहणम्।=Pervaded. (दुरः) द्वाराणि।=Doors. (चर्षणीनाम) मनुष्याणाम्। चर्षणम इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2,3)।=Of men.

Sūktam--31

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam—Suhotra, Devata—Indra. Chhandas—Trishtup, Pankti and Atishakvari of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata and Nishada.

How is God ?—is told :

अभूरेको रयिपते रयीणामा हस्तयोरधिथा इन्द्र कृष्टीः ।
वि तोके अप्सु तनये च सूरेऽवोचन्त चर्षणयो विवाचः ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O God ! Lord of all wealth, Lord of riches, You hold in your hands all men endowed with speeches full of the knowledge of various sciences who tell about the Prānas (vital airs) or firmament, infants and bachelores. Brahmacharies, and the sun. You hold all creatures as Emblic myrobalan (amla) in the hand. Being one, You are the nourisher of all your subjects.

PURPORT :—This is very nature of God that He establishes all preachers of truth in the work of encouraging and protecting all and leads them to prosperity. As even one king, endowed with humility can administer a State, in the same manner, Almighty God protects the whole world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कृष्टीः) मनुष्यादिप्रजाः । कृष्टयः इति मनुष्याम (NG 2,3) ।=Men and other subjects. What should men know—is told :

त्वद्भियेन्द्र पार्थिवानि विश्वाच्युता चिच्च्यावयन्ते रजांसि ।
द्यावाक्षामा पर्वतासो वनानि विश्वं दृळ्हं भयते अज्मन्ना ते ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O (Indra) King ! who act like electricity or lightning, through your fear even the firm things move all objects of the world. As by the sun, heaven and earth mountains, forests, and all things of the world are moved, so you move all even as all fear a firm, just and breve person, though it may be firm, on the way.

PURPORT :—O men ! as all fear firm a, just and brave person. so all beings fear from the lightning or electricity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रजांसि) लोकान् ।=Worlds. (इन्द्र) विद्युदिव वर्तमान ।=O king mighty like the lightning or electricity. (अज्मन्) मार्गे ।=On the way.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—In the case the meaning of the mantra is so clear that the revered commentator did not deem it necessary to explain. It is as follows :—

"O Lord of the world, through fear of you all regions of the earth, though very firm, shake and tremble. All that is firm is frightened as you behave, the earth, the heaven, the mountains and the forests.

What should a king do—is further told :

त्वं कुत्सेनाभि शुष्णमिन्द्राशुषं युध्य कुयवं गविष्टौ ।
दश प्रपित्वे अध सूर्यस्य मुषायश्चक्रमविवे रपांसि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O Indra—king ! giver of great wealth, attain inexhaustible strength and fight with that wicked person who sells bad barley and other articles of food etc. with your thunderbelt-like weapon in day time when there is the commingling of the rays of the sun. On the attainment of wealth and prosperity, refrain from doing ten kinds of sins which are harmful to all and administer the state like the cycle or wheel of the sun.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should fight with a wicked enemy only and not with a righteous one, by so doing, as all worlds revolve around the sun like a wheel, so all your people will move industriously at your very light.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुष्णम्) बलम । शुष्णम् इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) =Strength. (कुत्सेन) वज्रेण। कुत्स इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) ।=With a powerful weapon like the thunderbolt. The same subject of king and his subjects—is continued :

त्वं ताँ इन्द्रोभयाँ अमित्रान्दासा वृत्राण्यार्या च शूर ।
वधीर्वनेव सुधितेभिरत्कैरा पृत्सु दर्षि नृणां नृतम ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O (the best among leaders) brave king ! distinguishing between Aryas (good and righteous men) and wicked men, who give trouble to all, you strike down the wicked foes as fire burns the forest—trees and with wellfed strong horses protect righteous noble men and acquire worth giving good wealth. You are a man of discrimination.

PURPORT :—That king only attains all prosperity who distinguishes thoroughly between good and bad and righteous and unrighteous persons and then protects the noble and punishes the ignoble wicked persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :=(दासा) दातव्यानि। दास-दाने (भ्वा.) ।= Worth giving. (अत्कैः) अश्वैः । अात-सातत्यागमने (भ्वा.) सततगामिनोऽश्वा अत्काः । =With horses. (सुधितेभिः) सुष्ठुतृप्तैः ।=Well-fed.

How should a king be—is further told :

स त्वं न॑ इन्द्राक॑वाभिरू॒ती सखा॑ वि॒श्वायु॑रवि॒ता वृ॒धे भूः ।
स्व॑र्षाता॒ यद्ध्वया॑मसि त्वा॒ युध्य॑न्तो नेमधि॑ता पृ॒त्सु शू॑र ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O giver (of happiness and destroyer of the enemies) king ! be our friend with your admirable protections for the whole of our life and be our Protector for our harmonious development. You who are bestower of happiness, be conqueror. We invoke you fighting in battles, taking sides with the righteous persons distinguishing between the righteous and unrighteous.

PURPORT :—O king ! as a friend always does good and pleasant things to please a friend, in the same manner, you should always do good to your subjects. Whereever your subjects invite you to be present, be present there and always try to conquer your foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अकवाभिः) अनिन्दितुभिः। कवासखः-यस्यकपूयाः सखाय (इति NKT 6 4,19) कवा-कपूयः कुत्सित इत्यर्थः तस्मात् अकवाभिः अकुत्सितभिः अविदितानिरिति वा स्पषत् ।=Not blame worthy, admirable. How should the king deal—is told :

नून नं इन्द्रापराय च स्या भवा मृळीक उत नो अभिष्टौ ।
इत्था गृणन्तो महिनस्य शर्मन्दिवि ष्याम पार्ये गोषतमाः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you are destroyer or piercer of miseries, be giver of good happiness to us, be engaged in conferring desired happiness on us. Thus glorifying God and being utterers of good words, may we remain in your great house, which is to be completed.

PURPORT :—If a king be engaged in the work of safeguarding his subjects, having given up all partiality for this own kith and kin and others, then all subjects may praise him lovingly and constantly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अभिष्टौ) इच्छित सुखे । अभि+इष-इच्छायाम् (दिवा०) ।=For the desirable happiness. (गोषतमाः) ये गाव वाचः सनन्ति सेवन्ते ततोऽतिशयिताः। गौरिति वाङ्नाम (NG, 1,11) षेणा-संभक्तौ ।=Those persons who serve or use good speech.

Sūktam—34

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam— Sunathotra. Devatā-Indra. Chhanda—Trishtup. Svara—Dhaivata.

What should a king do—is told :

सं च त्वे जग्मुर्गिर इन्द्र पूर्वीर्वि च त्वद्यन्ति विभ्वो मनीषाः ।
पुरा नूनं च स्तुतय ऋषीणां पस्पृध्र इन्द्रे अध्युक्थार्का ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! (giver of knowledge), those persons enjoy happiness, who receive from you ancient good and refined words and are thereby united with noble virtues; those who pervading good virtues (being very virtuous) controllers of mind and active, approach each other variously. The praises of the Rishi-knowers of the meanings of the Vedas and true preachers, from anicent days compete with another in extolling the Lord.

Their admirable and venerable speeches all praise Indra—the Lord of the world.

PURPORT :—O king ! there are able men in the world and there are unworthy persons, so you should associate yourself with admirable good persons and having good helpers, govern the state constantly with righteousness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विभ्व:) विभवो व्याप्तशुभगुणा: ।=Pervading good virtues i. e. very virtuous. (मनीषा:) मनस ईषिणो । गमनकर्त्तारि: ईष गतिहिंसा दर्शनषु (भ्वा०) अत्र गत्यर्थादर्शनार्थंश्चि ।=Controllers of mind and active. How should that king be—is further told :

पुरुहूतो यः पुरुगूर्त ऋभ्वाँ एकः पुरुप्रशस्तो अस्ति यज्ञैः ।
रथो न महे शवसे युजानो३ स्माभिरिन्द्रो अनुमाद्यो भूत् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! Indra-a king giver of great wealth and prosperity, is giver of delight to us. He is honoured by many, is made industrious by many and is very good. He even single handed, being united with a great genius, with Yajnas i.e. honour shown to the enlightened persons, association with them and charity for great might like a charming vehicle (aircraft etc.) is worthy being pleased with us. You should also regard him as such and honour him.

PURPORT :—O men ! as a vehicle when harnessed with horses and with fire, electricity etc. accomplishes desirable works, so a ruler, who has good helpers can adorn or discharge well the duties of an administrator.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यज्ञैः) विद्वत्सत्कारसङ्गदानैः । यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरण दानेषु (भ्वा०) ।=Honour shown to the enlightened persons, association with them and donation. (पुरुगूर्त्तः) बहुभिरुद्यमितः कृतपुरुषार्थकः । गुरी-उद्यमने (तुदा०) पुरुइति बहुनाम (NG 3,1)।=Made industrious by many. (ऋभुवा) महता मेधाविना ।=By a great genius.

How is that king—is further told :

न यं हिंसन्ति धीतयो न वाणीरिन्द्रं नक्षन्तीदभि वर्धयन्तीः ।
यदि स्तोतारः शतं यत्सहस्रं गृणन्ति गिर्वणसं शं तदस्मै ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! if many persons praise that king Indra, who is endowed with perfect knowledge and wealth and who lauds God with good words and prays to Him, no fingers or other parts of the body can do harm to him nor the reproaches made by adversaries. The acts done with fingers and other parts of the body and good speeches reach him, encouraging or uplifting him. The infinite happiness that is enjoyed by such admirers may also be got by us.

PURPORT :—O men ! that king enjoys incomparable happiness, whom the violent acts made by the foes and their words of reproach do not affect adversely and who is thus free from pleasure and grief.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धीतयः) अङ्गुलयः । धीतयः इत्यङ्गुलिनाम (NG 2,5) ।=Fingers. (नक्षन्ति) गच्छन्ति प्राप्नुवन्ति नक्षतीति गतिकर्मा (N,G 2,14)। =Receive. (गिर्वणसम्) यो गीर्भिर्वनति संभजति वनुते याचते वा तम् । वन-संभक्तौ (भ्वा०) ।=He who glorifies God with good words of the Vedas and prays to Him.

What should he (king) do again—is further told :

अस्मा एतद्दिव्य१र्चेव मासा मिमिक्ष इन्द्रे न्ययामि सोमः ।
जनं न धन्वन्नभि सं यदापः सत्रा वावृधुर्हवनानि यज्ञैः ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! under the rulership of Indra—a king who is the destroyer of the wicked Chaitra and other months from indesirable pure dealing. Charity and other acts grow in his reign by truth like the good acts by Yajnas —honour done to the enlightened persons etc. They grow and make people happy as a man by getting water in the desert. As I am extractor of Soma juice approach this righteous ruler (on account of his noble actions).

PURPORT :—There is double simile used here in the mantra. As honour done to a deserving person and getting water in a desert cause happiness, in the same manner, the performance of the Yajnas and divine prosperity are sources of bliss to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिवि) कमनीये शुद्धे व्यवहारे। दिवु धातोरनेकार्थेषु कान्त्यर्थग्रहणमत्र कान्ति:। कामना स्तुत्यर्थग्रहणञ्च।=In a desirable and pure dealing. (सत्ता) सत्येन कारणेन।=By truth.

What should the enlightened persons do—is further told :

अस्मा एतन्मह्याङ्गूषमस्मा इन्द्राय स्तोत्रं मतिभिरवाचि।
असद्यथा महति वृत्रतूर्ये इन्द्रो विश्वायुरविता वृधश्च॥ ५॥

5. TRANSLATION :- O men! as thoughtful persons utter good and great eulogy (praise) for this preacher of truth, as they praise a king, who causes prosperity and as a warrior, who is destroyer of the enemies in a great battle, becomes increaser of happiness and protector and attains full span of life, so you should also do.

PURPORT :—Those who are not highly learned themselves, should make their life noble by following the footsteps of the enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आङ्गूषम्) प्राप्तव्यम्। यद्यपि (NKT 5,2,11) आङ्गू-षः स्तोम आघोषः इत्युक्त तथापि अत्र आङ्गू-षपदं स्तोत्रस्य विशेषणम् इति अगि-रातो (भ्वा०) इति धातोर्निष्पन्नमत्वा गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्तयर्थं ग्रहणमत्र कृत्वा भाष्यकृता व्याख्यातम्।=Worthy of attainment, good. (वृत्रतूर्ये) सङ्ग्रामे।=In a battle.

Sūktam-35

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam—Nara. Devata—Indra. Chhandas —Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds.

How should the enlightened persons preach to a king—is told :

कदा भुवन्रथक्षयाणि ब्रह्म कदा स्तोत्रे सहस्रपोष्यं दाः।
कदा स्तोमं वासयोऽस्य राया कदा धियः करसि वाजरत्ना॥ १॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king! when will you have good dwellings, which have chariots, cars and other vehicles in them? When will you give abundant riches to a devotee of God and your admirer, enabling him to feed thousands of people? When will you have good intellect and actions which increase wealth and foodgrains?

PURPORT :—All members of the council or assembly and preachers should ask the king, "When will you have strong army, nourishing wealth and good intellect?"

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रथक्षयाणि) रथस्य निवासरूपाणि गृहाणि। क्षि-निवासगत्योः अत्र निवासार्थः।=Abodes containing places for various kinds of charming vehicles. (वाजरत्नाः) धनधान्योन्नतिकरीः वाजइति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) अन्नं वै वाजः (जैमिनीयोप. 2,193) वज-गतौ गतेस्त्रि स्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थं

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :Griffith note on this last verse of the hymn is worth quoting. He says in his foot note :—I find this stanza; hopelessly obscure, and do not attempt to translate it, giving instead of a conjectual translation a reproduction of the substance of Sayana's absolutely worthless paraphrase. Lead other wise :

according to Sanayana, consign to death; to a course different from that of living being. Wilson "(The hymns of the Rigveda translated by Griffith Vol. 1 P. 596.) As a matter of fact, there is nothing hopelessly obscure in the stanza, though it is true that Sayanacharya Wilson and Griffith were not able to grasp its real inquest. Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati's interpretation of the mantra as translated above is quite clear. It is strange that many of these Western Scholars undertook the translation of the Vedas without understanding them themselves and thus misleading others.

(रन्धयः) हिंसय । रध-हिंसासंराध्योः (दिवा.) अत्रहिंसार्थकः ।=Destroy, slay.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is wrong on the part of Shri Sayanacharya, Prof. Wilson and Griffith to take Shambara as the name of a particular demon and Divodasa, the name of a particular king, as it is against the principle of the Vedic Terminology enunciated by Sayanancharya himself in his Introduction to the Commentary on the Rigveda and opposed to the Vedic Lexicon Nighantu which clearly tells that Shambara means cloud शम्बर इति मेघनाम (NG

1, 10) This self contradiction makes Sayanacharya's Commentary on the Vedas unreliable. Western Scholars have generally followed him and committed the same blunder.

दधानो नाम महो वचोभिर्वपुर्दृशयें वेन्यो व्यावः ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as a wise person protects for prosperity in the path of truth and the enlightened men turn their minds to this object, a desirable and charming person having good and beautiful body to look at and gaining reputation by uttering good words protects all, so you should also try to do.

PURPORT :—Treading upon the path of righteousness, men should determine to increase wealth and with that wealth, they should support the orphans, advance the cause of Vidya (knowledge) and Dharma (righteousness) distribute medicines for the suffering and construct good roads and in this way, they should spread their name and fame in all directions.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मेधाः) मेधावी । मेधा इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3,15) । = A genius. (वपुः) सुन्दर शरीरम् । वपुरिति रूपनाम (NG 3,7) । = Beautiful body. (वेन्यः) कमनीयः । वी—गति व्याप्ति प्रजनकान्त्यसनखादनेषु (अदा.) अत्र कान्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या । = Charming.

How should kings and their subjects do good to one another—is told :

द्युमत्तमं दक्षं धेह्यस्मे सेधा जनानां पूर्वीररातीः ।
वर्षीयो वयः कृणुहि शचीभिर्धनस्य सातावस्माँ अविड्ढि ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! with your wisdom and good actions along with your subjects bestow on us the most illustrious strength endowed with the light of knowledge. Accomplish your work, ward off the miserliness of the people even though that may be ancient. Lead a very good life and attain good age. Make us also partners in the distribution of riches.

PURPORT :—The subjects should pray to the ruler in this manner :—O king ! we may always increase your strength if you make us very mighty, devoid of miserliness, longlived on account of the observance of Brahmacharya (abstinance) industrious and fearless by protecting us and urge us to accomplish Dharma (righteousness), wealth, fulfilment of noble desires and emancipation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अरातीः) अदानक्रियाः। रा-दाने (अ०)। =Miserliness. (सातौ) संविभागे। षण—संभक्तौ (भ्वा०): ।=In the act of distribution. (शचीभिः) प्रज्ञाभिः कर्मभिर्वा प्रजाभिः सह। शचीति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 2,9) शचिति कर्मनाम (NG 2,1): ।=With wisdom, good action and with the subjects.

मा जस्वने वृषभ नो ररीथा मा ते रेवतः सख्ये रिषाम ।
पूर्वीष्ट इन्द्र निष्षिधो जनेषु जह्यसुष्वीन्प्र वृहापृणतः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O mightiest king! destroyer of all miseries, do not give us up to a wicked king, who is taking other's property injustly, may we never suffer in your friendship, who are endowed with abundant wealth. Give us those good acts which lead us to our true welfare. Destroy the wicked ignoble persons. Keep us away from a wicked man, who gives us trouble.

PURPORT :—O king ! do not keep us under those persons, who give us trouble. Convey to us those acts which lead to our welfare. Let us also do such good acts for you. Thus being frendly to one another, let us achieve desired objects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जस्वने) अन्यायेन परस्वप्रापकाय दुष्टाय राज्ञे। जसु—हिंसायाम् (चुरा०) पराधापहरणं हिंसैव: ।=For a wicked king who takes other's property. (अपृणत:) दुःखदातुर्जनात्। पृण—प्रीणाने (तुदा.) अप्रीणनं दुःख प्रदानम्: ।=From a wicked person who gives trouble.

What should a king do like and for whom—is told :

उद्भ्राणीव स्तनयन्नियर्तीन्द्रो राधांस्यश्व्यानि गव्या ।
त्वमसि प्रदिवः कारुधाया मा त्वादामान आ दभन्मघोनः ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—As the lightning impels the rain-clouds, so the good king, uttering good words and upholding learned artists and artisans send riches, which bestow happiness that are beneficial to the horses and cattle. He is the supporter or lover of the wealthy persons, intensely desiring the welfare of all. Let not the miserly fellows harm you. Let them not give trouble to the rich. If you behave in this manner, who is it that will not bow before you.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. He alone can acquire wealth, foods—grains, kingdom and animals, whose army is strong like the band of the clouds, forceful like electricity and, who gathers all virtuous persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रायांसि) सर्वसुखकराणि धनानि। राय इति धननाम (NG 2,10) राध संसिद्धौ (स्वा.)। सर्वेषां सुखसाधकम् इत्यर्थ:।=Riches which bestow happiness on all. तमु प्र होषि मधुमन्तमस्मै सोमं वीराय शिप्रिणे पिबध्यै॥ १४॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person! as the sun strikes down the clouds, so a good king should take it to be his duty to destroy the wicked by building the lovely and invincible forms (bodies) of his soldiers or other beautiful things on drinking the juice of the group of invigorating herbs and plants which produce joy and bliss.

You give this juice of the great drug to drink, which has sweet and other articles mixed with it, to this fearless hero, who has very good chin and nose etc. Therefore you are worthy of respect.

PURPORT :—Those persons, who are the illuminotors of justice and victory like the sun, who are regular in taking food and water etc. and are drinkers of the jnice of invigorating herbs enjoy happiness in this world by getting articles of various forms.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रः) सूर्य्यः। अथ यः सइन्द्रोऽसौ स आदित्य (Stp 8, 5, 3, 2) ।=Sun. (वर्पांसि) सुन्दराणि रूपाणी। वर्पः इति रूपनाम (NG 3, 7) ।=Beautiful forms. (अप्रती) अप्रतीतानि। अत्र संहितायामितिदीर्घः। अप्रति अप्रतीनि अविद्यमाना प्रतीतिः परिमाण येषां तानि इति महर्षि दयानन्द ऋ 2,19,4 भाष्ये।=Confidents.

What should men do—is told :

पाता सुतमिन्द्रो॑ अस्तु सोमं हन्ता॑ वृत्रं वज्रेण मन्दसानः।
गन्ता यज्ञं परावतश्चिदच्छा वसुर्धीनामविता कारुधायाः॥ १५॥

15. TRANSLATION :—O men! you should always honour that king, who is the giver of great wealth or prosperity, drinker of the juice of Soma and other invigorating herbs, slayer of enemies desiring the welfare of his subjects, like the sun destroying the clouds, going to attend Yajna or good dealings of various kinds, upholder of the artisans, even from a distant place and causing the proper inhabilitation or settlement and protector of good deeds.

PURPORT :—Those kings and their ministers become praiseworthy in this world, who drink the juioe of the herbs prepared according to the methods given in the Ayurveda Shastra (medical science) ; remove the wicked by the use of the arms and missiles and perform good deeds, giving up all laziness, propogating justice, gather around them artists and artisans.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मन्दसानः) कामयमानाः । मदि-स्तुति मोदमद स्वप्न-कान्ति गतिषु (भ्वा.) अत्र कान्त्यर्थः कान्तिः-कामना ।=Desiring the welfare of his subjects. (धीनाम्) उत्तमानां कर्मणाम् । धीरिति कर्मनाम (NG 2,1) ।=Of good deeds.

What should men do—is told :

इदं त्यत्पात्रमिन्द्रपानमिन्द्रस्य प्रियममृतमपायि ।
मत्सद्यथा सौमनसाय देवं व्यस्मद् द्वेषो युयवद्व्यंहः ॥ १६ ॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person! you should act like a man who for the sake of cheerfulness, drinks with a cup very delicious nector like, divine invigorating drugs which is dear to the soul-the master of the body and protects wealth and enjoys happiness thereby, separates us from all sins and keeps far away from all malice or a malicious enemy.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should drink only such things, which do not cause sloth in mind and body and ill-will. As all protect themselves, so they should protect others also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रपानम्) इन्द्रस्यौषधिरसस्यैश्वर्यस्य वा पानं रक्षणं

वा । =Drinking the juice of the invigorating herbs or the protection of wealth. (अमृतम्) सुस्वादिष्ठम् । =Very Delicious. (युयवत्) वियोजयति । =Separates, keep far away from.

The same subject of duties of men—is continued :

एना मन्दानो जहि शूर शत्रूञ्जामिमजामिं मघवन्नमित्रान् ।
अभिषेणाँ अभ्या३ देदिशानान्पराच इन्द्र प्र मृणा जही च ॥ १७ ॥

17. TRANSLATION :—O opulent Indra ! destroyer of the enemies, being admired, kill those, who are opposed to Dharma (righteousness) and wicked enemies whether they are your kith and kin or strangers. Slay those, who stand infront of you with their armies and order their warriors to attack you. Destroy ignorance and other evils.

PURPORT :—O king or commander-in-chief of the army ! being delighted with the observance of Brahmacharya ond the drinking of Soma etc. gladden the heroes and conquer all your foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अमित्रान्) धर्मविरोधिनः । =Those who are opposed to Dharma or righteousness. (जामिम्) जामाताादिकम् ।=Kith and kin like the son-in-law and others. (मृणा) नाशय । अत्र द्वयचोऽतस्तिङ इति दीर्घः । मृण-हिंसायाम् (तुदा.) ।=Destroy.

That should the rulers and their subject do—is told :

आसु ष्मा णो मघवन्निन्द्र पृत्स्व१ स्मभ्यं महि वरिवः सुगं कः ।
अपां तोकस्य तनयस्य जेष इन्द्र सूरीन्कृणुहि स्मा नो अर्धम् ॥ १८ ॥

18. TRANSLATION :—O opulent king ! destroyer of miseries, in these armies of brave persons, make great service easy or easily accessible to us. Make us victorious in the battles. O giver of all wealth, make us-who are learned persons well-versed in the millitary science very prosperous in order to conquer your enemies and spread education among the progeny of his subjects, whether infants or grown up.

PURPORT :—A king should endeavour, in such a manner, that his armies should be well-trained, powerful and victorious. He should try that all boys and girls should be endowed with knowledge by the observance of Brahmacharya (abstinence) and prosperous, always serviug the cause of truth, justice and Dharma (righteousness and duty).

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(अपाम्) प्राणानाम्। आपो वै प्राणा: (काण्व शत 4,8,22 माध्यन्दिन 3,8,2,4 Jaiminyop 3,10,9)।=Of the Prānas (vital energy), here men full of vital energy. (अर्धम) सुसमृद्धिम्। (मदम) ऋधु-वृद्धौ (दिवा.)। =In the armies of heores. (पृत्सु) वीरमनुष्यसेनासु। पृत्सु इति संग्रामनाम् (NG 2,17) वीर मनुष्यसेना मुख्यतया संग्रामाय यतोऽत्र तद् ग्रहणम्।=In the armies of heroes.

How should the minister be—is told :

आ त्वा हरयो वृषणो युजाना वृषरथासो वृषरश्मयोऽत्याः।
अस्मत्राञ्चो वृषणो वज्रवाहो वृष्णे मदाय सुयुजो वहन्तु ॥ १९ ॥

19. TRANSLATION :—O king ! let those mighty persons, who are powerful and quick going like the horses, are of concentrated mind, possessors of strong well-built chariots, showerers of the happiness of victory and splendid like the rays of the sun, pervading in all good merits and actions, approaching those good persons, who protect us from enemies, bearers of the science of arms and missiles, subduers of the strength of the foes and good comrades bring you here for joy or bliss, which give strength. You should also treat them with love.

PURPORT :—A king should appoint men endowed with good merits, actions and temperament for all administrative posts after testing thoroughly, and he himself should also be of noble virtues, actions and temperament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरयः) सुशिक्षिता अश्वा इव मनुष्याः । हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) ।=Men, who are like well-trained horses. (अत्याः) सकलशुभगुणकर्मव्यापिनः । अत-सातत्यगमने (भ्वा.) ।=Pervading in all good virtues, actions and temperament. (वृषरश्मयः) रश्मय इव विजयसुखवर्षकास्तेजस्विनः । =Showerers of the happiness of victory. (वृषणः) शत्रुशक्तिबन्धकाः । वृष-शक्तिबन्धने (चुरा.) ।=Subduers of the strength of the foes.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Not taking into consideration the epithets of हरयः like युजान्तः, बलवाहः, अत्याः etc. almost all commentators have interpreted हरयः as horses where Maharshi Dayananda Sarasvati, taking into account all these epithets and the clear authority of the Vedic Lexicon Nighantu 2-3 हरय इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) has rightly interpreted हरयः here as सुशिक्षिता अश्वा इव मनुष्याः । How deep was his seer-like insight which other commentators lacked inspite of their scholarship.

How should the ministers be—is again told :

आ ते॑ वृषन्वृष॑णो द्रोण॑मस्थुर्घृत॒प्रुषो॒ नोर्मयो॒ मद॑न्तः ।
इन्द्र॒ प्र तुभ्यं॒ वृष॑भिः सु॒तानां॒ भर॑न्ति वृष॒भाय॒ सोम॑म् ॥ २० ॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O mighty opulent king ! those powerful persons, who like the waves of the oceans and rivers filled with water, delighting you, fill you with, who desire strength with the juice of great herbs prepared by mighty physicians for acquiring great vigour, and are seated in the aircraft and other rapid-going vehicles, should be pleased or satisfied by you.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should keep those persons always happy, who are sincere and well-wishers of your State. You should know that, as by the wind waves of the water rise up, so the intellect rises up or increases by the association of the good and enlightened men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रोथम्) प्रवन्ति येन विमानादियानेन तत् । प्रु-गतौ (भ्वा.) ।=Aircraft and other vehicles by which a man can travel very fast. (घृतप्रुषः) ये घृतमुदकं प्रोषयन्ति पूरयन्ति ते ।=Those who fill with water.

How should a king be—is told :

वृषासि दिवो वृषभः पृथिव्या वृषा सिन्धूनां वृषभः स्तियानाम् ।
वृष्णे त इन्दुर्वृषभ पीपाय स्वादू रसो मधुपेयो वराय ॥२१॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O mightiest king ! subduer of the strength of the enemies, you are mighty like the rays of the sun, mighty on the face of the earth, showerer of happiness like the water of the rivers or oceans, knower of the attributes of animates and inanimate things. Let this Soma juice mixed with honey, which is very delicious, be for your drinking, as you are the best.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you know the science and utility of electricity, earth, river, oceans, firmament and all animate beings and inanimate things, you can attain great joy and bliss.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सिन्धूनाम्) नदीनां समुद्राणां वा । सिन्धवः इति नदीनाम (NG 1, 13) ।=Of rivers or oceans. (स्तियानाम्) संहतानां स्थावर-जङ्गमानां प्राण्यप्राणिनाम् । स्त्यै-शब्दसङ्घातयोः (भ्वा.) अत्र सङ्घातार्थः ।=Of all animate beings and inanimate things put together.

Whom should a king honour—is further told :

अयं देवः सहसा जायमान इन्द्रेण युजा पणिमस्तभायत् ।
अयं स्वस्य पितुरायुधानीन्दुरमुष्णादशिवस्य मायाः ॥ २२ ॥

22. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should honour him like a Guru (Preceptor), who being endowed with divine virtues and with the help of the opulent king, makes the admirable dealing permanent. This creator of joy, makes firm the weapons used by his father and takes away the evil intellect of a wicked person or inauspicious ness.

PURPORT :—O king ! let these persons be ever honoured by you, who perform righteous deeds themselves and propagate them to others, who are experts in preaching the science of warfare, and generate good, by destroying inauspiciousness or evil from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पणिम्) स्तुत्यं व्यवहारम् । पण-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा.) अत्र व्यवहारार्थः ।=Admirable dealing. (प्रमुष्णात्) मुष्णाति चोरयति ।=Takes away.

——

How should the enlightened persons be—is further told :

अयमंकृणोदुषसंः सुपत्नीर्यं सूर्ये अदधाज्ज्योतिरन्तः ।
अयं त्रिधातु दिवि रोचनेषु त्रितेषु विन्ददमृतं निगूळहम् ॥ २३ ॥

23. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned person ! as the sun makes the dawns like good wives, so you should be the observers of the chastity of monogamy. As this sun establishes light in the solar world, so establish the light of knowledge in the heart of the people. As this God, who is the lord of the world, finds out the hidden immortal matter consisting of Satva, Rajas and Tamas (purity, passion and inertia) in three luminaries, fire, lightning and sun ; so you should know the nature of the matter and other things.

PURPORT :—O men ! those persons, who are observers of the vow of monogamy and chastity, revealers of truth and untruth, knowers of the cause and effect, soul and other subtle objects; should be looked up as the sun, God and enlightened persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्रितेषु) प्रसिद्धविद्युत्सूर्य्येषु ।=Fire, lightning and the sun.

——

The enlightened persons should behave like God— is told :

अयं द्यावापृथिवी वि ष्कंभायदयं रथमयुनक्सप्तरंश्मिम् ।
अयं गोषु शच्यां पक्वमन्तः सोमो दाधार दशंयन्त्रमुत्संम् ॥ २४ ॥

24. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! you should be like God in your dealings. As He upholds the heaven (light) and earth, as He—yokes the chariot in the form of the sun, which has seven kinds of rays, as He the creator of the world, with His true act; makes this world firm in which there are five gross and five subtle elements, which is like a well full of water. He puts milk in the cows, and strengthens sap in the herbs on earth.

PURPORT :—O enlightened persons ! as God upholds, this world having created justice like the sun, forgiveness like the earth, milk and other saps for the growth of all, so you should try to uphold all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दशयन्त्रम्) सूक्ष्मस्थूलानि दशभूतानि यन्त्रितानि यस्मिँस्तत् ।=The world in which there are five subtle and five gross elements. Five Bhootas or elements are पृथिवी, जल, वायु, अग्नि, आकाश earth, water, air, fire & ether. (उत्सम्) कूपमिव जलेन विलक्षम् । उत्स इति कूपनाम (NG 3, 23) ।=Like the well full of water.

Sŭktam—45

Rishi or Seer of the Sŭktam—Shanyur Brahspatya. Devata—1 to 30—Indra, 31-33—Bribustakshaā. Chhanda—Gayatri of various kinds, Ushnik and Anushtup. Svaras—Shadja, Rishabha and Gāndhāra.

What should a king do—is told :

य आनयत्परावतः सुनीती तुर्वशं यदुम् ।
इन्द्रः स नो युवा सखा ॥ १ ॥

TRANSLATION :—O men ! let that prosperous king by your friend, who is giver of all wealth and endowed with his youthfulness (both physical and spiritual) and good policies or justice, brings a mighty—subduer of the violent men and ever industrious person, from afar.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should befriend only that king, who with his true justice brings highly learned persons from afar, with humility, and sense of welfare for all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तुर्वशम्) हिंसकानां वशकरम्। तुर्वी-हिंसायाम् (भ्वा.) अथवा तुरी-गतित्वरणहिंसनयोः (दिवा.) वश-हिंसनार्थकः ।=Who can control violent persons. (यदुम्) प्रयतमानं नरम् । यती-प्रयत्ने (भ्वा.) ।=Industrious man.

What should a king do – is again told :

अविप्रे चिद्वयो दधदनाशुना चिदर्वता । इन्द्रो जेता हितं धनम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! you should know that king—the destroyer of his enemies, who becomes glorious, who puts good and desirable life or knowledge even in a man—who is not a genius and who wins beneficent wealth with a swift going vehicle—with or without a horse.

PURPORT :—That enlightened king, who puts knowlege in even ignorant boys, through teaching and sermons, attains, kingdom even without a strong army.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वयः) कमनीयं जीवनं विज्ञानं वा । (वयः) वी-गति व्याप्तिप्रजन कान्त्यसनखादनेषु (अ.) अत्र गति कान्त्यर्थं ग्रहणम् । गतेस्त्रिस्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=Desirable good life or knowledge. (अनाशुना) अनश्वेनापि रथेन गन्त्रा ।=With a swift going vehicle even without a horse.

The same subject of king duties – is continued.

महीरस्य प्रणीतयः पूर्वीरुत प्रशस्तयः । नास्य क्षीयन्त ऊतयः ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! great and good are the policies of this king, as sanctioned by the eternal Vedas. His protections and glories never fail.

PURPORT :—Those kings, who ever upholding good policy, nourish their subjects like their own children, attain imperishable glory or good reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पूर्वीः) प्राचीना वेदोविताः ।=Ancient, sanctioned by the Vedas. (प्रशस्तयः) सत्कीर्त्तयः । प्र+शंसु-स्तुतौ (भ्वा.) । =Good reputation or glories.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The mantra is equally applicable to God, the king of kings or Sovereign of the world. By प्रणीतयः in that case is to be meant—ways of guiding or leading forward. The next mantra makes it clear that here also God can be taken.

Who is to be honoured by men—is told :

सखा॑यो ब्रह्म॑वाहसेऽर्च॑त प्र च॑ गायत । स हि न॑: प्रम॑तिर्म॒ही ॥ ४ ॥

Something about technology—is told :

त्वामिद्धि हवामहे साता वाजस्य कारवः ।
त्वां वृत्रेष्विन्द्र सत्पतिं नरस्त्वां काष्ठास्ववर्तः ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O wealthy person! we artists and artisans call you on the occasion of the division (proper utilisation or application) of the scientific knowledge. We call on you, who are a good master on earning wealth. Like a charioteer for his horses, we call on you in all directions.

PURPORT :—O wealth person! if you are our helper or patron, with the help of the wealth given by you, we may make you richer by manufacturing many articles with technology.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजस्य) विज्ञानस्य । वज-गतौ अत्रगतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=Of the scientific knowledge. (काष्ठासु) दिक्षु । काष्ठाः इति दिङ्नाम (NG 1, 6) ।=In all directions. (वृत्रेषु) धनेषु । वृत्रम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=In many kinds of wealth.

What do men attain by technology—is told :

स त्वं नश्चित्र वज्रहस्त धृष्णुया महः स्तवानो अद्रिवः ।
गामश्वं रथ्यमिन्द्र सं किर सत्रा वाजं न जिग्युषे ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O king! you are splendid like the sun, a wonderful scholar, holder of arms and missiles in your hand. With skill admiring the great virtues, give us cows and horses to be harnessed in chariots like the prize given to a conqueror in a battle with true knowledge.

PURPORT :—O king and officers of the State! as warriors obtain wealth and honour by winning in the battle, in the same manner, those, who are experts in various arts get abundant wealth.

NOTES & REMARKS : (अद्रिवः) मेघयुक्तसूर्यवद्वर्त्तमान ।=Splendid like the sun. (सत्रा) सत्येन विज्ञानेन। सत्रा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) । =With true knowledge. (वाजम) सङ्ग्रामम् । वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)

अत्र बल साध्य संग्राम ग्रहणम वाजसातौ इति तु संग्रामनाम सुपठितमेव (NG 2, 17) ।
=Batttle.

How should men deal in the battles—is told :

यः सं॒त्राहा विच॑र्षणि॒रिन्द्रं॒ तं हू॑महे व॒यम् ।
सह॑स्रमुष्क॒ तुवि॑नृम्ण॒ सत्प॑ते॒ भवा॑ स॒मत्सु॑ नो वृ॒धे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O wealthy and protector of the good ! you are endowed with infinite virility and riches, we sincerely call upon you on all days, like a learned person calls upon you. You, who are most manly with a thousand powers, help us in the battles for prosperity.

PURPORT :—We praise only him, who protects us every day and we may also guard him in the battle.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सत्राहा) सत्यदिनानि । सत्रा इति सत्यनाम (NG 3, 10) ।=All true days. (सहस्रमुष्क) असंख्यातवीर्य्यं । सहस्रमिति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) ।=Endowed with infinite virility, most manly with a thousand powers. (तुविनृम्ण) बहुधन । तुवीति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) नृम्णम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10) ।=Possessor of abundant wealth.

How should the king and his subjects promise—is told :

बाध॑से॒ जना॑न् वृष॒भेव॑ म॒न्युना॒ घृषौ॑ मी॒ळ्ह ऋ॑चीषम ।
अ॒स्माकं॑ बोध्यवि॒ता म॑हाध॒ने त॒नूष्व॒प्सु सूर्ये॑ ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O praiseworthy like a Rik of the Veda ! you fight those in the battle, which is waged to subdue the wicked, with wrath like a bull, who gives trouble to the people. Enlighten us, being our protector in our bodies, in our Prânas (vital energy) and in the battle and enlighten us like the light in the sun. As you do this, therefore, are worthy of our honour.

PURPORT :—O king ! we accept you (as our leader) for the destruction of the wicked and our protection. Enlighten us about truth and just duties.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मीळ्हे) सङ्ग्रामे । मीळ्हे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) ।=In the battle. (महाधने) सङ्ग्रामे । महाधने इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) ।=In the battle.

What should a king do—is told :

इन्द्र ज्येष्ठं न आ भरँ ओजिष्ठं पपुरि श्रवः ।
येनेमे चित्र वज्रहस्त रोदसी ओभे सुशिप्र प्राः ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O most virtuous king ! endowed with wonderful virtues, actions and temperament and handsome jaw, nose and other parts, holder of arms and missiles in your hands, bring us name, fame and food, that gives us much strength and is very nourishing, by which you fill this earth and heaven to the full.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should bear such noble virtues, actions and temperament, that you are able to uphold justice, land, kindom, army and victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पपुरि) पालकं पुष्टिकरम् । पपुरि is from पृ-पालनपूरणयो (जुहा.) ।=Nourishing, supporting.

How should a king be—is told :

त्वामुग्रमवसे चर्षणीसहं राजन्देवेषु हूमहे ।
विश्वा सु नो विथुरा पिब्दना वसोऽमित्रान्त्सुषहान्कृधि ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O king ! shining with knowledge and humility, inhabiting or establishing men in happiness, we call on you-mighty among the enlightened men and overcomer of the armies of enemies for protection and advancement. Make our foes easy to subdue and make the armies of our enemies that deserve to be crushed miserably and fear striken.

PURPORT :—All should regard that king as their father, who regards the happiness and misery of his ministers and subjects as his own and tries his utmost to vanquish his foes.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(चर्षणीसहम्) शत्रुसेनायाः सोढारम् । चर्षणयः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) ।=Subduer of the army of foemen. (पिष्टना) पेष्टुमर्हाणिशत्रु सैन्यानि । षह-शक्तौ-सामर्थ्ये (3, 17) काशवृत्सव धातुपाठे। शत्रु तिरोधशक्ति मन्तम् इत्यर्थः। पिष्लृ-संचुर्णने (रुधा.) ।=The armies of enemies that deserve to be crushed. (विथुरा) व्यथायुक्तानि । व्यथ-भयसंचलनयोः (भ्वा.) अत्रत्यार्थः भयभीतान्ति ।=Miserable to or fear striken.

What should a king keep and where—is told :

यदिन्द्र नाहुषीष्वाँ ओजो नृम्णं च कृष्टिषु ।
यद्वा पञ्च क्षितीनां द्युम्नमा भर सत्रा विश्वानि पौंस्या ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O Indra ! you are lover of your subjects. Bring to us all nourishing food materials, strength and wealth that is found among men. Bring to us, all manly powers produced by exertion, that are found on the land, consisting of five great elements and pure fame.

PURPORT :—O king ! if you make all subjects, full of knowledge, wealth and grain, then you can attain pure glory (or good name) and by obtaining land in which all the five elements are in proper proportion and in pure form.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नाहुषीषु) नहुषाणां मनुष्याणाम् आसु-प्रजासु । नहुषः इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) ।=Among men. (ओजः) बलकरमन्नादिकम् । ओजः इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Food grains that are nourishing or invigorating. (नृम्णम्) धनम् ।=Wealth. (पौंस्या) पुरुषार्थजानि बलानि । पौंस्यानि इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) ।=Manly powers produced by exertion.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES !—It is certainly wrong on the part of Shri Sayahacharya ; Prof. Wilson, Griffith and other to take Nahusha as the name of a particular king instead of taking it for men in general as clearly stated in the Vedic Lexicon Nighantu.

What shuuld a king do—is further told :

यद्वां तृक्षौ मघवन् द्रुह्यावा जने यत्पूरौ कच्च वृष्ण्यम् ।
अस्मभ्यं तद्रिरीहि सं नृषाह्येऽमित्रान्पृत्सु तुर्वणे ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you, who have earned wealth with justice, when will you give us that strength, wich a man, endowed with knowledge and good virtues possess. When will you grant us that strength, by which we may overcome our enemies in the battles ?

PURPORT :—O king ! you will become fit to achieve victory over your enemies when you will honour good men and slight (rebuff) the wicked.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तृक्षौ) विद्याशुभगुणप्राप्ते । तृक्ष-गतौ (भ्वा.) अत्र गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय व्याख्या ।=In a man endowed with knowledge and good virtues. (पूरौ) पूर्णबले । पॄ-पालन पूरणयोः (जु.) अत्र पूरणार्थः ।=In a very mighty powerful person.

What kind of house should men build—is told :

इन्द्र त्रिधातु शरणं त्रिवरूथं स्वस्तिमत् ।
छर्दिर्यच्छ मघवद्भ्यश्च मह्यं च यावया दिद्युमेभ्यः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O king ! grant us a happy home in which three metals—gold, silver and copper have been duly used and which is equally good and comfortable in winter, summer and rainy seasons. When you grant such a dwelling place to wealthy persons and myself, make them united with good light.

PURPORT :—Men should build a house, which is comfortable in all seasons, is endowed with wealth and grains, full of trees, flowers, fruits, pure air, water and righteous and well to do persons and having built it, should dwell there, so that happiness may ever grow with health.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(त्रिधातु) त्रयः सुवर्ण रजत ताम्रा धातवो यस्मिंस्तत् ।=Where there is proper blending of three metals i. e. gold, silver and copper. (त्रिवरूथम्) शीतोष्ण वर्षासूत्तमम् । वरूथम् इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) । =Good or comfortable in winter, summer and rainy seasons. (दिद्युम्) सुप्रकाशम् । दिद्यु is from दिवु—क्रीडाविजिगीषा व्यवहारद्युति-स्तुतिमोदमदस्वप्नकान्ति गतिषु (दिवा.) अत्र द्युत्यर्थः =Good light.

———

What should a king do for whom—is told :

ये गव्यता मनसा शत्रुमादभुरभिप्रघ्नन्ति धृष्णुया ।
अध स्मा नो मघवन्निन्द्र गिर्वणस्तनूपा अन्तमो भव ॥ १० ॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O (king) Indra ! you an destroyer of your enemies, served and honoured with good words and possessor of abundant wealth, those, who with bold mind and speech, slay the enemy and thoroughly smite down his army from all sides, along with them, you be closest guardian of our bodies

PURPORT :—O king ! trusting those righteous heroes, who are subduers of the robbers and other wicked persons and enemies, and who are engaged in nourishing the subjects; accomplish well the duties of a ruler.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धृष्णुया) प्रगल्भत्वादिना । (ञि)धृषा-प्रागल्भ्ये (स्वा.) ।=With boldness. (आदभुः) समन्तात् हिंसन्ति । दभ्नोति वधं वधकर्मा (NG 2, 19) ।=Slay, smite down.

What should a king do—is further told :

अध स्मा नो वृधे भवेन्द्र नायमवा युधि ।
यदन्तरिक्षे पतयन्ति पर्णिनो दिद्यवस्तिग्ममूर्धानः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O (king) Indra ! augmenter of wealth, with those brilliant warriors, who go to the battle like the birds in the firmament seated above (in the aircraft etc.) and try to achieve victory, be our (increaser) helper and protect us constantly in the fight.

PURPORT :—Having established aircrafts and other vehicles to go to and come from the firmament, like the birds in the firmament, achieve victory with the aid of good warriors and other persons and be exalted.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पतयन्ति) गच्छन्ति । पत्लृ-गतौ (भ्वा.) ।=Go. (दिद्यवः) प्रकाशमानाः । दिवु-क्रीडा———द्युम-गतिषु (दिवा.) अत्रद्युत्यर्थः । द्युतिः-प्रकाशः ।=Brilliant. (तिग्ममूर्द्धानः) तिग्म उपरि वर्त्तमानाः ।=Seated above (in the aeroplane etc.)

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—There is clear reference to the use of the aeroplanes in battles and for other purposes. The simile of the birds does not leave any doubt about it.

The same subject of king's duties—is continued :

यत्र शूरा॑सस्तन्वो॑ वितन्व॒ते प्रि॒या शर्म॑ पितॄ॒णाम् ।
अध॑ स्मा यच्छ त॒न्वे॒३ तने॑ च छ॒र्दिर॒चित्तं॑ या॒वय॒ द्वेषः॑ ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O king ! in the battle, where heroes protect the bodies of their fathers (elderly people) and their masters and protect their sweet homes. Give for our dwelling good home and keep enemies far away.

PURPORT :—O king ! keep with you or under your patronage, brave and righteous person respectfully and driving away all enemies, spread your fame far and wide by providing good enjoyable objects in the homes of fathers and masters.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शर्म्म) शर्माणि गृहाणि । शर्मेति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) ।=Homes. (छर्दिः) गृहम् । छर्दिरिति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) ।=Home. (यावय) वियोजय । अत्र युजादीनामित्यभ्यासदैर्घ्यम् ।=Drive away, keep for away.

How should men go and do other works—is told :

यदि॑न्द्र॒ सर्गे॒ अर्व॑तश्चो॒दया॑से म॒हाध॒ने ।
अ॒स॒मने॒ अध्व॑नि वृजि॒ने प॒थि श्ये॒नाँ इ॑व श्रव॒स्यतः॑ ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O (king) Indra ! you—the destroyer

of your brave enemies, when ever you harhess your horses (like falcons) desirous of obtaining glory and food on a hignway, which is to be united (one road with the other), where no war ls going on and by which (through business etc.) much wealth can be acquired and which is powerfully constructed, even the distant place appears to be close.

PURPORT :—O king ! even apart from battle, whenever you have to go any where, you should go quickly. There should be no looseness or laxity either in walking or by any vehicle which should be swift and not slow-going.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(असमने) अविद्यमानं समनं संग्रामो यस्मिंस्तस्मिन् । समनम् इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) ।=Where a battle is not going on. (वृजिने) बले । वृजनम् इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) अत्रवृजिनशब्दोऽपि तत्पर्यायित्वेन गृहीतः ।=Power or powerful.

What should king and ministers etc. do—is told :

सिन्धूँरिव प्रवण आशुया यतो यदि क्लोशमनु ष्वणि ।
आ ये वयो न वर्वृतत्यामिषि गृभीता बाह्वोर्गवि ॥ १४ ॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O king ! speeding like rivers, rushing down a steep descent and like birds attracted to the sound or the bait, if you go quickly and if the machines or the rays of electricity move swiftly, then going to distant places will not be difficult. Others also, who go or come should do so swiftly.

PURPORT :—There are two similes used in the mantra, as water goes down swiftly from a higher place or as the faleons and other birds run quickly for flesh. so you travel quickly on land, water and firmament.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (वयः) पक्षिणः । अत्र गत्यर्थः शीघ्रगतिमन्तः पक्षिणः। =Birds. (स्वनि) शब्दे । स्वन-शब्दे (भ्वा.) ।=On sound. (गवि) पृथिव्याम् । गौरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1) वी-गतिव्याप्ति प्रजन कान्त्यसनखादनेषु (अदा.) । =On earth.

Sūktam—47

Rishi or Seer of the Sūktam—Garga. Devatā—Soma, Indra and other subjects as mentioned in the mantras. Chhandas—Trishtup, Pankti, Brihati and Gāyatri of various kinds. Svaras—Dhaivata, Panchama and Shadja.

By doing what should a king become unbearable for enemies—is told :

स्वादुष्किलायं मधुमाँ उतायं तीव्रः किलायं रसवाँ उतायम् ।
उतो न्वस्य पपिवांसमिन्द्रं न कश्चन संपत आहवेषु ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O heroes ! this Soma (juice of the invigorating herbs) is very delicious and full of sweetness. It is strong and rich in sap. No one can conquer (or resist) Indra or brave king when he has drunk this Soma.

PURPORT :—No foes can conquer those in battles, who are endowed with physical and spiritual power by the observance of Brahmcharya (abstinence-selfcontrol), regularity and proper food.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आहवेषु) सङ्ग्रामेषु । आहवे इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17)।=In battles.

What should men take and what should they do—is told :

अयं स्वादुरिह मदिष्ठ आस यस्येन्द्रो वृत्रहत्ये ममाद ।
पुरूणि यश्च्यौत्ना शम्बरस्य वि नवतिं नव च देह्यो॒३ हन् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—A king who is full of vigour like the sun, become very powerful by drinking this invigorating Soma juice and as the sun smites down ninety-nine movementrs of the cloud. That king being very much advanced in power, defeats all the strength of the foes.

PURPORT :—O men ! by taking that invigorating juice which is very delicious and which augments strength intellect and vigour, conquer your enemies and enjoy thornless (complete) kingdom.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वृत्रहत्ये) सङ्ग्रामे। वृत्तूर्ये इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17)। तुरी-गति त्वरणहिंसनयोः (दिवा.) तस्मात् वृ तूर्ये वृत्रहत्ये इति पर्यायवाचक शब्दौ।=In the battle. (च्यौत्ना) बलानिच्यौत्नमिति बलनाम (NG 2, 9)। =Strengh, powers. (शम्बरस्य) मेघस्य। शम्बर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)। Of the cloud. (देह्यः) उपचेतुं योग्यः। दिह्-उपचये (अदाः) उपचयः दिः। =Advanced in power.

What does Soma do—is told :

अयं मे पीत उदियर्ति वाचमयं मनीषामुशतीमजीगः।
अयं षळुर्वीरमिमीत धीरो न याभ्यो भुवनं कच्चनारे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men! this Soma when properly drunk stirs up my voice and strengthens my intellect desiring the knowledge of all objects, by which a man get his desires fulfilled. Like a wise man of meditation, it enables me to acquire the knowledge of all six kinds of earth including all creatures, far and near. This Soma should be prepared according to the medical science.

PURPORT :—O men! only such articles should be taken as increase the strength of the speech, intellect and body and by which knowledge of the scriptures can be easily grasped. Things which diminish or spoil the power of intellect and body should never be taken.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मनीषाम्) प्रज्ञाम्। मनीषा-मनसईषया स्तुत्या प्रज्ञयावा (NKT 2, 7, 25) अत्र प्रज्ञार्थग्रहणम्।=Intellect. (उशतीम्) कामयमानाम्। (उशती) वश-कान्तौ (अदा.) कान्तिः—कामना।=Desiring the knowledge.

What does soma do—is told :

अयं स यो वरिमाणं पृथिव्या वर्ष्माणं दिवो अकृणोदयं सः।
अयं पीयूषं तिसृषु प्रवत्सु सोमो दाधारोर्वन्तरिक्षम् ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men! this Soma (creative power of God) upholds nectar in three lower regions like the earth. It is this that causes the greatness of the earth and causes rain from the light or rays of the sun. It should be taken from all sides for proper utilisation. It is this, that is the upholder af the subtle cause and is, therefore, the bestower of happiness upon all.

PURPORT :—O men! gather and take that Soma which upholds the earth alongwith air and upholds the sun with his rays and become free fram all diseases.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वष्मणिम्) वर्षकम् । वृषु-संचने ।=Rainer. (पन्तरिक्षम्) अन्तरक्षयं कारणाख्यम् ।=Subtle cause.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—Here Soma is to be taken in a comprehensive sense of the creative Power of God that upholdes all things and beings.

The same subject—is continued :

अयं विदच्चित्रदृशीकमर्णः शुक्रसद्मनामुषसामनीके ।
अयं महान्महता स्कम्भनेनोद् द्यामस्तभ्नाद् वृषभो मरुत्वान् ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men! as this sun, which has many airs or gases within it or around which causes rain (by drawing up the water) creates worth seeing water in the army of or near the pure dawns and with great upholding power it upholds the heaven. You should use that sun for doing mighty works.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons! you should enjoy happiness by revealing the light of knowledge like the sun from moring onward.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(मरुत्वान्) मरुतो बहवो वायवो विद्यन्ते यस्मिन् सः। ओजो वै वीर्यं मरुतः (जैमिनीयोप 3, 3, 9). So मरुत्वान् means also mighty मरुतो वृष्टिम् अमृतश्रयावयन्ति (मैत्रायणिसं. 2,4,7) मरुतो रश्मयः (जैमिनीयोप 3,1,74 ता. ब 14,12,1) So the sun is मरुत्वान् as it his so many rays.=The sun containing many airs, or winds with in. (स्कम्भनेन) धारणेन। By upholding power.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—ओजो वै वीर्यं मरुतः (जैमिनीयोप) 3, 3, 9) So मरुत्वान् also means mighty. मरुतो वृष्टिम प्रमुत श्रावयन्ति (मैत्रायणि, 2, 4, 8) So it is clear that the word मरुत is used for monsoon winds. मरुतो-रश्मयः (जैमिनीयोप 3, 174, शा. ब्र. 12, 1) । So the sun is मरुत्वान् as it has so many rays.

How should a king be—is further told :

धृषत्पिब कलशे सोममिन्द्र वृत्रहा शूर समरे वसूनाम् ।
माध्यंन्दिने सवंन आ वृषस्व रयिस्थानो रयिमस्मासु धेहि ॥ ६ ॥

6. TRANSLATION :— O fearless Indra (Commander-in-Chief of the army) ! you who are like the sun in splendour, as the sun-slayer of the clouds, drinks much water drawn from the earth and ocean at noon, showing your boldness in the battle, drink Soma (the juice of the invigorating herbs and plants) in a vessels and be mighty. You, who are the possessor of the riches, give us wealth.

PURPORT :—O king as the sun at noon illuminates the whole world, so holding the seat of justice, hear well both sides of the case (the petitioner and the respondent) and then manifest justice according to true policy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्र) सूर्यवद्वर्त्तमान सेनेश । अथ यः स इन्द्रोऽसौ सऽ आदित्यः (Stph 8, 5, 3, 2) । सेना वा इन्द्राणी । (मैत्रायणसिं 2, 2, 5; काठक स. 10, 10) तस्मात् इन्द्र-सेनानीः ।=O Commander-in-Chief of the army ! who are like the sun in splendour. (वसूनाम्) पृथिव्यादीनां मध्यात् ।=Of the earth and other places of habietation.

How should a king be—is further stated :

इन्द्र प्र णः पुरएतेवं पश्य प्र नो नय प्रतरं वस्यो अच्छं ।
भवां सुपारो अंतिपारयो नो भवा सुनीतिरुत वामनीतिः ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O Indra destroyer of the wicked, like a good leader, look upon us with love. Lead us on to surpass the strength of our enemies. Convey to us very good wealth by righteous means. O excellent guardian ! bear us well through peril and lead us on to wealth with careful guidance, the follower of a good policy consistent with justice, you be the ruler of an admirable policy.

PURPORT :—That king alone can get real admiration, who is true examiner of men, leading men onward to prosperity treading on the path of justice, taking men across miseries and war, and following a righteous policy.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वस्यः) वसीयोऽतिशयेन सुष्ठुधनम् ।=Very good wealth. (वामनीतिः) वामा प्रशंसिता नीतिर्यस्य सः । वाम इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3,8) ।=A man of admirable policy. (प्रतरम्) शत्रूणां बलोल्लङ्घनम् । तृ-प्लवनसन्तरणयोः (भ्वा.) अत्र सन्तरणार्थः ।=Surpassing the strength of the foes.

How should a king deal with his dependents—is told :

उ॒रुं नो॑ लो॒कमनु॑ नेषि वि॒द्वान्त्स्व॑र्व॒ज्ज्योति॒रभ॑यं स्व॒स्ति ।
ऋ॒ष्वा त॑ इन्द्र॒ स्थवि॑रस्य बा॒हू उप॑ स्थेयाम शर॒णा बृ॒हन्ता॑ ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O king ! conveyor of justice, we take shelter in your great and strong arms-which destroy enemies, as you are old or advanced in knowledge and humility. You are worthy of reverence us you lead us to much worldly prosperity and to the light of knowledge free from fear and endowed with much happiness.

PURPORT :—A king should make all his subjects, endowed with knowledge, fearlessness and happiness, so that they may always be agreeable to him.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्थविरस्य) विद्याविनयाभ्यां वृद्धस्य ।=Old or advanced in knowledge and humility. (ऋष्वा) ऋष्वौ महान्तौ । ऋष्व इति महन्नाम (NG 3,3) =Great.

How should that king deal with whom—is told :

वरिष्ठे न इन्द्र वन्धुरे धा वहिष्ठयोः शतावन्नश्वयोरा ।
इषमा वक्षीषां वर्षिष्ठां मा नस्तारीन्मघवन्रायो अर्यः ॥ ९ ॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O opulant king ! endowed with hundreds of riches, provide us the best chariot-seat, drawn by two swift horses, and associated with us with love. Bring us the best among all viands. Do not keep us away from good food materials.

PURPORT :—A king should be urged by the people of the army and his subjects to bring them abundant wealth by seating them in good chariots, so that people may not cheat them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इषाम्) अन्नादीनाम् । अन्नं वा इषम् (कोषी. 2, 8, 5) ।=Of food and other things. (वन्धुरे) प्रेमबन्धने ।=In the bond of love. (शतावन्) शतानि बलानि विद्यन्ते यस्य तत्सम्बुद्धौ ।=One who has hundreds of strength.

What should a king do—is again told :

इन्द्र मृळ मह्यं जीवातुमिच्छ चोदय धियमयसो न धाराम् ।
यत्किञ्चाहं त्वायुरिदं वदामि तज्जुषस्व कृधि मा देववन्तम् ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king ! bestow happiness on me. Desire for my long life, inspire me to have good intellect, good actions and good speech-attractive like gold. Accept my prayers in whatever words I speak, provide me the company of enlightened persons.

PURPORT :—There is simile used in the mantra. As all ordinary men desire to have gold and other kinds of wealth, so you should always desire to nourish your subjects well. Make such arrangments that all your subjects may attain well-trained speech, knowledge, long life and the associatton with the enlightened men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अयसः) हिरण्यस्य । अय इति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2) ।=Gold. (धियम्) प्रज्ञां धर्म्यं कर्म वा धीरिति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) धीरिति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1)=Good intellect or good action. (धाराम्) प्रगल्भां वाचम्। धारा इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)=Good and effective speech.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The word अय: is generally used for iron, so other translators usually render into English the second stanza as—"sharpen my intellect as it were a blade of iron". There is nothing objectionable there, particularly when by Indra—God is to be taken :

What should a king do and why should the subjects resort to him—is told :

त्रातारमिन्द्रमवितारमिन्द्रं हवेहवे सुहवं शूरमिन्द्रम्।
ह्वयामि शक्रं पुरुहूतमिन्द्रं स्वस्ति नो मघवा धात्विन्द्रः ॥ ११ ॥

11. TRANSLATION :— O men ! as I invoke a prosperous king, who is endowed with great wealth, who is giver of knowledge, destroyer of ignorance and wicked persons. fearless and brave, mighty, invited by many men, bearer of good virtues and a good fighter in the battle. May that Indra—endowed with greatly admired wealth, give happiness to us.

PURPORT :—As men invoke God, who is our great Helper every where, so they should resort to a God-like pure and good king also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अवितारम्) ज्ञानादिप्रदम्। अव धातोर्दानार्थमादाय ज्ञानादिप्रदम् इति व्याख्यानम्।=Giver of knowledge etc. (इन्द्रम्) अविद्या-दुष्टजनविनाशकम्। इन्दन् शत्रूणां दारयिता वा द्रावयिता वा (NKT 10, 1, 8)। =Destroyer of ignorance and wicked persons. (इन्द्रम्) सेनाधरम्। =Upholder or supporter of the army.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :— Rishi Dayanand Saraswati's (purport) clearly denotes that the mantra is equally applicable to God with slight change in the meaning of some words. Shakra in that sense is almghity, अवितारम् Protector, शूरम् is Destroyer of all evils and so on.

How should that king be and how should he be protected—is told :

इन्द्रः सुत्रामा स्ववाँ अवोभिः सुमृळीको भवतु विश्ववेदाः ।
बाधतां द्वेषो अभयं कृणोतु सुवीर्यस्य पतयः स्याम ॥ १२ ॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us be guardians of that king, who is destroyer of wickedness, knower of all sciences, who has many kith and kin. Let him be, with his protective power, giver of good happiness to us. Let him remove all malice or malicious persons and make us fearless. May we be the guardians of that king, who is mighty on account of the observance of Brahmacharya (abstinence). You should also guard him.

PURPORT :—O men ! all should always protect that king, who is well-versed in all sciences, observer of Brahmacharya (abstinence), having many friends, protector of good persons like his ownself and punisher of the wicked and, who makes us all fearless from all sides.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(विश्ववेदाः) यो विश्वं विज्ञानं वेत्ति । विद् ज्ञाने (अदा.) ।=Who is knower of all sciences. (सुमृळीकः) सुष्ठु सुखकरः । मृड-सुखने (तु.) ।=Bestower of good happiness.

———

How should kings and their subjects deal with one another—is told :

तस्य वयं सुमतौ यज्ञियस्यापि भद्रे सौमनसे स्याम ।
स सुत्रामा स्ववाँ इन्द्रो अस्मे आराच्चिद् द्वेषः सनुतर्युयोतु ॥ १३ ॥

13. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us be in the good intellect and in the auspicious righteous mental dealing of that king, who is endowed with knowledge and humility and is doer of the service to the enlightened person, association with them and gift of knowledge, let that king, who is well protector of all, endowed with his own power, keep away from us-whether near us or far, all haters of Dharma (righteousness and duty). He is therefore, to be respected by us.

PURPORT :—O officers of the State and the people ! let us always deal with one another in the same way, in which a king dwells in pure justice and good virtues. Let us be the preservers of justice and righteousness, always removing all vices unitedly.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आरात्) समीपाद् दूराद्वा । आरे इति दूरनाम (NG 3,26) आरात् दूरसमीपयोः (अव्ययार्थे:) ।=From far and near. (युयोतु) पृथक्करोतु । यु-मिश्रणे अमिश्रणे च (भ्वदा.) अत्र अमिश्रणार्थः ।=Separate, keep far away.

Virtues of a king—is told :

अव॒ त्वे इ॑न्द्र प्र॒वतो॒ नोर्मिर्गिरो॒ ब्रह्मा॑णि नि॒युतो॑ धवन्ते ।
उ॒रू न राधः॒ सव॑ना पु॒रूण्य॒पो गा व॑ज्रिन्युव॒से समिन्दू॑न् ॥ १४ ॥

14. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (King) ! you are the wielder of the thunderbolt-like powerful weapons and missiles. Sure and true good words, wealth and grains come to you as waters of rivers rushing down a slope. Likewise abundant wealth, good urges move you. You unite waters, lands or speeches and joys, therefore you are the best.

PURPORT :- All sciences, all wealth and all joy are attained by those people, who perform good actions (like Brahmacharya—abstinence). These things go to such persons, as water goes down a slope and wealth comes to an industrious person.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(नियुतः) निश्चित-सत्यवाचः ।=Sure and true words. (ब्रह्माणि) धनान्यन्नानि वा । ब्रह्म इति धननाम (NG 2,10) ब्रह्म इति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=Wealth or food materials. (इन्दून्) आह्लादान् । इदि-परमैश्वर्ये । चदि-आह्लादने (भ्वा.) ।=Joys.

Who should ask whom and how should they answer—is told :

क ईं॑ स्तव॒त्कः पृ॑णा॒त्को य॑जाते॒ यदु॒ग्रमिन्म॒घवा॑ वि॒श्वहावे॑त् ।
पादा॑विव प्र॒हर॑न्न॒न्यम॑न्यं कृ॒णोति॒ पूर्व॒मप॑रं॒ शची॑भिः ॥ १५ ॥

15. TRASLATION :— O enlightened persons ! who glorifies

God in this world, and who nourishes all ? Who truly performs the Yajna in the form of honouring highly learned men ?

That wealthy man, who with his good actions, always protects a person full of splendour, who like the moving feet makes the last precede, the formost follower. (making first the last and vice versa).

PURPORT :—O learned persons, we ask you some questions.

1. Who glorifies God is this world ?

2. Who nourishes all, with justice ?

3. Who honours the enlightened persons ?

The following are answers to the above questions respectively :

1. The man endowed with wisdom and Yoga always glorifies God.

2. That just king, who impartially punishes the guilty and honours a righteous person, is protector of all.

3. Only who is himself enlightened and knower of the merits and defects, can honour highly learned persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईम्) प्राप्तव्यं परमात्मानम् । ईमिति पदनाम (NG 4, 2) ।=Who praises the God. (पृणात्) पालयेत । पृण-प्रीणने (तुदा.) प्रीणनं तर्पणं पालनं वा =May nourish.

How should that king be - is further told :

शृृण्वे वीर उग्रमुग्रं दमायन्नन्यमन्यमतिनेनीयमानः ।
एधमानद् विळुभयस्य राजा चोष्कूयते विश इन्द्रो मनुष्यान् ॥ १६ ॥

16. TRANSLATION :—O ministers ! I hear him to be the administrator of justice, who, being a hero, subdues or tames every strong man and taking all different persons to the course of justice, hater of the haughty (growing at the cost of others) shining with justice and humility among both the officers of the State and the subjects and bearer of knowledge and humility, calls upon all (to discharge their duties).

PURPORT :—O men! he alone is fit to be a ruler, who punishes the wicked, honours good men, punishes those, who are jeolous of those who make progress and respects the happy and who, administers true justice after hearing the arguments of both the petioner and the respondent.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(योष्कूयते) भृशमाह्वयति । योष्कूयते इति पदनाम (NG 4, 3) पद-गतौ गतेस्त्रयोऽर्थाः ज्ञान गमनं प्राप्तिश्च अत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहण कृत्वा ज्ञापयति-कर्तव्य-पालनार्थं भृशम् आह्वयती स्यर्थम् ।=Invokes or calls upon (to discharge their duties). (राजा) न्यायविनयाभ्यां प्रकाशमानः । राजृ-दीप्तौ (भ्वा.) ।=Shining with justice and humility.

Some Do's and Do not's for King—is told :

परा पूर्वेषां सख्या वृणक्ति वितर्तुराणो अपरेभिरेति ।
अनानुभूतीरवधून्वानः पूर्वीरिन्द्रः शरदस्तर्तरीति ॥ १७ ॥

17. TRANSLATION :—That king, who is full of splendour like the sun, who gives up the friendship of the bad people and shaking men, who are devoid of experience, and cultivates friendship with enlightened and experienced good men, goes beyond miseries, like the sun passing autumn season.

PURPORT :—That king who gives up the friendship of old and experienced good men and keeps freindship of mean fellows, falls down from the path of welfare. That man enjoys full life with happiness, who gives up the company of ignorant persons and cultivates friendship with enlightened men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तर्तरीति) भृशं तरति ।=Swims across or goes beyond miseries etc. (अवधून्वानः) अवकिकम्पयन् ।=Shaking.

What is the nature of this soul—is told :

रूपंरूपं प्रतिरूपो बभूव तदस्य रूपं प्रतिचक्षणाय ।
इन्द्रो मायाभिः पुरुरूप ईयते युक्ता ह्यस्य हरयः शता दश ॥ १८ ॥

TRANSLATION :—O men! the soul by its manifestations conveys the same forms. This is its only form to talk about. It assumes many bodies according to its actions and is therefore multiformed. It has its thousands of forms of the senses (inner and outer) Pranas and thousands of nerves, which are comparable i fastness with horses.

PURPORT :—O men ! as electricity assumes practically the same form as the object it enters, in the same manner, the soul becomes, of the same nature as the body. When it desires to see an external object, its knowledge becomes of the same form having seen it. It commincates with the entire body through innumerable nerves which are contained in the body along with electricity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरय:) अथवा इन्द्रियाण्यन्त:करणप्राणा: । तद्वत् एतै:इदं सर्वं हरति तस्माद् हरय: (जैमिनीयो 1, 14, 35) तस्मात् हरणशीलत्वात् अथवा: इन्द्रियान्त: करण प्राणादयो हरय: अदित्वस्य हरय: हरण आदित्य रश्मय:। (NKT 7,7,24) जैमिनीयोपनिषद ब्राह्मणेऽस्यमूकस्यसूर्यपरक व्याख्यानेऽभिहितम् । युक्तस्यास्य (इन्द्रस्य) हरय: शता दशेति सहस्त्रंहैत आदित्य रश्मय: । तेऽस्य युक्तास्तैरिदं सर्वंतरति तद्यदे तैरिदं सर्वं हरति तस्माद् हरय: (जैमिनीयोप 1, 14, 3, 5) ।=Horses in the form of inner and outer senses, Pranas and thousands of nerves. (प्रतिचक्षणाय) प्रत्यक्षकथनाय ।=For talking about. (प्रतिरूप:) तदाकारवर्तमान: ।=Present in the same form. (मायाभि:) प्रज्ञाभि: ।=By intellect.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—It is opposed, therefore, to the Nirukta and the Jaimineeyo Brahmana to take Indra for God and मायाभि: as illusions as taken by Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others माया इति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9) । To translate it as illusion is wrong. Shri Sayanacharya himself has rightly stated in his first interpretation of the mantra मायाभि: ज्ञाननामैतत् । ज्ञानै:-आत्मीयै: संकल्पै: । But he has given the other meaning as अनादिमायाशक्तिभि:-as not his own but as other's opinion saying अन्ये मन्यन्ते । इन्द्रिय-मिन्द्रलिङ्ग मिन्द्र दृष्टमिन्द्र सृष्टमिन्द्र जुष्टमिन्द्र दत्तमिति वा इति पाणिनीयाय । अष्टाध्याम् 5, 2, 3 इन्द्र आत्मा इति काशिकायामपि । The Neo-Vedantic interpretation is not authentic, opposed to the Nirukta, Jaimineey-punishad Brahman and other ancient literature, as well as, to reason or even common sense. It is simply ridiculous to say as Wilson has done 'Indra' multiform by his illusions, proceeds to his many worshippers, for the horses yoked to his car are a thousand" (Wilson). Its absurdity is evident on the face of it.

How does soul behave in the body—is told :

युञ्जानो हरिता रथे भूरि त्वष्टेह राजति ।
को विश्वाहा द्विषतः पक्ष आसत उतासीनेषु सूरिषु ॥ १९ ॥

19. TRANSLATION :—As a charioteer yoking horses in the charming chariot shines very well, so the soul shines in the body (which is like a chariot with senses as horses). Who will take the side of the ignorant people, when wise enlightened men are sitting there ?

PURPORT :—O men ! you should give up the side of ignorant men and always side with the enlightened men. As a good charioteer controls the horses well and by yoking them in the chariot, easily reaches destination, so, a soul by self-control can accomplish all its purposes. As a charioteer feels sad in a chariot yoked with wicked horses, in the same manner, the soul feel miserable in a body without self control.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(हरिता) हरणशीलावश्वौ ।=Horses. (रथे) रमणीये यान इव शरीरे ।=In the body which is like a charming chariot. (त्वष्टा) तनूकर्त्ता जीवः ।=Subtle soul.

The idea of this Veda Mantra is explained in Kathopnishad 1.3.3-6. Ed.

How can men get health—is told :

अगव्यूति क्षेत्रमागन्म देवा उर्वी सती भूमिरंहूरणाभूत् ।
बृहस्पते प्र चिकित्सा गविष्टावित्था सते जरित्र इन्द्र पन्थाम् ॥ २० ॥

20. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (remover of diseases and defects) ! O protector of the great objects ! O good physician ! by you and this earth (land) which is full of many fruits etc and where sometimes battles are razed by active people, going about here and there and where there are plots of some mi,es, we acquire that land. In this way, in the combination of well-trained and refined speech, we prepare a path for a devotee of God.

PURPORT :—O men ! with the friendship, of good vaidyas

(physicians) you should become healthy, free from all diseases. long lived, very mighty and enlightened. Then obtaining the kingdom of the earth, you should go from place to place by like aircrafts, vehicles and tread upon the path of the enlightened men.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अंहूरण) यें ऽह्वयन्ति तेऽह्वो गन्तारस्तेषां रणः सङ्ग्रामो यस्यां सा । अहि-गतौ (भ्वा.) गौरिति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11)।=A land where there is some times a battle among the active people. (गविष्टौ) गोः सुशिक्षिताया वाचः सङ्गतौ । इष्टिः यज-देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा.) अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थः ।=In the combinntion of the well-trained or cultured speech.

How should the officers of the State and the people deal with one another—is told :

दिवेदिवे सदृशीरन्यमर्द्धं कृष्णा असेधदप सद्मनो जाः ।
अहन्दासा वृषभो वस्नयन्तोदव्रजे वर्चिनं शम्बरं च ॥ २१ ॥

21. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the sun when risen, sets half portion of the globe separately every day and dispels the darkness of this world by its rays, that sun causing the rain, destroys the respondent cloud, in the same manner, the officers of the State and ordinary subjects covering one another should behave.

PURPORT :—O men ! as the sun and the cloud attracting the whole world make it endowed with heat and water, as the sun illuminates the half of the earth and causes rain, dispels darkness and gladdens all, in the same manner, the officers of the State and the subjects should make all happy by attracting truth, giving up falsehood, removing injustice and propagating justice, showering the sermon of good education.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जाः) जायमानः सूर्यः । (जाः) जनी—प्रादुर्भावे —The sun when rising. Here manifesting or rising. (वस्नयन्ता) वस्नमिवाचरन्तौ राजप्रजाजनौ । वस्नम्-वस्त्रम् ।=The king and the subjects behaving like covering or clothes.

How should the king and his subjects deal with one another—is told :

प्रस्तोक इन्नु राधंसस्त इन्द्र दश कोशयीर्दश वाजिनोऽदात् ।
दिवोदासादतिथिग्वस्य राधः शाम्बरं वसु प्रत्यंग्रभीष्म ॥ २२ ॥

22. TRANSLATION :—O Indra (king) ! endowed with great wealth and full of splendour like the sun, your admirer gives ten plots full of wealth and abundant foodstuffs and he makes it tenfold. We get from the giver of light for a hospitable man-wealth and good water from the cloud. Give that to us and we may give the same to you.

PURPORT :—O king ! protect that man in your state, who is the giver of measureless wealth and showerer of happiness, serving honourable guests. Let us give that wealth to you which we receive from others, and give to us that which you receive.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शांबरम्) शंबरे मेघे भवम् । जलाढ्यं द्रव्यम् । शम्बर इति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) ।=Water in the cloud. (कोषयीः) य कोशान्यान्ति ताभूमीः ।=Plots of land. (वाजिनः) बह्वन्नयुक्तस्य । वाज इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) ।=Endowed with abundant food materials. (दिवोदासात्) प्रकाशदातुः । दासृ-दाने (भ्वा.) ।=Of the giver of light. (अतिथिग्वस्य) योऽतिथीनागच्छति तस्य ।=Of a man who approaches venerable guests for service.

What should the ministers receive from a king—is told :

दशाश्वान्दश कोशान्दश वस्त्राधिभोजना ।
दशों हिरण्यपिण्डान्दिवोदासादसानिषम् ॥ २३ ॥

23. TRANSLATION :—O king ! let we get from you, who, are giver of desirable wealth, ten fold horses and other things, ten treasures of wealth, ten fold clothes and abundant riches along with, tenfold stores of gold.

PURPORT :—Those who are righteous, brave conqueror of enemies, loyal to the king, engaged in the work of nourishing the people and enlightened ministers, should receive the tenfold gift of horses and other things from the king, for distribution.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिवोदासात्) कमनीयधनदातुः । दिवु-धातोः कान्त्यर्थ-मादाय कमनीय धनदातुः । इति व्याख्यानम् कान्तिः-कामना । दासु-दाने (भ्वा.) ।=From the giver of desirable wealth. (असनिषम्) संभज्य प्राप्नुयाम् । षण- संभक्तौ (भ्वा.) ।=May get for distribution.

———

Whom should the king delegate power—is told :

दश रथान्प्रष्टिमतः शतं गा अथर्वभ्यः । अश्वथः पायवेऽदात् ॥२४ ।

24. TRANSLATION :—O king or householder ! as a wise and virtuous householder, who unites all, who gives to the sages of non-violent nature, for nourishment and feeding ten chariots and a hundred cows, which are in his possession, so you should also give.

PURPORT :—Those kings and officers of the State, who delegate powers for providing food, cows, chariots etc. to others, in turn get good materials.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अथर्वभ्यः) अंहिसकेभ्यः । थर्व-हिंसायाम् । (काश-कृतधातुपाठे (1, 204) ।=For non-violent sages. (अश्वथः) यः अश्नुते सः । अशूङ्—व्याप्तौ । सङ्घाते च (स्वा.) ।=A virtuous person pervading in good virtues and uniting all.

———

What should a king do—is further told :

महि राधो विश्वजन्यं दधानान् भरद्वाजान्त्साञ्जयो अभ्ययष्ट ॥२५॥

25. TRANSLATION :—That king can become a sovereign, who being the son of a man, who makes many just dealings associates with the upholders of knowledge, food grains and the great wealth that is bestower of happiness to all, or which can produce many odd articles.

PURPORT :—That king alone can make his state advanced, who making his body and soul powerful by the observance of Brahmacharya

NOTES & REMARKS :—(साञ्जंय:) यो विविधान्न्याययुक्तान् व्यवहारान् सृजति तस्यापत्यम् ।=The son of a man who makes various just dealings, (भरद्वाजान्) ये वाजानन्नादीन् भरन्ति तान् । वाज इति अन्ननाम (NG 2,7) वाज इति बलनाम (NG 2, 9) वज-गतौ (भ्वा.) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेषु ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणमत्र ।=Upholders of foodgrains, knowledge and strength.

—— ——

What kind of friends should a king desire—is told :

वनस्पते वीड्वङ्गो हि भूया अस्मत्सखा प्रतरणः सुवीरः ।
गोभिः सन्नद्धो असि वीळयस्वास्थाता ते जयतु जेत्वानि ॥ २६ ॥

26. TRANSLATION :—O hero ! you who are like the sun, the protector of the rays, as you are firm and strong in body, taking all beyond miseries, very brave, endowed with well-trained and refined speeches, you be our friend. Being of good faith and devotion, make us firm. Let your army conquer the armies of your enemies.

PURPORT :—Men should have friendship with powerful persons, so that they may always achieve victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वीड्वङ्ग) वीडूनी बलिष्ठान्यङ्गानि यस्य सः ।=Whose organs of the body are very strong and powerful. (वनस्पते) वनानां किरणानां पालकः सूर्य इव ।=Who is like the sun-the protector of the rays. (वीलयस्व) दृढान् कुरु ।=Make us firm.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is noteworthy that while Prof. Wilson, Griffith and others following Sayanacharya consider the mantra addressed to the forest wood of which the chariot is made, Rishi Dayanada Sarasvati taking into consideration the epithets used—takes it for a brave and strong hero. How wrong and misleading is therefore Griffith's foot note that 'This car is the deified object of this and the two following stanzas." (Griffith's translation of the Hymns of the Rigveda Vol. I. P. 612).

——————

From whom should men take benefits—is told :

दिवस्पृथिव्याः पर्योज उद्भृतं वनस्पतिभ्यः पर्याभृतं सहः ।
अपामोज्मानं परि गोभिरावृतमिन्द्रस्य वज्रं हविषा रथं यज ॥ २७ ॥

27. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened person ! take the mighty strength borrowed from the lightning or the sun, from the earth or firmament, from the trees, from the flood of waters and the rays of electricity and vehicles like aircraft—covered from all sides and unite with the proper implements.

PURPORT :—Those persons, who having aquired strength from all sides, showerhappiness on all, like the sun generating the cloud, are honoured everywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दिवः) विद्युतःसूर्याद्वा ।=From lightning or the sun. (पृथिव्याः) भूमेरन्तरिक्षाद्वा पृथिवीत्यन्तरिक्षनाम (NG 1, 3) ।=From the earth or firmament. (इन्द्रस्य) विद्युतः । गावः इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) यदशनिरिन्द्रस्तेन (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 6, 9) स्तनयित्नु रेवेन्द्रः (Stph 11, 6, 3, 9) हु-दानादनयोः । आदाने च-अत्र आदा ।=Of electricity. (रथम्) तथ्यं पदानां आतम् विमानादियानविशेषम् ।=Special vehicle in the form of aircraft etc.

What should a king accomplish with electricity—is further told :

इन्द्रस्य वज्रो मरुतामनीकं मित्रस्य गर्भो वरुणस्य नाभिः ।
सेमां नो हव्यदातिं जुषाणो देव रथ प्रति हव्या गृभाय ॥ २८ ॥

28. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned and charming king ! take and properly utilise that stroke or sound of electricity, which is like the army of the heroes, like the embryo of the Prāna (vital energy) and like the nave or centre of the best air in giving various useful articles.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons ! build an army endowed with the internal actions of electrity and other articles and be adorned with achieving victory.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वज्र:) प्रहार: शब्दो वा ।=Stroke or sound. (अनीकम्) सैन्यमिव ।=Like an army. (मित्रस्य) प्राणस्य । प्राणो वै मित्र: (Stph 8, 4, 2, 6) ।=Of the Prāna (vital energy). What should the enlightened persons do—is further told :

उर्प श्वासय पृथिवीमुत द्यां पुरुत्रा ते मनुतां विष्ठितं जगंत् ।
स दुन्दुभे सजूरिन्द्रेण देवैर्दूराद्दवीयो अप सेध शत्रून् ॥ २९ ॥

29. TRANSLATION :—O thunderer like the wardrum ! as God knows the earth, the firmament, the sun or electricity and all this world—set in order by Him, so being united with Omnipresent God and electric weapons, drive away your enemies, very far. Adoring God, who knows what is always good for you, put new life in all.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons ! as God has established earth, sun and all this world by His infinite Power, so electricity has been established by Him in all things. Put new life in all, by meditating upon God and by using electricity and other things in various ways. Conquer your enemies—even living in distant places.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दुन्दुभे) दुन्दुभिरिव गर्ज्जक ।=Thunderer like the sun. (सजू:) संयुक्त: । स+जुषी-प्रीतिसेवनयो: (तु.) अत्र प्रीत्यर्थ: । =Being united in love.

The same subject of enlightened persons—is continued :

आ क्रन्दय बलमोजो न आ धा नि: ष्टनिहि दुरिता बाधमानः
अपं प्रोथ दुन्दुभे दुच्छुना इत इन्द्रस्य मुष्टिरसि वीळयस्व ॥ ३० ॥

30. TRANSLATION :—O thunderer like the war-drum ! thunder out strength and fill us full of vigour. Make your enemies weep out of fear. Inspire us with powerful voice. Driving away all vices and evils make your enemies, who are like bad dogs, powerless. As you are like the fist of electricity i.e. destroyer of the wicked, make us strong and firm.

PURPORT :—O king ! uphold such a strength in you, that all vicious and wicked foes may disappear and you be able to nourish your subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्तनिहि) शब्दय । स्तन-देवशब्दे (चुरा.) । =Make sound to inspire. (प्रोथ) जेतुं पर्याप्तो भव शत्रूनसमर्थान् कुरु ।=Be strong enough to conquer.

———

What should kings and officers of the State do—is told :

आमूरंज प्रत्यावर्तयेमाः केतुमद्दुन्दुभिर्वावदीति ।
समश्वपर्णाश्चरन्ति नो नरोऽस्माकमिन्द्र रथिनो जयन्तु ॥ ३१ ॥

31. TRANSLATION :—O king ! as the war-drum speaks aloud as battle's signal, in the same manner, get back these armies which have, big wings as their symbol and with their help drive away the armies of the enemies. Let our charioteers conquer our enemies. Let those brave persons adorn us, who go to distant places for victory.

PURPORT :—O king and his ministers ! keep strong armies adorned with war-drums, strong and mighty and with their help, conquer the enemies even if, they live at distant places and nourish your subjects with righteous acts.

NOTES & REMARKS :- (अश्वपर्णाः) महान्तः पर्णाः पक्षा येषान्ते । अश्व इति महत नाम NG ।=Which have big wings or sides. (केतुमत्) प्रशस्तप्रज्ञायुक्तम् । =Endowed with good intellect.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अश्व इति महत नाम Quoted by Maharishi Dayananda Sarasvati in his commentary on the Vedas ; though not available now in the extant Nighantu.

What should the enlightened persons do—is told :

यज्ञायज्ञा वो अग्नये गिरागिरा च दक्षसे ।
प्रप्र वयममृतं जातवेदसं प्रियं मित्रं न शंसिषम् ॥ १ ॥

1. TRANSLATION :— O enlightened men, in every one of your Yajnas (non-violent sacrifices) and with every word, let us try to approach for strength, purifying God and a good leader, who, bis a purifier like the fire. Like an immortal highly learned and eloved friend, as I praise you, so you should also praise the enlightened men

PURPORT :—O men ! as highly learned persons generate love in you, so you should also have love in your hearts for the accomplishment of our good actions.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(जातवेदसम्) जातविद्यम् । जातवेदाः कस्मात ? जातानि वेद। जातानि वैनं विदुः—। जाते जातविद्यत (NKT 7, 5, 19) ।=An enlightened person who knows many sciences. (अग्नये) पावकाय । =For purifying God and a great leader who is purifier like fire. (दक्षसे) बल प्राप्तये । दक्ष इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) ।=Highly learned, expert.

How should the kings and their subjects deal with one another—is told :

ऊर्जो नपातं स हिनायमस्मयुर्दाशेम हव्यदातये ।
भुवद् वाजेष्वविता भुवद्वृध उत त्राता तनूनाम् ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us protect that king, who, desires or loves us, who is our protector in the battles and otherwise, for giving what is worth-giving, who is our guardian and source of our strength, who is saviour of our bodies and who does not allow our strength to decay. Let us bestow happiness on him and let him give happiness and joy to us.

PURPORT :—O men of the army and other people ! let us give abundant happiness to that king, who, is the protector of all in the battle field and outside, being agreeable to him.

PURPORT :—The enemies of those persons disappear, who, develop strength among the men that are born.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्राग्नी) वायुविद्युताविवाध्यापकाध्येतारौ । अयं वा इन्द्रो योऽयं (वातः) पवते (S. Br. 14, 2, 2, 6) अग्निरत्र विद्युद् रूपोऽग्निः ।=The teachers and the taught who are like the air and electricity.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—How strange it is to find Shri Sayanacharya interpreting पितर: used in this mantras as हिसका: (पीयतिर्हिंस) कर्मा । तस्मैतद्-रूपम् । about which Prof. Wilson says "By Pitris, in this place, the Scholiast says—Asuras are intended, as derived from the root Pi-to injure, prijatic-hinsa Karma.

Griffith after translating 'your father, enemies of Gods, were smitted down' remarks in foot note. "The meaning is obscure. Sayana explains Pitara as asuras or demons, deriving the word from a root pi to injure. Prof. Grassman reads conjectively "Piyavo—scorners" instead of the unsuitable pitara..."

(Hymns the Rigveda translated by Griffith Vol. 1 p. 628).

All this is nothing but the wild imagination of the same scholars of the east and west. Rishi Dayanand Sarasvati takes पितर: as पालका: which is the well-known meaning of the word. His is clear and straight forward meaning, in which there is no obscrurity.

How should teachers and preachers be—is told :

वळित्था मंहिमा वामिन्द्राग्नी पनिष्ठ आ ।
समानो वां जनिता भ्रातंरा युवं यमाविहेहमातरा ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! your power and true fame is highly admired, like air and electricity. You live for the benefit of others, and serve those father, mother and brothers, who carry the burden of household.

PURPORT :—Those teachers and preachers, whose scientific and other knowledge of the air and sun is for the advantage of others, are endowed with true fame.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(यमौ) नियन्तारौ । यम-उपरमे (भ्वा.) ।=Who carry the burden of household. (पनिष्ठ:) अतिशयेन प्रशंसित: । पन-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ (भ्वा.) ।=Highly admired like the air and electricity.

How should the scholars be — knowing what—is told :

ओकिवांसा सुते सचाँ अश्वा सप्ती इवादने ।
इन्द्रान्व१ग्नी अवसेह वज्रिणा वयं देवा हवामहे ॥ ३ ॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as learned persons praise with knowledge, the air and electricity, which are pervasive, are endowed with the power, of manufacturing admirable weapons, which are in this world, like two fellow horses, united in the eating of the fodder, so you should, also admire their properties.

PURPORT :—Those learned men, who know the nature of ever united air and electricity, can accomplish many wonderful works in this world.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ओकिवांसा) सङ्गतौ सम्बद्धौ । ओक इति निवासनो-मोच्यते (NKT 3, 1, 3) ।=United. (सप्तीइव) यथा युग्मावश्वौ । सप्तिरियश्वनाम (NG 1, 14) ।=Two fellow horses yoked in the chariot together.

How should the enlightened men be—is told :

य इन्द्राग्नी सुतेषु वां स्तवत्तेष्वृतावृधा ।
जोषवाकं वदतः पज्रहोषिणा न देवा भसथश्चन ॥ ४ ॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! who are like the air and electricity, who are increasers or supporters of truth and whose speech is congruous, he who praises you both, when the things are made and which you being enlightened do not unnecessarily talk, to him you speak loving words. He should also speak such living and pleasant words to you.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should know the air and electricity, which are within all objects, acquire wealth, know the nature of the persons, who have malice towards others and their upleasant and untrue activity but always speak true and sweet words for doing, good to all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पज्रहोषिणा) पज्रः सङ्गतो होषोघोषो वाग्ययोस्तौ । पज्र होषिणौ प्रजित होषिणौ प्रजित घोषिणाविति (NKT 5,4,22) । घोष इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) ।=Whose speech is congruous. (भसथः) व्यर्थं वाक्यं वदथः ।

भस-भर्त्सने दीप्त्यो: (जुहो.) अत्र भर्त्सनार्थ: भर्त्सनम् ।=Taking to task unjustly, Talking useless words. (जोषवाकम्) प्रीतिकरं वचनम् ।=Loving Speech.

Who can know physics and other sciences—is told :

इन्द्राग्नी को अस्य वां देवौ मर्तश्चिकेतति ।
विषूचो अश्वान्युयुजान ईयत एकः समान आ रथे ॥ ५ ॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers! who is it in the world, that yoking in the same vehicle (like aircraft) pervading rapid going horses in the form of electricity, etc., goes alone? He knows air and electricity, endowed with the divine attributes, functions and nature and he approaches (you for further instructions).

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons! who is the knower of the science of physics and manufacturer of the vehicles—like aeroplane etc., which can go rapidly to distant places? This question has been answered before. Think over the answer again.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्राग्नी) वायुविद्युतौ ।=Air and electricity. (अश्वान्) आशुगामिनो विद्युदादीन् । अशूङ्-व्याप्तौ (स्वा.) अश्व: कस्मात अश्नुते ऽध्वानम् । अशूप्र षिलटिकणिखटिविशिभ्य: क्वन् (उणादि कोषे 1, 151) इति क्वन् प्रत्यय ।=Rapid going electricity etc.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अग्निर्वा: श्वेत: (S. Br. 2,6,2,5) अग्निरेष पदश्व: । (S.Br. 6, 3, 3, 22) अत्र विद्युदग्नि ग्रहणम् । The answer to the above question has been given in Rig. 6, 58, 4 where the heading put by the revered commentator Rishi Dayananda Sarasvati is पुन: के विद्यां प्राप्तुमर्हन्तीत्याह see the commentary on the above mantra.

What can a knower of the science of electricity do—is told :

इन्द्राग्नी अपादियं पूर्वागात्पद्वतीभ्यः ।
हित्वी शिरो जिह्वया वावदच्चरत्त्रिंशत्पदा न्यक्रमीत् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—That man becomes the knower of the science of electricity, who utters words with his tongue (about it) and says that 'this wonderful electricity—though footless surpasses those going with feet -going quickly, even before the principal word like the head has been uttered.' She pervades 30 objects—which are worth knowing, like the earth, water fire, air, etc. except sky and light. He knows the air and electricity.

PURPORT :—O highly learned persons or scientists ! if you know the science of electricity well, then you can go quicker than all other vehicles and can accomplish many other tasks also.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(त्रिशत्) आकाशं द्यां च वर्जयित्वा सर्वान् भूम्यादीन्पदार्थान् ।=Worth knowing 30 objects—which are worth knowing like the earth, water, fire air etc. with the exception of the sky and light. (शिरः) शिरोवन् मुख्यं वचनम् ।=Principal word.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—33 Devas consist of 8 Vasus-places of habitation of the things and beings, 11 Prānas and Soul (Atma), 12 Adityas (months), Indra (electricity) and Prajapati (Yajna) Here Indra is to be excluded along with sky and light. This mantra requires further elucidation and research.

Who can become victorious—is told :

इन्द्राग्नी आ हि तन्वते नरो धन्वानि बाह्वोः ।
मा नो अस्मिन्महाधने परा वर्क्तं गविष्टिषु ॥ ७ ॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O men ! let us associate with those leaders, who extend the application of the air and electricity, who having arrows etc. in their arms protect us in this battle and who being experts in all activities, where the rays of the sun are united, Arrange things in such a manner that the air and electricity may not harm us.

PURPORT :—Those kings and people of the State, who manufacture arms with the use of fire and electricity etc. become victorious in battles, can extend happiness in this world, with the help of abundant wealth and kingdom that they possess.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(महाधने) सङ्ग्रामे । महाधने इति सङ्ग्रामनाम (NG

2, 17) ।=In the battle. (गविष्टिषु) गवां किरणानामिष्टयः सङ्गतयो यासु क्रियासु तासु । गाव इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1, 5) यज-देव-पूजा सङ्गतिकरणदानेषु (भ्वा.) अत्र संङ्गतिकरणार्थं ।=In the activities or processes where the rays of the sun are united.

From which things should the scientists derive electricity—is further told :

इन्द्राग्नी तपन्ति माघा अर्यो अरातयः ।
अप द्वेषांस्या कृतं युयुतं सूर्यादधि ॥ ८ ॥

8. TRANSLATION :—O President of the Council of Ministers and Commandr-in-Chief of the army ! drive away the malicious acts of those foes, who abuse or use for evil designs the air and electricity and you derive electricity from the sun. O king ! being the lord, do not kill or give trouble to these artists or artisans, who do such useful acts.

PURPORT :—O kings and their subjects ! if you know how to take electricity from the sun and other objects, you can conquer your enemies and drive away all malicious persons.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अघा:) हिंस्याः ।=Kill or give trouble. (अर्यः) स्वामी सन् । अर्य इतीश्वरनाम (NG 2, 22) ।=Lord, master.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—Not understanding the scientific truth enunciated in the mantra both Prof. Wilson and Griffith have given a very wrong translation saying "murdering aggressive enemies harass us, drive away mine adversaries; separate them from (sight of) the sun" (Prof. Wilson) "The foeman's sinful enmities vex me sore. Drive those, who hate me far away, and keep them distant from the sun" (Griffith). How misleading and erroneous are such translations !

What does speech do—is told :

इयं शुष्मेभिर्बिसखा इवारुजत्सानु गिरीणां तविषेभिरूर्मिभिः ।
पारावतघ्नीमवसे सुवृक्तिभिः सरस्वतीमा विवासेम धीतिभिः ॥ २ ॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O enlightened persons ! this cultured speech is like a river, which with its great force bursts with its strong and great waves the ridges of the hills (or the top of the clouds) as one who digs stems of lotus. She (refined speech) is like a river rending asunder the banks which we should serve from all sides with the acts dispelling all doubts for our protection and advancement. You should also do so.

PURPORT :—There is upamalankara or similie used in the mantra. As a digger of lotus—stems gets them, in the same manner, industrious persons acquire good knowledge. As the lightning rends asunder the particles of the clouds, so well-trained refined speech cleaves asunder all parts of ignorance and doubts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(शुष्मेभिः) बलैः ।=With force. As the wind शुष्मैः has been used in the mantra, it may be taken for great or more powerful. (तविषेभिः) बलैः । तविष इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3) ।=With force. (सुवृक्तिभिः) सुष्ठुच्छेदिकाभिः क्रियाभिः ।=By acts which cut asunder all doubts etc.

आ यो अर्वाङ् नासत्या ववर्त प्रेष्ठा ह्यसंथो अस्य मन्मन् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :— O President of the Council of Ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army, you who are endowed with noble speech, admired by many, very dear and of absolutely truthful disposition, the admirable man possessing much food or honoured by others, who comes hithter like a good messenger, who acts according to his knowledge, you are among them.

PURPORT :—Those who try to acquire the true knowledge of this world do not suffer any where.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वल्गू) शोभनवाचौ । वल्गु इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1,11)=Endowed with good speech. (नमस्वान्) बह्वन्नयुक्त: सत्कृतो वा । नम इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2,7) णम—प्रह्वत्वे शब्दे च (भ्वा०) प्रह्वत्वम-नम्रत्वम् अतएव जनै: न त्मेन प्रशासितस्त्वर्थ:=Possessor of abundant food materials or honoured by all. (मन्मन्) मन्मनि विज्ञाने)=In the knowledge.

What should they do—is further told :

अरं मे गन्तं हवनायास्मै गृणाना यथा पिबाथो अन्धः ।
परि ह त्यद्वर्तिर्याथो रिषो न यत्परो नान्तरस्तुतुर्यात् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION ;—O President of the Council of Ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! you tread upon that path where neither a violent enemy nor any one else can cause trouble (to travellers). As you come here accepting my invitation, so glorifying God, drink the juice of invigorating plants and herbs etc.

PURPORT :—The officers of the State should make such arrangements that no thief or enemy may cause trouble to any one on th eway to their destination.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अन्धः) रसम् । अन्धः इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) अन्नान्नसम्बन्धेन रसस्य ग्रहणम् अधंत इत्यन्नम् । अन्धसस्यत इति सोमस्य यत इत्येतत् (रसः सोमः S. Br. 7, 3, 1, 3; S. Br. 9, 1, 1, 24) Juice. 4. TRANSLATION :—O absolutely truthful President of the Council of Ministers and Commander in the army ! if the man whose mind is engaged in doing some good work, doing much, a liberal donor, stands up like the fire in the righteousn on-violent dealings, to whom the impeteus for donation comes like the might and, who performs havan (non-violent daily Yajna) engaged in doing good work. Always honour such a person.

PURPORT—O President of the Council of State or Commander-in-Chief of the army ! you should honour those men, who engage themselves in the political dealing or the administration of the State with truth and zeal.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(घृताची) रात्रिः । घृताचीति रात्रिनाम=(NG 1, 7) Like night. (उराणः) बहु कुर्वाणः । उरू इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1)=Doing much. (गूर्तमनाः) गूर्तमुद्युक्तं मनो यस्य सः । गुरी-उद्यमने (तुदा.)=Whose mind is active.

How should they be and like whom—is told :

अधि श्रिये दुहिता सूर्यस्य रथं तस्थौ पुरुभुजा शतोतिम् ।
प्र मायाभिर्मायिना भूतमत्र नरा नृतू जनिमन्यज्ञियानाम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :— O President of the Council of Ministers and the Commander-in-Chief of the army! you who are wise, nourishers of many and great leaders, as Usha (Dawn) the daughter of the sun mounts on the charming ray of the sun in the same manner, which has hundreds of protecting powers in the birth (in knowledge) of the persons, who are worthy of association be helpers by your wise acts for the beauty or wealth.

PURPORT :— Those, who, like the dawn, help in the manifestation of the scholars in the divine birth in wisdom, for the attainment of the regal wealth and beauty by various useful vehicles, become masters in the world having obtained unlimited protection.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुभुजा) बहूनां पालकौ । भुज-पालनाभ्यवहारयोः (रु.) अत्र पालनार्थः=Nourishers of many. (मायिना) प्राज्ञौ । मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)=Wise. (रथम्) रमणीय किरणम् । रथे रंहतेर्गति कर्मणः रममाणो ऽस्मिं स्तिष्ठतीति वा (NICT 9, 2, 11)=Charming ray. (दुहिता) दुहिते वोषा ।= Dawn like the daughter of the sun.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—It is very wrong and even mischievous on the part of Griffith to translate मायिनोभिः as magicians and मायाभिः as magic arts. Prof Wilson's translation 'as leaders and guides' is better. माया does not mean magic arts but wisdom as the Vedic lexicon Nighantu expressly states मायेति प्रज्ञानाम (NG 3, 9)। Rishi Dayananda Saraswati's interpretation of मायिन्ना as प्राज्ञै (wise) and मायाभिः as प्रज्ञाभिः or actions of wisdom is quite appropriate and in accordance with the Vedic lexicon. It is regrettable that some of the western scholars have been obsessed with the idea of finding polytheism and magic in the Vedas.

How should the king and others be, having attained what and for what purposes—is told :

युवं श्रीभिर्दर्शताभिराभिः शुभे पुष्टिमूहथुः सूर्यायाः ।
प्र वां वयो वपुषेऽनु पप्तन्नक्षद्वाणी सुष्टुता धिष्ण्या वाम् ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :— O firm and clever President of the Council of Minister and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! you who are very dextrous or clever, if noble speech admired much follows you like the flying birds, for welfare and good form and if you develop the wonderful power of this Vedic speech like the dawn, by these worth seeing beauties of the politics, then the noble speech and the subjects may support you well.

PURPORT :—O men if you desire to administer a state well and to attain royal grace, beauty, then try by all means to attain speech endowed with wisdom and knowledge. As the birds go to their nests, so having adopted the righteous policy, illuminate your glory or good reputation as the dawn illuminates the day.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सूर्यायै:) उषस इव सम्बन्धिन्याः प्रजायाः । सूर्या इति वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) । सूर्या इति पदनाम (NG 5, 6) =Of the concerned subjects like the dawn. (धिषणया) दृढो प्रगल्भो । (ञि) धृषा-प्रागल्भ्ये (स्वा.) =Firm and clever.

What should men do and with what—is told :

आ वां वयोऽश्वासो वहिष्ठा अभि प्रयो नासत्या वहन्तु ।
प्र वां रथो मनोंजवा असर्जीषः पृक्ष इषिधो अनु पूर्वीः ॥७॥

7. TRANSLATION :—O absolutely truthful President of the Council of Ministers and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! may the fire and other horse like rapid going elements like birds, carry you towards the place of food, for which you have been invited. May your chariot, which is swift as wind, take you to the worth attaining and desired food and other things.

PURPORT :—O men ! if you know the proper application of the Agni (fire and electricity), then with the aircraft and other vehicles, you can go to the firmament like birds and enjoy happiness and bliss, by getting the desirable things.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(प्रयः) अन्नादिकम् । प्रयः इत्यन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Food and other things. (अश्वासः) आशुगामिनोऽग्न्यादयः= Rapid going Agni (fire, electricity etc) (पृक्षः) सम्प्राप्तव्याः । पृची-सम्पर्के । सम्पर्कः-सम्प्राप्तं-वयस्तुना एव सहभवति ।=Availabie.

How should the rulers and their subjects behave and what should they gain—is told :

पुरु हि वां पुरुभुजा देष्णं धेनुं न इषं पिन्वतमसंक्राम् ।
स्तुतंश्च वां माध्वी सुष्टुतिश्च रसांश्च ये वामनु रातिमग्मन् ।।८।।

8. TRANSLATION :—O nourishers of many ! your gifts to us are many. You gladden us by giving sweet speech and knowledge or food which is resistless or un-paralleled. May, he, who is admired by others make you happy. What sweet and good praise you possess along with sweet and other juices, you give them away to others. Make us also share them.

PURPORT :—If the rulers and their subjects try to do good to one another, they may achieve all praise and all prosperity.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धेनुम्) वाचम् । धेनुरिति । वाङ्नाम (NG 1, 11) =Speech. (इषम्) अन्नं विज्ञानं वा । इषमिति अन्ननाम् (NG 2, 7) इष-गतौ (दिवा.) गतेस्त्रिष्वर्थेस्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम । =Food or knowledge, (असक्राम्) या सहनं क्रामति ताम् ।=Unparalleled or resistless.

What should men do—is further told :

उत म ऋज्रे पुरयस्य रघ्वी सुमीलहे शतं पेरुके च पक्वा ।
शाण्डो दाद्धिरणिनः स्मद्दिष्टीन् दश वशासो अभिषाच ऋष्वान् ।।९।।

9. TRANSLATION :—To those, who come in direct contact with me, who are under my control, who comes first in my dealing, that is dear to the upright person, which is to be well-sprinkled (developed), which is nourisher or protector, something small or mature or big or subtle, let me also be able to do such that they have beautiful appearance and possess, ten or even hundred beautiful horses or chariots.

PURPORT :—O men ! those who are under my control, but who love me and are my great helpers, let me also be under their obligation. In this way, when there is mutual love, we may be able to do innumerable good acts.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्मद्दिष्टीन्) प्रशंसित दर्शनान् ।=whose sight is admired or is pleasing. (शाणङ:) य:श्यति तनूकरोति तथास्यम । शब्द शो तनूकरण इत्यस्यादौणादिकडस्कोच् प्रत्यय:=To be sprinkled.

———

What should the king and Commander-in-Chief of the army do—is further told :

सं वां शता नासत्या सहस्राश्वानां पुरुपन्था गिरे दात् ।
भरद्वाजाय वीर नू गिरे दाद्धता रक्षांसि पुरुदंससा स्युः ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—O king and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! you who are doers of many good deeds and who are free from all false or unrighteous conduct, your manifold path which gives hundred, or even thousands for the horses and for true speech or the upholder of true knowledge and by which wicked persons are killed. O hero ! slay the wicked persons by that noble advice tendered by your well-wishers.

PURPORT :—O king and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! the righteous person, who endeavour for the protection and advancement of the State and protects his army from the attack of the foes, give him boundless wealth and honour.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(पुरुदंससा) पुरूणि दंसास्युत्तमानि कर्माणि ययोस्तौ । पुरु इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) दंस इति कर्मनाम (NG 2, 1)=Who are doers of many good deeds. (नू) सद्य: । नु इति क्षिप्रनाम (NG 2, 7)=Quickly.

आ वां सुम्ने वरिमन्त्सूरिभिः ष्याम् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O King and Commander-in-Chief of the army ! may I along with other scholars and devotees of God, be a sharer in your very good happiness.

PURPORT :- The king and the Commander-in-Chief of the army should always honour the scholers so that all may enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुम्ने) सुखे । सुम्नमिति सुखनाम (NG 3, 6) । =In happiness. (सूरिभिः) विद्वद्भिः सह । सूरिरिति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3, 16) =Alongwith the enlightened men (who are true devotees of God.)

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—So the word सूरिः denotes not only great learning, but also devotion towards God.

Sūktam—64

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvaaja. Devāta—Usha. Chhandas—Trishtup and Pankti of various kinds. Svaras-Dhaivata and Panchama.

What kinds of women are good— is told :

उदु श्रिय उषसो रोचमाना अस्थुरपां नोर्मयो रुशन्तः ।
कृणोति विश्वा सुपथा सुगान्यभूदु वस्वी दक्षिणा मघोनी ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O men ! those women, who stand up for glory like the resplendent Usha (dawn) and who are in their white splendour like the waves of water ; cutting off the banks are bestowers of happiness. She who being endowed with wealth is like the Dakshina or guerdon. She makes all paths easy.

PURPORT :—Those women are like the resplendent dawn. As the waves of water cut through banks of water, in the sameway women are good who mitigate the sufferings of others and who illuminate all household duties as the day illumines the dawn. They are always auspicious.

(NOTES & REMARKS :—(रुशन्तः) हिंसन्तः । रुश-हिंसायाम्=Cutting. (ऊर्मयः) तरङ्गाः । ऊर्मिः) अर्तेरुच्च (उणा 4,44) नियो मिः (Unk; 4.43) इति सूत्रान्मि प्रत्ययस्यानुवृत्तिः । ऋ-गतिप्रापणयो अर्च्छति गच्छति इति ऊर्मिः जलतरङ्ग ।=Waves.

Of what kind should a woman be – is told :

भद्रा ददृक्ष उर्विया वि भास्युत्ते शोचिर्भानवो द्यामपप्तन् ।
आविर्वक्षः कृणुषे शुम्भमानोषो देवि रोचमाना महोभिः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned lady! you who are like the dawn, you are worthy of veneration as you are auspicious and very good. You illumine all domestic duties, being of various forms. Far shines your lustre. Like the rays of the sun going to the heaven, your lustre goes up. You manifest your bosom, shining in majesty with knowledge and humility. You bestow happiness upon us shining by your great and noble virtues, actions and temperament.

PURPORT :—O women! you should keep your husbands and others satisfied with cleverness, discharging your domestic duties properly, giving up attachment to passions, being graceful illuminate like the sun the duties regarding your homes with diligence.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(रोचमाना) विद्याविनयाभ्यां प्रकाशमाना ।= Shining with knowledge and humility (महोभिः) महद्भिः शुभैर्गुणकर्मस्वभावैः ।=with great and good virtues, actions, and temperament.

———

How should women be—is further told :

वहन्ति सीमरुणासो रुशन्तो गावः सुभगामुर्विया प्रथानाम् ।
अपेजते शूरो अस्तेव शत्रून्बाधते तमो अजिरो न वोळ्हा ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O lady! like an active man, who goes fast, being married, be industrious like a fearless brave person, of arms and missiles over his enemies and conquering them, or like the dawn that dispels darkness of the night. As the reddish rays of the sun driving away darkness, enable men to attain or see all articles, so you be illumined. O husband! as the sun illuminates the dawn, so make your wife, who is famous on account of her beauty, knowledge etc. auspicious or blessed.

PURPORT :—O men! you should constantly honour and make auspicious those women, who are endowed with good light (of knowledge) like the dawn, who are beautiful, who manage their homes properly, discharging their domestic duties well-like the rays of the sun and who are free from fear and fatigue like the heroes.

NOTES & REMARKS:—(उर्विया) बहुपुरुषार्थयुक्ता । उरु इति बहुनाम (NG 3, 1) = very industrious, doing many good deeds. (अस्तेव) शस्त्रास्त्राणां प्रक्षेप्तेव । असु-क्षेपणे (दिवा.) = Like a thrower of the arms and missiles. (वोलहा) विवाहिता । वह-प्रापणे (भ्वा.) अत्र सुखप्रापणम् । = married.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The meaning of अजिर: as pointed out in the edition of Rishi Dayananda Saraswati's commentary published by the Parapokarni Sabha Ajmer is य शीघ्रं न गच्छति सः a man who does not go fast. But this seems to be a printing mistake as it is derived from अज-गति क्षेपणयो: and Rishi Dayananda Saraswati has interpreted अजिर: in Rig. 5.47.2 as वेगवन्त Speedy. अजिरम् इति क्षिप्रनाम (NG 2,15) ।

How should a woman be—is further told :

सुगोत ते सुपथा पर्वतेष्ववाते अपस्तरसि स्वभानो ।
सा न आ वह पृथुयामन्नृष्वे रयिं दिवो दुहितरिषयध्यै ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O husband ! shining by your splendour, conveyor of many good things and endowed with great virtues, with this your wife, bring wealth. Like the water's, you swim across all miseries. You go comfortably in places, where the wind is not blowing, and in hills by good paths along with your wife, who can walk well. O woman ! you who are like the daughter of light, may your husband be dear and lovely to you, so that you go to him with pleasure. Lead us to happiness by good path of Dharma or righteousness.

PURPORT :—As kings of good policies make all travellers happy by constructing good roads even on hills and as the dawn illuminates all paths, so good husbands and wives pleased with one another reforming the path of Dharma (righteousness), illuminate benevoloence.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ऋष्वे) महागुणयुक्त । ऋष्वः इति महन्नाम (NG 3, 3)=Endowed with great virtues. (इषयध्यै) गन्तुम् । इष-गतौ (दिवा.) । =For going.

How should husbands and wives deal with one another—is told :

सा व॑ह॒ योक्ष॑भि॒रवा॒तो॑षो॒ वर॒ं वह॑सि॒ जोष॒मनु॑ ।
त्वं दि॑वो दुहित॒र्या ह॑ दे॒वी पू॒र्वहू॑तौ मं॒हना॑ दर्श॒ता भूः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O woman ! you who are like the dawn—daughter of the sun, you being free from unsteadiness like the wind, marry a good husband who is full of virile virtues, so lovingly approach him and lead him to happiness. Be always his beloved, you who on the call of the elderly venerable persons are worthy of respect and worthseeing.

PURPORT :—As the dawn coming after night does discharge God—ordained duties, so a woman being-self controlled regular and puntual should discharge her domestic duties well. Marrying after the completion of Brahmacharya (abstinence). Let her please her husband constantly, being always cheerful, in the same manner, the husband should always please her, who is chaste and follows him in the performence of sacred duties.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(उक्षभिः) वीर्यसेचकैः । उक्ष-सेचने । (भ्वा.)=In virile virtues. (पूर्वहूतौ) पूर्वेषां सत्कर्त्तव्यानां वृद्धानामाह्वाने । ह्वेञ्-स्पर्द्धायां (भ्वा.) On the call of the elderly venerable persons.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अवाता has been interpreted in translation as वायुरहित as an epithet for a wife, which is not clear. In our opinion, it means free from the un-steadiness of the wind. It may also mean free from the diseases of the wind.

How should husbands and wives deal with one another – is told:

उत्ते वयश्चिद्वसतेरंपप्तन्नरंश्च ये पितुभाजो व्युष्टौ ।
श्रमा सते वहसि भूरिं वाममुषों देवि दाशुषे मर्त्याय ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—O lady ! you who are full of splendour and desirable like the dawn, you bestow upon your liberal and good husband at home very admirable happiness and good articles at the time of dawn when he utilises the time properly. Those, who partake of the good food prepared by you and other leading men admire you and even the birds of your home looking at your inner and outer beauty leap up with gladness. At the time of marriage, you choose a man, who likes you most and is most delighted to see you.

PURPORT :—There is a simile used in the mantra. Those bride-grooms and brides, who marry according to the Svayamvarvivah (selfselective) being pleased with one another, they always enjoy bliss illuminating the household life with noble conduct like the sun and the dawn.

NOTES & REMARKS । (पितुभाजः) उत्तमान्नसेविनः । पितुरिति अन्ननाम (NG 2, 7) =Partakers of good food. (व्युष्टौ) विविधगुणैः सेवमानायामुषसि ।=At the time of dawn. (वामम्) प्रशस्तम् । वामः इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 8) =Admirable.

Suktam—65

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam Bharadvāāja. Devata or subject-Usha. Chhandas-Pankti and Trishtup of various kinds. Svaras-Panchama and Dhaivata.

How should a good woman be—is told :—

एषा स्या नो दुहिता दिवोजाः क्षितीरुच्छन्ती मानुषीरजीगः ।
या भानुना रुशता राम्यास्वज्ञायि तिरस्तमसश्चिदक्तून् ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O acceptable person ! accept this our daughter who with her beauty is known even at night, as if with the light of the sun, who ignores even darkness of the nights, who is like the dawn-the daughter of the sun, inhabiting or establishing the human beings in happiness and awakening them.

PURPORT :—That woman is good, who like the dawn or the lightning is well illumined and who by her knowledge, humility and proper gestures, gladdens her husdand, who dispels all darkness of ignorance from her home with her knowledge, as the sun dispels darkness of the night and illuminates all.

NOTES & REMARKS : – (राम्यासु) रात्रिषु । राम्येति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7) =Nights. (दिवोजा:) सूर्यज्जातेव । द्यो:—सूर्यः दिवृधातो धुत्यर्थमादाय द्योतमान: As if born from the sun. (उच्छन्ती) विवासयन्ती । उछी-विवासे (भ्वा.) = Inhabiting or establishing in happiness. (रुशता) रूपेण । with form or beauty.

अग्रं यज्ञस्य बृहतो नयन्तीर्वि ता बाधन्ते तम ऊर्म्यायाः ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! get those brides as partner in life, who are like the dawns, with gold like beautiful, firm, going with great rays, yoking many other beams and shining in wonderous manners. As the dawns drive away the darkness of the night, so these good girls drive away all darkness of ignorance and shine, leading towards the summit of the Yajna in the form of the household dealing, to be united well.

PURPORT :—O men ! get those good natured Brahmacharinis (virgins), who match to your merits, actions and temperament, who are givers of joy like the dawns and endowed with knowledge and humility. After getting them as your wives, gladden them constantly and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :– (अश्वैः) महद्भिः किरणैः । =With great rays. (चन्द्ररथाः) चन्द्रं सुवर्णमिव रथो रमणीयंस्वरूपं यासां ताः ।=Whose form is charming like the gold. (यज्ञस्य) सङ्गन्तव्यस्य गृहस्थव्यवहारस्य । यज देवपूजा सङ्गतिकरण दानेषु (भ्वा.) अत्र सङ्गतिकरणार्थमादाय व्याख्या गृहस्थ व्यवहार विषयिणी ।=Of the household dealing in the form of Yajna. (ऊर्म्यायाः) रात्रेः । ऊर्म्येति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7)=Night.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—अश्व इति महन्नाम quoted by Rishi Dayananda Saraswati in his commentary on the Rigveda 4.79. and other places, though is it not now found in extant editions. It is a matter of research to find out old editions. अश्व इति पदनाम (NG 5,3) पद-गतौ गते-प्राप्त्यर्थमादाय प्रकाश प्रापकिरणांनग्रहमन्तकर्तुं शक्यते । चन्द्रमिति हिरण्यनाम (NG 1, 2)

How should women be—is told :

श्रवो वाजमिषमूर्जं वहन्तीर्नि दाशुषं उषसो मर्त्याय ।
मघोनीर्वीरवत्पत्यमाना अवो धात विधते रत्नमद्य ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! uphold or support those wives well, who like the dawns enable their husbands, who are givers of education and other good virtues and then serving people get hearing of good words of knowledge, good food and strength, who are endowed with good and abundant wealth and who go like brave persons obtaining good protection.

PURPORT :—O men you should choose a suitable wife (one for one) among those, who are like the dawn endowed with the hearing of the true Shastras, (scriptures) strong and powerful, wonderfully intelligent, increasers of wealth and prosperity, highly educated and engaged in protecting others.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वाजम्) विज्ञानम् । वज-गतौ (भ्वा.) गतेस्त्रिस्वर्थे ष्वत्र ज्ञानार्थं ग्रहणम् ।=True knowledge. (दाशुषे) विद्यादिशुभगुणदात्रे । दाशृ-दाने (भ्वा.)=For the giver of knowledge and other good virtues. (विधते) सेवमानाय । विधेम परिचरणकर्मा (NG 3, 5) Serving the people, a servant of the people.

How should women be—is told.

इदा हि वो विधते रत्नमस्तीदा वीराय दाशुष उषासः ।
इदा विप्राय जरते यदुक्था नि ष्म मावते वहथा पुरा चित् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O brave men ! if you get wives like the dawns, then there is a charming wealth for a servant of the people, for a mighty and liberal donor and for a wiseman like me, who is a devotee of God and admirer of good virtues. You can get the good words of praise which are there.

PURPORT :—O men! if you can get good wives like the dawns, then in this life itself you can attain all happiness. The husband and wife who never quarrel and live peacefully, always enjoy good reputation.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इदा) इदानीम् ।=Now. (विप्राय) मेधाविने । विप्रः इति मेधाविनाम (NG 3, 15)=For a wise man. (जरते) स्तावकाय । जरिता इति स्तोतृनाम (NG 3,16)=For a devotee of God and admirer of good virtues and men.

How is she (a good woman)—is further told :

इदा हि त उषो अद्रिसानो गोत्रा गवामङ्गिरसो गृणन्ति ।
व्य१र्केण बिभिदुर्ब्रह्मणा च सत्या नृणामभवद्देवहूतिः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O good lady ! you who are like the dawn and you who are benevolent and showerer of joy like the cloud, kith and kin with the winds, praise the combination of the rays like the earth revolving around the sun, with the sun, God or Veda and they break it down afterwards (causing rain), so you are called the enlightened person among men.

PURPORT :—As the rays are the causers of the light of the sun, so the dawn is the accomplisher of all true dealings and restrainer of all wicked dealings. such a wife shoulu alwyas be chaste.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गोत्रा) भूमिः । गोत्रेति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1, 1)

(अङ्गिरसः) वायवः इव । प्राणो वा अंगिराः (S.Br. 6, 1, 2, 8) प्राणा वायुमेदा एव । =Like the wind. (अद्रिसानो) अद्रौ मेघे सानुनि यस्याः सा । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)=In the cloud.

Of how many kinds are men—is told :

मक्षू न येषु दोहसे चिदया आ नाम धृष्णु मारुतं दधानाः ।
न ये स्तौना अयासो मह्ना नू चित्सुदानुरव यासदुग्रान् ॥५॥

5, TRANSLATION :—There are some persons who have no power to fulfil their desires, there are others who getting some power uphold the firm name of man. They go from place to place and are active, but are not thieves or dishonest. If a man who is a good donor cannot get those men of fierce nature, he should honour good and honest men. You should know these different kinds of men.

PURPORT :—O men ! there are principally two kinds of persons. There are some who are devoid of power and knowledge but engaged in doing wicked deeds, but there are others who are powerful and doers of good deeds. Those who do not honour the evil doers and respect the best men, enjoy very desirable happiness soon.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्तोना:) चोरा: । अत्र वर्णव्यत्ययेनैकारस्थान ओकार: ।=Thieves or dishonest. (मक्षू) क्षिप्रम् । अत्र ऋचितुनुघेति दीर्घ: । मक्षु इति क्षिप्रम् । (NG 2, 15)=Quickly, soon.

How should men be after doing what—is told :

त इदुग्राः शवसा धृष्णुषेणा उभे युजन्त रोदसी सुमेके ।
अध स्मैषु रोदसी स्वशोचिरामवत्सु तस्थौ न रोकः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—Those men enjoy happiness, who being full of splendour with power and having powerful and firm armies, use the articles of the heaven and earth which are bestowers of happiness. Among them who have very good homes there is pervading the heaven and earth a resplendent electric fire which does not make much sound. It should be utilised properly.

PURPORT :—No foes can withstand those men, who having acquired the knowledge of the earth and electricity have powerful armies. Those who live in good houses (being free from anxieties), manifest their intellect well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुमेके) सुखरूपे । मेड्-प्रणिदाने (भ्वा.) =Full of or bestowers of happiness. Here सुखप्रदे or givers of happiness. (शवसा) बलेन=with power. (रोक:) शब्दायमान: । रु-शब्दे (अदा.)= making sound.

प्र चित्रमर्कं गृणते तुराय मारुताय स्वतवसे भरध्वम् ।
ये सहांसि सहसा सहन्ते रेजते अग्ने पृथिवी मखेभ्यः ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned persons ! to those who forbear or overcome strength with their greater force and zeal, give wonderful food or thunderbolt like powerful weapons. O leading scholar ! as the earth trembles by the battles, so give good food or strong weapons to a mighty man who is prompt in doing action and who is admirer of good virtues or a devotee of God.

PURPORT —O men ! as this moving earth produces material for the Yajna (that are put in the fire as oblation) in the same manner, for great heroes give nourishing food, the band of powerful arms and missiles and thus cause their knowledge of the science of warfare to grow more and more. In this way, a power is born to defeat even the most unbearable or irresistible enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(स्वतवसे) स्वं स्वकीयं तवो बलं यस्य तस्मै । तव इति बलनाम (NG 2,9) । =For a mighty self-reliant man. अर्चत्रयो धुनयो न वीरा भ्राजज्जन्मानो मरुतो अधृष्टाः ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :—Achieve victory with the help of those brave persons, who are bright like the tongues of fire impetuous in their onset shaking their enemies, prompt in marching or shining with knowledge humility and other virtues, whose birth

(life) is splendid, who are invincible, mighty like the wind and enbodiment of light.

PURPORT :– O king and officers of the State ! as the flames of the Yajna (non—violent sacrifice) go soon to the firmament, in the same manner, those who are under training for warfare, can soon go to the battlefield for achieving victory. As by oblations – the fire is kindled, so by training and honour the army of the brave persons should be kindled (encouraged and strengthened). As there are flames and sounds of the fire, so the lustre and sounds of your army should be great.

NOTES & REMARKS :— (त्विषीमन्तः) विद्याविनयादिप्रकाशयुक्ताः । त्विष-दीप्तौ (भ्वा.) ।=Shining with knowledge, humility and other vitrues. (तुषुच्यवसः) तुषु क्षिप्रं ये च्यवन्ते गच्छन्ति । तुषु इति क्षिप्रनाम (NG 2, 15) ।= who are prompt in marching. (विद्युत्) प्रकाशः । विद्युत् इति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) ।=light, so it may also mean who have power like the thunderbolt. (अघशंस) स्तेनः। अघशंसः इति स्तेननाम (NG 3, 24)=Thief or dishonest person.

The same subject of king and his duties—is continued :

उदु ष्य देवः संविता दमूना हिरंण्यपाणिः प्रतिदोषमंस्थात्।
अयोहनुर्यजतो मन्द्रजिह्व आ दाशुषे सुवति भूरि वामम् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O men! that man alone is fit to become a ruler, who is self-controlled, who has gold ornaments in his hands, who possesses firm chin, like the iron, who is unifier endowed with delighting and desirable tongue, giver of happiness and prosperity, who stands up for nourishing his subjects, as the sun rises after night. He urges his liberal subjects to do admirable deeds industriously.

PURPORT :—O men! you should all know that as the solar world, created and ordained by God never gives up its function even for a moment, in the same manner, the king who is ever ready to protect and nourish his subjects and does not waste a single moment, who urges upon all men to do noble deeds by his own example and who is rich, is in peace, self-control and has other good virtues is fit to become a king.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(दमूनाः) दमनशीलः। दमूना दममना वा दानमना वा दान्तमना वापि (NKT 4, 1, 4)=Self-controlled. (प्रतिदोषम्) यथा रात्रिं रात्रिं प्रति सूर्यस्तथा। दोषा इति रात्रिनाम (NG 1, 7)=As the sun rises after night. (वामम्) प्रशस्यं कर्म प्रति। वामः इति प्रशंस्यनाम (NG 8, 5)=Towards an admirable work.

How should that king be and like whom—is told :

उदूं अयाँ उपवक्तेवं बाहू हिरण्ययां सविता सुप्रतीका ।
दिवो रोहांस्यरुहत्पृथिव्या अरीरमत्पतयत् कच्चिदभ्वम् ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :- O men ! as the sun ascends to the summit of the sky and delights every thing on earth, so the king illuminates all great justice and acts like a master, who has firm and strong arms, doer of convincing acts when will such a king manifest like a good orator.

PURPORT :—O king ! when will you be like the sun, illuminated by justice and humility, strong armed and an absolutely truthful and reliable orator ? As God has made the sun in this world for the good of all, so He has ordained the king for the benefit of all.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सुप्रतीका) शोभनानि प्रतीकानि प्रतीतिकराणि कर्माणि यास्यां तो । प्रतीति:-विश्वास: प्रतीतिकराणि विश्वासोत्पादकानि—Convincing. =Whose good actions are convincing. (अभ्वम्) महान्तं न्यायम् । =Great justice.

What should a king do for his subjects—is further told :

वाममद्य सवितर्वाममु श्वो दिवेदिवे वाममस्मभ्यं सावीः ।
वामस्य हि क्षयस्य देव भूरेरया धिया वामभाजः स्याम ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :— O king ! you are giver of wealth or prosperity, you create admirable happiness for us today, admirable happiness tomorrow, excellent happiness for us every day. O divine king ! with this intelect or good action, may we enjoy admirable joy of the praise-worthy home.

PURPORT :—O king ! as you generate for us—your subjects, every day an admirable happiness and protect us; therefore let us gladly obey you and be the enjoyers of wealth, home and good deeds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(वामम्) प्रशस्यसुखम् । वाम: इति प्रशस्यनाम (NG 3, 8)=Admirable happiness. (क्षयस्य) गृहस्य । क्षि-निवासगत्योः (तुदा.) अत्र निवासार्थः ।=Of the home.

What should teachers and preachers do and like whom—is told :

इन्द्रा॑सोमा॒ महि॒ तद्वां॑ महि॒त्वं यु॒वं म॒हानि॑ प्रथ॒मानि॑ चक्रथुः ।
यु॒वं सूर्यं॑ विवि॒दथु॑र्यु॒वं स्व१॒र्विश्वा॒ तमां॑स्यहतं नि॒दश्च॑ ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! as electricity and moon reach the sun, in the same manner, you attain the sun of justice. As they have many great actions, so with the greatness that is yours, you perform many adorable great actions like the observance of Brahmacharya (abstinence), acquisition and dissemination of knowledge etc. As they (electricity and moon) dispel darkness, so you destroy all sins born of ignorance and attain happiness and help others to attain it, also drive away all unjust revilers and hypocrites.

PURPORT :—O people ! as the moon etc. are illuminated by the sun, so by association of good teachers and preachers you be of illumined mind.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रासोमा) विद्युच्चन्द्रमसौ । यदशनिरिन्द्रस्तेन (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 6, 9) चन्द्रमा वा सोम: (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 16,5)=Electricity and moon. (प्रथमानि) ब्रह्मचर्यं विद्याग्रहणदानादीनि ।=Brahmacharya (abstinence), acquisition and dissemination of knowledge.

What do they (Indra and Soma) do like whom—is told :

इन्द्रासोमा वासयथ उषासमुत्सूर्यं नयथो ज्योतिषा सह ।
उप द्यां स्कम्भथुः स्कम्भनेनाप्रथतं पृथिवीं मातरं वि ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! as the air and electricity inhabit the dawn and the sun, so establish the people firmly with knowledge and justice. As they uphold the sky with the light, so uphold or support good dealing. As with their support, they spread out the earth-mother of all, so spread out or make the state advanced and lead all to happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रसोमा) वायुविद्युताविव । योऽयं वायुः पवत एष सोमः (S. Br. 7, 3, 1. 1) स्तनयित्नु रेवेन्द्र (S. Br. 11,6,3,9) =Like the air and electricity.

How should they (Indra and Soma) deal and like whom—is told :

इन्द्रासोमावहिमपः परिष्ठां हथो वृत्रमनु वां द्यौरमन्यत ।
प्रार्णांस्यैरयतं नदीनामा समुद्राणि पप्रथुः पुरूणि ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! as lightning and the wind strike down the cloud, that covers the sun standing on all sides and pervade the waters, in the same manner, destroy ignorance and spread out knowledge. As they make flow many oceans full of water, so move the minds of men into the Shastras (scriptures) urge upon them to study them well. In this way, one of you may be regarded as the sky full of light and the other may follow him.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! as the wind and electricity strike down the cloud and cause rain, so exterminate all bad education and rain down good education everywhere.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(इन्द्रासोमौ) विद्युन्मरुतौ ।=Lighting and wind. (अहिम्) मेघम् । अहिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10)=Cloud. (अर्णांसि) उदकानि अर्णः इत्युदकनाम । (NG 1,12)=Raindown good education.

What should they do like whom—is told :

इन्द्रासोमा पक्वमामास्वन्तर्नि गवामिद्दधथुर्वक्षणासु ।
जगृभथुरनपिनद्धमासु रुशच्चित्रासु जगतीष्वन्तः ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O teachers and preachers ! as the air and electricity ripen the unripe herbs and plants and uncover the rays of the sun in these rivers, establish good (lovely) form in these wonderful creations, so you should also do.

PURPORT :—Those persons are benevolent to all and auspicious, who like the electricity and air establish firm knowledge in all and make them move like the flow of the river.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गवाम्) किरणानाम् । गावः इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1,5)=Of the rays of the sun. (अनपिनद्धम्) अनाच्छादितम् । णह-बन्धने (दिवा.)=Uncovered.

What should they (teachers and preachers) do and like whom—is told :

इन्द्रासोमा युवमङ्ग तरुत्रमपत्यसाचं श्रुत्यं रराथे ।
युवं शुष्मं नर्यं चर्षणिभ्यः सं विव्यथुः पृतनाषाहमुग्रा ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O dear teachers and preachers ! like the air and electricity, give the knowledge to all that takes them away from misery, which pervades children and is very good to bear. Being full of splendour give that strength which is beneficial and fierce to good men and which is victorious over enemies.

PURPORT :—O teachers and preachers ! going every where or connected with all like the air and electricity, give birth to good children and generate physical and spiritual strength that is beneficial to all men, so that they may be able to overcome the armies of the enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तरुत्रम्) दुःखात्तारकम् । तृ-प्लवनसन्तरणयोः (भ्वा.) अत्र सन्तरणार्थः ।=That which takes away or removes all misery. (चर्षणिभ्यः) मनुष्येभ्यः । चर्षणय : इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3)=For men.

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam—Bharadvāāja. Devata-Brahaspati. Chhanda—Trishtup. Svara-Dhaivata.

How should a king be and like whom is told :

यो अंद्रिभित्प्रंथमुजा ऋतावा बृहस्पतिराङ्गिरसो हविष्मान् ।
द्विबर्हज्मा प्राघर्मसत्पिता न आ रोदसी वृषभो रोरवीति ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king ! you should be like the sun, who is dispenser of clouds, first born, producer of water, sustainer of the earth and other worlds, born from (the combination of) air and electricity, partaker of the oblations, the support of the earth in which fire is kindled—born by rubbing of two sticks (Aranis), repository and diffuser of heat, causer of rain, who is like our father, makes great sound in the two worlds—the heaven and the earth, through lightning etc.

PURPORT :—The king who is the destroyer of his enemies, as the sun is of clouds, the greatest, nourisher of the great and righteous persons, rainer of happiness on earth, preaches justice among his subjects repeatedly, he being man of forgiving nature-like the earth and mighty, should behave like father towards his subjects.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अद्रिभित्) मेघच्छेत्ता । अद्रिरिति मेघनाम (NG 1, 10) =Breaker of the clouds. (बृहस्पतिः) बृहतां पृथिव्यादीनां पालकः । बृहस्पतिर्बृहतः पाता वा पालयिता वा (NKT 10, 1, 12) =Nourisher or sustainer of the earth and other worlds. (द्विबर्हज्मा) यो द्वाभ्यां बृहते स द्विबर्हस्तेन द्विबर्हेण युक्ता ज्मा भूमिर्यस्य । =The sueporter of the earth on which fire is kindled.

What kind of Commanders of army should be appointed by the king—is told :

जनाय चिद्य ईवंत उ लोकं बृहस्पतिर्देवहूतौ चकारं ।
घ्नन्वृत्राणि वि पुरों दर्दरीति जयञ्छत्रूँरमित्रान्पृत्सु साहंन् ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O men ! that person alone is fit to be the commander of an army, who when the enlightened persons, call him, like the solar world, illuminates happiness or place that is worth seeing for the man who approaches him, who putting up with the foes conquering and killing his enemies, and gaining wealth (by conquest) demolishes various cities of the adversaries.

PURPORT :—O king ! those persons should be appointed by you, as commanders of your armies, who are glad to nourish the subjects with justice, who are endowed with perfect physical and spiritual strength, are brave and highly learned, so that they may be able to conquer the foes, to combat and destroy them and achieve victory and wealth in the battles.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ईवते) उपगताय । ईङ्-गतौ (दिवा.)=For the person who approaches. (वृत्राणि) धनानि । वृत्रम् इति धननाम (NG 2, 10)=Riches, wealth of various kinds. (दर्दरीति) भृशं विदृणाति (दर्दरीति) । दृ-विदारणे (क्र्या.) ।=Demolishes, breaks down. (पृत्सु) सङ्ग्रामे । पृत्सु इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17)=In the battle.

How should the king be—is further told :

बृहस्पतिः समजयद्वसूनि महो व्रजान् गोमतो देव एषः ।
अपः सिषासन्त्स्वरप्रतीतो बृहस्पतिर्हन्त्यमित्रमर्कैः ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O men ! as the sun strikes down the clouds, that have within them the rays and by raining down water nourishes the world, in the same manner, this protector of the great Vedic speech like the sun, the great and splendid king, not loved by his enemies, good protector of the vast state, guarding his subjects well with thunderbolt like powerful weapons, kills his foes and conquers them, gains abundant wealth and generates undecaying happiness like the firmament.

PURPORT :—That king alone becomes great among the rulers, who shining like the sun with knowledge, humility and good helpers, nourishing his subjects and giving fearlessness to all, keeps away all evil-doers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(बृहस्पतिः) सूर्यं इव बृहत्या वेदवाचः पालकः ।= The protector of the great Vedic speech like the sun. (बृहस्पतिः) बृहतो राज्यस्य यथावद्रक्षकः । वाग् वै बृहती तस्या एष, पति स्तस्माद् बृहस्पति । (S. Br. 14, 4, 1, 22) = Good protector of the vast state. (व्रजान्) मेघान् ।= Clouds. (अर्कैः) वज्रादिभिः । अर्क इति वज्रनाम (NG 2,20) = With powerful weapons.

Sūktam—74

Seer or Rishi of the sūktam—Bharadvāāja. Devata—Soma and Rudra. Chhanda-Trishtup. Svara—Dhaivata.

What kinds of king and Physician are good—is told :

सोमारुद्रा धारयेथामसुर्यं१ प्र वामिष्टयोऽरमश्नुवन्तु ।
दमेदमे सप्त रत्ना दधाना शं नो भूतं द्विपदे शं चतुष्पदे ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O king and Vaidya (physician) ! you who are like the moon and Prāna (vital breath) uphold the benevolence of the cloud, so that your noble desires may be well fulfilled. At every home, bearing the seven diamond like charming things, bestow happiness upon us; happiness upon our bipeds and quadrupeds.

PURPORT :—O men ! that king who is like the moon and Vaidya (physician), who is like the Prāna make all fearless and free from diseases, attain all happiness. Those who increase the wealth and health of the people, can enjoy much happiness from the bipeds and quadrupeds.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सोमारुद्रा) चन्द्रप्राणाविव राजवैद्यौ । चन्द्रमा वै सोमः (कौषीतकी ब्राह्मणे 16, 5) प्राणा वै रुद्राः । प्राणा हृदां सर्वं रोदयन्ति (जैमिनीपोवनिषद् ब्राह्मणे 4, 2, 6) = A king and Vaidya (Physician) who are like the moon and the Prāna. (दमेदमे) गृहे-गृहे । दमे इति गृहनाम (NG 3, 4) = In every house. (सप्तरत्ना) एतत्संख्याकानि रमणीयानि हीरकादीनि ।=Seven diamonds and other charming gems.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTE :—सप्त रत्नानि—Unfortunately the revered commentator has not explained or enumerated the seven gems. Sayanacharya also has not explained them in his commentary and has simply stated सप्तरत्नानि धारयन्तौ, on which Prof. Wilson has remarked 'Possessors of the seven precious things—सप्त रत्नधाना'. No explanation is given by the Scholiast, as to what they are. (Wilson) in his notes on P.307 Vol. IV. on consulting : "The student's Sanskrit English Dictonary by V. S. Apte, I found the following two verses giving the names of the five रत्न Ratnas or Precious things some what differently. They are—

(1) नीलकं वज्रकं चेति पद्मरागश्च मौक्तिकम् ।
प्रवालं चेति विज्ञेयं पञ्चरत्नं मनीषिभिः ॥

(2) कनकं हीरकं नीलं, पद्मरागश्च मौक्तिकम् ।
पञ्च रत्नमिदं प्रोक्तम् ऋषिभिः पूर्वदर्शिभिः ॥

So we add in the first verse quoted here कनक (Gold) and हीरकम् (Diamonds) the number of seven given in the mantra is complete.

What should they (Soma and Rudra) do—is told :

सोमा॑रुद्रा युवमे॒तान्य॒स्मे विश्वा॑ त॒नूषु॑ भेष॒जानि॑ धत्तम् ।
अव॑ स्यतं मु॒ञ्चतं॒ यन्नो॒ अस्ति॑ त॒नूषु॑ ब॒द्धं कृ॒तमेनो॑ अ॒स्मत् ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O king and Physician ! you who are like the Soma creeper and air purified by the Yajna, set free and draw away the sin (bad-diet or lack of abstinence) committed, which we have still inherent in our persons. Provide for our bodies all needful medicines to heal and cure us.

PURPORT :—O king ! you should propagate the medical science, make our bodies diseaseless, urge us to make them engaged in doing good deeds with labour, separate all miseries and honour Vaidyas (good physicians).

NOTES & REMARKS :—(सोमारुद्रा) यज्ञशोधितौ सोमलतावायू इव राज वैद्यौ =King and physician like the Soma (moon creeper) and air. (एनः) कुपथ्यादिकम् अपराधं वा ।=Sin or lack of proper diet and rules of health.

What do they—the king and the physician do again—is told :

ति॒ग्माय॑धौ ति॒ग्महे॑ती सु॒शेवौ॒ सोमा॑रुद्रावि॒ह सु मृ॑ळतं नः ।
प्र नो॑ मुञ्चतं॒ वरु॑णस्य॒ पाशा॑द् गोपा॒यतं॑ नः सुमन॒स्यमा॑ना ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O king and physician ! you who are like the Soma and other herbs and Prānas (vital breaths), who are armed with sharp weapons and thunderbolt like arms—kind and loving, be gracious unto us. Release us from the noose (band) of the fierce disease, powerful like the Udāna (a vital breath). Keep us from sorrow in your loving kindness.

PURPORT :- O men ! as great medicine and Prānas always nourish all, so good kings and physicians protect all from difficulties and diseases.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(तिग्महेती) तिग्मस्तीक्ष्णो हेतिर्वज्रौ ययोस्तौ । हेतिरिति वज्रनाम (NG 2, 20) = Whose arms like thunderbolt are sharp. (वरुणस्य) उदानस्येव बलवतो रोगस्य । प्राणोदानौ वै मित्रावरुणौ (S. Br. 1, 8, 3, 12; 3, 6, 1. 16) तस्मात् वरुण उदान इति स्पष्टम् उदानवत्प्रबलरोगग्रहणमत्र । = Of the full disease powerful like Udāna (a vital breath).

Sūktam—75

Seer or Rishi of the Sūktam —Pāāyu Bharadvāāja. Devata or subjects—weapons, persons and implements employed in war. Chhandas—Trishtup, Jagati, Anushtup, Ushnik. Svaras-Dhaivata, Gandhara, Rishabha and Panchama.

What arms should the heroes hold and what should they do—is told :

जीमूतस्येव भवति प्रतीकं यद्वर्मी याति समदामुपस्थे ।
अनाविद्धया तन्वा जय त्वं स त्वा वर्मणो महिमा पिपर्तु ॥१॥

1. TRANSLATION :—O hero ! the armour is beautiful like the cloud. Mailed warrior advances in the front of the battle. With your body unwounded by the arms and missiles conquer your enemies. Let the significance or thickness of the armour defend you.

PURPORT ;—Those brave persons, who fight in the battle, armed with armours or coats of mail beautiful like the clouds can conquer their enemies, being unwounded. The heroes should adopt all such means, as save their bodies from the wounds caused by weapons and missiles.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(जीमूतस्येव) मेघस्येव । घनजीमूत मुदिरं जल-मुग्ध-मयोनय: (अमरकोशे 12, 9) = As of the cloud. (वर्मा) कवचधारी । धाराधरो जलधरस्तद्वित्वान् वारिदोऽम्बुभृत् । = Wear of an armour or coat of mail. (अनाविद्धया) शस्त्रास्त्ररहितया । = Unwounded by the weapons and missiles.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—The word जीमूत: is used for cloud even in classical Sanskrit as given in the well known Sanskrit lexicon of Amara Sinha.

What should heroes do with what—is told :

धन्वना गा धन्वनाजिं जयेम धन्वना तीव्राः समदो जयेम ।
धनुः शत्रोरपकामं कृणोति धन्वना सर्वाः प्रदिशो जयेम ॥२॥

2. TRANSLATION :—O heroes ! with the bow and other arms and missiles, which disappoint the hope of the foes, let us conquer the land, let us be victorious in the battles, let us overcome even our fierce-exulting enemies in battles and let us with the help of the bows and various other weapons subdue all enemies in different directions.

PURPORT :—Those persons are victorious everywhere in battles. who study the military science thoroughly (through Dhanurveda etc.), pratctise the manufacture of the weapons and missiles and know how to apply them.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(धन्वना) धनुरादिना शस्त्रास्त्रेण । = By the bow and other weapons and missiles. (गा:) भूमि: । गोरिति पृथिवीनाम (NG 1,1) = Lands. (समद:) सङ्ग्रामान् । समत्सु इति संग्रामनाम (NG 2,17) = Battles.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES ;—धन्व or bow is the symbol of all weapons and missiles.

How the heroes work and with what—is told :

वक्ष्यन्तीवेदा गनीगन्ति कर्णं प्रियं सखायं परिषस्वजाना ।
योषेव शिङ्क्ते वितताधि धन्वञ्ज्या इयं समने पारयन्ती ॥३॥

3. TRANSLATION :—O heroes ! you should know well and properly use the bow-string which drawn tight upon the bow and making way in battle. repeatedly approaches the ear of the warrior, making and undistinct sound, as if proposing to say something agreeable like a wife, embracing her husband, who is her best friend and sweetly whispering something in his ears.

PURPORT :—There is Upamalankara or simile used in the mantra. O brave warriors! as a wife is intimately connected with her husband, who is to her—the best friend, as a female teacher is intimately connected with her girl students, and they take them away from misery and ignorance, so this bow-string takes the warrior across the battle (by making him victorious and thus gladdens him.)

NOTES & REMARKS :—(गनिगन्ति) भृशं गच्छति । गनीगन्ति-आगच्छतीत्यस्य मंत्रस्य भाष्येयास्काचार्यो (NKT 9, 2, 18)=Going repeatedly (सखायम्) मित्रमिव वर्त्तमानं पतिम् ।=Her husband who is wife's beloved friend. (शिङ्क्ते) अव्यक्तं शब्दं करोति । शिङ्क्ते शब्दं करोति । समने-सङ्ग्रामे ।=Makes an indistinct sound.

What should the heroes do for whom—is told :

ते आचरन्ती समनेव योषा मातेवं पुत्रं बिभृतामुपस्थे ।
अप शत्रून् विध्यतां संविदाने आर्त्नी इमे विष्फुरन्ती अमित्रान् ॥४॥

4. TRANSLATION :—O brave persons! may the two extremities of the bow making the foes tremble and uphold victory which is like two ladies, a loving wife (of one mind with her husband) doing always what is dear to her husband and a mother nursing the child upon her lap, who (both of them) are like the ladies keeping their promise and going about their duties.

PURPORT :—Two similes are used in the mantra. As a loving and serving wife gladdens her husband constantly and as a mother gladdens her son, so keep away from enmies with powerful weapons and missiles and enjoy happiness.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(आचरन्ती) समन्तात्प्रियाचरणं कुर्वन्त्यौ ।= Doing what is dear and agreeable. (संविदाने) प्रतिज्ञापालिके इव ।=Like two ladies keeping their promise. (आर्त्नी) गच्छन्त्यौ । ऋ गतौ (क्रया.) = Going about. (विष्फुरन्ति) कम्पयन्त्यौ । वि+स्फुर-स्फुरणे (तुदा.) = Shaking, making tremble.

What should brave persons hold—is told :

इषुधिः सङ्काः पृतनाश्च सर्वाः पृष्ठे निनद्धो जयति प्रसूतः ॥५॥

5. TRANSLATION :—O men ! like a person with many sons, father of many daughters, he clangs and clashes as he goes to battle with the quiver slung on the back, the born hero, vanquishes all the scattered armies.

PURPORT :—O brave persons ! if you have a quiver, you can destroy your enemies and guarding the people like a father guarding his children, you can conquer all the armies of your enemies.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(संकाः) सङ्ग्रामान् । संका इति सङ्ग्रामनाम (NG 2, 17) = Standing in the battle field. (पृतनाः) शत्रुसेनाः । पृतना इति मनुष्यनाम (NG 2, 3) अत्र शत्रुग्रहणम् । = The armies of the enemies. (चिश्चा) चिश्चेति शब्दानुकरणम् । = Imitation of the sound.

What should the heroes do like whom—is told :

रथे तिष्ठन्नयति वाजिनः पुरो यत्रयत्र कामयते सुषारथिः ।
अभीशूनां महिमानं पनायत मनः पश्चादनु यच्छन्ति रश्मयः ॥६॥

6. TRANSLATION :—The skilful driver, sitting in the charming chariots, guides his horses in front of him, in whichever direction he likes. Just as the mind keeps the organs under control, so reins from behind, control the horses. See and admire the strength of these controlling reins.

PURPORT :—O king and other brave persons ! being self-controlled, go to the end of (complete) your work as a skilful charioteer does with his chariot. Get your noble desires fulfilled by following the president in doing your great business and training your servants well.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(अभीशूनाम्)। 1. बाहूनाम् 2. रश्मिनाम्। अभीशू इति बाहुनाम (NG 2,4) अभीशवः इति रश्मिनाम (NG 1,5)=Of the arms, of the reins. (पनायत)व्यवहरत स्तुत वा। पन-व्यवहारे स्तुतौ च (भ्वा.)=Deal or admire.

How shold the officers of the State be—is further told :

स्वादुषंसदः पितरों वयोधाः कृच्छ्रेश्रितः शक्तीवन्तो गभीराः ।
चित्रसेना इषुबला अमृध्राः सतोवीरा उरवो व्रातसाहाः ॥९॥

9. TRANSLATION :— O king ! nourish your subjects, as fathers serve their children, with the help of those righteous men, who are partakers of good food, long-lived, patient in adversity and resorting to Dharma (righteousness) mighty, deep (cool) minded, armed with wondrous army, strong in arrows and other good weapons and having strong armies, not killing any one unjustly, endowed with much enregy, waney, invincible and conqueror of numerous hosts.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should enthrone that man, as king who is cultured and civilised, who is nourisher of his subjects like a father, long-lived, not shaken by calamities, mighty, deep minded, possessor of wonderful army, well-versed in the military science and in the use of arms and missile, powerful, subduer of the adversaries and endowed with many qualities, good actions and temperament.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(कृच्छ्रेश्रित:) ये कृच्छ्रे दुःखेऽपि धर्मं श्रियन्ति सेवन्ते । श्रिञ्-सेवायाम् (भ्वा.) =Those who resort to Dharma (righteousness or duty) even when calamities fall. (व्रातसाहा:) ये व्राताञ्छत्रु समूहान्सहन्ते ते । षह-शक्तौ (काशकृत्स्नधातुपाठे 3, 17)=Who subdue the host of hostiles by their strengh.

How should men deal with one another --is told :

ब्राह्मणासः पितरः सोम्यासः शिवे नो द्यावापृथिवी अनेहसा ।
पूषा नः पातु दुरितादृतावृधो रक्षा माकिर्नो अघशंस ईशत ॥१०॥

10. TRANSLATION :— O Brahmanas—knowers of God and the Vedas ! who are like our fathers, kind towards all people and men of peaceful disposition, keep us away from all unrighteousness. Teach and preach to us, which are promoters of truth in such a manner that the non-violent sun and earth may coduce to our welfare. The nourisher endowed with knowledge and humility may protect us from all wicked conduct, so that a thief or dishonest person may not master us.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should serve those enlightened persons, who may endow you with knowledge and humility and make you happy with the science of electricity and Geology etc. and keep you away from all unrighteous conduct and the king, who protects you constantly from thieves and robbers.

NOTES & REMARKS :—(ब्राह्मणासः) वेदेश्वरवेत्तारः । तद् वेदवा स ब्राह्मण ब्रह्म अधीते तथतीते तद्वेदं । अथाध्ययाम् अप् प्रत्ययः =Knowers of the Vedas and God' (पितरः) पितर इव प्रजानामुपरि कृपालवः । पा-रक्षणे (अदा.)= Gracious or kind towards the people. How swift-moving is earth and why do the heroes fight—is told :

सुपर्णं वस्ते मृगो अस्या दन्तो गोभिः सन्नद्धा पतति प्रसूता ।
यत्रा नरः सं च वि च द्रवन्ति तत्रास्मभ्यमिषवः शर्म यंसन् ॥११॥

11. TRANSLATION :—O men ! this earth controlled or well connected by the sunt rays and the cows revolves like a deer. There are laws in it and among the people which are working properly and which cover or preserve a good protector. This earth, where warriors run together in different directions, you should act in such a manner that the armour etc. may bestow happiness upon us and we may be safe.

PURPORT :—O men ! you should gather heroes for the preservation of the land which has been made by God for nourishing all creatures, which revolves swiftly like the deer and for which many battles are fought.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(सुपर्णम्) शोभनं पर्णं पालनं यस्य तम् । सु+पृ-पालन-पूरणयो: । (जुहो.) अवपालनार्थे ।=Good protector. (वस्ते) आच्छादयति । वस-आच्छादने (अदा.)=Covers, protects. (दन्त:) येन दशंति स: ।=Which bites or punishes the guilty.

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES :—दन्त: is from दमु-उपशमे (दिवा.) हसिमृग्रिण्वामिदमिलूपूधुर्विभ्यस्तन् (Un. K. 3, 86). Rishi Dayananda Saraswati in his commentary on the Yajurveda 29.48 has explained accordingly as दाम्यते जनै: स: ।

What kind of bodies should be build by men and how—is told :

ऋजीते परि वृङ्धि नोऽश्मा भवतु नस्तनूः ।
सोमो अधि ब्रवीतु नोऽदितिः शर्म यच्छतु ॥१२॥

12. TRANSLATION :—O highly learned king ! you who are of upright nature drive away straight, disease from us. Let the physician, who extracts the essence of various herbs and plants, give us instructions, as to how can our body become strong like the stone. May the earth, which is like our mother, give us happiness and good abode to live in.

PURPORT :—The king should endeavour, in such a manner, that the bodies of the Kshatriyas (warriors) may become strong and firm like the stone, by the observance of Brahmacharya (abstirence) for a long period, renunciation of passions and exercise. The preachers should also give such teachings to all, so that all have strong and firm bodies and souls.

NOTES & REMARKS ;—(ऋजीते) ऋजु गच्छति ।=He who goes straight, is a man of upright nature. (सोम:) य: सुनोति स विद्वान् ।=One who extracts the essence of herbs and plants—a physician. (अदिति:) मातेव भूमि: । अदितिरदीना देवमातेति (NKT 4, 4, 22) अदितिर्मातेति (Rig. 1, 89, 10) । माताभूमि: पुत्रो अहं पृथिव्या (Atharveda 12, 1, 10)= The earth which is like our mother.
